WHITEHAVEN, Tenn. — The sudden blossoming of too many romances into marriages at the Whitehaven High school has provoked an administrative ban on co-educational lingering, visiting, eating and, of course, marrying.

Principal Fred Elliott [illegible] he [illegible] issued a circular letter to the school's 700 students declaring that marriage will mean indefinite suspension [illegible] that five-day suspensions will be slapped on those guilty of:

"Eating together.

"Lingering in the cafeteria after eating is at an end.

"Walking as couples on the campus.

"Visiting in home rooms."

Elliott said each of the students was required to sign the letter which complained "marriage apparently has become an epidemic".

Since September there have been eight student marriages at the school.

RATHER GOOD IDEA

Down in Tennessee—which you will doubtless recognize as the native state of Sam McGee—they are celebrating "Honor the Mule" Week. This is a very nice idea says T. D. F. in Ottawa Citizen. We don't have mules up here, of course, but why could we not have an "Honor the Horse" Week, instead of dedicating only one day to the Old Horse and calling it Father's Day as we do now?

STUDENTS SHOOT IT OUT WITH GUNS

HAVANA, Cuba.—Opposing groups of secondary school students, fighting for control of their student's association, shot it out with guns on the corner of Galiano and San Lazaro streets recently.

The only person reported wounded in the mid-town fracas was the proprietor of a nearby grocery store.

Three students were said to have been arrested.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

SILENCE: ITS VIRTUE

Silence is the element in which great things fashion themselves together; that at length they may emerge, full-formed and majestic, into the daylight of life, which they are thenceforth to rule.—Carlyle

He knows not how to speak who cannot be silent, still less how to act with vigor and decision. Who hastens to the end is silent; loudness is impotence.—Lavater.

There is an eloquent silence: it serves sometimes to approve, sometimes to condemn; there is a mocking silence, there is a respectful silence.—La Rochefoucauld.

No reproof is so potent as the silent lesson of a good example.—Mary [illegible].

Silence is the safest respondent for all the contradiction that arises from impertinence, vulgarity, or envy.

—Zimmermann

Silence never shows itself to so great an [illegible] as when it is made the [illegible] calumny and defamation.—Addison.

MORRISON NEWS

The ladies aid met at the home of Mrs. Otine in Vermilion and the meeting took the form of a shower for Joan Wells who was married the following Wednesday. She received many lovely gifts. Mrs. Bowser and Lila attended the wedding and reception and report a very lovely affair.

Brad Dunn spent last week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bowser. He returned to attend convocation on Wednesday at the University accompanied by Lila Bowser.

Mrs. Bert Gould picked a bouquet of pansies on Mother's day which was quite an occasion, the pansies seemingly making a special effort to be in full bloom by that time.

A clean up day was held at the Pleasant Valley church in preparation for the first service of the summer which was held last Sunday afternoon. The building and grounds are now spic and span.

Seeding, gardening and chick raising are now being carried on apace here with little time for anything else. The writer has some 700 chicks to look after and it is quite a job.

To Plan For Visit Of T.B. Clinic Here

MEETING CALLED OF REPRESENTATIVES OF ALL TOWN ORGANIZATIONS

In order to arrange for the visit of the Mobile T.B. Clinic this summer, the town council has called a meeting to be held in the Elks hall, Thursday, May 29th at 8:15 p.m. To this meeting every organization, club, lodge, etc. in the town is asked to send representatives and details of the visit will be arranged.

The Clinic will be here in July and will remain a week if the demand requires. Everyone over 2 years can be X-Rayed free of charge. 1-2

CUB PICTURES

Pictures of the Cubs taken Tuesday evening are now on display and ready for order at Wally Guy's Studio of Photographic Arts.

In the news item which appeared in last week's Standard concerning the presentation of a choirmaster's gown to Mr. W. B. Elford, the last two lines should have read "Miss Weston is on the instructional staff of the Columbia University".

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Dalgleish, Heather and Campbell spent the week end in Edmonton returning home on Sunday evening.

Lieut. Bert Mead, Mrs. Mead and their little son Richard left last week for the naval air station at Dartmouth, N.S., where Lieut. Mead is now stationed with the fleet air arm.

The news editor received a very interesting letter from his former ship, J. H. T. McLean who is now manager of the Bank of Commerce at High River, Alberta. Mac says both he and Mrs. McLean still figure Vermilion is home and they can't get along without the home town news. The country in southern Alberta in their vicinity at least is a decided change from around Vermilion. There are great wide open spaces where the wind blows free and the farming is on a very large scale with little mixed farming, mostly straight grain but also some large ranches. The bank has a very large district and being the closest branch of a bank to the boundary there is, as well, lots of "pesky" foreign exchange business and lots of tourists requiring help. Best regards are sent to all old friends around town, with the added hope that they might be up before long for a visit.

Norman McClellan was in Calgary this week attending an executive meeting of the Alberta Municipal Hospital Association.

ALLANDALE

The Allandale Community workers held their last meeting for the term at the home of Mrs. Orley [illegible]. All members were present. During the meeting various topics were discussed. One of these was an ice cream social which is to take place in the early part of June. After the meeting was adjourned a delicious lunch and ice cream were served.

Canadians are steadily becoming a more insurance-conscious nation, reports The Financial Post. Life insurance in force in the Dominion increased approximately 11% in 1946. Sales were at a new high while policies previously bought were better retained, indicating the solid place life insurance holds as a method of savings.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morand of [illegible]-13th St. S.W. Calgary, announce the engagement of their eldest daughter Patricia Yvonne to Pte. Lloyd M. Frost of the P.P.C.L.I. stationed at Currie Barracks, Calgary, son of Mrs. G. C. Bruce of Vancouver. The wedding will take place at Currie Barracks chapel on the evening of May 31st. The bride-to-be is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Smith of Wildmere.

BORN To Mr. and Mrs. Matt C. Brimacombe at the Royal Alexandra hospital, Edmonton, on Friday, May 9th, a daughter, Elaine Carol.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Sherwood, Miss Annie Coutts and Mrs. Perkins journeyed to Edmonton on Monday, returning home Tuesday.

Major J. Martin who has been doing special meetings at The Salvation Army this week is concluding his Campaign. There will be meetings Friday and Saturday nights at 8 p.m. Saturday May 17 there will be a Women's meeting at 3 p.m. Sunday morning the Air Cadets will parade to the meeting. The grand finale will be on Sunday night.

Jim Rogan of the Canadian Bank of Commerce staff has been transferred to the main branch of the bank at Calgary. He leaves in two weeks for his new location.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. West and Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Stewart and family attended the wedding of Mr. Hugh Craig in Prince Albert last Wednesday.

The W.M.S. of the United church held their regular monthly meeting in the church parlors on Thursday May 8th. Following the business session there was a service held for the affiliation of the C.G.I.T. group with the W.M.S. It was a candle light service with Mrs. Reikie being leader of the group and Miss Oldenberg, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Hunt took part making quite an impressive service. Mrs. Swanson then gave a talk on India and the work the missionaries are doing to bring Christianity to that country and its people [illegible] proved very interesting. A social half hour with refreshments being served brought to a close a very interesting and instructive meeting.

Mr. J. [illegible] was elected chairman of the Edmonton section of the Chemical Institute of Canada at the recent meeting of that body held in the city. [illegible] is a [illegible] of Vermilion.

An interesting operation is being carried out at the former Anglican church rectory now owned by [illegible]. The residence is being lifted up and will be placed in a different position to the street by being [illegible] a quarter turn.

Where the Money Goes

The really important thing about federal government estimates of 1947-48 expenditures is to find out for what services and uses the taxpayers' money is going to be spent, observes The Financial Post.

Here is a breakdown.

22% for interest and debt charges.

18% for veterans (including World War I).

13% for family allowances.

12% for armed forces.

9% for provincial payments (including old age pensions and tax transfer payments to the six "agreeing" provinces). The latter are not included in the government figures but will be added in later supplementary estimates.

26% for all other departments and expenditures of governments.

Don't forget "Cotton Fair" on May 10th at the Elks hall under auspices of the United Church W.A. Tea will be served from 3 to 6 p.m. 53-1x

ARMSTRONG—LINTON

In the Highlands United church, Edmonton on May 2 at 2:30 p.m., Alexia Doreen Linton, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Linton of Islay, Alberta, became the bride of Harry David Armstrong, youngest son of Mr and Mrs G. E. Armstrong of Stettler

Rev T. R. Davies performed the ceremony before immediate relatives.

The bride wore a dove grey wool suit and her bridesmaid, Miss Evelyn Johannson wore a sky blue wool suit

Mr. Deecher Linton, brother of the bride supported the groom.

The young couple have taken up residence in Vermilion where the groom is a member of the staff of Macleods.

ERIKSON—POTTER

Rev. E. S. Reikie officiated at a very pretty wedding on the afternoon of Monday May 5th, at the home of Mr and Mrs. C. E. Potter of Woodvale, when their daughter Verna Mae, became united in marriage to Robert Gordon Erikson, of Blairmore, Alta.

The bride, looking lovely in a pearl grey dressmaker suit with accessories of pale blue, and a magnificent corsage of American Beauty roses, was given away by her father. She was attended by Miss Marion Morrison, of Edmonton, who was attired in a cocoa brown suit, topped with gold accessories and a corsage of blush pink roses. The bride's mother wore a dove brown suit, ebony accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

The groom was attended by Mr. Allan Potter, elder brother of the bride.

A quiet reception was held following the wedding, after which the happy couple left on a honeymoon to Coeur D'Alene, Idaho.

Pretty Wedding at First United Church

HORRICKS—WELLS

First United church, Vermilion, was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday afternoon May 7th when Joan, younger daughter of Mr and Mrs. Egbert Wells, was united in marriage with Jack Stewart Horricks, younger son of Mr and Mrs. J. Horricks, of Mannville. Rev E. Sinclair Reikie officiated at the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her brother Mr Egbert R. Wells of Irma, Alberta, the bride was charming in a floor-length gown of white sheer. Her misty veil of net fell from a flowered head-dress. She carried a sheaf of American Beauty roses. Her only ornament was a string of pearls gift of the groom.

Miss Ruth Horricks, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid wore a floor-length gown of pale blue nylon sheer over satin with blue hat to match and white crocheted gloves. Her bouquet was of bridle carnations and fern.

Mr Wesley Johnstone of Edmonton attended the groom.

Mr Alex Henderson of Mannville and Mr Harold Glidden of Vermilion were ushers. Organ music was beautifully rendered by Miss Marion Roebuck.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents with the Misses Irene Jary, Molly Malnarch, Emily Horricks, Florence and Hilda Anderson, friends of the bride, assisting. Receiving with the bride and groom were Mr and Mrs. Egbert Wells, parents of the bride and Mr and Mrs J. Horricks, parents of the groom. Mrs. Wells and Mrs. Horricks were each dressed in grey printed silk with black accessories and wore corsages of roses.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Jack Bendzeck, sister of the bride, with children John and Barbara of Calgary. Mr Egbert Wells, brother of the bride with Mrs Wells Phyllis and Mrs. Symington of Irma, Alberta, Mrs. Donald McBeth, aunt of the bride of Fort Qu'Appelle, Sask., Rev and Mrs John Carson, Mrs. Thompson, wife of the Rev R. C. Thompson, all of Edmonton, cousins of the bride, also many friends and relatives of the bride and groom from Mannville and Morrison.

Rev. John Carson of Edmonton proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom responded. Rev. Sinclair Reikie and Mr Harvey Anderson of Vermilion also addressed the newly married couple.

Mr and Mrs. Jack Horricks left on a honeymoon trip west, the bride travelling in a black dressmaker suit, white fox fur and white accessories. They will make their home in Edmonton.

John Ramchuk who recently sold his interests in the pool room and bowling alley has purchased a farm in the Kinsella district. Last Friday Mr and Mrs Ramchuk and the children left for their new home travelling across by car with two large truck loads of household and farm effects.

Tennis Courts Now In Full Operation

The opening of the tennis courts last Friday was welcomed with a terrific rush of high and intermediate school players, and in spite of the cool air play has kept up constantly all week. Adults have preferred to wait for warmer air before testing out their less elastic muscles.

Seeding Operations Are Being Pushed

An estimated 40% of the wheat has been seeded in the Vermilion district with 10% of the coarse grains also in the ground. Weather has been inclined to be cool all week with a few scattered light showers.

What about that Label date?

Mannville to Have Active Baseball Club

George White has been elected president of the Mannville senior baseball club. Other officers are: manager, Erle Thorne, secretary-treas., Earl Gray; coach, Eber McFadden. Practices will be held Tuesday and Thursday.

Local Power Plant Is Reduced to One Boiler

CANADIAN UTILITIES AGREE TO RUN STAND-BY LINE

A special meeting of the town council was held Monday, May 19th, with Mayor Morrison and Crs. Reikie, Kehoe, Stack, Stephens, Urquhart, Supt. J. Wiebe of the power plant and Messrs. Hill and Gudmundson of the Canadian Utilities.

Mr Wiebe gave Council the details of the present emergency at the plant, caused by the failure of one of the boilers, which he expected would be condemned by the Chief Boiler Inspector.

This left the town with only one boiler with which to carry on and Mr. Wiebe asked Council to make arrangements with Canadian Utilities for a power hook-up with the town to eliminate any possibility of a complete power failure.

Mr. Hill, General Manager of Canadian Utilities, agreed that his Company would be prepared to run such a line and supply the necessary power of 225 K.W.s for summer service. This service could not be supplied to the town beyond Sept. 15, 1947. Work on the line was to commence immediately.

It was further agreed that when Canadian Utility plans for a generating unit in north-eastern Alberta were completed the Company should submit a definite proposal to the Council regarding purchase of the town plant and a franchise to supply power in the town.

'Teen Agers Floor Show and Dance A Huge Success

The 'Teen Agers floor show and dance held Friday evening last in the armories was a huge success. The executive would like to take this means of thanking all those who helped in preparing the program and training the singers, actors and dancers. Special thanks are extended to Mrs. Pearl Hildebrand for her work in "Open the Door Richard", Mr. [illegible] for guiding the choruses, Mrs. Ruth Moyer and Miss Marion Roebuck for the music, and to Steve Pue for playing "Richard". The executive says that clearings were in the neighborhood of $100 so this indicates that excellent support was received.

High Priced Bull Comes to Vermilion

Purchased by W. L. Robinson

Killearn Max Emperor, a young pure bred Shorthorn bull, raised by Claude Gallinger of Edmonton on his Killearn farm at Tofield was purchased at the third annual Gallinger sale on the exhibition grounds this week by W. Lyle Robinson of Vermilion. At $2900 the price was second to the top of $3000 and more than double the average of $1,411 realized for 31 registered bulls sold. It headed the group of 17 young bulls, 14 to 20 months old, which remain in the province and were purchased by Alberta farmers to improve the quality of the Shorthorn herds. This red bull was born July 22, 1946, and was sired by Killearn Max 6th. Bred by Mr. Gallinger in his noted herd of Scotch-bred Shorthorns, it is a grandson of Norseman imported from Scotland in 1943 after being reserve grand champion of the Perth show — an animal carrying blood lines of the famous Balmorchy Jasper.

C. J. Green Buys Valuable Bull

C. J. Green, well known livestock breeder south of Vermilion purchased a pure bred Killearn Monarch bred bull at the Claude Gallinger sale in Edmonton last week. The bull Killearn Chancellor sired by Max 6th was bought for $[illegible] and is now at Mr. Green's farm in the Tolland district.

Edmonton School Boys Band At Wainwright

A rare treat is in store for music lovers in this area when the Edmonton School Boys band visits Wainwright on Sunday June 1st. It has been planned to commence a 2-hour program at 3 p.m. The selections will include waltzes, marches and a few semi-classical numbers. This band has played at functions in many parts of Canada and the visit to Wainwright on Sunday June 1st provides a rare opportunity for every one in this district to hear them.

The location selected for the concert is the area just west of the Separate school.

The band will include 65 members and 5 drum majorettes. It will be under the direction of Bandmaster Vernon Newlove formerly of Vermilion and O. W. Murray, assistant bandmaster. 2-2

To every mile of the 20,551 miles of main line, siding and yard tracks in the Canadian National Railways in Canada, there are 2,856 ties, or a total of 57,300,081.

80% Wheat Seeded; Season Five Days Behind Last Year

An estimated 80% of the wheat crop has been sown in this district with 60% of the oats in and a little percentage of barley. The season is about 5 days behind 1946.

Barley acreage has increased 20% with a slight decrease in that of oats and wheat of 5%.

Plans Completed for Sports Day, May 24th

GOOD WARM DAY ALL THAT IS NEEDED

A good warm day is all that's needed plus a few more entries in the various baseball and softball tournaments to ensure an ultra successful sports day here on Saturday. The draws have been held over until Friday morning following which all of the teams will be notified the hours at which they play their opening games.

Entries at press time in the senior baseball were Dewberry, Lloydminster, Streamstown, Mannville, Marwayne and Vermilion. There are five entries in Junior baseball; 6 in the ladies' fastball, 4 in men's fastball; 5 in boys' fastball and 2 in girls' fastball.

Pack up the whole family in the family vehicle and bring them all to Vermilion for the first and biggest holiday of the summer season.

Ditching Outfit Making Steady Progress

The ditching outfit of the Dominion Construction Company is now making steady progress and at press time was nearing the completion of the fourth block. A start this spring was made at the tennis court corner and digging continued from there east two blocks to the Ambler Bros. implement warehouse and office building. Here a change was made in direction and the big outfit turned south down Bulyea avenue and it has practically reached First street south. The sewer ditch was nearly 17 feet deep at the tennis court corner with a slight upward slope as progress is made. Digging was tough and slow at the start as some 4 to 5 feet of frost was still in the ground. Considerable blasting of rocks is being done.

The deep ditch is dug, sewer tile laid hard on the heels of the digging machine and then the ditch quickly filled in by another ingenious machine.

Parents! Discourage Egg Collecting

Bird nesting or collecting birds' eggs appears to be quite a popular pastime for the younger boys this spring, and it would be well if parents would make a point of discouraging this unhappy practise. Egg collections serve little purpose but to deplete the already small bird population of the area. Such collections in the majority of cases are but a whim of the moment, and as boys travel in groups, usually result in the nest being completely robbed. For every bird's egg that finds its way into a collection that is prized and valued by its owner there are hundreds of eggs that are merely wasted or put into collections that do not survive the first housecleaning. Every egg taken means a bird less—and in many cases the parent birds desert the nest completely after it has been tampered with. Be good sports boys and leave our feathered friends alone.

The teachers are doing everything they can to stop this regrettable activity and it is up to the parents to take the necessary prohibitory action. A few talks on the value of bird life on the part of the father and mother might also be thrown in for good measure.

Vermilion Hosts to District Agriculturists

MEETING WITHOUT PARALLEL HELD WEDNESDAY

Without parallel in the history of Boards of Trade in Alberta or possibly, of any community anywhere, was the gathering in Vermilion Wednesday last week when the Board of Trade members were hosts to representatives of every part of the province, as well as to eminent authorities of Agriculture from other parts of Canada and the United States. In all 94 crowded the board of trade banquet room at George's Lower deck for the occasion and 32 of these were visitors.

Included among the visitors was Mr C. C. Hearne, educationalist in the division of field studies and training of the United States Dept of Agriculture, Mr H. S. Fry associate editor of the Country Guide from Winnipeg, R. M. Putnam director of Alberta agricultural extension service, F. H. Newcombe supervisor district agriculturist service, the Hon. [illegible] Fallow minister of public works.

E. H. Buckingham, district agriculturist for Vermilion, acted as chairman and guest speakers were Mr. Hearne, Mr. Fry, Mr. Fallow, R. M. Putnam. Gerald Stephens, deputy mayor, welcomed the visitors for the town and James R. Robson expressed greetings on behalf of the board of trade. Greetings from the board of trade at Olds were extended by Principal Mills, of the Olds school of agriculture. From the most southerly point, Lethbridge district, district agriculturist Stewart Graham spoke and from the most northerly, Fort [illegible] district agriculturist [illegible] Bell who [illegible] [illegible]

TREES FOR PLANTING

About 264 trees and 250 cuttings were handed out in about 2½ hours on Saturday.

Tree planting is not always successful here on account of our climate. The best methods will be explained and shown by motion pictures at the Tree Planting train on Friday May 30th. Everyone interested in choosing the right kind of trees and correct planting methods should see this demonstration.

HIGH PRICED BULL

Our congratulations go to Lyle Robinson on his purchase of the second highest priced bull at the Gallinger sale last week. Mr Robinson's herd of Scotch Shorthorns is becoming one of the best and most widely known in Western Canada. This bull, Killearn Max Emperor has excellent type and the best of breeding. He will no doubt make his mark in Shorthorn history.

ALFALFA AND BROME SEED

Due to a few farmers not taking Alfalfa, Brome and Crested Wheat grass seed which they ordered I have a considerable quantity of each kind for sale. As I will be out on field work most of the next two weeks, seed deliveries will have to be confined to Saturdays unless you can catch me on other days.

CUT WORMS

The best time to kill cut worms is before the garden is up. Green feed is scarce on the newly seeded garden and the [illegible] poisoned bait more readily. [illegible] Green mash [illegible] the cut worms [illegible] garden late in the evening. [illegible] worms come out [illegible] and when [illegible] eat the poisoned bait. [illegible] plications [illegible] soon dries out [illegible] be eaten by cut worms. [illegible] tablespoonful of Paris Green [illegible] of dry bran. [illegible] the bran is wet but not sloppy. [illegible] handfuls of bran [illegible] and borders.

HOME ECONOMIST

Miss Margaret Lang has been assigned to this [illegible] Home Economist for the [illegible]. Miss Lang will be [illegible] talks and to conduct demonstrations on a variety of subjects. Any organized groups of women or girls wanting a speaker for a meeting [illegible] write or telephone Miss Lang, phone 76, Vermilion.

Anyone wishing [illegible] home planning [illegible] at this office to see Miss [illegible].

ALFALFA CLUB

We need a few more boys and girls to make up the numbers in the Vermilion alfalfa club. Each boy or girl will be given 2 pounds of seed which is enough for [illegible]. The only cost is $1 membership fee. The seed is worth $[illegible] so it is a pretty good bargain.

Agriculturists' Short Course Highly Successful Event

The first course of its kind to be held in Canada attracted over seventy Agriculturists and Home Economists to the school of agriculture at Vermilion last week. Mostly employees of the Provincial Department of Agriculture engaged in extension work throughout Alberta, the visitors were keenly interested in the program and were highly appreciative of facilities made available to them at the school.

Described as a "Normal School for Extension Workers" the studies were directed by Mr C. C. Hearne, Extension Educationalist for the United States Department of Agriculture. Mr. Hearne who is a former "County Agent" and later Director of the County Agent service in the state of Missouri, immediately gained the interest of his students and soon won their full co-operation in studying the basic principles and objectives of Extension work.

Special instructors addressing the short course meetings included J. G. Rayner, Director, Department of Extension, University of Saskatchewan, F. E. Brocklebank, Director of Agricultural Representatives in Saskatchewan; H. S. Fry Associate Editor, The Country Guide, Winnipeg; Donald Cameron and S. O. Hillerud, Department of Extension, University of Alberta; C. W. Gray, of the National Film Board; N. N. Bentley, F. H. Newcombe and O. S. Longman of the Provincial Department of Agriculture. Subjects under discussion included Objectives and Planning of Extension Work in Saskatchewan; Public Speaking, Community Organization, The Schools of Agriculture and other related topics.

Dean R. D. Sinclair was the guest speaker at the concluding banquet choosing as his subject, 'The Food and Agriculture Organization of United Nations". In addition to Dean and Mrs. Sinclair other guests at the banquet included: Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Longman; Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Putnam, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Wilson, Mr and Mrs. H. J. Mather; Mr. R. H. Gaudin; Mr and Mrs W. R. Cornish, Mannville; Mr and Mrs S. A. Berg, Marwayne, Mayor J. W. G. Morrison, Vermilion, Mr Paul C. Seddicum, American Consul, Edmonton; Roy C. Marler, President of the Alberta Federation of Agriculture.

District Home Economists attending the short course included Miss [illegible] Mowbray, Stettler; Miss Nor[illegible], Calgary; Miss Lillian Chein[illegible], St. Paul; Miss H. Anderson, Red Deer; Miss Ruth Whaley, Westlock; Miss [illegible], Lethbridge; Miss [illegible], Wellington; Miss E. [illegible]; Miss H. J. Lewis; Miss Margaret Fraser, Edmonton. [illegible] school of agriculture [illegible] attending included [illegible] P. F. Parkinson, W. C. [illegible] Mrs. Helen Mowat and Miss [illegible]

District Agriculturists were F. Mason, Wellington; M. D. Shemel[illegible], Sunny Lake; W. S. Pidruchney, Vegreville; G. Anderson, Calgary; P. Jamieson, Claresholm; O. G. Bratvold, Red Deer; N. P. Salt Plant at Elk Point Planned for This Year

[illegible]

Estimated cost of the proposed salt factory for the Elk Point area is in the neighborhood of $800,000, according to reports received in Edmonton May 15.

Plans for the plant are being made by Anglo-Canadian Oils, Home Oil Co. and the Calgary and Edmonton Corporation. These firms are associated in the exploratory oil drilling program in the Elk Point district where they hold 300,000 acres under a crown reservation.

Unconfirmed reports Monday were that drilling at the Elk Point well has resulted in the discovery of carnallite, a potassium-magnesium chloride. This is reported to be useful in the manufacture of plastics and for many other purposes.

Asked to comment, L. E. Drummond, secretary-manager of the Alberta and Northwest Chamber of Mines, said there were reports of carnallite having been discovered at Elk Point, Vermilion and Unity, Sask. The mineral was found near salt deposits and was not particularly rare.

It was reported in Edmonton Monday that No. 1 well at Elk Point, east of St. Paul, has reached a depth of 800 feet. Drilling operations have been impeded by a heavy gas flow.

Former Vermilion Man Dies at Port Arthur

On Saturday morning, May 10th, at Port Arthur, Ont., Charles Wilfred Walker, died in the St. Joseph hospital, age 74 years. He was born at Upholland, near Wigan in Lancashire, England, and came to Canada in April of 1912, working for the C.N.R. for some 30 years and also at one time farming to the north west of Vermilion. He was retired by the railway in 1936 and after a short time visiting at Vancouver took up residence with his sister Mrs. H. D. Wilkins at Port Arthur where he resided until his passing. He had been a member of the L.O.L. for many years. Surviving are one brother Samuel E. of Vermilion, and 4 sisters Mrs. J. Watts, Vancouver; Mrs. Wilkins, Port Arthur; Mrs. Annie Aspey and Miss M. Walker in Lancashire, England, all of whom with the exception of one, have resided in and around Vermilion. There are also several nephews and nieces here and in England. A man of the highest integrity and worth his passing leaves a sense of great loss among his many friends who remember his friendly manner and constant smile.

The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon, May 13th at 2 p.m. from the funeral home in Port Arthur, to Riverside cemetery, the Rev. T. Caan of St. George's Anglican church conducting the services.

Firemen Entertain Wives at Theatre Party

Fire Brigade activities are such that ladies are not usually included. Probably to make amends for the numerous occasions that the little woman is left sitting at home alone while hubby fights fire or keeps the equipment in trim, Chief Conboy and his men of the Vermilion fire brigade held a ladies night during which they took their wives and lady friends to the theatre. Following the program there a very nice lunch was enjoyed at George's Lower Deck.

As far as is known this is the first time in the history of the Vermilion Fire brigade that a ladies' night has been held and it was so successful that it was the unanimous decision to make it an annual event.

Salvation Army Band Here May 24th, 25th

WILL ALSO PLAY AT MANNVILLE

An eighteen piece band of The Salvation Army will play in Vermilion May 24 and 25. There will be "Youth for Christ" rally in the Masonic hall on the Saturday night May 24th at 8 p.m. The band will play and Maj. Batton will be the speaker. On Sunday morning the meeting will be in the Salvation Army hall with the night meeting at 7.30 in the Masonic hall. At 9:15 p.m. Sunday evening May 25th there will be a band program in the theatre at which Mayor Morrison will be chairman. Sunday afternoon the band will visit Mannville and put on a program there in the Orange hall at 3 p.m. Keep this special week end in mind.

Revised Dairy Barn Sheet

The Dairy Barn Sheet that was first published in November, 1945, has been revised and reprinted.

Practical information of value to all dairymen is presented. The sheet contains simple rules for the feeding of cows and calves, suitable grain mixtures, suggestions as to when and what minerals are required, what special treatment to give cows at calving time, common causes of low quality milk, a gestation table, and even how cows should be milked.

Free copies are available in Alberta from District Agriculturists, the Extension Service of the Alberta Department of Agriculture or the Department of Extension, University of Alberta, Edmonton.

Printer's Ink A Medicine

"Printers' ink has prevented more tuberculosis than all the doctors have cured," said Dr. Frank Crane. "It has spread right ideas of sanitation, upset old mildewed superstitions, opened windows, lured people outdoors, flooded fearsome brains with truth and despairing hearts with hope. It has built hospitals and supports them. It has prevented epidemics, driven [illegible] authorities to activity in remedial measures of cleansing. Cholera and smallpox were conquered by it, malaria and yellow fever flee before it. It is all well enough to give an individual Epsom Salts or Calomel, but what the public needs for what ails it is plenty of Printers' Ink. The best part of the science of medicine is that part which can be told in plain language so that the man in the street can understand."

Recognizing the poignancy of these facts, newspapers and other publications now have health departments, wherein people are told about health, food, and simple living.

Cool Weather Continues

Cool weather has continued over the past week with frost being registered on 4 nights out of the 7. The warmest day was last Thursday May 15th when 66.2 was reached with this Thursday morning being the cool spot with 24.2.

Rainfall this spring has been very light, that of March, April and May amounting to but 1.04 inches. This is divided as follows: March .06; April .31; May to date .84.

Snowfall for the winter totalled 40.5 inches of which details will be given next week.

U. of A. Plans Feeders' Day on June 7th

The 20th annual Feeders' Day sponsored by the Department of Animal Science of the University of Alberta will be held at the Livestock Pavilion, University Farm, on Saturday, June 7.

Several feeding trials have been in progress during the past year dealing with current problems related to "livestock production. The report on these experiments will be the basis for an interesting and profitable program that should have an appeal to all livestock producers.

Several hundred farm people have gathered for this event in previous years, and a cordial invitation is extended again this year to visit the University on Saturday, June 7th.

State Lotteries?

Canadian public opinion is sharply divided on the advisability of state-supervised lotteries in aid of social services, according to a survey made by The Financial Post. Many citizens questioned, termed lotteries morally unjustifiable and economically unsound; others saw no moral objection, and favored such a method of raising government funds.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Licences are again being granted for house-painting in London after a ban to save labor and materials.

Every day of the year Councillor Mrs. N. V. Laughton places flowers on the war memorial in Horsham, England.

Walter Jacobi, former chief of the German political police in Czechoslovakia, was sentenced to death and hanged after a day's trial.

Governor Sir Geoffrey Bromet has called for an all-out effort to make Douglas, Isle of Man, as far as possible, self-supporting in food supplies.

Egyptian authorities were reported to have forbidden United States Army airmen to visit Cairo unless they had passports and wore civilian clothes.

A parrot, which imitates the voice of its master and had learned to say: "Greetings, your majesty," joined in the cheers when the Royal family visited Benoni, South Africa.

A consignment of seven head of Canadian pure bred registered Southdown rams was recently shipped to New Zealand. On arrival there the rams were sold by auction at an average price of about $510.

According to the first estimate, the value of the fruit crops grown in Canada last year amounts to $51,474,000. This is an increase of $19,394,000, or 60 per cent. more than the value of the 1945 crops.

Used Automobile As Bank For Money

CHILLICOTHE, Mo.—Six days after Omer Skinner bought a second-hand automobile in Kansas City, the salesman dashed in and asked to see the machine.

He opened the trunk compartment, reached behind the cardboard lining and drew out a billfold from the hiding place.

After counting its contents, $2,000 in currency he explained: "That was my bank. I forgot and left the money in the car."

LANDING RIGHTS CLARIFIED BY U.S.-CANADA AGREEMENT

Revision of the agreement between the United States and Canada covering air services over the international boundary has been completed and the details were announced recently by the State Department. Lester B. Pearson, Canadian secretary of state for external affairs, said the new terms are acceptable to Canada.

On the routes designated by the agreement, airlines authorized by the respective governments may operate with the right to take on and put down passengers, mail and cargo at the specified terminal of the foreign country.

Western services covered by the agreement include, for United States lines, Fargo-Winnipeg; Great Falls-Lethbridge; Seattle-Vancouver; Seattle-Whitehorse; Fairbanks-Whitehorse. For airlines designated by the Canadian government the routes include Port Arthur-Duluth; Victoria-Seattle, Whitehorse-Fairbanks; Winnipeg-Sault Ste. Marie; North Bay-Toronto.

Boom Days Being Visualized Again At Outlook, Sask.

OUTLOOK, Sask.—The boom bubble which burst in this central Saskatchewan town at the turn of the century, is being visualized again but the wind has shifted from railways to irrigation.

Situated on the South Saskatchewan River about 40 miles south of Saskatoon, Outlook was once expected to be another Chicago but Saskatoon, old-time residents say, "got there first with the most bridges over the river."

Today, its 700 residents have high hopes with talk of plans for a large dam near the town as the centrepiece in a huge irrigation project by the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration.

The original boom started when the Canadian Pacific Railway, pushing across the Dominion at the beginning of the century, reached Outlook. Hundreds of workmen filled the town constructing a bridge across the river. But when the bridge was finished, the population dwindled and ideas of another Chicago faded.

An example of the former high hopes is the fact that taxes on two elevators and a grain buyer's house one mile from the outskirts of the present town, are paid to Outlook for they are officially in the town's limits.

There are also paved sidewalks laid out then, surrounding still-empty fields. At one time the sidewalks abounded around empty fields while the business section was serviced with board-walks.

The town was re-assessed for the assessment on one piece of property dropped from $1,600 to $250.

An American film producer asked an English friend to look at one of his "society" films to see that everything was all right.

After watching it for a while the Englishman asked, "Why does that man keep his hat on when he's talking to a lady in the drawing-room?"

"Sure," said the producer, "he can't take it off—another lady's coming in presently, and he's got to raise his hat to her."

FIND EFFECTIVE TREATMENT FOR LIVER AILMENT

The death rate from cirrhosis of the liver, which has always been high, can be reduced through treatment with crude liver extract, it has been discovered by four New York physicians who treated 30 patients. They reported a survival rate over a two-year period of approximately 77 per cent.

Previous investigators, who observed a comparable number of patients with symptoms of late stages of the disease, reported the survival rate over a similar period to be approximately 45 per cent. when the patients were treated by diet and vitamins; 22 to 26 per cent. among untreated patients, and 60 per cent. for patients treated with the more refined liver extract through injection into the veins. Incidently, the crude liver extract was given in the same manner.

The physicians involved—Daniel H. Labby, Robert E. Shank, Henry G. Kinkel and Charles L. Hoagland, from the Hospital of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research—reported their findings in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Cirrhosis of the liver is commonly found among heavy alcoholic drinkers, but it also may occur in total abstainers. In the group treated with crude liver, 21 patients were chronic drinkers.

When the liver becomes cirrhotic, its cells degenerate and are replaced by scar tissue. As a result, the blood vessels in the liver become constricted and the blood stagnates in them. Eventually cirrhosis causes the serum (liquid part of the blood) to ooze out of the swollen veins and to produce swelling of the abdomen. This condition, called ascites, found in 21 patients before treatment was begun, necessitates draining off the liquid from the abdomen. Also, the veins in the esophagus may become dilated and hemorrhage where this food-carrying canal enters the stomach. Seven patients in the group had esophageal hemorrhages.

The crude liver extract was injected into the veins of the patients two or three times a week for six months or longer. No strict supervision of diet was undertaken, but patients were not allowed to drink alcoholic beverages. They were instructed to select foods high in protein and rich in carbohydrate. No foods were prohibited if they were tolerated without distress. In addition, if the patient exhibited a vitamin B deficiency, supplements of the vitamin B group were prescribed only long enough to overcome the deficiency.

SLEEPY LITTLE TOWN IN BELGIAN CONGO GETS URANIUM BOOST

NEW YORK.—Uranium, key element of the atomic age, has transformed sleepy little Elizabethville in the Belgian Congo into a bustling city of 20,000 with modern sidewalk cafes, the latest model cars and the newest motion pictures, reports a correspondent of the Svenska Dagbladet.

The uranium deposits near Elizabethville, together with those in Canada, are the world's prime source of the newly valuable [illegible], and a whole new way of life has grown up in the area as European whites and African negroes work to produce it.

Nearly 30,000 negroes, some of them imported from the primeval woods of the lower Congo, toil in the uranium, copper, cobalt and tungsten mines which cluster around Elizabethville. For a 10-hour day under the earth they get 20 francs (50 cents) plus meals and quarters.

Europeans living along the broad, cemented streets of Elizabethville, lead a life of comparative luxury. The climate is mild and pleasant, and at 4,000 feet there are no mosquitoes to remind residents that they are in the heart of Africa. The legendary tom-toms have been replaced by blaring saxophones, and three-score years after Stanley crossed the Congo to be the first white man in the area, [illegible] the landscape. Belgian Sabena airliners regularly come and go from a modern airport.

Other and older stand-bys contribute to the wealth of Elizabethville too. Ivory is still a valuable commodity, and everything from gold to bananas brings income to the area. Approximately 25,000 miles of [illegible] roads and 10,000 miles of trafficable waterways exist in the region.

6000 Veterans Apply For Re-enlistment

OTTAWA.—Army headquarters announced that [illegible] veterans have replied to a personal letter sent out recently by the Adjutant-General — the first Army recruiting appeal since the end of the war.

The replies which continue to arrive at Army headquarters in Ottawa at the rate of about 250 daily, indicate that veterans are keenly interested in serving in Canada's new army. Close to 50% of the applicants, on the basis of information contained in their wartime documents are found to be capable of meeting the higher peacetime standards required.

Applicants who appear suitable for enlistment are asked to report to district depots on certain dates for personal interviews and medical examinations before being finally enlisted. Army headquarters pointed out that veterans should try to report to depots on these dates, since particular jobs can only be held open for them for a limited time.

In addition to applications from veterans, many inquiries are arriving daily from young Canadians without previous service, while others are applying direct to district depots for enlistment.

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. STRANGE
Director, Research Department,
Searle Grain Company, Ltd.

THE EVILS OF HIGH TARIFF

If all the evils that upset the people of the world were added together in one scale of a balance, and tariffs were put into the other scale it is probable that the latter would weigh down; for tariffs obstruct the trade and commerce of the world, and obstruct the ready exchange of the badly needed farmers' foodstuffs for the goods and commodities that foreign people make.

The League of Nations was of the opinion that the high tariffs set up by the United States and Canada in 1930 had a great deal to do with bringing on the severe world depression in the 1930's which brought with it unsold surpluses and such low prices to farmers, such unemployment, hardship, destitution and hunger to the whole world.

This April there will be an international conference called to see what can be done to have the countries of the world reduce these hampering and evil high tariffs. Whether it succeeds or not, there is nothing whatever to stop Canada from reducing her own tariffs, so encouraging a greater importation of foreign goods into Canada, so automatically encouraging a greater sale to foreign people of our wheat and other agricultural products.

Snow Removal Costs Heavy for Railways

WINNIPEG. While its track forces breathed more easily as mild weather spread over the prairies the Canadian National Railways figured out roughly the cost of snow removal on its western lines during January and February. Over the eight week period the cost was approximately $1,000,000. Never before was southern Saskatchewan subjected to such a period of continuous storms accompanied by intense cold and high wind. One half-mile drift at Mansur, Sask., near Weyburn, locked four engines, two snowplows and much auxiliary equipment in its grasp. It required a crew of 50 men plus considerable major equipment to open. It was the worst tie-up in railroading history in the west.

Our need is not for men who can prove their party right but who can put their country right.

Signs Mislead Search for E. B. Bottles

PRANKSTERS SAY AUTHORITIES.

Crude signs reading "Empties Was Here" which are mysteriously appearing in basement corners and wall closets of houses all over Alberta are hindering authorities in their search for E. B. Bottles. Pranksters are believed to be responsible.

Authorities at Deliveries Limited who are conducting the search for E. B. Bottles, alias "Empties" who escaped from work in the brewing industry, said that such tactics only tend to lull citizens into relaxing their lookout for the fugitive. They stated that Empties may return to hiding in basement corners and closets which have recently been cleaned in the belief that a search of these areas will not be repeated.

The present difficulty in supplying bottled brewery products was cited as evidence that "Empties" must be brought to justice and put back on the job at once.

Deliveries Limited are offering a reward of 20 cents per dozen for the return of the fugitive. Should Bottles be captured in a rural district, freight agents have been authorized to take the culprit into custody and arrange transportation to the nearest Deliveries Limited depot without charge to the person or persons apprehending the fugitive. Bottles may also be turned over directly to Deliveries Limited depots at Calgary, Edmonton, Camrose, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Drumheller, McLennan, Blairmore or Banff.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Minerva And The Bellerina

By ELAINE FRANCIS

As a baby-sitter she certainly got around, Minerva reflected ringing the bell of the imposing LaBonn home. All types of doors had opened for her in the past few months, due to the shortage of servants, but none more interesting than this one.

"Come in, my dear Miller," Tanya [illegible]. "You're just in time to watch me rehearse."

Minerva gaped. Not at the "Miller" which Mrs. LaBonn always called her in continental fashion, but at Tanya's exotic beauty. On previous occasions she had been conservatively dressed but today her dark hair was smooth and gathered in a large bun at the nape of her neck and a minute ballet costume revealed her perfect figure.

Chattering rapidly, for the former Ballerina was always friendly, always informal, Tanya led the way through the spacious drawing room to the equally large sunroom stripped of all its furnishings except the radio-phonograph. This she snapped on and began to dance. Although Minerva had never attended a ballet in her life, she knew this was magnificent. Her thin body relaxed to the aching, haunting loveliness, and when it ended she sat silent, bemused.

"Miller, you like it?" Tanya inquired. "So does Billy Dunn. He was my agent before the war and tomorrow night he brings movie scouts and big shots to our show. You know about the benefit, yes?"

"A person would have to be deaf, dumb, and blind not to," Minerva replied. For the Woman's Club sponsoring the Revue had plastered the town with publicity about the Broadway stars and home talent who would cooperate to raise money for the Food for Europe drive.

"A plush, lush affair, they call it," Tanya giggled. "But it is luck for me. All those years when Don, my husband, was at war, I could not dance. I had to work for ' ' tory. But now . . Don does not mind that I became a glamor puss and go to Hollywood. He says to spread the wings before it is too late. Ah, Bonnie . . ." She swooped over to the door and kissed her daughter.

Suddenly it seemed to Minerva that this thirteen-year-old was Tanya's child. The contrast was painful. Bonnie's mudblonde hair, the braces on her teeth, the dainty frock accentuating adolescent bulges. And her face was sullen and dull. What was wrong? Where was the smile that usually transformed her appearance, showing the promise of what was to come?

It was not until late that night that Minerva learned the answer. People always confided in Minerva, once they had pierced her shabby exterior, and Bonnie was no exception. "Mother is gorgeous, isn't she?" she asked wistfully. "A cinema cinch, her agent says."

Minerva's movie going had been limited, but she agreed heartily.

"It's selfish," Bonnie cried, "But I wish she'd flop. I loved our life just as it was—now everything is spoiled. Mother gets younger every day and I feel more like a Mack truck . . ."

Minerva patted the child's head. "You'll get over that," she said consolingly. "We all have our off days."

"Fat chance! The dancing teacher told me today she didn't see how I could be so awkward with such a graceful mother and two of the boys laughed."

Minerva made the first uncharitable remark of her life. "That was a wicked thing for her to say. Wicked! But tell your mother how you feel and . . ."

"No." Bonnie said flatly, wiping away her tears. "I'm sorry I mentioned it. Skip it, good-girl."

Minerva could not sleep that night, thinking of Bonnie's unhappiness. At this particular stage she was apt to be permanently affected by her mother's fame. Previously, she had been adaptable. A few more years and she would be self-reliant. But right now . . .

If only she could help the child. There was one way, tomorrow . . She tried hard to dismiss the idea. Tanya would despise her and it would be dangerous to have the prominent Mrs. LaBonn as an enemy. Minerva shivered, picturing her livelihood ended, her return to poverty.

Nevertheless, at four the following afternoon, the plan was in motion. Having sent Bonnie to the summer house for her supposedly mislaid spectacles Minerva searched for the phone. Strangely, it seemed to have moved, but she found it just as Tanya returned from the beauty parlor. Picking up the receiver, Minerva said loudly, "I feel sorry for Bonnie, claims it will ruin her life if Tanya makes a hit. Sure, she's hipped on Hollywood. Oh, 'bye."

As Tanya stood and stared at her, Minerva did not have to act ashamed. She actually felt it. "Didn't hear you," she explained feebly. "My, your hair is pretty."

"Miller, how could you discuss our affairs this gossipy way? I am disappointed," Tanya said coldly.

Minerva's blood chilled. This time she had gone too far with her meddling. Should she explain? Squaring her shoulders, she banished the temptation and said stoutly, "Bonnie told me . . ."

"I do not believe a scandal talker," Tanya interrupted bitterly. "Here is a ticket I got for you." She dropped the pasteboard and walked out of the room.

Minerva was miserable. What had she accomplished? Nothing except to brand herself a garrulous, untrustworthy old soul.

That night she crept into her seat at the Civic Auditorium and watched the curtain rise on Tanya, a whirl of blue. But her performance was so mediocre that Minerva, recalling yesterday's fiery dance, was amazed. At the finish Tanya bowed, smiling straight at the box where her husband and Bonnie sat with three disgruntled gentlemen. The talent scouts, no doubt. And then Minerva understood that Tanya had deliberately danced that way, sacrificing her career for her daughter's sake. But what or who had changed the ballerina's mind.

During the intermission, Bonnie came running to Minerva. "I have a message from mother. She said to tell you the telephone is portable and wasn't plugged in, but thanks anyway. Whatever that means. And Minerva, mom doesn't want to be a star. Isn't that super!"

Looking at the radiant young face, Minerva agreed completely, while smiling inwardly at her own lucky stupidity. Phones that plug in!

New Radar Device Has Been Tested

The Detroit Free Press says the highly versatile Howard Hughes has demonstrated a radar device which gives hope that one of aviation's greatest hazards that of collision—may be eliminated.

Press accounts do not make clear how much Hughes had to do, personally, with the development of the instrument. However, his prestige in flying circles makes his enthusiastic sponsorship of it important.

From the air lines' standpoint one of the detector's most attractive assets is its light weight—only 10 pounds. If it works in service as well as in test, air travel will be infinitely safer.

QUESTION OF STATEHOOD FOR ALASKA DEFERRED

WASHINGTON. — Statehood for Alaska was postponed at least a year, to permit a House of Representatives public lands sub-committee to investigate conditions in the territory.

The action was the reverse of that taken when the committee voted without leaving their chairs to approve statehood for Hawaii. That proposal now is awaiting action of the House rules committee.

When the Alaska vote was taken only one member, Representative A. L. Miller (Rep. Neb.) voted to approve immediate statehood for the territory. He is the only man of the sub-committee who has visited Alaska.

Delegate Edward Bartlett (Dem.-Alaska) said he did not believe the sub-committee's action had actually delayed statehood.

"Even if our bill had been approved," he said, "it would have been almost impossible, so late in the session, to have expected passage in both Houses, or even in one of them until next session."

Expressive Word Is Seldom Used

A speaker in Toronto the other day remarked that one seldom heard the word "merry" and [illegible] used nowadays and he regretted it because it is so expressive.

Come to think of it the word is not often used. Perhaps it is because there isn't much to be merry about with the world in the mess it is in.

In the older books and in the dialogue of Shakespeare's characters and of other early writers it occurs frequently.

Burton in his Anatomy of Melancholy, [illegible] merry [illegible] asserted that [illegible] merry. In Proverbs [illegible] a merry heart doeth good [illegible]. A popular song [illegible] had it that a merry heart [illegible] well lined. Even the [illegible] let said: What should a man do but be merry. It used to be commonly said that a man was as merry as a grig or cricket, which is a misquotation for as merry as a Greek, and a clownish fellow used to be called a "Merry Andrew", the description coming from Andrew Borde, physician to King Henry VIII in the days of "Merrie England". RESEARCH INSTITUTE PLAN EXPLOSION METHOD IN FLOUR MANUFACTURE

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—The Midwest Research Institute is planning a $100,000 pilot plant to make commercial scale tests of its new process for exploding cereal grains into flour by compressed air.

Harold Vagtborg, president of the organization, called the process one which has "possibilities of revolutionizing the milling industry to the advantage of both the miller and the consumer."

Vagtborg said the significance of the experiments was in the fact that preferential separation of the component parts of the grain thus can be obtained. He said wheat flour can be made free of the germ, something exceedingly difficult under conventional milling standards.

"We have reached the stage," he said, "where we shall need a large-scale pilot plant at the institute to make commercial tests. We are proposing to invest $50,000 in equipment and $50,000 in personnel and supplies to carry out the tests for two years."

He said plans had been drawn for a continuous process plant, with a series of explosive dissociaters for cycling and segregation processes between each so that the finished product will be flour and by-products, or merely separated parts of the grain. Wheat, oats, sorghums and other cereal grains will be used.

C. J. Patterson, a trustee of the institute and a baking company executive, called the explosion method a process of vast possibilities.

"We don't know yet it's commercial feasibility in the final making of flour," he said. "It should be able to simplify many of the stages in milling and cereal processing. We do know that it will do things never done before and it may bring lower costs in some phases of milling."

Fails To Eat 12 Cakes, Loses Bet

CAPE TOWN.—Stanley Brown lost a $20-bet because he could eat only 26¼ pounds of cake at a sitting.

Brown fancied some 2½-pound cakes he saw in a Cape Town hotel and exclaimed, "Boy I could eat a dozen of those!" The hotel manager heard the boast, proposed the bet, and pocketed his winnings when Brown threw in the sponge after eating 10¼ cakes.

Britain's Food Outlook Better

DUNDEE. — John Strachey, food minister, said there was "real hope" of ending bread rationing in Britain if this year's world wheat harvests are good.

[illegible] imposed a basic ration of nine [illegible] daily [illegible] with less for children and [illegible] manual workers, last July.

Strachey, speaking at a press conference, also said there was "some prospect" that world food prices would begin to decline next fall.

Bowtell Bulletin

Deepest sympathy is extended to the Miller family in their recent sorrow. The writer had known the deceased for many years and her happy smile and cheery disposition will be greatly missed by those who knew her.

Ken Kay returned home from Edmonton Tuesday.

Since commencing to write these notes the writer was shocked to learn of the sudden death of Mrs. McCrea and deepest sympathy is extended to the surviving family.

Church services have again started at Pleasant Valley [illegible] and everybody is welcome.

Visitors at the writer's home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Robinson and Margaret; Mr. and Mrs. E. Riedale and family, Mrs. Perkins and children; Ken Kay, Tom and John Bashford.

Jim Bopp is expected home in the near future as he is taking his discharge from the U.S. army.

We are pleased to learn that Mrs. De Lowe is home from the hospital and is convalescing nicely after an attack of pneumonia.

Gerald Fenton spent the week end visiting his sister Mrs. Carlson at Streamstown.

Anaemia in Pigs Can Be Prevented

Anaemia in baby pigs is preventable but still too commonly encountered says the Division of Animal Pathology, Dominion Department of Agriculture. The therapeutic and prophylactic value of iron was clearly shown in all the experiments so far made by the Division. Life-long feeding of iron to the sow did not result in greater storage of iron in the young, these being equally as susceptible to anaemia as the young of the untreated sows. A single dose of iron for the young pigs was not sufficient. A minimum of three at weekly intervals was indicated. The first should be given when the pigs are a day or two old as cases of anaemia may be well developed in the first week in confined pigs.

CANADIAN FOOD FOR BRITAIN

Canada supplied 57% of the flour used in Britain in 1946, The Financial Post reports. It also supplied more than one third of all the bacon and ham, nearly one quarter of all the cheese but only 3.0% of the carcass meat, most of which was beef. Other imports and the percentage relation to total U.K. consumption were eggs in shell 15%, dried eggs 15%, evaporated milk 10½%.

Will Soon Issue 100,000 Road Maps

More than 100,000 "strip" or sectional road maps will be issued shortly by the Alberta Motor Association. Now that Alberta is preparing for a big tourist year, with the biggest road building program in its history in sight, the demand for these maps will be of record proportions.

The A. M. A. has followed the policy of providing sectional maps that are of great value to motorists. They are checked with the public works department in order that the latest official information is given as to road mileage, type of road surfacing and other data.

These maps also contain listings of the official appointments of the A.M.A. in the region for which the map is issued. These show hotels, auto camps, garages and service stations, and all other essential information required by motorists.

There is a large distribution of these strip maps to branches of the A.M.A. in Edmonton, Calgary and Lethbridge, and to all official appointments.

Boards of trade, chambers of commerce and various travel agencies also are adequately supplied.

Britain And World Recovery

A GREAT DEAL HAS BEEN HEARD lately concerning England's difficult financial position and her apparent failure to recover quickly and completely from the effects of the war. It would almost seem that in some reports dealing with this subject, there can be detected a note of satisfaction in seeing the British people contending with what is without doubt one of the most critical periods in the history of their country. However, in spite of the adverse conditions there, many observers are confident that Britain will come through this, as she came through the seemingly hopeless months when she stood alone against the powerful and aggressive forces of Germany and Italy. Her people did not give up then, and it is unlikely that they will give up now.

* * * * *

Contributed To Many Countries

If Britain had not remained firm in the early years of the war, so that she could provide the bases, and contribute her might for the invasion of Europe, it is impossible to imagine how long that continent might have remained under German control. Now, in spite of the difficulties she is experiencing in recovering economically from six years of war, Britain has been making generous financial contributions to world recovery. In the United Kingdom House of Commons Mr. Bevin recently gave figures concerning the contributions and loans made either directly or through U.N.R.R.A. to foreign countries. Contributions to U.N.R.R.A. totalled $620,000,000, while the amount given for pre-U.N.R.R.A. European relief, excluding Germany, was $400,000,000. Loans to France totalled $400,000,000 also, and loans and grants to Greece amounted to $166,000,000. In post-U.N.R.R.A. relief Italy has received $220,000,000 from Britain while over $80,000,000 was sent to Austria in loans and grants.

* * * * *

Large Sums Are Non-Repayable

Other financial contributions made by Britain to post-war world recovery included $240,000,000 in loans and relief to the Netherlands, $120,000,000 to Malta and the same amount to Burma. Hungary had received over $20,000,000 in grants up to March 31st, while grants of $30,000,000 went to Czechoslovakia. In addition to all this, Britain has given financial assistance to Germany amounting to $360,000,000. The total of all the money provided by the United Kingdom for post-war recovery is 2,900 million dollars of which 2,000 million dollars are non-repayable. Mr. Bevin pointed out that the credits not immediately repayable impose, while they are outstanding, the same strain on Britain's balance of payments as outward grants of similar amounts would impose at a time when there has been some criticism of Britain's present financial position it is well to be reminded of what she has contributed to the cause of freedom and to world economic recovery.

LIGHTNING BOLT KNOCKS FAMILY OUT OF BEDS

LINDSAY, Ont.—A lightning bolt knocked four members of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tobey from their beds in their home at nearby Bobcaygeon recently. The family escaped injury.

It is believed that copper was first used about 3,500 B.C., by the Egyptians.

Saskatchewan Hogs Shipped To N.Z.

NOKOMIS, Sask. — Six purebred Duroc Jersey hogs, raised in this central Saskatchewan district, are enjoying an ocean voyage to New Zealand where they will settle on the farm of their new owner.

The four females and two males, total weight 2,430 pounds, and all one year old, were sold by Sam Stoll and Robert Edwards, of this district 60 miles north of Regina to a New Zealand farmer.

The hogs left by rail for Vancouver where they boarded [illegible] for a seven-week voyage. They will spend 30 days in quarantine at a New Zealand port before they will start a 400-mile journey of their new home.

More than 1,300 pounds of food was shipped with the hogs.

HOSPITAL BUILDINGS FOR TWO ALBERTA TOWNS

Vulcan, Alberta, is to have a $75,000 addition to its hospital as a result of a by-law passed recently by the ratepayers. Plans are now being prepared.

A general contract has been awarded for a 24 bed hospital at Lamont, Alberta, at a price of $175,000.

Telephone System For Yellowknife

At Yellowknife, in the North-West Territories, a franchise has been awarded which will result in the immediate formation of the Yellowknife Telephone Company Limited, to eliminate the great inconvenience of "walking" when the flick of a dial will serve the purpose. Scores of business organizations and residents of the booming frontier mining town have pledged financial aid through the purchase of shares in the new company.

The lines will weave a zig-zag pattern from a nerve-centre in Yellowknife over hundreds of miles of almost unmarked terrain, connecting up outlying camps such as Giauque Lake, Salmita-Courageous, Johnston Lake, Indian Lake, Gordon Lake, Pensive, Ross Lake (the site of tantalum mines), and Great Bear Lake where radium and uranium are produced.

All of these telephones will connect up with the "outside" world by radio hook-in, much the same as that employed in ship-to-shore communications on the Great Lakes and elsewhere.

FUNNY And OTHERWISE

Overheard on the Bus: "Are you dining anywhere tonight?"

She (hopefully): "No, I'm not, Bob."

"Gee! You'll be hungry by morning."

A male nurse in an insane asylum noticed a patient with his ear close to the wall, listening intently. The patient held up two fingers as a warning to be very quiet; then beckoned him over and said: "You listen here."

The nurse put his ear to the wall and listened for some time, then turned to the patient and said: "I can't hear anything."

"No," said the patient, "and it's been like that all day."

Two married men were discussing their joys and sorrows.

"My wife," said one, "is very poetic. She gets up at sunrise and says 'Lo, the morn!'"

"Huh!" said the other, sadly. "Mine says, 'Mow the lawn!'"

When the farmer saw a stranger fishing in his special stream he was very angry but his wrath faded into laughter when he noticed that the angler was using carrot as bait.

Later in the day he went that way again; but he was surprised to see the basket full of fish.

"Bless my soul," he exclaimed. "You never caught all those with the carrot bait, did you?"

"Of course not," was the calm reply. "I caught you with that."

Dinah had been having trouble with an ulcerated tooth for some time before she got up enough courage to see a dentist. The moment he touched her tooth she screamed at the top of her lungs.

"What are you making such a racket for?" demanded the doctor. "Don't you know that I'm a painless dentist?"

"Well, sah," retorted Dinah, "mebbe yo' is painless, but ah isn't."

"I wish I could," sighed the overly stout lady ruefully as she gazed on the sign in a grocery store reading: "Give your fat to Uncle Sam."

"Did the voyage cure you of your seasickness?"

"Absolutely."

"Well, that must be a relief."

"It certainly is. Why, I lie awake half the night thinking how I used to suffer from it."

Babies of the future, says a physician, will talk at a much earlier age. When tomorrow's papa visits the hospital for his first sight of junior, he's likely to be greeted with, "Hello, dad, what's cookin'?"

A very proper and careful old woman was interviewing a new gardener.

"Have you a reference from your last place, my man?" she inquired.

"No, mum," replied the applicant. "They wouldn't give me one."

"Why?"

"Oh," answered the man, absently, "I hit one of the warders."

"On the day on which my wedding occurred—"

"You'll pardon the correction, but affairs such as marriages, receptions, dinners and things of that sort 'take place'. It is only calamities which 'occur'. You see the distinction?"

"Yes, I see. As I was saying, the day on which my wedding occurred—"

ADOPTED BRITON — Arriving in Canada on the Aquitania, eight-months-old Andrew David Adams is the first British baby to be adopted sight unseen by a Niagara Falls couple, Mr. and Mrs. H. Parm. The baby was looked after on the five-day ocean voyage by Mrs. Rena Chomyshyn, of Toronto, with whom she is seen.

Confusion Arose As Identical Twins Wed

GLENDALE, Cal. — Everyone was confused except honeymooners Mr. and Mrs. Frank Britschgi and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Britschgi.

The brides were identical twins, and dressed alike. Their husbands were identical twins, and dressed alike. They were married in a double ceremony. They took identical honeymoon suites. They have rented identical apartments in the same building at Oakland.

Everyone was having trouble telling which was which, except the Britschgis.

"We have a second method of identification," said Mrs. Frank Britschgi, or maybe it was Mrs. Arnold Britschgi.

POTATO IDEAS

Scalloped Potato Variations: Prepare scalloped potatoes in your usual way, sprinkling cheese or ground cooked ham between layers of sliced potatoes. Or place sliced ham, seasoned pork chops, link sausage, shredded dried beef, or sliced frankfurters between layers and cook until meat and potatoes are done.

Potato Salad Variations: Add left-over meat, fish, chicken, or vegetables to potato salad mixture. Add minced parsley, bits of pimiento, chopped olives, chives, or chopped carrots to vary the flavor. Try new combinations, too, such as potato, drained cubed cucumber, and hard-boiled egg; or potato, celery, and peas.

STRAWBERRY CUSTARD TARTS

1 quart strawberries, washed and hulled
1 cup sugar
1 package Strawberry Jell-O
1½ cups hot water
Custard Cream Filling
10 baked 2½-inch tart shells

Combine strawberries and sugar and let stand 10 minutes. Dissolve Jell-O in hot water. Pour over strawberries. Chill until Jell-O begins to thicken. Place layer of custard filling in bottom of each tart shell. Chill about 10 minutes. Cover with layer of jellied strawberries, pressing lightly hull-end of each strawberry into custard. Add thickened Jell-O to fill tart. Chill a few minutes and serve.

Custard Cream Filling

Combine ½ cup sugar, 4 tablespoons Swans Down Cake Flour, and dash of salt in top of double boiler. Add 1⅓ cups milk and 2 slightly beaten egg yolks, mixing thoroughly. Place over boiling water and cook 10 minutes, or until thick, stirring constantly. Cool, add ½ teaspoon vanilla. Makes cream for 10 Strawberry Cream Tarts.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

CORRECTING MISTAKES

Mistakes are lessons of wisdom. The past cannot be changed. The future is yet in your power.—Hugh White.

None are too wise to be mistaken, but few are so wisely just as to acknowledge and correct their mistakes, and especially the mistakes of prejudice.—Barrow.

One should watch to know what his errors are, and if this watching destroys his peace in error, should one watch against such a result? He should not.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Be not discouraged at broken and spilled resolutions, but to it and to it again.—Coleridge.

A man should never be ashamed to own he has been in the wrong, which is but saying, in other words, that he is wiser today than he was yesterday.—Pope.

I shall try to correct errors when shown to be errors, and I shall adopt new views so fast as they shall appear to be true views.—Abraham Lincoln.

The custom of chaining books to stands or reading-desks was very common in various parts of Europe in the 15th and 16th centuries.

New Locations Staked For 14 Oil Wells

CALGARY. — The promised big-scale oil exploration program in Canada's west gathered impetus when major and independent companies staked locations for 14 wells.

The list of new sites—all of which will get drilling under way this month—includes four in the South Princess area, scene of a promising Madison lime oil discovery in 1946; one at nearby Brooks; three in the Lloydminster-Lone rock area, which is perhaps the west's best bet for a major source of heavy crude; two in the virgin area south of the recent Leduc oil discovery; and one each in Turner Valley, at Baxter Lake and at Egerton.

The great program now getting under way was further emphasized by announcements by major and independent companies of details of their 1947 programs.

PROTECTS ITSELF

The frog-hopper, a tiny plant bug, protects itself from its enemies by blowing a mass of bubbles about itself. The bubbles are composed of plant juice, air and wax.

Wrong Kind Of Drumstick

HOLLYWOOD.—Actress Katherine York asked $31,200 damages recently because she got the wrong kind of drumstick when she ordered a chicken dinner in a nightclub. Miss York told the court that Drummer Cee Pee Johnson turned loose his drumstick during a particularly energetic performance and it hit her in the left eye. The suit was filed against Johnson and Billy Berg, owner of the nightclub.

PORTRAIT OF A POPULAR "IN-LAW"

MOTHER BARNES is her son-in-law's favorite relative. Mind you, there was a time when Mother's visits sent him scurrying for cover. But that was before her doctor told her that the caffein in tea and coffee was making her irritable—and suggested Postum instead.

Mother loves Postum. It's so full-flavored and heartening—not like tea, not like coffee, just downright delicious in its own right. And Postum contains no caffein—no other drug that might affect heart or nerves or digestion.

Postum is made instantly, right in the cup, just by adding hot milk or boiling water. Costs less than a cent a serving. Try Postum today!

Impressions of a Turtle Race

The following description of Turtle racing is taken from a letter received by Mrs. H. J. Clarke from her son Don, who is attending the California Institute of Technology. These races are held each year at Joshua Tree in the California desert and are considered to be quite an event.

The annual Turtle Races at Joshua Tree in the California desert were scheduled for the next day so we rolled into bed.

We arose bright and early at 7:15 as we were going on a desert trip first. At noon we met the rest of our party who had been out and picked up some turtles in the desert, one for us, so after a couple of sandwiches we headed for the "Races".

Turtle racing is simplicity itself. The contestants place their animals at the perimeter of an inner ring, marked on the ground, and release them at a given signal. The first turtle to reach the perimeter of the outer concentric circle, some twenty feet away, wins. No pushing or shoving, of course, as the "Jockeys" must immediately step out of the rings once the steeds have been released. Our "Cal. Tech. Kid" got off to a fairly good start in the first race but slowed down (imagine a turtle slowing down) about half way through to have a short chat with the beast who turned out to be the winner. But afterwards he (or she) came racing right along for a second place, and netted us five bucks.

The Kid was entered in a couple of other races, but didn't do so well. In the second the Kid had a bit of trouble figuring out which way to run, and thereby lost some valuable time. Once Cal. Tech. Kid got started, though, he (or she) didn't make bad time, but still not good enough to get in on the money, losing to a smaller animal which exhibited a peculiar sort of double stride—maybe it was a pacer. I'm not sure. I think that sort of unnerved him (her) for in the last race the Kid was completely confused—didn't make a good start at all, and finally ended up the easiest way — just lay down and rested.

Our co-participants didn't have any luck at all with their animals. They didn't seem to get the idea of the affair and for the most part wandered about rather aimlessly in circles, if they went at all.

After the meet was over the four of us drove up to Twenty-Nine Palms, releasing the turtles in the desert along the way and took some pictures during which process one female member of our party managed very successfully to back into a Cholla bush twice within as many minutes, not seriously, so it was more humorous than painful.

All in all it was quite a day and an unusual experience even if I couldn't keep my eyes open for the next two days.

Chatsworth Chatter

Showers of rain, flurries of snow and high winds today, Monday 19th, are somewhat hampering work on the land. The season is so late that it is to be hoped the weather will clear up. High winds continue, causing a good deal of soil drifting, especially [illegible]

Early Closing Not Popular

The town's early closing (9 p.m. [illegible]) on Saturday evenings is causing quite a bit of unpopular comment from farmers. Guess we'll have to get out the good old mail order catalogue and [illegible] our shopping via mail. There is no time on Saturday evening, especially this late spring [illegible] the men folks are forced to work overtime and don't want to quit at 5 or earlier to get to town to make the necessary purchases. It will also be an annoyance at harvest time when long hours are put in, in field work.

Mrs. McKee who has been spending the past few weeks with her daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. George Lyons came home last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Branham had as their visitor Sunday the former's sister Mrs. H. [illegible] of town.

Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] and Brenda were callers [illegible] last week end.

Russell Branham has sold his farm [illegible]. We're certainly sorry to see the family leaving and hope they won't move too far away.

Last week there were two new additions to the [illegible] community when a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tonell and a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Kate Ludwig.

Mrs. Lottie Honey is staying at Ludwig's while Mrs. Ludwig is in the hospital.

Deplores Lack of Roads, Road Work in Ethelwyn District

Roads, or rather lack of roads, is the main topic of conversation this spring. There has been no road work done in the Ethelwyn district for more years than anyone can remember. As a result in the spring and after each rain the roads are nothing but a series of mud holes. This spring the farmers living east and west of Rye school were kept busy pulling cars through the mud. The road east of the school is still almost impassable. For the past few years Jack Grant Jr. has maintained our roads, otherwise we wouldn't have had any semblance of roads left nor any cars fit to use. This spring our councillor told Mr. Grant not to do the roads again as the big municipal outfit is to maintain all of our roads. To date the outfit has been over one road one way only. Jack Grant has also kept our roads snow plowed and open for the past few winters. On sending in his bill this spring he received a letter from the municipal office stating that he would not be paid as he had no authority to open the roads. After every storm last winter the Wildmere scribe in the Vermilion Standard expressed appreciation to the municipal road gang for clearing their roads. Why should some roads be opened and others not? The writer wants it clearly understood that we are not complaining because the municipal outfit didn't open our roads — we are well satisfied with Jack's work but feel that he should be paid for it. The snow was so bad last winter that the municipal outfits could not begin to clear all of the roads, so why not give a resident farmer a chance to work off some of his taxes by doing a very necessary work and doing it well as in this instance. Children living away from the cleared road missed several weeks of school last winter. There were times during the winter when a person could not have reached town with horses if Grant had not cleared the road. Four years ago in the winter death came to our district and during that trying time a small group of men kept the road open with shovels. Are we supposed to continue with that primitive method of road clearing? Neighbors, are we going to continue paying taxes and put up with roads such as they are in our district right now?

* * *

This is indeed a small world as people who travel find out. Mrs. Mary Smith, formerly of Dewberry was travelling on a boat out of Vancouver last winter and was busy with some fancy work in the salon when two strange men put their heads in the door and made motion for Mary to come out. She tried to ignore them but as they persisted she decided to go on deck and see what they wanted. The two men turned out to be old family friends, Malcolm and John MacNeil formerly of Ethelwyn.

Mrs. MacLean and Mrs. Jim Gudwear of Edmonton are visiting at the home of the former's daughter, Mrs. R. MacDonald. Mrs. Gudwear is a war bride from Holland and is very much interested in western farm life.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin McBride spent two days last week visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cooper.

Mr. and Mrs. John Grant have returned from spending the winter at the coast. The coast is a fine place in the winter but they like to return to their farm for the summer.

Mrs. Morrison is expected home next week having spent two months on the west coast.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Taylor have again opened their home and hearts to a little homeless child. Bobby, aged 6, came down from Edmonton to make his home with them and be Darleen's little brother.

The local news in the Vermilion Standard is becoming more interesting each week. We like to see someone proud of their own district and anxious to tell the world about it. Keep up the good work Dewberry.

After the show on Saturday evening attend the dance at the Elks hall. An enjoyable hour or two for only 25c.

It is reported that John McKenzie has been a patient in the Vermilion hospital suffering eye infection.

[illegible] brush-cutting outfit was busy on the Geo. Neelman place a week or two ago.

The road around the slough between 14 and 15, is washing out, waves being blown by high winds have cut into it quite deeply at the south end. This may become quite dangerous as it is the main road north and carries quite heavy traffic.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the Wapenitka family on the death of their mother in the mission. Mrs. Wapenitka was a former resident of the Indian Lake district.

There are still some other points that should be heard. What about it Clan [illegible]

Hints on Malting Barley for Contest

Anxious that contestants avoid last [illegible], the general committee of the $25,000 National Barley contest, sponsored by the brewing and malting industries of Canada has called attention of prospective entrants to "Hints on Growing Malting Barley", printed in the booklet of regulations. In summary they are:

Use pure seed of recommended varieties. Plant a seed plot on every farm. Registered and certified seed are the purest obtainable and freest from weed seeds, [illegible] and other grains.

Treat seed using Ceresan or other mercuric dust.

Sow shallow — Sow no deeper than necessary to get seed into moist soil.

Sow early — But if the land is weedy, one crop of weeds should be destroyed before seeding barley.

Rate of seeding — Seeding about 1½ bushels per acre gives the best sample for malting in the area most suitable to this crop.

Vermilion Sports Day Saturday, May 24th

FEATURED BY $200.00 BASEBALL TOURNEY — TWO OPEN FASTBALL COMPETITIONS — ALSO ATHLETIC EVENTS

A huge program has been planned for Vermilion's annual sports day, May 24th. The program is highlighted by an open baseball tournament for which $200 in prizes is offered, split two ways $125 to the winner and $75 to the second place club.

This year an open fastball tournament for men has been added to the list of attractions and there are prizes of $40 and $25 for this event. Prizes for the ladies' open softball, always a great drawing card, have been increased to $40 and $25.

Other tournaments include Junior baseball 14 years and under, Softball for boys 15 years and under, and softball for girls 15 years and under.

These six ball tournaments mean that at the very least seven diamonds will be in use on sports day and in case of heavy entries it is quite likely that several more diamonds will be used in the preliminary rounds.

All entries for the ball tournaments must be in by Wednesday noon, May 21st.

The longest list of track events and jumps held at any sports day in the province will be run off during the day and this includes races for every one commencing at the age of 5 years and under. A high jump has been added to the girls' events while the half mile run and pole vault have been eliminated from the open events.

The sports are held under the auspices of the Vermilion Amateur Athletic association. Reg Mitchell is the president and Jim Part the secretary.

Big Tourist Year

Enquiries about Canada are pouring into the office of the Canadian Travel Bureau at Ottawa at the rate of 1,500 to 1,600 a day, reports The Financial Post. These are all coming from Americans, and mostly in response to the advertising campaign launched in a limited number of U.S. magazines this year. There is no comparison with this heavy correspondence and that of former years and as a result, authorities are confident that last year's $212 million total of tourist-spending in Canada will be greatly exceeded, perhaps doubled.

Only bottlenecks are accommodation and roads. The first is limited and the second still suffering from lack of proper maintenance during the war years. Both are improving, the road condition quickly, the accommodation much more gradually.

Scouts Help War Bride

A British war bride in Saskatchewan, alone with her two little children on a farm, was surprised when the Spiritwood Sask. scouts arrived in a sleigh to do her a good turn. They dug out the snow-hidden house, split a large pile of firewood, fixed a barn door, cleaned stove pipes, put watering troughs in commission and generally tried to make things a little easier for her.

Farm Debt Cut

Mortgage and agreement for sale debts of farmers in the 3 Prairie Provinces declined 21% in 1946 and are now less than one-third of what they were at the end of 1937, according to a report issued by Dominion Mortgage & Investments Association.

Not only does this indicate a healthier condition for investors in Western mortgages, says The Financial Post, but it also reveals a strong basis for the continuation of good sales of farm equipment and other goods to the farmers.

LOCAL NEWS

The report of the musical program presented by the United church choir on Monday evening will appear in next week's issue of the Standard.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Pratt Sr. of the Allandale district left Wednesday night on a trip that will take them to Seattle and possibly as far as California. It is possible that they might decide to settle elsewhere if they happen on a spot that appeals to them.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Waldon of Wayneville spent Sunday in Vermilion visiting their daughter Audrey.

Charlie Forbes left Tuesday evening for Chauvin, Alta., where he has a position in the Massey-Harris implement shop.

Mrs. E. DeLeeuw returned from the Lloydminster hospital on Saturday last and reports feeling much better.

Empire Youth Sunday Observed, Clandonald

Empire Youth Sunday was observed in St. Mary's Anglican church at Clandonald on Sunday May 18th. The subject for the sermon taken at the services by the Vicar, the Rev. Capt. W. J. Brant, was the call to Youth "To Take Their Stand for Christ". The young members of the church took part in the service including Tommy Stockwell, Harry Brake, George Stonehouse, Bill Stonehouse, Bob Stonehouse, Doris Stockwell, Eileen Stockwell, Mavis Brake, Donna Young, Wanda Simpson, Wilma Simpson. Mrs. Brant played the organ.

At the Holy Trinity church, Irwinville, the younger members of the church assisting in the Empire Youth Sunday service were Maxine Norcross, Ruth Christopher, Kathleen Haines, Teddy Kent, Brian Kent, Freddie Christopher, Mac Kent, Jim Kent, Truman Norcross. Primary children helping were Jerrie, Janet, June and Dunnie. The organist was Mrs. Keith Kent.

Anglican service was held in the United church at Islay at 7:30 p.m. May 18th by the Rev. W. J. Brant. The United church minister and congregation generously offered their church for the service which was very well attended. The minister and the Anglican congregation thank the United church friends for their kindness. Mrs. McNeely presided at the organ.

New Books Added To I.O.D.E. Library

The regular meeting of the Frog Lake Chapter I.O.D.E. was held on Tuesday May 6th. There were 21 members present.

Mrs. Miller attended the annual convention in Calgary and gave us an interesting report on it.

We wish to thank the Salvation Army for the use of their chairs at [illegible]. We would also like to thank Mrs. P. Cartwright for the lovely box of clothing she donated to us.

The following books have been received by our library: River Sand; Green Grass of Wyoming; Once in Vienna, His Majesty's Yankees, Wind Without Rain, The Walls of Jericho; Singing Waters, Pilgrim's Rest; Death in Harley Street; It Ain't Hay, The Oppenheim Secret Service; Widow Makers, Magnificent Obsession. A [illegible] for [illegible].

Stagette Notes

The Stagettes held their regular weekly meeting Tuesday night, this was the first meeting in three weeks and some of the members forgot to attend. Our last meeting will be next week in the form of a banquet at the Brunswick Hotel. Wear your uniforms girls as we have hopes of seeing a photographer that night. "Inquire for further information."

Many thanks to all who helped make the Spring Time Frolic a success both socially and financially. We hope you all had a good time.

An invitation to a dance at the school of agriculture was extended to the stagettes on the 15th, which was accepted. We had a grand time.

Final arrangements were made for the convention which will be held in Calgary this week. Those going are Lorraine Gibbie, Kay Arlough, Marion Morrel and Lena. We'll do our best but keep your fingers crossed [illegible].

That just about sums up the news for this week.

FLIES FROM SCOTLAND TO VISIT DAUGHTER

Mrs. Doig of Glasgow, Scotland, arrived in Vermilion recently to spend three months visiting her daughter Mrs. Dale Williams. Mrs. Doig boarded the plane in Scotland Monday and reached Edmonton Wednesday where she was met at the airport by her daughter and son-in-law.

FATHER AND SON BANQUET

A Father and Son banquet is to be held at George's Lower Deck Monday May 26th. All scouts, cubs and their dads are invited to attend. Tickets may be obtained from the Scoutmaster Mr. Gordon Ross.

AB SINCLAIR BREAKS WRIST

Station agent Ab Sinclair fell Tuesday and suffered a broken left wrist. Ab was in an elevated position busily cleaning windows at the station. He stepped back and down to a lower box. The box tipped and Ab took a bad tumble resulting in the broken wrist.

Alberta Travelling Theatrical Company to Visit Vermilion

WILL PRESENT THREE PLAYS

The only summer stock company in Alberta will visit Vermilion on June 5th. The legitimate stage group, University Provincial Players, will present three plays which have been specially selected and directed by Robert Orchard, Professor of Drama, Department of Fine Arts, University of Alberta.

PIERRE PATELIN—A colorful 14th century farce in 3 acts, translated from the original French.

JOHNNY DUNN—An Alberta play, written by Robert Gard, fascinating story teller of Alberta folklore.

THE HAPPIEST MAN IN THE WORLD—A one-act drama, gripping in intensity and stark drama.

The troupe is the only one of its kind in Alberta, and consists of a small carefully chosen group of University students who have a keen interest in promoting the work of the theatre in the province.

Playing from the first of June to Sept. 1st, the troupe plans to present some 75 performances, from Dawson Creek in the north to Cardston in the south, and from Banff in the west to Lloydminster in the East. They have rented a 16-passenger bus, the rear section of which has been converted into storage space for scenery and costumes. The girls see that the boys pitch in and help with the cooking and laundry, while they in turn help with the costumes and scenery. The male members all have sleeping bags and usually sleep out on the "lone prairee" or in whatever shelter can be found, while the girls sleep in hotels or in private homes. The girls declare that roughing it is fun and wouldn't miss it for anything. When the magic of grease paint and bright lights is in their blood, it makes up for the hardships and inconveniences they endure.

The Provincial Players are being sponsored in Vermilion by the Canadian Legion. The show will be presented in the school of agriculture auditorium on Thursday June 5th at 8:30 p.m.

Members of the troupe include — Gordon W. Atkinson—Stage manager, hails from the Horseshoe Ranch Pincher Creek, Alberta. Veteran of World War II having served with the Calgary Highlanders — President of Workshop 14, active Drama Group in Calgary. Main interests are in the Theatre and in showing saddle horses.

Blythe Cardiff, costume mistress—This vivacious member of the cast comes from Bon Accord. Enrolled in 3rd year, Faculty of Education, majoring in English—active on the campus, interested in Art and Design, dabbles at painting, has passion for horseback riding.

Richmond Olson, business manager—product of Camrose, a future lawyer. Literary A award. An active member of the University Make-up club—on the executive of the Drama Society and very interested in radio work.

Gordon Peacock, publicity manager—claims Westlock as home. Faculty of Education, majoring in Drama and English, hopes to specialize entirely in dramatic work later on. Literary A award, executive of Drama society.

Jim Scott, transportation manager—another Calgarian, veteran, enrolled in second year Faculty of Commerce. Hopes to become a chartered accountant, interested in the theatre and in writing, likes golf and bowling.

Violet Ulasovetz, secretary — the only Edmontonian in the cast. 2nd year Arts student, hopes to take up theatrical work in some form, also likes writing and has had stories and poetry accepted by leading publications. Active in Drama Society publications, likes singing and dancing.

Annual Recital Proves Rare Treat

Once again the music lovers of Vermilion and district enjoyed a rare treat on the occasion of the annual recital held in First United church, Vermilion Monday evening May 19, under the direction of Mr. W. B. Elford, organist and choir master of the church.

The highlight of the program was the appearance of Miss Marie Monaghan of Lloydminster as guest soloist. This young lady whose great talent and charm delighted the audience, has grown up in this district and has received all her training so far from local teachers. It may be confidently expected that she will go far as a vocalist and musician, as her performance on Monday evening showed that she has a remarkable gift of voice and personality. Miss Monaghan was heard in three groups of songs and several encores, all of which were rendered with remarkable purity of tone and an astonishing range, perhaps the most interesting numbers were the arias one in Italian and one in French, which in addition to their novelty displayed Miss Monaghan's gifts to the full and brought enthusiastic applause from the large audience.

The ladies choir of the church was heard in four choruses, all of which were very well rendered and greatly enjoyed, and of which the "Lullaby" by Brahms was quite outstanding.

Also greatly enjoyed were three two-piano quartettes rendered by Miss Kay Proctor, Mrs. M. Hill, Rev. K. M. Reikie and W. B. Elford. These quartettes have been a regular feature of this recital in recent years, and the artists this year fully maintained the high standard set in previous years. Mr. W. B. Elford was also heard in two organ solos by special request, both of which were very well received.

"YOUNG FARMERS' WEEK" OPENS ON JUNE 16th

An active program of summer Short courses have been planned for the Vermilion school of agriculture. Many farm people will welcome the opportunity for a visit to the school offered by the following program of courses:

Young Farmers Week—June 16-21.
Farm Women's Week—July 3-8.
Girls' Club Week—July 7th-12th.
Junior Farm Clubs—July 14-19.
Boys' and Girls' Camp—July 21-26.
Club Leaders' Conference — July 28th-30th.
V.S.A. Alumni Reunion — July 31 Aug. 2nd.

Young Farmers' Week is a special course being offered for the particular benefit of our young Alberta farmers who are anxious to improve their technical knowledge of farming. Young men who can leave the farm for a short time after the crop is seeded will find this course a profitable and enjoyable holiday after the strenuous period of spring work. There are no admittance restrictions other than a minimum age of 17 years.

Farm Women's Week at the school of agriculture was first established in 1930 for the particular benefit of the farm women of Alberta. The beauty of the school grounds, comfort of the dormitories and the type of practical lectures and demonstrations offered all contribute to an attractive holiday.

The Boys' and Girls' Camp is a special short course sponsored by the Vermilion Agricultural Society in connection with the Vermilion Fair. In addition to a program of lectures, competitions and demonstrations in Agricultural and Home Economics subjects the young people will be entertained at the Fair by the Agricultural Society and will have an excellent opportunity to see the exhibits and the judging.

Former students and their friends will celebrate their annual re-union and inspect the summer work at the school over a 3 day period, July 31 to August 2nd.

Further particulars on any of the courses offered may be obtained by writing to the school of agriculture but since accommodation is limited those planning to attend should make their reservations as soon as possible.

Scouts and Cubs Hold Father and Son Banquet

The first Father and Son banquet for the Scouts and Cubs of Vermilion that has been held for a number of years took place on Monday May 26 at George's Lower Deck. It was a most enjoyable event attended by almost 100 fathers and sons. All agreed that it was a most interesting and worthwhile gathering.

After the dinner the chairman Mr. [illegible] Leverdure, called on Mayor Mortimer who gave a short address stressing the work that the Scout Movement does and how important it is to carry on this work so the community can be assured of solid citizens in the future. Mr. [illegible] Maxwell President of the Board of Trade stated that the Board was ready to give all support possible to the Scout activities at any time. Gordon Ross, the Scoutmaster stated some facts about the [illegible] of a strong Boy Scout Or[illegible] and urged the fathers to [illegible] interest in the work that the [illegible] were doing. What all boys [illegible] food, fun and fighting and [illegible] they have a chance to use their [illegible] talents to the best advantage. He also presented a prize donated by Wm. Bright to the Scout with the best attendance record [illegible] Hougan.

Dr. A. Ben King [illegible] was then called upon [illegible] increased and continued support [illegible] the Cub and Scout work [illegible] need for at least three assistants for both the Cubmaster and Scoutmaster and the present leaders will not be able to carry on full time work next fall so it is up to the community to see that these leaders are made available if the Scout movement is to continue. No one can deny the crying need for proper leadership for youth and if we don't [illegible] them good leadership they will turn to some who will give poor [illegible] don't take any [illegible] interest [illegible] a fulltime [illegible] the boys and give themselves [illegible].

Dr. King presented Tenderfoot badges to 12 of the boys and the first star to Bobby Bentley, the first Cub who has been eligible for that award. [illegible] hearty sing-song was enjoyed with [illegible].

The [illegible] Scout committee appreciate very much the [illegible] fathers to the boys [illegible] were unable to attend.

The Scout committee [illegible] thank George [illegible] such a wonderful [illegible] Bill Bright for [illegible] of a prize.

FASTBALL

The Mannville [illegible] will meet the Vermilion [illegible] the local public school [illegible] this Sunday afternoon [illegible] p.m. A good game is in prospect [illegible] expected that a big crowd of fans will be on hand [illegible].

Mr. and Mrs. W. [illegible] Tuesday morning to Toronto to attend the bull sale there and where Mr. Cross will show [illegible] fine [illegible] bulls.

Tree Planting Car Will Be Here Friday

The Canadian Forestry Association's tree planting car will be in Vermilion Friday May 30th at the C.N.R. station. School children will visit the car during the day. A meeting for adults will be held [illegible] at 8 p.m. Complete details have been contained in previous issues of the Standard, but this will serve as a last minute reminder.

Showers Mar Sports

Prevent Playing of Many Finals

Rain squalls at 4 p.m. again at 7, with a steady drizzle setting in at 9 o'clock, rendered the completion of many of the various baseball and softball competitions impossible and split prizes were the order of Vermilion's annual sports day, May 24th. The big list of track events was completed with the exception of the Morrison mile road race in which there were six entries. The rains made the track impossible for running.

The weather until the first storm hit suddenly at 4 p.m. was perfect and excellent headway had been achieved in the many events. A crowd which probably would have exceeded the record breaker of 1946 was on hand, 2200 being on the grounds when the first storm broke. It is thought that the evening crowd, which usually shows up for the final ball games would have brought the number close to the 3000 mark of last year.

Splitting of the prizes was taken in good part by all of the contestants who realized that little could be done in the face of the adverse weather. This is the first time for many years that unfavorable weather had been met by the Vermilion sports.

Refreshment booths on the grounds did a roaring business and were all well sold out by the end of the day. These were in charge of the United church ladies.

The dance was attended by the usual huge crowd, over 700 paying admission during the course of the evening.

THE PRIZE WINNERS

Men's Open Baseball — Lloydminster was in the final waiting for the winner of Mannville and Marwayne. The Lloyd team was given second prize of $75 as they were sure of that at least, while first money was split between Mannville and Marwayne, $62.50 each.

Vermilion was eliminated by Marwayne in the first draw, the highlight of the game from a local viewpoint being Doug Brimacombe's home run with one on to tie the score at 5 runs each. However the visitors gathered in three more runs to win 8-5.

Entries numbering nine were from Streamstown, Irma, Mannville, Marwayne, Vermilion, Dewberry, Lloydminster, Edgerton and Heatherbell.

Boys Baseball, 18 years and under—Marwayne and Irma split the prize money. 7 entries comprised of Wainwright, Derwent, Marwayne, Vermilion, St. Brides, Irma, Kitscoty.

Men's Open Fastball — Vermilion All Stars 1st; Mannville 2nd. 6 entries: Elk Point, Vermilion, Tolland, Allandale, Heatherbell, Mannville.

Boys Softball or mixed team, 15 years and under — 1 Wainwright, 2 Vermilion Intermediate A team. 7 entries.

Ladies Open Fastball — Mannville Bluebirds and Lloydminster Fliers split the prizes. 6 entries from Kitscoty, Lloydminster, Vermilion, Dewberry, Mannville, Elk Point, Lloyd[illegible] Dilerettes.

Girls softball, 15 years and under — Wainwright and Vermilion split the prizes.

Track Events See High Calibre

Clarence Mahaffey, an outstanding [illegible] event athlete from [illegible] to be the big [illegible] of the athletic events gathering [illegible] all [illegible] captured by athletes from neighboring towns [illegible] Chauvin, Clyde [illegible] Marwayne, Dewberry.

Many [illegible] Wainwright, Islay and many other district points besides the [illegible].

A new class which proved outstanding was the ladies' open high [illegible] which attracted 17 girls and some excellent jumping was seen. It was won by Mary Kitt of Dewberry who cleared 4 feet 7 inches with Theresa Ledinger of Mannville 2nd.

Change in Vermilion Store Hours Made

MORE SHOPPING TIME EVERY DAY — NOON HOUR CLOSING ELIMINATED

Three Hours Extra on Saturday

Vermilion retailers on Wednesday decided to offer the buying public greatly increased shopping hours. In order to accomplish this, closing time on Saturday nights was made 10 o'clock instead of 9 o'clock for the duration of daylight saving time. In addition noon hour closing every day as well as supper hour closing on Saturdays was discontinued. All times are daylight saving time.

This gives the customer 1 hour extra each day except Wednesdays, and three hours extra on Saturdays.

The noon hour closing was adopted as a wartime measure when efficient help was impossible to secure.

On an ordinary week day stores are thus open for 9 full hours, and on Saturday for 12½ hours straight.

Plan To Open Golf Course Soon

Good progress is now being made with the preparation of the golf course and the executive think that the course will be open for play within a week.

Fees have been set at a low figure for this year as the season will be shorter than normal and the executive is anxious to have a large and enthusiastic membership to start off the new course. The fees are as follows: Men $7; Ladies $5, married couple $10; Students $3.00. For out-of-town golfers the fees are — Men $5; Ladies $4; Couple $8; Students $2. Green fees 50c.

Billie Pilkie is in charge of the membership drive and anyone wishing to join see either Mr. Pilkie or Mr. Del Moyer, newly appointed secretary treasurer.

Green Captains have been appointed to each green. Any golfers who wish to lend a hand with some of the work on the greens are urged to see one of these captains and offer their services.

Make Fast Time With Sewer Ditch

[illegible] digging the [illegible] the sewer [illegible] blocks [illegible] the central portion and business district of the town being completed since operations [illegible] May [illegible].

A start has also been made on the [illegible] excavation for the underground water reservoir [illegible] of the All [illegible] chapel.

A. E. KAISER WINS PICTURE

The Vermilion Ladies Golf club held a draw in Craig's store at 6 p.m. Monday May 26th when Miss Gladys Young drew the name of A. E. Kaiser from the hat. By virtue of being the lucky [illegible] he won a petit point picture.

Pioneer Passes On

Mrs. Elizabeth Anne Emmerson, pioneer lady who has lived south of Vermilion since the early days of the district, passed away at the family home on Friday May 23rd. She had reached the advanced age of 80 years.

Funeral services were held from St. Saviour's Anglican church Tuesday, May 27th and a complete obituary will appear in next week's issue.

Death of Mrs. Annie Hollington, at Islay

There passed away at Islay on Friday May 23 a well known lady of the village and district in the person of Mrs. Annie Hollington, beloved wife of Mr. Alfred Hollington. She had lived in the district for the past 31 years, the last five years making her home in the village.

Mrs. Hollington was born in Derby England on Dec. 24, 1872. She came to Canada in 1913. In the year 1915 she was married in the little Anglican church at Pleasant Valley by the Rev. [illegible]

Mr. and Mrs. Hollington farmed northeast of Islay until they retired five years ago when they moved into the village and there made their home. Three months ago Mrs. Hollington took ill and despite every medical care and aid, passed away.

Surviving members of the family are her sorrowing husband, one brother Charles Bull of Vancouver and one sister Florry in Jamaica, New York.

Funeral services were held at the Islay United church on Monday afternoon May 26. Interment was made in the Islay cemetery. The Rev. W. J. Brant of Clandonald officiated.

Moyer Brothers were in charge of arrangements.

Beautiful floral tributes were received from: Her sorrowing husband Alf. Brother Charlie. Olive and Charlie, Dora and Charlie; May, Tom Kathleen and Jimmy; Mr. and Mrs. Gus Garnier and Bernie, Louis and Eileen Garnier. John and Mollie, Clayton and Marjorie, Mrs. Fall; Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton and family; Margaret and Ralph Rose; Mrs. W. W. Kent, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kent, Mr. and Mrs. Art Kent. Miss Patterson, W. Waterfield, Mr. and Mrs. J. Shaw and Mrs. R. H. Bell; Mrs. McClellan Mr. and Mrs. J. McNeely and family, Jim Allen; Mr. and Mrs. C. Young, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Mitchell and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kent and family, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Kent and Noel. George, Martha and family; Mr. and Mrs. J. Saville; Marion and Robert Saville. The Dudyke Family.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to extend my sincere thanks to Dr. Sweet and the staff of the Islay Municipal hospital for their care and attention to my late wife during her illness. I also wish to thank all our neighbors for the many acts of kindness, help and expressions of sympathy, and for the beautiful floral tributes.

A. Hollington.

Tennis Courts Are Now in Fine Shape

Rains over the week end were just the medicine needed for the tennis courts and several rollings between and after the rains have put them into perfect condition. The fence has been repaired throughout and a general clean up effected inside and outside the courts. All that has been lacking so far is some real tennis weather.

Killing Frosts this Week

Very hard frosts have been experienced every night this week so far. Monday it was 20.2 Tuesday 19.6, Wednesday 16.9 Thursday 21.2. The warmest spot was May 24th with 65. .73 inches of moisture fell during the week. Forecast is for clear and warmer.

Banded Duck Shot

A mallard hen with a band on its leg was shot on the slough near W. L. Hall's farm house north of town last week. The duck was retrieved by Bill's dog a day or two after it had been shot and Bill upon examination of the bird found the band and also noted that it had been shot through the breast. The mallard had been banded by the Fish and Wildlife Service of the U.S. and the information has been forwarded to Washington, D.C.

The slough runs along the roadway and Mr. Hall recalls hearing a car stop and a shot fired the day before the dog brought out the duck. As it was a mallard hen it can be surmised that she had a nest somewhere near and the thoughtless and useless destruction of the bird will thus mean some ten or more less ducks in the [illegible]

ATTENTION, Parents!

Is your child starting school in September? Then obtain a Registration card from Mr. Walker, Miss McCallum or Miss Oldenburg. Note particularly that the child must be six years of age BEFORE the 31st of December.

Parents would be well advised to study their child carefully to determine if he or she has reached a "Reading Readiness Age". Many children of 6½ years are too immature to adjust themselves to reading.

For children who have not reached a desirable state of readiness, on entering the first grade, it is necessary to provide, in the school, a program of experience which will enable them to acquire reading abilities and interests. For some children this program may need to be continued for a considerable time, often most of the term. Forcing a child to try to read bewilders him and establishes a distaste for reading.

The abilities and skills which count most in determining Reading Readiness, are acquired by children in the home, at play, and in other situations before they enter the first grade. The home should provide the child with a wide social experience, an adequate vocabulary and an interest in reading. In developing a desire to read, the wise parent will show the children how much pleasure may be gained from the ability to read. A parent's own interest in books is of prime importance.

How can a parent know when a child is mature enough to begin to learn to read? The signs of comparative readiness that may be observed in the child are:

1. Clearly enunciated speech — no "baby-talk".

2. Interest in listening to stories read to him and in looking at pictures and story books.

3. Memory of rhymes and jingles.

4. Interest in learning to write his name and in writing numbers.

5. Observing signs, advertisements and wanting to know what they say.

6. Ability to sit still for short periods of time.

The child who shows a normal development in these respects is ready for reading and for school.

Pupils have been looking forward to the beginning of school, and it is a tribute to those parents who teach promptness, order, cleanliness and good health habits, truthfulness, self reliance in doing things for himself such as putting on his own clothes, obedience and politeness.

Parents, too, would be helping a child immeasurably, if they helped him to develop good motor control by showing him how to correctly hold and manage scissors, color simple pictures, hold his fork and spoon at the table.

Keeping the above suggestions in mind throughout the year would help materially the primary teachers and your children.

Free Blood Transfusion Service For Hospitals

PLAN OF CANADIAN RED CROSS

EDMONTON.—One of the most important phases of Canada's post war reconversion schemes, the Canadian Red Cross Society's free peacetime Blood Transfusion service, was accepted last week by the Associated Hospitals of Alberta. Under the Society's plan every hospital in Alberta belonging to the Association will receive free blood and plasma for those in need.

In accepting the plan on behalf of the Alberta Hospitals, Mr. L. R. Adshead, Secretary-Treasurer of the Association, said: "We feel that the Canadian Red Cross are offering a wonderful service to the hospitals and to the people of Alberta."

To understand the extent of the Society's Blood Transfusion Service it is necessary to look back to 1901, the year Dr. Karl Landsteiner discovered the existence of human blood groups. This discovery, for which he was awarded the Nobel Prize in 1930, will always rank as one of science's greatest contributions to human knowledge.

Life-saving possibilities of the service can be drawn from the 1944 accident mortality figure in Canada when over 6,000 civilians met violent deaths. Many of these lives would have been saved by immediate blood transfusion therapy such as the Red Cross will offer in the future.

The Associated Hospitals of Alberta represent all active treatment hospitals in the Province ranging in size from ten to 650 beds. The Red Cross will supply both whole blood and plasma for distribution absolutely free to all the above hospitals and to the hospital patients.

The Service is expected to begin operations in July with a main depot in Edmonton and sub-depot in Calgary. Permanent blood donor clinics will be established in Edmonton and Calgary and three mobile units operate throughout the Province.

How we got our first radio—This then important event took place in 1926. Hubby said in the spring that if the wheat crop went over 800 bushels we would get a radio. That crop was really watched I want to tell you. When the time for threshing rolled around the late Andy Carlson was the thresher. When the outfit came into the yard we slyly told Andy about the promise so he assured us then and there that crop of wheat would go over 800 bushels, even if he had to make some of the bushels on the small side. When the crop was threshed the tally said 808 bushels. When the wheat was sold an order was sent to T. Eaton's for a radio. In due course it arrived and Johnnie Wilson kindly offered to set it up for us. In those days there were a heap of gadgets, batteries etc. to put together. One little battery in this case never did get hooked up as no place could be found for it. The radio was a Westinghouse 55 with a huge loudspeaker separate from the radio. It took nearly all day to assemble. It is stating the case rather mildly when we say everyone was excited when all was in readiness to turn on the switch. The writer can still recall the first words that came over the radio, "Let not thy heart be troubled". It was station CJCA broadcasting a Sunday church service. That's the story of how we got our first radio talks. Many and many a houseful of neighbors gathered there in the days that followed to hear the programs that came in over that little mite of a radio with its big loudspeaker.

Wainwright Delegates At Vermilion Council

A car load of business men representing the Town Council and the Board of Trade, journeyed to Vermilion recently to attend the meeting of the M.D. of Vermilion River. The delegation waited on council to see what progress will be made as to a road being built through Township 47 Range 6 to facilitate easier travel to Wainwright from that part of the country lying south of the river and east of the Vermilion-Wainwright highway.

"What a thrill to take the wheel of a smart new Oldsmobile..."
"You'll be fresh when you arrive, thanks to Hydra-Matic Drive"...
"Just forget the clutch and gear — all you do is sit and steer..."
"What a happy day it will be for you when your Oldsmobile is here!"
1947 Oldsmobile
PRODUCT OF GENERAL MOTORS

Here's an up-to-the-minute version of that grand old tune, "In My Merry Oldsmobile". In the new words you'll find one of the outstanding reasons why Oldsmobile owners are so enthusiastically singing the praises of the 1947 Oldsmobile. What a smart looking car it is! . . . Long and low and smooth in its lines—tailored just to your taste. It's a smart performer, too, and it offers all the features you want.

You go places with less effort in a new Oldsmobile with GM Hydra-Matic Drive*. Yet you get livelier performance, better economy, and greater safety than you did in old-fashioned driving. Hydra-Matic Drive* is the only fully proved, fully automatic drive—and it's at its peak in the 1947 Oldsmobile!

There's no clutch pushing with GM Hydra-Matic Drive*—not even a clutch pedal in the car. And all gear shifting is automatic, through all four forward speeds. Just take the wheel of an Oldsmobile and sit back in comfort, enjoying the smoothest driving you've ever known!

To you who are waiting for your new Oldsmobile— our thanks for your patience . . . our tribute to your wisdom. The demand for Oldsmobile with the new GM Hydra-Matic Drive* is so widespread that it still greatly exceeds the supply. Make sure your present car carries you conveniently and safely through the waiting period by having it checked regularly by your GM dealer.

Bowtell Bulletin

Congratulations and all best wishes are extended to Mrs. Harrison who was recently married to Mr Hardie of Rosetown, Sask.

Mrs Repp and the writer were visitors at the Knutson home Thursday afternoon.

Among the lucky ones to have their names drawn for new power washers at Macleod's were Mrs. Mullen, Mrs Pearman and Syme Woodruff

A very good time was enjoyed Sunday when a ball game was played and weiner roast held at Mrs. Robinson's. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ott, Mr and Mrs E. Rindale and Dianna, Mr and Mrs Repp and Robert, Mrs B Rindale and Ken, Tom, John Mary and Betty Rochford Mr and Mrs. C. Burt and Keith, Jimmy Miller, Sadie and Annie Coutts, Cherill and Carole Mitchell, Mrs Gow, Mary, George, Margaret and Dorothy Barney Powell and Franz Minard, Mr. and Mrs E. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. R. Jenkins, Mrs. D. Jenkins, Mr and Mrs Dodolly, Mrs Perkins, Evelyn, Jim and Linda, Mrs Knutson and Harold, Ken Kay, Dick Arnold, Steve, Mike, John and Lillian Warawa, Harley and Kip Brown. Mr and Mrs T. Sherwood and family Mrs. E Rindale played the piano accordion and a jolly sing-song brought the evening to a close.

Harold Knutson is busy on his new farm south of Islay, having moved on Monday last

Deep sympathy is extended to Mr. Hollington of Islay who was bereaved by the death of his wife who passed away Friday last week

To Seed Growers

Applications for field inspection of standing crops with a view to registration or certification should be in as early as possible before June 30. Officials of the Plant Products Division advise that growers who apply after that date may not receive services this season. Applications should be mailed before June 30th to the Plant Products Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Immigration Building, Calgary.

Even if the grower is not sure before this time that his crop is satisfactory, he should file his application promptly. It can be cancelled later if necessary.

All Time High in Sales and Profit

By Gamble-Skogmo, Inc.—Macleod's Ltd. is Canadian Subsidiary

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN. — Gamble-Skogmo, Inc., and the companies unified with it on Nov 1, 1946, established an all-time high in sales and profit in 1946, with net sales of $127,235,817 and net income of $6,778,000, it is revealed in the report for the year ended Dec. 31, 1946.

On Nov. 1, 1946, several companies previously associated with Gamble-Skogmo, Inc., were unified with it. As now constituted Gamble-Skogmo, Inc. and its wholly-owned Canadian subsidiary, Macleod's Limited, operate 516 stores and supply merchandise to 1721 authorized dealer stores, operating in 25 States, 4 Canadian provinces and Territory of Hawaii.

In their annual letter to shareholders the company's founders, B.C. Gamble Chairman of the Board, and P. W Skogmo, President disclose that 6,817 persons, who received $18,266,540 total compensation in 1946, were in the employ of Gamble-Skogmo, Inc. at the end of 1946. In addition, $782,066 was contributed for 1946 from company income to the profit-sharing trusts set up a few years ago for employee benefit. These trusts had assets valued at approximately three million dollars at year's end.

"Employees are substantial shareholders in the company," the founders state. "The organization is industrial and business democracy at work — a unity of effort of hundreds of loyal people pursuing a common purpose."

To appeal to men's self-interest is to appeal to their best interest

SUBSTANTIAL REWARDS Paid IN SEARCH FoR "EMPTIES"

Substantial rewards have been paid to Albertans who were successful in apprehending E. B. Bottles, alias "Empties", it was announced today by authorities at Deliveries Limited, agents for the Brewing Industry from whom Bottles escaped work.

During the past month, rural and urban residents have co-operated in an intensified search for Bottles, investigating the culprit's favored hide-outs such as basement corners and wall closets. Deliveries Limited paid rewards of 20 cents per dozen to persons apprehending the fugitive and returning Bottles to their custody.

The escape of the fugitive from essential work in the brewing industry was regarded as serious, with Bottles now back on the job, the industry expects to be able to maintain its normal output. However, Deliveries Limited, while reporting success in the current campaign, asks citizens to continue to keep a sharp lookout, and warned that Bottles may attempt another escape and again return to favored hiding places.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear wife and mother

Ann Young

—who passed away June 2nd, 1945.

"Dear mother you are not forgotten
Though on earth you are no more.
Still in memory you are with us
As you always were before.
They say that time heals all sorrows
And strengthens us to bear the blow,
But what it has meant to lose you
No one will ever know."

—Ever remembered by husband and family.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear father

John William Hobbis

—who passed away May 19th, 1941

"His memory is as dear today,
As in the hour he passed away."

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of

I. Pinchbeck

—who passed away May 27, 1941.

"The blow was great, the shock severe,
We little thought his death so near.
Only those who have lost can tell
The sorrow of parting without farewell."

—Ever remembered by his wife and family.

1947 PONTIAC
A fine car made finer
PRODUCT OF GENERAL MOTORS

There's a purpose back of Pontiac!

When you own a Pontiac you can be sure it is deliberately designed and built to give you a certain type of value.

First of all, it is designed to give you fine performance — really fine performance — performance that will give you a thrill every time you take the wheel. This applies to the engine, to the car's roominess and comfort, to its roadability and handling ease.

Yet — Pontiac is also designed to give you economy — to operate inexpensively — to be easy on service— and to last a long, long time. In short, Pontiac is designed to give complete satisfaction — at the lowest possible cost.

This is always true of Pontiac. So regardless of when you expect to get your next car—make it a Pontiac. It's a wonderful value.

• • •

The stack of orders piled up for the new Pontiac are gratifying testimonials to the quality and beauty of this finest of the famous Silver Streaks. Unfortunately, so many orders also mean that many who choose Pontiac must wait. So if your car-wise head and heart say 'Pontiac' . . . your present car will give you better, safer service while you wait if you have it checked regularly by a General Motors dealer.

And here's what's back of PONTIAC'S extra value

BEAUTY — Distinctive Silver Streak Styling • New massive front end design • more graceful styling throughout.

COMFORT — Big, roomy Body by Fisher • Famous Triple Cushioned Ride • More Luxurious Interiors • Shock Proof Knee-Action • Fisher No-Draft Ventilation • Remarkable Handling Ease

DEPENDABILITY — Smooth, powerful L-Head six or eight cylinder engines • Full Pressure Metered Flow Lubrication • Permanent, Higher Ultimate Oil Channel.

ECONOMY — Synch-Mesh Quick Warm-Up Manifold • Guardian Vacuumatic Spark Control • All-Weather Engine Temperature Control

SAFETY — Multi-Seal Hydraulic Brakes • Unisteel Body • Tru-Arc Safety Steering • Doors hinged at front • Clear Vision • Hi-Test Safety Plate Glass.

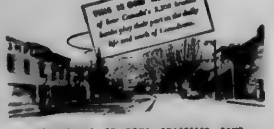
TOURIST SEASON

AHEAD!

THE THOMPSONS are busy as bees, getting their place in shape for the tourist season. This year, with three more cabins, electricity and a modernized kitchen, they hope to do even better than before.

They were able to make these additions because last fall Mr. Thompson drove to town to see his bank manager. He knew about the nice little business the Thompsons had built up; a bank loan was quickly arranged.

Now the Thompsons can handle more tourists and increase their incomes. At the same time Canada will benefit from the extra tourist dollars they take in.



THIS IS ONE INSTANCE of how Canada's 3,300 branch banks play their part in the daily life and work of Canadians.

Islay District Locals

Mrs. Nellie Coombe has recently returned from Edmonton having spent a month with her son Raymond and family. Friends and relatives accorded her a warm welcome and were glad to see her improved in health.

Gardens in Edmonton are about 3 weeks in advance of Islay and district [illegible] Mr. Coombe report.

On Monday last a number of friends [illegible] visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Gould. Maurice and a pal B. Dubois had just arrived from Lac la Biche to spend a day or two before journeying on to Texas and other points. Maurice expects to be absent for a month or more. He will visit uncles and cousins while away.

Mrs. A. Gould Sr. and son Frederick, also her daughter Nellie and great granddaughter, Helen Coombe were also present at the gathering. Other visitors were George Coombe, Dorothy Gunson and Ross Van Patten. All were delighted to see Maurice and his pal and wished him a pleasant holiday. Mrs. Jas Gould served a delicious dinner in her usual fine style and all enjoyed the cordial hospitality of the genial host and hostess.

Mrs. Percy Gulley had a visit from her father who motored from Edmonton to spend the week end of May 24th.

Little Barbara Gulley has made a pet of a woodchuck on her father's farm. She can pick it up and stroke it and spends much time in playing with the animal.

The countryside is lovely now and farmers are busy finishing their seeding operations. Fruit trees and berry bushes also blossoming shrubs are in the bud stage now and if frost keeps off there is promise of beauty and fruit.

Wild ducks are plentiful in this district and there are many instances of them building very near to farm houses.

C.N.R. Gets Conscience Money

WINNIPEG — The Canadian National treasury is $100 richer as a result of a transaction that was extraordinary on two counts. First the citizen who appeared before a CNR ticket office window dressed in working overalls insisted on overpayment and next he asked to pay full first class fare for rides taken on freight trains. What surprised the CNR officers, who are used to receiving conscience money, was the itemized account the man presented detailing rides as long as 500 miles and as short as 50. When the sums were added up to come $90 he insisted on paying $100, "Just in case I forgot one or two rides."

Even though the "Danger" signs of Inflation can be taken down now, they have to be replaced with signs reading, "Proceed With Caution." The ice is still too thin for any Canadian to tell himself, "Now, at last, I can go ahead and buy everything I want."

We can't—yet. But we can proceed to enjoy—in moderation—many of the goods and services which were so long in short supply. These good things are ours at moderate prices now because we were moderate in our demands before.

Today, Canadians can indeed be proud of one of this country's finest possessions, which is, as The House of Seagram has long contended, this nation's policy of moderation in all things—in its thinking, in its buying and in its personal habits.

News from Dewberry

Congratulations to Bonnie Wiruchowsky and Russel Knust on their recent marriages. Bonnie is now living in Athabasca. Russell has gone into business in Calgary, after graduating from the University of B.C., receiving his degree in Chemistry. Another one of our boys, Gordon Hodgson graduated in Chemistry from Alberta University. Nice going Gordon and a bright future to you.

Despite a late spring, seeding is nearing completion and will be no later than last year. Many crops are showing badly of wild oats.

League Baseball Underway

Dewberry baseball team won their league game Sunday on their home grounds by defeating Hazeldine 5 to 2. The league is composed of four teams, Hazeldine, Dewberry, Clandonald and Derwent. It is hoped to have a schedule of games for you in the next issue of the Standard.

Alf Redman has been appointed as manager of the Dewberry team and W. "Pinky" Wilkinson is coach.

Not long ago many farmers received their tax notices. To sum it all up their song sounds like this: "I hid my head, right in the bed, and swore, that I never intend, to pay again, my taxes anymore". Maybe we are paying for white elephants with our tax money but if you want it changed get your voice off the street corner and to your annual meetings.

Don Braithwaite, coach of our local girls' softball team is not in the least discouraged by his team losing to the Mannville Indies. They won from Vermilion and surely hope to get the measure of Mannville before the season is over.

We do not claim to have a zoo in Dewberry but we have a beaver who is making his home in a slough close to town. For his protection exactly where won't be mentioned.

Another big dance in Frank Bowman's new barn will be held June 20. Don't miss it. Another don't—Don't miss our annual sports day June 25.

DEWBERRY FACTS

Nearly one-quarter of a million gallons of fuel oil are handled annually in Dewberry.

Next week the writer hopes to give you the new arrivals for May of all whose new in the world to Dewberry's past and present residents.

Thanks for the compliment Ethelwyn.

Seagram Gold Cup And $10,000 Prizes For Canadian Golf

The Canadian Open Golf Championship for the Seagram Gold Cup and $10,000 in prize money, is still several weeks away but already the entry list begins to look like a Who's Who of North American golfing greats. A classy field seems assured for the 38th annual Open over Toronto's Scarboro course July 16-19.

Heading the list of ranking U.S. entries are three of the five leaders in the recent Masters Tournament at Augusta, Georgia. With its entry list carefully restricted to the winners of certain other major tournaments, the Masters is recognized as one of the most exclusive of all top U.S. tournaments.

Jimmy Demaret of Texas won the Masters and immediately filed his entry for the Canadian Open. Jim Ferrier, former Australian champion and British amateur winner in 1936, placed third and also indicated he would be on hand for the Canadian event. Frank Stranahan, colorful Cleveland amateur, wound up in second spot at the Masters and promptly wired the Royal Canadian Golf Association with his entry.

The R.C.G.A. has yet to hear from Byron Nelson, winner of the Seagram Gold Cup two years ago, who wound up in a second-place tie with Ferrier at Augusta. However Nelson has announced that he will stay out of tournament play this summer and there is little likelihood that he will change his mind.

Even if Nelson doesn't make it, the tournament seems assured of having at least two previous winners on hand. Gene Kunes of Hollywood, Fla., who took the Gold Cup and top prize money in 1935 at Montreal Summerlea, has filed his entry, after several years away from competitive play through illness. And little George Fazio of California, who took the Canadian title at Montreal Beaconsfield a year ago, will be back to defend his Cup.

As a matter of fact, most of last year's top finishers are entries this summer. In addition to Fazio, entries have been filed by Dick Metz who was beaten out by a single stroke by Fazio in a spectacular 18-hole play-off, Stan Leonard of Vancouver, Harry Todd and Lloyd Mangrum U.S. open champion. Leonard, Mangrum and Todd ended regular play a single stroke behind Fazio and Metz a year ago.

Girl's Keen Hearing Saves C.N.R. Train

RAINY RIVER.—A grateful railway superintendent made a presentation recently to the daughter of a section man who reported a broken rail and avoided a potential accident on a busy section of Canadian National Railways' trackage. The young lady was Miss Lucille Legros. She heard the wheels of a passing train make an unusual noise and reported to her father immediately. A crew removed the rail the same day. The presentation was made by J. F. Cooper, superintendent, Port Arthur.

Edmonton School Boys Band At Wainwright

A rare treat is in store for music lovers in this area when the Edmonton School Boys band visits Wainwright on Sunday June 1st. It has been planned to commence a 2-hour program at 2 p.m. The selections will include waltzes, marches and a few semi-classical numbers. This band has played at functions in many parts of Canada and the visit to Wainwright on Sunday June 1st provides a rare opportunity for every one in this district to hear them.

The location selected for the concert is the area just west of the Separate school.

The band will include 65 members and 5 drum majorettes. It will be under the direction of Bandmaster Vernon Newlove formerly of Vermilion and O. W. Murray, assistant band master. 2-3

BARLEY ENTRIES CLOSE JUNE 15th

Delays of a late spring season have apparently slowed up entries in this year's $22,000 National Barley contest sponsored by the brewing and malting industries.

Anxious that the number of 1947 entries may substantially exceed those of last year the National Barley Contest committee is reminding prospective contestants that entries close less than three weeks hence. The final date is June 15.

As was the case last year, entry forms have to be mailed to the chairman of the provincial committee in the province in which the contestant lives.

For Alberta they should be sent to A. M. Wilson, Department of Agriculture, [illegible]

Ten Years With The Canadian Legion

The period under review represents a decade during which World War II was fought and brought to a successful military conclusion. The period of reconstruction and the establishment of peace may well occupy the next decade.

From 1937 until the outbreak of war the Canadian Legion, seized with the possibility of armed conflict, prepared [illegible] two great war tasks:

The first was to provide whatever aid was possible for a veteran organization to render to the Armed Forces.

The second was to give early consideration to a rehabilitation program so that when the fighting man returned to civil life adequate preparations would be made to receive him.

In respect to the first item of policy the Canadian Legion organized and carried out the following projects —

1. In 1939 the Legion conducted a survey among veterans and secured some 70,000 names and addresses of volunteers who were prepared, upon call, to serve their country in any capacity, but particularly to deal with saboteurs and Fifth Column activities. Fortunately the latter did not develop to any great extent in Canada, but from among the Legion volunteers thousands of security guards were secured as auxiliary to Police Forces [illegible] agencies and even private corporations. The register also was useful in securing professional and skilled workers for war industries before national registration and Selective Service became effective.

2. A campaign was started by the Legion to urge the country and the government to organize on a "total war" basis. In this respect the Legion undoubtedly gave leadership to the country, which resulted in the Government calling a plebiscite on the question of the compulsory use of manpower for the army.

3. The steps taken by the Legion to get some special work for veterans in the war effort resulted in the formation of the Veterans Guard of Canada, recruited entirely from among veterans of World War I. One company of the Veterans Guard saw service in Great Britain, others in Bermuda and British Guiana. The main task, however, was the guarding of approximately 25,000 internees and prisoners-of-war in various parts of [illegible].

4. A survey conducted in 1942 to estimate the enlistments from Legion sources indicated that by that time some 100,000 Legion members and their sons and daughters had enlisted in the Armed Forces. This impressive figure was undoubtedly considerably augmented during the last three years of the conflict.

5. The Legion developed a desire to serve the armed forces while they were on active service. The example of the Y.M.C.A. and Salvation Army in World War I inspired the formation of Canadian Legion War Services which, together with the Y.M.C.A., Salvation Army and Knights of Columbus provided auxiliary services to the armed forces.

Members of the Legion, however, remembering the long periods when servicemen have nothing to do, conceived the idea that their time might be usefully employed in self-education. In making its representations, therefore, to the Department of National Defence to be permitted to provide some auxiliary services to the armed forces, the Legion included education among the types of service it was prepared to render.

The building up of Canadian Legion Educational Services into a unique educational institution was brought about by securing the co-operation of the provincial educational authorities in the nine provinces of Canada and enlisting the wholehearted support of many prominent educationists. As the training of Canada's citizen army progressed, the need for education in matriculation subjects as an essential to that training became apparent and the Armed Services found they could meet their needs through Canadian Legion Educational Services. Thus, an educational program which was designed to meet the voluntary efforts of servicemen to educate themselves, actualy became essential to the training of the armed forces.

All those activities were carried on by a subsidiary organization known as "Canadian Legion War Services, Incorporated", and the winding up process of this organization is now being carried out. Any funds realized from the disposal of assets will be turned over to the Department of National Defence for inclusion in the Canteen Funds to be used for the benefit of veterans. It is significant that none of the auxiliary services organizations received any monetary benefit as a result of their operations. Any profits derived from Canteen operations were either made available to the Units in behalf of whom they were operated, or accumulated in a central fund which now amounts to approximately two million dollars. These funds will eventually form part of the Canadian Canteen Fund, which will be disposed of for the benefit of veterans in accordance with the terms laid down by an Act of Parliament.

The Canadian Legion may indeed be proud of its war effort. It set an example to all elements in the country: it had a steadying effect when compulsory measures were being introduced and it exerted an influence on the Nation and on the [illegible] on several important issues.

Level Crossing Toll Grows In Alberta

Level crossing dangers and the need of exercising every care has been emphasized by a number of these fatalities in Alberta during recent weeks according to officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

Two persons were killed in a recent crash at a level crossing when their car was struck by a train while in another accident one was totally [illegible].

Thus despite the educational campaign carried on by different organizations the level crossing menace still is as great as [illegible]. This condition also prevails in other provinces.

The volume of vehicular traffic is on the increase making it all the more necessary to adhere to safe driving principles. The appeal to all motorists to Stop Look and Listen at railway crossings is worthy of the closest possible observance if the death menace at these crossings is to be reduced.

While elimination of grade crossings has been undertaken to a limited extent there are thousands still in existence. Such crossings should be approached with safe driving rules kept constantly in mind, because death or serious injury lurks there.

100 YEARS OF PROGRESS
in making Farm Implements

AS LATE AS 1794, wooden moldboards were hewn from tree trunks, and when the first cast-iron plows were made, farmers believed that the cast iron "poisoned the land." Then came lighter weight steel plows. Soon plows were being made in factories at much lower cost than they could be made by the [illegible].

Since 1847 when the first Massey plant started producing plows and other farm implements, machine methods have almost completely replaced hand labor on the farm.

Plowing requires more power than any other farm operation. Today on thousands of farms in Canada and throughout the world, Massey-Harris plows drawn by powerful Massey-Harris tractors speed across the fields, enabling the farmer to plow twice the acreage he formerly plowed with a four horse team.

And Massey-Harris mowers, binders, combines and other machines handle crops more speedily than would have been thought possible [illegible] years ago.

The past century has been one of steady expansion for the Massey-Harris industry. To the farmer it has brought happy release from much of the back-breaking labor connected with farm work.

A farewell note was struck by the Masons at their lodge meeting Tuesday evening this week as a new member, Jim Regan, was leaving that night for Calgary to which city he has been transferred. Farewell talks, all of which paid tribute to the departing brother, were given by S. C. Heckbert, Norman Crooks of Mannville, Jack Ridington senior warden of the lodge, and D. A. Andrew of Calgary who promised Jim a warm welcome in that city.

D. A. Andrew of Calgary spent Tuesday evening in town. Dave was en route from Lloydminster to Tofield.

Farewell Party Honors Mrs. T. Dwyer

A number of old friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mrs. [illegible] Braes on Wednesday evening last week to bid farewell to Mrs. T. Dwyer who after 24 years in Vermilion has now gone to make her home in Edmonton.

The evening was spent at games. After lunch was served a shower of gifts was placed before Mrs. Dwyer including a leather photo album containing a picture of each guest who then with real regret said good bye to an esteemed neighbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Craig were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Stewart over the week end. They were on their way home to Prince Albert from a honeymoon trip to Jasper and Banff.

Miss Gertrude Graham spent several days in town during the past week arriving on Friday and leaving on Tuesday. She was on route from Owen Sound, Ontario where she spent the winter, to Ladner, B.C., where she intends to spend the summer months. It is quite possible that Miss Graham will return to Vermilion to live although she likes both Ontario and the coast.

Bert Kneller of Wetaskiwin spent last Wednesday and Thursday in Vermilion. Bert says he likes the central Alberta city fine but says that the board of trade can't compare with that of Vermilion.

Ken Carson acquitted himself well at the two-day golf tournament held at North Battleford over the week end. In spite of lack of practice Ken came home with second prize in the Consolation of the championship flight. Some 60 odd golfers entered the tourney.

The Mannville Lodge A.F. & A.M. plan to hold a church parade to the United church, Mannville, Sunday evening and an invitation has been extended to members of the Vermilion Lodge to attend.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to all kind friends for the sympathy extended to us in our recent sad bereavement and for the beautiful floral offerings.

Mrs. Turner and family

Stagette Notes

The annual Stagette wind up banquet was held in the Brunswick hotel Tuesday night. After a big [illegible] which every one enjoyed to the utmost, President Dorothy Oldenburg thanked the girls for a most co-operative past term. Reports from Convention delegate and other representatives were discussed and such as necessary will be forwarded to National.

We hope the photos will turn out perfect and that we may be able to send one to National for the Stagette next fall.

No more meetings until September girls. No doubt we will miss the old club room for a few weeks — but let's not forget about that trip to Sandy Beach some time during our holiday.

Bye Girls

Dorothy would like to add her sincere appreciation of the co-operation given her by each member of the club. Without this united effort and the efficient executive she had to work with, the Stagette year would not have been so successful or so enjoyable.

Vermilion Air Cadet Chosen For Trip

HAROLD BUSHELL WILL REPRESENT PROVINCE ON TRIP TO EUROPE

Flt. Sergeant Harold Bushell of the 97 squadron, Vermilion Air Cadets, has been selected by the Air Cadet League of Canada, as one of three cadets to represent Alberta in an exchange visit scheme with their United Kingdom counterparts, members of the air training corps of Great Britain. The two other Alberta boys are J. Parkinson of Olds and B. Hudson of Claresholm. In all 44 Canadian boys will form the party.

The Vermilion boy was chosen for consistently displaying the finest qualities in air cadet work, as well as for his all round social attitude. The complete record of the squadron in which the boys are members was an additional factor and for this F/O. Frank H. Walker O.C. and F/O Jack Ridington are worthy of the highest praise. Mr. Ridington from the very inception of the air cadet movement and Mr. Walker from 1942 have given a large share of their time to forwarding air cadet work and keeping it active and interesting in Vermilion. The result of their efforts, aided by special instructors, is that the Vermilion Squadron ranks with the best in the Dominion.

Seldom does such a signal honor [illegible]

as being selected from thousands fall to the lot of any boy but this phase of the momentous event has failed to impress Harold as much as the anticipation for the trip. The 44 Canadian cadets will gather on July 29th at Dorval airport, Montreal, and there welcome 44 British air cadets to Canada.

Two days later the Canadian boys will leave for Britain in an aircraft of the R.A.F. [illegible] They will visit throughout Britain, spend four days sightseeing in London and take a bomber flight over Germany. They will re-embark for Canada August 19th.

Harold is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Bushell. He was born in Edmonton on June 14, 1929. The family moved to Vermilion in 1935 where Harold is now taking his high school. He joined the Vermilion Squadron No. 97, Royal Canadian Air Cadets in October of 1943, became an LAC in 1944, a corporal in 1945 and later in the year was made sergeant. In October 1946 he became Flight Sergeant, the rank he now holds.

In his civilian life Harold's outstanding achievements might be said to be in the fields of athletics and music. He has contributed much to the success of many and varied school activities by the faithfulness and willingness with which he performed the many tasks that fell his way. A self taught performer on the trumpet he became proficient enough and enthusiastic enough to organize and take the lead part in a small school dance band which has provided music for several school functions. He has been an outstanding track athlete and has taken a most active part in track events at successive annual track meets. In addition he did an excellent job as defence player with the basketball team and has played on hockey and football teams. At the annual ice carnival Harold has turned in excellent performances as the principal clown and this year gave a nice display of fancy skating as the male part of a duo.

He is a ski enthusiast of considerable skill and was among those responsible for the erection of the local ski jump west of town.

Harold might well be classed as a versatile young man whose personality makes a hit with teacher and students, officers and air cadets. The selection of Harold for the overseas trip is a happy one bringing honor to himself, his air cadet squadron and to Vermilion.

Mrs. Christina Hay Passes Away

Resident of Vermilion for the past 25 years, Mrs. Christina Hay, widow of the late James Hay, passed away on Saturday May 31st.

Mrs. Hay was born in Scotland 77 years ago and came direct to Vermilion from the old country. During her life here she was a very active worker in women's organizations and welfare societies.

Funeral services were held from the United church Tuesday June 3rd at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and interment was made at the Vermilion cemetery. The Rev. E. S. Beckie officiated.

Moyers Brothers were in charge of arrangements.

Vermilion Junior baseballers piloted by their coach Alf Lomgitt played at Lloydminster Monday evening losing in a good game 6 runs to 7.

T. B. CLINIC TO VISIT VERMILION

PLANS MADE FOR CANVASS AND [illegible]

At a well attended meeting called by Mayor Morrison held in the Elks hall last Thursday evening, representatives of several organizations of the town heard Mr. E. R. Dixter of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association explain the new plans for a T. B. clinic to come to Vermilion. A very instructive film was also shown.

After considerable discussion a committee was formed from those present with Mr. E. Hawker as chairman, Mesdames H. J. Clark, E. C. Miller and E. Corley for canvassing clinic appointments and volunteer aid respectively. T. Watts was placed in charge of publicity.

It is hoped to have canvassers cover every person in the town and district at once and a complete report will appear in next week's Standard of the new and important points involved. This is vital to every living person.

Watch next week's Standard for additional information and in the meantime when the canvasser calls, please give him your full co-operation as the canvass must be completed soon and plans made for the visit of the clinic sometime around the middle of July.

Jack S. Cross Big Winner at Lloyd. Show and Sale

VERMILION BUYERS PURCHASE NEW BULLS

J. S. Cross, well known Vermilion district purebred livestock breeder, was the big winner at the Lloydminster Bull sale and show last week when his entry, Danford Domino 26th won the Junior championship and the reserve championship in the Hereford classes. The outstanding animal later sold to A. Lundquist of Maidstone for $825.

Mr. Cross also got the reserve junior championship for Danford Domino 29th.

PURCHASE BULLS

Vermilion and district livestock men were also in evidence at the sale and several good bulls were brought back.

C. P. Hollen got a fine Hereford bull for $400. This animal was bred by H. Kiziak of Clandonald. R. Butler got another Hereford for $275 and Dick Tessman a Shorthorn bull for $1[illegible].

The Vermilion district contributed 17 bulls to the sale. Herefords were sold by J. S. Cross, Mike Ilchuk and H. Kiziak. Shorthorns were delivered by W. L. Robinson, A. Dupuitt, W. Cornish, M.L.A., J. H. Green, B. Harrison, J. H. Hillcox, C. O. Wilson.

Film Service for A.F.U. District Conventions

Supplied by National Film Board

Plans are underway whereby N.F.B. field representatives in Alberta will supply projection service and suitable films for the A.F.U. District Conventions and Sub-District rallies in their respective areas during June and July. Films such as Farm Electrification, Soil for Tomorrow, [illegible] on Land, Vegetable Insects and Cattle Country will be featured. [illegible] Smith will work with the A.F.U. covering their district rallies in the Vermilion-Vegreville area June 10th to 14th. Mr. Pearson will provide for showing of films at Strome on May 20th. Mr. Bowser and Mr. Beck will take care of film showings at A.F.U. rallies northeast and southeast of Edmonton respectively.

Blood Donor Enrolment Week June 15th to 21st

LOCAL AND DISTRICT PEOPLE ASKED TO REGISTER

Vermilion and district citizens between the ages of 18 and 65, will be asked to register as voluntary blood donors when the Alberta Division, Canadian Red Cross Society, inaugurates Donor Enrolment Week June 15-21. The Red Cross donor enrolment committee in Vermilion, under the chairmanship of Mrs. E. C. Miller will be responsible for the registration of voluntary donors in this district.

The actual giving of blood will be undertaken at a time to be announced later when the mobile Blood Transfusion clinic will visit this district. At that time the local Red Cross branch will provide quarters and certain staff with the mobile unit providing all equipment and medical, nursing and technical staff.

Your gift of blood, not more than two or three times a year, may mean the difference between life and death to a loved one or a friend. Remember Donor Enrolment Week, June 15 to 21, and register with your Red Cross at that time.

Donors may register on June 14, 19 and 21st at the following business places in Vermilion: Stephens, Craigs, Co-op, Nelson Hill, Longs, Northern Hardware, Wiebes Bakery, Vermilion hotel.

Registration forms will also be available throughout the week of June 15th to 21st at Moyer's Furniture store and S. C. Heckbert's office.

Air Cadet Inspection Thursday, June 12

On June 12th Captain Sampson, O.B.E. accompanied by Flt. Lieut. Ferguson will make the annual inspection of No. 97 Vermilion Squadron R.C.A.C. at the public school grounds at 7 p.m.

This will be an excellent opportunity for all parents and adults in Vermilion to attend and to receive an idea of the work in drill done by the air cadets.

During the past year the emphasis of air cadet work has been on indoor lectures rather than on the drill phase of the activities but in spite of this a very smart display will be given on Thursday evening, June 12th. Make it a point to attend.

Lloydminster Votes For Daylight Saving

According to the Lloydminster Times [illegible] voted in favor of adopting daylight saving time with [illegible] 17 opposed. Local Elks Observe 21st Anniversary

BANQUET AND SOCIAL EVENING MARK MEMORABLE EVENT

An historical milestone in the annals of Elkdom in Vermilion was celebrated by the local members in their hall on Wednesday May 28th when they were hosts to their ladies and to visiting brethren and ladies from Lloydminster and Vegreville lodges. The occasion was the 21st anniversary of the institution of Vermilion lodge No. 131, B.P.O.E.

What was probably one of the most enjoyable functions ever held by this active organization commenced with a banquet, one hundred and fifty Elks partaking of a delicious and bountiful turkey supper complete with every trimming and very capably served by the Anglican Women's Auxiliary. Too much praise cannot be given for the repast served.

As Exalted Ruler of the Vermilion Lodge, Bro. Don Logan presided as chairman at the banquet table. Following the toast to the King Mrs. Fay Park proposed a toast to the organization graciously congratulating the Lodge on attaining its 21st birthday, and highly commended the members on the attainment made by them during that time. This was responded to by Bro. Chas. W. Robinson, a charter member, who gave a brief resume of the Lodge's progress, paying tribute to those who gave of their time and energy in promoting its interests. Bro. Logan then extended a hearty welcome to the distinguished guests and visitors from the adjoining towns. He paid tribute also to the remaining charter members of Vermilion Lodge, six in number, all of whom were present. These were Brothers C. W. Robinson, Don Taylor, Andrew McWilliams, C. R. McCormack of Edmonton, Harry Marfleet and George Capstos. Much of the success of Elkdom in Vermilion, said Bro. Logan, was due to these members and others like them, many of whom have either moved away or have passed on to greater rewards.

Bro. King spoke for the Lloydminster Lodge and Bro. Cole for Vegreville, both thanking Vermilion for the invitation and social time extended to them.

Bro. C. W. Brinton of Vegreville, third vice-president, then spoke to the Provincial Elks association, extending greetings and congratulations from that body. Bro. [illegible] Conway [illegible] chaplain [illegible] grand chaplain then said [illegible] past representative [illegible] Lodge and spoke highly of the work attempted and carried out by the local Bills. All speeches paid high tribute to the charter members present as well as to the many others who were known to have given of their best for Elkdom for many years. Bro. Logan read a letter from [illegible] Bro. H. Pell[illegible] of Vancouver expressing regret at his inability to attend [illegible] congratulations to the local body [illegible]

[illegible] Park, District Deputy [illegible] District No. 10 comprising Vermilion, Vegreville and Lloydminster [illegible]

(Lou Beresford, Shirley Carroll, Carol Caskey and Leona Maxwell), a most pleasing number, and a comedy novelty dance by Miss Louise Haddock and Mr. Clayton Reeves which was immensely enjoyed. Songs by Miss Margaret McMillan and Miss Wilamine Bell were very well received. A trio of songs by Junior Williamson the young "imitator" brought rounds of applause. An outstanding number was the song "Ave Maria" sung by Miss Wilhemina Van Ryder who had just arrived from Holland to become the bride of a Canadian soldier. She received a most pleasing welcome and for an encore sang a touching little Dutch song first telling the story in English to the audience. It is felt that Vermilion has gained a welcome addition to musical circles in Miss Van Ryder.

The final number was a comedy song and dance by the four minstrels: Vern Vose, Les Kreller, Miss McMillan and Mrs. Frank Donald, which brought many laughs.

Throughout the whole proceeding, Don Taylor acting as M.C. kept the audience in the best of humor with jokes and quips between acts. Thanks are here extended to the accompanists for the various numbers namely, Mrs. H. Moyer, Mrs. M. Delorest, Mr. Wilf. Elford and Mrs. Frank Donald.

The balance of the evening was spent in dancing which continued until nearly 1 a.m. with waltzes, fox trots, quadrilles and ladies choices making up a highly enjoyable two hours. All in all the "Big Brother Bills" of Vermilion really "had themselves an evening".

VEGREVILLE TO PLAY HERE SUNDAY

The Vegreville men's football club will play the Vermilion All Stars at the public school diamond on Sunday afternoon at 2:30. The local club would like to see a good turn out of fans as a really bang-up game is expected.

Alex Dupuit, Islay, Has Champion Shorthorn Bull

In the Shorthorn classes at Lloydminster Annual Bull show and sale last week the senior champion was awarded to Rosebud's Brigadier, owned by Alex Dupuitt of Islay. The same animal was also awarded reserve grand champion.

Vermilion Farmers Purchase Well-bred Hereford Cattle

A shipment of two Hereford bulls and one cow arrived from Ontario recently for three prominent Hereford breeders in this district.

J. C. Tucker purchased the reserve champion bull at Toronto from the Old Orchard Farm, Peterboro, Ont. This is a two-year-old Hereford bull, Old Orchard Monarch 16th by name.

Jack S. Cross bought a young Hereford bull, Ringwood Del Zento 5th from George Rodine of Stouffville, Ontario. The sire is the noted Lord Lull 1st Zento.

Homer Campbell obtained a three-year-old cow which dropped a bull calf sired by old Zento shortly after the shipment arrived in Vermilion.

The good type and breeding of these animals will no doubt be the means of improving the quality of Hereford cattle in this province as time goes on.

Art Muckleston Leaves to Manage Lougheed Business

Art Muckleston, popular employee of the local branch of the Revelstoke Sawmill Company leaves this Thursday for Lougheed to which point he has been transferred. Art will take over the management of the Atlas Lumber Company and hardware at that point. The very best wishes accompany him to his new and responsible position.

Vermilion, Alberta, June 5th, 1947.

After a great deal of uncertainty Monday June 9th, the day on which the King's birthday is observed, has been proclaimed a public and school holiday throughout the province.

THIS SHOULD SATISFY EVERYONE —

With the discontinuance of the noon and supper hour closing and the changing to 10 p.m. in the evening, stores in Vermilion remain open for 12½ consecutive hours on Saturdays, and 9 hours on week days with the exception of Wednesdays. It does appear as if this is sufficient time for any person to work in an hour or two doing their shopping.

Boiler Being Repaired and Cleaned

The one good boiler at the plant has been shut down since Thursday last undergoing cleaning and repairs. Electric current to the town of Vermilion is being supplied by Canadian Utilities by means of their newly constructed line which runs through the west end of town from the north along the tennis court avenue. The boiler not being used means there is no steam heat for users on the line.

Members of Delegation

K. G. Urquhart and Melvin Hill represented Vermilion board of trade on a joint delegation from numerous towns in the area which waited on the Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, in Edmonton Tuesday. The purpose was to ask the government to continue the Wainwright-Vermilion highway to Elk Point and to construct a bridge over the Saskatchewan river at that point.

W. R. Cornish, M.L.A., accompanied the Vermilion members.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

DARK CLOUD DRIFTING

By ROBERT H. SCANLON

SUDDENLY the typing started again and Kay's hands gripped the porch rail. Once she had loved to hear Hal typing. It had always sounded sure and smooth like Hal himself, but now there was something fierce and desperate about it. Out there in the dark pergola Hal was tearing himself to pieces, trying to claw through blindness.

"It's like a black cloud between me and the typewriter, Kay," he'd said. "I'm bursting with stuff to write but the minute my fingers touch the keys I go blind clean through."

The typing stopped and she heard him curse as he crushed the paper in his hands. Then he put in another sheet and the mad, plunging rhythm resumed.

"If he'd only turn on the light," she whispered, "at least for my sake." That's what she hated most—Hal out there working in the dark, fighting the dark, being tortured by it.

Again the typing stopped, but this time Kay didn't hear the whirr of the roller and the angry crunch of paper. Hal was probably sitting there slumped over the typewriter. In the old days that meant he was fighting with an idea, but now it meant that an idea was beating and pounding him. Hal was proud, too proud for his own good. She had watched the laugh go out of him, the jaw set tighter and tighter, and when she'd plead with him to come to bed he'd shake his head slowly.

"I can't sleep. I've got to write one good thing that isn't awkward and clumsy—like a blind man groping through a lighted room."

Kay leaned on the railing, listening intently, but no sound came from the pergola. She turned and slipped quietly down the steps and across the yard.

In the thicker gloom of the pergola she caught the faint glint of metal and Hal's form slumped over the typewriter.

"Hal," she called softly. Then she opened the door and snapped on the light. She bent over her husband and shook him gently. "Hal, are you asleep?"

"No," he growled. "Leave me alone."

Hal's voice frightened her. "What were you writing tonight, honey?" she asked and sat down beside him.

"Now is the time for all good blind men to rollick around the maypole," he finally answered in the same bitter tone. Kay reached across his arm and pulled the sheet out of the typewriter.

"Don't read it, Kay. It's just me raving. He reached for the paper but she pushed his hand away.

"Well," he demanded when she had read it. He had always waited with pride for her to comment. Now he was on the defensive, ashamed of what he had written. She laid her hand gently over his. "Hal, why did you write this?" He shrugged wearily.

"It's just ranting." "But Hal," she protested. She handed him a cigarette. "Sit down, Hal. I want to read this to you, then let's hear you talk about black clouds."

"Kay, what's the use?"

"Sit down, please. Now listen. 'Is heaven a world of color, Lord? A land of splashed beauty, mottled and thrown by the four winds to lay and burn where it will? Is Heaven, Lord, gently winding streets, tall shedding trees? Is it farm boys standing by their horses with the [illegible] in their eyes? Is it the flick of a mare's tail, or the sun shining dark brown on the mahogany coat of a pony? Is it the dog standing on the sidewalk watching the world pass by? Is it a place of small houses nestled down in the dead leaves of autumn? Does it have the sheen of the sun on the water? Is it blue with a cerulean cast of the sky on a harbor. Is it, Lord?'"

When she finished neither of them spoke. Hal seemed to be staring off into the darkness, the half-smoked cigarette smoldering between his fingers. Then he got up and began to pace the small brick floor. Kay's heart skipped a beat as he faced her trying to hide a sheepish grin. "Hmm, did I write that?"

"You did."

"Hmh," he said again in disbelief. "Me, old Hal the muck raker, writing something like that." Suddenly the grin vanished and Hal shook his head. "Yeah, but what good's ranting."

"Ranting?" Kay gripped him by the shoulders and tried to shake him. "Don't you see what's happened?" "No, I don't." "Hal, that's got the makings of a dozen stories."

When he spoke his voice was choked and the muscles around his jaw were trembling. "Aw, Kay." He slipped his arm around her and crushed her to him. She reached up and switched off the light. They stood there in the darkness, clinging to each other. She felt his body shaking against her. His tears fell on her face. She pulled his head down onto her shoulder and held him tenderly. "I'm sorry, Kay, I'm sorry," he kept saying over and over.

"It's all right, Hal. You had this blow coming. You shouldn't have tried to keep it to yourself." At last he pulled free and straightened up. "Feel better?" she asked gently.

"Like a dish rag. Gee, first I pray on the typewriter and now I bawl like an old lady."

"Maybe those are the things you needed most," she said softly. "Hal, you've changed but you won't admit it." She stopped, hating the darkness which hid his face. "You're no muckraking reporter any more, darling. Your blindness has made you remember all the beautiful things you've seen. Those are the things that you've got to write about now."

"I can't do it."

"You can," she snapped back. "What's the matter with you, Hal? Just because you can't beat something down with your hands, because you have to dig into yourself, and maybe even do a little praying, you think you're through." Kay tried to check herself but her words came flooding out. "You're fighting a tougher fight now, Hal, what if round one did go against you, you can't waste your time feeling sorry for yourself." She stopped, fumbling for [illegible]

"But, Kay, I've never written anything but knock-down-drag-out newspaper stuff." "You did, tonight." "Yeah, tonight," he said.

"And you can do it again," she insisted. Now she felt like weeping. She groped for the screen door and ran out of the pergola. Hal called after her, but she stumbled up the porch steps and into the kitchen. She sat down and laid her head on the table, waiting for the tears to come, but she was too exhausted to cry. Then she heard the sound—the even, smooth clicking of the typewriter. Hal was typing again, only this time there was something different in the sound. It was more like the old, sure touch. Kay got up and ran to the porch. A small patch of white light lay on the lawn next to the pergola.

Hal was writing, and he had remembered to switch on the light—for her. She leaned against the porch railing and stared at the patch of light. Now she could cry.

Gift Symbolizes Ties Between Norway, Iceland

NEW YORK.—A Norwegian delegation composed of Government, Church, scientific and industrial representatives will leave for Iceland late in July where Norway's Crown Prince Olav will unveil a statue of Snorre Sturlason, the ancient Icelandic historian. A gift from the Norwegian to the Icelandic people, the movement is the work of Norway's great sculptor, the late Gustav Vigeland, and will symbolize the close ties between the two northern neighbors.

Snorre Sturlason died 700 years ago, shortly after he had written his masterpiece "The Sagas of the Norwegian Kings." He was a descendant of the Norwegian colonizers who settled in Iceland between the years 874 and 930, and whose story is preserved in the "Record of the Colonizers" — a literary epic which has survived the ages.

According to plan, the Norwegian delegation will make the trip aboard a flotilla of Norwegian destroyers, and a sizeable excursion of Norwegian tourists to Iceland is planned to coincide with the event.

Russian Engineer Invents Television Phone

LONDON.—A telephone fitted with a screen which enables the caller to see the person talking at the other end has been constructed by I. P. Zakharov, a Leningrad engineer, Moscow Radio said.

A Moscow radio reporter who visited the inventor in his laboratory and talked over the telephone said he could easily distinguish on the screen not only the face of the inventor, but also the title and date of the newspaper which the inventor held in his hand.

The instrument still is in an experimental stage, but the inventor claimed it soon will be produced on a mass scale and introduced into the Soviet telephone system.

The new invention is known as the "video telephone".

This Chandelier Will Be Different

In the restaurant of the Enterprise Scotland 1947 Exhibition which was to be held at the Royal Scottish Museum, Edinburgh, this August, visitors will see a [illegible] chandelier. The skeleton of a whale hangs from the ceiling of the big hall which is being turned into a restaurant, and the task of dismantling it would have been considerable. The architects have therefore decided to make use of the whale and convert it for lighting.

Ju-jitsu fighters cannot overpower all types of opponents. A good catch-as-catch-can wrestler usually can subdue a ju-jitsu wrestler in a free-for-all fight.

"We feel it a duty to tell you the results we have had from Stanco Livestock Spray. It really knocks out flies instantaneously. It is impossible to describe the relief it gives to animals. When the black fly pest came our cows were in great misery and we possibly would have lost the whole herd had we not immediately used Stanco. There is no doubt that the lives of quite a number of our cows are owed to Stanco Livestock Spray." (NAME ON REQUEST)

WOODVALE

NEW SHOPPING HOURS PLEASE

Farmers around here and the school are all on standard time yet. Many will be pleased to read in the Standard that the stores are now open longer on Saturdays and that shopping can be done during noon hour again. It has been a mad rush to get the crop safely in this spring and then to end the week in a last minute scramble in the stores was rather inconvenient and not very popular either with customers or the clerks who found the store packed to capacity at 9 o'clock.

We did not have a chance to get [illegible] these past two weeks as the [illegible] have been too busy to go all the way to town. Crops are fairly well sowed around here except for some green feed and Jack Lyssons even had all his summerfallow worked down by May 29th. More or less a record we would say! Clarence Lyssons is therefore taking a few days off to get himself overhauled in the Vermilion hospital having his tonsils removed and his foot attended to, the wound made a while back by stepping on a rusty nail has not healed properly — hope you will soon be O.K.

Now that we are on the subject of the Lyssons families here is a cute story about 15 months old Art Lyssons. His mother tethers him out when she is too busy to keep an eye on him constantly. His companion is the dog and by the way, no one should try to come too near the boy when his dog is around, and they have great fun playing together. Apparently one day the dog got bored and you can imagine Mrs Lyssons surprise when she saw about a quarter of a mile away two little figures going across the field in the direction of grandma and grandpa's place. Catching up with them she found that the dog had chewed the rope through close to the harness and was leading the way to freedom. Will you have to chain them both now Peggy?

Over the 24th week end quite a number came home for a visit. Among them were Mrs. H. Potter, Joy King, Mary Preston and Emily Young. Bud Pennell visited around here during the middle of May and stayed with his brother Wes in the Union district.

Caterpillar tractors are busy here abouts. Harold Gliddon is at the Ford place putting in the crop and Bill Steenson is piling brush and breaking on our farm. It is quite a contrast to have a Cat and bulldozer, modern as can be, working in one field and in the next 9 horses straining on a three-bottom plow.

Suzanne Goutier was one of the graduating class at the Vegreville hospital on May 28th. Her parents, uncle Fernand and little brother and [illegible] ceremonies and later Maurice and Camille came down from Edmonton. Suzanne received many presents and letters of congratulations on this for her so important day. Suzanne was lovely in her new white uniform, carrying a sheaf of red roses. She will stay in Vegreville until September before going to another hospital as a full-fledged nurse.

The Tolland team lost out in Vermilion on Sports day but had a good time and are practising regularly each Sunday on Sherum's place.

Fred Sherum is still limping but can get around again with a stick.

A free dance was held at the Hart store in Tolland a real good time was had by everyone. A counter and shelves have been erected but the store has not been stocked or opened for business as yet.

Congratulations go to Mr and Mrs. Kenny Watt [illegible] the birth of a baby girl.

Dorothy Smith had a party for her 11th birthday and several young friends enjoyed a nice dinner and lovely cake. They spent a pleasant afternoon playing and when it started to rain they stayed for supper too before going home. Dorothy Isley spent the week end with Joan Green.

When a young man's fancy turns to cement and lumber and putting in a garden and potatoes well we that can only mean one thing people of the Thornhill district think as they watch the activities on a farm near the highway. What about it Johnny?

We are rather ashamed to be late again with some more congratulations this time to Mr and Mrs Bob Erikson (nee Verna Potter) on their marriage earlier in May, right here in our own district — but we never heard of it until a week afterwards so much for up-to-date reporting! The young couple are spending the summer in Blairmore where Bob is working, but will return to Edmonton in the fall where he will take his last year in engineering at the University.

Mr and Mrs Wm. Crocker have bought a house in Vermilion and that will mean another pair of old timers are leaving the farm to live in town [illegible].

The heavy frosts at night have done some damage to the garden and to the flower beds, but it is surprising how well the newly sprouted grain stood up. However we'll soon need lots of rain and warm weather if we are going to get anything at all.

Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service

PLANS FOR ALBERTA ARE ANNOUNCED

CALGARY.—Plans for operation of the Canadian Red Cross Society's free peacetime Blood Transfusion Service in Alberta were announced in Calgary by Dr. R. C. Riley, Chairman of the Blood Transfusion Service in Alberta.

Our plans for Alberta are in line with the National Red Cross Society's proposals for obtaining voluntary donations of blood from the citizens of Canada along the same lines as during the war years when mobile units, operated by Red Cross personnel, collected blood from volunteers. The same system will be used in the peacetime undertaking said Dr. Riley.

In order to be sure of a sufficient number of donors to support the needs of our hospitals, the Alberta Division of the Canadian Red Cross Society will conduct a registration of voluntary donors during the week of June 15 to 21. A week to be known as Donor Enrolment Week throughout the province. Following the registration, at a time to be announced later, the mobile units will begin their work in the towns and cities.

It will be the responsibility of the Red Cross Branches in Alberta to enrol as many voluntary donors as possible between the ages of 18 and 65 during the Donor Enrolment Week period.

The question has often arisen: What sort of examination or test can be done to tell whether a person can donate blood without risk to his own health. Much thought has been given to this matter and the vast experience gained during the war has provided the answer. The total number [illegible] allied nations during the last war runs into several millions. The number of individuals who suffered any considerable adverse effects after donation were so small that there is no doubt that the ill effects are to be considered as being entirely coincidental. There is no doubt that the volunteer donor represented the most healthy section of the population and that the periodic donation of blood by the healthy individual has no adverse effect on his health.

When it comes to determining whether the individual is in good health, the individual himself is usually as good a judge as any. A person who enjoys a continued feeling of well-being and has had a history of good health, can safely be assumed to be healthy.

"Under the new plan," said Dr. Riley, "every active treatment hospital in Alberta will receive the full benefits of free transfusion therapy, the one stipulation being that the hospitals must supply the blood and plasma absolutely free to the patients they serve. The Association of Alberta Hospitals have agreed to give this service throughout the province.

Dr. Riley said, "the immediate concern is the registration of voluntary donors throughout the province during the week of June 15 to June 21. Speaking on behalf of the Society in Alberta and its branches, whose responsibility it will be to register the donors, I am confident that the citizens of Alberta will rally strongly to this most worthy and humanitarian cause just as they did during the war years."

Whaling Harvest Exceeds Expectations

Britain is bringing back from the Antarctic a rich harvest of whale oil, meat, meal for cattle, food and meat extract. The season has been remarkably good and the factory ship "Balaena" was fortunate in securing the highest proportion of whales and edible oil. Owing to the fact that at the present moment world needs are the most critical ever known, no less than 14 different expeditions have been fishing in Antarctic waters. More than 2,000 whales were caught by United Kingdom crews. 186,000 barrels of oil were produced in addition to sperm oil and other by-products. Another way in which the expedition distinguished itself was in the pioneer use of aircraft for whale-spotting and for weather reconnaissance.

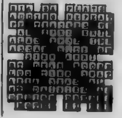
Answer To Last Week's Puzzle



HUMAN HAIR USED TO REPAIR VEIL

HARRISMITH, South Africa.—An heirloom veil repaired with human hair, was used by a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Pattinson when she was married recently. The veil had been used by several of her ancestors. It had, however, developed a few small holes, and "invisible menders" could do nothing with the veil. The threads were so fine that they had nothing to match it. Mrs. Pattinson eventually removed several long hairs from her head, and repaired the veil so beautifully that not a mark is visible.

ARMY MAKING PLANS FOR NEXT CHRISTMAS

EDMONTON.—Christmas is a long way off but the Canadian Army already is preparing to play Santa Claus to needy children in the United Kingdom and Europe.

Maj.-Gen. F. F. Worthington, General Officer Commanding Western Army Command, announced the army plans to construct new toys and renovate old ones in its hobby shops for overseas this Christmas.

NOT ALL CYNICS

That all men are not cynics in these days of cynicism is shown by the many people who expect their lawns to look just like the picture on the seed box and their flowers and vegetables like those in the seed catalogues.

Blames Sun Spots For Inclement Weather

LONDON, Ont. — An astronomer looked at the sun, shook his head dubiously and said it didn't look like [illegible].

Dr. W. C. Colgrove, University of Western Ontario astronomer, explained there were too many sun spots in sight 250 to 300 of them.

The spots cause inclement weather by increasing the heat of the sun and absorbing the earth's water bodies, causing precipitation, he said. Just what parts of the world suffer the most will depend on how the spots are grouped.

Three or four years are required to raise a milk cow.

PLAN TO CYCLE ACROSS CANADA

LONDON. — Planning to cycle across Canada, Michael Bradley, a professional singer, and Alfred Griffiths, a store manager, both of London, left here for Montreal by plane.

The two men will receive £75 ($300) each, two cycles, two changes of clothing—and abundant hopes.

On the cycling tour they will seek jobs to pay their way. "We plan to reach Vancouver in September so that we can cross the Rockies before the snow starts," Griffiths said. "We do not want to spend our £150. We hope to pick up odd jobs to pay our expenses.

"In Vancouver we shall decide what part of Canada we like best and return there to settle. There is no incentive working in England so we decided, while we are still young enough, to find something nearer our own ideas of living."

Griffiths is 33 and Bradley 28.

THE CAR OF TOMORROW

The director of engineering for a well-known motor car company is reported as making these predictions about the automobile of tomorrow:

1. More streamlining, lower silhouette, wide bodies.
2. Air conditioning (only in more expensive models at first).
3. More window area, better all-round visibility.
4. Shorter engines and higher compression.
5. Front wheel drive or engines in the rear.
6. Fully automatic transmission in all models.

The school children did very well at the Dewberry track meet. The following ribbons were won —Lorne Timanson, 1st running broad jump and high jump, 2nd in yard dash and 75 yard dash. Barbara Durnin, 1st high jump, 2nd standing broad, running broad and 75 yard dash. Lawrence Durnin, 1st standing broad. Jean Parr, 1st high jump, running broad standing broad and 2nd in a dash. Gwen Hyatt, 2nd in a dash and 3rd in a dash. Josephine Hyatt, 2nd in a dash. They got the most points of any school entered.

On the farm of W. N. Vivian there is a sow who had a litter of six rather freakish pigs five of which are still living. They have no hams some of them no tails others have their tails on their hips. They manage to get around on their front legs but are certainly queer looking animals.

Mrs. Earl Williams is a proud mother of a daughter, Sandra Grace; and Mrs. Ivar Bostheson, a son.

Mrs. Earl Williams organized a Girls' club with the aid of Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. M. MacLean, Mrs. Durnin and Mrs. I. Spicer. There is to be an Achievement Day on Saturday, June 7th at the home of Mrs. W. Mathison at 2:30. There will be a display of their sewing and handicrafts and 2 judges are coming out from Vermilion. A short program will be held and tea served. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

The next Ladies Aid will be at the home of Mrs. W. Hanson on June 12.

Mrs. Thos Lee is staying with Grace for a few days.

Mrs. Don Vivian had her sister Annie staying with her for a few days.

Mr. C. Hamilton has accepted the position of mail carrier.

School Lunches

You can't fill the head when the stomach is empty, health authorities remind Canadian parents. When mothers are preparing those box lunches which the children take to school, the medical experts suggest that substantial and sustaining foods be included. Not just sandwiches with fillings "painted" on. These won't give the children the energy they need in coping with their studies or play.

TENDERS FOR COAL

(Western Provinces)

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Coal for Western Provinces", will be received until 3 p.m. (E.D.S.T.), Thursday, June 12, 1947, for the supply of coal for the Dominion Buildings and Experimental Farms and Stations, throughout the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

Forms of tender with specifications and conditions attached can be obtained from the Purchasing Agent, Department of Public Works, Ottawa; the District Resident Architect, Winnipeg, Man.; the District Resident Architect, Saskatoon, Sask., the District Resident Architect, Calgary, Alta.; and the District Resident Architect, Victoria, B.C.

Tenders should be made on the forms supplied by the Department and in accordance with departmental specifications and conditions attached thereto. Coal dealers' licence numbers must be given when tendering.

The Department reserves the right to demand from any successful tenderer, before awarding the order, a security deposit in the form of a certified cheque on a chartered bank in Canada, made payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works equal to 10 per cent of the amount of the tender, or Bearer Bonds of the Dominion of Canada or of the Canadian National Railway Company and its constituent companies unconditionally guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Dominion of Canada, or the aforementioned bonds and a certified cheque, if required to make up an odd amount.

By order,

DR. SEAGER WHEELER RETIRES

My good friend Major H. G. L. Strange reports that Dr. Seager Wheeler is retiring from his farm at Rosthern, Sask. It was a memorable event in my life to meet and talk with this grand old man of his great achievements in western farming and fruit growing and of his plans for further experiments.

As Major Strange says in his article Dr. Seager Wheeler was 5 times world wheat champion, the originator of Kitchener and Red Bobs wheats and many fruit varieties. We will all agree with Major Strange that Dr. Wheeler has made great and memorable contributions to western agriculture.

BEES IN JUNE

If not given plenty of room in June, bees are liable to swarm with resulting losses to the bee keeper. It is important too for bees to be able to keep the brood chamber at 90 degrees. Hence, we try to confine bees in one super until the weather is quite warm if the bees are not crowded. The date is hard to forecast, but usually by June 15th, the second super should be added. If the colony is strong it may be wise to "Demaree" at that or about 8 to 10 days later.

ACCIDENT PREVENTION

A little booklet published by Robin Hood Mills on prevention of accidents is available at the D.A. office. This booklet is recommended to everyone by the Government of Alberta. It deals with accidents while at work or play and has real good suggestions about preventing accidents on the farm.

ONION ROOT MAGGOTS

Many fine beds of both sets and seed onions are destroyed each year by maggots which attack the young onions in late May or during June. These insects can be controlled by sprinkling a solution of Corrosive Sublimate along the onion rows, well wetting the ground for a distance of three inches on each side of the plants. The solution is made by dissolving one ounce of corrosive sublimate in 10 gallons of water. Only glass or crockery dishes can be used as the effect is spoiled if tin or metal pails are used. Care must be taken as the mixture is poisonous.

LLOYDMINSTER CALF SHOW

The boys' and girls' calf show at Lloydminster last week was a huge success. Your D.A. had clubs there from Dewberry, Marwayne, Paradise Valley, McLaughlin and Kitscoty with a total of 115 calves. The Saskatchewan clubs showed and sold about the same number. This is the largest boys and girls calf sale in Western Canada.

Joan Aplin of the Kitscoty Club repeated her winnings of last year by showing the Grand Champion. This calf sold for 29c per pound to Gainers Limited of Edmonton. Reserve Champion went to a Saskatchewan entry.

The average price was 19½ cents per pound and the total receipts for the sale of 226 calves was $35,000.

E. H. Buckingham, D.A.

MORE FAILURES

Commercial failures are increasing reports The Financial Post. For the first quarter of 1947 they totalled [illegible] for all Canada, the highest figure since 1943 when they numbered [illegible]. In the first three months of 1946 there were 371. The low point reached was 54 in 1946. The greater proportion are said to be in trade (wholesale and retail) and small manufacturing businesses, many of which were started during the war to manufacture war equipment.

RIGHT LIGHT ..

Good lighting, as is well recognized, is essential for prevention of fatigue. Good lighting means illumination which is adequate, uniform and steady. Glare and shadows should be avoided, particularly when at close work, such as reading. Health authorities point out that the source of light should never be directly in the line of vision.

Derwent Couple Wed 25 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Christensen of Derwent celebrated their silver wedding anniversary on the evening of May 22nd, when a large number of friends from the town and surrounding district made a surprise party at their home.

The evening was spent in merriment with sing songs and friendly chatting. Refreshments were served, and the couple presented with a beautiful silver tray, a gift of respect and admiration from their acquaintances. Best wishes and many more years of happy marriage was voiced on behalf of the gathering by toastmaster Mr. J. W. Melnyk. After many hearty thanks had been expressed by Mr. and Mrs. Christensen, Mrs. C. A. Algot sang "The Anniversary Song" to the accompaniment of Mrs. M. N. Cherniawsky at the piano.

Assisting in serving the callers were Mrs. Christensen's brother Mr. Henry Benson, and Mr. C. A. Algot.

Married in Rocky Mountain House on May 22nd 1922, Mr. and Mrs. Christensen came to Derwent in 1931 where they took over ownership of the Derwent creamery.

They have one son Dennis and two daughters, Lois, and Irene, who recently married Mr. Raymond Tanne of Edmonton.

Successful Senior First Aid Course Held At Elk Point

Excellent Standings Obtained

The examination results were announced this week for a Senior First Aid course in St. John Ambulance work by Dr. F. G. Miller who examined the class. LITTLE TUGS RESCUE GIANT SHIP—Seven tugs battled for an hour to keep the liner Queen Mary from crashing into the quay during recent heavy storm at Southampton. A strong wind started to swing the big liner toward the wharf. Tugs came to the rescue.

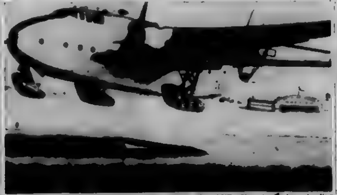
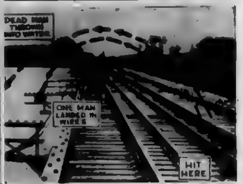
BAFFLING SOCIAL PROBLEM—Among Britain's most tragic legacies of the war are the 700 or more children of U.S. Negro soldiers and unwed British mothers. Usually unwanted by their parents, they are sent to foster homes, institutions, or are allowed to "just grow", like Topsy, in shame.

SAVED PAYROLL—Helen Tufford, cashier at the National Sewer Pipe Co. in Hamilton, saved most of the payroll when two masked men, one armed with a rifle, entered her office and demanded money. Miss Tufford dropped 20 pay envelopes in the vault, handed over 21 containing $800. Most of the money was recovered when a suspect was arrested shortly after the robbery.

DON'T FORGET THE ONE ON YOUR HEAD—Counting his chickens is little Michael Brooks of Bristol, who seems to be having some difficulty keeping track of his downy friends as they won't stay still.



PLANE LANDING GEAR FOR MUD, DIRT OR SAND—New truck type landing gear for planes is this revolutionary installation depicted in an artist's sketch. It will replace the conventional nose and main wheels and permit plane to land on soft dirt, sand or heavy mud.



ONE SAVED, ONE KILLED—Struck by train at Vaudreuil, Quebec, Clifford Kinner was hurled to safe landing. Another section hand, Robert Radford, fell in Ottawa river and perished. Diagram illustrates incident.

TEACHER SAVES PUPIL FROM SERIOUS BURNS—[illegible] Hazel Hutchinson (left), is heroine to pupils at school in Rowtrey, Ont. When dress of Georgina Redman, 10 (right), caught fire in schoolyard, Miss Hutchinson beat out the flames with her bare hands. Georgina says teacher is "swell".

FRENCH COLONIALS PUT COLOR INTO VE-DAY SHOW—Lending color to the celebration of VE-Day in Paris are these turbaned "Spahis", French colonial troops, on horseback in flowing capes. President Vincent Auriol asked farmers to bring their wheat to market to ease the country's acute bread shortage.

DOESN'T KNOW WHAT HE'S MISSING—Born with but one front leg, this bull calf can jump and run with the best of his four-legged brothers and sisters, according to his owner, Bernard Garbes, whose farm is near Hillsdale, Ill. This rarity occurs but once in several hundred thousand births.

[illegible] MADE IN BAJA DESERT—After an exploration trip into the desert of Baja, California, Mexico, Canadian-born Ernest Tubbeen shows his wife what may be new sub-species of lizard found there.

Rubber-bearing candelaria plant, discovered in the little-known Baja desert, is held by Ernest, (left), and George Tubbeen. White latex rubber flows freely from the plant.

JAP CITIZENS TURN OUT EN MASSE FOR FIRST ELECTION—Thrill of a democratic election night was enjoyed for the first time by Japanese citizens as they turned out in thousands to watch the bulletin boards on which returns were posted as they came in from Tokyo. This scene is outside the office of Asahi, Japanese newspaper, as crowds watched results in the Diet election.

DEWBERRY

At the Lloydminster calf club show held on May 28 Gerald Kinsbella won 1st prize in the Dewberry club and 3rd in the show, Master Lumley was second and Lloyd Brett third. The large crowd on hand showed the wide spread interest in this type of work. It was plain to see that the T. Eaton buyer who arrived too late to bid on the first place stock boosted the price per pound considerably for the rest of the calves.

TRACK MEET HELD MAY 21

The Dewberry - Clandonald school track meet held in Dewberry on May 21 was very keenly contested, schools from all around these two points competed in all events. The winners of the shield will be given next week. Nearly 400 children attend the schools taking part which included the five Dewberry schools, Clandonald public and separate, Russylvia, Deer Lake, Ellsworth, Rye and Hazeldine. 107 pupils alone attend the school rooms in Dewberry. Ball games which completed the day aroused so much interest that umpires were kept busy keeping the crowds back. Lunch was served all day by the Dewberry ladies and many thanks to them for their work. Tom Conroy and Martin Bruce the school teachers, must be highly commended for the very fine manner in which they ran off all the events. Thanks also to Neil Jones who had his public address system on the grounds to announce all the events.

25th Wedding Anniversary Observed

In the Dewberry hall on May 27th Mr. and Mrs. Albert Isert of Dewberry were guests of honor at a reception held for them on their 25th wedding anniversary. They were presented with a lovely set of Rogers silverware. Dancing completed a very enjoyable social evening.

We have a town to the east of us which you may say is a suburb of Dewberry, by the name of Hazeldine. We don't let you hear very much about it but the people are very wide awake there. They sponsored an amateur night and dance on May 20th which attracted so many people some couldn't get in to see the show. It was a good entertainment and we say nice work, Hazeldine. They also have a first class ball team and if the people do look a little and blame it on Cuney Allen, that great hero of the baseball bat who struck out with 2 away and 2 on with the score 1-3 for the opposition. They have a big sports day coming off on June 14th.

A few dates worth remembering: June 17th at 2 p.m. the Dewberry Co-op will hold their annual meeting. June 20th is the date of the big barn dance at Frank Bowman's; June 22 the Catholic church picnic; June 25th Dewberry's annual sports day.

The writer promised a list of babies for the month of May but maybe we haven't got them all but congratulations to all of you. Mrs. Scott [illegible] nee Molly Finlay) [illegible]

Barley Entries Have Even Break

So far as the cleaning of their entry is concerned all contestants have an even break in the $25,000 National Barley Contest sponsored by the Brewing and Malting industries.

Recent inquiries by prospective entrants have expressed fear they would be at a disadvantage in competing against a contestant who has facilities of his own for cleaning his barley. The National Contest Committee stresses this is not the case.

All entries in the contest are cleaned by the grain inspection branch before the samples are placed before the judges.

In cases where a contestant elects to hold his carload entry for seed the samples are taken from the farmer's bin by a representative of the Plant Products Division. These are likewise cleaned by the grain inspection branch before the judges look at them.

The basis for judging this year is the same as last. Two of the chief requisites are suitability for seed and for use by the malting industry. Other things of course, are considered such as weight per measured bushel, trueness to type, skinned and broken kernels, undersized kernels and maturity.

Bowtell Bulletin

The writer is sorry to hear that Maybelle Knutson is ill in the hospital suffering from pneumonia.

Quite a number of friends gathered at the home of Mrs. D. Harrison for a surprise birthday party Wednesday last week.

The Gow family expect to leave for Calgary in the very near future to attend Gertrude's graduation.

The main topic of conversation is the new black fly plague which is attacking little turkeys and the old fowl.

Mr. and Mrs. Rochford and Tom were visitors Sunday at the Sullivan home north of Vermilion.

Daddy and Syme Woodruff were guests for supper Sunday at the writer's home.

Mrs. Perkins and children were visitors Sunday at the Robinson home.

The name of Miss Rena Ronaghan was omitted from the list of those attending the weiner roast at the Robinson farm.

Harry Perkins expects to return home by June 15th if his foot continues to heal as well as it is doing now.

Hope For This Year's Harvest

AS ONE OF THE GREAT wheat producing nations Canada, and particularly the people of the Prairie Provinces, cannot but be at all times deeply interested in the world food situation, for economic conditions here are to a large degree dependent on the demand on foreign markets for the products of our farms. Wheat, which is also known in many places as the "bread grain" is always regarded as being of great value in sustaining life, and is particularly essential when other foods are scarce. At the present time there is an acute food shortage in the world, and a great deal depends upon the success of this year's harvest on the wheat farms of North America. Britain which is managing on very limited supplies of food, has little hope of a good harvest this year because of the storms of unprecedented severity which buffeted the country during the winter and early spring.

• • • • •

Situation To Be More Acute

As a result of these storms Britain will have to depend upon shipments from other countries for food supplies in the coming year. In Europe, and particularly in Germany serious food shortages are occurring and many observers predict that even more serious situations will arise in the next few months. In regard to conditions in Germany, there are many people who look upon the present plight of the people there as a direct result of their own actions. There are also many who believe that the Germans should not expect help from abroad in view of the misery for which they were responsible when their armies swept over Europe. This has been a controversial subject ever since the defeat of Germany. Disregarding the moral aspects of the problem, however, it must be admitted that we can hope for neither economic stability nor permanent peace when people in any part of the world are without food.

• • • • •

Should Receive More Attention

Lack of food is looked upon as one of the most common causes of political unrest, and recent events have demonstrated only too clearly that political instability abroad can seriously affect our own prospects for progress and security. The fact that we are without doubt living in "one world" and that the problems and distress of any one group of people cannot be safely disregarded, has not yet been fully realized and seriously considered by everyone. That fact, however, remains one of the fundamental truths of our times, and unless it is given serious thought, many of our present plans for the peace and security of the world will, of necessity fail. Great hope is centred this year on the wheat harvest in this country and it is to be hoped that there will be a heavy crop, and that through it Canada may be instrumental in averting a real disaster throughout the world, and particularly in Europe, during the coming year.

Fashion News From London

Bell-like skirts supported by stiffened canvas petticoats, off-the-shoulder necklines and even smaller waists are features of summer fashions that are coming into production in Britain's dress industry. Vivacity of design and suppleness of line and detail characterise the prototypes of summer clothes now being shown in London. Pale pink marcella—a fine cotton brings sophistication to the summer dress in one model, another has been made in a navy and white checked duster cotton model completed by a fitted corselet waist and a frill round the shoulders. White sharkskin is being used for tailored dresses highlighted by belts of bright-colored webbing, and white marcella is used for a tailored beach suit with knee-length shorts (gentlemenly turn-ups are a feature of these) and a bare midriff "monkey" jacket with sleeves and corselet front cut in one.

WAR GRATUITIES FOR ROYAL INDIAN NAVY PERSONNEL

Ex-Royal Indian Navy Officers who were discharged in India before 8th May 1945 and proceeded later to the United Kingdom or other destination outside India are to submit their claims for War Gratuity and Other Terminal Emoluments to the Accountant-General India Office London and not to the Commanding Officer H.M.I.S. Feroze, Bombay.

"Which would you prefer in your future husband—wealth, ability, or appearance?" asked the pretty girl.

"Appearance, my dear," replied the spinster, "but he's got to appear pretty soon."

• • • •

Tattered Tim: I've been trampin' four years, ma'am, and it's all 'cause I heard that the doctors recommended walkin' as the best exercise."

Mrs. Prim: "Well, the doctors are right. Walk along."

Employer: "Why are you throwing those handbills on the pavement?"

Bill Distributor: "Well, that's wot the people does I give 'em to. So it's only saving time."

• • • •

Doctor (after examining patient)—I don't like the looks of your husband, Mrs. Brown.

Mrs. Brown—Neither do I doctor, but he's good to our children.

• • • •

"Mary," said her mother reprovingly, "every time you are naughty, I get another grey hair."

"Gee, Mom, you must have been a terror when you were young—just look at Grandma!"

• • • •

Judge O'Flaherty: "Haven't you been before me before?"

Prisoner: "No, y'r honor, I never seen but one face that looked like yours an' that was a photograph of an Irish king."

Judge O'Flaherty: "Discharged! Call the next case."

It was a concert in aid of the Children's Fund. A lady whose voice was simply appalling had just finished her song, and Brown almost had a fit when he found his wife was applauding her boisterously.

"What on earth are you clapping for, have you gone mad?" he cried. "The woman's voice was simply awful."

"Oh, but her dress is lovely," cried his wife, "and I want to have another look at it so that I can give the dressmaker hints upon making mine."

Two friends (one married, the other a bachelor) were at the latest play, admiring the performance of a famous actor.

"By jove," the married man murmured, "he's grand, he's wonderful. The way he displays affection towards the leading lady, eh."

"Yes, pretty good," the bachelor agreed. "But you know he's been married to her, actually, for eighteen years."

"What? Really married?" gasped the married man. "Gosh—what an actor!"

B.C. ARCHITECT DESIGNS HOMES TO SAVE STEPS—Mrs. Catherine Chard Wisnicki, wife of a Polish air force veteran and British Columbia's only registered woman architect, is shown here with her six-months-old twins. She graduated from McGill university at 23 with a bachelor of architecture degree. Living at present in a rented home, she hopes to build a home. Her idea of a home is a design for living and working in a home; her advice: do not choose haphazardly from magazines, but benefit from everyday observation.

TWO MISS DEATH—Tragic accident on the Bulkley river, near Telkwa, B.C., caused the deaths of Gerald Spence, 10, and his brother, Arthur, eight. June Spence, 19, is seen with her other brother, Michael, four, whom she managed to save when their rowboat capsized in flood waters. Telkwa is 200 miles north of Prince Rupert.

SNOW GEESE RETURN AFTER PLANES LEAVE

WINNIPEG.—Blue and lesser snow geese paused on Manitoba lakes and rivers this spring on their flights northward—the first time they have done so since R.C.A.F. gunnery and bombing schools became active four years ago.

After the establishment of the R.C.A.F. schools, particularly at Macdonald, the geese rested in the Dakotas and Iowa and then flew non-stop to Hudson Bay. Last year there was a small flight through Alberta, the first such recorded.

With war-time flying activities ceased, naturalists are hoping the geese will resume their normal route. But B. W. Cartwright, chief naturalist for Ducks Unlimited, is cautious. "The geese are showing extreme restlessness and a divergence from their normal habits. Their whole behavior is in a state of flux and it's difficult to make predictions," he says.

Canadian Home Is Sire Haunted

DUBLIN.—The Canadian government owns a "haunted house" in Dublin. That's what the superstitious Irish servants say, and that's why the help must number three.

St. Brigid's, box-like home on the city outskirts, was bought recently as a residence for the high commissioner, Hon. W. F. A. Turgeon.

"No Irish servant will stay alone in the place," he said. "Two will stay, but sometimes one has to go outside to do the shopping or other chores. It takes three servants to make sure one is never left alone."

Turgeon himself hasn't seen the ghost—not yet, anyway.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

FIDELITY

Fidelity is simple daring to be true in small things as well as great.—Henry Van Dyke.

The talent of success is nothing more than doing what you can do well, and doing well whatever you do, without a thought of fame.—Longfellow.

Only they who fulfil their duty in everyday matters will fulfil them on great occasions.—Kingsley.

No greater hope have we than in right thinking and right acting, and faith in the blessing of fidelity, courage, patience and grace.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Constancy to truth and principle may sometimes lead to what the world calls inconstancy in conduct. —Tryon Edwards.

Political or professional reputation cannot last forever, but a conscience void of offence before God and man is an inheritance for eternity.—Daniel Webster.

IMPORTANT TO INDIA

A snow survey of the Himalayas has been undertaken in order to determine India's water resources by measuring the amount of snow collected at high altitudes.

Uses Drastic Means In Trying To Regain Husband's Love

WHITFIELD, Kent, England—Mrs. Lucy Wright, 45, was bound over for two years after admitting to magistrates she tampered with a tractor driven by her husband in the hope that "Bert would break his neck."

Later she explained to a reporter: "I love Bert".

"He means the world to me. Every time I see him he has a wonderful effect on me; but he won't have anything to do with me. A year ago he left me because of a quarrel and we've lived apart ever since then.

"I tore some loads from the tractor. I imagined Bert being seriously hurt. That horrified me—but most important of all I imagined myself getting him well again, with him finding love for me once more. That's why I did it."

Wright, Lucy's third husband, commented: "Lucy shouldn't tamper with tractors. It makes things difficult."

Britain May Not Need Canadian Apples

LONDON.—The Evening Standard said that if the British apple crop fulfills expectations this year it may be possible to do without apple imports from Canada.

If Canadian imports were banned it would save nearly £3,000,000 ($12,000,000), The Standard said. It added that this time last year arrangements for buying the 1946 crop were well advanced but that this year no action has been taken on the 1947 crop.

SAYS PARENTS NEED SUNDAY SCHOOL TRAINING

WASHINGTON.—The main conclusion Miss Bertha L. Coggswell has reached after 60 years of Sunday School teaching is that parents need religious training as much as their children.

Her observation is based on classes she still conducts every Sunday at the First Baptist Church and weekday visits she makes to the parents' homes.

"Sunday school teachers," she believes, "should stress the memorizing of the Scriptures, for they will stand by men and women throughout life."

FORECAST FEATHERS FOR FALL MILLINERY

Feathers replaced flowers as favorite adornments in the millinery mannequin parade held at the Melbourne Town Hall to forecast fashion trends for the Australian autumn and winter seasons.

Australian designers showed it's always possible to start something new in women's hats by featuring models of every color, shape and size. The trend is for off-the-face hats, in striking color combinations, while feathers are most frequently used.

Veiling is still popular, worn over the face to give a mystic air, under the chin, or hanging like a birdcage.

ORIGIN OF SAYING

What is the reason we say a task is "as easy as duck soup". A pond or puddle of water is, by humorous analogy, called "duck soup". A puddle caused by rainfall will materialize without human effort. Thus "easy as duck soup" indicates a project requiring no special effort.

Most of the streets in Lima, Peru, have different names for every block.

Scientists Have Silent Airplane

LANGLEY FIELD, Va.—Scientists have produced the first "silent" airplane. Two hundred aviation experts, here for a demonstration of the new ship, call it one of aviation's major developments of recent years.

John F. Victory, secretary of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, said that complaints about noise had closed a number of metropolitan airports.

The racket of planes overhead causes some property near airports to decline in value and has brought a number of lawsuits.

J. A. Shortal, project engineer for NACA, said the plane demonstrated here was the first one built in which all silencing methods had been fully applied.

It has a five-bladed propeller which revolves at a slower speed than a conventional one. The new propeller reduces noise pressure 90 per cent.

In the demonstration, a plane equipped with a new propeller and muffler made scarcely more noise than a glider when at a 300-foot altitude, listeners on the ground said.

Golf Club Open

The new Vermilion golf club is now open and players can swing into action any time. Fees are also necessary and prospective members should see Billie Pilkie or Del Meyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Stewart accompanied by their daughter Miss Grace and Miss Evelyn Green, returned last week end after a very enjoyable motor trip and holiday of a month's duration. While away they visited Banff, the Okanagan Valley, many coastal points, Victoria, and travelled as far as Portland, Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. "Wib" Elliott returned Monday night from several days spent at Stettler where they visited the latter's sister, Mrs. Gurnsey and Mr. Gurnsey. Mr. and Mrs. Gurnsey have now moved to Edmonton where they will reside in future.

Jean Robson entertained Tuesday evening at a combination birthday party and graduation supper at her home. During the evening the guests presented Jean, as a surprise, with a gold chatelaine.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Sheppard who spent the week end at the home of their daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. John Parkin have returned to their home at Kitscoty after renewing old acquaintances at Vermilion.

Mrs. Gordon Magee and two children are leaving Vermilion this week to join Mr. Magee at Ryley where they will make their home. Mr. Magee is manager of the Treasury Branch at Ryley and has obtained a very modern and comfortable home there.

Mr. John Welsh, Vermilion old timer, will accompany his daughter, Mrs. Magee, making his home with the family at Ryley. John has lived here since 1912 and was the first superintendent of the electric light plant which commenced operations during that year.

Mrs. Walter Fish went to Edmonton on Sunday and on her return will be accompanied by her daughter Margery who will visit the family home here. Marge is a nurse-in-training at the Ponoka hospital and has now taken two years of the three year course.

A quiet wedding took place at Central Lutheran church in Edmonton recently when Miss Anna Lavonne Broughton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Broughton of Meeting Creek, Alberta, was married to Mr. Desmond Hart Pitts, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Pitts of Victoria. Rev. T. W. Masse? stad performed the ceremony.

Quite a number of Vermilion people attended the band concert given by the Edmonton school boys band at Wainwright last Sunday afternoon. Half a dozen or so cars made the trip from the town itself while several more went from the immediate district.

Saturday Night Dances on Standard Time

To accommodate patrons from the country and outside points the Saturday night dances in the Elks hall will be run on Standard time. This means the dance will be open until 1 a.m. daylight saving time, or until 12 midnight Standard time. This is an ideal arrangement. Do your business and shopping in town on fast time, and enjoy your recreation on Standard time. 6tf

U. Y. P. S.

The Young People's Society of First United church concluded their activities of the year with the holding of a hike on Friday, May 30th. The group hiked up the north side of the river where a treasure hunt was enjoyed. Songs and recitations produced much fun, followed by refreshments about a blazing fire. The president and members said farewell to Mr. Clayton Reeves who has been of great assistance during the year. Following a prayer, the group returned to town, all having enjoyed a long-to-be-remembered evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gilbert and little son of Edmonton spent from Sunday to Tuesday visiting at the home of the former's sisters Mrs. John Wilson north of Vermilion and Mrs. R. Mathison at Dewberry.

EXPLORERS END HAPPY TERM

Girls 9 to 11 Years Invited to Join

On May 30th the Explorers ended the term with a hike to the Girl Guide cabin. Weiners and buns were bought from the $7.95 received from the girls' fees.

The Explorers are ending their term earlier this year because of the busy month of June. They are sorry to miss eight girls who are old enough to join the C.G.I.T.

Meetings will resume again in September and all girls from 9 to 11 years of age are invited to join.

Mrs. Mo[illegible] received some lovely gifts and thanked the girls very much.

FLYING SCHOOL IN FULL SWING

ATTRACTING STUDENTS FROM DISTANT POINTS

Vermilion Flying school is now in full operation with a steady increase in numbers of pupils taking lessons. Allan Larsen, Art Wiebe and Al Sanderson of Lloydminster are going solo and are practically ready for flying tests for their private license. Several others are progressing rapidly and will be going solo shortly.

Ken Crowshaw, formerly of Port Alberni, B.C. is now instructing. He is a former instructor in the R.C.A.F. and saw service as a fighter pilot on H.M. Aircraft Carrier Illustrious of the Royal Navy.

Come out to the air field and see your friends fly. Take a sightseeing flight any time.

Local All-Stars Win Game From Mannville

The local All-Star fastball team won from the Mannville men by a score of 18 to 17 in an extra inning. Mannville led by 4 runs in the last inning but Bus Martin of the All Stars knocked in three runs to make the score 16-17. Allan Heidebrecht then knocked a homer to tie the score and Neil Webb brought in the winning run.

Fastball League Now Re-Organized

NOW A FIVE-TEAM LOOP

The fastball league has been re-organized and is now comprised of five teams instead of the six. Team captains are Neil Webb, Bill Pettigrew, Lorne Puckett, Stan Guertin, Stan Calvert.

Games for the next two weeks are:

Fri. June 6—Puckett vs Guertin.
Tues. June 10—Calvert vs Webb.
Fri. June 13—Pettigrew vs Guertin.

Watch the Standard each week for the schedule of games.

The new team line-ups are:

Vermilion Flying Student Solos in 3 Hrs., 55 min.

THOUGHT ALL TIME RECORD

Sunday June 8th was a big day for Deane Caskey who after only 3 hours 55 minutes of dual instruction from his instructor, Ken Crowshaw, went solo Sunday afternoon for 20 minutes. His performance gave his instructor, fellow students and friends considerable satisfaction.

Deane is busy these days building up his solo time in preparation for flying tests for his private license. Officials of the local flying school believe that Deane soloed after the shortest amount of dual instruction on record, or at least it would come very close to setting such a record.

Bob Watt, close pal of Deane is giving him a close run as Bob will be going solo this week taking about the same amount of time as Deane.

Other boys now taking their dual instruction are: George Washington, Ted Pilipkowski, J. B. Mix, Lou McCulloch. More news of them later.

Fashion Parade of Wedding Dresses Features Meeting

AT W. A. — DATE FROM 1877

A fashion parade of wedding dresses, old and new, was the outstanding attraction at the United Church Central W.A. meeting. About 75 ladies made up the unusually large attendance at this quarterly gathering held in the United church, Friday, June 6th.

Mrs. E. M. Stewart presided at the business meeting which was opened with a devotional under the leadership of Mrs. Ed Long, who spoke of Fanny Crosby, the noted hymn writer. Mrs. Ross Beake was pianist for the hymns.

Mrs. F. Miller and her committee were thanked for their work in connection with the annual spring tea.

Mrs. Gordon Hay and Mrs. J. C. Dougan, as conveners of the booths opened for the 24th of May sports day program expressed their gratitude to all those who had helped make the project a success.

Reports from each of the four W.A. groups were presented by their respective leaders, and thus provided a summary of the activities of the W.A. from January 1st this year.

For the entertainment part of the program the church was suitably decorated with peonies, carnations and roses. Mrs. A. M. West accompanied Mrs. Ted Edey and Mrs. Lloyd Donnelly as they sang "I Love You Truly" and the "Anniversary Song". The vocalists were dressed in their own wedding gowns and Miss Lorraine Edey held her mother's train.

The fashion parade was arranged with the dresses being shown in chronological order. The procession was as follows: Mrs. E. S. Reikie wearing a wedding dress of Mr. Reikie's grandmother, married in 1877; Mrs. Glen Good modelling a wedding dress of 1900 originally worn by Mrs. Laurie Slade's grandmother; 1907, the wedding gown of the late Mrs. George Hill, worn by Mrs. J. Pettinger; 1910, Mrs. Gordon Dunsmore who wore her own wedding gown; 1911, Mrs. W. F. Cash's wedding gown worn by Miss Dorothy McGuffey and the train carried by Miss Lorraine Edey; 1916, Mrs. A. M. West's wedding dress modelled by Miss Margaret Long with Peggy Stephens carrying her train; 1922, Mrs. W. L. Robinson modelled her own dress; 1922, Mrs. S. C. Acheson wore the wedding gown of Mrs. J. R. Adams; 1924, Mrs. Manson Barr's dress worn by Miss Eva Clark; 1931, Anne Stewart carried the train for her mother Mrs. E. M. Stewart, who was wearing her own gown; 1932, Mrs. Chas. Heckbert modelled her own dress and Mrs. Joe Clark wore Mrs. Henry Meyers' dress of the same year; 1943, Mrs. Ben King as the youngest bride was the last to appear, wearing her own wedding gown, the train of which was carried by Dolores Bradford.

During the procession Mrs. Henry Meyers announced each participant giving facts concerning the wedding dress being shown.

Mrs. West supplied appropriate music for the occasion.

The meeting closed with a hymn and a procession of the brides. A dainty lunch was served.

TURKEY HEN GOES ON STRIKE

HATCH TURKEY EGGS WITH HOT WATER BOTTLE

(Extract from [illegible] News)

When a turkey hen got tired of sitting on a nest of eggs after about 11 days, Mrs. O. Walters, who farms south of Vermilion, kept the eggs warm with a hot water bottle in the hope that the hen would repent and hatch the job. This involved setting the alarm at 2 o'clock a.m. and in changing the water with hot water from a thermos bottle. After a few days the hen did return to her nest but again decided she didn't like the job and quit in the middle of the night. The barking of the dog brought Mrs. Walters out and she discovered the turkey hen walking around the yard.

Once again she kept the eggs warm with the hot water bottle. A kind chicken then took the task over for the last couple of days—and what do you think? At the proper time 8 little turkeys hatched out of the setting of nine, rather to the delighted surprise of Mrs. Walters who well deserved this success for her efforts. The writer feels sure that this is a unique case well worth mentioning.

Blood Donor Week

Blood donor enrolment week commences in Vermilion this Saturday June 14th. Donors may register on June 14th, 19th and 21st at the following business places in Vermilion: Stephens, Craigs, Nelson-Hill, Longs, Northern, Wiebe's Bakery, Vermilion hotel.

Registration forms will be available any time during the week at Meyer's furniture store and S. C. Heckbert's office.

Special Young Men's Meeting at Board of Trade on Wednesday

All young men of the town of Vermilion are invited to attend the regular meeting of the Vermilion Board of Trade next Wednesday June 18, commencing at 12:10 noon. The gathering will commence with a 50c luncheon followed by a business session.

During the business session Harold Bushell will be made a presentation in acknowledgment of the honor he has brought to Vermilion by being [illegible] to represent Alberta on the trip overseas this summer.

Other than this the senior members of the board intend to sit back and let the young men do the talking.

If such a meeting proves a success it will be made a monthly feature of the board of trade program.

Regular attendants at the weekly meetings are urged to bring along a young man of the town; and the young men are urged not to wait for an invitation but to make it a point to attend.

Death of Alexander McFarlane, Kitscoty

Member of the Vermilion School [illegible] Board

Alexander McFarlane of Kitscoty, well known farmer and esteemed citizen, passed away at the University hospital Saturday night June 7th following an illness of four months duration. Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon at Lloydminster.

Mr. McFarlane was a member of the board of the Vermilion school division, representing subdivision No. 2.

Scouts Enjoy Fine Outing at Lloydminster

Lloydminster Boy Scouts headed by their Scoutmaster Mr. Johnston entertained the Vermilion Scouts and their leader, Scoutmaster Gordon Ross on Wednesday of last week.

Mr. Ross Beake, Mr. [illegible], Mr. Glen Good and Mr. Billie Pither kindly donated cars to convey the scouts to Lloydminster. They arrived at the Border town at 5 p.m. (M.S.T.) and found the home scouts there on hand to meet them. Each one of them selected one of the Vermilion boys to be his guest for supper at the various homes.

At 6.30 a softball game got under way between the two scout troops ending in a victory for Vermilion by a score of 10-9.

Following the game a large bonfire was built and the Lloyd scouts supplied weiners, buns, ice cream and chocolate drink in abundance.

The outing was thoroughly enjoyed and a return visit of the Lloydminster scouts and their leaders is now being arranged for the very near future and is being greatly anticipated by the boys.

Special thanks are due to Mr. Gordon Ross who has acted as scoutmaster [illegible] and for his untiring work and faithfulness all year, also for arranging this pleasant outing for our boys.

T.B. Clinic in Vermilion IN JULY

EVERY PERSON IN THE DISTRICT SHOULD BE X-RAYED —

Protect Yourself, Your Family, and Community

A mobile X-ray unit will be in Vermilion early in July. The unit will be located at the armories. The purpose of this X-ray unit is to photograph every person in Vermilion and district and check for T.B.

The service is free since all costs are borne by the money raised through the sale of Christmas seals.

No disrobing required other than the removal of coats or jackets is necessary.

The total time taken for registration and photograph is just 4 minutes.

Children should be encouraged to have an X-ray made and all children from two years of age up will be X-rayed if the parents wish.

If you have been X-rayed before please come in again. Pictures should be taken every three years or more often if possible in order to be sure there is no T.B.

There is no age limit. If the survey is to be effective, everyone should avail themselves of this service. Abnormalities other than T.B. will be reported.

If you have not already been approached application cards may be secured in Vermilion at Long's Drug store, Beake's Drug store, Northern Hardware, Nelson-Hill Hardware, Boston Cafe, George's Cafe. Fill the card in as soon as possible for the protection of your family, yourself and your community.

TRAP SHOOTERS GET UNDER WAY

The trap shooting section of the Vermilion Fish and Game league started activities Friday night on their grounds located on the north east corner of the airport. There was a very good turn out of 20 marksmen and the high for the evening was Melvin Hill with 17. A good many of the boys plan to increase this to 25 out of a possible 25 after a few times out. Shoots are planned every Friday evening at 7 [illegible] and anyone interested is invited to become a member.

Birds can be shot in 25s or if that is too many in 5s, 10s, 15s or 20s.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Hicks Honored on 55th Wedding Anniversary

A family gathering took place on Sunday June 1st 1947 at the home of G. P. "Stoney" Stonehouse, Clandonald to celebrate the 55th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Hicks of Derwent, Alberta. The emerald wedding anniversary marks a long span of happily married life and Mr. and Mrs. Hicks are both enjoying good health. They have seen the years roll by, have noted the gradual development and from time to time have seen great changes. They can relate many exciting instances that took place in this district in the early days of settlement. These friendly folk are an asset to the district and congratulations and best wishes are extended to them from the whole community.

Mr. L. R. Hicks (Louis Randolph) was born in Homer, Michigan in 1872. Mrs. Hicks (Mary Rosetta Pearson) was born in Hamilton, Ontario, Mount Albion county in 1874. This happy couple met in Vittoria, Ontario and were married at home in Mount Albion in 1892. They moved west in March of 1906 with their three young boys and settled in the King Edward district north of Vermilion. They later moved to the Mary Lake district where Mr. Hicks operated a grocery store. The family lived in Vermilion for a few years where Mr. Hicks was a Justice of the Peace and he still holds that official position to which he was appointed in 1912. In 1927 they moved to Derwent where he took over the agency for the Imperial Oil Company. One year later he was appointed postmaster and is still serving in that capacity, as well as Justice of the Peace and Imperial Oil agent.

Those present at the anniversary gathering were members of the immediate family and children, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Stonehouse and family of Clandonald, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keating and daughter of Mannville, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hicks and family of Clandonald, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hicks and family of Derwent, and the Earl Hicks family of Mary Lake. Earl himself was unable to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Hicks received many nice gifts and congratulations. The gathering was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Lots of good refreshments and plenty of fun being the order of the day for young and old.

Mr. and Mrs. Hicks are highly respected [illegible] and every good wish [illegible] to them for their future welfare and happiness.

Heavy Agenda at Town Council Meeting

Vermilion Men Are Re-Elected Prov. Presidents

Donald Taylor of Vermilion was re-elected President of Alberta Branch of the Canadian Postmasters Association at the convention of that body held in Edmonton last week. Don has already served in that capacity for two years and is president of the Western Postmasters as well.

S. Carl Heckbert was re-elected president of the Provincial Command of the Canadian Legion B.E.S.L. for his 4th consecutive two-year term. The convention was held in Edmonton this week and official delegates from Vermilion Post 11 were George Martin and [illegible] Allan.

Local Students Rank Well at Track Meet

Through the courtesy of Principals [illegible] and Walker of the Vermilion schools the Standard has been supplied with the list of local winners at the school division track meet held at Kitscoty on Friday last week. The list of winners will appear in next week's Standard.

Outstanding achievements appear to have been made by Bob Reid who was the class winner in boys 17 and over taking two firsts, 1 second and a third; and Esther Sorenson with one first and 2 seconds, who ranked at the top of the 11 and 12 year girls' class.

Watch the Standard next week for full results.

At Elks Convention

A number of Elks including District Deputy G.E.R. Gordon A. Park, Don Logan, Exalted Ruler of the local lodge and delegates R. J. Bell and Victor Tillett motored to Calgary Sunday last and attended the sessions of the Provincial Elks association.

MISS SUZANNE GOUTIER IS AWARDED DIPLOMA

Miss Suzanne Goutier was among the graduates in nursing of the Vegreville General hospital. Convocation exercises were held Monday of last week. Included in the graduation program were two solos by Miss Ruth Paston, formerly of Vermilion.

THE AMAZING DEVELOPMENT
in farm machinery

100 YEARS AGO, two good men with a cradle and rake could cut and bind three acres of grain in a day. Then there still remained the laborious task of threshing the grain with a flail on the barn floor.

Today one man with a Massey-Harris self-propelled combine can cut and thresh up to 50 acres in a day.

Just think of the tedious, backbreaking labor in cultivating, seeding, harvesting and threshing which the farmer of today escapes through the use of modern farm machinery.

The development of labor-saving farm machinery in which Massey-Harris has played a leading part since 1847 has had an important bearing on our daily lives. Before 1850 the farmer produced mostly for himself and his family; today he raises crops chiefly to sell. The huge increase in farm production brought about by farm machinery during the last century has been an important factor behind the rapid climb in the standard of living both on the farm and in the city.

Today at the beginning of the second century of its history, this company looks forward to a continuance of its service in helping the farmer to produce more and better crops, easier, quicker and at lower cost.

Death and Funeral Of Walter Avery

PIONEER OF ETHELWYN AND ELLSWORTH DISTRICTS

The Ethelwyn and Elsworth districts lost another of its real old timers by the death of Mr. Walter Avery.

Mr Avery was born in Kent County, England on June 3rd, 1870 and came to Canada in 1902. In the year 1906 he homesteaded in the Ethelwyn district where at the time of his death he still carried on farming operations with his sons.

In 1907 the late Mr. Avery was married to Amanda Gratrix and after living in the Ethelwyn district for 30 years moved to the Ellsworth district.

Two and a half years ago the deceased became ill and despite every medical care and aid passed away on Friday afternoon June 6th. He was a veteran of the South African war having served in the capacity of mounted scout.

Left to mourn his loss are the sorrowing wife, three sons and four daughters: Mrs John Prior and Mrs Roy Spark of Bradwell, Sask.; Mrs. Adam Clarkson of Vancouver and Flora at home. The boys are Sydney, a veteran of the last Great war, John and Alfred all at home. He is also survived by three brothers in England.

The Rev Capt Brant of Clandonald conducted the solemn Anglican funeral service in the Greenlawn hall while Mrs Reimer presided at the piano.

Interment took place at the Landonville cemetery where many beautiful wreaths and flowers were placed upon the grave by friends and neighbors.

Fast Time Laying Sewer

Very good time digging and laying of the sewer ditch and line is being made, as much as 900 feet being completed in one day. Practically all the sewer line necessary in the portion of the town south of First street North to the railway has been installed.

Cement running at the underground reservoir is underway and the site of the disposal plant has been cleared and levelled.

A CHALLENGING OPPORTUNITY—

Next week the Canadian Red Cross Society places a new and vital appeal before the citizens of Alberta. The appeal — not for money — is for voluntary blood donors, people who are willing to give their blood so that every hospital patient in Alberta who needs transfusion therapy because of accident, illness or other medical reasons, may have it free of any charge.

Most of us are familiar with Canada's wartime blood donor program to supply the blood plasma which saved the lives of countless wounded Canadians. During the war years the people of Alberta established an outstanding record in this field of activity which was the envy of many provinces.

A survey of Canadian hospitals, including those in Alberta, emphasized the postwar need for the same kind of service—a service that will benefit all of us. It is up to us to do our part so that we may share with others the knowledge that our willingness to volunteer our blood will mean many lives saved.

Wartime research in the new uses of human blood and its derivatives has brought about outstanding medical advances. Human blood and plasma have been used with great effectiveness in the treatment of those injured and burned.

The Canadian Red Cross has undertaken to provide this peacetime Blood Transfusion Service. With far-sighted community spirit the Vermilion Red Cross Branch has accepted the responsibility of undertaking the registration of our citizens as voluntary donors.

This is a challenging opportunity for the citizens of this community to take an active and essential part in a great humanitarian effort.

Register next week with the Canadian Red Cross as a voluntary blood donor and help save lives.

Headaches?

Don't you envy people who never have headaches? The fact that some folks are free from them shows that there must be a reason why you get them. Very often the cause of headaches is found in faulty elimination. Poisonous waste substances accumulate in the system and the result is headaches and depressed feelings. National Exhibition's Diamond Jubilee Of Electric Lighting

This year marks the Diamond Jubilee of electric lighting at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto.

A program of the "Dominion and Industrial Exhibition" of 1887 announced "Brilliant Illuminations Nightly with 200 Electric Arc Lights, by the Royal Electric Company of Montreal, the Ball Electric Light Co., of Toronto and the Toronto Electric Light Co., with Chinese lanterns and colored globes, beautiful prismatic and electric fountain, etc."

Having set the pace in incandescent electric lighting immediately following its discovery by Edison, the CNE has never looked back. It has pioneered the use of electricity for lighting and power and has shown its visitors every new electrical development as soon as it was made, even to the first trolley car seen in Canada.

Up from the first years of steam-engine-driven direct-current generators, of arc lights and carbon lamps, into the era of alternating current and the development of Hydro, the Exhibition has brought something entirely new to the public each year. Television was seen at the "Ex" years ago. Its latest developments and the war-born radar applications will be shown this year.

Obliging Holdup Man Signs Receipt

CHICAGO. — "Joe" is the most obliging stickup man Chicago police have encountered in a long time.

When the young man entered the Joy Candy Shoppe with one hand in his pocket, Mrs. Clara Vezina, the clerk, wondered what was going to happen.

He handed her a note which read "turn over all your money and keep quiet."

Mrs. Vezina replied sharply:

"Now see here. I'm busy taking inventory and all the money is in the safe and I don't know how to open it."

The bandit argued:

"You've got money in the cash register."

Mrs. Vezina replied:

"Only about $10."

The intruder said:

"Gimme, I gotta have something for my labors."

Whereupon Mrs Vezina pointed out she needed money for change and compromised with the man. She said, "You take $7 and leave me the other $3 for change."

On second thought Mrs. Vezina decided she'd better have a receipt.

The obliging bandit wrote:

"Received $7 in money."

He signed it "Joe".

Foresees Heavy Tourist Trade

WINNIPEG.—"The tourist trade is not trading on a dollar and cent basis, but is trading in human value, and the months of June, July, August and September, should be the biggest months for tourists in the history of Canada," stated D. Leo Dolan, director of Canadian government travel bureau, Ottawa.

"The advertising campaign of the travel bureau in Ottawa has been extensive this year." "The tourist trade is one of the biggest export industries for Canada and the United States, other than newsprint and possibly gold," he said.

THE LAST STRAW

A Scot was engaged in a lengthy argument with a train conductor as to whether the fare was 25 or 30 cents. Finally the exasperated conductor picked up the Scot's suitcase and tossed it off the train just as they passed over a bridge.

"Mon!" screamed the Scot. "It isn't enough to try to overcharge me, but now you try to drown my little boy."

DIONNE QUINTS AT TEEN AGE ARE SMART, BUT NOT SPORTSMINDED

CALLANDER, Ont.—They're smart but not sportsminded, they're neatly dressed but not clothes conscious—that's the Dionne quintuplets in a nutshell as they celebrated their 13th birthday at their palatial home near here on May 28.

As the healthy sisters excitedly opened their gifts they bore little resemblance to the richet-ridden infants born in a humble northland farm home across the road on a sunny May morning in 1934, when Annette, Cecile, Marie, Yvonne and Emilie defied medical science because they lived.

The sisters appear more serious-minded than most girls at their age and school work and music are their chief interests. Mr. Dionne has one worry—the quints can't swim because they have never had the opportunity to learn. He's considering construction of a private swimming pool on his farm estate.

The quints like to be neat and clean but have no great desire for fancy clothes. As the nuns put it the girls "have not much vanity."

The girls have completed their sixth grade in school and in June, 1948, they will write high-school entrance examinations. Rev. Sister Aime de Anges, in charge of their education, gave the quints a holiday from school to admire watches and necklaces from their mother and father, among other gifts.

All five girls have a keen appreciation of music and are becoming accomplished pianists. They sing and dance exceptionally well and don't seem to mind an audience.

As to their futures, Mr. Dionne doesn't think they've given much thought to the matter "but there is one thing I would like to make quite clear and that is neither Mrs. Dionne or myself intends to dictate to them about their future."

For a time the nuns feared the quints might reason "as a block" but instead each has developed an individual personality. They think differently and react differently.

Cecile has the most initiative. She is beginning to realize she is a "little lady" and is anxious to make a good impression.

Annette is most industrious—a hard-working girl who takes "great pains" with her studies.

Yvonne is "the deepest in mind". She doesn't say much but she thinks deeply and realizes that a "new life is opening up for her."

Marie, always the smallest, is still "the youngest in character but she is very sweet."

Emilie, most boyish of the five for a long time, is just the opposite now. She is the "most feminine". She's "slenderizing and is quite aware of this physical change."

KIDNEY ACIDS Rob your Rest..

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They toss and turn—blame it on "nerves"—when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons and excess acids from the blood. If they fail and impurities stay in the system—disturbed rest often follows. If you don't rest well get and use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's help the kidneys so that you can rest better—and feel better. 136

Many Canadians Would Emigrate To N.Z.

AUCKLAND, N.Z.—David Wilson, retiring New Zealand high commissioner to Canada, said on his return to Auckland that if New Zealand wanted Canadian immigrants and shipping were available, "there's no doubt" large numbers would come."

[illegible] said that during three years in Canada he had addressed hundreds of meetings and there were always two or three dozen enquiring about the possibility of emigrating to New Zealand.

He said he had explained he had not gone to Canada "as an emissary to promote emigration from a sister dominion."

Canada had done a wonderful job during the war with the Commonwealth Air Training Plan he said. Great as was Canada's industrial effort during the war, the training accomplished was even greater.

BARLEY ENTRY DATE POSTPONED

A late and unfavorable seeding season has made necessary an extension of the final entry date for this year's $25,000 National Barley Contest sponsored by the brewing and malting industries.

Chairman of the Contest Committee, T. J. Harrison announces that the date for receiving entries has been extended from June 15 to July 15.

Entry forms are to be mailed as previously announced to the chairman of the provincial committees, in Alberta to A. M. Wilson, Alberta Field Crops Commissioner, Edmonton.

Contestants in the Peace River Block of B.C. should mail their entries to Mr. Wilson at Edmonton.

WOODVALE

The school children had a hike a while ago and combined nature study with a weiner roast very successfully. They discovered quite a number of coyote dens.

Mrs. Proctor celebrated her 70th birthday and we wish her many more years of health and happiness.

Mrs. Wm. Parsons left for a holiday in Ontario where she will visit her brothers and other relatives.

Mrs. H. Portsmith spent a few days in the Vermilion hospital for observation and treatment.

The Cecil King family went to Edmonton on June 1st to celebrate Keith's 21st birthday with a dinner at the Corona hotel. Joy joined them and thus the whole family was together for the day.

Walter Lyons is attending the Junior F.P.A. week at the University in Edmonton.

Tom Graham, well known old timer in these parts passed away in the Vermilion hospital and was buried in his home town in Ontario.

A very pleasant afternoon was spent by 11 ladies of the Red Cross at the home of Mrs. M. Watson on June 4th. The quilt made for the Vermilion branch was very light and easy to work on. A considerable time was spent in visiting and chatting and enjoying the lunch. Several more pieces of knitting were turned in and a few articles given out. The grey blanket will be sent to the Dickson family near Clandonald who lost their home a few months ago through fire. Twenty four other blankets were distributed. The handling charges are 15 cents per blanket please pay Mrs. A. Lyons at the store. At the next meeting Miss Long of Vermilion will give a talk on home canning. Date and place will be announced a little later when plans are completed.

Popular Minister to Leave Elk Point

PRESENTATIONS MADE TO REV. A. D. PRINGLE

At a meeting of the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce held this week, presentation of a leather brief case was made to Rev. A. D. Pringle, minister of the United church here, who has accepted a call to the United church at Don Accord. In making the presentation, D. C. Nelson, past president of the Chamber thanked Mr. Pringle for the whole hearted support he has given this organization since its inception, and for the active part he has taken in community activities in his stay here during the past seven years. He stated that Mr. Pringle has always been indefatigable in his efforts to improve the community and has worked conscientiously both as a member of the Chamber executive and as a committee member. In expressing his thanks for the gift, Mr. Pringle said that he had always felt that the work, in itself, was a reward for what he had done, and expressed the view that he had found the members of the chamber both pleasant and co-operative to work with. At the conclusion of the meeting, individual members wished Mr. Pringle the best of happiness in his new location.

Later in the evening, Mr. Pringle was presented with an engraved trophy cup as a farewell gift from the Elk Point Curling club, by Mr. J. V. Jacobson, secretary-treasurer of that organization. Mr. Pringle helped to found the club in 1941.

Mr. and Mrs. Pringle will be leaving Elk Point for their new home in Don Accord in the latter part of June.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

:: THE GAMBLE ::

By [illegible]

THE afternoon sun dappled the hospital walls and lent a cheerful note to the cot where the tall soldier lay.

"Hey, Nurse!" he called, blue eyes gleaming, "I want plenty of solitude when my sweetie-pie calls this afternoon."

Miss Gordon shook her red head reprovingly. "You soldiers," she murmured, "always out to impress every girl."

"Every girl!" expostulated he of the blue eyes and hospital bed, "Why my dear nurse, I'll have you know that this very special young lady whom you will have the pleasure of seeing shortly is the exclusive recipient of all my mail for lo these [illegible] months." Warming to his subject the G.I. raised himself to his elbow and peered earnestly into the face of Miss Gordon. "You are young ...you are lovely, surely you do not mean to stand there and tell me that you don't believe in love?"

His eyes so earnestly gazing at her from his scowling face brought a smile to the full lips of the young nurse. She smoothed the sleeves of her uniform before answering. "Yes, I believe in love ...that is, if it is something deep.. something really special and lasting.. something sacred..." her voice trailed away into silence as she gazed thoughtfully out the hospital window.

"Miss Gordon" his voice was low and husky "Are you engaged, or" he blushed a brick red, "or something?" he finished lamely.

Her grey eyes looked straight into his blue ones. "I am not engaged," she stated, "Neither am I in love."

The boy lay back on the cot and closed his eyes. "Thank you nurse. That's what I wanted to know."

As the visiting hour approached, the blue eyed soldier grew more and more tense. Miss Gordon passing in and out on countless errands shook her head in bewilderment. "Why" she mused to herself, "He actually looks as if he dreads seeing her."

At ten minutes past three the soldier's girl swept in—as regal as a queen, commanding and receiving homage from every masculine eye. Raven black hair fell in cascades to her shoulders. Long sooty lashes hovered provocatingly over sea green eyes, and wild roses bloomed tantalizingly on each cheek. A large undulating solitaire blinked from the third finger of her left hand.

"Bob, oh Bob!" [illegible] exclaimed, "My dearest—my dearest, to have our first meeting here in a hospital...what a pity, what a shame! oh how differently I had [illegible] things!"

Bob grinned feebly. "Yeah, so had a lot of other fellows—especially the [illegible] who didn't come back."

She [illegible] her lips "Can the serious, pal. I—"

"Virginia" Bob interrupted, "I want to talk to you."

Virginia's eyes grew round with protest, "Now Bob, if that isn't just like you. The minute I get here you start lecturing me." Her eyes were cautious as she took compact and lipstick from her purse. Then over the rim of a ridiculous black lace fan she shrewdly studied him. "O.K. Bob, we never did mince words, did we? [illegible]"

Bob grimaced and "shot" straight from the shoulder. "Virginia I may sound brutal but I know you can take it. The fact is I'm a doomed man. I have contracted a tropical disease and besides that the wound on my leg has made me a cripple, for life. Now the question is—do you still want to marry me?"

[illegible] ed lashes, "Bob, I never dreamed—[illegible] had any idea—why didn't [illegible] let me know something of this [illegible] fore?"

"Well" Bob's face was carefully guarded—almost as carefully guarded as his voice. "I didn't want you to be getting yourself behind any wall of patriotism. I want you to think straight and without any furbelows. The reason I didn't get in touch with you sooner, I wanted to give it to you straight and first hand." His quizzical eyes held hers. "All right baby, what's the verdict?"

"Well," her emerald eyes were clouded...her glance fell to her lap. "It's not quite the same as if we had been seeing each other right along ... after all, three years is a long time..." her voice trailed away into nothing and a breathless silence hovered over the hospital cot.

Bob's voice when it came was strong and reassuring. "Sure baby, sure. I understand. I guess you're trying to tell me that it will have to be good-bye?"

She nodded but could not find the courage to look up. "Yes Bob, after all I'm young, and I'll have to think of my future." The lovely calculating eyes met his again for a fleeting second.

"Yes," he agreed wryly, "Yes you're young and what's more you're beautiful—and now we'd better say good-bye."

"Oh Bob," contrition tensed her voice "Wouldn't you like for me to come back to see you again perhaps."

"No Virginia" he answered lightly "Let's make it good-bye for keeps. It's simpler that way."

He held out his hand in a gesture of farewell and after a hesitant look, Virginia turned and walked out without a backward look.

Bob sighed and closed his eyes.

The firm tap of rubber heels came nearer. Miss Gordon, hands on hips, surveyed him critically. "Of all the imaginative liars!" she burst out. "Of all the—the—" she searched helplessly for words. "May I ask why you told your beautiful friend all the fairy tales, when you know as well as I, that you are walking out of here tomorrow, a completely well man?"

Bob swooped back the covers, stepped to the floor and put both arms around the starched white shoulders. "Because" he murmured, "I'm going to marry you, my friend, since the day I first saw you, I've wanted to kiss the dimple in your chin, and I'm going to do it right now, this very minute!"

Blames Housing Crisis For Child Desertion

NEW YORK. Child-hating landlords and the worst housing shortage in the nation's history were blamed for an appalling increase in abandoned children, many of them babies only a few months old.

In New York City alone, during the first week of May, four babies, ranging in age from a few days to one month, were abandoned.

One, a 10-day-old baby, was left in the vestibule of a Brooklyn orphanage, another was abandoned in the lobby of a mid town hotel another at the entrance to Bellevue Hospital and the fourth on the steps of an East Side tenement.

Pinned to the blanket of one of the carefully dressed infants was a note reading:

"I am unable to give her the care or home she needs. She is a sweet and good baby. Please, won't you see that she has a good home where someone will love her as I do."

From metropolitan centres through [illegible] States come reports of a wave of child abandonments.

Child welfare officials here and in Washington blame this unprecedented increase primarily on the housing shortage. In a score of instances parents tracked down by the law after abandoning their children, have blamed their inability to find a roof to shelter them as the primary cause of [illegible]

Skyscraper To House U.N. Organization

NEW YORK.—A 40-storey rectangular-shaped skyscraper will house the secretariat of the United Nations under the basic architectural design for the new world centre, it was disclosed.

U.N. planning officials said construction of the secretariat building along New York City's East river might begin as early as next December if plans are approved quickly.

The general architectural scheme for building the international capitol was announced by Wallace K. Harrison, U.N. director of planning.

Harrison said the general plan will be refined by more detailed studies and incorporated into a report which will be considered by the General Assembly in September.

Demolition of existing structures on the site is expected to begin about July 1.

Harrison said the basic composition of the plan is not necessarily final and is, therefore, subject to revision and modification as the work of the planning staff progresses.

1½ cups finely diced celery

Mix together mayonnaise, lemon juice, pimiento, and seasonings.

Add remaining ingredients and toss all together lightly. Let stand in cold place 10 or 15 minutes before serving.

Serve in lettuce cups. Garnish with tomato wedges. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

To cook rice, add ½ cup washed rice slowly to large amount of briskly boiling salted water in large saucepan. Lift or stir with fork frequently. Boil 20 minutes, or until tender. Drain in colander and rinse with cold water.

CHOCOLATE GRAPE-NUTS PUFF

4 tablespoons butter
½ cup sugar
2 egg yolks, well beaten
1 square Baker's Unsweetened Chocolate, melted
2 tablespoons Grape-Nuts
1 cup milk
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Cream butter, add sugar gradually, blending after each addition. Add egg [illegible] thoroughly. Then add melted chocolate and blend. Add flour, Grape-Nuts and milk, mixing well. Fold in egg whites. Turn into greased baking dish and place in pan of hot [illegible] in slow oven (325 deg. F.) 1 hour and 15 minutes. Serve cold with cream. Serves 6.

GERMAN SURGEONS HAVE BEST JOKE

FRANKFURT.—The latest joke making the rounds in Germany concerns a group of British, American and German surgeons who met to discuss the "miracles" of wartime surgery.

"We had a man who lost a leg and we made him a new one which enabled him to set a record in the 100 metre dash," the British doctors reported.

"We did better than that," the Americans said. "We had a man who lost his right arm, but he is now our champion middleweight boxer with his new arm."

"You people are behind the times," the Germans said. "We took people who were beheaded in the concentration camps, put wooden heads on them and the Military Government set them up as officials to govern Germany."

Were Canadians Travelling Overseas Of Being Left There

OTTAWA. — External Affairs Department officials warned Canadians planning to travel to Britain or Europe that unless they had a guarantee of return transportation they faced the prospect of being stranded until after next Christmas.

A spokesman said Canada House in London and other governmental authorities already were "besieged" by requests for aid from Canadians who found themselves without return passage and with their funds running low. Other "thousands" might find themselves in a similar situation, with no hope of getting back.

He said many parents of deceased servicemen were going overseas to visit war graves without making adequate preparations for their return.

"SALADA"
ORANGE PEKOE

RICH, SPICY CINNAMON BUNS

Recipe
Dissolve 1 tsp. sugar in ½ c. lukewarm water; add 1 envelope Royal Fast Rising Dry Yeast. Let mixture stand 10 min. Then stir well. Scald ½ c. milk, add 3 tbs. shortening, ¼ c. sugar, ½ tsp. salt; cool to lukewarm. Add 1 c. sifted flour to make a batter. Add yeast mixture and 1 beaten egg, beat well. Add 2½ c. sifted flour, or enough to make a soft dough. Knead lightly, place in greased bowl. Cover, set in warm place, free from draft. Let rise until doubled in bulk, about 2 hours. When light punch dough down; roll out into oblong piece, about ¼" thick. Brush with 3 tbs. melted shortening or butter. Sprinkle with ½ c. brown sugar, 1½ tsps. cinnamon, ½ c. raisins. Roll up lengthwise in a tight roll; cut in 1" slices. Place cut-side up, 1" apart in greased shallow baking pan. Cover; let rise in warm place until light, about 1 hour. Bake in 425°F. oven about 20 minutes.

..."And Then There Were None"
Harold was just an old sheep-counter. Every night, before he got to sleep, he counted thousands of sheep . . .
Then one day an Experienced Friend suggested maybe it was the caffein in the Tea and Coffee he drank that kept the sheep jumping over the fence . . .
So Harold STOPPED tea and coffee, and changed to POSTUM . . .
And right away he only got a few hundred sheep over the fence before sleep overcame him . . .
And in a few nights only a dozen . . .
And then there were none!
Many people can safely drink tea and coffee. But others are upset by the caffein these beverages contain. If you find yourself sleepless, nervous, irritable – try changing to Postum. You'll like its rich, heart-warming flavor. Not like tea, not like coffee, just a grand flavor all its own.
Easy to fix – make Postum right in the cup just by adding boiling water or hot milk. Costs less than 1¢ a serving.

YOUNG FARMERS WEEK AT V.S.A.

The Alberta Department of Agriculture has announced a new Short Course of one week in practical agriculture at the Vermilion school of agriculture. The time set is June 16 to 21.

The Course is designed for young men on the farm who may either be working at home with their parents or running their own farms. There are no admittance restrictions other than a minimum age limit of 17 years. Classes will consist of talks, discussions and demonstrations that will be helpful in meeting many of the routine problems of farming. There will be discussions of soil types and tillage methods, crop varieties, weed eradication, the farm live stock program, modern farm machinery, the farm live stock program, modern farm machinery, the farm work shop, and some basic principles of farm management. Inspection trips over the demonstration plots, the farm, orchards and school grounds will supplement the class work. In the evenings there will be social and recreational activities.

The only costs are those for travelling and for living expenses. Comfortable accommodation is provided in the school dormitory at a flat rate of $1.50 per day. Application should be made at once since classes will be limited to the first sixty applicants. Application forms and full information can be obtained from District Agriculturists or from the principal of the school of agriculture, Vermilion.

ETHELWYN

Due to the demands of spring work some of this news is old but will try to bring it right up to date.

On May 11th a triple birthday party was held at the R. MacDonald home. Jessie and Jimmie were eight years old the next day and their grandma MacDonald's birthday was the day before. The afternoon was spent playing ball with a weiner roast in the evening, finished off with two birthday cakes. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald, Scotty MacDonald, Dewberry; Mr. and Mrs. A. MacDonald, Sandy and Allan Jr., Loretta and Carlota Burns, Helen and Katie Shrenhowch, Colin MacGillivary, David Attfield, Nicky Orleski, Allan Burns, Eddie Podbanyuik.

Deep sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. John Miller and family on the loss of their beloved daughter and sister. Lottie will be greatly missed by all who knew her. She was always very ready to give a helping hand to anyone in need.

Sincere sympathy is extended to Mr Wm McCrea and family in their bereavement.

Jean West who suffered a ruptured appendix several weeks ago is still in hospital. The writer hopes that by the time this appears in print she will be well on the road to recovery and home.

On May 30th Dean Cooper was young host, the occasion being his [illegible] birthday. Games were played and the party ended with ice cream and a candle lit birthday cake. The guests were Mrs Attfield and Robin, Mrs G Carlson and Wilford, Mrs Roddy MacDonald, Chrissie and Ruby, Mrs Taylor, Darleen and Bobby, Mrs Allan MacDonald, Sandy and Allan Jr., and Loretta Burns.

A large number of children and their teacher attended the track meet at Dewberry. They reported a good time and came home with several ribbons. Buck Elliott furnished the truck for transportation. It was thoughtful and kind of the ladies to supply a lunch booth for the children.

We enjoyed your story of your [illegible] radio Wildmere.

A girl's club has been formed in this district under the leadership of Mrs Harold Cooper. At present the club has not been named but hope that a suitable name will soon be thought up. The first project started by the girls was one on embroidery work. As one object of the club is to do something for others, the club adopted a war bride, Mrs James Gudwear of Edmonton, formerly of Holland. Mrs. Gudwear was presented with a friendship tea cloth. To Ann's mother over in Holland your daughter is looking very fine and well and is very dear to her husband's family and friends. Ann's only regret is that all her loved ones over there [illegible] share in the [illegible] we have [illegible] are inclined to grumble about [illegible] ages until we meet someone [illegible] who is so grateful for everything [illegible] that we feel ashamed [illegible] Most of our war brides have known real suffering and want over there but all have a bright outlook [illegible] future.

An Asset To The West

THE POSSIBILITY OF FINDING new and diversified uses for farm products has always been a great interest to agriculturists as well as to scientists and manufacturers. During the depression when there were great surpluses of wheat and other cereal grains, the discovery of new industrial uses for these products would have been welcomed and might have been of great benefit to farmers in this country. At the present time, however, there is such a serious world shortage of wheat and other cereal grains that no surplus exists. Furthermore it is now realized that if there is to be an adequate standard of nutrition throughout the world, such surpluses as accumulated during the depression years will never occur again.

* * * * *

Cereal Straw Might Be Used

Apart from cereal grains, however, there are numerous agricultural products which may be processed for use in industry. At the new Prairie Regional Laboratory of the National Research Council, which is now being constructed at Saskatoon, scientific investigations into industrial uses for farm products as well as extensive research in cereal chemistry will be carried on. Dr. R. K. Larmour, the director of the new laboratory, in a recent address stated that one matter to be investigated is the possible industrial uses of cereal straw. The director pointed out that approximately 10,000,000 tons of straw is wasted in Canada each year. From this amount of straw 3,600,000 tons of cellulose could be extracted, an amount almost equal to the entire annual output of pulp in the Dominion.

Among Projects To Be Started

It was not suggested that straw could take the place of the pulpwood industry, but Dr. Larmour was of the opinion that it could be used for straw board, and for insulation purposes, provided an economical system could be devised for collecting the straw. Research into the production of vegetable oils and fermentation processes which would produce high-priced substances will be among the many projects which will be undertaken when the laboratory is opened this fall. It is now expected that 34 scientists and 30 technicians will be employed in research work there, and there will be facilities to accommodate another 30 workers in the future. This laboratory will be an asset to the Western provinces and the scientists who work there will have an opportunity to contribute to the development and prosperity of that important section of the country.

MINUS BAGGAGE — Minus baggage, this mallard duck, seen with Jean Bachelor, waddled into a downtown hotel in Toronto. Grounded by the rainstorm, the young duck was taken care of until the Humane Society came for it.

Britain Hopes To Buy Soviet Grain

LONDON.—Britain hopes to place "substantial orders" for Russian wheat as a result of negotiations now taking place between Britain and Russia, it was disclosed.

Harold Wilson, Britain's secretary for overseas trade and leader of the recent British trade delegation to Russia, told the House of Commons that starting next year the Soviet Union plans a considerable disposable surplus of foodstuffs, particularly wheat and coarse grains.

"The placing of such orders would, of course, help in reducing our dollar expenditure," an authoritative spokesman said.

It was true, he said, the Russians have had extreme difficulties with their wheat, but their forthcoming harvest is said to be an extremely good one.

A THOROUGH JOB

When a Japanese woman launders a kimono, she rips the seams apart, washes the pieces and stretches them on a board to dry. After drying, the kimono is put together again.

MEXICO HAS SENSIBLE IDEA ABOUT FORESTS

Mexico has taken a long step forward in the saving of dwindling forests by requiring lumbermen to plant ten trees for every one cut and by limiting exports of fine woods. Some other countries already are almost too late for such a move. Let us hope Canada is not in the latter category.

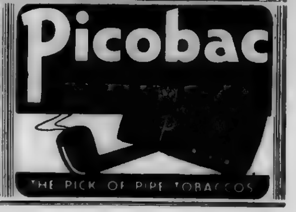
Queen Elizabeth, in 1572, received the first wrist watch ever made.

Doctor Warns Against Punching The Body

Better avoid getting punched in the nose—or any other part of the body—warns Dr. Joseph V. Klauder of Wills Hospital, Philadelphia.

Dr. Klauder says body and facial blows may awaken a latent disease in the body.

He cited numerous cases in which blows to parts of the body brought on diseases.



THE PICK OF PIPE TOBACCOS

To Build $15,000,000 Celanese Plant in B.C.

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. — Construction of a $15,000,000 celanese mill of the Port Edward Cellulose Co. on Watson Island, near Prince Rupert, B.C., is expected to be under way within the next two months, George Schneider of New York, vice-president and managing director of the Celanese Corporation of America, the parent company, announced.

The plant, expected to be in operation within two years, will have a 250-ton daily capacity with possible expansion to 400 tons, and will give employment to several hundred persons—a total of some 1,000 in plant and bush operations. It will specialize in cellulose to be shipped to the United States and used in the manufacture of yarns and fabrics.

Gives Reasons Why Parcels Cost So Much

Hon. Ernest Bertrand (postmaster-general): On a 20-pound gift parcel, which is the maximum allowed for such a parcel, the (postal) rate to England is $2.50, made up as follows. England gets a credit of 51 cents on each of these parcels which the British postal authorities deliver anywhere in England. We have to pay them that 51 cents. The shipping companies charge us $1.50 per two cubic feet, which is about the space a gift parcel of 20 pounds takes up. Those two charges amount to $2.01, leaving 49 cents remuneration to the Canadian Post Office for picking up the parcel anywhere in Canada—Vancouver if necessary—and delivering it to the shipping companies. We are losing money on every such parcel.—From Hansard.

Meteorite Hits Earth in Siberia

LONDON. — A meteorite weighing about 1,000 tons collided with the earth February 12, according to the first report of the Soviet scientific expedition which recently went to Siberia to investigate the phenomenon, Moscow radio reported.

The meteorite, with a speed of about 90 miles a second, caused heavy damage when it fell, as well as an air wave recorded as far away as the Pacific Coast.

More than 200 splinters, some of which penetrated deep into the earth, have been found.

SHOPLIFTER PUSHED HIS LUCK TOO FAR

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa.—James M. Butler thought he had an original shop-lifting scheme but it wasn't good enough.

Butler entered two stores and lifted a luncheon set, an electric iron and sweater with a total value of $30. Later he returned to the stores and tried to g... a refund, claiming he had bought the goods and was dissatisfied.

The ruse worked the first time. The second time store clerks became suspicious and called police.

BUYS BACK OWN STOLEN ARTICLE

ALHAMBRA, Cal. — The sheriff's office heard this story from the proprietor of an appliance store.

A motor was stolen from a washing machine presumably while everyone was out for coffee.

Later two men entered the store and offered a motor for $15. It seemed a good buy and was purchased.

The proprietor found the motor was the one stolen earlier. The two men had disappeared.

She: "Well, as far as I can see it's a question of marrying for [illegible] for [illegible]."

GEMS OF THOUGHT

PERSONAL PRAISE

Praise, like gold and diamonds, owes its value only to its scarcity. It becomes cheap as it becomes vulgar, and will no longer raise expectation or animate enterprise.—Samuel Johnson.

As the Greek said, many men know how to flatter, few know to praise.—Wendell Phillips.

It is difficult to say which may be most mischievous to the human heart, the praise or the dispraise of men.—Mary Baker Eddy.

It takes a great deal of grace to be able to bear praise. Censure seldom does us much hurt.—Spurgeon.

The praises of others may be of use in teaching us not what we are, but what we ought to be.—Hare.

Think not those faithful who praise all thy words and actions, but those who kindly reprove thy faults.—Socrates.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

by

Don Graham

Is the man who keeps informed on current affairs more likely to succeed?

I believe so. Most of the men I know who hold important jobs are interested in market trends, soil erosion, labor issues, politics and other topics of general importance. They can talk fluently and intelligently about such matters and usually their opinions are definite and well thought out.

This is not a coincidence. Rather, I think, it is an indication of a quality of mind which "thinks big."

"But I'm not interested in politics. They don't concern me," you may say.

The truth is — they do concern you and everyone interested in preserving our democratic way of life. And other vital current issues have a similar bearing on your individual world.

Enlarging our interests in these ways is not only good citizenship; judging by the examples of successful men, it also helps you get ahead.

Wildmere Winks

(This bulletin was written for last week's Standard — allowance should be made for time elapsed.)

One can hardly realize we are into the month of June. The temperature stays so cool and at nights hovers close to the frost line while in England and Europe they are sweltering from the heat. Early gardens and grain that was up has been frozen off. Grain is growing green again and some garden stuff has recovered while others had to be replanted.

We were indeed sorry to hear that another of our old timers has been laid to rest in the person of Mrs. Emmerson Sr. of Thorncliffe. In the last years she was not able to take an interest in worldly affairs. In her younger years and pioneer days any one who entered her door found a friendly warm welcome awaiting them. Deepest sympathy is extended to her daughter Mrs. (Dr.) Miller Elk Point and to her son C. Emmerson of Thorncliffe with whom she made her home since her husband died many years ago. We would like at this time to offer our sympathy to Mrs. C. Emmerson whose mother also passed away a short time ago at Vancouver B.C. Of these two women we would say their kind personalities and good deeds of kindness are monuments that will live on and on among those who knew them best.

Mrs. A. Smith, Bill and Adam motored to Calgary to attend their granddaughter and niece's wedding on Saturday when Yvonne Morand became the bride of Pte. Lloyd Prest who is stationed at Currie Barracks, Calgary. We all wish them many years of happiness.

We noticed in the last Standard that the Wainwright Board of Trade and others attended the Vermilion River council meeting. We hope that our councillor Mr. Teasman does not forget the petitions that have been sent in asking that our road to town be raised up in order to prevent blocking so easily with winter storms. No doubt others need roads but at the present time one that will serve the greatest number of people should be first on the list.

Mrs. Wilson attended the W. I. convention held last week at Calgary. All are eager to hear her report to be given at the W. I. meeting this Wednesday at Mrs. Steele's home in Ryewood.

Noticed around Herman Eyben the proud owner of a new Ford car purchased last week through the Ford dealers in Vermilion. Mr. Pete Jones of Vermilion driving a new [illegible] car. Mrs. Wallington and Kenny [illegible] have been visiting Mrs. C. Cruthers last Wednesday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Whitlock, Margaret and Hazel, Tuesday evening visitors at the Wallington home. Mrs. Cliff Cruthers the owner of a nice new power washing machine. Mr. and Mrs. Abe Friesell and Howard, Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] well and family [illegible] and the writer [illegible] callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Faddies on Sunday. [illegible] former school teacher [illegible] District and [illegible] days. Albert has been [illegible] University in Edmonton [illegible] Wildmere. We are pleased that our Howtell scribe is feeling somewhat better when we spoke to her [illegible] on Monday. We hear several farmers saying a good shower would bring along the grain that is slow in germinating.

A nice crowd [illegible] Sunday morning [illegible] the first Sunday [illegible] Mr. G. Hume. Come out and enjoy his sermons as he is a very good speaker [illegible] It will give him encouragement too in his chosen work. Mr. Hume is from Ontario so attend church and [illegible] him [illegible] service. [illegible]

Most folks are through seeding and summer fallow is starting.

A MOTHER may die unless You give blood
DONORS URGENTLY NEEDED

Of all Canadian women who die in childbirth, every fourth mother dies of hemorrhage. Three-quarters of these mothers can be saved . . . with but a small gift from you.

A great new civilian Blood Transfusion Service has been opened by the Canadian Red Cross. This Service will supply hospital patients across Canada with whole blood and plasma . . . FREE . . . not even a Hospital Service charge, to be used for life-saving transfusions.

Volunteer donors are urgently needed to build up the blood bank. After you register you will be asked to donate blood only two or three times a year. And each time you donate, you help save someone's life and restore that person to friends and loved ones.

Contact your local Red Cross Branch or Clinic and tell them—"Yes, please enroll me as a blood donor. I want to give blood to save someone's life!"

Give blood that others may live

WEDDING BELLS

DONALD—KRELLER

A quiet wedding took place on May 31st at the Mannville United church manse, when Evelyn Kreller youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Kreller of Lumsden, Sask., became the bride of Francis (Frank) Donald of Vermilion. The Rev. K. C. McLeod officiated.

The bride who was given in marriage by her mother, wore a brown gabardine suit and her corsage was of beautiful tea roses. The matron of honor was Mrs. Leo Kreller and the best man was Mr. Leo Kreller, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Kreller, mother of the bride, wore a blue netted dress with corsage of red roses.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kreller with many friends and relatives attending. The bride's table was decorated with a beautiful three-tiered wedding cake made by Mrs. J. R. Robson.

The happy young couple left for a short honeymoon trip after the reception and have now taken up their residence in Vermilion.

Surprise Party Honors Mannville Newlyweds

A surprise party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Myronuik of Mannville who were married recently, was held at their new home on Sunday evening. On behalf of their friends and neighbors present, Mr. W. Osborne presented them with a lovely coffee table and dinner set, wishing them many years of wedded happiness. Games and a gay sing-song were followed by a delicious lunch. Those present were: Dan Allanach, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Arnold and Gary; Mr. and Mrs. W. Fedomko, Lilian, Emil and Veronica; Mr. and Mrs. M. Gousta, Billy, Dennis and Diana, Mr. and Mrs. A. Hubbard and Bruce; Mrs. Jack McLaughlin, Josephine and Eddie; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Metrer, Merilyn and Kenny, Jim Thompson; Mrs. W. Osborne, Bert, Tom and Harry.

Dance at Derwent In Honor of Newlyweds

Mr. and Mrs. V. Christensen of Derwent entertained their many friends at a big dance held in the town hall Friday May 29th in honor of their eldest daughter Irene, whose marriage to Mr. Ray Tone took place in Edmonton the week previous. The hall was filled to capacity and the home crowd enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent.

Irene and Ray were in attendance, driving from Edmonton.

The Christensen family received congratulations as Mr. and Mrs. Christensen celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary a few days previously. Mr. Christensen is the mayor of the village of Derwent and is the owner and proprietor of the Derwent creamery.

Every success and all good wishes are extended to the newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Tone and to Mr. and Mrs. Christensen for the future.

The Clandonald orchestra furnished very good music and a happy evening closed with a delicious lunch.

Canadian Utilities Submit Offer for Town Power Plant

Desire to Locate 4,000-K.W. Steam Plant Here

AFTER BIG INCREASE IN RATES —$115,000 CASH — TAKE OVER NEW BOILER OBLIGATIONS (approximately $50,000)—EMPLOY ALL MEMBERS OF PRESENT STAFF — RETURN PRESENT BUILDING AND CENTRAL STEAM HEATING SYSTEM TO TOWN FREE WHEN NEW PLANT READY—ESTIMATED TAXES ON NEW PLANT $6000.

The following are the minutes of the special meeting of the town council held Thursday evening June 12th with Mayor Morrison and Councillors Boake, Dawson, Kehoe, Stack, Urquhart, Stephens present.

Messrs. J. MacGregor and G. Gud[illegible] of the Canadian Utilities were present, and Supt. John Wiebe of the local power plant.

Mr. MacGregor outlined his Company's plans for a 4000 K.W. steam generating plant to be built in Eastern Alberta, preferably at Vermilion, if the Company is able to reach an agreement for the purchase of the Town power plant and secure a ten year franchise. The new power plant would employ 15 men with an annual payroll in excess of $30,000.

The revised propsal presented to Council was as follows:

1. The Canadian Utilities were prepared to buy the town plant at $115,000.00.

2. Take over the town contract with Babcock-Wilcox for the new boiler ($41,192 F.O.B. cars, Vermilion) and pay all installation costs, estimated at $8,000 to $9,000.

3. Give Vermilion consumers the following rates for electric light and power —

Residence

Demand charge 50c per month

Energy charge per month—

First 25 K.W.H. at 7c Per K.W.H.

Balance at 2½c per K.W.H.

Minimum monthly bill $1.25.

[illegible]

Demand charge—First 1000 watts of connected load 50c; Each additional 1000 watts of connected load 50c.

Energy charge per month—

First 50 K.W.H. at 6c per K.W.H.

Next 200 K.W.H. at 5c per K.W.H.

Balance at 2½c per K.W.H.

Minimum monthly bill equals demand charge but not less than $1.25.

Power — 3 Phase Service

Demand charge — Nil.

Energy charge per month—

First 25 K.W.H. per H.P. connected at 7c per K.W.H.

Next 50 K.W.H. per H.P. connected at 4c per K.W.H.

Balance K.W.H. per H.P. connected at 2c per K.W.H.

Minimum monthly bill $1 per H.P. but not less than $2.

4. Supply steam heat to the town for $4500 per year (the town to collect from its customers as usual) as long as the Company operates the town plant. When the new plant begins operation, the Company will turn back to the town, gratis, the plant property, together with a boiler and all equipment necessary to operate the steam system. They will also install an automatic water control and with the automatic gas control as at present, the town can operate the steam heating system for approximately $6,000 per year. As 1946 receipts were $6,967.78, this would leave a small margin of operating profit as well as giving the town complete ownership of the plant and the steam heating system.

5. Employ all members of present power plant staff with full participation in the Company Pension scheme, sickness and accident coverage and group life insurance.

6. Purchase all new poles, wire, transformers and [illegible] stock at invoice price in addition to plant purchase price.

7. Locate new plant in town limits subject to regular taxation, estimated at $6,000 per year minimum, and build small dam for cooling ponds that will in no way interfere with C.N.R. water supply, Town water supply, Town sewage disposal plant, or Town leased swimming pool.

8. Supply street lights as at present for approximately $1,800 per year and replace light poles with iron standards set in from the curb throughout the business section of the town.

Rates for street lighting as follows:

First 40 100W lamps at $1.75 per lamp per month.

Excess 100W lamps at $1.50 per lamp per month.

Each 200W lamp at 4.75 per lamp per month.

Each 500W lamp at $5.50 per lamp per month.

Window Lighting and Sign Lighting 1½c per watt per month with a minimum of $1.50.

Mr. MacGregor agreed to prepare a formal franchise agreement and submit to the Council for their consideration by June 26th.

Meeting adjourned.

St. Saviour's Church Is Scene of Pretty Wedding Saturday

[illegible]—TAYLOR

A pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Saviour's church, Vermilion, on Saturday June 14th at 2 p.m. when Miss Barbara Ernestine Taylor, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Raymond Taylor, became the bride of Mr. George David McPhee, only son of Mr. and Mrs. David McPhee of Clandonald. Ven. Archdeacon Leversedge D.D. performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of white satin with floor-length net veil. She carried a bouquet of red roses and her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, a gift of the groom.

Miss Dorothy Taylor attended her sister as bridesmaid. She wore a gown of sky-blue marquisette and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Best man was Mr. Norman McPhee, cousin of the groom, and ushers were Mr. John Taylor and Mr. Lorne McPhee. Mrs. Charles English officiated at the organ and during the signing of the register Miss Jean McPhee, sister of the groom, sang "Through the Years".

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Taylor chose a two-piece ensemble of turquoise blue and white, with a corsage of white gladioli and pink carnations. Mrs. McPhee, mother of the groom, wore a dress of blue and white flowered jersey with a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served in the Brunswick hotel to thirty guests. The bridal toast was proposed by Ven. Archdeacon Leversedge and responded to by the groom. Shortly afterwards the young couple left for a wedding trip to the coast. For travelling, the bride wore a pale blue dressmaker suit with navy and pearl grey accessories.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Barry Brewer of Wainwright, Mr. and Mrs. John David of Streamstown and Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor of Edmonton.

The bride is a graduate of the Royal Alexandra School of Nursing, and the groom is a graduate of the Vermilion school of agriculture.

Farm Women's Week At the V.S.A.

The attention of Alberta Farm Women is again directed to the annual summer Short Course at the Vermilion school of agriculture popularly known as "Farm Women's Week". The dates are from July 3rd to July 9th.

Advance applications for the course indicate that a heavy registration can be expected. Since a definite limit is placed on the numbers that may be accepted, those intending to make application are advised to do so well in advance of the opening date before the classes are completely filled.

The course consists of lectures and demonstrations on timely household topics including Foods, Nutrition, Handicrafts and Sewing, with some time devoted to other topics of interest to farm women such as gardening, poultry and household repairs. Comfortable accommodation is provided in the school dormitory at a rate of $1.50 per day for board and room.

Requests for complete information and application form may be sent to the Principal, School of Agriculture, Vermilion, or to the Department of Agriculture, Parliament Bldgs., Edmonton.

Speaker Available For Ladies' Meetings

Interesting Topics Suggested

The Women's Extension service of the Dept. of Agriculture have recently announced that Miss Christine McIntyre will be in this district in the month of August. Miss McIntyre will be speaking on "Happy Family Living" — 1. Ingredients of Family Morale, 2. Growing Up—Whose Responsibility; 3. Building Personality, 4. Balanced Living; 5. Legal Status of [illegible].

Miss Mary Hawreluk of the school of agriculture, Vermilion, will also be available in August for two or three day sewing courses.

Any women's organizations in this area who are interested in these topics, may obtain further information and make the necessary arrangements with Miss Long in the D.A.'s office.

Graduation Exercises Held by High School

GRADE 12 STUDENTS FETED AT BANQUET AND DANCE

JEAN ROBSON VALEDICTORIAN

Grade 12 students were guests of honor at a banquet and dance held in the Elks hall on Friday evening last June 13th. The affair was a fitting climax to their high school years and hosts for the occasion were the Grade XI students and their teacher Miss M. Knapp.

The event was well attended by the students, their parents and other interested citizens of the town and district. Catering was by the ladies of the Anglican Auxiliary and the manner in which the tables were set and decorated and the excellence of the meal served, is well worthy of special mention.

Following the invocation by the Rev. F. S. Reikie, the toast to "The King" was proposed by the chairman Mr. W. G. Hay. Fred Krause of Gr. XI paid tribute to the departing Gr. XII in a fitting toast. This brought forth a reply on behalf of the graduates by Alex Morrison. Charlie Stephen, president of the students union, reviewed the year's extra-curricula activities.

The honor of delivering the valedictorian address fell to Miss Jean Robson whose record of achievements during her high school years, has probably never been surpassed.

Principal W. G. Hay came in for some remarks at this point in the program and then presented the awards to various students based on their scholastic, athletic and administrative record for the school year. The awards were as follows:

Anglican W.A. Held Annual Deanery Meeting, Vermilion

Life Membership Certificate and Pin Presented to Mrs. S. R. P. Cooper

The eleventh annual Women's Auxiliary meeting of the Vermilion Deanery was held here on Tuesday June 10th with a very representative attendance. Three Diocesan officers, Mrs. S. P. Tackaberry of Edmonton, the president, the vice-president Mrs. Cole of Mannville and Mrs. C. H. Harris, life members secretary, were present.

The sessions commenced with a corporate Communion service at 11 a.m. at St. Saviour's church. The celebrant was the Rev. W. J. Brant of Clandonald, assisted by the Rev. Vincent Cole of Mannville. The Rev. H. Brant of Vegreville officiated at the organ.

Following the singing of the first hymn, a Life Membership pin and certificate were presented to Mrs. S. R. P. Cooper, the gift of the St. Saviour's Branch of the Women's Auxiliary, in recognition of Mrs. Cooper's long and faithful service. She has been a member of the W. A. since the year 1907.

A very thoughtful and inspiring address was given by the Rev. V. Cole of Mannville.

The Deanery president was in the chair. Splendid reports were heard from all branches. Following the reports the Diocesan President Mrs. Tackaberry and other officers addressed the gathering leaving those present with many things to think over.

Election of officers was held for the Vermilion Deanery. Mrs. Rutherford of Mannville was re-elected president, Miss Grace Bury of Vermilion re-elected secretary, and Mrs. V. Cole of Mannville elected vice-president.

The guest speaker following the business session was Mrs. E. Acheson of the Vermilion school of agriculture, who took the ladies on an imaginary trip to South America showing many souvenirs collected during her stay in that area.

Following votes of thanks, the meeting closed with prayer and the benediction by the Ven. Archdeacon Leversedge.

During the afternoon tea was served by the members of the Mannville branch.

ELKS TRANS-CANADA BALL ON JUNE 24th

ENTIRE GROSS PROCEEDS FOR DESTITUTE CHILDREN

On Tuesday next, June 24th, the local Elks lodge will hold their third annual "Trans Canada" ball, the entire gross proceeds of which will be donated to the Save the Children fund. This annual dance is held by all of the Elks lodges right across the Dominion during the month of June, and as a result thousands of dollars are devoted to a very worthy cause—the rehabilitation of orphan children in Great Britain and Europe.

Vermilion Elks have generously supported the Save the Children fund for many years now, and the selling of tickets for this dance is the only way they ask the public to help in the support of this fund—so be generous—buy a ticket or two even if you do not attend the dance. By so doing you help a destitute child in the battle of life.

Large Bequest To Red Cross Branch

In a recent report regarding Red Cross donations the Standard reported that the local branch of the Red Cross had been bequested from $15 to $20 from the estate of the late Robert McPhee. This should have been a bequest of from $1000 to $2000. The late Mr. McPhee very generously divided his estate between several welfare organizations.

The population of the electoral district of Battle River decreased in the five-year period from 1941 to 1946 according to the five-year prairie census. The population in 1941 was 40,4[illegible] and in 1946 was 36,436. A decrease of slightly more than 4000.

Daylight Train Will Be Discontinued

LAST RUN SUNDAY, JUNE 29th

Trains 63 and 64, commonly known as the daylight train operating between Lloydminster and Edmonton, will be discontinued on June 28 and 29. The last trip east will be Saturday and the final trip west Sunday.

Insufficient support by the travelling public was given as the reason for taking off the train service, patronage having fallen off greatly since the spring and summer season started.

OFFICERS INSPECT AIR CADETS

Annual inspection of Squadron No. 97 Vermilion Air Cadets, was carried out at the public school grounds last Thursday evening.

On the platform were Squadron Leader Beggs, reviewing officer, Flt. Lt Ferguson, air cadet liaison officer; Eric Duggan, north Alberta civilian representative of the Alberta Cadet League, a former wing commander, Flt. Walker, commanding officer and Flt Riddington, adjutant of No. 97 squadron, Mayor Morrison and Capt Carey.

F/S Ralph Dushell was in charge of the ... drill and under his command ... a very creditable display ... by the cadets.

S/L Beggs and Mr Eric Duggan offered their congratulations to F/S Ralph Dushell on his selection as a member of the air cadet party to represent Canada on his trip overseas this summer.

The WEATHER

Last Friday June 13th was the hottest day of the year when 90 was registered. The cool spot was Monday night with 37.

Rainfall in June to date has amounted to 1.45 inches. Heaviest day's rain was last Saturday with .47 inches, Sunday's shower was .39 and last Friday June 13, .29 inches fell.

Geoff says "certainly do enjoy getting the Standard every week", also that their Elks lodge took the travelling gavel to Camrose lodge a few weeks ago and who should be there but Bob Tutham, Mel Seibben and Clarence Andersen. The latter just happened to be travelling through. The lodge meeting almost turned out to be "Vermilion night".

Chatsworth Chatter

Scattered showers on Friday 13th were followed by a heavy all-day rain on Saturday. This was very welcome and after Monday's warmth gardens and crops can be almost seen growing.

Cutworms are hard at work in some gardens.

The school children went to Ottawa last Friday afternoon to play ball and came out on the short end of a 16-9 score. Miss Monaghan took them all in Lowrie's truck and they report an enjoyable outing.

There was no church service on Sunday evening as the roads were too muddy. There is to be morning service at 11 M.S.T. on Sunday 22nd.

Mr and Mrs. M. Tovell attended the banquet in the Elks hall last Friday held in honor of the Gr. 12 graduates.

On Thursday 12th there was an A.F.I. meeting at the school with 11 members present. Mr Hunt was appointed chairman in the absence of the president R. Branham. The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted, financial statement also, followed by a general discussion of the binder twine business etc. The next meeting is to be held on July 9th and all members and prospective members are requested to attend for the purpose of electing new president, raising membership so that Chatsworth local may be represented by several delegates at the District Convention in Vermilion on July 24th and allotting the rebate on binder twine purchased last fall.

Miss Monaghan is holding a dance at the school this Friday June 20th.

VERMILION - - ALBERTA
ESTABLISHED 1906
Published Every Thursday Afternoon At the Office, Main St.
S. R. P. COOPER — PUBLISHER

Vermilion, Alberta, June 19th, 1947.

The Standard does not propose to delve deeply into the proposal of the Canadian Utilities to purchase the electrical franchise and power plant of the town of Vermilion until time has allowed a more thorough study and review of this important and admittedly critical matter. This paper does feel that the members of the town council have secured the very best offer possible and that they are due for considerable praise and commendation for carrying on the negotiations until all of their points were gained.

To the citizen it should be noted that a considerable change has come over the picture since the last plebiscite years ago. This being the case it would be well if all past prejudices pro and con, all theories, ideologies, which are apt to sway judgment be discarded and a decision reached based on apparent facts and business reasoning as applied to the situation in Vermilion.

"Green Acres" was received this week just too late to allow setting of same. This popular column will be back in its usual place in the Standard next week.

MORRISON NEWS

(This news bulletin was crowded out last week. Due allowance should be made for time elapsed.)

The tea held at the home of the writer was enjoyed by all. We were very glad to have the Islay ladies present. The Morrison ladies in turn hope to attend the tea to be held at Mrs. Bushell's.

Mr Shaw is now busy repairing the Pleasant Valley church. The club has raised enough money to get the lobby fixed up and church goers will be glad to hear this.

Congratulations to Alex Impett on his winning one of the major prizes at the Lloydminster show and sale. It is nice that someone is taking an interest in pure bred stock.

The holiday week end of June 6 and 9 caused a lot of excitement over fishing. We understand that it was good fishing weather but as yet we are still wondering.

A lot of people are being bothered by cut worms this year and many are buying fish worms to put into their gardens to kill the cut worms. They say they do wonders too.

On Monday Christie Gould entertained a few ladies at tea including Mrs John Maire, Jerry and Jimmy, Mrs McFadden and Marion, Mrs Bowser, Lila Bowser and Kenny Gunn, Mrs B Gould, Jean Indman, Betty Gillies and Patsy Dubé.

Watch for further news regarding a supper which will be held soon.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Minerva's Basket

By ELAINE FRANCIS

MINERVA Miller on her way to stay with the Jordan children paused in front of Decker's Antique shop. By scrunching her neck she could see her clock and its price tag. Twenty-five dollars! When she had sold her possessions to defray the expense of papa's funeral, Decker had begrudgingly given her three. Well, that was the way of the world and no sense complaining. She was a very lucky woman to have found her niche this late in life, and luckier to have saved almost twenty-five dollars from her baby-sitting fees. She stared longingly at the ornate mass of black onyx with cherubs entwined around its base and yearned for tomorrow when it would again be hers.

Mrs. Jordan, a picture in pale yellow and sables, was standing beside her car when Minerva arrived. "Oh, there you are," she called with relief. "I'll be at the Civic Convention, Hotel Taft, if you need me. Mr. Jordan's staying in town so you won't have to fuss. Just give the children bacon and eggs and put them to bed early. I'll be home tomorrow afternoon. And with that she was gone.

The eight-year-old twins came shrilling out of the house. "How's Minerva, the wise old owl," Billy shrieked, dancing around her.

"Fine," Minerva replied, "and glad to see you." Knowing from past experience how hard it was to amuse them, she suggested taking a walk.

"I won't go," Molly said flatly. "I want to stay right here." She sat on a [illegible] folding chair, her lips petulant and her large eyes staring.

"Those dopey Ryan kids down the block," Billy explained, "are having a party and didn't invite us. Molly doesn't want them to see us. Billy goop, who cares?"

But it was clear that he too cared. Why weren't they invited, Minerva wondered, the Jordans were as prosperous and respectable as any of the other families. The answer came as she looked at them. Billy's untidy hair was desperately in need of cutting, his heels were run down and his pants torn. Little Molly's blonde curls were dreadfully tangled in two braids and her dress showed a good two inches of ragged underpants. You'd think they came from the slums, she decided angrily. And all because Mrs. Jordan was so busy with her clubs and committees. They were really good children but others as good had been ruined by neglect.

At least they were spotless and their hair brushed to a gleam when they went to bed. But long after they had fallen asleep, Minerva sat by the fire, mending their clothes. But it was a hopeless task, they needed complete new wardrobes and motherly attention. Poor darlings, no wonder people called them hoodlums. If only Mrs. Jordan's interest was aroused, there would be great changes. Perhaps, if her pride was hurt... Suddenly an idea popped into her brain but it involved a risk and the spending of all her money, that Minerva tried to dismiss it. Could she, after all her scrimping, give up the clock? The faces of the twins rose before her eyes and she felt ashamed of her hesitation.

The next morning after leaving the children at school, she entered a grocery store on a side street. One she knew Mrs. Jordan never patronized.

Nervously patting her white hair into place under her shabby blue hat, she told the bored clerk to make up a basket. "Nineteen dollars of oranges, bread, canned vegetables and a chicken," she said, placing the money on the counter. A simple bow, no card, to be delivered to the Jordan children on Maple Street. Leaning forward she whispered, "It's a joke, you understand, more of a homecoming than a Bon Voyage." And stammering slightly, she added, "Promise never to tell who ordered it. That would spoil everything." The clerk, slightly dazed, agreed.

Having completed her mission, she went back to Main Street walking rapidly with head averted past Mr. Decker's shop. Foolish, no doubt, but she could not bear to see her cherished clock. Its chimes rang out as she passed the open door, and her heart sank. Perhaps in another two months.

But if Mrs Jordan found out what Minerva had done, her baby-sitting career would be over. For a second she was tempted to run back to the grocery store and cancel the order. And what about those poor children, were they to be allowed to grow up ragged and untended, developing all kinds of complexes? Squaring her thin shoulders, Minerva marched on briskly.

Molly and Billy ignored the basket except to swipe some plums but it electrified Mrs Jordan on her arrival. "What is this doing here?" she demanded.

"I'm not quite sure," Minerva replied almost truthfully, for at this minute it seemed a crazy idea. "It came addressed to the children. From some organization, I believe."

"What on earth do you mean?" Mrs Jordan gasped.

"The delivery boy said," [illegible] continued lying painfully, "[illegible] club helping the under-privileged."

"Underprivileged". Mrs. Jordan screamed. "Miss Miller, you must be mad."

Secretly, Minerva agreed. Fortunately the twins, whom she had purposely not fussed over, came running in to create a noisy diversion. For the first time Minerva saw their mother take a long hard look at them. "You're sloppy," Mrs. Jordan said sharply, "march right upstairs. I'll be up in a second to wash you." And to Minerva: "Here is your money, Miss Miller. Why not take some fruit home with you. Obviously there's been a mistake but since you don't know the name of the store, I can hardly return it."

Minerva noted the uncertainty in her voice. The mere idea of anyone considering her children among the needy had rocked her to the toes.

She was not surprised, therefore to receive a call from Mrs. Jordan cancelling her services for future dates. "I'm taking the children shopping today and resigning from a number of committees," she explained. "Chairmanships entail too heavy a load."

My meddling, Minerva thought, always results in lessening of my "carriage" trade. But she smiled happily. In other ways it had paid to put all her eggs in one basket.

EX-PRINCE ASKS RENT DECREASE—Ex-Prince Carl Johann Bernadotte, shown here with the girl for whom he renounced his rights to the Swedish throne, appealed to court for a cut in rent on his New York apartment because "we found rats". The nephew of King Gustaf of Sweden said his landlady failed to carry out promises to decorate the duplex apartment after he signed a two-year lease at $8,000 a year. "Every time we went to the food bin we found rats," said the former Mrs. Kerstin Wijmark, 36-year-old Swedish divorcee for whom the ex-prince renounced his royal rights.

SELECTED
RECIPES

CRISPY TURNOVERS

Cream-cheese pastry and jam—a perfect pair!

1½ cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup shortening
½ package (3 ounces) cream cheese
2 tablespoons top milk or evaporated milk
¼ cup jam or jelly

Sift flour once, measure, add salt and sift again. Cream together shortening until pieces are about the size of small peas. Then add milk and blend.

Roll out on lightly floured board to ⅛ inch thickness. Cut with floured 3 inch round cutter. Place 1 teaspoon jam or jelly on each round. Fold over and press edges together with fork. Place on ungreased baking sheet and bake in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) 15 minutes or until done. Makes 1 dozen turnovers.

STRAWBERRY JAM ICE CREAM

Smooth ice cream with fresh fruit flavor

2 teaspoons granulated gelatin
¼ cup cold milk
1¼ cups hot milk
1 cup strawberry jam
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¾ cup light cream or evaporated milk

Place gelatin in bowl, add cold milk and mix well. Add hot milk and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add remaining ingredients and mix until blended.

Turn into freezing tray of automatic refrigerator, setting control for coldest freezing temperature. When partially frozen, remove from tray and beat with rotary egg beater until fluffy and smooth. Return to tray and freeze 30 minutes longer, etc. Then freeze until firm. Freezing time 3 to 4 hours. Makes 1¼ quarts.

ORIGIN OF PHRASE

Boats were used to build emergency bridges for use in wartime. The bridges were burned as the retreat went on when an army had to give way, and thus we got the phrase "to burn one's bridges". 2739

BRITISH MARKET ASSURED FOR CANADIAN LUMBER

VANCOUVER. — Sir Frederick Bain, deputy chairman of the Imperial Industries, president of the Federation of British Industries, and one of the United Kingdom's most prominent industrialists, sees no chance of Britain's buying lumber from anywhere but Canada in the near future.

Visiting Vancouver for the Foreign Trade Week here, Sir Frederick discounted reports that Russia will or could supply Britain with lumber.

"Russia is using all its own lumber and is taking all that Norway, Finland and surrounding countries have," he said.

Canadian lumber is badly needed in Great Britain and the demand will continue for years, he added. Lumber is so scarce that the repair and building program is in difficulties in the United Kingdom. Houses have to be built with no wood on the main floor, and experiments are being made with aluminum dwellings.

Sir Frederick, head of one of the world's largest chemical concerns, thinks that Canada could quite profitably adopt an immigration program.

Japanese Now Want Taller Mates

TOKYO — Japanese men and women are seeking taller mates since they've had a chance to admire the six-footers in the American army of occupation, according to Japan's foremost marriage consultant.

Mrs Tokuro Sato who works for the Japanese government's marriage consultation bureau, says the desire for added height is found in both male and female customers.

She should know. In the past four years she has personally found mates for 1,000 applicants.

The average five foot five Japanese is uncomfortable in the presence of his girl friend since the tall Americans came to Tokyo, according to Mrs. Sato.

The male taste for a tall wife seems to be founded in a wish for taller offspring, she said.

Second Series Of "Baby" Bonds Will Be Issued

OTTAWA. — The government said that it was considering offering a second series of "baby" bonds this fall which were inaugurated last year to replace victory loans during the war.

A return tabled for Thomas Reid (L.—New Westminster) said:

"It is clear that the Canada savings bonds received a welcome and widespread response last year as an avenue for encouraging and assisting regular savings programs of individuals and of providing a safe and readily redeemable small savings bond.

"It appears desirable to continue to provide facilities for such purposes, and it has been decided in principle, therefore, that a second series will be offered this autumn. Details of the issue have not been finally worked out, but will be announced at some appropriate time in the future."

Caught Trout Without Hook

LEWISTON, Ida.—John Olson, 15 was wading in the Clear-Water River when he became frightened by the ugly mouth of a steelhead trout. He grabbed a rock and let fly with perfect aim.

While walking home, the lad had six offers to buy the 12-pound 36-inch trout, but became worried about having taken it without pole and hook.

"I thought sure the fish was going to bite," he said.

"Obviously self-defence," ruled game warden Harry Palmer.

In the 17th century the Turks imposed the death penalty for smoking.

Dominion Will Aid Land Development

Increased development of farm lands from British Columbia to Nova Scotia may be undertaken with federal assistance as the result of a government announcement in the House of Commons by the Right Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Dominion Minister of Agriculture.

The Dominion government is prepared to discuss with the provinces concerned plans under which development could proceed over a period to be agreed upon, sufficiently long to bring about the desired results, but not to exceed five years.

Among the possible projects are reclamation of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick dykelands, flood control, land drainage and irrigation in British Columbia, the clearing and breaking of new land for farming all across Canada.

"Any expenditure of money on these projects will be brought before Parliament and legalized through an item on the estimates," said Mr. Gardiner.

In making this announcement, Mr. Gardiner said that the Government has decided not to extend the principles of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act beyond the established drought and soil-drifting PFRA area in the three prairie provinces.

DELEGATION WAITS ON HON. W. A. FALLOW

Delegates from Vermilion, Clandonald, Cold Lake and Elk Point Boards of Trade and from the Alberta Salt Co. Ltd., interviewed Hon W A Fallow, Minister of Public Works, on Wednesday June 4th at 9.30 a.m. to urge the construction of a highway from Vermilion to Elk Point and thence north to Bonnyville and Cold Lake, with a bridge crossing the Saskatchewan River at Elk Point. The delegation presented a brief signed by Elk Point, Vermilion, Clandonald, Wainwright, Derwent, Rosyth, Cold Lake and Bonnyville Boards of Trade, Alberta Farmers Union Locals No. 60 and 94, J. W. Beaudry M.L.A. Village of Elk Point, Town of Wainwright, United Commercial Travellers of America, Edmonton Council No. 407 and by the Alberta Salt Company. Among other points, the briefs stressed the need for the project in encouraging tourist traffic, and to fulfil a vital need in this section of the province. W. R. Cornish, M.L.A. introduced the members of the delegation to the minister, and Mr R. F. Beattie of Elk Point acted as spokesman for the group. In replying to the delegation, Mr Fallow pointed out the very critical shortage of steel at the present time but said consideration would be given to the project as soon as materials become more readily available. The delegation expressed its thanks for his consideration.

Delegates who attended were R.E. Beattie, Dr. F. G. Miller, Dmetro Stetsko, Elk Point; Melvin Hill and Kenneth Urquhart, Vermilion; M Conway, Clandonald, R. Ogilvie Cold Lake; C. N. Robinson Secretary, Alberta Salt Company and W. R. Cornish, M.L.A.

RATIONS REMOVED

Dairy products of all kinds including butter have been removed from the rationed list as well as honey, jams, marmalades.

ETHELWYN

The people hereabouts are still talking about roads. Since last writing the grader has been over our east and west road. It seems to be a case of being thankful for small mercies as we are not going to get a high grade this year if ever. A delegation from the district went to Vermilion last week to attend the council meeting of the Vermilion River M.D., at least that was their intention, but they got no further than an ante room where Mr. Lambie talked with them. He explained that the M.D. receives a government grant for roads. Only a small portion of this can be spent on side roads but every cent possible must be spent on market roads. All very well but what good is a market road when the largest percentage of the people have to travel miles over well nigh impassable roads to reach "the market road". As for the bill for snow plowing, it is not going to be paid. Mr Grant is simply out the money he spent on the road last winter. This seems most unfair to a man who is paying taxes on at least 2 quarter sections. Everyone knows the dangerous condition of the road along Cameron Lake, trees have grown so high that vision is limited to but a few feet ahead. Nothing is to be done about that either. Some of us simply must use this road to reach town including our faithful mail carrier Mr Gratton. We are glad to note that other newspapers have reprinted our article on the poor state of the country roads.

Milton Lee recently demonstrated a triple seaman tiller on the farm of Jack Grant Jr. The machine is for taking out quack grass. Mr Grant was so well pleased with the machine that he bought one at once. Better not take out all the quack grass Jack —If we can't get roads to haul over we might have to stop producing and we may be reduced to eating grass. It is food for thought you know.

Mrs. Hill and baby daughter of Edmonton are visiting the former's parents, Mr and Mrs. Mulgrew.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Godwer of Edmonton spent several days last week at the home of the former's sister, Mrs Roddy MacDonald and family.

Mrs. Martin McBride tripped and fell while at the Allandale ice cream social and suffered a broken arm. She is now in the Islay hospital.

Rest the Eyes

Rest your eyes at frequent intervals when doing close work. Look at a blank wall, or some distant object. Use your eyes sparingly during illness or convalescence when they are particularly susceptible to fatigue and always read with adequate steady light properly located. Avoid reading in bed for extended periods or in moving vehicles. These tips of sight saving come from National Health authorities.

A recent purchase of 48 new diesel electric locomotive units brings the number in use at CNR terminals throughout the country to 127.

TO BE POPULAR insist on serving Maxwell House coffee. It's packed 2 ways. In Super-Vacuum Tin (Drip or Regular Grind) or Glassine-lined Bag (All Purpose Grind).

Prince Edward Island's 1,000,000 bushel potato contract with the United Kingdom has been filled, Premier Jones said.

Short-term commissions have been granted in the regular Royal Canadian Navy to 22 air crew officers of the R.C.N. (Reserve).

New industries developed in India during or since the war include machine tools, heavy chemicals, plastics and medical supplies.

A census to determine the number of moose in Canada, will be taken in the near future by zoologists of the Royal Ontario museum.

A man repairing the foundations of his house in Lucknow, India, unearthed 700 old silver coins, some of them bearing the year mark 1370 A.D.

About 10 workers clearing up the debris of the former German air ministry in Berlin were buried when parts of the building collapsed.

A British watchmaking firm sent by airmail a popular-priced watch to Mohandas K. Gandhi, who lost the dollar watch that had dangled from his loin cloth for 20 years.

The Portuguese Government is giving a £1,400,000 contract to British shipbuilders for the repair and modernization of the Portuguese destroyer squadron within three years.

The junior board of trade of Vancouver, for the second straight year, was awarded the highest achievement award at the national convention of junior boards of trade in Montreal.

The custom of autograph hunting is claimed to have its origin as early as the 14th century.

"COUGAR COLLEGE" STARTED IN B.C.

VANCOUVER—Something unusual in the way of education will be undertaken by the British Columbia government shortly when a school for cougar Hunters is opened on Vancouver Island.

The "Cougar College" will be part of the B.C. game commission's new predatory animal control plan and its head will be Jimmy Dewar, Chief Game Warden for B.C., who has gained the reputation of "King of the Cougar Hunters".

Dewar, who stays on the trail until "I get the cat", left here on a little business trip—to hunt and kill a ferocious male cougar on nearby Bowen Island which has been reported causing damage to property and endangering livestock.

Hunter of the dangerous puma for 30 years, Dewar will have at the school five cougar hounds imported at $500 each, from Arizona to form a nucleus for scientifically planned kennels to breed cougar hounds.

Big Cuban Crop May Boost Sugar

OTTAWA.—Depressing reports on the domestic sugar beet crop due to frost and late seeding have failed as yet to sour a generally bright picture on the consumer sugar front.

Most important "good" news is that the big Cuban crop is running a good 10 per cent. better than forecast. This means at least six million, instead of 5.5 million tons from that one country. It means that the "phantom" allotment made by the allocation authorities some months back may actually be realized. It means very likely that the extra dividend promised Canadian housewives later this year will materialize.

The "phantom" allocation amounted to about 800,000 tons. It was sugar which was allocated without being supported by any actual supply. It was a device to enable the Americans to announce their politically-desired allocation of 93 pounds per capita for 1947.

Because of the larger-than-expected crops in Cuba and other areas, this phantom supply will now most likely be realized. Thus if Canada is successful in shortly obtaining physical delivery from Cuba of her entire allotment, she will be in a comfortable position relative to the present ration and future action by United States toward decontrol. Much of Canada's share of the Cuban crop is already here in Canada.

63,637 DWELLINGS BUILT IN CANADA IN 1946

OTTAWA. — A revised figure of earlier estimates puts the number of new dwelling units created in Canada for 1946 at 63,637, compared with 48,000 for 1945, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics announced. The new total for 1946 is a revision of a preliminary estimate of 62,600.

The 1946 total comprises 48,700 single dwellings, 2,456 units in semi-detached or doubles, 510 in rows or terraces, 1,748 in duplexes, 687 in triplexes, 2,200 in apartments or flats, 2,486 in business premises and apartments, 11 other types, and 4,808 in conversions or reconversions.

WALKING RECORD

The walking record for the trip from New York to San Francisco was made by Abraham L. Monteverde, of Mays Landing, N.J., in 1929. The record was 79 days, 10 hours and 10 minutes for the 3,415 miles covered.

BREAKFAST WITH A FLOURISH — Breakfast need not be just a family affair. Make it gala, and ask your neighbor's weekend guests over for Sunday brunch. It'll give her a rest, you the opportunity to make this Orange Coffee Cake. Something special to eat, something simple to bake.

Orange Coffee Cake

3 tablespoons shortening
½ cup sugar
1 egg, well-beaten
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
1½ cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup orange juice
½ cup milk
¼ teaspoon almond extract

• • • • •

1 cup corn flakes
2 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
¼ teaspoon allspice
1 tablespoon melted butter

Blend shortening and sugar thoroughly. Add egg, beat well. Stir in grated rind and flavoring. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Add to creamed mixture alternately with orange juice and milk, being very careful not to over-mix. Spread in greased baking pan.

Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs; mix with sugar, orange rind, allspice and butter. Sprinkle over coffee cake. Bake in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) 30 minutes. Yield: 9 squares (8x8-inch pan). 2730

Woman Mayor Shows Authority

SOAP LAKE, Wash. — Mayor Maggie Waltho, who fired the town marshal and took away his station wagon, reckons "a woman can take care of this one-horse town. I'll be the marshal until a better one comes along."

The 270-pound Mrs. Waltho is the key figure in a lively "one-horse-town" controversy.

"Maggie the Mayor" said recently that she had asked for Marshal James Riggs' resignation. Riggs wife said it was because he had confiscated 10 punchboards at two taverns.

This the mayor denied indignantly.

In a fourth-class town, what the mayor says goes, she asserted. And it's the town marshal that goes this time.

Will the new mayor-marshal carry a weapon?

Irish don't carry guns, she explained. If necessary I'll carry a shillelagh.

MIGHT BE WORSE

Woman Magazine says in England men who helped with the housework during the war found it wasn't half so bad as women picture it, actually most women love housework because they can come and go as they like. Those are the opinions of Sir Thomas Bennett, Britain's wartime comptroller of temporary housing.

In early times the equivalent of the modern hairpin was called a "bodkin."

VETERANS MARKET GOWNS MADE FROM FLOUR SACKS

VANCOUVER. — "Looking like a flour sack" need not be a derogatory term any more since three Second World War veterans formed the McQueen, White & Dickinson Co., to compete in the fashion world.

They had noticed the drab, ragged garments worn by people in war-ravaged and impoverished countries and decided on their new idea—colored flour sacks which could be turned into wearing apparel after the flour was delivered.

First they made a survey into the preferences of the different countries and then purchased 20,000 yards of the colorful, dual-purpose sacks in three designs: flowered, striped and plain.

Now milady in China, Greece, Poland, South America and the Philippines is proudly showing off the latest word in flour sack frocks — made in Vancouver.

Ontario To Have Two License Plates In 1948

TORONTO. — For the first time since 1943 Ontario motor vehicles will have licence plates front and rear, next year the Ontario Highways Department announced in connection with awarding the contract for the plates to the Ontario Reformatory at Guelph. The 1948 plates will carry "easy to read" white letters and figures, on a navy-blue background.

WOODVALE

Some good showers fell over the district and we hope that more will come before this news gets into print, as it is badly needed to give the crops around here a chance

We extend congratulations to four families on the birth of babies: Mr. and Mrs. Pringle Galloway, a daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Wes Pennell, a boy; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hobbis, a daughter, all of the Union district, and to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Young, formerly of Hindville, a boy. Mrs. Young stayed with her parents Mr. and Mrs. T. Preston for the past few weeks and will follow her husband later to Lloydminster where he is in the trucking business with his brother-in-law Carl Sampson.

Five pupils will write Gr. X exams at Watson school next week. Joan Green of the Woodvale school is one of them. She took all her lessons by correspondence and will stay at the home of Mrs. Dixon while writing her exams

There has been a change in places for our Red Cross meetings, so members and friends please note, that the July meeting will be held at the home of Ruby Thomson on July 9th. The quilt to be made is a very large one with small patches and it is hoped there will be a large attendance as it [illegible]. The August meeting will be at the home of Mrs. O. Walters on the 6th and Miss Lang, the Vermilion Home Economist will be the guest speaker then and her talk will be on "Home Canning".

Clarence Lysons returned to the hospital when his throat started to bleed again a week after a tonsil operation. Go careful on that big dinner! We hope it is healed properly by now Bube.

MISSISSIPPI STYLE BOATING IN ENGLAND—Remodelling two wartime river assault barges in their spare time, two members of the Barking borough council in Essex, Eng., built the Phoenix to resemble Mississippi river boats. It is shown on its first cruise on the park lake.

PAIR DEAD, BOY HELD—Oliver Terpening, 16, of Imlay City, Michigan broods under the questions of authorities as he is held in connection with the shooting deaths of four young companions, [illegible] Gladys, 12, Janet, 2 and Stanley Smith 14. The four youngsters were shot with a .22-calibre rifle while picking flowers. Terpening was arrested while attempting to escape.

AIR CADETS MUSTER FOR INSPECTION—Knowledge of aircraft is demonstrated by Air Cadet Sergt. Roy Crisp to Sqdn. Ldr. H. C. Vinnicombe, while the latter was on tour of inspection of 201st and 218th Air Cadet squadrons in Toronto. Ceremonies were held in headquarters, Cawthra Square.

SEVENTEEN ESCAPE FROM FLAMING BUS AT SHEDDON, ONT.—Sixteen passengers and the driver of this new Greyhound bus clambered to safety seconds after the vehicle caught fire on No. 3 highway at Sheddon, Ont. The driver saved most of the baggage, but Sheddon volunteer firemen were helpless against the flames.

COMPLETES HUNT—One of the world's champion bird hunters is a woman, Mrs. Charles Cordier. With her husband she has completed a rare bird hunt in the wilds of Guatemala under assignment by the Bronx zoo of New York. At the end of 12 arduous months, during which they were beset by torrential rains, landslides and food shortages, they returned with 160 specimens comprising 57 different species. She is shown here with a northern violet trogon, which seems to be admiring itself in the mirror.

LOVE CALL BRINGS CROCODILE TEARS TO ALLIGATORS — You can take it from Robert Bullerman, (above), a young zoo keeper who can toot a French horn, you can't arouse the romantic instincts of an alligator by playing "Asleep In the Deep". Threatening to toss them to the purse and shoe manufacturers is also a waste of time. In the Brookfield, Ill., zoo, some 130 male alligators, whose bellow usually gets a "yoo-hoo" from the 'gatergals, merely yawned this year. After spending days trying to create a synthetic love-call which would get under their tough hides, Bullerman discovered that hitting B-flat two octaves below middle C brings out the love-grunts.

STAKES $45,000—Ludger Dionne, M.P., seen here has at [illegible] $45,000 on the success of his plan to bring displaced Polish girls to Canada to work in his Quebec spinning mill. Some girls have already arrived.

SCIENTIST PREDICTS 1,700 M.P.H. PLANES—Fighter planes that fly 1,700 miles an hour are predicted by Sir Ben Lockspeiser, who recently was appointed chief scientist to Britain's ministry of supply.

FREED BY APPEAL COURT—One of 18 originally accused following the royal commission investigation of Russian espionage activities in Canada, Henry Harris, Toronto optometrist, is seen here after the Ontario court of appeal quashed his conviction and freed him of a five-year penitentiary term.

PARTITION ONLY WAY FOR INDIA, LONDON ANNOUNCES—India will be a British dominion this year as Prime Minister Attlee announced that original independence plan had been turned down. Attlee said it had been agreed to let India decide its own future as one or perhaps several countries. Viceroy Lord Mountbatten, seen with Lord Listowel and Lady Mountbatten, told India leaders of new plan.

ISLAY

Graduation exercises and banquet of the Kitscoty school were held Friday. Attending from this area were Mr. and Mrs. Potvin, Mr. and Mrs. Gillies, Mr. and Mrs. Sherriff. There were four boys and six girls in the graduating class. The parents attending report a very well managed affair, a credit to the staff and students. Inspector Miller handed out a fine compliment too — 'On looking over the gathering, especially when looking at the students they appeared very well fed, yes, even on looking over the rest of the gathering they too appeared equally well fed. But all jokes aside, the parents say it was a very lovely affair.

Mr John Young, Mr Stockwell and Mr. McMurray went out to the Linton farm and saw the 30 horses hitched and working. It seems that the folks down east at Montreal did not believe that such a feat was so (R. D. Colquette might tell of this) but Mr. Linton actually does work that many and sometimes more. The horses are well trained, each knows his place in the outfit and walks into it. Some pictures were taken that day.

John Maire has acquired a new tractor.

Last week 25 women gathered at Mrs. Bothwell's, quilted a quilt for the missionary bale and had a very lovely lunch. $7 was realized for W.M.S. A few days before many of the same women, also many from the Morrison district had a most enjoyable tea and visit at Mrs. Gladys Gould's. Proceeds were for Pleasant Valley church work. We understand there is to be a lawn supper there on July 2nd. Don't miss it.

July 3rd is the monthly meeting of the Islay Knox W.A. and it will be at Mrs Ed McFadyen's home. We are hoping for a good attendance.

On Thursday of last week two carloads of the Islay W.M.S. ladies attended the W.M.S. rally sponsored by the Fenham members, held in Kitscoty church. It was a most interesting meeting. A report of the Presbytery held in Edmonton was given by Mrs. Reikie. Mrs. David Martin read a letter from a Chinese nurse in China, who had trained at Lamont hospital with Mrs Martin telling of their experiences through the war. Mr Reikie gave the highlights of Conference. A very enjoyable social half hour was spent after the meeting. About 50 were in attendance.

Bill Bothwell is spending a holiday with the home folk.

A tennis court is looming up near the old highway. It is hoped to be ready for play before the week is out.

Last week the town was fish conscious—our fishermen who went to Long Lake and Muriel Lake brought home something like 220 fish. All hope to repeat this performance in the near future.

Beautiful "All White" Wedding at Mannville

REUM—JOHNSON

A beautiful all-white wedding of wide interest was solemnized at the United church, Mannville, on Saturday afternoon, June 14th at 3 o'clock when Miss Luella Johnson, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Charles J. Johnson of Mannville, became the bride of Mr Gary Reum.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was dressed in a gown of pure white heavy satin with train and fashioned with bustle back lily point sleeves. She wore long white gloves and full length veil. Her flowers were red roses and baby mums.

The Rev. K. C. McLeod officiated.

The maids of honor were the two sisters of the bride, Mrs. Lois Henderson who was dressed in white net over jersey with jersey bodice and Mrs Roy Cameron, sister of the bride who wore a gown of white nylon. Both wore long white gloves, white "beanies" and carried bouquets of carnations and sweet peas.

The best man was Mr. Clarence Reum of Camrose.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the dining room of the Mannville hotel where the bride's table was centred by a beautiful three-tiered wedding cake. Fifty relatives and friends gathered to wish the happy young couple every happiness.

The newlyweds left after the reception for a honeymoon trip to Jasper, Banff and Vancouver after which they will go to the far north to Watson Lake, Yukon, to reside.

Out-of-town guests present at the wedding and reception were Mr and Mrs Cliff Broutrud, Ryley; Mrs. Anna E. Kongsrud, Ryley, Mr and Mrs Carl Nord and Elaine Ryley; Orville Reum Ryley, Clarence Reum, Camrose; B. Hoveland, Camrose; Mr and Mrs A. J. Ottewell, Clover Bar; Miss Joan Lotts, Edmonton; Mrs Leslie Grant, Edmonton, Miss Marjorie Henderson Whonnock B.C.; Mr and Mrs. A. D. Scott, Edmonton; Mrs A. Cameron Vermilion; Mrs. Roy Cameron Edmonton; Mr and Mrs. Cliff Hamilton, Dewberry.

Bowtell Bulletin

Grandma McGinnis has left our midst to make her home with her daughter in Calgary.

The Busy Bee meeting was held at the home of Mrs McGinnis with 10 members and one visitor present. The visitor being Mrs. Deacon. Mrs Magee kindly donated coffee for the dance this Friday. It was decided to hold a welcome home party for Harry Perkins and Jim Repp, each family to bring weiners, buns and cups. The day is June 29th starting at 6 p.m. so chores can be done first. The [illegible] will be held at the Perkins' farm. The draw was won by Mrs H [illegible]

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs T. Sherwood, lunch [illegible] by Mrs Gannon and Isabell.

Mrs Robinson and Margaret are spending two weeks visiting the form[illegible] at Onion Lake.

Quite a number from the district enjoyed the ice cream festival at Al[illegible] recently and report a delicious supper served.

Mr [illegible] is home after being a patient for four days in the University hospital, Edmonton.

Visitors this week at the writer's home were Mrs. Risdale and Ken, Mr and Mrs Repp and Robert, Mr and Mrs Korluk and Billy.

Jimmy Millar celebrated his 14th birthday Monday evening by having his school friends to a delicious supper and treats.

(This portion was crowded out last week. Allowance should be made for time elapsed.)

Sympathy of his many friends is extended to Mr Repp who was bereaved by the death of his mother in the United States.

The writer had the pleasure of going through the new [illegible] school and must remark that it is really everything that a school should be. The photos taken of the school, pupils and teachers by the Studio of Photographic Arts, Vermilion, were really excellent and the best group photos the writer has ever seen.

Miss Maybelle Knutson returned home from the hospital on Saturday.

Robert Repp would like to get in touch with the person who found a baseball bat lost recently between Berradale and Morrison schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Rochford, John and Betty were Sunday visitors at the Dougan home.

Miss S. Wilson of Victoria, B.C. is spending a holiday with her sister Mrs. Harrison and family.

Dominion Bank to Open at Elk Point

Chamber of Commerce Plans Observation of Event

ELK POINT. - Plans are being made here for the official opening of the Elk Point branch of the Dominion Bank on Monday, June 23. It is planned to have addresses from Rev. A. D. Pringle, convener of the Banking committee of the Chamber of Commerce, from Mayor Lawrence Sumpton, R.E. Beattie, President of the Chamber of Commerce and from Mr M C Fraser, manager of the Edmonton Branch of the Dominion Bank, on the morning of the 23rd. Following this, Mr. C.H. Robertson, who is to be manager here, will declare the bank officially open. Later in the day, Mr. Fraser and other bank officials, will be taken on an excursion of the district, and will visit the salt wells and plant as part of the itinerary. A banquet will be held at 7 p.m. at the Alberta hotel for Bank and Chamber officials, to be followed in the evening by a free dance open to the public. The program and opening is being sponsored by the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce. Officials in charge of arrangements are R. E. Beattie, J. V. Jacobson, Rev. A. D. Pringle and Paul Stepa.

RIVERTON

The Ladies Aid meeting was held at Mrs. W. Hansen's last Thursday. Those present were Mrs. H. Hyatt, Mrs Durnin, Mrs. C. Sinclair, Mrs B. Timanson, Miss Timanson, Mrs. R. Walker, Mrs. E. Walker, Mrs. M. Maclean, Mrs. W. Maclean, Mrs. P. Hansen, Mrs R. Hyatt, Mrs. F. Parr, Mrs Wood, Mrs Spicer, Mrs W. Maddex, Mrs. W. Vivian, Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Klinkner. In January a penny drive was started. Miss Timanson had the west ladies on her side and Mrs W. Hansen the east ones. It was agreed that the losers give the winners a banquet or some entertainment. The pennies were to go to the fund of this organization. This meeting the pennies were counted, [illegible] for Miss Timanson and 856 for Mrs W. Hansen. It was a lot of fun as well as realizing a nice sum. Various topics were discussed, and a very tasty lunch was served by our hostess. We will meet at Mrs R. Hyatt's for the July meeting.

Mr and Mrs. T. Lee, former residents of this district, are leaving for a trip to Ontario where they will visit their relatives.

It was rather disappointing to have the school picnic rained out but it was a grand rain.

Miss Barbara Durnin goes to [illegible]berg to write her grade 9 exams this term.

Church service will be held in the school on Sunday June 22 at 3 p.m. This will be the Fathers Day sermon.

Wm. Maddex and Don Vivian have had bad luck with young pigs. They each had a sow that lost a litter. The sows had no milk. It was learned from an authoritative party to feed brood sows soaked whole barley a week before farrowing to offset this condition. The barley should soak 24 hours.

There are still 3 freak pigs living on Mr W. N. Vivian's farm. The one is well worth going to see.

FREE SERVICES FOR FARMERS

For the purpose of assisting the farmers of Canada to meet the economic problems with which they are constantly confronted and to carry on the industry of Canadian agriculture to the advantage of the nation as a whole, the Dominion Government has several millions of dollars invested in free services and facilities.

No other industry has at its disposal such a wide and varied range of services and facilities provided by the Government. They include the Dominion-wide system of Experimental Farms and Stations, the divisions of Dairy Research, Botany and Plant Pathology, Chemistry, Entomology and Plant Protection of the Science Service, the divisions of Health of Animals, Plant Production and Livestock with their field services of the Production Service, the Marketing Service, in which is centralized the administration of all grading services of livestock and livestock products, dairy products, poultry, eggs, fruit, vegetables, canned goods, maple products and honey, and the Division of Agricultural Economics, which serves as a fact-finding body concerning production and marketing.

Results of the research work and experiments of all these services of the Dominion Department of Agriculture are made known to farmers and the people of Canada generally through free publications, the press and radio, exhibits and other ways directed by the Publicity and Extension Division.

Those engaged in the industry of Agriculture, whether directly or indirectly, are invited to make full use of the services and facilities as outlined. They are free.

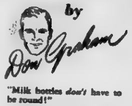
EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

by



Don Graham

"Milk bottles don't have to be round!"

In some such words a progressive young man challenged tradition and devised a new, space-saving square milk bottle recently adopted by several leading dairies.

This reflects the kind of restless, creative thinking that makes for greater success in any line of business.

Time-saving, money-saving ideas are often surprisingly simple. And they may occur to anyone. But chances are they won't occur to you unless you look for them, and develop a habit of accepting nothing "as is".

No matter where you work, there are countless articles, products, systems, methods capable of improvement, and needs for new inventions and ideas.

When looking for things to improve, it's best to start with those most closely related to your job. Your first idea may not succeed. But keep on trying. Your efforts will be appreciated and eventually rewarded.

TEN YEARS WITH CANADIAN LEGION

This is the second in a series of four articles telling the story of the Canadian Legion during the last ten years.

REHABILITATION

The second great task undertaken by the Legion was the development of a rehabilitation program, to be ready when demobilization, after victory, should occur. As early as the Dominion Convention in Montreal, in 1940, a Rehabilitation Committee was established which brought in a report, the completeness of which is demonstrated by the fact that all the principle measures proposed therein are now, with appropriate additions, established in legislative form. This program was built up during the war years by the Department of Veterans' Affairs, formerly the Department of Pensions and National Health, in frequent consultation with the Legion. Special departmental and interdepartmental committees were set up by the Government to consider the various proposals and as decisions were reached, Orders-in-Council were passed, on the authority of the War Measures Act, so that even before the close of the war the whole program was more or less in Order-in-Council form and in actual operation, with frequent amendments being made from time to time as experience was gained.

In 1945 a Special Parliamentary Committee was set up to consider the translation of the various Orders-in-Council into legislative form. It required two sessions for the Committee to complete its work. The resulting legislation that was finally passed forms what has come to be known as "The Canadian Veterans' Charter", and covers all phases of the rehabilitation program, including pensions and treatment for the disabled, the widow and orphan; the extension of War Veterans' Allowance to World War II veterans, provision of a substantial gratuity, and a re-establishment credit, equal in amount to the gratuity, which represents an alternative to other rehabilitation measures, such as university education, vocational training, establishment on the land or a small holding. Provision was also made for professional and business loans to assist in the rehabilitation of men desiring to go into business for themselves. Altogether Canada has developed a rehabilitation program that is among the most comprehensive in the world, and which has fully justified the determination of Veterans of World War I, and the public generally, to avoid the mistakes of the past.

HOUSING

Canada also has its housing problem, which bears most heavily on the low income veteran. There are no war devastated areas in Canada but the concentration of population in war industry areas, and the return of men in the Armed Services, thousands of whom were married with small children and in immediate need of housing accommodation, created both a confused and congested post-war condition which the building industry was unable to meet. Every Legion branch found itself the mouthpiece of homeless veterans and began to apply pressure on local authorities to supply emergency housing of some kind. The Federal Government established, very largely as a result of pressure on the part of the Legion, a central housing authority, known as the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. This body established an Emergency Housing Division to cooperate with local authorities in reconverting suitable buildings into low cost temporary shelter. It directed the efforts of Wartime Housing, established during the war to erect houses for war workers, into the building of low rental houses in cooperation with the local authorities and administers the National Housing Act, under which loans from lending institutions will be backed by the Government, thus making financial terms easier for those who wish to build houses on their own or take advantage of other housing schemes, based on the housing act, which are being developed by the Government.

The efforts of the Legion have been concentrated on the problem of the low income group. Without doubt pressure from the Legion encouraged the Government to build some 2,500 houses on one-half acre lots under the terms of the Veteran's Land Act. Later, when the provisions of Wartime Housing were made available for veteran housing, Legion branches became actively engaged in establishing the necessary relations with local authorities whose consent and active co-operation were essential before any local project could be got underway. The consequence is that today most large communities have their Wartime Housing projects either completed or underway and many thousands of veterans are established in neat little homes with all the facilities necessary to health and good living. Some 12,800 of these houses have been built and many additional thousands are under construction. Nevertheless they are not being built rapidly enough to overtake the demand.

The Legion has established a National Housing Committee under the chairmanship of Mr. J. L. E. Price, prominent contracting engineer of Montreal, who has expressed the view that the Legion will have to continue pressure for the next five years at the present rate of building before any substantial change in the low income housing picture can be brought about.

The Refugee Problem

MANY OF THE GRAVE PROBLEMS which resulted from the war are still unsolved, and it is evident that it may be some time before satisfactory solutions have been found for all of them. One that is still causing considerable concern is the finding of homes for the many thousands of displaced persons who are still in camps in various parts of Europe. At present there are between 600,000 and 700,000 people in such camps, and Sir Herbert Emerson, director-general of the inter-governmental committee on refugees has predicted that it will be at least three years before homes are found for all these people. Although such large numbers are still homeless, it is evident that much progress has been made since the end of the war in dealing with this tragic and difficult problem, since the records show that 11,000,000 refugees have already returned to their native countries.

* * * * *

Many Look For New Homes

Of those now numbered among the displaced persons are many thousands who do not wish to return to their own lands, and arrangements are now being made for them to be admitted to countries where there is a scarcity of labor. Within the next eighteen months it is expected that several hundred thousand European refugees and their dependents may be taken to Britain. France has plans for bringing in large numbers of displaced persons to work in her industries, while Belgium has expressed the intention of admitting some 20,000 workers, with their dependents. Eight thousand workers have already gone to Holland, taking their dependents with them. It is also expected that some will be placed in South America and the British Dominions.

* * * * *

Some Have Been Admitted Here

In Canada there has been considerable interest in the problem of displaced persons. Already about 6,000 refugees, who are relatives of Canadian citizens have been admitted to this country as well as small numbers of workers who have been brought in under special arrangements. Investigations have also been made into the possibilities of bringing in lumbermen, sugar beet workers, textile workers and others with specialized trades. It would seem heartless, indeed, for Canada to hesitate to do her part in helping to rehabilitate those people who suffered so greatly during the war. The question, however, is related to many broader problems, including immigration and present standards of wages and living. There are many diverse opinions regarding these matters, but it would appear that Canadians should not be unwilling to assist to some extent at least in bringing about an end to this problem, which at best cannot be completely solved for several years.

FUNNY And OTHERWISE

RETIRES FROM OFFICE — After 17 years' service, Cecil Snyder, seen here, is retiring from his post as deputy attorney-general of Ontario, it was announced at Queen's Park.

B.C. Woman Likes Trapper's Life

VANCOUVER. — Miss Ella Fry packed her newly-purchased "frillies" and a year's supply of red nail polish alongside her cartridge and [illegible] parka here recently and headed back north—for Miss Fry is British Columbia's only registered woman trapper.

Thirty years ago, her parents took her to the Albreda district, about 500 miles northeast of here, north of the North Thompson River where she now operates her own trapline.

With no help from "mere men", Miss Fry built 10 log cabins along her trap line where she empties her traps, skins the animals and packs the pelts—all by herself.

But she is by no means a manhater and packs a large ruby on her capable left hand to prove it. She is engaged to a fellow-trapper.

A legend in the North Thompson Country, Miss Fry has been known to don caulked boots and ride the booms with the men and has a 43-pound salmon to her credit to further prove her prowess.

It was she who exploded the theory that a direct shot at a grizzly's head would only glance off the sloping forehead. She did it the hard way, kneeling at 30 paces.

"Only thing I'm worried about," the female Daniel Boone said, "are those big chunks of snow, 800 pounds or so, up in the tree tops. A bit of wind and down they come. They'd drive you 10 feet into the ground."

She looked surprisingly feminine for a woman trapper while she sat in the beautician's chair, but assured reporters it was only temporary.

"No miss the city? No sir. I wouldn't trade places with any woman, in single or double harness."

PREDICT U.S. TO DEFEND SUEZ

LONDON. — British military authorities have revealed a plan is afoot whereby the responsibility for military defence of the Mediterranean, Middle East and Suez Canal would be taken over by the United States.

Alberta To Spend $100,000 On Publicity Drive

EDMONTON. — Contract for a $100,000 publicity campaign to promote industrial development in Alberta has been awarded to the Harold F. Stanfield, Ltd., advertising agency, after reviewing bids received from all advertising agencies in the province.

The campaign, starting next fall, will run two years. Media will include newspapers, publications, special booklets, films and billboards with the object of promotion of Alberta as the best location in the Dominion for industrial expansion.

Alberta business and industries have been invited to contribute to the campaign on a dollar-for-dollar basis with the Government. Subscriptions are said to be encouraging.

500 A-Bombs Could Destroy Whole World

LOS ANGELES. — Dr. Stafford Warren, former medical chief of the Manhattan Project, warned that the dropping of 500 Hiroshima-size atom bombs would destroy every human being, plant and animal in the world.

Warren, now dean of the University of California at Los Angeles Medical School, told a UCLA atomic conference that even survivors eventually would succumb to the deadly radio-active after-effects.

"Unleashing 250 bombs in the air and 250 under water would wipe out our great cities and create poisonous radio-active clouds which would sweep around the world, raining slow death on every living thing," he warned.

A CONTRA-ACCOUNT

Story told by a Harley street specialist: "At the end of the quarter I sent a lawyer patient a bill for $25 for two consultations for an hour each, and got this reply: "For time wasted while waiting for appointments which were never kept owing to non-arrival of doctor — approximately seven hours—$35."

An electronic instrument is used at weather stations to measure cloud altitudes.

Hong Kong To Remain British Colony

HONG KONG. — Britain has no plans to return this crown colony to China, acting Governor David M. MacDougall said recently.

Steps are being taken to provide a greater measure of self-government but it will remain an uncompromised British possession he said.

Asked in an interview about overwhelming of the British possession here, as when the Shanghai international settlement was returned to the Chinese at the height of the war, MacDougall said there had been no discussions on the subject.

"There is not the slightest doubt in my mind that the local Chinese feel that the blackest nightmare they could be beset by would be the abandonment of this crown colony by us.

"They fear another Shanghai."

(The governor was referring to riots in Shanghai for food and increased wages, and to the near-standstill of trade resulting from uncertainty of the Chinese currency.)

The government announced a cut in the price of rice and an increase in the ration here, admirably timed to impress the local Chinese with the soaring black market in rice in Shanghai.

"Much of the cry for the return of Hong Kong, which was occupied by the British 106 years ago, is for political purposes, I have no doubt," MacDougall said.

Trade here is back to pre-war volume, though tonnage figures are still off. Inflation is the difference.

The comparative prosperity and tranquillity of South China is due in part, MacDougall feels, to the stable influence of Hong Kong.

No changes have been made in Hong Kong's defense, and no major work has been done on existing facilities.

"The reason is, I suppose," he said, "that Hong Kong is indefensible against a major power and we know it."

BRITAIN WANTS TO BUY FROM CANADA

That Denmark will capture the United Kingdom bacon export trade is a wrong attitude of mind and "I am surprised at a note of defeatism among Canadian farmers regarding this business." Sir Andrew Jones, head of a British food mission, said at a reception in Lindsay, Ont. He said the Canadian farmer has the food stuff right at his door, can produce a good export bacon which can compete, and, "we as a people, have a natural preference for Canadian goods. We want to buy in Canada but we must buy on the best market when it comes to price."

ONTARIO GOVERNMENT SET NEW RULES OF "WELCOME" FOR TOURIST CAMPS

"Welcome" means little to the tourist who is crammed into roadside shacks, eaten by garbage-bred flies, gypped out of advertised recreational facilities, and sent home with a bad taste in his mouth. Canada, he tells his friends, phooey!

To make impossible such references to Ontario's tourist facilities, the provincial Government recently passed regulations licensing tourist camps, setting forth standards of service and sanitation, and outlawing misleading advertising.

In so doing, Ontario became the fourth Canadian province to tidy up her visitor industry. British Columbia, Alberta, and New Brunswick have already attended to their housekeeping, and tourist officials are hoping that, with other provinces following suit, the golden postwar tourist egg will never shrink to pullet size.

Ontario's new regulations come in two sections. One deals with licensing, maintenance of camps, registration, enforcement, etc., and is imposed under the Tourist Camps Regulations Act, 1946. The other deals with truthful advertising, and is passed under the Department of Travel and Publicity Act, 1946.

A license is required to operate a tourist camp in Ontario, to start construction of one, or to enlarge an existing one. Persons who operated during 12 months prior to March 31, 1947, and who have not since enlarged them needn't get a license until March 31, 1948.

In municipalities licenses are to be issued by municipal clerks; in unorganized territory by the district inspector of the Ontario Provincial Police. The issuer must satisfy himself that the applicant is a fit person to [illegible] a [illegible] the [illegible] prise complies with provincial regulations and municipal by-laws. He must notify both the applicant and the Minister of Travel and Publicity of his decision to issue or refuse the license. The right of appeal to county or district courts is provided. Fees are $5 on application, $2.50 for yearly renewal.

Camp operators are required to maintain sanitary facilities in good repair, keep the camp and equipment clean, provide adequate facilities for garbage and disposal of garbage by burial, incineration, or other manner not to pollute any stream, lake, etc., or create a nuisance on the highway.

They must also make certain that bedding is in sanitary condition, must clean each cabin after every occupancy, keep furniture in proper repair. A distinguishing number or name must be assigned to each cabin. Suitable stoves and other equipment for fires must be provided, and there must be an adequate supply of pure water.

Nine "Musts"

Henceforth, no one may erect a cabin for [illegible] occupancy in a tourist camp unless:

(a) All floors are constructed of concrete or tongue-and-groove lumber. Where the floor is of lumber, it shall be at least 12 inches above the ground.

(b) The inside of the cabins are stained, painted, or lined with smooth-surface material.

(c) Interior walls are so constructed so they may be kept at all times in a clean condition.

(d) Every living room, sleeping room, and kitchen has one or more windows, having an aggregate area of not less than one tenth of the floor area.

"An important part of my diet ever since my first bottle has been Crown Brand Corn Syrup. Now that may be all right for a little character like myself, but let me tell you, these grown-ups sure are lucky what with Mom serving them Crown Brand Corn Syrup with so many of their dishes. And she uses it in her baking, too, as a sweetener. I can hardly wait until I'm old enough to have some hot waffles or pancakes smothered with delicious Crown Brand. If it's as good as it is in my cereal—mmmmm!"

For years doctors have recommended the use of Crown Brand Corn Syrup as a satisfactory carbohydrate as a milk modifier for bottle-fed infants.

Hello Folks!

Quick Thrifty Delicious

Beef Upside Down Pie

1½ cups flour
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. celery salt
¼ tsp. white pepper
3 tbs. shortening
¾ cup milk, or half milk and half water
¼ cup sliced onion
1 can condensed tomato soup
½ lb. ground raw beef
3 tsp. Magic Baking Powder

Sift together flour, baking powder, ½ tsp. salt, celery salt and pepper; add 3 tablespoons shortening; mix in thoroughly with fork. Add milk and stir until blended. Melt remaining two tablespoons shortening in 9" frying pan, and cook onions until soft. Add tomato soup, remaining ½ teaspoon salt and ground meat; bring to boil. Spread baking powder mixture on top of meat mixture and bake at 475°F. for about 20 minutes. Turn out upside down on large plate. Serves 6.

Hot Shooting at The Gun Club

DR. BEN KING CAUSES SENSATION

Fire broke out in a new place at the Gun Club shoot last Friday evening, Dr. Ben King being the sensation. Claiming never to have shot artificial birds before, Ben blasted 19 out of his first 25 for the high of the evening. Declaring this to be good sport he went for another 25 and downed 17, later he shot 15 and hit 12 of these, downing 11 consecutive birds. Other scores were M. Hill with 16 and 17 and R. B. Spencer with [illegible]

The two traps are working perfectly and compare favorably with larger and more expensive installations. Everyone is invited to shoot. Arrangements can be made to shoot from 5 and up. Next shoot Friday June 20th at 7.15 p.m.

Carrier Pigeon Drops Dead in Farm Yard at Clandonald

A carrier pigeon dropped into the farm yard of Mr and Mrs. Clarence Free near Clandonald and was dead when picked up by Mrs. Free. The bird had a rubber band on one leg bearing the legend E100 while on the other was an aluminum tag stamped AF 46 735.

Mrs Free happened to be looking out the window when she saw the bird fluttering in a helpless way down to earth. When picked up the pigeon was dead, apparently from exhaustion as there were no marks or wounds [illegible]

If someone will kindly furnish the information as to where to forward the bands this will be done at once and no doubt the history of the bird can be obtained.

"Old Lila" Faithful Pony, 31, Carries Children to School

"Old Lila" a faithful pony now going on 32 years of age, still serves the family by carrying her young 9-year-old master, Tommy Brown, to Woodvale school every day, a distance of two miles.

Tommy is the son of Mr and Mrs. Arnott Brown. The pony belonged to his mother who rode the little mare to school just the same as her son is doing now. In spite of her advanced age as far as horses are concerned, "Old Lila" wintered out over the past winter without any ill effects. However she will not be required to do that again but will spend all her remaining winters being well looked after.

38 Pigs in Three Litters Inside Year

Another pig achievement well worth recounting is that of a sow at the farm of V. E. Patterson. This sow raised 38 pigs in three litters in less than 1 year. The first litter was farrowed May 20th, 1946, 10 pigs, second litter Dec 10, 1946, 13 pigs, the third was May 14th, 1947, 15 pigs. This sow will be 2 years old on July 4th. The record is an outstanding one and this strain of sow should prove a money-maker.

Farm Women's Week School of Agriculture

MISS PATRICK IS BANQUET SPEAKER

A program of interest to many women will open at the Vermilion school of agriculture on Thursday, July 3rd, and a good attendance from widely scattered points in rural Alberta is expected.

Plans to present lectures and demonstrations on a variety of timely subjects have been prepared by the Women's Extension Branch of the Department of Agriculture and the staff at the school of agriculture. The topics include: Household Textiles; Leathercraft and Glove Making; Happy Family Living; Soap Making in the Home, Enjoy Living with Flowers etc.

The members of the school staff will be available during the week to discuss special topics and items of interest with the guests.

A banquet will be held on Monday evening, July 7, at which Miss Mabel Patrick, Professor of Home Economics, University of Alberta, will be the guest speaker. On the same evening Mr. G. O. Acheson will relate experiences and observations of life in British Guiana.

A special invitation is extended to the women of the town and district of Vermilion who are welcome to attend all or any features of the program.

The detailed program follows:

THURSDAY, JULY 3

3.00-5:00—Registration; Tea, Tour of the grounds and buildings.

Ball Team Wins Hazeldine Tourney

Vermilion Senior baseballers won three games in a row at Hazeldine sports last Wednesday to bring home first money.

Vermilion met Streamstown, winning a well played game 4 runs to 2 behind fine pitching by Mike Cheporik while Bob Moore of the V.S.A. did the catching. Art Wiebe knocked a long three bagger into left field with the bases loaded and brought in 3 runs while Alf Lampitt pulled off a sparkling fielding play.

In the second game Vermilion trimmed Dewberry 13-1 in which the local players unlimbered their heaviest batting artillery and really gave a display of heavy hitting outstanding were Gordon Park, Art Wiebe and Brent Macnab Jr. The battery was Cheporik and Moore.

In the final Vermilion met Hazeldine winning by a score of 12-3. Long hits were made by Park and Fish. Brent Macnab Jr. did the hurling and Art Wiebe caught.

The line-up for the tournament included Jim Fish, Fred Brimacombe, Gordon Park, Art Wiebe, Alf Lampitt, Bob Moore, Brent Macnab, Vessy, Mike Cheporik, Don Round, Brackie.

Presentation Made to Sunday School Teacher

The children of St. Saviour's Sunday school made a presentation Sunday morning to Miss Muriel Sweezey, who has been a very faithful teacher for several years. Muriel first attended Sunday school at St. Saviour's then commenced teaching a class. She is also organist for the Sunday school and for some of the other church services.

On accepting the gift Miss Sweezey who is shortly leaving Vermilion to reside elsewhere stated that she enjoyed working with the Sunday school children and fully intended continuing her church work wherever she might be.

FLASH — Vermilion baseball team won the tournament at Dewberry Sports Wednesday. Details next week.

Tragic Accident Takes Life of Isa Lenora Anderson

The town and district was saddened Monday when it became known that Isa Lenora Anderson, twelve-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey J. Anderson who farm five miles west of town, had passed away from injuries received when she was run over by a wagon on Saturday, two days previous.

Isa had accompanied her dad to the field where he was picking rocks. The little girl was helping and while stooping to pick up a stone in front of the wagon the horses started unexpectedly. Her foot was caught by the wheel and the wagon passed over her. Brought to the hospital at once she was given blood transfusions and every medical aid and attention, but the internal injuries suffered were too serious and she passed away on Monday afternoon.

The sympathy of a very large number of friends and acquaintances is extended to the sorrowing parents, brothers and sisters, in their sudden and sad bereavement.

Presentations To Harold Bushell

BY TOWN, LEGION AND BOARD OF TRADE

F/S Harold Bushell of the Vermilion air cadets is a much feted young man these days and received a further presentation Monday evening at the town council chambers. On behalf of the people of the town, and of the members of Canadian Legion Post 11, Mayor Morrison presented Harold with a cheque for $50. The Mayor stated that Harold had brought considerable honor to Vermilion by being chosen to represent Alberta and Canada on the air cadet trip overseas this summer and he hoped that the cheque would help to make the trip all the more enjoyable.

Mr Ted Sweetman, president of the Canadian Legion and F/O Frank Walker, officer commanding the local air cadet squad spoke briefly.

The interesting event, carried out prior to the council meeting, was arranged by Thos. Watts, chairman of the Vermilion civilian air cadet committee. Those present were the Mayor and council, representatives of the Legion, the air cadets, Mr Bushell Sr., and Ashley Cooper of the Standard.

At the regular Wednesday meeting of the Board of Trade last week President George Maxwell presented Harold with a $25 cheque from the organization just a token to show that Vermilion business men appreciated the honor Harold had brought to Vermilion. 17 were present at the meeting.

Alberta Women's Institute Conference at V. S. A.

The Alexandra Constituency Alberta Women's Institutes will hold its annual conference at the Vermilion school of agriculture on July 3rd.

Arrangements for the program are being made by the Convener, Mrs R. Culford, Lloydminster, and some 80 ladies are expected to attend. A featured display in connection with the Conference will be an exhibit of handicraft projects prepared by various A.W.I. groups during the past winter.

The ladies will convene at 9 a.m. and will be welcomed by N.N. Bentley, Principal of the school of agriculture. Reports from the central executive and from constituency groups will be presented. Luncheon at noon and tea in the afternoon will be served in the school dormitory.

Board Trade Adjourns for Holiday Months

Regular Wednesday weekly Board of Trade meetings have been cancelled for the holiday months of July and August as per the usual custom. The next regular meeting is scheduled for the second Wednesday in September which is the 10th of that month.

The president is empowered to call a special meeting of the board and the executive will hold regular sessions during the summer.

OBITUARY

JAMES D. CAMPBELL

Funeral services for James D. Campbell who passed away on Sunday June 15th, were held on Tuesday June 17th at the Islay United church. The Rev Driver officiated.

Mr Campbell was born near Barrie, Ontario, on Sept. 29th, 1865. He lived there for 20 years before going to the United States where he took up railroading and he was an engineer on the Great Northern railway for 27 years. In 1901 he was married to Mary Jane Drydale who predeceased him in 1936.

In 1918 the family moved west and Mr Campbell commenced farming in the Islay district where he resided right to the time of his death.

The deceased was a member of the Masonic Order, joining the brotherhood at Superior, Wisconsin.

Interment took place in the Islay cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs Frank Sperberg, Ole Hagestad, Andrew Beatty, John Robinson, Jim Stone, I Inman.

He leaves to mourn his loss his daughter Margaret and two grandchildren Robert and Marion.

Beautiful floral tributes were received from:

Mr and Mrs. Sheldice; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stone; Mr. and Mrs. Lamport, Mr. and Mrs. A. Jack and family, Mr and Mrs. D. Jack; Mr. and Mrs. H Redmond, Mr. and Mrs. Sperberg, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Drysdale, Harpestad, Shattuck, Whytle, Mr and Mrs. H. Wheadon, Mr and Mrs. Norman Bower, Mr and Mrs. E. Jack, Mr and Mrs. Neil Shook, Mr. and Mrs. C. Jeffrey.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for the kindness, help and sympathy extended to us during our bereavement, and for the beautiful floral tributes.

Margaret and family

Wildmere A.F.U.

An interesting meeting of the Wildmere Local A.F.U. was held on June 11. A large amount of correspondence was read and an interesting feature was the letter received from Robt. Fair, M.P. who clearly stated his stand as being opposed to the present income tax levy. If more of the M.P.s would join with Mr. Fair in opposition to the income tax levy perhaps Mr. Gardiner might see his hope for fulfilling the present bacon contracts come true.

Another topic discussed was the effect of fast time to farmers. This local was unanimous in the opinion that the fast time as adopted by Vermilion was a handicap and Mr. F. Haines was appointed to attend the next meeting of the Board of Trade and present before them the views of this local. The present state of affairs in Vermilion is most confusing. Some businesses being on fast time and some on Standard time so that when you come to town a bit late you don't know whether you can get any or all of your business done.

Next month being the date of the District convention it was decided to appoint the delegates to attend the meeting in Vermilion on July 10th. G. Harrison, G. Haines, Mrs. B. Hughes and Mrs. H. Syben were appointed as delegates for this year.

Arrangements were also made for the dance held in Norman Syben's barn sponsored by this local. This dance was a complete success, and was attended by a huge crowd.

The next meeting of the local will be held July 9th and it is hoped to have a guest speaker present that evening. Be sure to come as the topic will be interesting and to the farmers' benefit.

Chatsworth Chatter

The dance on Friday 20th was quite well attended. The Juniors (Julia, Leonie and Matt Farkash and Jack Thompson) provided music for a large part of the evening while Charlie Farkash and Jim Thompson and the writer of Chatter relieved the Juniors. Bobbie Squires rendered a couple of songs at supper time. Lunch was served at midnight.

Mrs Jack Markowske of Drayton Valley arrived last Thursday to visit her parents, Mr and Mrs B. Kinchinsky. She brought the twins with her but left the remainder of the family with their dad.

Mr Kinchinsky Sr is driving a nice looking new Monarch car.

Church service was well attended on Sunday with 28 present. The next service is to be held on July 6th at 11 a.m.

Mrs Leslie Good of Cork, Ireland, is visiting her mother and brothers, Mrs Alex Clark, Douglas and Jim Clark north of Mannville. She arrived June 6th and is accompanied by her little daughters Rosaline and Yvonne. She plans to leave on her return trip about October 1st.

HELP — HELP ! —

As Tuesday next week is a holiday it is essential that all changes of advertisements and all other advertising copy be in this office not later than Monday and earlier if at all possible. When you stop to consider that there are as many as 35 adverts set for the Standard in one week, requiring as much as 2½ hours to complete one ad, you will realize that it requires 4 days of highly concentrated work with considerable overtime thrown in to issue a paper the size of the Standard and have it in the post office regularly every Thursday night. A little help by means of early ads and early copy aids a lot any week.

NO STEAM HEAT —

Users of steam heat will have to get along without that commodity for the next few weeks as the boiler at the plant has to be completely re-tubed by order of the provincial boiler inspector who was here last week and Canadian Utilities are supplying electricity until the boiler is repaired.

CREIGHTON

The Creighton W.I. met at the home of Mrs. C. Reeves June 12th. The weather being stormy the meeting had to be held indoors instead of on the lawn as planned. It was decided to send Mrs. J. Bennett as delegate to the W.I. constituency convention to be held in the Vermilion agricultural college July 3rd. After the business was finished Mrs. C. Reeves gave her report of the W.I. convention held at Calgary May 28-30.

The meeting adjourned after which a dainty lunch was served by the hostess.

DEWBERRY

The Catholic church picnic held on the Dewberry sports grounds last Sunday was well attended and the crowd was well pleased with the program. In an exhibition football game the Dewberry girls won from Vermilion and in a regular baseball fixture Dewberry boys were too good for Derwent.

The baseball boys all say thanks for the support given them at their recent barn dance. Over 250 people attended and a wonderful time was enjoyed. Tom Jarret was the lucky person to win a new radio on the draw.

We are glad to report that Mrs. Ed (Hilda) Garnier is recovering nicely following a serious operation in an Edmonton hospital.

Leave for Oklahoma Wheat Fields

Adam Smith and Gordon Green have left for the wheat fields of Oklahoma with the latter's combine and the Smith truck. Another party consisting of Gordon's brother-in-law and wife and Mrs Green and two sons are to follow in a week. It will be a nice trip and lots of interesting country will be seen.

Real encouragement was given to the student minister last Sunday when a fine congregation attended church.

Mr and Mrs. Norman Mack and two children of Indiana, U.S.A., formerly of Vermilion and Mannville, have been visiting Mrs. Mack's mother Mrs Looky of Mannville. They also visited at the home of their cousins Mr and Mrs J. Wilson in Wildmere recently. Mrs Mack's mother had the misfortune to break her leg and is now a patient at the Mannville hospital.

Wildmere-Tolland Mutual Telephone Co. will hold their annual bee for putting in more poles and overhauling their lines on July 7 and 8. The help of everyone would be greatly appreciated.

He is seen, dripping wet, after paddling close to shore with a stick thrown to him and swimming the rest of the way.

Petrified Forests Found Under Lake

Officials of the Coast and Geodetic Survey report three submarine petrified forests discovered on the bottom of Lake Washington in Seattle.

Forming a real menace to navigation, the trees, turned to stone by centuries of immersion, at one time jutted up from the bottom to within a few feet of the surface.

Department of Commerce surveyors got the job of "topping" the trees in a novel underwater logging operation. Power boats with drag lines snapped off the rocky snags 15 to 20 feet below the surface.

POTATO GROWERS ARE ASKED TO REPORT RING ROT

Growers of both seed and table stock potatoes are asked by the Dominion Department of Agriculture to instruct their seed cutters to watch carefully for any indications of bacterial ring rot-infected potatoes.

"If anything suspicious is encountered—such as internal discoloration just inside the tuber—send that tuber for examination to the nearest potato inspector or, better still, to the nearest Laboratory of Plant Pathology," recommends J. W. Scannell, assistant chief of the Department's Plant Protection Division.

"Better be sure", he says, "than to go along wondering whether that suspicious tuber did or did not contain ring rot."

Dominion Laboratories of Plant Pathology are located at Charlottetown, Kentville, Fredericton, Ste. Anne de la Pocatiere, Ottawa, St. Catharines, Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Edmonton, Vancouver and Saanichton.

Health LEAGUE of CANADA presents TOPICS of VITAL INTEREST

EATING PLEASURE

Psychological gratifications derived from pleasurable meals are as important to health as are the very vitamins and minerals essential to our diet. This, say the experts, means that eating should not be allowed to become a "chore, an ordeal nor a race against time."

The authorities on the value of food also stress the importance of clean surroundings where meals are being served. Cleanliness is desirable for its pleasing effect as well as from the point of view of sound hygiene.

• • • •

MUSCLE MEATS

While not suggesting that Canadians abstain altogether from those juicy steaks and chops which many favour, health authorities issue a reminder on the value of other meats. Such items as liver, kidneys, tongue and heart, are quite as nourishing as the "muscle meats", they say.

The "muscle meats" — such as chops and steaks, are definitely second choice among peoples of many lands, and, in these days of high prices, Canadian housewives have the assurance of experts that the cheaper, if less popular, meats, are to be preferred.

• • • •

BATH NIGHT

In a day and age when heating water was a chore, the traditional bath only on a Saturday night wasn't as bad as it sounds nowadays, admit the health authorities. But, they point out, there's no excuse for a mere weekly bath in the modern age when hot water is usually available at a twist of the wrist.

Frequent bathing, say the doctors, does more than ensure cleanliness. It helps tone up the system. As weather is warmer, Canadians are advised to make bathing a daily "must" when circumstances permit.

BACHELOR HEALTH

Those who strive to "live alone and like it" are reminded by the National health authorities that, even more than family folk, they must watch their living schedules, if they would preserve their health.

It is such a temptation for the bachelor or bachelor-girl to make do with a snack, and, the doctors fear, many living alone are inclined to be careless with cleaning up their living quarters. Strict self-discipline is advised, not only with respect to cleanliness of rooms and apartments, but with meal schedules and other aspects of living.

ZOO FREES COON THAT KILLED NINE SNAKES

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N.Y. — Susie, a raccoon, is an outcast from the Trailside Museums where she was an attraction for two years.

She was freed in a swamp eight miles away after museum attendants discovered she had slipped into a snake pit and had killed nine black-snakes.

Fine Deed Even If Not Necessary

The Fort William Times-Journal tells this story: It was a fine deed, even if in vain, that was performed by a local citizen.

Glancing out of his office window in the Post Office building one afternoon, Postmaster Herb Carroll saw a man survey with evident alarm a string of three cars all parked along the curb on South Syndicate in spaces clearly marked "Violation" on the meters guarding them.

After walking up and down the row of "violators" once the man went from one meter to another, putting in nickles. Then satisfied that he had saved the owners from the wrath of the law, he strode off.

It was a fine thing to do, the Postmaster thought — and then he remembered it was Wednesday afternoon and parking was free.

USES HELICOPTER TRAFFIC COP

CONNECTICUT. — The traffic cop of the air has proved his worth in Connecticut, according to Edward J. Hickey, State Police Commissioner. Seated in a helicopter, Capt. Ralph J. Buckley, head of the traffic division, remained aloft three hours one busy day recently directing highway operations through radio communication with thirty patrol cars.

"I was able to see the entire traffic situation practically at a glance," said Captain Buckley. "In contrast, when you're directing a large scale traffic problem from the ground you see only what is in the immediate vicinity and have to depend upon somebody's word for conditions throughout the whole area."

Picked as Canada's "Father of Year"; Has 25 Children

TORONTO — Richard Tennmath of Toronto, father of 25 children, 20 of whom are living, has been selected as Canada's Father of the Year. The choice was announced by the Canadian Father's Day committee which directs the theme and activities of the country as to Father's Day observance.

Mr Tennmath was presented with a new suit in recognition of his honor on Father's Day, June 15th. He's 61, Irish by birth, he came to Canada in 1922. 17 of his family are residing in Canada, two in the U.S. and one in Belfast, Ireland.

Mr Tennmath was selected as the Canadian Father of the Year because in raising his large family he has been truly representative of fatherhood as a "builder of our children's future".

Still active despite his age, Mr Tennmath takes a keen interest in gardening. He is currently seeking to better the second prize award he won last year in a neighborhood contest for the best general improvement to his property.

Nester-Ferguson Nuptials at Vegreville

Both Bride and Groom Well Known Here — Will Reside at Derwent

On June 11, at the Parish Hall, Miss Helen Daisy Ferguson, elder daughter of Mr and Mrs. K. T. Ferguson of Vegreville became the bride of Mr Peter John Nester, youngest son of Mrs Mary Nester of Derwent. The couple were united in marriage by Rev. Kalumny of Edmonton.

The bride was becomingly attired in a floor-length gown of white satin, with front lace panel and yoke of net. Her floor-length veil was held in place by a white satin bandeau. Her bouquet of American Beauty roses contrasted beautifully with her ensemble. A single strand of pearls was the bride's only ornament, this being a gift from the groom.

The bride's only attendant, her sister Miss Lila Ferguson, carried a bouquet of yellow and pink carnations, held by a large pink ribbon, which looked very decorative with her pink sheer-over taffeta floor-length gown. Her matching chapel veil was caught at the temples with dainty flowers.

Carle Hendel, as best man, supported his cousin. Their dark suits were adorned with a single white carnation.

For receiving at their farm home, the bride's mother chose a pretty floral crepe dress, which was decorated with a corsage of talisman roses, while her father carried a white carnation in his suit lapel.

The groom's mother wore a wine crepe dress which was also decorated with a corsage of talisman roses.

Mrs. Cantelon played appropriate music while the bride, groom and attendants entered the house for the reception. Then Miss Dewhirst, Helen's nursing classmate at Lamont, sang "Because" with Mrs. Cantelon accompanying.

A delicious buffet supper was served to fifty five guests, friends and relatives of the bride and groom. The lovely three-tiered wedding cake was very decorative with its pair of kewpie dolls on top dressed in blue crepe and white lace and its well-spaced curlicues held with silver beads.

Rev Cantelon, in a few well chosen words, proposed a toast to the bride, after which Lorne Cunningham proposed a toast to the bridesmaid.

Out-of-town guests included Mr and Mrs. Carl Nester, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Porcina, Mrs. Mary Nester, all of Derwent; Miss Helen Dewhirst of Ponoka, and Mr. and Mrs. Milo Ferguson of Edmonton.

The bride chose as her going away outfit a lovely red coat, black hat and matching accessories. After a two-week honeymoon at Banff and Jasper they intend to make their home at the groom's farm near Derwent.

Claysmore Clippings

R D Lynch is putting in a cement basement and otherwise remodelling his house.

Ray Williams is doing some remodelling also on his house and has added a sun porch.

A number of Claysmore people attended the ball games in Mannville June 22nd between the Bluebirds and Lloydminster Fliers. The Bluebirds were the winners.

Betty MacMillan who is helping at the V.S.A. for the summer spent Sunday at her home at Claysmore.

Mrs Doig who has been visiting her daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Dale Williams, has gone to Calgary to spend a few days with friends.

Mr and Mrs. L. McCrae were Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. McCrae's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. MacLean of Paradise Valley.

A very enjoyable afternoon was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. Willes June 22nd when they entertained quite a number of friends and relatives. The occasion was their 30th wedding anniversary. During the afternoon the young folks played games while their elders visited. A delicious picnic lunch was served on the lawn, completed by ice cream and cake. Assisting in serving were Mrs. R. Burns, Mrs. A. Harrison, Mrs. O. Willes, Mrs. K. Kennedy and Mrs. J. Willes. Mr. A. Harrison proposed a toast to Mr and Mrs. Willes and all joined in singing "For they are jolly good fellows". Congratulations and best wishes were extended for many more happy years in the Claysmore district. A peanut scramble for the small fry completed a very happy day for both children and adults.

PONTIAC
A fine car made finer

A Product of General Motors

Drive a Pontiac—and envy no one!

Pontiac alone offers this combination of features for ALL-AROUND VALUE:
Distinctive Silver Streak Styling.
Big, roomy Body by Fisher • Triple-Cushioned Ride • Shock-Proof Knee-Action • Fisher No-Draft Ventilation • All-Weather Engine Temperature Control.
Smooth, powerful L-Head Engines • Full-Pressure Metered Flow Lubrication.
Steady-Ride Quick Warmup Manifold • Carburetor • Thermostatic Spark Control.
Multi-seal Hydraulic Brakes • Unisteel Body • Tru-Arc Safety Steering.

We sincerely believe that no car is more generally satisfactory to its owners than Pontiac.

Year after year, Pontiac offers all that's good and all that's new — plus outstanding economy of operation and upkeep. It really leaves nothing essential to be desired — in performance, in comfort or in handling ease. And, always, it is one of the most beautiful cars to be seen on the streets and highways.

The 1947 Pontiac Silver Streak is an example of what we mean. People who get it now will envy no one — and the same will be true of those who get their Pontiacs in 1948, 1949 or 1950. Year after year, Pontiac is a fine car — in every respect.

The stack of orders piled up for the new Pontiac are gratifying testimonials to the quality and beauty of this finest of the famous Silver Streaks. Unfortunately it also means that many who choose Pontiac must wait. So if your [illegible] ... your present car will give you better, safer service while you wait if you have it serviced by your Pontiac Dealer.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

YOU NEVER KNOW

By [illegible]

M[illegible] touched the air brakes and pulled the big truck to a grinding stop. That lousy light had changed to red without any warning. The rain was slanting in the open window since he'd made that last curve, and he started to close it up. That's how he happened to see this guy standing outside of the stop light using his thumb for all he was worth.

Mike glanced at the clock on the [illegible], one a.m. Fat chance he had of grabbing a ride.

The light showed yellow for a long second and snapped to green. Mike was watching the rain drip off the battered hat of the hitch-hiker as he gunned the motor. Then he saw the crutches for the first time. The poor guy was on crutches, leaning on them heavy. The coat he wore didn't look like much either. Mike cussed the big NO RIDERS sign that hung in the windshield, [illegible] and swung open the heavy door.

"C'mon, buddy, climb aboard."

The poor guy had a bad time of it, getting up into the high cab with his crutches. Mike finally had to drag him in with both hands, and when he felt the chilling dampness of the fellow's clothes and the thinness of his shoulders, he was glad he'd stopped.

They were rolling now. The hitch-hiker just said, "Thanks", and sat soaking up the heat the big motor was throwing. They rode in silence for a while.

"How far you travlin'?" Mike asked.

"Far as I can get," the other was studying the sign in the windshield. "Ain't this against the rules, fella, picking me up?"

"Rules were made to be broken," Mike grinned. He'd heard that somewhere. It sounded pretty good. He guessed maybe the boss wouldn't have thought so.

The other man laughed, but there were no bells in the laugh. It was sharp and cackling, and for some strange reason made Mike think of icicles.

Mike watched him roll down the window on his side of the cab. He did it very slowly and deliberately. Then he picked up the crutches and threw them out of the fast moving truck. After that he laughed again and closed the window.

Mike's foot lightened on the gas [illegible], and the truck slowed perceptibly. He growled nervous-like, "What's the big idea?" He felt suddenly disillusioned, like the first time he found out there was no Santa Claus.

"The idea," the guy's tone was nasty now, "is to keep this buggy moving fast!" He did some slight of hand tricks in his right hand coat pocket. Mike noticed that his shoulders didn't look so thin when he had that cannon in his hand. Especially since it was pointed at Mike's head.

Mike stepped on the gas.

"Rules were made to be broken," he mimicked Mike. "I'll bet that's the only thing we agree on." He was running over at the mouth with importance. "The old guy, back at the filling station, didn't need his crutches anymore. He's got a hole in his head. I got myself a ride from a nice soft head, so what good are the crutches, pal?"

Mike Devlin wasn't worrying about the crutches. There were plenty of other things ..the boss and his NO RIDERS rule for instance. The boss was nuts on his rules, but hell, there were other jobs in the world if he ever got out of this mess in one piece. How about Madge and the twins? What good would he be to them with a hole in his head. This bozo was kill crazy.

"You keep your fat foot on that gas hard and consistent," the gunman snapped "or they'll be having a double funeral in the country."

"They fry 'em in a hurry in this state," Mike felt the sharp pressure of the gun against his [illegible] and wished he'd kept his mouth shut. They were hitting sixty-five when he started slowing for the S curve near Galestown, and the pressure was still notching his [illegible].

"I drive, you know," the hot breath [illegible] Mike's cheek. "Just in case you're getting tired."

Mike knew that when he stopped driving he stopped living.

"Bad curve coming up." He nosed the speeding truck around the first bend.

The blockade was ideal as to location. The copper's blockade, that is. They both saw it at the same time. It leaped toward them as they straightened out of the second curve in the S...red lamps were swinging them down from the middle of the road...just a routine check, probably stopping all the traffic.

"Right through the middle!" this guy barked in Mike's ear.

Mike knew this was it. He knew the road. A deep ditch on the left, a high brick wall on the right, and coppers down the middle. He could run the middle all right, but they'd find him with a hole in his head later on. The pressure eased off his head. The guy was concentrating on cops now. It was sort of funny. The look on that one cop's face when they didn't slow down. Then Mike did three things at the same time. He heeled the big truck over hard to the right, slid his door open, and jumped. He heard the crash as the truck hit the wall. He didn't hear anything after that.

Mike was watching the twins play catch in the warm sun of the front yard when the mailman arrived. Mike accepted an envelope and the morning paper with his left hand. The right arm was still in a sling, but Mike wasn't kicking! A broken arm and a conk on the noodle were pretty cheap. Yes sir, pretty cheap! At least he still had his whole hide. Now, the other guy . . .

Mike opened the envelope which was the stationery of Huber's Midwest Trucking Company. He found a cheque for two weeks pay and a short terse note from the boss. "You know the rules Mike. Sorry. I hear they're hiring drivers at Wardlow's."

Great guy, the boss. Kicked you in the chin one minute and helped you to your feet the next.

Now, the other guy not so hot. Funny how that brick wall had pushed the engine back in the killer's lap. Made hash out of both his feet. They said he'd never walk again. Not that it makes much difference.

Here! Here's the whole story in the morning paper. One time in his life Mike Devlin makes the headlines and the front page. And look at this, "KILLER OF CRIPPLE WILL SPEND LIFE SENTENCE ON CRUTCHES." Mike scratched his head quizzically. You never know.

Indiana Man Has Really New Idea

If there is any truth in that old saying about better mousetraps, the world should presently be beating a path to the door of H. L. Ratchford of Muncie, Ind., to get his electric one. It is a kind of miniature stall, with metallic contact plates on its floor and sides, a bait-holder at the end, and a cable to plug into the house circuit. When the mouse seeks the bait he comes in contact with the plates and is electrocuted. The last convulsive jerk of his muscles throws him out of the trap, leaving it ready for the next mouse. Patent 2420722 has been granted on this invention.—Brandon Sun.

Human muscles can absorb as much as 30 quarts of liquid.

Market Garden Industry Thrives In The West

WINNIPEG. — The prairie provinces have a comparatively new big-time industry — market gardening. Headed for the ranks of major western [illegible] it is expected to do a $10,000,000 business in 1947—with bigger and better things promised for the future.

In Manitoba the market garden business is largely centred around Winnipeg. More than one-third of there with some 600 market garden [illegible] in 1946 was transacted there with some 600 market garden farms centered in the surrounding area. The remaining 400 are scattered throughout the rural districts.

Some expansion is expected due to the opening of two new canning plants this year — one in Winnipeg and another at Winkler.

Moose Jaw, Regina and Saskatoon are the hub of Saskatchewan's market garden business. Agriculture officials say that approximately 500 farmers will do a business estimated at more than $2,000,000 this year on [illegible] acres.

In Alberta the picture is much the same with the industry concentrated in the irrigated areas on the south around Lethbridge, Taber and Brooks.

Market gardening in the foothills province has soared from a $150,000 venture by a scattered few in 1937 to a $1,500,000 industry today.

The general western picture, however, shows that the industry still has much room for expansion as the present output barely supplies the prairies. Alberta exports a small amount to Winnipeg and a trickle finds its way as far east as Toronto. Saskatchewan exports nothing and has to import from Manitoba to help its own requirements.

The Manitoba export-import balance shows closer to the black. During 1946 exports jumped considerably and somewhat offset heavy California fruit imports. The most encouraging sign was the shipping of several carloads of turnips to Vancouver last winter.

Chief export markets for Manitoba are western Ontario and [illegible] Saskatchewan, both of which are closer to Winnipeg than to the base markets of their own provinces.

Generally the chief prairie crops are root crops—potatoes, carrots, beets and turnips, with potatoes being the principal one—accounting for approximately one-third of Manitoba market gardeners' [illegible] ness last year and half of the $2,700,000 turnover in 1946.

Other prairie crops include peas, beans, corn, tomatoes, cabbage, lettuce, cauliflower and celery.

RECIPES

SOUR CREAM COOKIES

- 4½ cups sifted flour
- ½ teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 cup shortening
- 1½ cups sugar
- 2 eggs unbeaten
- 1 cup sour cream
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, soda, salt, and nutmeg. [illegible]

Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, and cream well. Add eggs and beat thoroughly.

Add flour alternately with sour cream, in small amounts, mixing well after each addition. Add vanilla.

Chill until dough is firm enough to roll. Chill overnight if possible. Roll ⅛ inch thick on lightly floured board. Cut with floured 2-inch cutter and sprinkle with sugar. Or decorate with raisins for a children's party.

Bake on ungreased baking sheet in moderate oven 375 deg. F. 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 5 dozen cookies.

FINDS BABY DEAD—Arriving in Cincinnati by bus, Mrs. Eugene Benetoau of Windsor, (above), found that her two-week-old daughter, Ellen, had smothered to death in her blanket.

Girl's Grit Saves Baby Brother

FESTUS, Mo. — Eleven-year-old Daisy Sue Flinn modestly accepted the role of a heroine as the story got around how she saved her 3-year-old brother, Larry, from drowning in an open cistern by holding his head above the water for two hours until help arrived.

Daisy Sue related that she was drawing a bucket of water when her brother fell into the cistern and, realizing he would drown in the six feet of water before she could get help, she leaped in after him.

She held the boy's head out of the water with her left hand and wrapped a chain hanging in the well around her right hand.

"I cried for help at first before I realized I had to save my strength," she said. Two hours later Judy Moore, a 6-year-old neighbor, heard sobs from the cistern, looked down and received Daisy Sue's instruction to go for help.

After Fred Reece and Herman Cody, telephone repairmen, drew the pair out, Daisy Sue said:

"Mommy leaves me home to take care of Larry when she goes to work. There wasn't anything else I could do."

New Automobile Engine Tested

FRENCH LICK, Ind.—An automobile engine which uses 30 to 40 per cent. less gasoline because of a higher compression ratio was demonstrated to automotive engineers here.

Charles F. Kettering, who retired recently as vice president of General Motors Corporation, said the development of the new engine marked the beginning of a "new era in economical use for fuel."

Kettering said motors of higher compression ratio were "possible and practicable", despite a mass of technical literature to the contrary.

The engine demonstrated in an Oldsmobile here was developed in GM's research laboratories division, which Kettering headed until his retirement. Hundreds of engineers attending the second post-war summer meeting of the society of Automotive Engineers rode in the car.

Kettering said that test cars powered by the new engine have been running in Detroit and Dayton areas. He said they had proved that fuel economies from 33⅓ to 40 per cent. would be accomplished by the "new, smooth engine of 12½ to one compression ratio.

"So much has been written and said about our having reached the peak in fuel [illegible] said Kettering, "that most engineers have believed this bugaboo."

"If engineers, and our colleagues, the petroleum technologists, will continue to work together on our separate developments, we will find we can do a better job for customers."

To Wash Painted Walls Or Ceilings

This is a simple recipe and it works perfectly.

One cup washing soda, one cup vinegar, one cup brown sugar, ½ pail warm water; mix all together and use. No soap is needed—just a cloth.

Wring out a little—wash again and rinse cloth. Leaves no black rings. Half a pail is enough for one ceiling.

"GREEN ACRES"

HORTICULTURAL SHOW

It is not too soon to make plans for showing something at the flower show to be held on August 21st.

Everyone likes to see fine flowers and vegetables, but everyone does not bring in exhibits. Last year 51 people entered exhibits. This year we would like to have twice that many. If we all do our part, however small, we will have a bigger and better show than ever.

CROP VARIETIES

The Line Elevator Farm Service of Winnipeg has recently issued two publications of interest to farmers. One is concerned with varieties of field crops and the other is about DDT. Don Logan, agent for Alberta Pacific, Vermilion, will have copies available. Also, you could leave your order at the D.A. office.

POISONOUS WEEDS

Several cases of stock poisoning have occurred recently in the Vermilion district. It is advisable to check over pastures for water hemlock, larkspur and buttercups. Livestock do not usually eat these weeds but should the grass be sparse there is danger. Individual plants can be dug out or larger areas can be fenced off.

The pitch fork is the most expensive implement on the farm. The original cost is not great but the upkeep is terrific.

Buck rakes and over shot stackers are becoming fairly familiar sights in Vermilion district during the last two years. The cost of putting up hay is much less where labor-saving equipment is used. Also the hay is of much better quality and the danger of damage and rotting from rains is much less where it is stacked quickly.

Instead of cocking up hay for curing the modern method is to cut hay one day, windrow the second day and stack the third day.

SERVICE BOARDS

At the service board meeting of M.D. of Minburn held in Mannville on June 13th, two matters of concern to ratepayers were decided. 1. That certain farms which are infested with toad flax will be taken under supervision and possibly they will have to be taken under complete control of the municipality;

2. That a better farming competition be put on by the field supervisor. Judging will take place some time after August 1st and good prizes will be offered. Anyone interested can get an application form from Chester Gamble, Mannville, or at this office.

REGISTERED SEED

Anyone interested to get grain field inspected for registration or certification should have the application sent in to Production Services, Plant Products Division, Calgary before June 30th. The cost for field inspection is 10 cents per acre with a minimum charge of $2.

R. H. Buckingham, D.A.

WOODVALE

Mr and Mrs. Harry Teasdale of Woodvale accompanied Mr. and Mrs Wm Teasdale, Mr and Mrs Jack Teasdale and Mr Lawrence Teasdale of Paradise Valley to Edmonton, to meet Harry's sister who arrived by plane from England on June 13th, having left Prestwick, Scotland two days before. When Mr and Mrs Wm Teasdale settled in this country 17 years ago with 9 children they left one daughter behind in England. Now after 17 years this daughter, Mrs James Hall of Darlington, England has come to visit them. One can well imagine what a grand re-union this is for everyone in the family. Mrs Hall intends to stay for three months and possibly longer and hopes to visit with her parents and four brothers in Paradise Valley, her brother Harry in Woodvale and another brother and two sisters in Trail, B.C. One of the things Mrs Hall will no doubt enjoy very much is getting acquainted with her little nephews, the Teasdale triplets of our district who have reached the charming age of two years and 3 months recently and are as lively and healthy a set of boys as one can wish to meet.

Jack Lyons, Bert Portsmith, Harry Sweeney and Arnet Brown went on a fishing trip two weeks ago to Long Lake and returned with 200 appetising fish. We understand a couple more men attached themselves to the party, but anyway the haul was big and the trip very much enjoyed by all.

Ray Lewis returned from Ontario recently where he had planned to work for the summer. The heavy rains however made employment very uncertain, so he came home again having seen something of the country at any rate.

The second store has been opened for business now near Ganton school.

The Paul Gautier family are getting their house newly insulated and finished inside. Camille Gautier came home on the 21st having finished his Grade X in Edmonton.

Bernard Portsmith arrived home last week making the trip from Toronto by car with a friend. He is going to spend several weeks with his parents Mr and Mrs H. Portsmith of [illegible].

MAKING BETTER IMPLEMENTS Through 100 Years..

This type of mower was built at the Massey works as early as 1852.

About 1820 a mower was invented with a circular cutting blade which revolved against the grain, apparently imitating the action of the old scythe blade.

A few years later a mower was invented in the United States which had a sharp knife with teeth moving sideways in a row of iron fingers or guards. The first mower of this type to be made in Canada was produced in 1852 at the Massey works, the little plant which has grown into the Massey-Harris industry of today. And all through its 100-year history this company has been a leader in developing labor-saving farm devices.

The use of modern Massey-Harris farm machines has brought many benefits to Canadian farmers. The Massey-Harris Side Rake and Tedder turns the hay into light, fluffy windrows, so the air can cure it quickly. The Massey-Harris Hay Loader builds a load of well over a ton in twenty minutes. The Massey-Harris Forage Harvester enables a farmer to cut hay at the right time—providing nutritious forage for livestock.

Massey-Harris machines mean speedy, large-scale production. They have reduced production costs per acre and have increased the farmer's yearly profit.

RAISE THE PRICE
When the Government set the price of wheat to our farmers at $1.35, Canada's price to all countries except Great Britain was $2.05. Now Canada's price to these countries is $2.80. Should not, therefore, the $1.35 to farmers be increased?

The Tourist Industry

WITH THE LIFTING OF wartime restrictions on the various forms of travel, tourist traffic has again become a source of considerable revenue to communities both in the United States and Canada. In 1946, 21,100,000 tourists visited Canada and they brought $221,000,000 into this country. This was the largest number of holiday visitors to come here since the late 1920's. In 1929, the year in which the pre-war record for tourists was set, money brought into the country in this way amounted to $184,000,000. The poorest year for tourist trade in Canada was 1942, when the revenue was estimated at $82,000,000, only about one-third of the figure for 1946. It is reasonable to expect that an all-time record for tourist traffic may be made this year since facilities for transportation have improved considerably in the past year.

* * * * *

Highways Have Been Improved

In view of the amount of revenue which tourist traffic brings to a country, the term "tourist industry" has come into use and the many services required by the thousands of holiday visitors do indeed reach the proportions of a large and profitable industry. With its many lakes, rivers, forests, and attractive national parks, Canada is an inviting land to the thousands of vacationalists who come here each year. Now that their numbers are steadily increasing, it would seem wise if every effort were made to improve facilities for tourists and to build up this very profitable industry. Constant improvements have been made in highways in Canada in the last twenty years, and in some parts of the country highway facilities compare favourably with those to be found anywhere.

* * * * *

Natural Beauty Of The Prairies

Figures published recently by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics showed that $12,400,000, or about 5.6 per cent. of the total $221,000,000 spent by visitors to Canada last year were spent in the Prairie Provinces. Naturally those parts of Canada, with the greater wealth of large lakes, forests and rivers, attracted great numbers of vacationists, but the beauty spots of the West and especially the very fine national parks which have been developed on the Prairies will, as time goes on, bring larger numbers of tourists to this part of the country. With them will come increasing revenue to merchants and others in businesses patronized by holiday visitors. Good roads, and fine facilities for accommodation and recreation will prove valuable assets both to visitors from other parts of Canada and to the many who come here from the United States. The tourist industry is one which still has great potentialities for enterprising Canadians, and there is no reason why the Prairie Provinces should not benefit extensively from it.

Ice Cream War Gives Everybody Stomach Ache

RICEVILLE, Ia. — An ice cream price war ended here when everyone ran out of ice cream after the battle had reached a point where one dealer was giving it away by the pint and another paid customers a penny to take a pint home.

The war started when ice cream maker Walter McCoy offered a three-day special of 30 cents a pint to introduce a new product.

A rival firm told its retailers to keep their prices lower "no matter what."

McCoy rose to the challenge and soon ice cream dropped to 15 cents a pint, then to five, and finally reached a climax when Mrs. Martha Timmerman posted this placard:

"One cent paid to those asking for a pint of ice cream and taking it out of the store."

Most residents of this town of 900 went to bed with a stomach ache.

One-Fifth Of Rural People Live On Prairies

One-fifth of the rural people in Canada are in the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan. The story of their rapid settlement, particularly in the first decade of the present century, when the population increased over 400 per cent., is a story of novelty, excitement, enterprise, and endurance. Now, writes Florence M. Edwards in "Farm Family Living in the Prairie Provinces" the story is merging into a more sober tale, one of struggle for stability, for security on the farm, for a reasonable standard of living.

In order to obtain first-hand information on such questions as what have the rural families achieved in their short history of settlement, what kind of living is provided by farms in various kinds of farming regions, is housing adequate, what of community facilities, how much do prairie families spend for a living, how do they spend it, and so on, more than 630 prairie housewives were interviewed and farm homes in three contrasting farm regions, in Central Alberta, and in Central and [illegible] during 1942 and 1943.

Miss Edwards, who was formerly Agricultural Economist with the Dominion Department of Agriculture, has collated and co-ordinated the information given in the Dominion Department of Agriculture Publication, No. 787, "Farm Family Living in the Prairie Provinces" a copy of which may be obtained on request from the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Nurse Wanted For Eskimos In Northland

—MAY BE QUEEN

OTTAWA.—If you're a graduate nurse, the federal government has a rather unusual job open.

The government will pay your full maintenance, leaving the salary completely clear.

You will have an almost certain guarantee of at least three proposals.

You will be queen of the community, reigning in a specially designed palace now under construction in Winnipeg. You'll get a long sea voyage.

Interested?

The job is that of nurse of the department of national health and welfare at Port Harrison, halfway up the coast of Hudson Bay. The pay isn't so hot, $1,644 a year, or $1,704 if you've had public health training, but it is all clear.

There are about 500 Eskimos in the territory, and it will be your job to care for them. There is a government radio station with some unmarried men, eager for feminine companionship, a Hudson's Bay post, with more males, and another trading post, again with men. You don't have to be a raving beauty to be sure of masculine attention, devotion and almost certain proposals.

The government has a specially-designed prefabricated building which will be shipped there, along with the successful candidate for the job, on the Nascopie.

Applications should be sent Dr. P. E. Moore, National Health Department, Ottawa.—Toronto Daily Star.

The name cranberry or craneberry refers to the resemblance of the bud and stem to the head and neck of a crane.

Canada Warned To Cut Production Costs

LONDON. — Unless Canada can hold down her production costs she may "price herself" out of her essential foreign markets at a time when her expenditures in United States dollars is causing concern, R. Keith Jopson, United Kingdom trade commissioner in Montreal, said in a Board of Trade Journal.

Jopson wrote that world economic [illegible] are pressing Canada heavily and that production costs are perturbing her manufacturers.

He warned Britain that Canada's "patient understanding" of Britain's export difficulties had limits. It was likely orders might begin to be cancelled unless prices were reduced and deliveries improved.

CAUSE OF ACCIDENTS

The Winnipeg Free Press says the great majority of automobile accidents are not caused by lack of skill, physical incapacity or handicaps of drivers, nor by failure of the car mechanism—the greatest percentage are due to ill-temper, gross bad manners, or bad judgment.

Vacation Trend Points To West

The vacation trend this year is definitely to the western United States and Canada, with the majority of travelers going by private motor. Tours by train are already well booked, and charter-plane trips are increasing. Travel officials say that it is too early to estimate the numbers that will go by the various carriers, but all units are being pressed into service for what all signs indicate will be the biggest domestic travel season to date. Rail lines say there is already evidence of a 15 per cent. increase over last year.—By Diana Rice in N.Y. Times.

Letters to the Editor

W. R. Cornish, M.L.A. Answers Questions

R.R. 2, Mannville

Editor, Vermilion Standard

Dear Sir:

Replying to Mr. Hardy Wear's letter appearing in a recent issue of your paper I will endeavour as far as possible to answer the various questions raised therein.

Mr. Arthur Wray, the member for Banff-Cochrane was not expelled by the government on account of any stand which he may have taken during the farmers' strike of last year, neither was his expulsion due to any difference of opinion he may have had with the Minister of Public Works (which has sometimes been suggested).

I am sure that Mr. Wear will appreciate the fact that I am not in a position to give the true reason for Mr. Wray's expulsion but I can assure him that there was no other course to adopt, much as the vast majority of the government members including myself disliked having to take such a drastic step.

Regarding my own stand on the matter of the Farmers' strike, I did not take any active part in the strike either for or against; as a private member of the Provincial government I felt that the strike should definitely not become a political matter.

History records that politics and farmers organizations do not mix. My [illegible] right to strike as any other organization [illegible] I would strongly advise [illegible] I am glad to note that Mr. L. E. Pharis, a director of the A.F.A. had been appointed [illegible] on the advisory committee of the Prices Support Board.

Mr. Pharis together with Mr. Lang[illegible] (the deputy minister of agriculture) in co-operation with similar committees from the other provinces should be able to accomplish much good work for the farmers of the [illegible].

I would like to state at this point that during the 1946 session of the Provincial Government I proposed the following resolution which was carried unanimously:

"That we request the Federal Government to immediately outline a comprehensive long range program for the livestock industry of Western Canada with prices set at a sufficiently high level to enable the producers of livestock and livestock products to obtain a reasonable profit [illegible] That the Meat Board be [illegible] in order to provide [illegible] full responsibility for the [illegible] of all livestock and livestock [illegible]"

[illegible] the Meat Boards' [illegible] have since been delegated to the Prices Support Board.

Regarding the question [illegible] to the Social Credit Board [illegible] the answer is definitely No.

[illegible] I believe in a just price as far as it is humanly possible to obtain some form of control I believe to be absolutely necessary at times, both for the protection of the producers and the consumers.

Yours faithfully,
W. R. Cornish, M.L.A.

BARE FEET UP TO KNEES ARE STYLISH IN FLOOD AREAS—Taking a short cut through the park on their way to school necessitated these high school students of Preston taking off their shoes and stockings. Recent floods of the Speed River in Preston have covered Riverside Park.

[illegible] ENGINE TOPPLES WATER TOWER, THREE RAILWAY CARS WRECKED—Shunting [illegible] went a little too far in the C.P.R. yards at Toronto, causing damage shown in this picture. The train pushed a car into a 35-foot water tank holding 30,000 gallons. The tank collapsed and in falling crushed two box cars and a flat car while it left a lake of water about two feet deep in the area.

BOMBED BY MAIL. — Anthony Eden, former British foreign secretary, received a "letter bomb" in his mail and carried it in his brief case into the House of Commons. Many British officials have received the "letter bombs" addressed "personal and confidential", which are believed to be capable of killing their recipients. Postmarked in Italy, the bombs are believed to be sent by the Jewish underground.

Death and Funeral of Bertram Edward Bury

Bertram Edward Bury, of Vermilion, well known civil engineer, passed away in the local hospital Thursday morning June 19th following an illness of one month. He was in his 71st year.

Mr Bury was born at Bournemouth, England in 1876. He was educated at Radley College, Oxfordshire, and Liverpool University, obtaining his degree in civil engineering. He spent some 14 years in the Argentine before coming to Canada in 1911. In this country he followed his profession in Ontario, B.C. and Alberta. He settled in Vermilion in 1926 and has done considerable survey work since. He has worked on oil locations since. He drew the plans for the present arena rink, surveyed the town for the gas pipe lines and the water and sewer lines. Two years ago he carried out an extensive re-survey of the town. He also surveyed the town of Wainwright for its proposed water and sewer system. He was working on oil locations at Edgerton when he was stricken suddenly with the illness from which he did not recover.

Funeral services were held at St Saviour's Anglican church on Sunday June 22nd, at 2.00 o'clock in the afternoon, interment taking place at the Vermilion cemetery. The Ven. W. Leversedge D.D. officiated.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Chas. McCormick, E. Corley, T. Dick, C King, Thos Watts and J. Taylor.

Moyer Bros. were in charge of arrangements.

Beautiful floral offerings were received from:

Grace's garden; Raymond and Elizabeth, John and Agnes, Barbara and George, Daily and Peg; Hugh, Donnie, Gib and Tomie; Mr. and Mrs Buckingham, Mr and Mrs. George Captain, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Corley; Mr and Mrs. Tom Dick; Mr. and Mrs. George Dibben; Mr. and Mrs. W. Telegraph School Children Make Tour of the Town

A tour of Vermilion's principal points of interest was carried out on Friday, June 20th by the Telegraph school supervisor Jessie M. Stanley, and her 12 students. They journeyed through and had explanations given them by authority in the Chick Hatchery, Agricultural college, Creamery, Telephone exchange, Photographers, Standard Printing office. The pupils, Robert and Rosie Kernoso, Alfred, George and Edmund Stanley, Donald and Joan Goldsmith, Florence, George and Dora Richardson, Viola Clark and Charles Lovell were obligingly transported by W. C. Lovell.

Board Trade Sponsor Community Exhibit

AT EDMONTON EXHIBITION—E. H. BUCKINGHAM IN CHARGE — [illegible]

At the Board of Trade meeting June 24th it was arranged that the board sponsor a community exhibit to be placed on display at the Edmonton Exhibition.

The competition as set up by the Edmonton Exhibition Association consists of farm produce only. Anything and everything grown or raised on the farm can be placed in the exhibit with the exception of fresh meat and livestock.

In order to present an exhibit that will be a credit to the district the Board must have the support of local farmers. District Agriculturist E. H. Buckingham is to have charge of assembling the exhibit and Cameron Hay will handle all the details.

It is asked that any farmers or farm women having farm produce that they would like to offer for this exhibit see Mr. Buckingham or Mr. Hay at the first opportunity as the time is short for preparing this exhibit.

The following produce is suggested as being suitable for the exhibit: Jars of canned fruits and vegetables, especially corn on the cob etc; home cured bacons and hams; threshed grain (1 qt.) grown in 1946; garden peas, beans etc. grown in 1946; sheaves of grains and grasses, honey, eggs, fresh fruits, cheese, vegetables.

There is no doubt but that the Vermilion district produces the articles required to win the contest in competition with other points in northern Alberta. The Board of Trade asks that you come out and support your District Agriculturist in his effort to put on a good exhibit from this district. Townspeople as well as farmers can send in contributions. Everything will be returned after the show.

Baseballers Win Dewberry Tourney

GREAT FINAL AGAINST STREAMSTOWN — 8 TEAMS ENTERED

Vermilion baseballers won their second straight tournament when they carried off first prize at the Dewberry sports Wednesday last week.

Eight teams were entered including Dewberry, Marwayne, Cold Lake, Mannville, Streamstown, Heinsburg, Haseldine and Vermilion.

Vermilion won their first game by default from Cold Lake. In the semi-final Vermilion defeated Marwayne 9-5 after trailing 5-0 and this was featured by the sparkling pitching of P. Iakin in a relief role. In the other semi-final Streamstown defeated the Mannville entry 7-1.

This brought Vermilion against Streamstown in the final and one of the best baseball games, for tenseness and really good errorless ball, played in these parts for years, was witnessed. Young Brent Marnab on the mound for the locals, pitched gilt-edged ball and allowed only 3 hits in the 9 innings and struck out 13 batters. The Streamstown nine, a team comprised chiefly of boys in their late 'teens, gave a remarkable display of fielding and speed and were always dangerous until the last batter struck out. The final score was 2-0 for Vermilion.

Changes in Town and Village Act

AMENDMENTS PROVE OF WIDE INTEREST

Date of Annual Meeting, Election Day Both Changed

The following changes in the 1947 Town and Village Act Amendments will prove of considerable interest.

Nomination day for Councillors changed from the first Monday in February to 3rd Monday in February and election of Councillors fourth Monday in February.

Councillors take office first Monday in March instead of third Monday in February.

Annual meeting changed from last Friday in January to second Monday in February.

Grants permissible by By-law extended to include "Charitable institutions and to any Association established under an Act to incorporate the Canadian Legion; to any organization of Boy Scouts or Girl Guides; to Agricultural Societies; to Boards of Trade and to incorporated Mechanics' and Literary Institutes."

Minimum of Education Tax now applicable to "every resident of the town or village of the full age of 21 years who has not been assessed upon the assessment and tax roll who has resided in the town for a period of sixty days or more during any calendar year and is gainfully employed."

Payment of municipal and school taxes outside the town no longer exempts the resident from Education Tax but payment of an Education Tax elsewhere in the Province does provide exemption here.

Tax penalty date on unpaid taxes as at Dec. 31st each year has been advanced from April 1st to Jan. 1st.

The Court of Revision on Assessment appeals shall consist of five members of the Council appointed annually by the Council.

Clendonald Lady Wins A Prize

IN PROVINCIAL NATIONAL DISH CONTEST — Recipe is Chosen in Top Fourteen

Mrs Walter Trost, Raft Lake Stock Farm, Clandonald, won a $10 prize and ribbon in the recent contest conducted by the province in an effort to find a "National Dish" for Alberta. There were 6,000 recipes submitted and the fact that Mrs. Trost's was among the first 14 is a signal honor indeed.

Friends and neighbors have long been well aware of Mrs. Trost's prowess in the kitchen and of her knowledge of the finer points of the culinary arts.

Appointed To U. of A. Staff

Alex Smith of the law firm of Milner, Steer, Martland & Bowker, Edmonton was in town this week on a visit to his old home in the Wildmere district. Mr Smith has recently been appointed assistant professor in the law school of the University of Alberta, a signal recognition of his fine record at the University of which he is a graduate both in arts and law. He has been a lecturer at the law school for the past two or three years. "Alex" as he was popularly known in town is a product of the Vermilion high school. He was a brilliant student, his valedictory on graduation being an outstanding effort.

X-Ray T.B. Clinic July 9-15

1500 Registrations - More Needed

The date has been set for the Vermilion X-Ray T.B. Clinic—it will be here from July 9th to 15th inclusive. To date there have been 1500 registrations, and this number is considerably lower than the committee and T.B. officials hoped would sign for this free and desirable service. Some districts made their returns in a very few days but reports from others are disappointing, no doubt due to a certain amount of indifference or feeling that it is not necessary. The committee in charge wish to stress the absolute need of EVERYONE taking this free offer, as even one person staying away leaves the job incomplete.

One Carrier can infect many

A story has been told lately of one officer in the RCAF who had T.B. On a check being made through the headquarters where this man had contact, some 22% were shown to be infected.

Your co-operation is needed. There has been a very thorough job done by most of the canvassers, so sign up right away, please, as appointment cards are now in the mails and this insures you passing through the clinic without any delay. If you do not sign the operators have to put you through at their convenience, thus delaying you.

Islay deserves special mention for getting their cards back quickly with a very good coverage. If you haven't been a canvasser or a card, send in your name anyway with the number wishing to have the test. A place will be found for you—so do it now—today!

The X-Ray T.B. Clinic will be located at the Armories (opposite Hotel, state Sawmill Co.) while in Vermilion.

Minburn M.D. Sponsors Better Farming Competition

CHALLENGE CUP AND CASH PRIZES

Entries in by August 1st

The agricultural service board of the Municipal District of Minburn No. 72 is sponsoring a better farming competition. The municipal district has been divided into four zones corresponding with the areas of the four former municipal districts: [illegible], Melberta, Buffalo Coulee, Birch Lake and Lakeview.

There will be three cash prizes in each zone as follows: 1st $2[illegible], 2nd [illegible], 3rd 10. In addition there will be a grand prize of a challenge [illegible] donated by the Canadian Bank of Commerce for the best farm in all areas or zones.

VERMILION FAIR JULY 24th, 25th, 26th

INCREASED GRANDSTAND—MORE EXHIBITS — HORSE RACES ATTRACT

Plans for Vermilion's big 1947 fair are well advanced and patrons will again be assured of an interesting and entertaining three days the latter part of July.

Grandstand Accommodation is Increased

An additional section of grandstand has been built by contractor C. P. Lipsey of Vermilion and the entire grandstand is now in process of being roofed, so that all who attend Vermilion Fair will be sure of first class accommodation. Grandstand admission prices have been increased to help bear the heavy cost of the new construction: adult admission to the stands will be 75 cents this year instead of the former 50 cents. The fairs at Lloydminster and Vegreville have been charging 75 cents for some time. Gate admissions for adults will be 50 cents so that all who desire to attend the Fair this year will be well advised to purchase advance tickets which are being offered for sale this week end and until Wednesday evening prior to the Fair at 3 for $1.

FAIR EXHIBITS

Exhibits will surpass those of previous years if the early indications are borne out. The Shorthorn show will produce almost 100 head of pure bred Shorthorns while the Hereford and Angus breeds [illegible] interest. The [illegible] drawing [illegible]

Plant Plebiscite on Tuesday, July 29th

ADVANCE POLLS JULY 25 and 26

A special meeting of the town council was held Monday June 30th, with Mayor Morrison and Crs Dawson, Kehoe, Stack, Stephens, Urquhart.

The meeting was called to consider the amended offer of Canadian Utilities re power plant purchase and Franchise Agreement.

By-law No. 8-47 calling for a plebiscite of proprietary electors to be held on July 29th was given first reading. For: Morrison, Dawson, Stack, Urquhart, Stephens. Against: Kehoe.

By-law No. 9-47 appointing H. J. Payne Returning Officer was then read three times and finally passed.

Motion Stack-Stephens: That the Council hereby instruct Returning Officer H. J. Payne to hold an advance poll for the purpose of permitting the proprietary electors to vote on the proposed franchise agreement at the town hall on Friday July 25th and Saturday July 26th from 10 a.m. to [illegible] noon on each day. CM

Meeting adjourned.

Commercial Teacher Resigns

The Vermilion school board very much regretted receiving the resignation of Miss Lucie Milne, teacher of the commercial courses for the past four years, or ever since the full course has been offered in Vermilion. Miss Milne has accepted a similar position at Taber where her sister is already a member of the high school staff. Taber has just completed plans to teach the commercial courses and it will fall to Miss Milne to organize and launch the new and much desired classes.

Many graduates of the commercial courses at the Vermilion high school are now filling important positions as secretaries and stenographers quite competently. The training received here from Miss Milne was regarded as the equal to that taught anywhere in the province in business college or high school.

Immediate steps are being taken to secure the services of a commercial teacher and the number of typewriters at the high school is being increased from 24 to 30. The local high school offers a complete course of typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, filing etc.

REV. CAPT. BRANT TO BE GUEST SPEAKER HERE SUNDAY

The Rev. Capt. Brant of Clandonald will be the guest speaker and will conduct the service at St. Saviour's Anglican church, Vermilion, Sunday evening July 6th at 7.30 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.

Rainfall in June Only 1.75 Inches

2.41 INCHES IN 1946

June rainfall only amounted to 1.75 inches this year according to statistics supplied by the Dept. of Transport radio beam station here. Total rain to date is 3.92 inches.

In 1946 June rain totalled 2.41 inches and the rainfall to the end of June that year was 5.60.

Report of the Annual Meeting, Vermilion Savings, Credit Union

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Vermilion Savings and Credit Union Ltd. was held on Wednesday evening June 25th at the Vermilion school of agriculture with a good representation of members and other friends of the co-operative way of life.

The business session was preceded by a showing of a film by Mr Ronald Smith of the National Film Board entitled "Here is Tomorrow" and it depicted the commencement and the growth of the co-operative movement in the United States. The liberal use of adjectives so frequently used in boosting the latest productions from Hollywood, could be used in all sincerity of the growth of the Co-operative achievements as conveyed by the film shown by Mr Smith.

The President in his remarks reviewed the activities of the Union stating that the growth although not spectacular as some unions was nevertheless sound and healthy with the volume of business steadily improving. During the year two features were added for the protection of the members 1st. Group Life Insurance and Loan Liability Insurance. The former carries life insurance on each member to the amount the member has to his credit in the Union up to a sum of $1000 at or before he reaches 55 years of age. After that age insurance is paid on a pro rata basis of the amount on deposit and ceasing at 70 years of age. In the second case Liability Insurance protects the estate of a borrower in the event of death and it also includes total disability that is in the event of either of the foregoing, insurance is carried and the Company pays the amount of the loan plus all interest to date, thus relieving the estate or disabled member of any liability for the payment of the loan. Now—just reflect please. In case of death the amount on deposit not only remains as is but is doubled by the life insurance carried.

At the present time plans are going ahead to form a chapter in the Battle River constituency of the 10 or 12 Unions already operating. This central organization will operate for the sole purpose of education and assisting when required in the formation of new Unions. It will also act as a clearing house for ideas and problems of the member Unions.

Mr. R. C. Path of the Y.M.C.A. staff addressed the gathering of his impressions of the Credit Union movement and his experience as a member while in Drumheller. He stated that it fills a distinct need in any community and is worthy of support.

The financial report as submitted by the treasurer up to the end of 1946 verified the remarks of the president as to the progress of the Union.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Directors—Messrs. E. Schurman and H. B. Evans. Supervisory Committee and Credit Committee Messrs. Ken Stone and Ross B. Taylor respectively.

FLIES AND DISEASE

Probably the most dangerous insect responsible for transmission of disease is the fly. Health authorities urge destruction of flies on sight. They pass infection directly from filth to food. In combating fly-borne disease, public health officials urge the proper covering and thorough destruction of garbage. Screening, particularly at this season, is also advised for keeping flies out of homes and away from food.

FLASH — Hail driven by a high wind, swept a wide area south of Vermilion, damaging crops up to 100%, stripping trees of their foliage and breaking windows on Wednesday night. More detailed report next week.

.40 Inches of Rain Wednesday Night

JULY 1st HOTTEST DAY WITH 93 ABOVE

Hot weather Tuesday and Wednesday brought up quite a thunder storm and high wind Wednesday night and .40 inches of rain fell in this locality. Some nearby districts report hail while others report very light showers during the storm.

July 1st was the hottest day this year with 93 above in the shade being registered.

LOCAL NEWS

Miss Lilian Loveredge who has been an assistant in the University library, has been appointed order librarian.

Mrs. Jimmy England and little daughter Sharon Marie are spending the week in town at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Cooper.

Leslie Gooke who has been a member of the high school teaching staff at Wainwright spent from Friday to Tuesday evening at Vermilion and Dewberry. He then went to Edmonton where he will mark departmental examination papers. Leslie has been granted a leave of absence and will spend the coming year in Eastern Canada.

Stewart and Donna Cooper are spending the week visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos Bothwell at the farm near Islay.

H. J. Davies for 26 years a resident of the Vermilion district, farming north of town and now living at Vernon, B.C., writes from that city enclosing his renewal sub and states that everything looks very lovely there and fruit crop prospects are very good. There is some concern over the loss of the British market for this year as they took 25% of the B.C. crop of apples amounting to 2½ million boxes last year. Mr. and Mrs. Davies have an acre of land with lots of lawn, garden and almost all the varieties of trees and small fruits. They have recently seen Mr and Mrs. Sidney Millward and Donald and report these former Vermilionites looking and feeling very well.

Enjoyable Picnics

Some very enjoyable picnics have been held during the past month. The first of these was the United church Sunday school picnic held on the beautiful grounds at the school of agriculture, ideal for such a purpose. This was attended by over 200 people. Races, softball and a sumptuous lunch with lots of ice cream, were included in the program.

The Anglican Sunday school picnic was held on the grounds overlooking the river valley immediately to the north of St. Saviours' church on Saturday afternoon last week. Races were run, games played and everything that kiddies like particularly, served at the picnic lunch.

On July 1st, the school of agriculture lawn was the scene of the Masonic picnic, well attended by children and adults alike and where plenty of fun was enjoyed. Thanks to some of the Masons who were really out to see that everyone enjoyed themselves to the utmost some very funny incidents including Indian wrestling and specialty races created a great amount of amusement.

CARS COLLIDE; MRS. C. W. ROBINSON INJURED

Mrs. Chas. W. Robinson is in hospital suffering from injuries sustained when the car in which she was a passenger and another car from Saskatchewan collided at the intersection of the highways on the south side of town Sunday. Mr and Mrs. Robinson were coming into town along the Wainwright highway and Mr. Page, his wife and child from Saskatchewan were travelling west on highway 16, the collision taking place at the highway intersection late in the afternoon. The Robinson car turned over in the collision. Mrs. Robinson was the only one injured, suffering rather severe bruises and a bad shaking up.

Both cars were considerably damaged and both were 1947 models. Mr. Robinson's having travelled only 230 miles and that of Mr. Page's slightly over 1000 miles. The Page family were on a holiday trip having left their home in Saskatchewan earlier that day.

THE STANDARD
VERMILION - - - ALBERTA
ESTABLISHED 1920
Published Every Thursday Afternoon
At the Office, Main St.
S. R. P. COOPER — PUBLISHER

Vermilion, Alberta, July 3rd, 1947.

READ THE BY-LAW —

The by-law covering the franchise and agreement with the Canadian Utilities, setting forth terms of purchase, light and power rates, time of plebiscite, appears in complete detail in this issue of the Standard. Every person in Vermilion must read this over carefully, mentally weigh and analyse the contents and thus be in full possession of all the facts prior to voting Tuesday July 29th.

$41,000.00 NEEDED —

Steady progress continues with digging and laying of the sewer line although somewhat difficult terrain has been covered in the past weeks, the two river hill roads having to be crossed. The line from the disposal plant across the river flats is fully half completed, and the big water reservoir is definitely taking shape. Some $41,000 more is needed to complete the water and sewer project than when the contracts were let.

IT'S RATHER NICE —

Yes, it's rather nice to experience the many acts of co-operation which so materially assisted in issuing the Standard on time this week. In last week's paper an appeal was made for early advertisements, as Tuesday, an important day in a newspaper office, was a holiday. As a result of the appeal changes of advertisements commenced arriving at this office as early as Friday noon, continued on Saturday and were all in Monday.

The Editor commented regarding this nice gesture on the part of its advertisers to one business man who brought his ad. down himself, and this individual burst forth with what amounted to the following. In his reply: "Why shouldn't everyone co-operate and help the paper? why, this paper amounts to a community effort — and if any institution deserves support it's the Standard. I read it from cover to cover, you support and promote every worthwhile enterprise in the country, the Red Cross, the T.B. Campaign, Board of Trade, Elks, Masons, the Fair, Salvation Army, the Farmers' organizations, I.O.D.E. and a hundred and one others. You keep us acquainted at your own expense with all that goes on at school board and divisional meetings, municipal and council meetings, hospital meetings and the doings of a dozen different clubs. You constantly promote the town and district. Even if my advertisement didn't bring me in a dollar of direct returns, I'd be shirking my duty and I'd be a piker if I didn't advertise regularly and support the paper. Your paper certainly pays dividends to the business men of Vermilion advertisers or not every one benefits from it because it attracts people to town from far and near. We know furthermore that every line you cast into type and put into the paper costs you money just as every can on my grocery shelves costs me money."

Yes . . . it is nice to have such sentiment prevail, and this appreciation will probably encourage us to struggle along for another 30 years.

ALBERTA T.B. ASSOCIATION

To Trade With Brazil On New Money Basis

OTTAWA.—The Foreign Exchange Control Board announced that Canadian exporters and importers now may trade with Brazil on either a sterling or United States dollar basis.

The move represented a further step in carrying out an agreement by the United Kingdom to make sterling earnings of foreign countries available for use anywhere by July 15.

In the first quarter of this year, Canadian sales to Brazil totalled $6,190,124 and imports $2,806,567.

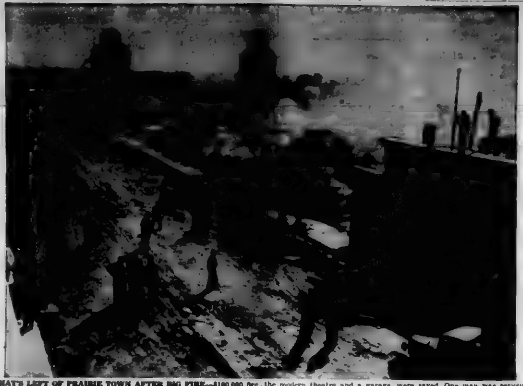
The addition of Brazil brings to 25 the number of countries already opened to sterling or U.S. dollar trade with Canada.

SHORTAGE OF WATCH DOGS TO COMBAT CRIME

SINGAPORE. — The people of Singapore ate most of their dogs during the Japanese occupation.

Now there is a shortage of watch dogs to combat a crime wave.

To relieve the dog shortage, 80 pedigreed dogs, ranging from Great Danes to Pekinese, was flown to Singapore from Australia.



WHAT'S LEFT OF PRAIRIE TOWN AFTER BIG FIRE—$100,000 fire almost wiped out the business section of Hanley, Sask., a village about 40 miles south of Saskatoon. Seven buildings in this block were destroyed, only the modern theatre and a garage, were saved. One man was seriously injured. Twelve years ago a $30,000 fire occurred on opposite side of street. Village started in 1902.

U.S. Will Help Canada's Vets House Program

WASHINGTON. — The United States will help Canada's veterans housing program with the same priority ratings for shipments of production material and equipment it offers the United States veterans housing program, the Commerce Department announced.

"Canadian producers of building materials will be extended the same limited assistance as is now given similar producers in this country," the department's Office of Materials Distribution (OMD) said.

Canada has adopted construction controls comparable to those of the United States.

"Preference ratings will be assigned by OMD under the same conditions and to the same extent that the office of the housing expediter assigns similar ratings in support of the veterans emergency housing program in the United States," the OMD said.

Canadian applications for OMD ratings must first be screened and endorsed by the Canadian Government priorities officer, Department of Restriction and Supply, the OMD said.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

MOTH IN BARE FEET

By WALLACE R. CLAY

IT wasn't a very bad morning-after, as mornings-after go. The little housekeeping noises from downstairs didn't jar particularly, and Ben Wilson felt that he might even go for some eggs and bacon—if there was any bacon. He smiled luxuriously at the thought of his five-day work week with its six-day take-home pay.

Phlocrat, he grunted contentedly, no less. Now, if only he could ring and have his coffee brought up. He toyed with the idea as being a very good one . . .

Coffee. . . That was what he had been looking for last night at the party. He shouldn't have gone along with the boys after the foremen's meeting was over; but, well.. He began to backtrack through the evening in lazy, semiwakeful stages. Something bright, he remembered, like a flame. Something about cinders; not in his eye—or were they. . . .

Well, of course! Harry's cousin, the unattached red-head that took the place over, the moment she arrived. That suggested the analogy: the way that the gang crowded around her like a pack of moths. There used to be a song that went something like that.. Men cluster to me like moths around a flame; and if their wings burn I know I'm not to blame." M-m-m, not much! Lucky he had a swell little wife waiting home for him or he would have been like the rest of those jerks.

Harry had left early—something about a fishing trip—but Lucinda had said that she was a big girl now and that she was going to stay. Ben remembered kidding her about her name, calling her "Cindah", which, he explained with great elaboration, was cinder with a Boston accent. He thought that was very clever—last night. Finally he got around to wondering who had taken her home. He remembered vaguely of some sort of election, but he couldn't put his finger on what happened from there on out.

"Caesar's Ghost!" Ben was abruptly fully awake and sitting up. He stared about the room. He distinctly remembered one thing, and that was placing his coat and shirt on a chair, but where were they now?

His bare feet hit the floor with a splat. Why, oh why, in his cups, had he overlooked that great Truth That no matter how perfect a woman's coiffure, the odds are heavy on it shedding at the wrong time. Trudy, his wife, was a decided brunette—there was no "out" in that direction.

A quick search of the clothes closet confirmed the worst. Keys, billfold and miscellaneous junk were piled on the dresser but there was no evidence of the suit he had worn. That left but one thing to do. Get the habeas corpus of corpus delicti or whatever you called the fatal object.

Ben slipped into a pair of slacks and sport shirt and headed for the stairs. Halfway down he slowed his pace; stopped. It wouldn't do to just go barging in and demand the coat without a reason; a casual reason. And if she knew! Ah, if she knew, the reason would play no part of it.

The swinging door leading to the kitchen let out a creak. Trudy Wilson put on her best wifely smile. "Did I wake you up? I let you sleep late because — Ben, what's ailing you? You're green!"

She let the door swing shut and walked to the foot of the stairs. Ben spurred himself into a sort of Zombie shuffle and headed for the kitchen with Trudy close behind.

The coffee was black and hot. Trudy was cheerful, almost solicitous. It just could be that there was nothing wrong after all. The thought brought him up with a jerk. He took a deep breath:

"That dark grey coat I had on last night what happened to it? I think I left some papers in it."

"I don't think you did, honey. I emptied the pockets and brought it down to put a press in it this morning. But after well, I mean I think it had better go to the cleaners.." She left the words hanging on the edge of her coffee cup.

Ben choked and almost seared his throat. Good grief! So all this had been her delightful little way of softening him up for the final skull cracking.

"Okay, if it's gotta go, it's gotta go but where is it?"

"In the hall closet no wait, dear! Finish your coffee, won't you? You're not going anywhere looking like that!" Trudy half rose, but Ben had shoved back his chair and barged out of the room.

He groped for the light switch. The coat was in plain view and a quick once-over afforded no trace of strawberry blonde hair or any other signs of the previous evening's foray. Ben sighed in relief. His honor was saved, and Trudy, grand little pal, had been on the level all the time. She probably had made that crack just to see what he'd say and he, like a sap oh, well.

He was just turning to make a gallant return to the kitchen when a peculiar scent touched his nostrils. He sniffed. There was something alien about it that didn't belong in the Wilson household. Certainly nothing that Trudy used.

The newly acquired strength trickled down into his bare toes and disappeared into the equally bare floor. Perfume! The coat was reeking with the stuff! His eyes darted, seeking a hiding place either for the coat or himself it didn't matter which.

He had just grabbed the offending garment from the hanger when the kitchen door let out a warning squeak. This is it, opined Ben grimly. He was caught with his corpus delicti down.

Gently Trudy took the coat from his damp fingers. Hesitantly she held the shoulder of it under his nose.

"You smell that?" she asked simply.

"How could I miss?" he breathed. "You might just as well . . ."

"Now don't get mad, Ben," Trudy [illegible] tiptoe kiss. "It's nothing that the cleaners can't remove, if you'll just wait. I spilled the whole bottle of that new smelly moth repellant when I was trying to put a few drops on the light bulb up there.

"You know," she added defensively, "moths go crazy around a light—or a flame. Ben! . . ."

"Hush, child, and let me kiss you," Ben said a moment later. "I don't know how your moths can even stand to get near that stuff, it's potent."

"I hope so," murmured Trudy. "There's a big one around here somewhere that I really wanted to get."

"Was a big one," corrected her husband, and as she looked up quizzically he added, "He's been singed, seared and purified—you won't have any more trouble from him. You know, out like a light—or a flame. Like this."

And suiting the action to words, he found the pull-cord with his free hand and the closet was dark again.

Many British Plants Seek Canadian Sites

TORONTO — A heavy influx of British industries into Canada within a few years was predicted by W. H. Sheriff, M.B.E., an executive of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in Great Britain.

Mr. Sheriff who plans a tour of the Dominion to stimulate trade with Great Britain, described as "almost unbelievable" the industrial advances made in this country during the past 10 years.

More and more British firms are seeking information from the Chamber of Commerce about Canada with a view to locating here, he said. The volume of these enquiries was a definite indication that Canada's war-developed industrial picture will continue to expand.

JAM MARGUERITES

These bits of [illegible] fluff are fit for a goddess.

- 1 egg white
- ½ cup [illegible]
- 2 drops [illegible] extract
- ¼ cup chopped nut meats
- 24 salted crackers

Beat egg white until stiff, add jam gradually and beat with rotary egg beater until thoroughly blended. Add flavoring and 1 tablespoon nuts.

Place a tablespoon of mixture on each cracker [illegible] with the remaining nuts and bake [illegible] (400 deg. F.) 10 minutes or until delicately browned. Makes 24 marguerites.

CHOCOLATE ICEBOX COOKIES

- 3½ cups sifted flour
- 3½ teaspoons baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 [illegible] cup softened butter or other shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 eggs, well beaten
- 4 squares [illegible] chocolate, melted
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 cups broken walnut meats

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt and sift again. Combine shortening, sugar, eggs, chocolate and vanilla, beating with spoon until blended. Add nuts. Add flour gradually, mixing well after each addition. Divide [illegible] parts, shape in rolls 2 inches in diameter, rolling each in waxed paper. Chill overnight or until firm enough to slice. Cut in ⅛-inch slices, bake on ungreased baking sheet in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 10 minutes, or until done. Makes about 13 dozen [illegible] cookies. Wrapped rolls of dough may be kept in refrigerator and cookies sliced and baked as needed.

Education, Entertainment at Edmonton Fair

OPENS JULY 14th

The greatest galaxy of education and entertainment ever assembled will be staged during the week of the 69th annual summer fair sponsored by the [illegible]. The fair will open on Monday July 14 and will continue through the week.

There will be six days of horse racing with seven races daily and some of the finest handicap stars of Western Canada and the mid-west United States will be competing for the greatly increased prize money offered this year.

The entries in the livestock division are the heaviest in recent years with every western province sending in entries to compete against livestock entered from British Columbia, Ontario, Quebec and the United States. As usual there will be the annual parade of livestock on Friday morning of fair week. Entries in all livestock classes will close on June 20th at 1 p.m.

In the agricultural sections there will be exhibits of grain and grasses from noted exhibitors, and a splendid array of flowers also is expected to be on display.

On the entertainment side the Royal American Shows, one of the leading Midway organizations in America, will be on display with bigger and better rides and side shows.

The grandstand attractions this year are outstanding, and will be headlined by international stars of stage, screen and radio. Amongst the acts to be presented each evening in front of the grandstand are Reg Kehoe and his Marimba Queens, one of the most versatile groups on the stage today. They have been featured in Columbia pictures, and have played in most of the leading cities in the United States.

Al Robins, The Banana Man is one of the funniest acts in vaudeville, and he has been a regular feature act with the Ringling Brothers show "Spangles" at Madison Square Gardens, New York. He is rated with the top outdoor comedy acts in North America.

Always a favorite with Exhibition crowds is Duncan's Royal Scotch Collies. They are coming directly from the Palladium and Coliseum in London, England, to appear again on the western fairs circuit. This act has appeared before Royalty in Britain and is considered the World's finest canine act.

There are hosts of other grandstand attractions including Howard and Wanda Bell, acrobalancers, in a breath-taking act, Billy Chandler, the Penny King of Swing, Sylvia Manon and Company, in Adagio De Luxe, and Darraine and Ellis, in Romance in Song, one of the finest teams ever presented in Western Canada.

BEING A BY-LAW TO GRANT A SPECIAL FRANCHISE TO THE CANADIAN UTILITIES LIMITED TO SUPPLY ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER TO THE TOWN OF VERMILION AND THE INHABITANTS THEREOF.

WHEREAS the Canadian Utilities Limited has made application to the Council of the Municipal Corporation of the Town of Vermilion for the grant to it of a Special Franchise to supply the said Town of Vermilion and the inhabitants thereof with electric light and power

AND WHEREAS the Council deems it expedient to grant such right or franchise and to enter into an agreement to that effect with the said Canadian Utilities limited subject to the approval of the taxpayers as provided in the Town and Villages Act

WHEREFORE the Council of the Town of Vermilion enacts as follows:

1 That a Special Franchise be granted to the Canadian Utilities Limited, a body corporate having its head office in the City of Calgary, Alberta, its successors and assigns, to supply Electric Light and Power to the Town of Vermilion and the inhabitants thereof, subject to the terms, covenants, conditions, provisos and agreements set forth and contained in the Special Franchise agreement hereto attached and forming a part of and deemed to be included in this By-law

2. That a vote of the proprietary electors of the Town be taken with respect to the said Special Franchise agreement in accordance with the provisions of the Town and Villages Act in that behalf made and provided.

3 That upon the assent of the required number of the proprietary electors who have voted thereon the Mayor and the Secretary-Treasurer be and are hereby authorized to execute the said Special Franchise agreement for and on behalf of the Town.

4. This By-law shall come into effect on the final passing thereof and subject to the approval thereof by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners.

First reading this 30th day of June, 1947

J. W. G. Morrison, Mayor
James J. Part, Sec'y-Treasurer.

Approved by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners the 2nd day of July, A.D. 1947

Second and Third reading and finally passed by the Council of the Town of Vermilion, this day of , A.D. 1947

PUBLIC NOTICE

PUBLIC NOTICE is HEREBY GIVEN that there has been introduced at a meeting of the Council of the Municipal Corporation of the Town of Vermilion By-Law No. 8-47, of which the following is a synopsis.

1 The Town grants to the Canadian Utilities Company Limited (The Company) an exclusive Special Franchise to supply light and power within the Town of Vermilion to the inhabitants thereof as may be required for a period of 20 years from the date of the agreement or franchise, subject to renewal and to the terms and conditions in said By-law contained.

2 The Company agrees to purchase and the Town agrees to sell to the said Company the Town's Electric Light and Power Plant including boilers, engines, switch board generators and all and any fixtures of whatever kind and nature and used in connection with the operation of the said plant including pole line, equipment and accessories generally, and for which the Company agrees to pay to the Town on execution of the said agreement or Franchise the sum of $130,000.00 and assume the payment of the amount due under the Babcock Wilcox & Goldie McCulloch water tube boiler contract and the cost of installation thereof.

3. The Company agrees to supply all the electric light and power required by the Town and give a continuous 24-hour service at rates as per schedule hereto attached.

4. The Company agrees to put into effect on the first day of the month following the execution of the said franchise agreement the schedule of rates hereto attached.

5 The Company undertakes to retain the staff presently employed by the Town in its plant so long as such continues to give satisfactory service and under same conditions as apply to other employees of the Company.

6. The Town agrees to pay the Company for Street Lighting for the number of lamps in use at date of agreement at the rates hereto attached, with a minimum cost for such service of $225 per month. Any additional lights required to be paid for by the Town

7. The Company shall supply all meters and no rental charged to the consumers therefor

8. Proviso for the cancellation of the agreement or franchise in the event of the Company failing to implement and comply with the terms and conditions of the Agreement

9. Proviso to save harmless the Town from damages as the result of any work carried on by the Company in lanes or streets in the Town

10 The Company further agrees to take an assignment of the contract for purchase of the 25,000 pound water tube boiler including all obligations thereunder and included in said contract as entered into between the Town and the Babcock-Wilcox & Goldie McCulloch under date the 21st day of June, A.D. 1946 and agrees to save harmless the Town from any and all action or damages arising from the purchase of or the installation of the said water tube boiler

11. The Company further agrees to re-imburse to the Town any and all cost incurred by it in connection with any work done or material purchased for the purpose of installing the said boiler up to the date of agreement.

12. The Company is not purchasing the steam heat system but agrees to operate the system for the Town at the rate of $500.00 per month for the sum of $1500.00 for nine months in each year during the period the light plant is operated by the Company and free heat during the months of June, July and August

13. The Company agrees within two (2) years from date of Franchise to construct or to expend at least $200,000.00 upon the construction of a new electric generating plant within the limits of the Town and on a site selected by the Company

14 Upon completion of the proposed said light and power plant, the Company will re-convey to the Town the site and buildings of the present light and power plant and leave on the premises one of the existing boilers in its then existing condition, equipped with necessary automatic controls available for use by the Town in supplying steam to its consumers.

15. The Company during its operation of the steam heat system will have no jurisdiction over the rates charged by the Town or the revenues derived from the consumers of steam heat.

16. The Company further undertakes to instal a system of modern lighting fixtures on the two main streets at its own expense

17. The Company waives cost of labor for installation and removal of the temporary pole line built by the Company to serve the Town during the time of the failure of the electric power plant

18. The aforesaid mentioned agreement is exhibited at the Town Hall where it can be inspected by any interested party during the regular office hours

19 That a plebiscite of the proprietary electors be taken for and against the said By-law as required by the Towns and Villages Act

20 That if assent be given by two-thirds majority of the proprietary electors voting thereon the Mayor and Secretary Treasurer are authorized to sign the said agreement

21 The By-law is subject to the approval of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners and upon its approval final reading may be given to the said enactment

22. In the event of default being made by the Company to expend $300,000.00 within two years upon the construction of a new electric generating system within town limits, then the Company agrees to pay the Town $10,000.00 forthwith and further payments each succeeding year, if default continues, until it has made a payment of $50,000.00 subject to such failure being due to cause beyond control of company.

23 The franchise may be renewed for a period of ten years from date of expiration, subject to ratification by an Act passed by the Legislature of Alberta

24. The plant of the Company will be subject to being assessed for School and Municipal purposes.

NOTICE

TAKE NOTICE that the foregoing is a true synopsis of the proposed By-law No. 8-47 which has been introduced in the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the Town of Vermilion to grant a special Franchise to the Canadian Utilities Company Limited to purchase the Electric Light and Power Plant of the Town of Vermilion and furnish the inhabitants thereof with light and power as provided in said By-law

AND TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that said proposed By-law No. 8-47 will be finally passed by the said Municipal Council of the Corporation of the Town of Vermilion upon the assent thereto of two-thirds of the proprietary electors of the said Town of Vermilion voting on the said proposed By-law No. 8-47 subject, however to the approval of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners

AND TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that an Advance Poll will be held at the Town Hall on Friday and Saturday the 25th and 26th days of July from the hour of 10 o'clock in the forenoon until 12 o'clock noon

AND TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that a poll of the said proprietary electors of the Corporation of the Town of Vermilion on the said proposed By-law will be held at the Town Hall in the said Town of Vermilion on Tuesday, the 29th day of July, 1947, between the hours of 10 o'clock in the forenoon and 7 o'clock in the afternoon, Daylight Saving Time, after which I shall count the votes polled for and against the said proposed By-law and declare the result thereof.

GIVEN under my hand at the Town of Vermilion, Alberta, this 2nd day of July, A.D. 1947

H. J. PAYNE,
Returning Officer

Ten Commandments For Shooting Safety

In an effort to curb shooting accidents, the Canadian Small Bore Association has issued the following ten commandments for shooting safety—

1 Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun.

2 Carry only empty guns, taken down or with action open, into your automobile, camp or home.

3 Be sure the barrel and action are always clear of obstructions.

4 Always carry your gun so you can control the direction of the muzzle even if you stumble.

5 Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger.

6 Never point a gun at anything you do not wish to shoot.

7 Never leave a gun unattended unless you first unload it.

8 Never climb a tree or a fence with a loaded gun.

9 Never shoot at a flat surface or the surface of water.

10 Do not mix gunpowder, alcohol and gasoline. tf

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

More than 40,000 man days were lost through dock strikes in Britain during the last year.

Russia will have 30 per cent. more fashionable tailor shops this year than it had before the war, Tass news agency reported.

The Danish ministry of supply announced meat rationing has been introduced—Denmark's first meat rationing since 1920.

Wage rates in Canada in 1946 averaged nine per cent. higher than in 1945, according to preliminary figures issued by the labor department.

The first blood research unit to be established in the British Empire will be set up at Oxford under a £50,000 ($200,000) gift of the Nuffield foundation.

The post office department announced resumption of direct parcel post service from Canada to France. The new service applies on packages weighing up to 20 pounds.

Denmark has become the centre of European research into the scourge of rheumatism and the first post-war international rheumatism congress will be held at Copenhagen Sept. 5-7.

Manufacture of refrigerators, motorboats, lifebuoys and other articles from a plastic material weighing 20 times less than water and noted for its low heat conductivity has begun in the Soviet Union.

Agricultural Minister J. G. Gardiner has announced that the government intends to continue to buy cheese for export to Britain on the open market, without requisitioning supplies from the domestic market.

U.S. ARMY "TOO SMALL", SAYS CHIEF

MIAMI, Fla.—The present strength of the U.S. army is only 10 divisions as compared with 200 divisions for Russia and her European satellites, Lt. Gen. J. Lawton Collins, army information chief, revealed.

In an urgent plea for universal military training, Collins told a national convention of the Reserve Officers association that "our forces in Europe today are so small that they could easily be overrun."

"We cannot man 4,000 aircraft today. The Russians have over 10,000. "We can't deal in probabilities any longer," Collins warned. "That was one of the mistakes made prior to Pearl Harbor. People said the Japs couldn't attack us, but they did. Today other nations in the world are capable of attacking us. We must deal in capabilities and face the facts."

MAN BLINDED BY ATTACK FROM HAWK

KAMLOOPS.—Harry Reynolds, 38, of Big Bar, 40 miles from Clinton, was taken to Royal Inland Hospital, Kamloops, after being attacked by a hawk while riding horseback.

The hawk almost tore out Reynold's right eye and left an eight-inch scratch across his forehead. He will not lose the sight of his eye but will be blinded for several weeks.

SAYS MAN HAS DESTROYED BULK OF WORLD'S FORESTS

LONDON.—Bronzed forest experts attending the Empire Forestry conference listened to a factual account of how man have destroyed timber resources to a point where world-wide [illegible] now is needed to save them.

C. R. Legat, veteran forester and delegate of the Empire Forestry Association, gave these findings of his organization:

1. Within 5,000 years man has destroyed at least two-fifths of original forest or twice as much as he has left.

2. Foresters of Russia and Canada, with large resources, still have it in their power to [illegible] the world's softwood supplies.

3. In Canada it was estimated that for every seven trees extracted for commercial purposes three are destroyed by fire, insects, disease or other enemies.

4. Proposals by foresters for taking forest harvest in proportion to growth and thus maintain timber resources still may have to be applied generally.

The Forestry Association said Canada seems likely to continue in her present position as a timber exporter rivalled only by Sweden and Finland. But Sweden now was forced to concentrate on raising enough to maintain her position while Canada with eight times as much forest area per capita could with good management still afford to lose land to agriculture and yet increase forest production.

"Canada and Scandinavia seem cast for the role of meeting the world demands for sawn softwood lumber and pulp for several decades yet until the resources of Russia and perhaps the forests of South America become available," the association added.

The United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization had found there was a world shortage of wood and general forest policy was needed to conserve resources and provide wood for all needs.

Legat said there should be improved exchanges of information on forestry matters.

Americans Adopting Canadian Babies

OTTAWA.—The question of Americans adopting Canadian children came up for discussion at the External Affairs Commons committee and brought the disclosure that approximately three infants a week are going over for adoption in the United States.

Legal adoption has been completed when the passport is issued as the application must be made out by the natural parent or legal guardian, E. G. Sivertz, passport officer, said in reply to a question by Gordon Graydon (P.C.—Peel).

Mr. Sivertz, who appeared as a witness said that while he could only give a rough estimate of such American adoptions, he estimated there were approximately three applications a week in that category.

HOW TO PREVENT SUNBURN

Every year millions of sun worshippers suffer hours of torture because they get too much sun—and too severe a burning. Now research men have come up with a plentiful, cheap and harmless sunburn preventive that works amazingly well.

Early in 1942 a real investigation began. One of the world's foremost physicists, Dr. Matthew Luckiesh, was called in. With him came his collaborator in many home-lighting developments, A. H. Taylor. Medical aspects of the problem were tackled by Drs. H. N. Cole and Torald Sollmann, assigned by the American Medical Association. This four-man research team was so successful that you will never again have to endure sunburn.

Almost by accident the experimenters tried a variety of petrolatum jelly that has not been offered to the general public. It is familiar to most farmers, however, who buy it under the name of "dark red veterinary petrolatum." Chemically, this is similar to the white vaseline sold in drugstores, but its dark color makes it appear impure, and it is generally used only for horses and cattle.

Despite its reddish color the petrolatum is really a highly purified product. It is refined from a special crude oil and is free from anthracene chemicals, which often cause skin rashes. Furthermore, the petrolatum does not contain alkali or acid. To verify this purity, the experimenters rubbed it in several nights in succession. There was never any sign of irritation.

Because the petrolatum contains no organic substances, it cannot go rancid no matter how long it is stored. Finally it is cheap to use, is easily applied to the skin and will stay put even if you go in swimming. The red color shows only if the petrolatum is applied thickly, but the coating need not be heavy.

Doubtless we'll soon be able to buy it in convenient jars and tubes. Meanwhile, your druggist can get it for you in pound cans or smaller.

Red petrolatum should be a real blessing to mothers of children who sunburn easily. One coating and the youngsters will be free of sunburn danger for a whole day.

The same applies to adults. Now you can do eighteen holes of golf, hatless, without looking like a scarlet-fever case when you reach the clubhouse. With a coating all over, you should be able to stay outdoors in a bathing suit every day of your vacation. You can soak up all the sunshine you want — and no more sunburn. — Dyson Carter in "The Woman" August, 1946.

FEED GRAIN FROM WEST NEEDED TO FEED CATTLE IN THE EAST

OTTAWA. — Larger quantities of feed grain from western Canada will be required in the east this year because of the backward season here, officials of the farm statistics branch of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics said.

The outlook for oats and barley in Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and the east generally is none too good as a result of continued rains which have made seeding impossible. If the eastern provinces are to maintain their butter and livestock production throughout the winter, a supply of western grain will be essential.

Even if the western provinces have an average good crop and are able to spare feed grains for the east, the eastern farmer will be up against the problem of transportation which last fall prevented the maximum shipment of feed grains.

Shipments of feed grains have to compete with the shipment of grains destined for overseas which get a shipping priority. Thus, it is pointed out, transportation is a major factor in the movement of feed grains to eastern Canada from the west.

According to the statistics branch, everything points to a good crop in the west this year. Warm weather is needed now however. Situation in the east, on the other hand, is definitely unfavorable.

BLACK LEG PREVENTION

Black leg in cattle was prevalent in this district last year. Young calves mostly from 3 to 6 months were affected.

It is a good prevention to inoculate all calves at 3 months old. On the famous McIntyre Ranch at Magrath I saw the spring calves being inoculated last week. If Mr. McIntyre thinks it a worthwhile every stock farmer should follow his example.

COYOTE PUPS

The Market Examiner reports that a farmer at Parkland has devised a successful method of trapping coyote pups. A flare is lighted near the den which scares the old coyotes away. When the youngsters come out looking for [illegible] they get caught in one of the several traps placed around the [illegible] opening. With a bounty of $6 on coyotes it would be worthwhile trying this method of catching them.

SWARM CONTROL

Our Provincial Apiarist advises that strong hives be given plenty of supers and the entrances opened up full width. In cases where queen cells are observed it is advisable to put most of the brood in the top supers and watch the combs weekly to destroy queen cells.

MAKING GOOD HAY

Nearly all the hay in this district is cut too late. It is true that the bulk is increased slightly by waiting but the quality and feeding value is greatly reduced by late cutting. It has been proven by experiments the feeding value of hay slips so fast after the blooming stage that it pays best to cut early.

The best time to cut Alfalfa is when it is 10 per cent in bloom. Grass hay should be cut shortly after heading.

CROPS IN THE SOUTH

Your D.A. spent several days last week touring the irrigation districts of southern Alberta. The crops in the south both on irrigation and dry land are remarkably good. It is something different to see large fields in sugar beets, corn, canning peas etc. The high light of the trip was a barbecue at the famous McIntyre Ranch, south of Lethbridge. Over 1000 people feasted on juicy southern beef.

CABBAGE WORMS

Holes are appearing on the cabbage leaves which indicates the cabbage worms are working. So many fine cabbage patches are spoiled every year by delay in poisoning these worms.

The easiest method is to get a can of derris root powder and dust the cabbage plants once a week. Also D.D.T. can be used in the same way.

Bowtell Bulletin

At time of writing it is raining just what we have been waiting for.

Jim Repp arrived home Friday and reports that he is pleased to be back.

Mr. Sample is spending a few days visiting his daughter Mrs. Magee and family.

A ball team is to be organized Sunday July 6th. Boys and girls interested are asked to be at the school at 2 p.m.

About 125 people attended the picnic at the Perkins home and an extra good time was certainly enjoyed. Mr. McClellan was in charge of the races and the older boys and girls had a big ball game. Mrs. E. Risdale entertained after supper by playing the piano accordion. A big circle was formed round Jim and Harry and "For They are Jolly Good Fellows" was heartily sung. Jim and Harry each thanked one and all for the good time, good wishes and the present they received. Everyone was pleased to have Mr. and Mrs. Spencer with us. Mrs. Millar gave a fine demonstration on skipping and Jim did you do the washing?

Noticed around—Shirley Wilson on her way back to the coast. The Walkers driving a new car. Mr. and Mrs. Perkins and family guests for supper at the Knutson home Monday night. Mr. and Mrs. Ivefield enjoying a nice visit at the Jones' home Tuesday evening. Mrs. Carroll Sr. and Madelon spending Saturday night and Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. Repp; Miss M. Knutson returning home after spending a few days in Edmonton; Mrs. Schoof's brother on a visit here from the coast; Mrs. Robinson and Margaret back from Onion Lake. Grandma Robinson due to return here Sunday. A number of gardens touched by frost during the past week.

The authorities you quote depend upon the point of view you hold.

DEWBERRY

Vermilion Wins Baseball; Pathfinder Men and Dewberry Girls, the Softball

To those of you who missed the Dewberry sports on June 25th—don't do it again next year as even bigger and better will it be if possible. Yes, there was a little rain, just enough to settle the dust and to keep a few more hundreds away but it didn't spoil the day for any there. Nearly 700 adults paid admission to the grounds. Vermilion team won the baseball, the Pathfinder men's team came out on top in fastball, and greatest of all, the Dewberry girls showed great form to down two teams which had defeated them before at other sports, to take first in the girls' softball. Great show girls. Nice to have one Dewberry team come through. The forecast is that the Dewberry girls will win from Mannville some time this summer.

Not until the break of dawn next day was finish said to a great sports day for Dewberry. The barn dance was hugely enjoyed. Once again, plan to attend next year when Dewberry will boast the best sports around — may even be horse races.

The sports ground, purchased from Frank Bowman, includes 10 acres, and it is the intention of the association to have a race track on it.

Rene Bowman has returned home from hospital where he was under medical care for pneumonia.

Noticed around town - Gordon Hodgson and Allan McKay home from Edmonton schools. Roy Machon renewing friends of early school days here. Emily Ennis from Spruce Grove visiting friends in Dewberry.

We told you about Mrs. Beaver sometime ago. She had 4 little kittens [illegible]. How fast they grow up we do not know but lately we have seen two very small beavers at work quite a distance from where mother Beaver has her home.

Frank Needham the Haseldine bronc rider is going in for something new. He has bought a new Jeep from A.E. Keilman, the local dealer. Better hang on to your spurs Frank.

Next week—baseball news of who is at the top of the league.

Robert Elliott has returned to Dewberry after spending the winter in Nova Scotia.

OBITUARY

ISA LENORA ANDERSON

Funeral services for the late Isa Lenora Anderson, 12 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Anderson were held at 2 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon June 25th at the gospel hall Vermilion. Mr. R. Hutchinson and Mr. Jas. Steenson conducted the services. Interment was made in the Vermilion cemetery.

Isa Lenora Anderson who passed away Monday June 23rd, was born at Consort Alberta on July 13, 1934. The family resided at Kirriemuir. They moved to Vermilion in the fall of that year and settled in the Morrison district. Isa attended the Morrison school and continued her schooling at Hughes when the family moved into town in the spring of 1944.

Left to mourn the loss of their daughter and sister are the sorrowing parents, three brothers and four sisters.

The pallbearers were Gordon Anderson, Murray Anderson, Keith Hetherington, Basil Cooper, Oslo Hutchinson and Bill Steenson.

Moyers Brothers were in charge of arrangements.

Beautiful floral tributes were received from the following:

Mother, Dad, Brothers and Sisters; Grandma and family; Aunt Irene [illegible]

World News In Pictures

AFTER THE WOOD IS DRIED—Flood waters of the raging Desmoines river had so undermined the concrete in some sections of Ottumwa, Iowa, that the paving caved and shattered. The auto shown in this photo will find tough going when its removal is attempted by the owner—just one of the "headaches" of the aftermath of one of the mid-west's worst floods.

URGES ST. LAWRENCE WATERWAY DEVELOPMENT—The much-discussed question of the St. Lawrence waterway development was revived recently by U.S. Gen. Marshall. In a talk, with ex-president Herbert Hoover the general urged that the development be undertaken as an aid to military preparedness.

TOWN PROTESTS LACK OF ATTENTION—Atikokan, 150 miles west of Port Arthur, claims it is being ignored by the provincial government. Milk costs 20 cents a quart, three cents more than at Port Arthur, but beer is the same price. The town, 1,200 population, has no fire department, no water or sewage system, no dentist and one doctor. Carol Sweeney's parents say milk bill is $3 weekly.

STANLEY ISN'T GLAD ANY MORE—If Stanley Glad's name was anything else he couldn't be less glad than he was when bandits left him like this, all tied up with neckties, after beating and gagging him. It happened at the Oriole Cleaners in Chicago when thugs raided the place and made off with a truckload of furs, one safe, intact, and the contents of another.

GROTESQUE TOUCH TO ANTI-HEALTH BILL PARADE—Masked and gowned, medical students parade outside Royal Albert Hall, London, England, with placards protesting the government's health bill and its provisions for a state medical service. Some of the Housewives' League demonstrators watch the parade.

COL. O. S. HOLLINRAKE TO OCCUPY BENCH—Col. O. S. Hollinrake, whose appointment to the magistrate's bench has recently been announced by Attorney-General Blackwell. An artilleryman during the first great war, he commanded No. 2 District Depot in the last.

TOURIST ASSOCIATION PICKS MISS BLUE WATER—Eileen Robillard, 18, of Elmvale has been chosen "Miss Blue Water 1947" by the Ontario Tourist association. In addition Miss Robillard will receive $100.

NEW APPOINTMENT—Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, who has been appointed as chancellor of the University of Toronto. He will succeed Dr. H. J. Cody as chancellor for a term [illegible] years.

MISS SASKATOON—Named "Miss Saskatoon 1947" is beauteous Faye Clevering. Last year she was scheduled to compete in intercollegiate beauty contest with British Columbia, but at last minute Saskatchewan entries were withdrawn.

[illegible] "DRY"—Rev. L. S. Osborne, Port Credit, who directed temperance campaign, thanks Russell Cooper, (right), a temperance worker. The anti-dry forces of Peel County, Ont., mustered a 6,000 name petition but were defeated by the temperance vote.

'TEEN-AGERS VOTE "DRY"—'Teen-agers of the Saturday Night Club of Brampton circulated a petition among those too young to vote, urging the county stay "dry" in a recent plebiscite held in Peel County. Since 1924 Peel has not permitted sale of alcoholic beverages.

HAWAIIANS HONOR WAR DEAD WITH WREATH FOR UNKNOWN SOLDIER TOMB—Hawaiian wreath for the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Paris is handed to airline stewardess Monica Rocke by Sakae Takahashi. Wreath was made by war veterans and was placed on London-bound plane. A Red Cross representative will place the wreath on the tomb as a tribute to the Hawaiians who died in the European campaign.

TEACHING THE YOUNGER THE GAME—How to play the old peg-and-hammer game is demonstrated by Felicity Attlee, daughter of Britain's prime minister, for benefit of Barbara Rogers, just three.

SNUG PERCH—Snug' perched in a lifebelt, Doris Baudouin, two, is shown as she arrived in New York on the liner Queen Elizabeth as she completed another leg of her journey from Paris to Arcadia, Calif. She is going to visit her grandparents.

RIVERTON

There are quite a number visiting in the district this past week.

Mrs. Jean Clarke and daughter Ivyanne have come from Ocean Falls, B.C. to visit her mother.

Mrs. Varina Harkness, husband and son of Vancouver are spending a few days with Varina's parents.

Mrs. Gordon MacIntosh of Vegreville has brought her five children to stay with her folks for a few days.

It's very nice to see all these girls once again.

Mrs. Mathison had the school picnic last Sunday evening so it gave the visitors an opportunity to see many old friends.

Mr. P. Hansen has had his sister visiting him from California. Mr and Mrs Hansen are taking her back as far as Withwood by car where they will visit two brothers.

We hope Bruce Madden will soon recover from his recent illness. He spent several days in hospital recently.

Former Vermilion Man Found Dead In Edmonton Store

O. C. Alsberg, 35, employee of the Macleod's hardware, 10253 102 st., Edmonton, was found dead in a room of the store Sunday by a caretaker. Relatives said Mr. Alsberg had been in ill health.

He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Lynn-Marie, one brother David, of Knighton, and three sisters, Mrs. Alex Leveeth of Wetaskiwin, Mrs. Clarence Par and Mrs. Frank Evans, in Washington state.

—Edmonton Journal.

The deceased man "Cliff" Alsberg worked in the Macleod hardware here for some time being transferred to Lloydminster. He was a member of the active service forces during the war.

Sask. Minister of Co-operation at Kitscoty Meeting

ON MONDAY, JULY 14th

The Hon. L. F. McIntosh, Minister of Co-operation and Co-operative development in the Saskatchewan government will be in Kitscoty on Monday, July 14th, to attend the nominating convention of the Alexandra C.C.F. constituency association and to address a public meeting in the evening.

Mr. McIntosh is practically a native of Saskatchewan, coming to that province as a young boy from North Dakota. As a young man he farmed in the Qu'Appelle district and he very quickly became interested in the co-operative movement. He was an early member of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers Association and soon became active in the formation of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool. In fact, before assuming his present duties he was for a number of years, a member of the field staff in this organization.

Since becoming the Minister of Co-operatives, Mr. McIntosh has made several trips to Great Britain and other countries for the purpose of building up reciprocal trade agreements between the co-operative movements of these countries and those of Saskatchewan.

Letters to the Editor

This paper does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by Correspondents.

NOT WORTH WAITING IN

Dear Mr. Editor:

We have often heard that Vermilion was "a town worth living in" but we now realize that it isn't a town worth waiting in. It has always been known as a farmers town and we realize that the farmer is the means of its existence. What accommodation is there for [illegible]? It reads between the lines like this: "We want our money but please hurry out when it is spent."

Where can we go and rest and wait while the men folk go to your sales and various meetings? Nobody wants you if you have no money to buy. If we gathered in groups on the side walk we would feel a tap on the shoulder "move on."

Your town provides for the youth. The middle aged can care for themselves but the old girls are left out in the cold. By the old system we could rest in our car and we found it very convenient to leave parcels. Not many people can finish their week's shopping in one hour. If the Town Fathers tried it they would be like the old man who stayed in while his wife went out to plough. Was anyone dissatisfied with the old system? First come first served. If the delivery and transports and all other kinds would deliver at the back doors it wouldn't congest the streets. In fact sometimes you have to stay until they move out.

Now what about a nice waiting room as in most towns. On main street (not two or three blocks away) where your customers can rest and chat with friends, leave parcels, perhaps have a cup of coffee on cold day or cool drink on a hot day, not free of course.

Make your town worth waiting in. If not I am afraid a lot of the oldest people will have to shop the easy way.

An Example To The World

DURING THE RECENT VISIT OF President Truman to this country attention was again drawn to the fact that the nations of the North American continent have set an example to the world in the way in which they have lived in peace with each other for more than a century. In his address before the Canadian Parliament the President of the United States expressed the belief that with patience and diligence other nations could learn to live side by side in the same harmony as exists on this continent. In these days when there is so much talk of dissension among nations, it is well to remember that there are no reasons for believing that the enduring peace which has been maintained among the neighboring nations in North America, could not be someday achieved throughout the entire world.

* * * * *

Should Continue To Co-operate The enviable record which has been established here brings with it responsibilities in world leadership during these difficult days. President Truman pointed out that a great deal had been accomplished during the war, through the co-operation of Canada and the United States, working together for a common purpose, and he suggested that we should continue to work together in the interests of permanent world peace. In this connection he said: "One of the most effective contributions which our two countries can make to the cause of the United Nations is the diligent effort to apply on a global scale the principles and practices which we have tested with success on this continent."

* * * * *

Subject Is A Timely One It must be admitted that the problems here have perhaps been less difficult than those which must be dealt with in other parts of the world. The people of the United States and of Canada have for a large part, much the same racial origins, and speak the same language. These factors have no doubt played a part in making possible the peaceful attitude which exists among the people of both countries. It would be unfair, however, to say that no effort or planning has been required to keep the peace along the thousands of miles of our great international boundary. The cordial relations which exist between the people of Canada and of the United States stand as an example of what could be accomplished on a world-wide scale, and it was timely indeed, that President Truman should have so forcefully pointed it out when he visited this country.

His Majesty Has No Building Priority

LONDON.—The King ranks with plain John Citizen when it comes to obtaining hard-to-get building materials.

Builders for the Royal Household applied to the Ministry of Works for a licence to obtain concrete needed to complete work on a new oil-burning heating system for Buckingham Palace. But they will have to wait their turn.

A Ministry official said: "There is a shortage of concrete and this work will have to take its turn with other non-priority applications. The King would rank with John Citizen in his application for supplies."

"And how high does your balloon go?" asked the old lady.

The sergeant scratched his head.

"Funny you should say that, Ma'am," he replied. "I've been wondering about it all day. You see, when we pulled it in this morning we looked up on top, and there, large as life, lay a blooming harp."

The professor had just received a title, and the reporter of the local newspaper was trying to get some information from the man's wife.

"And what," he asked, "is the professor's principal research?"

"Well," hesitated the wife, "I think it consists chiefly in hunting for his spectacles."

He was well known at the club for slowness in paying his debts, also for his boasting, and his friends and acquaintances were tired of it. The other day he said in the club: "I've been to all the leading shops in the town, and I'm dashed if I can get what I want."

"What is it?" enquired a candid member, "credit?"

Freddy: "Oh-er, well I suppose he would look funny in a tweed one."

"Dearest Annabelle," wrote Gerald, who was hopelessly in love, "I could swim the mighty ocean for one glance from your dear eyes. I would walk through a wall of flame for one touch of your little hands. I would leap the widest stream for a word from your lovely lips. As always, Your Gerald.

Mrs. Jones was very proud of her son, who showed promise as an athlete.

"Yes, he must be a very fast runner," she explained proudly to a neighbor. "Look at this newspaper report of the sports yesterday. It says he fairly burned up the track.

"And it's quite true," she added confidentially. "I went to see the track this morning, and it's nothing but cinders."

"It was so cold where we were," boasted the Arctic explorer, "that the candle froze and we couldn't blow it out."

"That's nothing," said the other. "Where we were the words came out of our mouths in pieces of ice, and we had to fry them to see what we were talking about."

A clergyman and a Scotsman were watching a baseball game together. The Scotsman continually took nips from a bottle, and the clergyman, no longer able to restrain himself, at last cried out: "Sir, I'm 60 years old, and never in my life have I touched alcohol."

"Well, dinna worry yourself too much," replied the Scotsman with a pronounced burr, "you're no gonna start now."

BROADWAY BOUND—Good reports come from New York about Ruth Hutchinson, 21, seen here, of Bowmanville, Ont. She has set her course for a Broadway drama career, after starring in a Canadian army show unit overseas. When discharged, and with the help of the Department of Veterans Affairs, she went to dramatic school in New York. She is considering using Liz Miller as a stage name.

Retractable Skis Developed For Planes

DAYTON, O. — Development of novel retractable skis, permitting planes to land and take-off from snow-covered runways, was announced by the United States Army Air Force at Wright Field.

The skis are added over regulation wheels, allowing the use of either as the occasion arises. The centre section of the aluminum alloys skis is cut away, allowing the wheel to come through.

Officials said the ski gear will permit use of landing fields through a greater part of the year than ever before.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

FAULTS

If we were faultless we should not be so much annoyed by the defects of those with whom we associate.—Fenelon.

Ten thousand of the greatest faults in our neighbors are of less consequence to us than one of the smallest in ourselves.—Whately.

Well may we feel wounded by our own faults, but we can hardly afford to be miserable for the faults of others.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Great men are very apt to have great faults, and the faults appear the greater by their contrast with their excellences.—Charles Simmons.

But, by all thy nature's weakness,
Hidden faults and follies known,
Be thou, in rebuking evil,
Conscious of thine own.
—Whittier.

What an absurd thing it is to pass over all the valuable parts of a man, and fix our attention on his infirmities.—Addison.

Agriculturists To Help Ontario's Harvest Work

WINNIPEG, Man.—Two thousand agricultural workers from the prairie provinces will be transported to Ontario within the next few weeks to help with the Ontario harvest operations.

This excursion, brought about through co-operation between the Dominion and Provincial governments began on June 23rd and continue until July 12th.

Special excursion fares are made available to interested workers. Transportation from any point in the three prairie provinces to Ontario will be ten dollars, with an equal amount charged for the return home.

Those agricultural workers who go to Ontario from Manitoba will be expected to return to their homes between August 17th and 31st. Workers from Saskatchewan and Alberta will return between August 23rd and 31st.

In making this statement in Winnipeg today, Mr. Fred J. White, Regional Superintendent of the Unemployment Insurance Commission said that all of the offices of the National Employment Service as well as offices of the Provincial Farm Labour Service are now fully prepared to handle applications from qualified farm workers. When these applications have been approved and the workers will be given travel warrants. Presentation of the warrant and payment of ten dollars to the nearest railway agent will gain the worker his transportation east.

To interested farm workers it must be noted that reduced excursion rates will be made available only through the offices of the National Employment Service or the Provincial Farm Labour Service.

Africa Buys Buses Made At Fort William

FORT WILLIAM.—More than 100 buses manufactured in the Fort William plant of Canadian Car and Foundry Company are to be delivered to the Union of South Africa in a transaction estimated to be worth $2,000,000, it was announced.

The South African Government has chosen 114 of the gasoline-driven buses of the inter-city type of its state-operated transportation system.

Australia Depends On Close Tie With U.S.

SYDNEY, Australia.—A peaceful future for Australia depends on close co-operation with the United States as well as with the United Kingdom, Prime Minister Chifley said at the annual conference of the New South Wales Labor Party.

The Prime Minister said Australia no longer can rely for her defence on the United Kingdom, whose economic position requires a "greater role of the Dominions in maintenance of world stability."

GIRL FROM WINNIPEG GETS MOVIE CONTRACT—Lucky queen and pretty, too, is Audrey Saunders, Winnipeg girl, now living in Los Angeles, Calif. Chosen "Movie Queen" in a contest, she was offered a movie contract and promptly signed for a screen test and a part in a forthcoming Hollywood production.

ADVICE TO MEN— WIVES NEED A HOLIDAY

MALVERN, Worcestershire, England.—All wives are entitled to a holiday if more modern marriages are not to break down, Rev. H. J. Freirnesner told married members of his parish.

"My advice to the men," he said, "is to take their wives away to the seaside for a holiday and if necessary sacrifice their cigarettes in order to get there. It is better than fobbing her off with a visit to the pictures."

The word heathen once referred to country folk.

CANADIANS IN GERMANY APPLY FOR CITIZENSHIP

At The Rate Of Twenty To Thirty A Day

OTTAWA.—Residents of Germany claiming Canadian citizenship are applying to the Canadian military mission to Germany at the rate of 20 to 30 a day to have their status clarified, the mission reported to the External Affairs department.

All inquiries are carefully scrutinized, and if needed, further information is sought from the responsible department in Ottawa. Most of such cases relate to naturalized persons who have been absent from Canada for a long time.

The mission, headed by Lt.-Gen. Maurice A. Pope, acts primarily in a diplomatic and consular capacity, and consists of 25 Canadian soldiers and several civilians. It is the official link between the Canadian government and the Allied Control Council and looks after the interests of Canadians in Germany, informing the government on conditions there.

Canadians owning property in Germany may avail themselves of the facilities of the mission for its protection while businessmen wishing to trade in Germany are also aided by the mission through the External Affairs department.

Gen. Pope was military adviser to the prime minister during 1945, and prior to that headed the Canadian military staff in Washington. Last fall he was elected Doyen of all military missions in Berlin accredited to the Allied Control Council.

ROYAL FAST RISING DRY YEAST

RECIPE

Add 1 envelope Royal Fast Rising Dry Yeast and 1 tsp. sugar to 1 c. lukewarm water. Stir and let stand 10 minutes. Scald 1 c. milk, add 3 tbs. sugar; add 2 tsp. salt and cool to lukewarm. Add to yeast mixture. Add 3 c. sifted flour and beat until perfectly smooth. Add 4 tbs. melted shortening and 3 c. more sifted flour, or enough to make easily handled dough. Knead well. Place in greased bowl. Cover and let rise in warm place until doubled in bulk, about 1½ hours. Punch dough down in bowl and let rise again in warm place until nearly doubled in bulk, about 40 min. When light, roll out into rectangular sheet ⅛" thick. Brush with melted butter or shortening; cut into strips 1½" wide. Pile 7 strips together; cut into pieces 1" wide. Place cut-side up in greased muffin pans. Cover, let rise in warm place, free from draft, until light, about 1 hour. Bake in 400°F. oven for 20 minutes.

Mary Elizabeth Pearman Married In Edmonton

Marriage of Mary Elizabeth, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Pearman of Derwent to Mr. Earl Donald Eadie, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. John Eadie of Rimbey, took place in Edmonton Friday June 20th.

The bride was attired in pink nylon chiffon with a veil to match. She wore a corsage of white gardenias and pink roses. Her only attendant, Miss May Eadie, sister of the groom, was in blue eyelet with which she wore white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Mr. Philip Pearman, brother of the bride, was best man.

Following the ceremony, a wedding luncheon for the immediate families was held at the Royal George hotel. Later the couple left on a motor trip to Banff, the bride travelling in a grey suit with matching accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Eadie will reside in Rimbey.

Devastating Storms Sweep the District

Tremendous Crop Damage by Hail—Terrific Electrical Storm Monday Evening

Since Wednesday of last week the Vermilion district has been swept by three of the most devastating storms in its experience. The first storm was last Wednesday consisting of hail and wind. This was followed by a terrific electric storm Monday night or rather early Tuesday morning with more hail, then the hail storm last night (Wednesday) which verged on the town and swept the north country.

Hail and Wind Wednesday Last Week

The hail storm last Wednesday, driven by a very high wind, covered a long strip 3 to 4 miles wide, all the way from Innisfree to Lloydminster. Practically 100% damage was done wherever the hail struck and the crop loss will be huge. The storm in this immediate district stayed just south of the Grizzly Bear coulee but covered a wide 6 to 8 mile strip.

Vivid descriptions of the storm are given by the Standard's rural correspondents to the south and these stories follow giving an indication of just what the country went through. Considerable wind and some flood damage was added to that of the hail. Heavy rains accompanied the storms.

Monday Night's Electrical Upheaval

Terrific in its intensity the most severe electrical storm to sweep the area in years was experienced in the early hours of Tuesday morning, following a very hot and stuffy Monday. The storm seemed to hover very close to the roof tops—the thunder was continuous and the sky was lighted constantly by lightning. On two distinct occasions lightning seemed to strike nearby, two trees at the public school being hit.

In one area to the south hail again struck during the Tuesday morning electrical storm.

Wednesday Night's Bombardment

Considerable hail damage to crops in a long area north of Vermilion and east is the result of the terrific hailstorm of Wednesday evening July 9. According to reports this storm swept all the way from Edmonton. Vermilion appeared to be on the south fringe of the storm.

Owing to the proximity to press time it was impossible to get accurate reports of the area covered. Scores of windows were broken in town and branches stripped off of trees, but fortunately all plate glass escaped, west windows, greenhouses and skylights being the chief ones to suffer.

The hail stones measured nearly 8 inches in circumference, 2½ inches in diameter. This is not quite as big as tennis balls but considerably larger than a golf ball. They were incredibly hard and the noise of the hail against buildings was deafening. .68 inches of rain followed the hail with another display of lightning and thunder.

Losses are hard to estimate but will run into very large figures.

SOUTH COUNTRY SWEPT BY HAIL

LOSS AND DAMAGE HIGHEST IN HISTORY

(By our Woodvale Correspondent)

The hail and electrical storm Wednesday July 2nd cut a four mile wide path of destruction through Thorncliff, Woodvale and Hindville districts. The worst hail was suffered just south and north of the east and west road. In this area the grain was pounded into the ground, growth in gardens and potato plots was sheared right off, trees were stripped of their leaves, branches and bark, windows battered in on the west side of buildings, numerous granaries upset and shingles and tin roofing torn off. The high wind and torrential rains added to the damage by the hail, washing deep gullies in the fields, drowning chicks and young turkeys.

It was by far the most destructive storm ever experienced in this neighborhood where heavy hail is seldom experienced. On this or adjoining farms it was piled two feet high in some places and patches of bush.

On the farm of Arnott Brown the hailstones swept through screenings and windows shattering glass all over the room, and into the freshly separated milk and cream. The paint was pounded off the west side of the barn. At Ern Brown's the coulee in front of the house was filled with water for a distance of a half mile into the field as happens sometimes in the spring after a winter of heavy snowfall; this gives an idea of the amount of water that fell in a short half hour.

Gordon Trevithick's and Bud Portsmith's implement sheds blew over. Here and there the wind must have had a strong twist to it as a [illegible] door on the north side was not blown into the loft but apparently sucked outside and then hurled over the barn into a bush on the south side, windows on the south and east side of the same barn were blown out. Farmers have some fields will recover in time to provide some feed. Several ladies are replanting their gardens.

(By our Wildmere Correspondent)

The hail storm of Wednesday July 2nd did much damage from Rosewood to across the coulee. It amounted to 50% at Gibson's to a 100% in the Thorncliffe district. The trees are minus leaves and bark and it also stripped the bark off the fence posts along the road. One can tell just where the storm went as the trees are as brown as in winter time. It's a big loss with gardens crops etc. gone, even the grass was pounded so flat stock could hardly get anything to eat. While we in Wildmere had the odd hailstone the rain did much good. We had a lovely downpour Monday night of this week. Roy Osterberg reported quite heavy hail at his place in Monday night's storm. It seems one just cannot escape hail this year—something we never have been bothered with to any extent previously.

Proprietary Electors Only Allowed Vote on Plant Plebiscite

STANDARD OUTLINES THOSE QUALIFIED TO VOTE

As a further service to the citizens of the town of Vermilion the Standard presents the following definitions of "proprietary electors". Proprietary electors only are allowed to vote on the power plant plebiscite and franchise on Tuesday July 29th.

Proprietary elector means

1. Any person who is a resident of the town, who is entitled to vote at an election under the Town Act and whose name appears on the assessment roll in respect of any land liable to assessment and taxation; and

2. Any Person who is not a resident of the town, who is entitled to vote at an election under the Town Act and whose name appears on the assessment roll in respect of any land liable to assessment and taxation;

Provided however, that where the names of two or more non-resident persons appear on the assessment roll in respect of one parcel, only one of such persons shall be a proprietary elector in respect of that parcel and entitled to vote as such.

"Joint Owners" of property, if resident, may all vote, if their names appear on the assessment roll.

Agents of companies may vote on written authority from the head office of the Company provided such agent does not have a vote in his own right and takes the oath or affirmation of employee.

Council may revise proprietary voters' list up to the 9th day prior to the day fixed for the voting.

Individuals or firms renting property and paying Business Tax do NOT vote.

If in doubt — Call or phone the Town Office prior to July 17th. Staff

SCOUT & CUB NEWS

SIX MEN NEEDED

The local committee of the Boy Scouts Association is anxious to get in touch with anyone who will volunteer for Scout and Cub leadership for this fall. Three men at least are needed for each group. This is a branch of youth work which Vermilion cannot afford to let slip. It is up to all citizens to co-operate in the effort to give the boys good leadership. Anyone interested should get into touch with the president Dr. King or the secretary Ken Urquhart.

The new catalogs for 1947-48 have been ordered and will be available to all Cubs and Scouts as soon as they arrive.

Old friends here will be interested to learn that Wm. J. Mayhew is holidaying at the home of Mrs. Al Rudolph in Mont. Washington, U.S.A.

Town Proclaims Annual Civic Holiday, Aug.

The regular meeting of the town council was held July 7th with Mayor Morrison and Crs. Kehoe, Stephens, Stark, Urquhart present.

Delegations present were: Adj. Stewart of Salvation Army; A. Many [illegible] re sidewalk. Messrs. McClellan and Duncan for Agricultural society.

The following motions carried.

That claim against the estate of Mrs. C. M. Hay be withdrawn.

That the plant superintendent be instructed to grant two weeks holidays to all members of the staff, to be completed by July 31st.

That the Agricultural Society be granted a sum equivalent to their lights for the three days of the Fair.

That the I.O.D.E. be granted permission to hold a Tag Day on Friday July 25th.

That the following building and moving permits be granted:

P. Young, Lot 14, Blk 28 residence, $3,500; W. D. Williams, Lot 8, Blk 24 residence $2,000; C. J. Ross, Lot 4, Blk 26, residence $1,000; George Martin, Lot 2, Blk C, alteration $200; Ambler Bros. moving garage to Lot 22 Blk 5.

Town accounts and El. & P. accounts were passed and ordered paid, same having been certified by the Finance committee.

By-law. By-law 7-47 being new Minimum Tax by-law as required by 1947 amendments to Town and Village Act was given three readings and finally passed.

By-law 10-47 proclaiming the first Monday in August of each year a Civic holiday was given three readings and finally passed.

Instructions to Secretary

Arrange for alterations in new R.C.M.P. house as per Council's instructions. Phone re cement supply. Advise R.C.M.P. that auto camp south of town of Vermilion should be cleared of any permanent encampment. Write Rowe and Spencer that original motion re lot trade is final decision of Council. Open separate savings account for customers on water and sewer. Advise Fire Chief Conboy that all accounts for Fire Dept. must be approved by him prior to presentation to Council for payment. Approve application of Salvation Army for use of park and grandstand Sunday evening.

Meeting adjourned.

New Playground Equipment Installed

The east and west end playgrounds have each been equipped with another much appreciated piece of playground equipment called giant strides and these have come in for the maximum amount of use since installed last week by the Playground committee. The Playground committee is comprised of representatives of the teachers, Stagettes and Elks and the well equipped playgrounds are the results of their tireless efforts.

Vermilion Fair Promises To Be Best Ever Held

The gates of Vermilion's 1947 Fair will swing open on Thursday July 24 and the program planned for patrons this year will be a pleasing one indeed; it is expected that close to 100 head of purebred Shorthorns and a similar number of Herefords along with a splendid showing of Aberdeen Angus cattle will appeal to all lovers of good stock. Light horses from all over the west are expected to compete for the numerous trophies available at Vermilion Fair, now recognized as the outstanding light horse show of the West.

BOYS' & GIRLS' CAMP

All places in the Boys and Girls' camp are filled and the Vermilion school of agriculture will bulge with enthusiastic youngsters as Principal Bentley and his staff undertake to give the visiting young people the best time ever. A banquet is to be held on Thursday evening at which time you members of the camp together with the members of the calf clubs will enjoy the feast of the season.

CALF CLUB SHOW

The calf club show will be staged at the exhibition grounds on Thursday at 1 o'clock and the calves will go under the auctioneer's hammer at 2. Buyers will be present from the various purchasing firms and it is hoped that A1 prices will be realized for the fine showing of young cattle.

DISTRICT EXHIBIT

The District Exhibit which is being shown at Edmonton Exhibition is to be shown at Vermilion as well and the inside exhibit promises to be the largest in years. Local and district gardeners are urged to show what they grow and to assist in completely filling the exhibit hall so that the gardening prowess as well as the cooking, sewing and handicraft abilities of the area will be well advertised.

DISPLAY BUILDING

The display building will be filled with interesting and entertaining exhibits including those of the Dominion Dept. of Agriculture, the North West Line Elevators Association, the National Film Board and others.

GRANDSTAND ATTRACTIONS

Grandstand attractions are under the direction of Garden Brothers of Toronto and reports from Moose Jaw where the circuit is now completing its early engagement indicate that Fair patrons will be well pleased with the outstanding program. The Elks stake Race for $500 and the other harness classes will enthuse those who appreciate speed on the half mile oval, the track is in grand shape and records are expected to be broken during the meet.

ADDITIONAL GRANDSTAND SEATS

Additional grandstand accommodation has been provided and the entire grandstand has been roofed so that the comfort of all attending the Fair is assured. Grandstand prices have been advanced to 75 cents for adults, owing largely to the heavy cost of providing the new stands and district people are therefore urged more strongly than ever to buy advance tickets and save. Vermilion Fair is the only fair offering advance tickets on a substantial basis—the program at Vermilion Fair is exactly the same as that at all other Western Canada B Fairs and your opportunity for reasonable entertainment for the whole family at Vermilion is one that should not be overlooked.

Only a LIMITED number of advance tickets will be sold—Buy early and avoid disappointment.

THE VERMILION AMBULANCE

Negotiations are almost completed for a brand new vehicle from Toronto and every effort is being made to hurry delivery of the much needed ambulance for the Vermilion district. This vehicle is similar to those converted by the Red Cross for use of the Blood Clinic which will shortly be in Vermilion.

T.B. X-ray Clinic Is Underway Here

Vermilion's T.B. X-ray Clinic finally got underway on Wednesday of this week at the Armories. The committee expects that there will be a record crowd, as present indications show that the first five days are completely filled with appointments, and the last [illegible] being taken care of. There are now well over 2000, if you have not registered, do so now, please. The committee and operators will do all they can to assist you, remember, all this costs is the effort to sign up and be at the Armories when your appointment time is reached. A fine service given free, made possible by your support of the Christmas Seals.

The thanks of the committee go to Lt. Lloyd Donnelly, for his courtesy in permitting the use of the Armories, also Messrs. Fart, Wiebe and Fooks for their cooperation in making the heavy power hook up possible.

Try to keep your appointment and please be on time if possible.

FLASH—keep your T.B. appointment on time if at all possible. If you have missed your first appointment come in as soon as possible every effort will be made to give you a new appointment.

Farm Women's Week at The School of Agriculture

The summer Short Course sessions at the Vermilion school of agriculture opened on July 3rd, with members of Alberta Women's Institutes in this area meeting for their annual conference and ladies from many districts throughout Central Alberta registered for the popular Farm Women's week.

The W. I. conference was convened by Mrs. R. Culford of Lloydminster and addressed by Mrs R. S. Lefsrud of Viking, who brought a report from the Provincial Executive. The large and attractive displays of handicrafts shown by the various local branches were judged by Miss Margaret Lang and Miss Mary Hawrelak of the school staff. They awarded first place to Kitscoty while displays from Ramsay and Vermilion received 2nd and 3rd places respectively.

The program for the Farm Women's week was planned by members of the school staff and the Women's Extension service of Alberta Department of Agriculture. It included a wide range of topics in which there were lectures and demonstrations directly related to Household Science such as textiles, floating materials and finishes, soap making and meal planning and a series of discussions led by Miss Christine McIntyre entitled "Happy Family Living". Another series by Mr. L. Bledee entitled "Enjoy Living" also proved interesting in the broader field of social relationships.

A feature of Farm Women's week this year was the inclusion of a week-end when regular lectures were disbanded and time was available for more casual visiting. High lights of the activities on Sunday included a tea at the home of Mrs. Bentley, attending church in Vermilion and an entertainment and sing-song arranged by the ladies themselves.

Miss Mabel Patrick, Professor of Home Economics at the University of Alberta, was the guest speaker at the banquet held Monday evening. She described the important work of Home Economists and outlined some of the problems of interest to every woman to which Home Economists are devoting attention. Miss Patrick stated that the study of Home Economics at the University and the pursuit of this profession offered many attractive opportunities to young women. Other guests at the banquet included Mr. R. H. Gandier, who brought a message of welcome from the Department of Agriculture, Mrs. Helen Bentley of the Home Economics staff of the University and Miss Margaret Fraser, supervisor of Girls' Clubs for the Alberta Department of Agriculture.

As the course closed on Tuesday afternoon, before departing the ladies expressed keen appreciation of the program and of the facilities planned and made available to them by the school of agriculture.

WEALTHY

Wealthy's venerable old timer Mr. C. C. Younge held his annual picnic and get-together at Carlson's lake on Sunday July 6th. About 100 friends and neighbors were in attendance. Mr. Younge is 82 years old and this [illegible] and eagerly looked forward to event for a number of years.

The entertainment took the form of various games and sports. Unlimited ice cream made the various events more enjoyable. Supper in the form of a weiner roast was heartily enjoyed by all. Everyone joins in thanking Mr. Younge and all hope the event will be annual for many more years.

FARM HOME BURNS

Owner and Companions Experience Helpless, Hopeless Feeling

The house on the George Neumann farm in Chatsworth district burned down completely Monday at noon while the owner and two companions, Bill Trembett and Frank Kirkmier, stood by helplessly with no means of attempting to douse the blaze. The house was built in 1940.

George and his two companions had noonday lunch in the house and became aware that fire had caught in the attic around the chimney and that it was burning fiercely. They emptied the fire extinguisher from the truck into the blaze and then were forced to stand by experiencing a helpless and hopeless feeling while the dwelling was completely destroyed.

TERRIFIC DESTRUCTON AND HEAVY LOSS —

Many farmers in this area have, during the past week, suffered the destruction of their crops in a series of devastating hail storms most unusual in this district. Never before in the history of the area have such widespread hail storms been experienced nor their intensity even closely approached.

TOMORROW IT MAY BE YOU! —

If you were suddenly faced with a situation where you could save someone's life if you gave your blood, what would you do? In reality this situation faces you this minute, for somewhere in Canada there is someone dying for lack of blood—blood which you can give painlessly and without discomfort to yourself.

It may be a little child broken and crushed as it played on the streets, it may be a young mother whose life is in jeopardy after childbirth, or a workman injured in a plant accident. It may be your neighbor who is at death's door — or a member of your own family—but it is a fellow Canadian. To-morrow it may be you!

The Canadian Red Cross is setting up in Alberta a new peacetime Blood Transfusion Service. Mobile units will move out from Central Clinics. They will visit our community. These clinics and mobile units will be the sole source of life-giving blood to the Alberta hospitals—and the hospitals will in turn give this blood to whoever needs it entirely free of charge.

To carry out this great humanitarian work the Red Cross needs your help. It needs you as a voluntary blood donor. If you have not yet registered, contact our local Red Cross Branch, tell them you will be glad to help save a life.

NEED FOR HOLIDAYS STRESSED BY DOCTORS

With holiday time rolling around, the medical authorities remind us of the necessity of change, rest and recreation at least once a year.

Few people, these days, need to forego an annual holiday, and doctors urge those who would pass up such a rest to consider seriously the effect this may have on their health. Both mind and body need this let-down, they say, if they are to continue to give the service expected of them.

Refrigerator Show Case New Equipment at Katz Store

E. Katz and Son have added a new 11-foot refrigerator show case to the equipment in their store. The show case was made specially by Butchers and Packers Supplies of Calgary. Electrical work was by the Nelson-Hill Hardware. A meat slicer has also been installed.

All perishable goods will be kept in the new case. It is fluorescent lighted and is already proving a welcome addition to the store.

NEW DRIVE TO REDUCE COYOTES

SUMMER BOUNTY $5.00; WINTER BOUNTY $3.00

In an offer to conquer the increasing pestilence of coyotes in Alberta, new regulations covering the payment of bounties have been announced by the Hon. N. E. Tanner, Minister of Lands and Mines.

Between May 1st, 1947, and Sept. 30th, 1947, $5 will be the bounty paid and between Oct. 1 and March 31st, 1948, $3 will be paid, these rates applying to males and females, adults or pups.

The bounty is to be paid only on coyotes taken in the Province. Applications must be made on the proper form and the pelt must be presented to one of the following: Constable of the R.C.M.P., Justice of the Peace, Commissioner for Oaths; a game officer or a Forestry officer.

The official will split both ears of the animal down the middle from the tip to the base and will return the pelt to the applicant for disposal as required. The applicant will be required to produce evidence as to time and place that such coyote was taken when making claim. No person holding a licence to buy or sell fur shall be eligible to make application for the bounty.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Sandra's Sanatorium

By A. A. O. GILMOUR

SANDRA MARLOW stood at the kitchen door and gazed in silent horror.

Prince was eating the shrimp!

The afternoon had gone badly enough. The Woman's Club, duly assembled at Dr. Dick Marlow's brick cottage, was lukewarm; particularly when she tried—timidly—to discuss Granville's need—a modern sanatorium.

Mrs. Burnet-Wayne put ring covered fingers on Sandra's slender arm. "We're so submerged in other things," she said, half kindly, half impatiently.

Most of the women followed her cue. Sandra subsided in helpless frustration and hoped.

Perhaps with refreshments — hard come by in these days of shortages —they'd be relaxed enough to listen —to consider; perhaps to plan how funds could be raised.

A vitalized sanatorium for Granville! Ever since Dick had come home to practice he had been striving for this dream. She wanted so desperately to help him.

She rushed forward. Prince scurried for shelter beneath the table. Under matted Airedale tangles his brown eyes were forlorn. "Prince!" She shook her head. "How could you? After all these years. After all my training. How could you?"

She snapped her fingers.

The dog buried his nose between his paws and moaned penance. She felt a quick glow of pride at his instant obedience to her signal. But the full impact of loss struck when she looked about her spotless kitchen. There was just nothing to substitute. And without shrimp, her luncheon would be a flat failure.

She looked at the platter again. Prince had gone in for the delicate approach. One giant shrimp tail had curled over the platter's edge. He'd closed his teeth on that. The rest of the platter was untouched.

She'd be sensible, she decided. Dick might frown if he knew, but he was in his downtown office. A conversational buzz droned on in the living room.

Sandra forced herself to an engaging smile—and bore the heaped platter toward them.

When the shrimp pile had dwindled to one or two morsels—and the celery hearts—and the olives disappeared; and when coffee steamed fragrantly in translucent Spode cups Mrs. Burnet-Wayne leaned toward her. "I'm sorry, child," she said kindly, "but we have so many things to do. And we do have a hospital at Lumberton—only thirty miles away—"

Mrs. Burnet-Wayne sipped coffee graciously. "Next year, perhaps—besides, Dr. Marlow is still so young."

Sandra nodded, her face expressionless. Next year perhaps—and all the time it would take the women to get through working on their husbands. She snapped her fingers twice for emphasis, "but, of course, Mrs. Burnet-Wayne!" Before Granville's social leader, Sandra's smile was submissive.

She glanced about her, rose, and made her way to the kitchen. She stopped at the door. Her fingers trembled, grasping at the jamb for support. Her chest constricted in a low, shuddering moan.

When she returned to face the Woman's Club her green eyes were wide—horror stricken in a pale face. "Sandra!" Mrs. Burnet-Wayne's tone was shrill. "What's the matter?"

Sandra stared. "It's Prince!" her voice was strangled. "I-I fed him some shrimp — before—" Her eyes closed. She gestured weakly toward the kitchen. "Look!"

Mrs. Burnet-Wayne sailed past her in full panoply. At the door she came to a full stop.

Prince was a shapeless blob on bright linoleum; his legs stiffly outstretched. His eyes were half shut. His tongue had slipped from his lax jaws. It curved, wetly limp, to the floor.

Mrs. Burnet-Wayne uttered one word. She whispered it with a hiss of quickly drawn breath—"Ptomaine!" Granville's social leader swayed like a staggering sloop.

Sandra dashed for the telephone. While she got her husband's number she issued swift orders. "Warm water. The mustard's in the cupboard, second shelf."

No one answered. The club was numb with sudden shock.

Finally she heard the doctor's quick voice. "Hurry," she told him urgently, "the shrimp!"

"Eh?"

"The shrimp! Prince ate some before I served it to the club. He's—he's stretched out on the floor." Richard Marlow's voice was incisive. "I'll be right out."

Sandra looked about the room. Women were looking at each other —pale, frightened. No one looked in the kitchen. The dog was so well—so still. She hung up, went to the kitchen, gathered the inert dog in her arms and carried him to the back yard.

They waited. No one spoke. Mrs. Burnet-Wayne moaned faintly. Silence fell on the room. Sandra came back, her hand at her waist. She closed her eyes and said, "O—oh!"

Mrs. Burnet-Wayne sobbed hysterically. "If we could only do something. Anything!"

They heard the whine then. Prince, ears cocked, eyes bright, scratched energetically at the kitchen door.

"Why—why," Mrs. Burnet-Wayne gasped, "he's alive!"

Sandra flew to open the door for him. While she put her arms around the ecstatically wiggling Airedale a relieved sigh burst from the entire group.

Mrs. Burnet-Wayne rose to the occasion. "Isn't it strange," she murmured, "how we jump to conclusions. All of us had eaten shrimp. And Sandra had fed some to the dog. Then she saw the dog—" she paused for emphasis—"dead!"

Sandra recovered her composure. "And we all thought we were sick."

Mrs. Burnet-Wayne was not to be stopped. "Suppose we had been—with no facilities for treatment . . ." She considered this a long moment. "Child," she said sternly, "you should have pressed the sanatorium project more forcefully. I shall handle it myself from now on . . Personally!"

The Woman's Club was adjourned when Dr. Marlow arrived. Sandra gave him a brief explanation. Prince lay worshipfully at her feet. "And so," she finished, "with the Woman's Club back of it, darling, I think Granville's going to get a sanatorium." She snapped her fingers, twice.

Obediently, Prince rolled—a shapeless blob. His legs were stiffly outstretched; his eyes half closed. Limply wet, his tongue slid from relaxed jaws to the floor.

Dicken's Church Celebrate Anniversary

CHATHAM, Kent. — The church Charles Dickens attended as a boy, Chatham Parish Church, is celebrating its 1,000th anniversary this year.

Anniversary celebrations will be attended by Sir Stafford Cripps and Dame Sybil Thorndike. Sir Stafford will address a gathering of employees and trade unionists. Dame Sybil will talk to parishioners connected with entertainment.

Chatham Parish Church has been rebuilt three times, and little remains of the original Saxon foundations. "Since before the Norman invasion the church was badly burned," said the rector, Rev. J. McCulloch. "The one that Dickens used gave place at the end of the 19th century to the present building."

Yemen, Arabia, is the birthplace of cultivated coffee. The inland highlands have produced coffee since Mahomet's time.

AWARDED A BURSARY—Claramae Casa, 21, of 309 Ninth Street, Saskatoon, has been awarded a bursary by the Saskatchewan Department of Public Health enabling her to do postgraduate study in mental-hospital dietetics, Jean Oddie, provincial nutritionist, announced recently. The bursary is valued at $900 and travelling expenses. Miss Casa, who graduated from the University of Saskatchewan in household science this year, will leave immediately for study at the Colorado State Hospital, Pueblo, Colo., to begin a 12-month course. The Colorado institution is the only one on this continent offering such a course, Miss Oddie explained. Miss Casa, who won a university scholarship last year, was one of five applicants. The qualifications of all applicants were impressive, Miss Oddie said.

These U.S. Tourists Very Optimistic—Want Barrel Of Fish

SARNIA, Ont.—Canadian customs officials here have seen United States tourists entering Canada with skis, fur coats and snowshoes in July. Recently they were edified by another strange sight when an American car containing two U.S. Army vets and a wooden barrel drove up. "Where can we catch a barrel of fish?" asked the vets. They were waved on barrel and all.

High Mountain Peaks in Canada

The St. Catharines Standard says: News from Nome is that an expedition of the New England Museum of Natural History, led by Bradford Washburne, has successfully scaled [illegible] McKinley, North America's highest peak. As a matter of fact McKinley rising from an elevation of only 2,000 feet, is from its base to the top not only North America's but the world's highest. Canada, though, has nothing to be [illegible] of when it comes to lofty altitudes. Highest in Canada are Mounts Logan (19,850 feet) and St. Elias (18,008) both in the Yukon and both on or near the Alaskan boundary. Fairweather (15,287) is on the British Columbia-Alaska line. 2732

Park Authorities Warn Motorists Against Feeding "Tame" Bears

—Result . . . Bullet For Bruin

CALGARY. — On roadsides, on camp grounds, at points of scenic interest where motorists pause, on Banff's nuisance ground, and even in the town of Banff, black bears rate high as wild-life attractions. Merely watching or photographing them involves practically no risk for the watchers or photographers, feeding them is the trouble-starter. The claim that the one who first feeds a black bear signs its death warrant is not founded. In a high percentage of cases the hand-fed, hand-tamed black bear dies either by a game-warden's bullet, fired to stop its depredations, or dies in hibernation through not having prepared naturally for its winter sleep.

The sign-warnings "Do Not Feed The Bears" are not "fun-spoilers" posted by park authorities; those authorities know that a careless move on the part of the "feeder" can change an apparently docile bear into some hundreds of pounds of slashing fury.

There was an instance of that recently at Banff.

Mrs. M. Meier of San Francisco escaped with little more harm than head-cuts when she was struck and knocked down on the highway there by a large black bear.

The incident occurred on the west highway in the vicinity of Sawback, about eight miles from Banff. Mr. Meier was feeding bread to the animal, and Mrs. Meier, attempting to photograph it, moved behind the bear. This apparently alarmed it, for it turned swiftly and swept her to the ground.

There was another instance of a similar kind at Lake Louise a few years ago. One Saturday a Lake Louise resident invited a weekly visitor to see his "tame" bear; the bear came hesitatingly when called, then turned suddenly and bolted for the bush, chased by a cat. The next Saturday the bear was practically living on the premises, eating from the hand of anyone who offered it a tidbit. The third Saturday it "went bad". While feeding the animal the "tamer" paused and turned as someone called to him, and the next moment wicked claws slashed his face. Result . . a bullet for bruin.

RECIPES

CHERRY PUDDING

Three in one—fruit, cake, and sauce!

1⅓ cups sifted flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup sugar
½ cup milk
2 tablespoons melted shortening
1⅓ cups drained pitted red sour cherries, fresh or canned

For the sauce mixture:
2 cups hot water or cherry juice and water
½ to ¾ cup sugar
2 tablespoons butter

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt and ⅓ cup sugar, and sift together into bowl.

Add milk and melted shortening, stir only until smooth.

Spread dough evenly in greased shallow pan, about 12x8x2 inches. Arrange cherries over top.

Combine sauce ingredients and bring to a boil. Pour over cherries.

Bake immediately in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) 45 to 50 minutes. Serve warm. Makes 8 servings.

CHOCOLATE CHIP PEPPERMINT FUDGE

2 cups sugar
Dash of salt
¾ cup milk
2 tablespoons butter
¼ teaspoon peppermint extract (about)
½ package semi-sweet chocolate chips

Combine sugar, salt and milk; bring to a boil stirring constantly. Continue boiling without stirring, until a small amount of mixture forms a very soft ball in cold water (232 deg. F.). Add butter and flavoring. Cool to lukewarm (110 deg. F.); then beat until mixture begins to thicken and loses its gloss. At once stir in chocolate chips and turn into greased pan 8x4 inches. When cold, cut in squares. Makes 18 large pieces.

Newfoundland Resents U.S. Defense Bases

OTTAWA. — F. Gordon Bradley, chairman of the Newfoundland national convention, said that the people of that colony "resented" the big United States military bases which are in Newfoundland on 99-year leases.

The Newfoundland delegation, which meets a committee of the cabinet, came to Ottawa to explore the possibility of Newfoundland coming into confederation as a tenth province.

Mr. Bradley said that the 99-year leases given to the United States amounted to "expropriation" of Newfoundland territory, for as long as the leases run Newfoundland has given up all sovereignty over the territory now occupied by United States forces.

WAITS FOR STOWAWAY—Minnie Harnish of Halifax says she is going to wait for David Noyes, 20-year-old ex-marine, now held at Ellis Island, New York, as a stowaway, and since his return to Britain has tried five times to stow away on ships bound for Canada.

Good Prospects For More Sugar

Finance Minister Abbott announced in the Commons an increase of three or four pounds will be allowed in the individual sugar ration before the end of this year but at the same time warned that the ration itself would have to remain in effect for some time yet.

He said two additional ration coupons will be declared valid in August and one or two late in November.

At the same time the industrial ration will be advanced by 10 points in each industrial category putting the basic industrial quota at 90 per cent of 1941 usage.

As for the termination of rationing, Mr. Abbott said:

"Our conclusion is that it is in the general interest and particularly in the interest of householders and small businesses that sugar rationing should be retained in full force at least until the 1948 supply prospects are clear, but at the same time to increase the rate of ration as rapidly as circumstances permit."

James J. Part, Sec'y-Treasurer.

Approved by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners the 2nd day of July, A.D. 1947.

Second and Third reading and finally passed by the Council of the Town of Vermilion, this day of , A.D. 1947.

Mayor
Secretary-Treasurer.

PUBLIC NOTICE

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that there has been introduced at a meeting of the Council of the Municipal Corporation of the Town of Vermilion By-law No. 8-47, of which the following is a synopsis:

1. The Town grants to the Canadian Utilities Company Limited (The Company) an exclusive Special Franchise to supply light and power within the Town of Vermilion to the inhabitants thereof as may be required for a period of 20 years from the date of the agreement or franchise, subject to renewal and to the terms and conditions in said By-law contained.

2. The Company agrees to purchase and the Town agrees to sell to the said Company the Town's Electric Light and Power Plant including boilers, engines, switch board, generators and all and any fixtures of whatever kind and nature and used in connection with the operation of the said plant including pole line, equipment and accessories generally, and for which the Company agrees to pay to the Town on execution of the said agreement or Franchise the sum of $120,000.00 and assume the payment of the amount due under the Babcock Wilcox & Goldie McCulloch water tube boiler contract and the cost of installation thereof.

3. The Company agrees to supply all the electric light and power required by the Town and give a continuous 24-hour service at rates as per schedule hereto attached.

4. The Company agrees to put into effect on the first day of the month following the execution of the said franchise agreement the schedule of rates hereto attached.

5. The Company undertakes to retain the staff presently employed by the Town in its plant so long as each continues to give satisfactory service and under same conditions as apply to other employees of the Company.

6. The Town agrees to pay the Company for Street Lighting for the number of lamps in use at date of agreement at the rates hereto attached, with a minimum cost for such service of $225 per month. Any additional lights required to be paid for by the Town.

7. The Company shall supply all meters and no rental charged to the consumers therefor.

8. Proviso for the cancellation of the agreement or franchise in the event of the Company failing to implement and comply with the terms and conditions of the Agreement.

9. Proviso to save harmless the Town from damages as the result of any work carried on by the Company in lanes or streets in the Town.

10. The Company further agrees to take an assignment of the contract for purchase of the 25,000 pound water tube boiler including all obligations thereunder and included in said contract as entered into between the Town and the Babcock-Wilcox & Goldie-McCulloch under date the 21st day of June, A.D. 1946 and agrees to save harmless the Town from any and all action or damages arising from the purchase of or the installation of the said water tube boiler.

11. The Company further agrees to reimburse to the Town any and all cost incurred by it in connection with any work done or material purchased for the purpose of installing the said boiler up to the date of agreement.

12. The Company is not purchasing the steam heat system but agrees to operate the system for the Town at the rate of $500.00 per month for the sum of $4500.00 for nine months in each year during the period the light plant is operated by the Company and free heat during the months of June, July and August.

13. The Company agrees within two (2) years from date of Franchise to construct or to expend at least $200,000.00 upon the construction of a new electric generating plant within the limits of the Town and on a site selected by the Company.

14. Upon completion of the proposed said light and power plant, the Company will re-convey to the Town the site and buildings of the present light and power plant and leave on the premises one of the existing boilers in its then existing condition equipped with necessary automatic controls available for use by the Town in supplying steam to its consumers.

15. The Company during its operation of the steam heat system will have no jurisdiction over the rates charged by the To[illegible] the revenues derived from the consumers of steam heat.

16. The Company further undertakes to instal a system of modern lighting fixtures on the two main streets at its own expense.

17. The Company waives cost of labor for installation and removal of the temporary pole line built by the Company to serve the Town during the time of the failure of the electric power plant.

18. The aforesaid mentioned agreement is exhibited at the Town Hall where it can be inspected by any interested party during the regular office hours.

19. That a plebiscite of the proprietary electors be taken for and against the said By-law as required by the Towns and Villages Act.

20. That if assent be given by two thirds majority of the proprietary electors voting thereon the Mayor and Secretary-Treasurer are authorized to sign the said agreement.

21. The By-law is subject to the approval of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners and upon its approval final reading may be given to the said enactment.

22. In the event of default being made by the Company to expend $200,000.00 within two years upon the construction of a new electric generating system within town limits, then the Company agrees to pay the Town $10,000.00 forthwith and further payments each succeeding year. If default continues, until it has made a payment of $50,000.00 subject to such failure being due to cause beyond control of company.

23. The franchise may be renewed for a period of ten years from date of expiration, subject to ratification by an Act passed by the Legislature of Alberta.

24. The plant of the Company will be subject to being assessed for School and Municipal purposes.

NOTICE

TAKE NOTICE that the foregoing is a true synopsis of the proposed By-law No. 8-47 which has been introduced in the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the Town of Vermilion to grant a special Franchise to the Canadian Utilities Company Limited to purchase the Electric Light and Power Plant of the Town of Vermilion and furnish the inhabitants thereof with light and power as provided in said By-law.

AND TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that said proposed By-law No. 8-47 will be finally passed by the said Municipal Council of the Corporation of the Town of Vermilion upon the assent thereto of two-thirds of the proprietary electors of the said Town of Vermilion voting on the said proposed By-law No. 8-47 subject, however, to the approval of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners.

AND TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that an Advance Poll will be held at the Town Hall on Friday and Saturday the 25th and 26th days of July from the hour of 10 o'clock in the forenoon until 12 o'clock noon.

AND TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that a poll of the said proprietary electors of the Corporation of the Town of Vermilion on the said proposed By-law will be held at the Town Hall in the said Town of Vermilion on Tuesday the 29th day of July 1947 between the hours of 10 o'clock in the forenoon and 7 o'clock in the afternoon Daylight Saving Time after which I shall count the votes polled for and against the said proposed By-law and declare the result thereof.

GIVEN under my hand at the Town of Vermilion, Alberta, this 2nd day of July, A.D. 1947.

H. J. PAYNE,
Returning Officer

New Development In Weed Control Method Announced

A revolutionary new development in weed control which cuts the volume of water needed for cereal crop spraying by 90 per cent has been announced by National Grain Company Ltd.

After thorough tests of many commercial weed control methods, the National Grain Co. states that a cheap, safe and uniform weed-kill can be obtained by spraying 2-4-D on grain fields using a very small amount of water per acre with a boom type sprayer.

Nozzles used by National Grain Co. to achieve these results are being produced as rapidly as possible, but it probably will be several months before they are available in sufficient quantity to meet the demand. The nozzles are simple, economical, and easy to install on spray rigs already in use on Canadian fields.

Spray boom application of 2, 4-D chemical not only uses far less water under the new system of operation, but exhaustive tests on 60 different field plots showed that it makes possible uniform application of the chemical, and avoids the risk of reduced yields for uneven application. The low water-volume or "fog" application of chemical was tested over and over again, with the close co-operation of such leading scientists as Dr. T. K. Pavlychenko, before National Grain announced results of its revolutionary discovery aimed at winning the war on weeds in Canadian grain fields, Company officials state.

Since the first successful liquid weed killer which was introduced in Western Canada by the National Grain Company in 1944 can be applied by the same spray rig as that used for 2, 4-D. Since Sinox requires more water than 2, 4-D different nozzles are required. Sinox may be used on wheat, coarse grains and flax where water supplies are not a problem. However 2,4-D can be used ONLY on wheat and coarse grain because it would be injurious to flax.

Advice on weed control is available from all National Grain agents and at the company's offices in Winnipeg, Calgary, Regina and Edmonton.

Most Serious Crisis in Britain

Britain faces the most serious crisis she has ever experienced in her history. She is faced with two grave difficulties. The first is to secure sufficient food of nutritive quality for her people — bread, eggs, butter, milk, cheese, meats and fruit juices that supply physical and mental energy, and enable a good day's work to be done.

Britain's other difficulty is to import, mainly from the United States and Canada, machinery for her factories to replace that which was destroyed or damaged during the war. The present loans from Canada and the United States are nothing like sufficient for these purposes.

I was shocked at the appearance of the British people. They are obviously suffering from mass-malnutrition. They walk on their heels, their faces are grey and lined, they appear to be from 5 to 10 years older than their age. They are as tired in the morning as when they go to bed. They are incapable of a real day's work. Better food, then, and more of it, is Britain's very first requirement.

Can Canada do anything to help? For myself I think she can and ought to do something because Britain is Canada's greatest single market for wheat, beans and many other products.

"Mexican Prisoner Swindle" Revived

The R.C.M. Police issued a warning today concerning the revival of the "Mexican Prisoner Swindle". The swindle, headed by a group of confidence men in Mexico, starts with a letter allegedly written by a prisoner in a Mexican gaol to prominent persons in Canada. The addresses have evidently been obtained from a "Who's Who" or other guide book.

The letters, dated May 26th, 1947, give a detailed account of how the writer, Albert L. Martin, a banker of Vera Cruz, Mexico, made some poor speculations. About to be arrested for bankruptcy, he converted his assets into American money, concealed it in a trunk and sent it to a Customs House in the United States. The story goes on to say that he and his 18-year-old daughter were arrested at the Mexican border by the Mexican police and their belongings seized. His daughter was placed in a public boarding school and Martin was sentenced to a term of imprisonment. The prisoner, Martin, representing himself to be in destitute circumstances because of his imprisonment and is worried about his daughter, urgently requests financial aid in order that he can get his money from the trunk in the United States Customs House. The name and address of an intermediary in Mexico is given and according to statements in the correspondence, the intermediary will make all necessary arrangements for receiving the desired funds. In return for such financial assistance, one-third of the fabulous sum of money in the trunk will go to his benefactor.

The R.C.M. Police warn all persons to be on their guard against this old swindle, perpetrators of which are internationally active at the present time.

Wildmere Winks

While it's history we cannot let it go past without mentioning the curlers' picnic. It was a very enjoyable event and a nice crowd attended. Some good ball games were played and it did one good to watch the school children play. They seem to put forth every exertion and are so keenly interested in their game. Tolland won from the men and Tolland school won from ours. The booth was well patronized and a big crowd attended the dance held at the school that evening. Mr. and Mrs. Everett Isley supplied the music. J. Batke was M.C.

We are very pleased to hear that Mrs McBride's broken arm is doing so well and we all wish her a speedy recovery.

Lloyd Howard accompanied by some local boys attended the Meadow Lake Stampede last week. It is 100 miles north-east of Lloydminster.

ATTENDED INSTITUTE DAY

Wildmere W. I. attended in full force the Institute Day at the college on Thursday last, only Mrs Eyben being absent. While our handicraft table did not get a prize it did get honorable mention. One of our members Mrs Batke got 2nd prize for her luncheon cloths on the thrift problem table. The 1st prize winner Mrs. Cruthers of Vermilion was a former Wildmere lady. We did so enjoy the numerous reports and talks that were given that day. Officers and committees were re-elected for the next two years. You meet so many ladies from other Institutes and hear reports on their year's activities. We all enjoyed Mrs. McKee's talk on the Institutes in the old country and how they made food stretch during the war years. The college staff can be complimented on the lovely dinner and lunch served that day. We all plan to attend again next year.

We were sorry to hear that both Mr and Mrs Henry Sweeney Sr have been hospital patients. We all wish them speedy recovery and home again soon.

Mr and Mrs Herb [illegible] of Wildmere and Mr and Mrs Lloyd Everett of Auburndale left on a holiday trip to points in the [illegible]. They will call on Herb [illegible] Mrs Winge and family near Port[illegible]

Mrs Smith has been [illegible] the Farm Women's week at the college, also Mrs Garnett of [illegible]

Tolland is holding [illegible] picnic on Wednesday, July [illegible] with [illegible] turn out and support the I.O.D.E. and Red Cross.

Taxpayer attention. You just wait until Vermilion gets the water works in—then we'll get a real room[illegible] that you can write home about, and as for not being able to sit in your cars as hinted at in your letter, we don't get it!

Laurence Graham took the writer and family over for a visit at the home of Mr and Mrs F. Van Wageningen on Sunday. Laurence was billeted in Blitoven, Holland where some of the Van Wageningen relatives reside but at the time he did not know it. It was nice to hear them talking about different places each had been in. The hail did a lot of damage to the lovely flowers around the house. We had a splendid chat and cool drinks the very warm day.

Mr and Mrs Alex Smith and sons of Edmonton visited at their parent's home last week. Mr and Mrs Adam Smith Wildmere and Mr. Cleland and family Auburndale

ETHELWYN

Nature again favored the Greenlawn Old Timers by providing a good dry hot day for the picnic July 1st. A large crowd attended. A fine program was provided with races and ball games to suit everyone. Sidney Avery gave the children a thrill by taking them out on the lake in his boat. Mrs. Martin McBride held the lucky ticket and was the winner of the $5. We are sorry that we missed the name of the gentleman winner. We do not know who the oldest person was at the picnic but are quite sure the youngest were the 10-day old twins of Mr and Mrs. Ervin Garnier. Everyone was glad to see Mrs Poyce at the picnic and looking so well.

The writer hasn't a fish story but has one about a bear. Several days ago Mr and Mrs Glenns awoke at 1 a.m. to find a huge bear looking in their window. Leaving the window the bear went round the house and started pulling the screen off the door. Mrs. Glenns got up and frightened the animal away. No further trace of the bear has been seen. John Mulgrew stood guard over the Glenns home for two nights.

Our congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Garnier on the birth of their twins. Our belated congratulations to Mr and Mrs. Glen Elliott on the birth of a daughter.

The writer is sorry to hear that Glen Elliott was injured last week while riding a bucking bronco at a stampede north of the river. A speedy recovery is wished you Glen.

Stella Troteh suffered a bad attack of appendicitis last week. She was sick at home for several days before being rushed to the Vermilion hospital in the middle of the night in a pouring rain by Marvin Burns in his trusty jeep. Stella got to the hospital in time to prevent a rupture as she underwent an operation at once. At time of writing she is improving nicely. It certainly is not wise to ignore a prolonged stomach ache.

The last girls' club meeting was held at the home of Phyllis Carleton with four girls and their leader Mrs Cooper in attendance. The afternoon was spent at needlework. At the close of the meeting Phyllis and Isabel served a dainty lunch.

Mr and Mrs McBride were overnight guests at the Cooper home last week.

Joyce Evelyn Cooper celebrated her 12th birthday by baking her own cake and served it accompanied by ice cream, at quite a family party.

We do wish that all districts were receiving the good rains we are having here. Everything is growing fine including the weeds. It is grand to have fresh garden produce on the table again after eating canned foods for so long. The canning season is already underway again too. Each year the season seems to start earlier or does it just seem to by people who never catch up with their work, the writer being in that category.

A.M.A. Member Total Is Now Over 25,000

Extension of services is expected to be one of the matters for discussion at a meeting of provincial directors of the Alberta Motor Association which will be held in Calgary Saturday June 2. The board also will discuss many other matters affecting the motoring public and the organization generally.

One of the strongest organizations in the province, the A.M.A. now has a total membership in excess of 25,000. All three branches with headquarters at Edmonton, Calgary and Lethbridge report substantial membership gains this year.

The board will deal with various suggestions whereby various services to members might be extended and improved. This is felt to be necessary in view of prospects for a heavy motoring season this year.

The development of tourist trade for the province, highway construction regulations affecting traffic and other matters also will come before the directors.

The A.M.A. also has been advocating measures to promote safe driving and pedestrian education and results of these efforts also will be reviewed.

Holiday swimming and bathing time is with us again and can be made safer and therefore more enjoyable if common sense rules are followed. A.F.A. Recommends Harvest Wage Scale

The going wage for harvest help is always a question mark to the farmer and laborer alike. For the past two years the Alberta Federation of Agriculture has taken the lead in trying to establish a satisfactory wage scale.

At a recent Board of Directors' meeting it was agreed that $5.50 for stooking and $6.50 for threshing based on a ten-hour day plus board would be a very fair basis. The Board realizes that this can only be a recommendation. However, this is a fair wage when board and lodging are included and if all farmers will adopt this basis harvest wages can be kept on a uniform scale.

WOODVALE

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Haan are visiting some friends at Lacombe. This is Mr. Haan's first holiday in 21 years and we hope they will have a very pleasant time. Pin is looking after the farm with the help of Mabel Ly[illegible].

Mrs. S. Oldenburg went east to stay with her sister a while and visit other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Oldenburg went to Calgary where they are taking in the big Stampede.

Iona Green went to Vegreville to attend the Guide camp there. She is spending a week first at the home of the camp leader Miss D. Garrison as at the last moment camping was postponed a week.

Mrs. Todd has arrived from Nottingham, England to stay with her daughter Mrs. T. Hobbs. This is Mrs. Todd's third visit out here and she will enjoy no doubt the peace and quiet and good food after the war and difficult post war years in the old country. A young lady from England paying us a visit recently when asked, what impressed her most in Canada said "the food. I had forgotten completely that there were so many nice and different things to eat."

The Tolland ball team is continuing their series of wins. They played and won four games at Wainwright July 1st one of them by a score of 19-0. Two games were won at Gilt Edge the same week and now they are off to Viking to try to repeat their performances.

On July 10th the Tolland U.F.A. is holding a picnic on the farm of Fred Stecam, ½ mile west of Canton school. Ball games, sports, a booth and hot dog stand will be the attractions of the afternoon while at night a dance in the school and on the outside platform will be held and there will be fireworks too. So come to the picnic on the 10th.

The Red Cross meeting for July has been cancelled and the next meeting will be on August 6th at the home of Mrs. O. Wolter. Miss M. Lang of Vermilion will give a demonstration of home canning and everybody is welcome.

We were sorry to hear that Mrs. J. Ross had an accident falling out of the democrat and hurting her back and we hope she soon will be well again.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sweeney were both patients in the Vermilion hospital and we wish them too a speedy recovery.

Bud Heidebrecht of Vermilion is once again spending his summer holidays at the Van Wagoningen farm.

It is surprising to hear and read about the excessive rainfall in other parts of the West while here all the heavy black clouds keep racing over and only an odd small cloud sprinkles some water down, hardly enough to wet the ground. The rains have to come soon or there will be no crops to harvest.

Roger Watt, Bob Goodkey and Charlie Lyons left Monday with a truck and combine for the grain fields of Kansas.

School picnics were the order of the day Friday 27th and according to reports everyone attending had a splendid time. There was a big [illegible] at Woodvale school and Mrs. Foley brought a freezer of ice cream to top off the meal. A dance was held at [illegible] school and a big crowd danced till the early morning hours. The [illegible] outside did not attract the [illegible] as it was near the freezing point. The thermometer registering 34 above at daybreak.

The ball team has been very successful lately winning games at the Wildmere picnic and at Clandonald. Hope they will get a prize again this week in Wainwright. They are losing two valuable players in the persons of Clarence Lyons and Harvie Coburn. The latter broke his nose when a ball hit him in the face at Wildmere picnic and he will not feel like playing for awhile.

Coyotes, badgers and skunks are greatly on the increase and consequently more and more chickens are disappearing. Coyotes have taken several lambs on the writer's place, they are very bold and seem to be always on the look out somewhere to see if anyone is in the field with the sheep. As sometimes it is impossible to have anyone watching, we tether the saddle pony out on a hill overlooking the pasture and have a dummy riding in the saddle. It looks very realistic as he sways a bit in the breeze and moves as the horse grazes, but we wonder how long the coyotes will be fooled before they notice the lone rider never moves off that hill and does not carry a gun! Also on the increase and more welcome are deer around here. Over half a dozen people have seen them lately and they do not appear very shy.

The Woodvale mutual telephone company held a meeting at Turkey Hill school to discuss the moving of the pole line closer to the fences as the old Wainwright road will be built [illegible].

DEWBERRY NEWS

The United church field board of the Dewberry Marwayne district met in the church at Dewberry last week along with the members. Business matters were discussed followed by a social evening. Canvassing has been under way for some time now to raise money for a vicarage in Marwayne.

Miss May Dennill has returned home from teaching school in the Wetaskiwin district.

Crops are looking very well in this district as there has been ample moisture to date.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowman have once again gone to the Calgary Stampede. They make this trip every year. Mrs. Munroe and Miss Kittie McCarthy accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Bowman. Other visitors to Calgary are Don Braithwaite, Dick Shritt, Miss [illegible].

Folks going to the lakes north of Heinsburg will be glad to know that the river hill on the south side has been greatly improved. The road allowance now is nearly 100 feet wide.

The Dewberry girls won first money at the Greenlawn Old Timers picnic on the 1st.

At Elk Point on July 4th the girls were given first money without even playing. They received a by and then the final game never came off.

Correction in last week's news Dewberry girls defeated Mannville in the final game at the Dewberry sports.

Miss Florence Beal will be playing with the Mannville Bluebirds in the intermediate playdowns. She has already played with them on two occasions.

Until further information is given us all we can say is that Dewberry ball team are on the top of the ladder in their league.

99% WEED KILL! 1½ GALS WATER AN ACRE! Using 2, 4-D with Spray Boom

Extensive experiments last spring in Ca[illegible] conducted by National Grain Company[illegible] research department, have disclosed revo[illegible]tionary methods of killing mustard and other weeds with 2,4-D, using as little as 1½ gallons of water an acre. Nozzles for low volume spraying application are not yet available in quantities. This work is part of a continuing program of research and development on the part of National Grain Company aimed at increasing farmers' income.

Again spray boom application of 2, 4-D chemical weed killer is proved superior. To the many advantages of this method, now add the tremendous advantage of using far less water. Spray boom application is—

CHEAPER, SAFER, MORE UNIFORM

Spray boom application of 2, 4-D makes uniform application possible—avoids the risk of reduced yields from uneven application—saves time, work, money and WATER.

SAME RIG SPRAYS SINOX AND 2, 4-D
Sinox, first successful liquid weed killer introduced in Western Canada by National Grain Company in 1944 and 2, 4-D can both be applied by same rig, using interchangeable nozzles. Use Sinox on wheat, coarse grains and flax where water is not a problem. Use 2, 4-D only on grain.

Scotsmen Smile As American Sailors Occupy Edinburgh

EDINBURGH, Scotland—Scotsmen submitted good naturedly to an occupation of Edinburgh by American sailors recently. Ashore from United States warships anchored in the Firth of Forth, the sailors caused traffic jams in famed Princess St. and tramped in sight-seeing crowds through the castles of Old Scottish kings.

The senior officers of the visiting vessels, headed by the battleships Wisconsin and New Jersey, were guests of the lord provost at a luncheon in the city chambers.

The lord provost, John Falconer, called it a historic occasion, and said Scotland gladly acknowledged that she owed [illegible] to the United States navy "for invaluable service in our time of need." Replying, Adm. Richard L. Conolly, commander of United States naval forces in Europe and the Mediterranean, said every American sailor felt at home in Scotland.

SWEDEN TO GET MILLION TONS OF POLISH COAL

WARSAW, Poland. — Poland plans to ship 1,000,000 tons of coal through the port of Szczecin (Stettin) to Sweden this year, the newspaper Zycie Warszawy reported. An additional 50,000 tons of potassium salt is scheduled to pass through the same port to Belgium.

HELPFUL ADVICE GIVEN IN "BOOK OF WISDOM" DISTRIBUTED TO ESKIMOS

OTTAWA. — How to keep your igloo clean, what to do when baby yowls and when to go to a doctor—these are some of the subjects outlined for Eskimo in a "Book of Wisdom" released by the Northwest Territories Bureau of the Mines and Resources Department.

The publication, prepared by officials of the bureau and medical experts from the National Health and Welfare department, will be distributed to Eskimo families this year by the Eastern Arctic Patrol.

[illegible] is a chapter on family allowances:

"The King is helping all the children in his lands. He is giving his aid to the Eskimo children also and has instructed his servants, the police, to proceed in this way. All parents and foster parents must register with the police all children up to 16 years old.

"Now the King is giving a monthly allowance to each child under 16 years old. But this is to be controlled and only when in real need must an Eskimo mother or father ask to draw this allowance to help their children. If you have a good year of hunting and trapping you will not need the allowance that year and it will be saved for you and issued only when there is a dire need for it. When you do not use all the allowance it will be saved for the child who will receive it at the age of 16 years."

Other sections deal with how to keep an igloo clean, tuberculosis, game conservation, rifle care, germs, injuries and prenatal preparations.

Crater Lake, Oregon, is six miles long and four miles wide, and is 6,000 feet above sea level, but never freezes over.

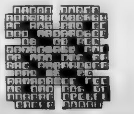
Answer To Last Week's Puzzle



PICNIC PLOTTING—A picnic is a state of mind. You can have a picnic by a lake or on a hillside or in a city park or even in your own apartment on a Saturday night. A picnic is an informal meal where the mood is gay, and the food is simple but good. Whether your next picnic is inside or outside and whether your picnickers are friends or just family, let the food you serve help to create atmosphere with a holiday dash. Serve something different, something exciting, something good. Suggest a carnival midway with frankfurters or beefburgers but dress simple food up for a party this time. Here are two recipes, one for Branburgers and one for a Macaroni Salad bowl, either of which can be the main dish at your next picnic.

Frankfurter And Macaroni Salad Bowl

¾ cup raw macaroni in 1" pieces
4 cups boiling water
4 teaspoons salt
4 frankfurters (½ lb.)
¼ cup well seasoned French dressing
2 tablespoons minced onion
2 teaspoons lemon juice
½ cup diced celery
½ cup coarsely diced cucumber
1 tablespoon slivered green pepper
1 cup coarsely diced tomatoes
¼ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
Speck pepper
½ head romaine, shredded

Cook macaroni tender in the boiling water, in which 3 teaspoons salt have been added. Five minutes before macaroni is done add frankfurters, cook 5 minutes longer. Then drain. Remove frankfurter and rinse macaroni in boiling water. Place in a bowl with frankfurters, which have been cut in halves lengthwise and crosswise, then in 1" pieces. Add French dressing, onion and lemon juice and chill. Just before serving, toss with 1 teaspoon salt and remaining ingredients. Serves 4.

• • • •

Branburgers

1 egg
1¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons minced onion
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1½ cups milk
1 cup All-Bran
1 pound ground beef
[illegible]

Beat egg, add salt, pepper, onion, parsley, milk and All-Bran. Let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Add beef and mix thoroughly. Cut slices of bacon lengthwise into two strips. Arrange two strips [illegible] on waxed paper. Mold generous tablespoon of meat mixture into pattie and place on bacon intersection. Bring strips together on top of pattie, skewering with toothpick. Bake in hot oven (450 deg. F.) about 30 minutes or broil [illegible] Branburgers from pan. Add some milk and seasonings to drippings. Thicken slightly to make gravy.

Yield: 5 servings, 2 Branburgers each. 2732

Vermilion School Division NEWS

Regular meeting of the Divisional Board was held at the Divisional office on June 26th.

Subdivision 2—The board decided to hold nominating meeting at Kitscoty on Monday July 14th for election of trustee to complete term of office of deceased Alex MacFarlane.

Grainview S.D.—Secretary reported on purchase of teacherage and removal to school grounds as authorized.

Kitscoty school — Approval was given to tender of D. McDermid, Edmonton, for construction of roof in accordance with specifications as approved by architect.

McLaughlin Winona S.D.—Board decided to call for tenders for conveyance of children from Highbury S.D. and Selton Park S.D. after survey of number of children to be conveyed.

Kenilworth S.D.—Board directed that school be closed for 1947-48 as only 5 children are to attend and suitable arrangements be made for conveyance to Islay school.

Marwayne New Building—Subject to permission of Minister, building not in use at Kitscoty will be moved to Marwayne where full-sized basement will be provided. Secretary was instructed to arrange for moving of the buildings with Noton Transportation company.

Flowerdale S.D. — Board approved moving of barn and con. shed to replace buildings at present in use.

Kitscoty Girls' Dormitory — C. P. Lipsey was authorized to construct a porch at entrance while engaged on the building.

Vitamin Capsules — Order was placed with Dept. of Health for 1947-48 supply.

Allister S.D.—Request for teacherage was approved.

Deer Lake S.D.—Request for piano was granted, local district to provide half cost of same.

Superintendent's Reports — Mrs. Norcross and Mrs. Helen Spence were approved as substitute teachers at Marwayne.

Position at Marwayne with possibility of staff adjustments was discussed and it was decided to open additional room to alleviate accommodation problem.

Westminster Park school will remain closed and pupils will be conveyed to Lloydminster.

Grainview school and Willowlea school will operate during part of July to allow pupils to complete courses.

Visits by Mrs. Rose Ford as supervisory teacher have been renewed.

Superintendent drew attention to uncovered basement on the Morrison school grounds. Board instructed the Divisional repair man to fill hole.

Request for electrical service at Union school was approved subject to satisfactory arrangements with C.U. Ltd.

Scholarships—Mr. Miller drew the Board's attention to scholarships being awarded by Dept. of Education to induce students to attend University to enter teaching profession.

Staff Appointments — Miss Gladys Free was appointed to Gr. 1-2 room at Dewberry school. Applications as received were read and required action was left to Superintendent.

Harewood S.D.—Offers for purchase of fence and pump were left to receive attention of Div. Chairman, C. E. Thompson.

Clandonald S.D.—Request for work on buildings and grounds by repair crew was approved.

Kahler S.D. — Repair crew is to effect barn repairs and interior decoration.

Wildwood S.D.—Request for allowance for transportation for children of Mr. and Mrs. Fry attending from Herbert S.D. was approved.

Campbell Lake S.D.—Repair crew was instructed to make necessary building alterations.

Ellsworth S.D. Secretary reported offer for old building and action was deferred until other interested parties had been advised of pending sale.

Winona S.D.—Mr. MacKay reported approval of surveyor's plan for new school grounds and approved purchase of 2.65 acres as shown by plan.

Salary Schedule Committee — Messrs. Aalborg, Bruce and Clark attended the meeting with counter proposal to Board's offer made at previous meeting. Teachers requested salary of $1300 with increments of $1200 to maximum of $2500 for teachers in graded and ungraded schools. Board could not accept counter proposal and action was deferred.

Financial statement and Auditor's Report on period from Nov. 1 to May 31 was presented and adopted.

Insurance—Mr. B. C. Hackbert reported on visits made to all schools in Sub-division No. 5. Various increases in amount of insurance carried on properties were approved.

Accounts amounting to $14,816.71 were approved for payment.

Next meeting July 21st.

1,000 Barley Entries In Two Provinces

Figures from Alberta and Manitoba up to late June showed nearly 1,000 entries from the two provinces in this year's $25,000 National Barley Contest.

At June 18 there had been received 482 entries received in Alberta as compared with a total of 391 entries in the 1946 contest. The final date for receiving entries in the whole Western Division is July 15 and it is expected the Alberta list will be considerably increased.

In Manitoba there were 487 entries at June 20th. Figures from Saskatchewan up to the end of the month had not been received by the Contest committee.

The 1946 entries were 507 from Manitoba, 336 from Saskatchewan and 391 from Alberta.

After the show on Saturday evening attend the dance at the Elks hall. An enjoyable hour or two for only 35c.

Only free men give full production.

"Now WATCH ME WIN THAT RIBBON!"

SANDY SIMPSON has been patiently improving his dairy herd. He saw his chance to buy a pure bred bull and the manager of his bank lent him the ready cash to close the deal. Now he's expecting great things of his new calf; already he sees her winning her class at next year's Fall Fair. A few more like her and he can also see his milk production rising — as well as a nice extra income from selling his surplus stock to neighbouring farmers.

Branch banks, in rural communities across Canada, help to build prosperous farms . . . and at the same time help increase the flow of food to family tables both at home and in distant lands.

THIS IS ONE INSTANCE of how Canada's 3,300 branch banks play their part in the daily life and work of Canadians.

Credit For Farmers

A REPORT TABLED RECENTLY in the Canadian House of Commons by Finance Minister Abbott gave some very interesting facts regarding the advantages which farmers have taken of the provisions made by the government in 1944 for loans for farm improvements. These loans may be made through chartered banks for the improvement and development of farms, the loans extending over a period of ten years at an interest rate of five per cent. Finance Minister Abbott's report showed that 13,000 Canadian farmers, including more than 10,000 from the Prairie Provinces obtained loans last year and that the money used for this purpose amounted to $9,-890,365. It was also pointed out in the report that no bank had made claims on the government to recover losses, showing that the farmers who had borrowed money had met the terms of their agreements.

• • • • •

Loans Used For Many Purposes In Alberta 4,798 farmers borrowed money to the amount of $3,389,115, while in Saskatchewan 4,073 loans were made, amounting to $3,140,157. Manitoba farmers made 1,920 loans, totalling $1,207,-530. Two-thirds of the money borrowed was used to purchase farm implements and farm trucks, the report showed, and fifty thousand acres of new land were broken by the 1,006 farmers who borrowed money for this purpose. Others obtained loans for foundation and breeding stock and there were 308 farmers who borrowed for this reason, their loans totalling $190,-937. It was observed that loans for the construction, repair and alteration of farm buildings were also provided, and that it was expected that the demand for them would be large when construction materials become more plentiful.

• • • • •

Credit Needed In Business Credit is an important factor in any business, and farming is no exception in this regard. Canadian banks have played a very valuable part in the development of farming communities but the legislation enacted in 1944 was aimed at giving assistance to the average farmer who "in the past had not always been able to obtain bank credit for the purpose of adding improvements to his property." The results of the first year in which the measure was in operation show that a great many farmers made use of the loans and that there were no cases of default on the part of those who borrowed. Farming is one of our largest and most essential industries but farmers have not always received as much encouragement and support as might be desired. Extension of credit is one means of providing for the improvement and development of farms and should be viewed with favour by all sections of the public.

Pigeon Turns Up 1,600 Miles From Home

STRATFORD, Ont.—David Davidson's lost homing pigeon has turned up 1,600 miles from home.

The Stratford pigeon fancier learned that the wayward bird, unreported since it left the Davidson loft April 1, had [illegible] on its former owner, Dick Irvin of Regina.

Irvin, who spends his winters coaching Montreal's National Hockey League Canadiens, says he has had birds return to him from as far away as Ottawa. He sold the four-year-old to Davidson in 1944.

One of Whistler's rejected paintings was accepted later by an art gallery when he submitted it upside down.

PRAIRIE CROP PROSPECTS GOOD

OTTAWA — Prospects are good "for at least an average" crop on the Prairie provinces this year barring development of adverse weather and moisture conditions in the critical period between now and early August, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics said in a report covering Prairie conditions.

Perhaps the most serious hazard the current crop may have to face is the possibility of frost damage," said the report. "The stage of development of nearly all grains is from 10 days to two weeks later than normal and the probability of damage from early frosts is thereby greatly increased."

In Manitoba, growing conditions have been good and crops generally are making "very satisfactory progress." Conditions in southern Saskatchewan are "generally satisfactory", with all crops making good growth while prospects in Alberta continue to be "very favorable".

Sea Fish Believed Extinct Caught Near South Africa

GRAHAMSTOWN, Cape Province —South African scientists are organizing a hunt to catch a "modern dodo," a fish once believed extinct for the last 50,000,000 years.

First clue that this fish, a coelacanth, still survived, came in 1938 when a trawler brought up a mysterious object five feet long, steel blue in color and weighing 127 pounds.

The fish died three hours after it was landed and one of the fishermen said in 30 years of fishing he had never seen such a "queer looking object—it had arms."

The remains of the fish are in an [illegible]

Census Shows Fewer Horses In Manitoba

OTTAWA.—The number of horses in Manitoba is decreasing rapidly in numbers, figures released by the Dominion Bureau [illegible]. These were the preliminary figures of the 1946 prairie census, and they reported a decline from 301,708 horses on June 1, 1941, to 215,694 last year, a 29 per cent drop.

Value of Manitoba's farm horses decreased even more rapidly, from $16,577,007 in 1941 to $10,724,450 on June 1 last year, a decrease of one third.

While the horse population was declining the cattle population was gaining in number, figures show. The cattle population in Manitoba June 1, 1946, was 790,653, compared to 705,12[illegible] five years earlier and 747,-367 in 1936. The value of cattle showed a much greater increase, being $49,045,635 last year compared with $26,405,104 in 1941 and only $14,230,-422 in 1936.

The number of sheep declined to 206,516 from the 1941 total of 246,-160 and was slightly below the 1936 total of 207,915. Swine dropped from 508,007 to 300,400 last year but there will still be more than there were in 1936, when 209,700 were produced.

Total poultry population last year was 17 per cent higher than in 1941, and 60 per cent above 1936, due mainly to sharp increases in hens and chickens.

Canada Gives Twenty Million For Relief Of European People

OTTAWA.—Gift of $20,000,000 by Canada for post-UNRRA relief of the needy peoples of Europe was announced by Prime Minister King. Of the $20,000,000, $5,000,000 will be for the international children's relief fund.

Some $8,000,000 will be spent in purchasing Canadian salted and canned fish for distribution in Europe, this serving the extra purpose of supporting fish prices in Canada. Up to 10,000,000 pounds of salted cod and related species, 40,000 barrels of pickled fish (herring and mackerel), 50,000 boxes of bloaters, 800,000 cases of Pacific canned herring, and 100,000 cases of maritime canned fish, will be purchased for relief needs.

This Fussy Burglar Gets Laundry Done

HOUSTON. — Police seek a burglar who mixes larceny with his laundry.

The man, officers reported, broke into a laundry, stole a few dollars and a clean shirt and left a dirty shirt.

A few nights later he dropped into another laundry, left the first shirt (now dirty), and walked out with a clean one.

Plane Carriers Used To Haul Grain To U.K.

MONTREAL.—Small aircraft carriers which served on Atlantic convoy duty during World War II, are carrying Canadian grain to Britain.

Operated by the British ministry of food, five of the British built baby flattops have been put on the grain run to haul wheat from Montreal and Halifax to London and Liverpool.

The carriers are uneconomical, inefficient grain ships, a British food ministry spokesman said here, but they must be used because of the shortage of ships. Loading wheat into the craft takes 25 per cent longer than into a standard grain carrier, although they carry only 200,-000 bushels compared with a [illegible] carrier's cargo of 300,000 to [illegible] bushels.

DRY YEAST

RECIPE

Add 1 envelope Royal Fast Rising Dry Yeast and 1 teaspoon sugar to ½ cup lukewarm water, and let stand 10 minutes. Then stir well. Scald ½ cup milk, add 3 tablespoons shortening, ½ cup sugar and ½ teaspoon salt and cool to lukewarm. Add 1 cup sifted flour to make a batter. Add yeast mixture and 1 beaten egg. Beat well. Add 2½ cups sifted flour, or enough to make a soft dough. Knead lightly and place in greased bowl. Cover and set in warm place, free from draft. Let rise until doubled in bulk, about 2 hours. When light, punch dough down and divide into 2 equal portions. Roll dough ½ inch thick; place in 2 well-greased pans (8½ x 11½ x 2" deep). Brush tops with melted butter or shortening; sprinkle with ¼ cup granulated sugar. Peel and core 12 apples; cut into eighths; press into dough, sharp edges downward; close together. Mix 1½ teaspoons cinnamon with 1 cup granulated sugar; sprinkle over cakes. Cover and let rise in warm place until light, about ½ hour. Bake in moderate oven at 400°F. about 35 minutes.

Letters to the Editor

(This paper does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents.)

R.R. 3, Vermilion

Vermilion Standard

Dear Sir:

After reading the letter last week "A Town not worth waiting in", I would like to express my opinion.

The town of Vermilion certainly needs a waiting room as it is often necessary for out of town customers to have to wait, sometimes for a friend coming with a car or maybe for a truck driver who has gone back for another load of grain or maybe while one's own car is under repair at a garage.

Where can a mother tired with carrying a baby around, go to rest? Where can she give a young baby its meal? Where can children car sick from a trip into town be washed and tidied up? Or where can anyone young or old go if forced to wait in town for a few hours and perhaps tired or feeling ill? Where can a man wash up supposing he had to put chains on in the mud on the road to town?

All of this [illegible] up to the fact that Vermilion needs decent waiting rooms with a few comfortable seats, washing facilities and let's add drinking water.

Now that the sewage and water is being put in this is the time to build and [illegible].

Vermilion is supported by its country customers so shouldn't there be some accommodation provided for those customers?

When one store such as Hudson's Bay in Edmonton can provide large and luxurious waiting rooms surely this town can provide something better than the so-called waiting rooms at the rear of the town hall.

If the town is too poor to afford this why not adopt a system such as used in large stations where one deposits a dime or a nickel and the door opens. This would pay the expense of having the rooms kept clean and also keep children from using them for a playhouse.

"Let's Do It Ourselves"

Editor, Vermilion Standard

Dear Sir:

Regarding the letter headed "not worth waiting in" which appeared last week. The only commendable feature was the suggestion that a waiting room was needed. The rest of the letter about being told to move on implying that the stores were not friendly, the foolishness about transports and trucks and something about limited parking time for cars, all gripes on the sideline. Whoever heard of parking restrictions in Vermilion as far as time is concerned?

A waiting room is needed but Vermilion is not alone in this respect. In what small town can you find such a thing? Now my suggestion is that we do it ourselves. We are more highly organized now than ever before. Why cannot the many A.F.U. locals east and west, north and south of town, take the lead, get help from all the other farm organizations, men and ladies. There are far more of us and the average farmer is now better able to make a good donation than the average person in town. To my way of thinking and from observation, the ordinary townsman hasn't got much, a small lot, a house of sorts and if he is lucky he gets a big enough pay envelope to barely meet the monthly expenses of his family. Added to that he is at the beck and call of other people all the time.

We can do big things, we have proved that—if we farmers need a rest or waiting room in Vermilion why not embark on such an undertaking? Let's do it ourselves.

Just another one of those "Elderly Pals."

ISLAY

Hot weather and Calgary Stampede are two things quite noticeable here. Paddy McQuogan, Cam Mitchell, Mr Junk, Syd Mountford and two of their friends from Lashburn left Sunday in Paddy's new car. Harold McClellan went by train. Mr and Mrs Ralph Hame went part way by truck, also Mr McMurray.

Monday night we witnessed a real electric storm, mostly noise — not much rain but 11 miles south at Mrs H Redmond's they got plenty of hail, the second time for them!

We are about to lose one of our merchants Mr L. Reyne, due to health reasons, he and family are leaving for B.C. The other three merchants are taking his stock, but on July 18th he will hold an auction of his household goods at his residence in Mrs Billie Falls house, or one time Anglican rectory. That's Friday afternoon, July 18.

Plumbing work is going on at the nurses home.

Miss Pat Torrance is holidaying at her grandmother's, Mrs. Threadgold in Portland, Oregon. Pat writes that she is eating fresh strawberries, cherries and lots of good things. Do we remember Pat eating before! Mary McFadyen is assisting at the hospital while Pat is away.

Harry Young is having the roof of his house painted.

Chatsworth Chatter

Our district was quite fortunate on Wednesday evening in that we received no hail though high winds did quite a bit of damage to trees, plants, etc. We had quite a heavy rain that evening, also a good rain Friday morning.

Bobbie Squires and Jack Thompson returned from camp at Elk Island park on Saturday after having spent a very enjoyable week there.

Mrs Arthur Tovell and three girls are spending a holiday with Mrs Tovell's parents, Mr and Mrs. Weur south of town.

Mr and Mrs. Joe Farkash Jr. have moved into their new house during the past week.

Church service was held last Sunday morning, the next service will be held on Sunday evening July 14th.

Mr Jack Richardson, our student minister, spent the past week at the Boys' camp at Elk Island park.

Mr and Mrs R Good left on Monday morning on a motor trip to visit relatives at Ft Saskatchewan, Edmonton and [illegible].

The ladies of Chatsworth and surrounding districts are asked to attend a meeting to be held at Mrs Jim Thompson's on Wednesday July 16th at 2 p.m. daylight time, for the purpose of organizing a group or club, details to be discussed at the meeting. All ladies cordially invited to attend.

RIVERTON

Mr and Mrs W Vivian, Mr Dan Vivian and family, and Mrs Ted Allen and family spent the week end at Frenchman's Butte where they visited Mrs. Vivian's sister.

Mrs B. Timanson has had her cousins from Wisconsin, U.S.A., visiting her for a week.

Mr and Mrs C Haskell, Mr and Mrs A Isert and Bonnie motored to Meadow Lake, Sask., to visit the former's daughter Mrs. W. Nish.

Barbara [illegible], Evelyn Isert, Gwen Hyatt and Freda Hansen are in Vermilion this week attending the Girls Club week.

Mrs Wm Holmen is a proud mother of a daughter born in Elk Point, "Lauretta Fay".

Mr and Mrs W Harkness and son have returned to Vancouver after a nice holiday.

Bowtell Bulletin

Deepest sympathy is extended to the Anderson family in their recent great sorrow.

Congratulations are extended to Mr and Mrs Bert Mosse on the birth of a son recently.

Mrs Morrison is a patient at the hospital having undergone an appendectomy. A quick recovery is wished her.

Mr and Mrs Sherwood and Frances were Sunday visitors at the Cummings home.

The writer and family, Miss Annie [illegible] and Ben [illegible] were guests at the Repp home last Sunday. A supper of delicious fried chicken was served and greatly enjoyed. Visitors at the same home that evening were Mr and Mrs Gow and family.

The writer would like to state that the dance to be held in the Sherwood barn is not an invitation affair every one is heartily welcome to attend.

Mr Gow and Jack [illegible] were busy Friday putting up a new fence on the Tom Robinson farm as Mr Gow is pasturing a herd of cattle there for the summer.

Jim Repp was a visitor at the Morrison home Monday evening.

Miss M Morrison of Edmonton is spending a week visiting her parents here. Her mother has recently undergone an operation at the hospital.

Mr and Mrs. R. S. Cooper, Norman and Yvonne and Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Anderson are holidaying at Lake Whitney this week.

LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Taylor Jr. and two children of Edmonton have joined the Taylor family at Lake Whitney for a week's holiday.

$350,000 Power Plant Planned for Vermilion If Franchise Secured

To Be One of Big Plants of Province—To Serve Wide Territory.

Vast Electrical Development Planned For This Area of Alberta

WILL GIVE VERMILION ANNUAL PAYROLL [illegible]: REDUCE LIGHT RATES 20% — PAY HEAVY TAXES.

(By Ashley H. Cooper)

A power plant that would rank favorably with any in Alberta will be built at Vermilion by the Canadian Utilities Limited if the ratepayers of this town decide to part with the franchise at the plebiscite on Tuesday July 29th. This plant is necessary and would be used in a huge electrical development program in this section of the province. The power set-up in this province would be the Calgary Power hydro plants west of Calgary, the city of Edmonton's steam plant at Edmonton, the Canadian Utilities plant at Drumheller in the south-east and the Vermilion (or Lindberg) steam plant in the north-east corner of the province. Three plants will form the permanent backbone for a mighty system of power development in Alberta. The area that would be served from Vermilion will be points as far removed as Radway and Lac la Biche in the north-west, Bonnyville and Cold Lake in the north-east, Lloydminster to the east and Mundare to the west.

The project is so immense that the thought that this development might centre on Vermilion, is breathtaking. The ratepayers of the town of Vermilion, looking for industrial development for years and disappointed at the declining activity in the oil field, just cannot afford to pass up such a golden opportunity.

By the end of 1949 the Canadian Utilities will have invested $350,000 in the proposed plant here. In addition to this the company's expansion program in the Vegreville district to the boundary for 1948 consists of the construction of some $200,000 of transmission line. Most of this work would centre about Vermilion and it would start with the construction of the 33,000 volt line to St. Paul. The expansion program in 1949 will consist of about the same amount of construction so that Vermilion could look forward to a great deal of activity centred here.

Plant Must Be Built Immediately

The position of the Canadian Utilities is that they must build a 1,000 K.W. steam plant immediately. They are prepared to do this at Vermilion if they get the franchise. If the franchise is turned down in the plebiscite of July 29, the plant will be built at Lindberg. Lindberg has the advantages of very cheap gas and an unlimited supply of water. These are two big advantages. However there the problem of housing the staff exists. At Vermilion gas will be more costly and a definite water problem has to be overcome but it is a good town with all facilities and provides an additional market for power, and these offset the advantages held by Lindberg. Either Lindberg or Vermilion is a suitable location for the big power plant and if the people of Vermilion vote to continue their own utility, plans for the construction of the plant will be carried out at Lindberg immediately. The serious aspect from a Vermilion point of view is that if the plebiscite is defeated and at some future time we were unable to supply our own electricity and sold the franchise, we would only be a hook-up on the power company's line. Our hopes for a big plant are definitely gone if the plebiscite is lost. It would, in the writers' opinion, be a serious blow to Vermilion, and anyone contemplating voting against having this big plant and all the construction activity that is planned, should seriously reconsider the whole situation, get your facts from a member of the council or an engineer of the plant, face figures and face facts!

Would Rehabilitate and Operate Present Plant

The Canadian Utilities would rehabilitate and operate the present Vermilion power plant until their new plant was in operation.

Construction would be started immediately on the new plant which would be located within the town limits in the river valley. It would be a 1,000 K.W. steam plant and the first unit would be in operation by the fall of 1948. By that time they expect to have a $75,000 building erected, $80,000 in boilers installed, a turbine engine costing $85,000, while securing the necessary water supply of 1000 gallons per minute is a difficult problem and would necessitate the expenditure up to $50,000. This means the spending of $270,000 here in the next year and a half. Of this amount an estimated $81,000 would be in wages and as such much of it would be spent right in the town of Vermilion. Construction work of this magnitude can not go on without benefitting practically everyone in town, laboring man and business man alike. Transient labor will be especially helped.

The new plant would employ 12 men and a serviceman from the very start. The plant payroll alone would be at least $30,000 per year. As the plan progresses, this will grow and the 1,000 K.W. plant planned now should be double in size in the course of the next ten years.

As well as the assurance of the new plant the offer from the Canadian Utilities includes $12,000 cash, the assuming of costs of new water tube boiler ordered by town approximately $10,000, installation of new improved street lighting in the business section with new slim steel light standards, the company agrees to retain all the present staff and they would immediately receive the higher schedule of pay received by Utility engineers. Cost of the new and improved street lighting would be approximately $2,500.

Complete details of the offer are contained in the by-laws and accompanying public notices which were printed in full in the issues of the Standard of July 3 and 10. Read this carefully and be in full possession of the facts.

Public Meeting To Discuss Offer For Light Plant

FRIDAY, JULY 18th AT 8:00 P.M. IN THE ELKS HALL

A public meeting will be held in the Elks hall Friday evening July 18th at 8 o'clock to discuss the proposed franchise agreement with the Canadian Utilities Limited and offer for the electric light plant.

The complete agreement, terms of sale, proposed rates and all information pertaining thereto have been published in complete detail in the issues of the Standard of July 3 and 10. Further information has been compiled and appears in this issue of the Standard. There is no excuse for ignorance on any point of the proposed agreement. Read the by-law and other material published and come to the meeting well informed, and in a position to ask intelligent questions.

2250 People Pass Through T.B. Clinic

The TB X-Ray Clinic wound up its activities at Vermilion on Tuesday evening of this week after six days. The latter two of these days were exceptionally busy. The results were fairly satisfactory but not as complete as the committee had hoped. In a service of this kind, so essential and beneficial, it requires 100% coverage to be sure it is a success. Any fraction of that amount, no matter how small, leaves a job undone, however there were just over 2250 people who took advantage of the clinic. It is hoped that Vermilion will do a real job when another chance is given.

The thanks of the committee go to all those who gave their time and labor in making this possible. Any effort of this nature should draw the full appreciation of the community to the ones who work so hard to make everything run smoothly.

Death and Funeral of Alexander Taylor

Alexander Taylor, aged 78 years, 1 month and 15 days, passed away at the Vermilion hospital Friday July 11 from the effects of a stroke suffered that morning.

The deceased was born in Scotland on May 26, 1869. He came to Canada 43 years ago and settled in Edmonton where he followed his trade of carpentering. 33 years ago he moved to the Bowtell district where he carried on farming operations until 1931 when he retired and moved to Vermilion.

Left to mourn his loss are his son Donald of Vermilion, 5 grandchildren and 2 great grandchildren. A [illegible] Mrs W Miller resides in Scotland. His wife predeceased him five years ago.

Funeral services were held in St. Saviour's Anglican church, Vermilion on Tuesday afternoon July [illegible]. Interment was made in the Vermilion cemetery. The Rev. W. [illegible] officiated.

The pall-bearers were [illegible], H J Payne, Thos Watts, [illegible], George Martin and Harry [illegible].

Moyer Bros were in charge of arrangements.

Teachers Resign

The Vermilion school board has received the resignations of Miss [illegible] Lipsey grade 5 teacher and Mr. [illegible] Lampitt of the intermediate school staff. Both are leaving the teaching profession and both leave vacancies very difficult to fill.

You're less likely to kick the other fellow when you put yourself in his shoes.

Vermilion Air Cadets Leave For Patricia Bay, B.C.

TWO WEEKS COURSE

On Wednesday morning July 16, fifteen excited Air Cadets of Vermilion Squadron No. 97 left town via C.N.R. for a two weeks course at Patricia Bay on Vancouver Island. For many of the boys this is their first long trip, their first view of the mountains, and of the ocean.

The fifteen boys are: Jack Bauman, Gerald Brass, Eddie Cheselck, Miles [illegible], Mac Fish, Keith Fooks, Billie [illegible], Alec Link, Keith Maxwell, George Strocher, Steve Strocher, Hugh Swanson, James Swanson, Billie Williams and Douglas Wilmot. F.O. Frank H Walker accompanied the cadets.

This is the culmination of the year's work for the senior cadets. Those who missed out this year will have next year's camp to look forward to.

A full program of events has been planned for the two weeks. Besides the drill and the service familiarization, there will be varied sports activities, sight seeing trips and of course the "flips" that every cadet so anticipates.

Two Vermilion Air Cadets Win Flying Training Course

FOUR WEEKS IN EDMONTON

On July 21st, two Vermilion air cadets Sgt James Fooks and Cadet Tom Forbes will leave for Edmonton where they will be the guests of the North-West Air Cadets and the Edmonton Flying Club. These two boys have won a four weeks' flying training course.

The syllabus for the course is as follows:

Flying — 12½ hours maximum, of which not more than 2 hours may be solo. Navigation 20 hours, Airmanship 20 hours, Meteorology 20 hours, Practical 20 hours.

In addition it is possible for one of the cadets taking this course to win a further scholarship which would enable him to complete his Private Pilot's license.

FS. Harold Bushell Will Fly East

Word has been received that F.S. Bushell will fly to Montreal en route to his exchange visit to Great Britain. This is quite a pleasant surprise for Harold as he was anticipating a long train trip east to contact the other exchange cadets. F.S. Bushell will leave Lethbridge at [illegible] a.m. July 20th arriving at Montreal that afternoon. On the 24th he and [illegible] other [illegible] cadets will leave by [illegible] for England.

Bathing Houses Are Repaired and River Road Graded

The [illegible] bathing houses at the swimming pool [illegible] and the road leading thereto graded, effecting a [illegible] improvement in both cases.

REFRAIN FROM BREAKING BOTTLES PLEASE

The cooperation of everyone is asked in seeing that no broken bottles are left at or in the vicinity of the swimming pool [illegible] the bathing houses and in keeping the pool and [illegible]. [illegible] fires away from the [illegible] where the kiddies play. [illegible] use of common sense will be [illegible] in these respects and everyone will be the happier for it.

THE COUNCIL, Town of Vermilion

VERMILION'S FRIENDLY FAIR NEXT WEEK

The directors of Vermilion's Friendly Fair extend a cordial invitation to all district residents to attend the annual fair starting next Thursday and running through to Saturday night. The new grandstand is now complete and the entire structure has been erected by Contractor Chester P. Lipsey and his efficient crew and Vermilion Fair now boasts what is probably the finest [illegible] fair grandstand in Western Canada and adequate accommodation [illegible] for all.

The finest aggregation of livestock to be shown at any exhibition in Alberta will be on display at Vermilion and all lovers of good stock will find much of interest to them. The [illegible] club will have some fifty calves on show. [illegible] after judging the calves will be [illegible] o'clock with Bill [illegible] of Calgary and Chester Gamble of Mannville handling the sale.

The Shorthorn breeders of [illegible] area are invading Vermilion with some fine cattle as are the Hereford and Aberdeen Angus breeders. The dairy breeds will be well represented and the heavy horse classes will feature [illegible] by Alex Mitchell of Lloydminster, the Bryden Brothers of Mannville and others. Light horses from Edmonton, [illegible], Saskatchewan, North Battleford and Lloydminster together with local entries will provide thrills in the jumping class and under saddle.

All the good gardeners will, it is hoped, be out in force with their displays of vegetables, flowers and fruits and members of the Horticultural Society are especially urged to show what they grow. Sewing, cooking and handicrafts will be on show soon after judging has been completed.

The boys and girls camp at the school of agriculture is filled to capacity and the young people will be guests of Vermilion Fair from July 21st to the 26th inclusive.

Reports from Moose Jaw, Portage la Prairie and Yorkton indicate that the grandstand show is an excellent one and Vermilion Fair patrons are assured of an entertaining and interesting three days on July 24th, 25th and 26th.

Bring the Kiddies on Thursday July 24th and avoid the crush.

Keep advance tickets in mind, only a limited number are being sold this year at 3 for $1 and they are good for both gate and grandstand.

Enjoyable Vesper Service in Town Park

FIRST OF SERIES

The first of a series of Sunday evening Vesper services was held last Sunday in the park. 25 or more young people from the congregations of the Alliance Chapel and the Gospel Hall united with the comrades of the Salvation Army to form a singing [illegible].

A short program of recorded sacred [illegible] was followed by the singing of [illegible] hymns by the group. Sister Mrs [illegible] of the Salvation Army sang [illegible] and Adj. [illegible] Stewart read the [illegible].

Misses [illegible] and Muriel Mix sang duet [illegible] Heavenly Light and [illegible] sang That's Why I Love Him. Various others of the [illegible].

Mr. W. [illegible] played the organ. Many [illegible] listened to the [illegible] amplified through public address system and favorable comment was given.

An out-of-town visitor among the group was [illegible] Bruce Hall who [illegible] over the week end of Mr and Mrs W. [illegible].

Next Sunday at 9 p.m. weather permitting, another Sunday evening Vesper service will be presented and [illegible] the Director invites the people of the town and district to join in this evening service. [illegible]

All Stars Win Opener Provincial Play-Offs

DEFEAT VEGREVILLE 19 TO 5

Vermilion All Stars have entered the [illegible] provincial play-offs and they [illegible] their opening game Wednesday evening July 16th here against the Vegreville All Stars winning it by a score of 19 to 5. This is a best 2 of 3 [illegible].

The other two games, if necessary will be played at Vegreville on Sunday July 20th. Providing 5 or more Vermilion fans wish to see these games a bus will leave from the Parkview Auto service. Anyone interested please leave or send your name to the Parkview.

V.S.A. Summer Reunion July 31 to Aug. 2

The graduates and ex-students of the Vermilion school of agriculture and their families and friends are reminded that their annual summer reunion and dance will be held from July 31st to Aug 2nd. A banquet and dance will be the highlight of the gathering held on Aug. 1st. Joe [illegible] and his popular orchestra of Vegreville will supply the music from 9:30 p.m. to 2:30 a.m. at the attractively decorated college gymnasium. The Alumni executive are: Hon. President—Mr. W. J. Elliott; President—Stan Gould of [illegible]; Vice-President — Mary Hawrelak; Sec'y-Treasurer Laurie Rhodes.

Happy Time at United Church Camps

The Elk Island Park United church camps have come to an end for another year and many of the boys and girls of Vermilion and district declare they had the time of their lives. Although the weather was mostly unsettled here, good weather without hail was enjoyed by the lakeside. 46 boys attended during the first week of July, while 41 girls took part during the second week. Competent leadership, together with splendid co-operation from the campers made camping a happy experience that will long be remembered.

DEWBERRY

The sudden passing of Mrs. Hilda Garnier has been one of the saddest in our district. To those who deeply mourn her loss we extend heartfelt sympathy and best of comfort. Your friend and my friend, a friend to all to replace her will be hard to do. A lady we will never forget. To her many friends we quote the poem:

"In the garden of our memories
In the brightest sunny spot
She has left for us a flower
A sweet Forget-Me-Not."

Mr John Swen of Vidora, Sask., visited his brother and family George Swen of Dewberry last week.

Jim Munroe is now in Calgary for the summer holidays where he is working until school starts.

Dewberry boys played bang-up ball at Streamstown sports last Wednesday and managed to cop second prize. Our girls once again took first money in their softball tournament.

The hail storm of last week struck south of Dewberry about two miles and from there on. The Ed Brett, Davidson and Hodgson places were hailed out about 100 per cent.

Wheat in the district is now a good height and crops are coming along quickly.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Winston Braithwaite on the birth of a daughter at the Islay hospital.

all users around 25% on their present light bills making a nice saving at the end of the year for even the smallest consumer.

There is always the skeptic who will probably claim that the plant will never be built here regardless. The town council has taken care of that with the penalty clause in the franchise wherein the company agrees to spend at least $300,000 within two years upon the construction of the new generating system in the town limits, in case of default the company agrees to pay the town $10,000 forthwith and further payments each succeeding year until it has made payment of $50,000.

The material insofar as the plant construction and development plans are concerned, was secured by the writer from two officials of the Canadian Utilities in a lengthy interview early this week.

Our power plant has rendered us valuable service in the years gone by, but no greater service could it render than that it provide the means to ensure such an electrical development plan in the town of Vermilion.

LOCAL NEWS

NOTICE — LEGION MEMBERS
All Legion members willing to assist at the booth at the Fair grounds during the Fair, please get into touch with George Martin as soon as possible.

Jerry and Jimmy Pauls are visiting this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mahan south of Vermilion.

Mr and Mrs Gus Garnier of Clandonald were pleasantly surprised last week when Mrs. Garnier's two brothers and their wives arrived by car. Mrs Garnier had not seen either of her two brothers for over 30 years. They are Mr. and Mrs. Hans Gudwer of Coleman, Wisconsin and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gudwer and daughter of Perkins, Michigan. The visitors spent ten days fishing at Long Lake and were greatly surprised with the farm lands and the country as a whole. The return trip will be made through Jasper, Banff and Yellowstone National park. While at Clandonald they visited their nephews and nieces in both the Clandonald and Dewberry districts.

Mrs. Alfred Bull of Clandonald left for her vacation on July 1st for Calgary. She planned to visit there until after the stampede and then spend two weeks or so at Banff. While in Calgary she was the guest of her sister Mrs. N. Norris and her nephews and nieces Mrs A. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. George Carroll, Mrs. Gladys Brown and Mr and Mrs. L. W. Bull. She will also visit Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jacklin and Mr and Mrs. S. [illegible] also at Calgary.

Attend Demonstration New Farmall "Cub" Tractor

Local International Harvester Dealer, R. H. Norton, Attends Special Introduction and Demonstration Program of New Small Farmall Cub Tractor.

Mr R. P. Norton representing R.H. Norton local I H dealer, has returned home after attending a special introduction and demonstration program of International Harvester Company's new small, low-cost Farmall Cub tractor at North Battleford.

Commenting on the Farmall Cub after getting the "feel" of its operation Mr Norton said:

"The Farmall Cub represents the latest step in the evolution of farm mechanization. Its development readily meets the power requirements of thousands of the nation's small acreage farmers and the price of the tractor is only $645 f.o.b. factory. Attachments and implements are extra.

"Designed specifically for use by small general farms, industrial workers who divide their time between industry and the farm, truck farm operators, orchardists and large general farms needing auxiliary units, the Farmall Cub is being introduced into the Farmall tractor line in response to the desire of the small acreage farmer to compete on a comparable basis with farmers of larger tracts.

"Pulling a single 12-inch moldboard plow, the Farmall Cub will plow up to 2½ acres per 10 hours in most soils, and will cultivate one to four rows of crops at a rate of better than one acre per hour. And yet, the fuel consumption of its four-cylinder, four-cycle engine under maximum load is considerably less than one gallon per hour."

Despite its small size, which will be approximately two-thirds the weight and power of International Harvester's previous smallest farm tractor, the Farmall A, the Farmall Cub will be built with identical standards of materials and workmanship found in the company's largest tractors. The Farmall Cub weighs 1,200 [illegible] and has approximately 9½ h.p. power on the belt and 8 on the drawbar.

A full line of implements, engineered for every region Mr Norton said, are being produced at various company plants for use with the new tractor. They are one and two-way moldboard plows, disk harrow, bar row plow and mower. All these tools Mr Norton said, are designed for quick change and easy operation and it won't be long before the farmers in this district will have the opportunity to see and get the feel of the new Farmall Cub in actual field performance. This Cub is also but a "Baby" for work, will be shown at the Vermilion Fair July 24, 25 and 26.

$10.00 REWARD —
The Town of Vermilion is offering a $10 reward for [illegible] leading to the conviction of anyone leaving broken glass or bottles around the swimming pool or throwing same into the water, also for information of anyone damaging the bathing [illegible] in any way. The reward is a standing one and information may be given to the R.C.M.P. or to the town secretary.

People holding parties at the pool are asked to build their fires in other places than in the sand. Keep the pool and its surroundings safe and clean. A small boy recently cut his arm very badly on a broken beer bottle in the sand at the bottom of the pool when he dove. Doctor bills for stitching and attention cost the boy's parents $6. Adults holding parties there are asked not to break or leave any bottles in the vicinity of the pool.

Find Peculiar Skull In Digging Basement

MAY BE PREHISTORIC ANIMAL

The skull of an animal, in appearance unlike that of any present-day variety, was found by Brent Macnab last week when digging the basement of his new house. The skull was found 5 feet underground and is in a perfect state of preservation. It is complete with a full set of teeth showing that it was the head of some decidedly carnivorous animal. The jaw works perfectly, opening and closing. It is too small for a coyote, the wrong shape for a badger, the nose sloping gently back into the forehead.

W. J. Macnab who brought the skull into the Standard office thought that his find could be prehistoric but due to the absence of brains it was no doubt modern!

The head is now at the University of Alberta where the professors are tracing its ancestry and no doubt by next week we'll know what it once was.

Chatsworth Chatter

We've certainly had our share of storms during this second week in July with storms occurring Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. While we were fortunate in missing Wednesday's storm of hail and wind, we experienced quite a hailstorm on the evening of July 9th (a week later). Some stones which [illegible] here were slightly larger than [illegible] balls. Practically every home in [illegible] neighborhood suffered the loss of several windows (on the west), gardens were beaten, young trees broken off, tender new shoots on spruce tops and boughs were also snapped off. Crops were damaged somewhat, a strip from Clark's, Gordon's, Furtak's and Firth's being hardest hit. The greatest damage appears to have been done in fall rye fields.

Wednesday's storm was followed by a heavy downpour of rain on Friday afternoon with a few hailstones and within a few minutes ditches and mudholes were full of water. Fields of summerfallow were beaten smooth by the heavy rain. Higher spots on the roads were washed almost bare of loose soil and rivulets of soil were washed from some fields.

On Tuesday July 8th the monthly A.F.U. meeting was held at the school with the vice-president Mr C. Stewart in the chair. The business of the evening was quickly carried out. Rebates on binder twine purchased through the A.F.U. were distributed. Delegates named to the A.F.U. convention were Mr. E. T. East and Mrs Jim Thompson, secretary of the local.

The next meeting of the A.F.U. is to be held on Tuesday Aug. 5th at 8:30 p.m.

Mr G. Lyons and his cousins Mr and Mrs. McLaughlin from Ontario were visitors to McKee's on Sunday. Mrs. McKee returned with them to spend a few days at Lyons'.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Fooks, Jimmie, Keith and Lynne spent Sunday at Jim Thompson's.

Mr and Mrs. Dave Cameron, who have been living at New Westminster, B.C., have disposed of their property in the coast city and are back in the Indian Lake district.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

KEYS

By T. [illegible]

STUBBORNLY Barney Thorpe refused to leave the office or his work until the last estimate was checked and filed away. Refused in the face of the ominous warnings that blared forth from the radio at his elbow.

"Go home at once. The storm is rising to hurricane proportions. Go home at once. Quickly."

The rain battered viciously against the window. Looking at the radio I said with all the urgency I could summon,

"Don't you hear that warning, Barney? Don't be a fool."

We were alone in the office. He had sent the girls home an hour ago. Though not yet five o'clock of an autumn afternoon it was dark outside. And that driving rain and ugly wind. It was not pleasant to hear it nor think how nasty the nearby Long Island Sound waters must be.

"Oh that radio," there was cool disdain in Barney's voice, "they're too nervous. Besides it'll only take a few minutes more here. Go on down like a good fellow and wait in the car for me. You know, the one behind Harry's jalopy."

Abruptly I jerked my head away from the window and the storm to look at him. His face was clouded, his eyes cold.

"Yes, I know the car," I replied, and could not for the life of me refrain from adding, "I should, after all these 15 years. What fools two brothers can make of themselves."

Then I went out quickly. Much as I liked Barney Thorpe I never did relish bearing the brunt of his wrath. It could be terrible where his brother, Harry, was concerned, terrible in more ways than one.

Downstairs, on the street level, peering through the heavy glass door the storm appeared worse, if that were possible. There were no intermittent gusts. There were no moments, none at all, when one might make a dash for the car. On the contrary it [illegible] a ceaseless savage brutal assault on the face of the building. The wind and rain battered with unrelenting fury.

Deep down in my heart it frightened me. The waters of Long Island Sound, a quarter of a mile distant, must be pretty ugly by now.

Across the street a light, blurred and faint, showed where Harry Thorpe's cigar store stood. Harry had [illegible] gone home. Was he going to ride out the storm in his place? Or was he too just delaying? It would serve both brothers right if they delayed too long. If they both got caught. But then, and I shook my head, I would be in the same boat. My irritation mounted.

Stubborn old fools. All the Thorpes. Just 15 years ago Harry had proposed opening the store. He was going to put all his savings into it because he was sure it would be a grand success.

Equally positive it would be a terrible blunder Barney told him profanely not to. Warned him he was courting disaster.

Harry was stubborn, opened the store and [illegible] still had his original jalopy. Barney was stubborn, swore that his brother was a fool and bought himself a new car every year, when there were cars. Not because he needed one but because he wanted it for a purpose.

And that purpose? Every day he parked that car right behind Harry's jalopy just to prove how right he, Barney, was. And how terribly wrong by contrast Harry was. Every year the jalopy got older but every year Harry appeared to grow more content. And Barney more like a mule.

Every day for 15 years. And not once in all those 15 years, not for one single fleeting second.

A heavy hand on my arm. Not having heard a sound I jumped. It was Barney. "It looks kind of nasty," he said soberly.

Who waited for it to get nasty, I felt like retorting? We made a dash for the car and were soaked before we had gone ten feet. In the car Barney fumbled for the keys and I peered out into the storm. Harry was at the window of his shop. He looked lonely.

"Damn!" said Barney, "I can't find my keys." He searched every pocket and then started in all over again. The devil was in me. "Harry looks nice and dry," I remarked sourly.

"Double damn!" said Barney, still hunting. "Hope the motor starts," I added. "What in thunder," he growled, "have I done with my keys." "Maybe Harry'll give us a tow," I said wickedly.

"Maybe I'll bust his face," he shouted. "I must have left those damned keys in the office."

At that instant I saw Harry sloshing toward us. Barney gave no sign that he saw him. But he did crawl over me to get out. He went out one door even as the door on the opposite side was opened. Whether by design or no they just missed each other. I looked at Harry and my irritation boiled over.

"You're both fools," I said angrily, "why don't you break down and talk to each other. I'd like to break your necks."

To Harry's credit it must be said that he looked kind of foolish. He dropped some keys on the car seat. He was soaked.

"Mine," he said, "I thought he was stuck. Tell him he can have my car. I'm staying."

Then he was gone and for the moment I didn't know whether to curse him or praise him. Two stubborn old fools. They had not spoken to each other for 15 years and each was obviously determined not to be the one to break that record.

Because, as Barney said, "he called me an old fool," and because, as Harry said, "he can't tell me what to do."

Barney reappeared. He looked as if he had fallen into the Sound with his clothes on. He saw the keys. "Whose are they?" he demanded suspiciously. "Harry's," I told him, "he said to use his car."

With a face as black as the storm Barney sloshed off into the wind and rain. He went straight for Harry's store. I could see him as he opened the door. Then he closed it and came back.

"I flung 'em in his face," he growled, "he'd better mind his own business."

By now I was speechless from fury. It was so utterly asinine. I started to get out of the car heedless of everything except my wrath. So I missed, at first what Barney saw. Abruptly he shouted, and his voice was full of horror, even as he flung himself out of the car."

"Quick! Run for your life. Oh my God! A mountain of water."

Then I saw it. A great wall of water rolling along the street. Straight toward us. It looked as black as ink and as terrible as night.

At such a moment one does not know what one does. One acts from instinct. And what one does is beyond all reasoning. The next thing I knew I was leaping madly up the fire escape with the water swirling about my legs.

Safe on an upper landing on the side of the building I stopped. A river of water churned about below me. Across the street the light in the cigar store still shone. The driving rain blurred my vision. But not entirely. I could see into the store and what I saw was forever after seared into my mind. A living, lightning flash picture.

Inside that cigar store were two men, shoulder to shoulder, struggling desperately to keep the door closed. Barney and Harry Thorpe. Brothers.

Then the lights went out.

No Reduced Postage Expected

OTTAWA. — Postmaster General Bertrand held out no hope to the Commons that there would be a return to the three cent stamp [illegible] any other postwar stamp [illegible].

He told E. D. McKay (CCF—Weyburn) with a check [illegible] and a prepared answer, when he was asked if in view of [illegible] departments [illegible] there would be any reduction.

The four cent stamp he said actually carried a two cent tax and if there was to be any cut it [illegible] a budget matter. It was [illegible] wise to cut back prices because costs were above wartime levels.

The United States had done that and had lost $192,000,000. Canada's stamp sales totalled $55,000,000 last year. A one cent cut would chop off $11,000,000.

GOOD ROADS NEEDED TO MAINTAIN TOURIST TRADE

OTTAWA.—A gigantic road-building program is needed to maintain Canada's tourist trade, expected to be the biggest in history this year, the Senate Tourist Committee was told.

"This year Canada should have the three biggest tourist months in the history of this country—July, August, and September," said Leo Dolan, head of the Canadian Travel Bureau, adding that "there's got to be a tremendous road-building program from Nova Scotia to British Columbia—if we want to keep the tourist trade."

Canadian highways had been the target for most of the criticism made by tourists. In addition there had been some complaints about meals, and the roadside [illegible] "weren't as good as they ought to be."

Earns Money By Staying In Bed

BERLIN. — Bread is worth more than wages to Germans today according to a Berlin citizen summoned before a court to explain his refusal of a job offered by the Labor exchange.

He asked the magistrate.

"Why should I work if I can earn more than double a week's pay by staying in bed?

"I am not lazy nor ill, but also I am not a fool. I stay in bed until noon, which means I go without breakfast. In a week this means I save a loaf.

"Every Saturday I sell the loaf I have saved and get for it twice as much as the wages for the job the exchange offered to me. Why should I work if I earn that much and avoid paying taxes by staying in bed?"

Britain To Stand By The U.N.

LONDON — Great Britain, taking the lead with France in setting up a new organization to plan the reconstruction of Europe, will stand by the United Nations with "unwavering loyalty", Minister of State Hector McNeil said.

McNeil made the statement when asked by C. L. Lipson, Independent, in the House of Commons whether the newly-proposed all-Europe body would keep in close touch with the United Nations European economic organization.

However, he did not answer Lipson's question directly.

The Minister of State was questioned briefly after he read the British-French communique proposing the formation of a new organization to assess Europe's resources and needs.

McNeil told Willie Gallagher, Communist, that Foreign Secretary Bevin and Foreign Minister Bidault of France went "to considerable lengths to meet the claims of Soviet Russia" in the Paris talks which ended without agreement between Russia and the two western powers.

A government spokesman said Britain would go ahead with plans to expand her trade in Eastern Europe.

He did not attempt to conceal the fact that Russia's decision to eschew the Marshall proposal for European reconstruction had been a foregone conclusion to the government.

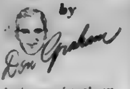
EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

by



Don Graham

In the eyes of employers, "lack of initiative" is considered the most serious fault a worker can have. It is an insidious and dangerous fault.

For most of us, pride of achievement and desire for bigger earnings provide plenty of drive. But we may suffer from temporary loss of enthusiasm in our work due to illness, personal problems, or emotional upsets.

At such times it is desirable to take all possible measures to prevent these conditions from becoming chronic. The advice of a physician or close friend may help. So may a frank talk with your employer whose attitude will probably be very understanding.

Sometimes a man has little or no interest in his work. This may not be his fault. A change of job or additional train[illegible] may be all he needs to make him "spark".

But far too many men are in a rut because they are just plain lazy. To them I can only say: You'll be far happier if you give your job everything you've got!

Mishurn Girl Wins Recent Art Contest

Eleanora Anderson, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson of Minburn, was awarded first prize in a [illegible] drawing contest conducted recently by the Robin Hood Flour Mills. THE VALUE OF INFORMATION

In this complex world the people of any one country depend for their welfare to a great extent upon the production by people who live in other countries, and so accurate information about what is being produced in any one country is valuable for all to know. Accurate information enables Governments, merchants, industrialists and farmers to plan ahead better than if such information were not available. All countries are most generous in giving information to Canadian people about what they are producing. Canadians, too, therefore, must do their share.

The official body that gathers information about production in Canada is the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The Bureau is non-political.

By this time the farmers of Canada will have received a yellow card entitled "Survey of Crops and Livestock". It would be, I suggest, greatly in the farmers' own personal interests, and of course in the interests of Canada, if these cards are filled in as quickly and as accurately as possible, and returned to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Information given on the cards is strictly confidential and in no circumstances is either the Taxation Department or any other Department of the Government permitted to have access to these cards. Farmers can rely upon that, and so should not hesitate about filling in and mailing the cards quickly.

"FARM SAFETY" THEME FOR LINE ELEVATOR'S EXHIBIT

Every farming district has its stories to tell of accidents and mishaps. Young and old, alike, can recall incidents on and about the farm which all have the same tragic ending and the same explanation, a slip of the hand or something that passed unnoticed.

"Your farm is as safe as you make it." This is the belief of the North West Line Elevators Association of Winnipeg and is the theme of their farm safety exhibit to be shown at the Vermilion Fair from July 24th to July 26th.

A miniature farmyard is the feature attraction of the exhibit. The toy-sized people and machines actually move around the farm buildings and landscape making numerous kinds of mistakes for the benefit of the onlookers and telling the complete story of accidents on the farm.

The dangers of the buzz saw, ladders, livestock and the dozen and one other hazardous things are laid out to show the multiplicity of potential dangers that are found everywhere on the farm.

The general farm yard model is supported by an attractive diagram of a farm house in cross-section illustrating for the benefit of the housewife and family the most common fire and accident hazards that are found in the home.

The many variations of the outstanding causes of accidents are covered in a 100 question leaflet which is being distributed at the exhibit. If the reader can answer these questions about his farm activities correctly he can be assured of relative safety while working on the farm.

Extensions to Heinsberg and Bonnyville Lines Are Deferred

The uncompleted C.N.R. branch line between Heinsburg and Frenchman's Butte, a link in the Hudson Bay route, will "be one of the first to be considered" when the C.N.R. lays plans for branch line construction.

This was stated in the commons recently by Transport Minister Chevrier, after he had been questioned by John Diefenbaker, Prog. Cons., Lake Centre.

Mr. Diefenbaker spoke of two uncompleted C.N.R. branch lines in northern Alberta and Saskatchewan, one between Bonnyville and St. Walburg and the other between Heinsberg and Frenchman's Butte. Work stopped in 1932.

The Saskatchewan member mentioned the thousands of people who had moved into these areas in anticipation of these lines being completed.

Mr. Chevrier said the C.N.R. and all other railways now were so busy trying to replace equipment after the war years that branch line construction was not on the program at present. The Heinsburg-Frenchman's Butte was one line that would get early consideration when any such plan was laid out.

The Bonnyville-St. Walburg line did not rate such priority, he said.

FOULKES SAYS CANADA NOT TO BE BATTLEFIELD

CALGARY.—Recent talk of Canada being a second Belgium in another world war "is all poppycock", said Lt.-Gen. Charles Foulkes, Chief of the General Staff at Canadian Army Headquarters, Ottawa, after he arrived in Calgary recently on a tour of western army installations and military schools.

"There is no substantiation for such talk in fact," he declared. "A little simple arithmetic work proves this." He went on to explain his contention by pointing out the difficulties an invading army would experience in supplying itself in the northland.

But the senior military officer of the Canadian Army did not rule out entirely possibility of an attack on Canada. "Just because geographical factors kept this country from being a battle ground in the past is no reason to believe they will continue to safeguard the country."

"We've got to convince our countrymen on this point. In a day when planes can fly non-stop from Tokyo to Cairo there is no telling what can happen," Gen. Foulkes added.

To Feel Right — Eat Right!

Health LEAGUE of CANADA presents TOPICS of VITAL INTEREST

Water in Ear

If you have acute or chronic ear trouble, be careful where and when you go in the water this summer, say the National Health wardens. Water may get into the middle ear and may allow entrance of infection, which could then spread to the inner ear and the mastoid sinuses.

It is suggested that those with ear trouble consult their family physicians as to the advisability of taking part in aquatic sports.

Dive for Safety

Unless you can dive, when you go in for a swim, you should certainly hold your nose as you take to the water feet-first for, say the health experts, water forced up into the nostrils can carry infection to nose, throat and sinuses. Man isn't like the duck, which can close its nostrils under water. And, unlike the duck, human beings haven't that special eyelid which protects the eyes under water, so swimmers should try to see when submerged as rarely as possible.

Past Play-Time

Middle-agers should resist the temptation to indulge in violent physical exertion on their annual holidays. Health people at Ottawa warn: "Those who live sedentary lives can't suddenly become 'sports' with safety, particularly if they are past the play-time of life. The family doctor, familiar with their normal types of activity, should be consulted about the type of recreation which will benefit them, and not harm them."

Hay Fever Note

Sufferers from hay-fever and so-called "rose-colds" should avoid swimming during seasons when they are most subject to these unpleasant disabilities, according to health authorities. Those who suffer severely from hay-fever are advised to think twice before they go swimming at all. Chronic inflammations of the nose and throat make this advisable.

BELGIAN URANIUM ORE SUPPLIES FOR BRITAIN AND U.S.

BRUSSELS.—Premier Paul Henri Spaak said that war-time arrangements placing uranium ore supplies from the Belgian Congo at the disposal of Britain and the United S[illegible] still were in effect.

"It was necessary during the war," Spaak told the Belgian Senate, "to assure our allies of material necessary for atomic energy. Arrangements are still current. The Government hopes that an agreement for the control of atomic energy will soon intervene. The Belgian Government will then adapt its legislation on uranium to conform with international organization."

CANADA AMONG HEAVY LOSERS

Canada, United States, Argentina and Switzerland all showed a sharp increase in days lost through strikes or lockouts in 1946, reveals The Financial Post. In the first three of these the loss increased more than 200% over 1945.

United Kingdom, Finland and New Zealand had less stoppages than in 1945. Czechoslovakia was unique with no strikes or lockouts reported. Eire showed an increase in the number of stoppages but a decrease in number of working days lost.

Act NOW to Eliminate FIRE HAZARDS in Your Home or Farm!

CHECK THESE POINTS :

1. Treat Pipe Ashes and Cigarette Butts as you would a lighted torch.
2. Inspect and see that all lighting equipment is functioning properly and kept clean.
3. DON'T USE COMBUSTIBLE CLEANING AGENTS INSIDE YOUR BUILDINGS.
4. Throw away leaky fuel oil containers or watch out for explosive hazard in repairing empty fuel cans.
5. Be positive your heater or stove fire is completely "OUT" before attempting to use coal oil to start a fire.
6. Never keep Combustible-laden rags around in any building.

TEACH EACH MEMBER OF YOUR FAMILY TO PRACTICE FIRE PREVENTION MEASURES AND COOLNESS IN CASE OF EMERGENCY.

Fix Rates to Curb Speed on Highways

Action has been taken by the provincial government to reduce the rate of speed on highways and reduce accidents according to officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

Hitherto, there was no established maximum rate of speed, it being understood that it was to be a reasonable rate having regard to the prevailing circumstances and conditions. This meant that a car could be driven at a faster rate at certain times on the highway than at other times, depending on the traffic and other factor.

Now the government has established a maximum rate of 50 miles per hour for passenger cars and buses and all other such vehicles.

For motor trucks, the maximum rate is 40 miles per hour. With these specified speed maximums in effect as from July 1, the provincial authorities believe that the accident toll in the province resulting from reckless driving will see a marked decrease and that more general observance of safe driving measures will be brought about.

WOODVALE

The numerous heavy storms have hit the south country again, but not as badly as the first one recorded. The terrific lightning and thunder of Monday night July 7th brought rain to Woodvale but the hail struck in the Tolland district, levelling some crops around the post office and the Ganton school the storm of Wednesday caused a heavy downpour and hail in the eastern part; Mr. Friedland had his windows broken for the second time in a week. From the hills out here the display of lightning and the battle of the churning clouds to the north-east was a magnificent and awesome sight, but we much prefer a quiet sunset! Fields start to look green again too bad so much of it is weeds which were not so evident before the rain and destruction.

We often complain about the roads so a word of praise for work done well should be heard too. The fork in the main road, leading into Woodvale district has been graded and widened making a very good approach. Mr. Teeman claims that if he can find people willing to cut the brush south of the Teasdale farm, in another year we can have the road extended into Woodvale. Well, we hope someone is going to take him up on that! The bridge west, for so many years a danger, is being replaced and we hear that the east-west road, connecting the two main roads will also be graded and widened. These are good tidings for everyone in these parts.

Mr. C. Friedland has finally had his telephone installed, three neighbors putting in an afternoon's work. His number is 2319, one long, four shorts, one long is the ring. We hope someone will be in when it rings! It's really deafening when an insistent call comes in for anyone with these long telephone rings.

The A.F.U. held a meeting in the Woodvale school on Tuesday the 8th and a local was formed. We hope to get the details soon.

Wainwright Park Future Is Settled

While Wainwright national park has been struck off the list of dominion parks, according to a recent announcement from Ottawa, it will continue to serve varied public purposes, Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of lands and mines, said last Thursday.

Under an agreement between the province and dominion, the department of national defence will use what it requires of the former 197 square miles of buffalo sanctuary for military purposes.

In addition, part of the park will be used by the federal authorities for the development of cattalo herds. The balance of the area will be made available by the province for community grazing purposes. For some years, Wainwright farmers have been urging that the park lands be utilized for pasture.

Under the agreement, the dominion is to pay the province an annual rental for the section of Wainwright park used for military training grounds.

Recent announcements have revealed that military training on an extensive scale will be carried out shortly.

LOVE LAUGHS AT LOCKSMITHS—AND OCEANS, TOO—Heading for the home of her Canadian fiance in Ottawa happy Reinecke Jeurs from The Hague is seen as she arrived in Montreal with 1,000 other Dutch immigrants aboard the liner S.S. Waterman. She is engaged to Bud Keenan, a medical student attending Queen's University, who met her while serving in the Canadian army overseas.

WILD CHASE RESULTS IN ONE DEATH, TWO WRECKED CARS—In a brief but wild chase, a stolen car, followed by police, killed one person, injured others, crashed into a parked taxi-cab and snapped off a cement telephone pole on Toronto streets. The car, stolen in Burlington, was seen by police in Toronto who gave chase. Of eight occupants of the car, three are being held by police, five disappeared when the car stopped. The stolen car is shown, (right), the wrecked cab, (left).

GRAIN FREIGHTER ROOSTS ON ST. LAWRENCE BOTTOM — Sitting on bottom of St. Lawrence river near Varennes, Que., the 10,000-ton freighter Cumberland County is shown after it struck a rock and sank. Two lighters alongside are removing 9,000 tons of grain in an effort to refloat the Britain-bound ship.

This sleek "doddie" was grand champion at the Junior Beef Calf Club show and sale held recently at Brooks, Alta., and commanded the fat price of 80 cents for each of his 674 pounds. He is being held here by his proud owner, Violetta Swanson, of Scandia.

JUNIOR CLUBS—Four junior beef calf clubs and one junior seed club from the Carmane district combined for an organized tour of the University of Manitoba and the famed Richardson Farm, near Winnipeg. During their visit they were shown the famous Shorthorn bull, Mount Bunker. He is being held by Bill Jones.

PHOTO MAY SOLVE ROBBERY—Photograph taken by Claire Davidson, Winnipeg street photographer, may help police solve the $600 robbery of a finance company by two hooded men. Miss Davidson took pictures of two men who answer the robbers' description as they left the building.

SPEEDY WORK—A string of "Tiller Combines" pulled by one tractor seeding 2,500 acres barley on the farm of O. B. Lassiter, Chin, Alta. Travelling at three miles per hour seeding a strip 66 feet wide, the outfit completed the job in nine days. Mr. Lassiter is a strong advocate of trash cover. "It feeds the soil and prevents soil drifting," he says.

SOVEREIGN MASTERPIECE—Sold at the Hays sale held in Toronto recently for $10,000, to the Government of Alberta, for use in the Artificial breeding unit at the Olds School of Agriculture. Left to right, Harry Hays, R. P. Gibb, J. W. Hosford, R. E. Hosford, Geo. Gibb, Jack Hays and Tom Hays; all excepting the Hays brothers come from Edmonton, Alberta.

TWO WOMEN, CHILD ESCAPE AS TRUCK PLUNGES INTO CREEK—Pinned in truck, Mrs. Jean Marcume, 43, was barely able to keep her head above water until help arrived. Truck stalled on hill went out of control and plunged through rail of bridge. The dotted line shows where Mrs. Williams swam to shore with her daughter.

Driver of truck which plunged into Big Creek near Delhi Ont. Mrs. Anne Williams was injured.

Daughter Phyllis, age four, was rescued by mother from creek.

JAP WAR CRIMINALS, ON WAY TO EXECUTION, JEER AT CROWD—Death ride for two Japanese war criminals was like carnival to thousands of Chinese who lined Shanghai streets to watch the doomed pair. Horiichi Yonemura, 53, and Jiro Shimota, 30, ride by in truck, centre, background. Shimota laughed and jeered at the crowd all along the parade route. After the execution, the crowd trampled their bodies.

Former Vermilion Pastor Officiates At Novel Wedding

Rev. Lawrence G. Sieber of Revelstoke and formerly of Vermilion officiated at what is believed to be the first wedding performed on a train in Canada.

The groom was Robert A. Riley, dining car steward and the bride was Frances Freeman of Edmonton. They had intended to be married in Vancouver on arrival there but the dining car crew talked them into being married on the train.

The crew turned the C.P.R. dining car into a chapel before Rev. L. G. Sieber of Revelstoke, B.C. boarded the train there after cutting short his usual Sunday evening sermon.

He performed the ceremony Sunday night during a three-minute stop at Three Valley, B.C. and left the train at Sicamous.

MORRISON NEWS

Hail, wind and rain were prevalent in all districts this past week and considerable damage has been done to some gardens and buildings.

The church supper held at West [illegible] at the home of Mr. [illegible] was very successful [illegible] for the severe electrical storm [illegible] the softball [illegible] would have continued on for several hours [illegible]. All members and outside helpers worked willingly which made the affair so very successful. Mrs Fraser of Vermilion was noticed standing faithfully by the dish pan. It was pleasing to see so many from Islay [illegible] some from the [illegible] district [illegible] Vermilion.

W. I. Hold Constituency Conference

The annual constituency conference of the A.W.I. for Alexandra East was held at the school of agriculture, Vermilion, on Thursday, July 3rd.

The constituency convener, Mrs. R. Culford of Lloydminster, presided, and with her on the platform were Mrs. Janet Holte of Vermilion who acted as secretary for the conference, and Mrs. [illegible] of Viking district director. Seventy delegates and visitors were present.

The proceedings were somewhat delayed by the hailstorm which swept the district the night before, causing such damage and making the roads so bad that the Creighton branch south of Mannville, was unable to attend.

The meeting opened with the singing of O Canada and the recital of the Institwoman's creed after which the ladies were welcomed to the college by the principal Mr. N. N. Bentley. Mrs. Smith of the Five Points branch thanked Mr. Bentley on behalf of the ladies present. Mrs. Jensen, president of the Vermilion branch then welcomed the ladies to Vermilion with a humorous little speech which caused a laugh and put everybody in good humor for getting the conference off to a good start. Mrs. Wilson of the Whitmore branch then thanked Mrs. Jensen in a few well chosen words after which branch reports were read from Kitscoty, Five Points, Vermilion, Ramsay and Wildmere. There was no report from Creighton owing to delegates being unable to attend. Reports of standing committees were given as follows: Agriculture and Canadian Industries by Mrs. M. Sloan, Ramsay; Citizenship by Mrs. Olive Thompson, Five Points; Handicraft and Home Economics by Mrs. Iva Pidcock, Kitscoty; Social Welfare no report owing to the convener Mrs. Geo. Bennett, Creighton being unable to attend.

COMPETITION WINNERS

The winners in the thrift competition were, 1. Mrs. Cruthers hand made floor rug; 2. Mrs. Bathe Wild mere, 3 tea cloths made from flour bags; 3. Mrs. K. McDonald, Kitscoty pillow cases made from [illegible].

Judging of the handicraft display resulted as follows: 1. Kitscoty W.I.; 2. Ramsay W.I.; 3. Vermilion W.I.

The judging was done by Miss M. Lang of the staff of the school of agriculture who also spoke to the ladies briefly after lunch.

Lunch at noon and afternoon tea were served in the dining room at the college with Mrs. Bentley and Mrs. Jensen pouring tea.

ADDRESS BY MRS. LEFSRUD

Mrs. Lefsrud addressed the ladies during the afternoon on the subject of good reading and gave a review of some worth while books. Miss Wilhelmine Bell entertained with a very delightful solo. This young lady has a very pleasing voice and should be heard from in the future. Her solo was very well received and the ladies demanded an encore but Miss Bell had not come prepared to sing a second time.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The election of officers resulted in the same slate being elected for another two-year period as follows:

Constituency Convener: Mrs. R. Culford, Lloydminster. Social Welfare Convener: Mrs. George Bennett, Mannville. [illegible] Mrs. Olive Thompson, Five Points, Handicraft and Home Economics; Mrs. Iva Pidcock, Kitscoty, Agriculture and Canadian Industries Convener: Mrs. M. J. Sloan, Ramsay.

A pleasing event of the afternoon was a short address by Mrs. Rose McKee, Scottish war widow who attended the conference with Mrs. Henderson of Ramsay and who spoke of the Institute to which she belonged in England. Mrs. McKee has to return to the old country shortly but hopes to come back to Canada to make her permanent home.

It is hoped to hold the 1948 conference in the same pleasant surroundings.

The thanks of the constituency executive are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Bentley for the courtesies extended and the privileges enjoyed by the delegates and visitors during the day.

STONELIKE PAINT

Auto finishes that will last the life of a car and withstand air, moisture, and sunshine are reported by The Financial Post to be in development stage. New finishes are made possible through discovery of chemicals made of sand that spread like paint, make good oil but are as durable as stone. Post's "What's New in Business" column also announces 7 ounce hearing aid that is practically unseen by naked eye.

Letters to the Editor

(This paper does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents.)

R.R. 3, Vermilion, July 8, 1947
The Editor, Standard
Vermilion
Sir:

I wish to thank Mr. Cornish for replying to my letter — it was such a long time coming that I had almost forgotten what I had written.

Since he cannot tell us why Mr. Wray was expelled he cannot blame us I suppose for having our own conjectures which may be entirely wrong however, Mr. Wray did support our farm movement. Mr. Cornish was a neutral. Personally I don't like being a neutral. I would remind Mr. Cornish that the Alberta Social Credit movement was founded on the Basic Dividend and a Just Price and since he cannot give us the dividend he should do his best to get us a just price.

On the question of the Social Credit board report, Mr. Cornish is on record [illegible], as definitely, No. I believe that is one question at least that we are agreed on.

Thank you Mr. Editor for allowing these expressions.

Yours truly,
Hardy West

A Need For Doctors

PUBLIC ATTENTION HAS BEEN DRAWN frequently in recent years to the shortage of doctors in Canada. In some rural communities lack of sufficient medical services has been extremely serious, while even in many of the larger centres there has been need for a greater number of doctors. The Canadian Press recently made a survey of the situation in Western Canada. The figures which were compiled in this survey showed that British Columbia has more medical men in proportion to its population than any of the other Western Provinces. That province has approximately 1,400 doctors, or one to every 785 persons. Manitoba has the next highest percentage, with 726 doctors, making one to 1,032 inhabitants. Alberta has 680 doctors, or one to every 1,200 persons, while Saskatchewan has 577 physicians, which is one to approximately 1,300 people.

• • • • •

All Physicians Are Not Active

The figures for the whole of Canada indicate that there are more than 12,000 registered physicians, which makes one to every 966 people. However, as previous figures showed, in provinces where the rural population is high the number of people to each doctor is much more than 966. It must also be considered that although there are actually 12,000 registered physicians in Canada, all of them are not devoting their full time to the practice of medicine, some of them being engaged in teaching, medical research, or some form of administrative work. Although considerable effort was made to gather statistics on the subject, it is pointed out that the figures vary constantly as older doctors reach retirement age and new ones enter the profession. However, the figures do show that many doctors must have more than a normal amount of demands upon their services, and that some districts must lack adequate medical facilities.

• • • • •

Help Is Needed In Other Lands

In spite of the apparent shortage of doctors here, Canada has more physicians per capita than any other country in the world except the United States. China, with some 400,000,000 people has less than 12,000 doctors. That country has need for the services of 200,000 doctors, while Ethiopia, with 12,000,000 people has no doctors or trained nurses. Sixty per cent. of the doctors in Czechoslovakia were executed or died in German concentration camps, leaving that country with an acute lack of medical services. While Canada has no surplus of doctors, it is apparent that we could render great service to devastated nations by sending medical personnel to help them at this time. The answer to the problem would appear to be in training more doctors here. Canada has fine medical schools with very high standards, which at all costs should be maintained. However, if more facilities could be made available for training doctors at this time, it would relieve the shortage here, and also enable Canada to help those countries whose needs are so great.

CANADA BUYS U.S. SURPLUS MUNITIONS

WASHINGTON — The United States already has sold Canada and Latin America nearly $65,000,000 worth of surplus munitions and weapons of war for a little more than $2,000,000 since the end of the war, a British United Press survey disclosed.

FUNNY And OTHERWISE

"How does it feel to be 101 years old?" asked Bobbie to his centenarian great-grandfather.

"Well, my boy," replied grandpapa, "I'm much stronger on my feet at the beginning of my second century than I was at the beginning of my first."

"I suppose it was necessary for you to visit me so often as you did, doctor?" queried the convalescent, studying the bill.

"My dear chap," replied the doctor, "you were in danger every time I visited you."

Girl — "While I deeply appreciate the honor of your proposal of marriage, circumstances beyond my control compel me to decline."

Young Man — "Darling," what are these circumstances?"

Girl — "Yours."

Mistress: "Maggie, I think I'll take one of the children to church this morning."

Maggie: "Yes, ma'am."

Mistress: "Er — which one do you think would go best with this dress?"

• • • •

"I see you've advertised your saxophone for sale."

"Yes, I heard that my neighbor had bought a gun."

• • • •

"They tell me that Jenkins had to propose at least five times to Miss Moneybags before she accepted him."

"Well, she certainly gave him a run for her money."

• • • •

"My poor fellow," said the old lady, "here is a shilling for you. Goodness, gracious, it must be dreadful to be lame, but just think how much worse it would be if you were blind."

"Yer right, lady," agreed the beggar. "When I was blind I was always getting counterfeit money."

• • • •

Candidate: "How did you like my speech on the agricultural problem?"

Farmer: "It wasn't bad, but a day's rain would do a heap more good."

• • • •

The Teacher: And so you see children, love is the one thing you can give to [illegible] and still have plenty left.

Jimmy: How about measles?

"Have you seen a giraffe about here, lad?" asked the circus manager. "It's just escaped from the circus."

"No, sir," replied the boy. "I've seen no giraffe, but I saw a long-necked piebald pony chewing the tops off the trees back there a bit."

The young doctor, just starting in practice, went to the bookshop to see if he could buy some second hand books relating to his profession. He was offered the book "What to Do Until the Doctor Comes."

"That is not the book I want," he told the assistant. "I'm looking for one on 'What to Do Until the Patients Come'."

War Reporter Travelled 80,000 Miles

ROSS MUNRO

After seven years overseas as a war reporter and European correspondent for the Canadian Press, Ross Munro has arrived in Canada to take up new duties in Ottawa and Washington. During the war Munro earned a world-wide reputation when he scored world beats on four landing operations—Dieppe, Sicily, Italy and Normandy—and since hostilities ended has travelled 80,000 miles visiting almost every European country.

OIL BOOM IN CANADA'S WEST

NEW YORK.—Canada is now experiencing the liveliest oil boom in its history, as more than a score of companies race against time to discover the new domestic supplies which the Dominion needs urgently according to The Lamp, publication of Standard Oil Company (New Jersey).

Imperial Oil Limited, Canadian affiliate of Jersey Standard, recently brought in a well near the prairie town of Leduc, and this development has given impetus to the search in which 10 major companies are taking part, the publication added. The new well is 16 miles south of Edmonton, and has been called "the most encouraging initial flow since the discovery of Turner Valley field." To date, The Lamp pointed out, Leduc No. 1 is producing a good 39 degree gravity crude, which the refiners like because it yields a maximum of the gasoline and other light products needed by the prairie farming population.

It is learned, the Jersey Standard organ stated, that Canada—with a per-capita consumption of oil second only to the United States—last year imported 63,000,000 barrels, or 89 per cent., of the 71,000,000 barrels its refineries processed, since all geological evidence indicates that the Dominion has ample undiscovered oil reserves of its own.

New Service Centers For Canada's Blind

TORONTO — Sixteen new service centers for Canada's 14,079 blind persons will be built across the Dominion within five years, Col. E. A. Baker, the Canadian Institute For The Blind's managing director, announced at the institute's 29th annual meeting recently.

Two centers are under construction in Kitchener, Ont., and St. Catharines, Ont. Plans are going ahead for others in Ottawa, Windsor, Hamilton, London and Toronto.

Chinese Students Kill Principle

SHANGHAI — The Chinese Central News Agency said that a group of students of Lingnan Middle School at Canton had thrown the school principal down a flight of stairs, causing fatal injuries.

The students, the agency said, had demanded that Principal [illegible] examination papers but he refused. The agency didn't say why the students wanted the papers.

Family Bonus Totals Given

—$462,230,885 PAID OUT

OTTAWA—Health Department officials who disclosed that $462,230,885 had been paid out in family allowances between July 1, 1945, and July 1, 1947, said an estimated $20,000,000 of the total payments had been recovered through income tax in 1946, but that no estimate was available for 1945. Since Jan. 1, 1947, the allowances have been made part of the income tax exemption system and are not taxable.

The officials said the $20,000,000 figure was only an estimate, because an accurate figure could only be obtained by going through the income tax returns of each and everyone who received family allowances in 1946 when a total of $240,454,438 was paid out.

July 1, 1945, to Jan. 1, 1947, the allowances, which average about $72 a year per child, were paid children 16 and under, but persons earning more than $3,000 a year paid what they received in allowances back through income taxes.

For instance, a married man making $1,400 a year paid back through income tax 10 per cent. of what he received in allowances. The rate of re-payment increased up to 90 per cent. in the case of those earning between $2,900 and $3,000.

As a result of this system many families with children did not apply for the allowances.

At Jan. 1, last, a new system came into effect which incorporated the allowances with income tax exemptions. A straight $100 exemption was fixed for each child 16 and under. This amount and any sum received in family allowance payments, irregardless of the income of the parents, could be deducted for income tax purposes.

With this change many persons not in receipt of family allowances applied for them as from the first of this year. The annual payments increased by $10,000,000.

Finance Minister, Hon. Douglas Abbott said recently that family allowance income is tax exempt income in the hands of anybody. He added:

"If I have an income today of $1,000 and I have 10 children, all of whom are eligible for family allowances, I get the family allowance for the full 10 and I get my regular exemption of $1,200 plus another $100 for each child.

"As a matter of fact, it would be a total exemption of $2,000 plus non-taxable income of whatever the family allowance would amount to for the 10 children."

EXTRAORDINARY STAMP SALE

OTTAWA—Sales of the Alexander Graham Bell commemorative postage stamp to philatelists have been "extraordinary", Postmaster - General Bertrand told the Commons.

He said $120,000 worth of the four-cent stamps were sold before it even was issued.

Total sales of stamps to collectors for the year, he reported, were more than $300,000.

There are about 95,000 Maori living in New Zealand.

TOURIST TRADE IS IN FULL SWING — INDICATING A BANNER YEAR

One of Canada's greatest industries—the Tourist Business is in full swing now, with every indication that this will be a banner year, shattering all the marks established in 1946 when visitors spent more than $212,000,000 in Canada.

That $212,000,000 figure is impressive, but its implications frequently escape us. To compile it, for instance, sufficient automobiles crossed the border to stretch, four abreast, from the Atlantic to the Pacific—and there was an additional 1,000,00-odd visitors who came by air, boat, train or bus. All-in-all, that $212,000,000 means that Canada this year can [illegible] to play host to almost as many visitors as she has residents.

Thus, a new golden era in the Tourist Industry has been born—and the glory of it is that every Canadian individual and business benefits from the industry. Each tourist dollar, like a stone dropped into a pool, starts a chain reaction of benefits that [illegible] through the hotel, resort, restaurant and gas station through to the farmer, the builder, and to every other type of enterprise in the country.

Experts say that, properly handled, the business of entertaining guests from other countries will within the next five years make more jobs for Canadians than any other phase of the country's economic life. It is a [illegible] that can be expanded to a [illegible] where it might well do [illegible] what it did for [illegible] Switzerland where one-seventh of the entire population was supported solely by tourist receipts.

Truly, the tourist industry is one that has no smoke stacks and yet its value to employment and prosperity for Canada is almost incalculable.

All of which brings home one highly important truth. Just as every person in Canada benefits from the Tourist Industry, so every person in Canada should—from self-interest if for no other reason—take a direct interest in seeing that the industry develops and grows by making Canada a more pleasant place to visit. The Tourist Industry could very well dwindle into insignificance if visitors can't get what they are seeking in Canada.

The tourist wants good food—that is the responsibility of the restaurant owner. He wants good accommodation—that is the responsibility of the hotel and resort owner. But above all the tourist wants pleasant surroundings and a friendly atmosphere—and that is the responsibility of every Canadian.

"GREEN ACRES"

COMMUNITY EXHIBIT

Your District Agriculturist and Cameron Hay, Assistant D.A., took the Vermilion Community Exhibit to the Edmonton Exhibition on Saturday. It is now on display and will be viewed by thousands of people during the week. The farm and town folks who loaned their sealers of fruit, vegetables and meats are all thanked for their contributions. A detailed list of donors will be published next week.

The exhibit will be put on at Vermilion Fair so that everyone will have a chance to see all the farm products being raised here.

WOOL SHIPMENTS

One sees so few sheep in driving through the country it is surprising to see a car of wool being loaded in Vermilion. This is one farm enterprise that is neglected in this district. It is true that the price of wool has not increased in line with other farm products, yet there is a good profit in raising sheep for wool and mutton.

HAILED CROP

Most of the hailed crop in this district should make a good comeback especially if there is plenty of moisture from now on. The second growth will be late but it may give more bushels to the acre than some fields which were not hailed. Should an early frost damage the new growth then it is advisable to cut for green feed immediately as the grain will not develop further and the value as green feed deteriorates every day the crop is left standing.

CALF CLUB SHOW

The public is invited to see the Calf Club show and sale to be held on the first day of Vermilion Fair, July 24th. The show starts at 1 p.m. (Standard Time) and the sale starts at 2 p.m. Local stock men, buyers and butchers would do well to support the Mannville and Vermilion boys and girls by coming out to see the calves judged and sold.

THE HOG BUSINESS

The hog population in Alberta is dropping month by month. The marketing for the first 6 months of 1947 is 188,000 less than the same period a year ago. There has been some response to the A.L.C. campaign for farmers to breed another sow. With the further increase in price in September hogs will be quite profitable. If there is a supply of low priced grain there will no doubt be a scramble to get both feeders and breeding stock. The old saying may come true again "that it pays to go into something when everyone else is going out of it".

TURKEY COCCIDIOSIS

Last week a young turkey from a farm north of town was sent up to the Animal Pathology Laboratory at Edmonton. The report came back that the poult suffered from coccidiosis and treatment was recommended to prevent a further loss in the flock.

No doubt many farm people are unaware of this service. Chickens or young pigs can be sent up to Edmonton for examination and report on disease which is causing losses.

Dog Licenses Necessary

Dog licenses are apparently very necessary in Vermilion as the owners of several canines appeared before Magistrate Kaiser recently and were fined for failing to procure licenses for their pets. The police have orders to prosecute all owners of unlicensed dogs.

Local News of Interest

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eyben, well known and esteemed pioneer residents of the Cummings district, have purchased the John Welsh residence and have now moved into Vermilion where they intend to make their future home, having retired from active farming.

Their many old friends here were very pleased to see Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Bell and three sons Donald, Douglas and Raymond in town this week. They are on a holiday motor trip from their home in Victoria, B.C. Their eldest son Aubrey is doing carpentry work at Alberni, B.C. during the University vacation and could not accompany the family on the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson of Millbrook Sask., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Duncan, town, during the week en route to visit a daughter in Edmonton. Mr. Johnson is a cousin of Mr. Duncan's and reports splendid stands of grain throughout the district in which he has carried on farming operations for many years. The trip is being made by car.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Duncan, their daughter and two sons arrived by car Sunday from Hamilton, Ont. and are now guests at the home of Mrs. [illegible] parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Carrah. Albert works in the [illegible] factory at Hamilton and is this [illegible] his first vacation for several years [illegible] three months off. It is 6 years since [illegible] Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Moore left last Sunday for Ontario by Canadian National. While in the east they will visit their old home towns and their relations. Bill will take delivery of a new half ton truck at Oshawa and the return trip will be made by motor.

Harvey Brown left recently on the harvest excursion to Ontario. He expects to be absent a month and hopes to work on his uncle's farm at St. Mary's. He was accompanied by his cousin Franklin Wilson.

Murray Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, is spending the summer visiting his grandparents at Kelowna, B.C. Murray says that it is so lovely there that he couldn't begin to describe it in a letter.

New potatoes from her own garden were used by Mrs. Hooks on Sunday. This is the first direct report of this new local spuds received by the Standard.

To be provided for installation	11,250.00
Total to be paid on completion of installation	22,000.00

Boilers

One H.R.T. 150 H.P. Boiler condemned, can be replaced at an estimated cost of $5,000.00.

One 150 H.P. H.R.T. Boiler reduced to 50 H.P., retubed and repaired at an estimated cost of $1500.00 providing tubes available.

Sale of Plant

If Plant sold Utilities take over purchase price of water tube boiler and cost of installation.

Company pays the Town $120,000.00 cash for Plant on date of agreement. Money could be used to meet deficit on waterworks and provide for extensions of water and sewer system to parts not covered by plans.

The balance in Reserve Utility Sinking Fund will be available to Town for use in connection with water and sewer system.

Plant will be operated by the Company until new generating plant at river bottom is put in operation.

Will then hand back plant property to the Town and one boiler ready to operate steam heat.

Company operates steam heat until its plant is completed at cost to Town of $[illegible] a year. Town to take revenue.

(See Bylaw.)

Company Proposes

Company proposes to build 1,000 K.W. steam plant when franchise is granted. Will absorb present plant staff.

Estimated Cost of New Generating Plant—

Building	$75,000.00
New Boiler	60,000.00
Turbine	65,000.00
Water Supply	50,000.00

Estimated Local Expenditures in Salaries, Wages, Supplies—

Plant Building	$30,000.00
New Boiler	10,000.00
Turbine	15,000.00
Water Work	20,000.00

New Power Plant will be completed by end of 1949 or early in 1950. Ten or 12 additional families located in Town. Company pays Town $10,000.00 a year for 5 years if plant not completed (see Agreement).

Build 22,000 volt line to St. Paul besides general expansion of system including rural electrification. Place new light standards in business blocks. Anticipate pay roll of new plant $30,000.00 a year. Estimated taxes paid to Town $5,000.00. Adopt Vegreville rates. Customers save 2% to 30 percent. (See comparisons below.)

If Plant Sold

Town gets $120,000.00 cash. Will have Utility Fund of $17,000. Total $137,000.00 can be used only to pay off or extend Water and Sewer System. Will save on purchase of water tube boiler and installation $50,000.00. Will get improved lighting system and lower light and power rates and become distributing centre for light and power.

If Plant Not Sold

Town will have to assume all cost of water tube boiler and installation estimated $50,000.00. Deficit on water and sewer system at least $41,000. Rehabilitation of plant estimated $7000.00, loss establishment at Vermilion of a 1000 K.W. steam plant with loss of salaries, wages, sale of material and labor provided. Total obligation to meet at least over $[illegible] less Reserve Fund.

The foregoing statement is submitted to the proprietary electors for their consideration pending the vote on July 29th, and which may be verified from the records on file at the Town Hall.

Jean Telford Becomes Bride of Raymond Whalen

In a setting of red and white peonies a quiet wedding took place Monday evening, July 14th, at the Vermilion United church, when Miss Jean Olive Telford, eldest daughter of Mrs. Joe Thomson Sr., and the late Mr. E. E. Telford, became the bride of Mr. Raymond George Whalen, eldest son of Mrs. R. O. Hall of Washington, D. C., and the late Mr. R. F. Whalen of Toronto. Rev. E. S. Reikie officiated.

For her marriage the bride wore a gown made of white brocaded nylon over taffeta, with a full gathered bodice, a V neckline and long sleeves which tapered at the wrists. Her [illegible] length veil was held in place by a coronet of white flowers. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses, [illegible] buttons and fern. Two strands of pearl necklace, a gift of the groom, was her only jewelry.

Miss Mae Telford, the bride's sister, was bridesmaid wearing a floor-length gown of blue sheer over taffeta. Mrs. John Klashinsky as matron of honor, chose a gown of pink net over taffeta. Both wore chapel veils and carried colonial bouquets.

Mr. Clarence Crocker was best man.

Mrs. A. M. West played the Wedding Marches. During the signing of the register, Mrs. T. J. Edey sang "I Love You Truly."

The bride's mother wore a blue crepe dress with black accessories and a matching corsage.

For travelling to Lloydminster where they will reside the bride wore a dusty blue [illegible] suit of all wool crepe topped by a cream shortie coat.

Pretty Wedding At Islay Church

SUMMERS—TORRANCE

Tastefully decorated with early summer flowers, Knox United church, Islay, was the scene of an all white wedding when Marjorie Alexandra, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Torrance became the bride of Mr. Wilfred Summers, son of Mr. C. H. Summers of Victoria, B.C., on the afternoon of June 28th. Rev. Driver of Kitscoty performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor-length gown of white brocaded nylon, princess style, with long fitted sleeves and long train. Her floor-length veil was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of Calla Lilies and roses. Her only article of jewelry was a diamond sunburst, a family heirloom.

Her matron-of-honor was Mrs. Reta Dingwall of Edmonton who was gowned in white sheer with shoulder-length veil of pink net and matching accessories. She carried a nosegay of pink roses and spring flowers.

The Misses Patricia and Gwenda Torrance, sisters of the bride, were the bridesmaids. They wore floor-length gowns of white sheer and nylon, with shoulder-length veils of blue net and matching accessories. They carried nosegays of spring flowers and roses.

The groom was attended by Mr. A. Dingwall and Mr. D. Dingwall of Edmonton. The ushers were Mr. Victor Torrance and Mr. Dalton Torrance, brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Sibyl Roebuck played the wedding music. During the signing of the register Miss Marion Roebuck, cousin of the bride, sang "Because."

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where Mrs. Torrance, mother of the bride, received with the wedding party. Mrs. Torrance chose [illegible] frock of cocoa brown trimmed with gold studs. Her corsage was of red roses.

Laid in white the bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake flanked with ivory tapers set in silver [illegible] pink and white carnations. Misses Lila Rowser, Florence Tomson, Marion Roebuck and Mesdames Dorothy and Edna Torrance assisted with the serving.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. J. T. Fyfe and was fittingly responded to by the groom.

Following a wedding dance in the Islay hall the happy couple left for a honeymoon trip to Minneapolis. For travelling the bride wore a grey suit with snakeskin accessories and a corsage of roses.

On their return the newlyweds will reside in Calgary.

Vote on Power Plant By-Law on Tuesday, July 29

ADVANCE POLLS FRIDAY AND SATURDAY AT TOWN HALL

Proprietary electors will decide on Tuesday, next either to continue to operate their own power plant or to sell the franchise to the Canadian Utilities. The purchase price to be paid by the Utilities is $130,000 cash, assuming of some $40,000 worth of what will otherwise be town obligations, reduction of the light and power rates some 30 to 35%, and the building of a large plant here for distributing electricity over this entire section of Alberta, $200,000 to be spent on the new plant within the next two years.

Voting day is Tuesday July 29th from 10 o'clock in the morning until 7 o'clock in the evening.

Advance polls for anyone who is going to be absent July 29th are being held Friday morning July 25th and Saturday morning July 26th from the hours of 10 o'clock in the forenoon until 12 o'clock noon. Be sure to vote.

If you are in favor of selling the plant place your X opposite the top line which reads "For the By-law".

Those contrary place their X opposite the second line which reads "Against the By-law".

Thousands View Vermilion Exhibit At Edmonton Fair

WIN FIRST PRIZE OF $40.00 — NOW AT VERMILION EXHIBITION

SPONSORED BY BOARD OF TRADE

Just how many thousands of people viewed the interesting Vermilion community exhibit sponsored by the Board of Trade at the Edmonton Fair last week would be very hard to estimate, but visitors from here claim the enclosure in front of the very clever display was crowded all the time the building was open to the public.

Centering the display was an electrically lighted map showing the populace just where Vermilion was.

The exhibit, undertaken by the Board of Trade as a publicity project of considerable value, was arranged and carried into effect by the Agricultural committee headed by E. H. Buckingham chairman and Cameron Hay his assistant. It was only made possible by the overwhelming co-operation of the country people who provided the bulk of the exhibit, and by the work of several members of the V.S.A. staff. To all who helped the Board of Trade tenders very sincere thanks.

ON DISPLAY AT VERMILION FAIR

As the exhibit is now an interesting feature in the display building at the Vermilion Fair the Standard will not attempt to describe it. See the exhibit for yourself.

DEMONSTRATES VALUE OF BOARD OF TRADE

Apparently Vermilion has the only Board of Trade proud and interested enough in its home town to enter an exhibit, making it all the more outstanding and bringing home the first prize of $40.

Army Camp Will Be Held at Wainwright

The reserve army camp will be held at Wainwright July 27 to August 3rd. Complete line of training will be carried out. Any members of the reserve wishing to go notify L.E. Donnelly or M. C. Hunter before Saturday July 26.

Purchases Business At Shellbrook, Sask.

MR. AND MRS. CHAS. SPENCER LEAVE FOR NEW HOME

Charlie Spencer, manager of Macleod's hardware store here since it was opened 13 years ago, has purchased a hardware store and garage at Shellbrook, Sask., in company with Pat Moan. Shellbrook is located some 30 miles straight west of Prince Albert. Vermilion people will remember Pat Moan who was a member of Macleod's staff here at one time. He has been manager of the Macleod store at Prince Albert and more recently a member of the buying staff of the same company.

Mr. Spencer has been actively interested in the activities and development of Vermilion and at the present time is the vice-president of the Board of Trade. Mrs. Spencer has been an energetic worker for the Happy Hour group of St. Saviour's church and this year was secretary of that group. Prior to her departure Mrs. Spencer was guest of honor at a farewell party at the home of Mrs. Ben King, when the group made her a presentation.

Mr. Spencer is succeeded as manager here by Mr. Charles Upshall. Mr. Upshall at one time managed the store at Melfort but comes from the Regina branch of Macleod's to Vermilion.

A very large circle of friends are sorry to see Charlie, Vi and children Jimmie, Carrie and Betty leave Vermilion and best wishes for their happiness and success accompany them to their new home.

Alberta Wheat Pool Buys Home

The Alberta Wheat Pool has purchased the desirable home and property of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer and this will be occupied by Mr. Jack Crawford and family who come here from Wainwright. Mr. Crawford is superintendent of Pool elevators in this division.

Monday, August 4th Is Civic Holiday

The first Monday in August of each year has been declared a regular annual civic holiday for the town of Vermilion. Consequently Monday August 4th is this year a public holiday in Vermilion with all stores, business places, shops, etc. being closed. Town and city councils are empowered to declare one civic holiday a year and upon being proclaimed the holiday is a legal one and must be observed.

Junior Farm Club Week At School of Agriculture

Some sixty farm young people attended the scholarship short course offered Junior Farm Club members at the School of agriculture July 14 to 19. In each case those attending were representatives of a Junior Livestock or Crop Club and the short course was an award for having achieved the highest standing in the club project during the past year. Included in the winners were 7 girls who had gained higher standing in their home clubs than any of the other [illegible].

The program included lectures and demonstrations along various lines of interest to the Junior Farm Club members. The program closed with the banquet which was held on Friday evening and at which winners of various competitions were announced. From among the Livestock Club members Jim Falls of Morinville and Joe Melnyk of Chipman were named as winners of the $75 Alberta Wheat Pool Board surplus Trust Fund scholarships, which will pay a considerable part of their expenses towards the regular course in agriculture at one of the schools. In this competition Ronnie Langlois of Tofield and Ray Galloway of Fort Sask., were chosen as alternates. For the Crop club members Tony Yurkowski of Hilliard and Leonard Zazaybula of Vegreville were named as scholarship winners and Walter Kombyr of Spedden and Joe Eberer of Athabasca alternates.

Winners in various other competitions were as follows:

Written Quiz on General Agricultural Information: Jim Falls, Morinville; Tony Yurkowski, Hilliard; [illegible] Vegreville.

Livestock Judging Competition: Nick Hynchak, Smoky Lake; [illegible], Chipman.

[illegible] Saskatchewan [illegible], Vegreville.

Track Meet—Neil [illegible], Smoky Lake; Joe Eberer, Athabasca; Eddie Dubinski, Ryley.

Public Speaking Contest: Francis Hughes, Vegreville; Walter Kombyr, Spedden.

Special guests attending the closing banquet included Fred Magera, District Agriculturist Willingdon, who was accompanied by several of his Jr. Club members from that district who had gained distinction in club work and Junior seed fairs. Stanley Pawlowski of Andrew, for his outstanding exhibit in barley, received the gold watch presented by the Farm Service of the Line Elevator Assoc. Tillie Elick of Willingdon, received the gold watch presented by the U.G.G. for her showing of oats while Lillian Skalecon received the gold watch presented by the Canada Malting Co. for her exhibit of malting barley.

Mr. F. H. Newcombe, Supervisor of District Agriculturists for the Alberta Department of Agriculture was the guest speaker at the banquet. Toasts to the school, the Department of Agriculture and to the sponsors of Junior Club activities were proposed by Walter Kombyr, Joe Melnyk and Bob Hawkins and replied to by N. S. [illegible], [illegible] and J. R. Taylor respectively. Jim Falls was toast master.

4 Candidates For Vacancy on School Division Board

Four candidates are in the running for the vacancy on the Vermilion school division board and election will be held on August 4. The candidates are Charles Cuthbert, Lloydminster; Arthur Hale of Kitscoty; Albert King of Kitscoty and Paul Owen of Earlie. All the men are farmers.

The vacancy was caused by the death of Alexander McFarland representing subdivision No. 2.

Lindberg People Want Canadian Utility Plant

A Vermilion family spent Sunday at the village of Lindberg and report that all the inhabitants there are heartily hoping that Vermilion will vote to retain their municipally owned and operated electric light plant. That would mean that the new big Canadian Utilities plant would be built at Lindberg and that Lindberg would become the power distributing centre of northeastern Alberta instead of Vermilion. Added to that the new salt factory of the Alberta Salt Works is already located at Lindberg and with the big power plant the village could mushroom into a fine town and provide real shopping facilities [illegible] of the Vermilion shopping district.

What some Vermilion people are opposing is greatly desired and valued somewhere else.

It well behooves Vermilion people to consider this power plant question very seriously. The result and effect are wound up very closely with the town's future growth and industrial development.

Steady Progress on Water, Sewer Lines

Considerable progress is being made by the Dominion Construction Co. in laying the sewer lines for the town system. By the time this appears in print laying of the sewer line on the north side of the track will be narrowed down to that leading to the hospital from the arena rink corner west. This leaves the south side to do.

The big water main from the underground reservoir to the water tower site has also been laid, as well as four blocks on the west end of First street North.

Cement is now being run at the water reservoir and there is considerable activity at the well site in the valley.

Senior Baseballers In Winning Form

The senior baseball team has swung into winning form lately and has been an outfit to be feared at sports day tournaments. At Mannville Orange day sports July 9th they worked their way into the finals by trimming Heatherbell and then Vegreville. In the final they clashed with Irma and were two runs up in the third when the game was called due to the violent storm which broke with the result that [illegible] money was split between the two. Ten teams took part.

At Marwayne last Wednesday 11 teams [illegible] a mighty tournament. Vermilion defeated [illegible] a bye in the [illegible] Willingdon in the [illegible] to Lloydminster [illegible]

[illegible] Wednesday the boys are playing [illegible] tourney at Minburn.

Wants Chance At Rural Electrification

Vermilion, R.R. 1

Editor, Vermilion Standard

Dear Sir:

I sincerely hope that the ratepayers of Vermilion will consider the needs [illegible] development of the country around when voting on the plebiscite next Tuesday. By this I mean vote to bring in the Canadian Utilities big new power plant.

The reason: If the plant is built at Vermilion the country around the town will have some hope of rural electrification. Whole areas of farms are on the companies power lines around Vegreville and have been for years.

Vermilion's little local power plant has definitely been a bar to the farmers getting company power and will be as long as it is town operated. Vermilion is the only town operating its own plant in the province and all the smart men don't live in Vermilion.

So quit stopping the wheels of progress Vermilion people and vote to bring a big modern industry to your town and rural electrification to your rural customers. We want a few of the conveniences of life too.

Here's hoping the by-law passes with plenty to spare.

Thanking you Mr. Editor for your space.

Vermilion's annual three-day fair got away to a good start Thursday but the two big days, Friday and Saturday are left. Grand stand performance, midway, horse races, stock judging, everything complete for the holiday of the year.

Half Holiday Friday

A half holiday will be observed in Vermilion for the fair, all stores and business places will close at 1 p.m. that day. Shoppers please take note of this.

ALL STARS ELIMINATE VEGREVILLE

PROVINCIAL FASTBALL PLAY-OFF

Vermilion All Stars defeated Vegreville in the first round of the provincial play-offs. The locals won the first game here last Wednesday and then took the evening fixture at Vegreville on Sunday after losing the afternoon game. Opponents in the next round have not yet been decided.

Vermilion Ball Teams Clean Up at Minburn

FLASH — Vermilion ball teams cleaned up at Minburn sports Wednesday, the All Stars won the fastball tournament while Vermilion and Irma split the honors in the baseball.

Boys' & Girls' Camp At the Vermilion School of Agriculture

Some 120 farm young people from the Vermilion area are in attendance at the Farm Boys' and Girls' camp sponsored by the Department of Agriculture and the Vermilion Agricultural Association at the school of agriculture this week.

During Tuesday and Wednesday the Camp boys were busy preparing articles to be displayed in the Manual Training classes at the Fair while the girls were preparing entries in cooking in sewing and handicrafts. These form an effective display at the Fair and will be of special interest to the parents.

Announcement of prize winners in the various competitions will be made from the grandstand at the Fair on Saturday.

George Wheeler is holidaying at the north lakes this week after spending two weeks relieving at the Co-op store in Dewberry while the manager was on his holiday.

DEWBERRY

Alf Hedman and John Hemmerbuck attended the J. I. Case tractor school in Edmonton last week.

After following the [illegible] around for [illegible] Roy Philley has bought a new Massey-Harris tractor.

A hospital meeting was held in town last week with the purpose of obtaining enough territory east of [illegible] to build a hospital at Marwayne. This would give the Dewberry people [illegible] less to travel to reach a hospital. A petition for this agreement may be seen at N. Jones'.

Mr and Mrs Alex Bailey, former residents of Dewberry where he operated a grain elevator, are visiting friends in Dewberry.

Gathering stone for his basement a piece of petrified wood was discovered by Herb Hemingway.

Evelyn Parker and Billy Hemmerbuck are attending the short course at the [illegible] during the fair week.

F. Spelman is building a large addition to his cow barn to make more room for his pure bred stock. This herd of cattle is now registered under the name of the Dewberry Valley Herefords.

Dewberry and all people interested will now have a voice on the objects and motives of the Dewberry Sports Association by payment of a small annual membership fee. See Mr Hedman or W. Parker for particulars.

"Flying Saucers" Seen Near Vermilion

Friday July 18th flying saucers were in evidence in large numbers, the phenomena were seen just east of town at the gun club layout, several of the discs were seen to land intact and many were broken before the force of gravity had a chance to exert itself, as the boys were really hot. Dr. King will have to put in an appearance to defend himself as [illegible] hand shattered 23 out of 25 to claim high honors for the evening's trap shoot. Ted Edey got 20 and claims he was gypped on one. Several of the younger [illegible] showed up with good scores.

Come out and try this for sport — next shoot Friday August 1st, 7:30 p.m.

Wildmere Winks

Wildmere branch of the W.I. held their July meeting at the home of Mrs. J. Wallington on Thursday July 17th with 11 members and 5 visitors present, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. C. Cruthers, Mrs. Tihugel, Anne Garnett and Dorothy Bathe. Roll call was answered by the name of some famous character of the past 5 years. Mrs. Garnett Sr. was a delegate to the W.I. day at the college and gave her report which was very interesting although most of the Wildmere members did attend the conference.

At the next meeting of the W.I. Miss Lang of the school of agriculture will speak on handicrafts and bazaar.

Johnny Jump Up was won by Mrs. Whitlock. The topic was given by Mrs. Weisenberger and she chose the subject, Cancer. Great praise is due her for her interest in gathering up so much material. It is something that everyone should pay attention to. If a sore or lump does not heal or go away it should be attended to. Hope should not be given up as much can be done if taken in time. The A.W.I. are doing great work in helping cancer patients. It is their objective this year and a very worthwhile cause indeed.

All members of the W.I. please remember that the August meeting is to be held Tuesday Aug. 5th at the home of Mrs. Weisenberger as Miss Lang cannot come on Wednesday. At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Wallington assisted by Mrs. Steele, Mrs. Cruthers and Dorothy Bathe served lunch.

Roll call at next meeting is to be answered by "My Hobby".

Mr and Mrs. Louis Alexander and two children, Mr and Mrs. Gilbert Harrison and two children, were callers at the writer's not long ago. Last week Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Steele and family, Mrs. A. Smith, Mr. and Mrs Norman Smith and Billie Smith spent a very enjoyable evening listening to Norman's experiences in his store. Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Gibson and Dorothy Bathe also called bringing their woollens to be shipped.

A fine crowd turned out to the Tolland picnic but it was such a cool day everyone nearly froze. It was too cold to stay and watch a ball game and nearly everyone stayed in their cars. A large crowd attended the dance at night in Ganton school.

Wm. Burns of Vancouver spent 10 days visiting with Geo. Wilson of Wildmere. Billie homesteaded here over 40 years ago. After proving up he conducted a butcher shop in Winnipeg. Some years ago he sold out and moved to Vancouver where he still carries on a butcher business. He reports meat very hard to get so closed his shop for July and August. It is 14 years since he last visited here. Many will remember his daughter Margaret Burns and what a lovely voice she had. She is now [illegible] over the air from San Francisco. We were all pleased to see Billie looking so well.

Mrs A. Smith, Mr and Mrs Norman Smith of Bon Accord, and Mrs. Cliff Cruthers, Jeannette, Maureen and Allister are holidaying for a week at Sylvan Lake.

Mr and Mrs. Herman Hyben returned home from a holiday last Friday having travelled 4000 miles. They visited Herman's sister Clara and family at Portland, also Mrs. Hyben's sister at the coast.

Noel and Ray Garnett of Rosewood attended the last two days of Edmonton Exhibition.

Rain is badly needed in our district but wheat is heading nicely.

Mr Hume gave a very interesting sermon on Sunday. Let's all turn out to church and encourage him in his work as our summer services are over half finished.

On Sunday a number of neighbors held a picnic at the Battle River. A good time was enjoyed until little Margaret Whitlock got into deep water and her mother rushed in to save her fully clothed but found after getting Margaret's head above water she herself was unable to get out. George Riley and Frank Clark came quickly to her rescue and both were brought safely to shore none the worse for their ducking. 32 attended.

J. Wallington and Wm. Smith are trouble shooters on the telephone line again this week. Our main line and line 21 are crossed somehow.

The writer shipped 23 pounds of old woollens to Winnipeg recently.

VOTE FOR BY-LAW ON TUESDAY JULY 29 —

If you are in favor of saving yourself 20 to 25% of your light and power bills — Vote for the by-law;

If you are in favor of the town having a sinking fund of $120,000—Vote for the by-law;

If you are in favor of the town saving a further $30,000 required for minimum repairs to the power plant—Vote for the by-law;

If you are in favor of improved street lighting installed at no cost to Vermilion—Vote for the by-law;

If you are in favor of Vermilion having a quarter of a million dollar, 4,000 k.w. electrical distribution plant built here within the next two years — Vote for the by-law;

If you are in favor of having more people live in the town and a power plant payroll increased to $40,000 — Vote for the by-law;

If you are in favor of giving the farmers around Vermilion a chance at rural electrification—Vote for the by-law;

If you are in favor of giving Vermilion a chance to grow and to develop industrially — impossible with our present high power rates then — Vote for the by-law.

IN FACT—If you are interested in the future growth, development, welfare of your town, of having more money spent, more people, more customers for stores, repair shops, garages, theatre, etc. — Vote for the by-law.

Full details of the offer made to Vermilion by the Canadian Utilities are contained in the by-law published in the issues of July 3 and 10. Read and study this. A few extra copies are available at the Standard office. Read also the story in last week's Standard, telling of the plans Canadian Utilities have for building their big plant here and of establishing Vermilion as the electrical distribution centre for this part of Alberta.

CLOSED FOR TWO WEEKS —

It was after serious consideration that the decision to suspend publication of the Standard for two issues, July 31st and Aug. 7th, was reached. Experienced printers for relief work are impossible to obtain and the newspaper end of the business always grows and has necessitated many hours of overtime work to maintain the high standard reached and to make the deadline each week.

Therefore it was deemed impossible to issue the paper with a reduced staff and the only way out, was to close up entirely for two weeks and let everyone have their holidays at once. This is a very expensive way to manage but there seemed no alternative. The plant foreman has been away for only one publication since 1929, the publisher himself was last away from the plant in 1935; the news editor has fared a little better and has been away on holidays three times since 1935 while the line operator has had 1 vacation in seven years. Therefore it did seem as if holidays were overdue, and the only way to obtain them was to close up shop. Similar action has already been announced by the Lloydminster Times and the Peace River Record-Gazette.

The Standard office will be closed from Saturday July 26th to Saturday August 9th.

NOT A SUDDEN BREAKDOWN ... NEW BOILER ON ORDER FOR YEAR —

The assumption that the breakdown of the local power plant was a sudden one, is entirely erroneous. At a special meeting of the town council held on March 19th, 1946, and reported in this paper, Superintendent Jack Wiebe told the council that due to greatly increased load the present boilers would not be sufficient to carry on another winter. Consumption for the first two months of 1946 had increased 24,000 k.w. above the corresponding two months of 1945. Arrangements were made at that meeting for a survey of the power plant by Rubrock Wilson of Winnipeg. Again on April 6th at another meeting Mr Wiebe urged immediate action as the present boilers were taxed to capacity, and the boiler he [illegible] required 8 months for delivery. In further meetings Diesel representatives met the town, Vernon Pearson of the Edmonton power plant came down [illegible] of what was required. The minutes of all these meetings were reproduced fully in the Standard so that it should have been common knowledge that Vermilion had its own power crisis.

The big water tube boiler was ordered, delivery was to be made in December. The steel [illegible] later [illegible] and delivery was delayed until it is only now that the boiler [illegible] shipped. The plant did survive the winter but the overloaded boilers gave out early this summer.

The Standard brings this to the attention of newcomers in town who may have heard reports of collusion, sabotage and [illegible] knows what!

A plan without a man is like milk without a pan—no one can carry it out.

Canada's "Raving Beauty"

[illegible]

MONTREAL. — Iris Boyd, a 19-year-old Prairie Flower from Brandon, Man., has been judged Canada's "Raving Beauty" in a national photographic beauty contest which attracted hundreds of entries from all provinces.

The pretty cosmetician, receives as the grand prize a trip to Montreal and New York. In Montreal she will be presented with an all-Canadian wardrobe with which to make her Manhattan trip. She will be interviewed over a national network broadcast in New York, receive a movie audition and go on an extensive round of entertainments as the guest of Miss Peggy Sage, sponsor of the contest, visiting top night spots and seeing two current Broadway hits.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Boyd, Brandon's lovely Iris possesses a "perfect" figure. She has a 34-inch bust, 24 waist and 34 hips. She is 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighs 123 pounds, has blue-gray eyes and brown hair.

Born in Austin, Man., about 80 miles from Winnipeg, Miss Boyd was educated in Brandon where she attained second year university. Her present ambition is continue studies and secure her B.A., specializing in languages and social service work.

An active outdoor girl, Iris plays tennis and swims. She also sings, plays the piano and participates in amateur dramatics. The Raving Beauty contest was the first competition of its kind she has ever entered. While at school and since working for Robertson's Drug Store, she has done photographic and fashion modelling.

Judges in the contest were Vivian Wilcox, fashion editor of Mayfair Magazine; Geoffrey Rogers, fashion photographer; Paul L'Anglais, producer for Quebec Productions; and Carl Dennis, assistant to the president of Cockfield, Brown & Co. Ltd. advertising agency.

Toads Are Great Help To Garden

The Brandon Sun says if a toad decides to make his home in your garden, by all means be hospitable to him—which means, mainly, just don't molest him, or let anyone else do so. He may look like a mere animated clod, but his sticky tongue is forked lightning to insects. He does all his work at ground level, looking up at the underside of leaves where insects lurk that even the sharpest-eyed of birds fail to see. He is one of the most valuable of our allies in the endless insect war.

Health LEAGUE of CANADA presents TOPICS of VITAL INTEREST

Foods Won't Fight

Nutritionists at Ottawa, in the National Health services, pooh-pooh the belief that certain foods, taken together, will "fight" in the stomach. They say that there is no reason why a meal shouldn't include both lobster and ice-cream, for example.

Healthful foods don't create mysterious poisons, simply because they are mixed. People with robust digestions may eat most foods quite happily. However, any two foods hard to digest will naturally cause just that much extra distress if eaten together in large quantities. The secret, say the experts, is to eat in moderation as well as to choose foods for nutritive value.

Watch Your Weight

The tendency of people past the age of 40 years to put on weight may or may not be a sign of continued good health, but health authorities warn that only a physician can be sure on that point, so care should be taken in any program for reducing weight. For instance, it is not always safe to indulge in strenuous exercise, all of a sudden, to take off the extra pounds. If the excess weight has been [illegible] to some organic disease, such exercise may only make this disease worse. In this, as in all health matters, National Health authorities advise—"See the family doctor".

Drinking Water

People doing average work in summer, drink about a gallon of water a day, and those doing strenuous physical work under the hottest conditions may drink up to two gallons. Perspiration robs the body of salt, as well as water, and medical authorities suggest that, in hot weather and when working in the heat, compensation may be found for this loss by eating plenty of salty foods, as well as drinking a little water at frequent intervals.

Respect The Sun

Reminder that too much sun can be harmful, is issued by National Health headquarters. Excessive exposure to sunlight can cause sunstroke, Canadians are reminded. Sunstroke, indicated by high fever, demands that the sufferer be kept cool. There is also a condition called "Heat Exhaustion", symptoms of which are paleness, coldness and clamminess, and which calls for care in keeping the patient warm. In both cases, a doctor should be called.

Seventy-Three Million Coins Minted in 1946

OTTAWA. — The Royal Canadian Mint received 3,576 deposits of gold bullion from Canadian mining and other concerns during 1946, containing 2,852,345 ounces of fine gold and 372,886 ounces of fine silver, according to the annual report of the mint tabled in Commons by the Finance Minister, Hon. Douglas Abbott.

The net amount paid for this was $4,062,727.

A total of 73,108,921 coins of all denominations was issued last year, a decrease from the 114,626,791, issued in 1945.

There has been no successful invasion of Britain since 1066, no civil war since 1660.

SCOTCH GIRL WILL HAVE TOUGH TRIP

A slender dark-haired Scottish girl, in sweater and slacks, is off on the trail of Drake, Morgan and Kidd! She's Betty Swapp, the only girl member of the crew of the "Lonely Lady", a 40-foot schooner which is to make a two-year voyage round the world. The 'Lady's skipper is George Osbourne, who caused such a sensation by his trip in the "Girl Pat" a few years before the war. Betty is 24, a poetess, and the daughter of a seafaring family. Skipper Osbourne chose her as the sixth member of his crew out of more than 1,000 applicants. It's going to be a tough trip in the tiny schooner ....ranging from the Spanish Main to Cape Horn, and the Carribean to the South Sea Islands, but the skipper knows that she won't let him down. The members of his crew must have courage, he says, and young Betty is as tough as they come!

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

by

Don Graham

One of the small but important things that helps a man succeed is the ability to remember names.

When you call a man by his name you throw an interest that strikes a responsive spark. He feels that he has registered with you and that, in your opinion, he is important. And it tends to stamp you as observant, alert and on the job.

The value of this habit in [illegible] with customers and people in higher positions is obvious. In fact, the principle can and should be applied to everyone we meet.

There is an almost magical difference in the effect of "Good morning!" and "Good morning, Mr. Ferris!"

Try improving your name-memory and see if it doesn't help to advance you in your career.

When you think of your future, think about Life Insurance, too. No other investment offers such an easy, systematic way to save. And the security it provides for your family brings precious peace of mind.

These benefits are enjoyed by over four million policyholders in Canada.

Moderation WILL SEE US THROUGH

Last year, in one of its several published statements, The House of Seagram said, "Canada's great record of price control was made possible by the wholehearted co-operation of the Canadian people with their Government's anti-inflation methods. This fine record should be maintained . . . by moderating our pleasures, by controlling unessential spending, we continue to serve our Nation and ourselves best."

That statement we repeat today. We need only march steadily ahead . . . with continued emphasis on those habits of moderation, self-control and commonsense which are so happily—and fortunately—characteristics of Canada, and Canadians.

Then this Nation will stand secure on the road to its yet greatest opportunities.

Men who Think of Tomorrow Practice Moderation Today!

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

INVITATION TO—

By [illegible]

I [illegible] made a date with my former [illegible] room-mate, Ted Lawson, [illegible] o'clock; a date for dinner, and for death. After meeting we went to a Chinese chop suey house, a dirty, smelly place. The cigarette smoke stretching toward the ceiling created a synthetic fog. In a corner a [illegible] was beating out a nerve-[illegible].

As Ted lit a cigarette I first noticed how gray his hair had become. But it was twenty years since our graduation day when I had last seen him. The passing of time had changed us both but did not dull my memory of that day.

After the graduation exercises I had started looking for Ted. I had known him for a year but lately he seemed to be acting strangely. He was uneasy when with me and it was not long before I knew why.

Suddenly I caught a glimpse of his curly black hair in the crowd. Making my way towards Ted I saw Susan, my fiance, with him. Susan and I were going to be married as soon as I found a job.

"Congratulations, Ted!" I clasped his hand.

"Thanks," he [illegible] quietly. "Same to you."

As I put my arm around Susan and leaned over to kiss her, she averted her head and stepped back. It was then that I sensed that something was [illegible]. [illegible] I heard her tell me that she was in love with Ted, that she had been seeing him secretly for weeks. From a conglomeration of befuddled thoughts I could realize only one thing: that it was all over. I turned and walked away enraged, hurt....confused. In a daze I wandered down a side street and sat at a [illegible] of a sidewalk cafe; I ordered a drink and sat for [illegible] touching it.

Ted married Susan the [illegible] week. They moved to Rhode Island where they lived for only a year before Susan became ill. Within a few days she died; the doctors said it was pneumonia. Perhaps it was poetic justice. Perhaps neither [illegible] us was worthy of her.

Ted had been a business executive but he lost all his money during the depression. After that he shifted around doing various jobs and having finally come to Chicago, he telephoned me. Now, twenty years later, we would meet for dinner and talk over old times.

Being one who was always concerned with himself only, Ted thought that I would soon disregard his marriage to Susan and marry someone else. I never did marry nor did I forget. Rather, the passing years branded my wound deeper and deeper until I was obsessed with a fearful desire for revenge.

I had never thought of [illegible] as one who would someday [illegible] murder. But with every passing day, month, and year my hatred towards Ted Lawson grew until my wrath developed into a frenzy. But my revenge would not be complete if I too would have to die. Consequently, I had long thought out my [illegible] crime. Over a period of twenty years an act such as murder could be planned most carefully.

Actually it was very simple. About five years ago, while out of Illinois, I had bought a medicine which [illegible] poison if taken internally. The [illegible] had all the symptoms of a seizure. I had bided my time for many years so it was nothing to wait another few years until the moment of opportunity would arrive. That moment had finally come. Ironic, I thought, for [illegible] reality he was inviting me to kill him. Putting the poison into his drink would be easy enough, and it would take effect within three hours. The doctors would simply say, "Theodore Lawson. Age 41. Died of [illegible]-failure."

The bus boy cleared our dinner dishes from the table. As the waiter approached with our coffee I realized that the time for my revenge was finally upon me. My insides felt strangely empty; my cheek muscles voluntarily flexed but I knew that I would not change my mind. I had waited too long to back out now. With keen alertness I watched for a chance to pour the few drops of poison into Ted's coffee.

Then I noticed a blond woman of about thirty shuffle past our table swinging her hips in time to the [illegible]. Ted looked up and smiled. His eyes followed her across the room. This was my chance but I had to act quickly. With the [illegible] of a cat I shot my arm towards Ted's cup and the deed was done. The drops of [illegible] floated around in the cream and then sunk to the bottom of the cup. Ted turned back and a for a moment I thought he had seen me. Then he took the cup in his hand to drink the coffee. My nerves, already tense from waiting to commit [illegible] crime, seemed shattered and I jumped to my feet. Still holding the cup in his hand, Ted asked, "What's the matter?"

"Nothing," I answered. "I'm just going over to the counter to get some cigarettes." "Well is that all?" he said. "Here, take one of mine." He set down the cup and took out a pack of cigarettes.

"Oh, that's all right," I told him. "I'd rather get my own brand."

I walked to the counter quickly. I couldn't bear to watch him drink the coffee. I wanted to run out but that would give me away. I had to go back. Returning to the table I noticed that half of Ted's coffee was gone. I felt a wave of relief sweep over me. At last it was done. Now I must finish dinner and leave before the poison would take effect.

After we had finished our desserts and coffee we sat for a while smoking and talking. Suddenly Ted burst out laughing. His whole burly frame shook with laughter until I could not stand it any longer. "What is it, What is it?" I found myself shouting.

He said, "You know, I'm a heel. Why it's really funny. When you went to buy your cigarettes, I got suspicious of you. I guess it was because I was always afraid you would do something to me for marrying Susan." He laughed some more.

"Suspicious. What do you mean?" I asked.

"I don't honestly know," he answered. "But suddenly I began to wonder if after all these years you would hate me and if you would try to harm me. So I switched our coffees. You know, like they do in the movies. But heck, you couldn't hurt a fly. That's funny, isn't it?"

The volume of his laugh seemed to swell in my ears. I rose slowly from my chair and walked toward the door. Somewhere in the back of my mind I heard Ted calling me but it did not matter. I knew that now nothing would ever matter.

Miner Loses Temper, Then Finds Gold

NEW YORK — Gold miner Sam Holt whacked his head hard on a spur of rock in the old mine shaft at Kalgoorlie, western Australia the other day. Sam lost his temper, took a swing of his shovel at the offending piece of rock.

The blow, the Australian News and Information Bureau reports, [illegible] a rich vein of gold ore.

THE RIGHT ANSWER

June, reports the weatherman in his formal autopsy on that month, was 2.3 degrees colder and 21 per cent cloudier than normal.

What, inquired the poet, is so rare as a day in June?

Rare, says Webster, is almost raw. Our answer to the poetic query: A day in March.

PLENTY OF DUCKS ASSURED HUNTERS ON THE PRAIRIES

NEW YORK. — Large wild duck crops in many areas of Western Canada nesting range have been assured by constant water levels throughout the Southern Prairies and other conditions also continue to favor 1947's waterfowl season, Ducks Unlimited reported.

Albert N. Day, director of the United States fish and wildlife service, mailed recommended dates for duck hunting to the state game commissions. They were not made public but Day had previously indicated he would suggest that the season and the bag limits in the United States be reduced from those of a year ago.

Last year shooting was permitted 45 days with bag limit cut to seven from ten allowed in 1945. The hunting season that year was 80 days. Day estimated that the 1947 duck population would be 26,000,000 below the 80,[illegible]000 in [illegible].

Brave Youth Saves 9-Year-Old Boy From Drowning

DUNCAN, B.C. — Sixteen-year-old Eddie Schmid leaped fully clothed into a six-knot Cowichan river current recently to pull a 9-year-old boy from the treacherous waters.

Saved was Peter Hastings, who got into difficulty while bathing with several young companions.

Schmid was loading a gravel truck some distance away when he heard cries of the drowning boy's friends.

Without waiting to pull off clothing or heavy boots, he dashed into the river.

He ha . a stiff battle to bring the younger boy to shore.

Duncan citizens feel Schmid should receive Royal Humane Society recognition for the rescue.

INCREASE EXPECTED IN ONTARIO'S APPLE CROP

TORONTO — Ontario will harvest 1,000,000 barrels of apples this year —a 30 per cent. increase over 1946 production — but yields in pears, plums, peaches and cherries will be greatly decreased, the Ontario Agricultural Department announced in its preliminary crop estimates.

The long, cool, wet spring retarded blossoming and during the extended bloom period of tender fruits, bees were inactive, pollination and set were generally poor, causing crop setbacks, the report stated.

WHAT TO DO

When an elevator is crowded, a man should step out quickly, in his turn. This is more considerate and less awkward than to block those behind him to let a lady go first.

Leduc, Alberta, "Boom" Town

LEDUC, Alta.—Oil has turned this little Alberta village into a "boom" town but it has changed the lives of the district farmers even more radically.

Farmers who formerly looked out of their kitchen windows and saw acres of golden wheat ripening in the sun, now gaze at derricks and separators. Children who used to return from school to farm chores now dash off to watch the digging and boring. The rich black-gold thousands of feet underneath the ground has suddenly become more important than the crops above it.

Wealth hasn't come to all who have oil on their land. In many cases, the mineral rights of their farms belong to the Alberta government and 12½ per cent. royalty is paid to the province. These farmers receive nothing but the $50 an acre the oil companies pay for the use of their property.

Others have acquired a fortune virtually overnight. They own their farm's mineral rights and one-eighth of every dollar made by the oil company is returned to them. One farmer, who came to Canada from Poland little more than a decade ago, now has 130 barrels of oil produced on his land daily. He still lives in his two-room shack with his wife and three children.

Property has been sold for as much as $100,000. New cars have appeared to travel along the dusty gravel roads and narrow country trails. One family bought a home in Edmonton and others are planning trips.

There are many who intend to remain and continue growing wheat on their fertile land. Money in the bank may modernize their farms and provide an education for their children, but they still like working on the soil.

They are predominantly Polish and Ukrainian, but there are several French and Swedish families in the neighborhood.

Religion plays an important part in their lives—small churches dot the district and the spires can be seen for miles across the prairie.

Roosters still crow loudly each morning—but they know it's a losing battle. It's the hissing of oil as it goes through the flowline to the separator that really counts.

Alberta Second Link In Life Saving Service

MORE BLOOD DONORS NEEDED

Alberta became the second link in the Canadian Red Cross Society's new nation-wide free Blood Transfusion service last Tuesday afternoon at 3 p.m. when His Honor Lieut.-Gov. J. Campbell Bowen officially opened the society's main depot in Edmonton for the Blood Transfusion service in the province. B.C. was the first to receive this new service.

In opening the Blood Transfusion Depot the Lieut.-Governor praised the Red Cross Society and the untiring efforts of the members of the provincial branches in making this new service possible in Alberta. A service designed, he pointed out, to save lives and to prevent needless suffering, thereby deserving the wholehearted support of the citizens of Alberta.

Mobile clinics, each consisting of 4 vehicles were also on display. These units will move out from the Depot and visit communities throughout the province.

Twenty thousand donors giving blood twice a year will be needed by the Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service to meet the requirements of Alberta hospitals. Anyone not yet registered in Vermilion is urged to contact the local Red Cross Society.

When compared with some other diseases, the purchase price of control of tuberculosis may be considered a bargain. This is so because we know its cause. We know how it is spread. We know how to prevent it and we know how to treat it. Moreover, it costs pennies to control it, and dollars to tolerate it. —Robert E. Plunkett M.D. N.Y. Dept of Health

Tuberculosis is a public health problem which affects every single individual in the state. Every case of tuberculosis costs somebody in the community $10,000. Since 96 per cent of the patients cannot afford to pay their hospital expenses, that "somebody" is the taxpayer. This cost will go on and on until all the active cases of tuberculosis are isolated, hospitalized and prevented from spreading infection to others.

Meeting adjourned.

DRINKING WATER ...

People doing average work in summer, drink about a gallon of water a day, and those doing strenuous physical work under the hottest conditions may drink up to two gallons. Perspiration robs the body of salt, as well as water, and medical authorities suggest that, in hot weather and when working in the heat, compensation may be found for this loss by eating plenty of salty foods, as well as drinking a little water at frequent intervals.

A new and vital service came into operation in Alberta Tuesday afternoon when His Honour, Lieutenant Governor Bowen (above) officially opened the Canadian Red Cross Society's Blood Transfusion Depot in Edmonton.

Designed to save lives and prevent needless suffering, this new service, pointed out Lieut.-Gov. Bowen, thereby deserves the wholehearted support of the citizens of Alberta.

It is for this new service the present appeal for voluntary blood donors is now underway by the Canadian Red Cross Society.

ST. MARY'S NEWS

The Little Helpers with their mothers, the Sunday school and the girls' choir held their joint picnic on July 10th. The afternoon's proceedings opened with the Little Helpers service in the church conducted by Mrs. Brant their leader. Mrs. Ed Simpson presided at the organ. This was followed with sports for all the children. The tables were then laid and both younger and the older did ample justice to the things in front of them and was followed by ice cream provided by some of the mothers. The Senior W.A. helped with the afternoon's proceedings. Mrs. Wilbur Curtie as vice-president being the leader. Visitors from outside points were Mrs. Darling, Mrs. Etherington and baby of Edmonton, Miss M. Hagen, also of Edmonton, Miss Alice Brant, R.N.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stockwell and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brake and family have returned from their holiday at Jasper. Male and female alike will have to make up for lost time now.

Mr. Alec Stockwell of Edmonton returned with them to spend a few days with his old friends and relatives.

Mrs. Etherington and daughter Beverly have been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. W. Currie.

Miss Doris Roe has returned to the city of Edmonton after spending her holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Roe.

Miss Alice Brant is spending her holidays with her parents the Rev. and Mrs. W. Brant. Alice will be attached to the staff of the Vermilion hospital at the beginning of August. She has been at the Red Cross hospital at Loon Lake for the past year. She received her training at St. Paul's hospital, Saskatoon.

The Rev. and Mrs. Brant have received word that their son the Rev. H. G. Brant has received his degree of B.D. The younger Brant is priest of the Anglican church, Vegreville.

Mr. Kallcott has arrived to take charge of the Pool elevator. Extensive alterations are being made to the house the Pool purchased from Mr. McKinnon. Mrs. Kallcott and children will arrive as soon as the house is ready.

Bank Manager Transferred

It is learned that Mr. and Mrs. Stonehouse and the little ones will soon be leaving their old stamping grounds in Clandonald to take the position as manager for his company in Glenavon, Sask. "Stoney" as he is generally called will be greatly missed by the whole community as it is very seldom we find a man with his genial disposition.

Mr. Bowkoski has opened his new premises on Main street for business.

Mr. J. Roe who suffered a nasty accident a short while ago, and was admitted to the Vermilion hospital is now at home again and progressing slowly.

It is noticed that Mr. T. Souder is using a modern device to remove the soil from the cellar which he is putting under the vicarage. It certainly does away with a lot of hard work and the handling of the soil two or three times. Where did you get the brain wave Tom?

RESPECT THE SUN

Reminder that too much sun can be harmful is issued by National Health Headquarters. Excessive exposure to sunlight can cause sunstroke. Canadians are reminded sunstroke indicated by high fever demands that the sufferer be kept cool. There is also a condition called heat exhaustion, symptoms of which are paleness, coldness and clamminess and which calls for care in keeping the patient warm. In both cases a doctor should be called.

COOLING THE HOUSE

If windows are closed and shades drawn on the sunny side of a house but opened on the shady side with a fan facing inwards by the open windows, the premises may be kept quite cool even in the heat of summer. Health authorities point out that moving air favors evaporation and helps create that feeling of cool comfort.

A charge of 50c is made for engagement announcements, In Memoriam notices and cards of thanks. When sent in by mail remittance should be made with order to ensure publication. tf

A net sum of [illegible]. Surely our E.L. & P. system which has been netting over [illegible] a year and contributing nearly $2000 per year in taxes is a valuable asset to any community.

Another point [illegible] may have been mentioned is that the government sets the [illegible] taxes of the [illegible] to include in the purchase and I presume a token valuation on the franchise at a rate of [illegible] mills. How much will this reduce [illegible] general educational hospital and relief taxes when your rate is around [illegible] mills.

Mr and Mrs. Frank Ryben accompanied by the former's parents Mr and Mrs Henry Ryben returned recently from a very enjoyable trip through the mountains during which they visited Jasper, Banff, Lake Louise and many pretty and interesting spots in between. A twilight trip by bus up the mountain side for 5,000 feet was one of the highlights of the journey and tea was enjoyed at a spot at that altitude.

Mr and Mrs. R. J. Cochrane from Longview, Washington, were visitors at the beginning of the week at the home of the latter's brother Mr Clyde Robey

Dr and Mrs. Elliott Dunn and son Neal spent Sunday and Monday in town renewing old acquaintances. They are now living at Swift Current, Sask. and were on their way to visit Dr. Dunn's mother in Edmonton.

Mrs Mabel Duncan from Toronto and Mr and Mrs. Jim Duncan of Edmonton were guests of Mr. and Mrs A. M. West over the week end. Mrs Duncan of Toronto was greatly impressed by the advancement of Vermilion since she last visited here 11 [redacted]

Harold Roebuck received honors in the recent exams conducted by the Toronto Conservatory of Music and Harvey Young of Islay received a pass. The boys are pupils of Mrs. Wm Roebuck

Marian Pilkie, daughter of Mr and Mrs Billie Pilkie passed her grade V music exams of the Toronto Conservatory. She is a pupil of Mr. W. R. Elford

Mr and Mrs. Ronnie Linsdell and son Gordon spent the week end at Vermilion, guests at the home of the former's parents, Mr and Mrs. A. C. Linsdell

Mr and Mrs. E. H. Dockingham are rejoicing in the new title of grandparents as a son was born to their daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Alton Ronning at Haileybury, Ontario on July 21st. The baby has been named Terry

Miss Norma Williams and Miss Jean Curley both nurses-in-training at the Royal Alexandra hospital school of nursing in Edmonton, are enjoying three weeks holidays at their homes in town

Barbara and Walter Brown children of Mr and Mrs. Hugh Brown, have returned from visiting relatives at [redacted]

Miss Hazel Gibbins of the intermediate school teaching staff at Vermilion, has resigned from her position here and will teach in the Bow Valley school division for the coming year

Carman Long left Sunday for Calgary where he will join Mrs. Long and the children for his vacation

Mr. and Mrs Billie Pilkie, Marian and Allen returned last week from a holiday trip of some 3000 miles during which time and distance they encountered many interesting occurrences. They motored from here to North Battleford, Saskatoon, Moose Jaw, Regina. From there they were guests of relatives in Brandon and Winnipeg. At the latter city they had the unfortunate experience of having the window of their car broken during the night and all of their clothing stolen. Heading south to Grand Forks North Dakota they passed through the area of the recent great tornado which spread quite a toll of death and destruction. Going west they travelled on the No. 2 highway to Great Falls Montana where the scenery is superb and from there to the Glacier National park. They came back to Alberta for the last day of the Calgary Stampede and were in Edmonton for the opening days of the Exhibition

Jas. C. Lawson foot specialist and Mrs. E. Lawson, R.N. Chiropodist, will be at the Brunswick hotel for one week commencing Monday July 28th. All conditions of the feet are treated by the latest scientific methods. See the advertisement elsewhere in this issue for particulars

Islay Ladies Enjoy Glorious Holiday At Pacific Coast

See Many Sights — Visit Hosts of Friends and Relatives

Mrs. James W. Gould sends along the following account of her recent holiday at the coast

"Mrs James W. Gould and Mrs. Ellen E. Gould have returnd from their grand and glorious holiday with friends and relatives at the coastal cities, Vancouver and Victoria

"We arrived in Vancouver June 19 when the roses, parks, lawns and gardens were at their best. We visited Stanley Park where the roses were in acres and in such profusion of color and varieties. We saw women from Alberta picking in the strawberry fields. Then the raspberries, loganberries and cherries came in abundance. We feasted on cherries and raspberries and also enjoyed the loganberries at the last

We wish to use this opportunity to thank our many friends and relations for their kindness and hospitality and for giving us such a grand time on our holiday. We wish to thank the Easton's and the Moens of Vancouver and Mr and Mrs Clyde Ambrose, Mr and Mrs. T. A. Gould of Victoria for their generosity, kindness [redacted] hospitality. The voyage over on the Princess Adelaide was lovely, the water being calm both going and coming. Our return voyage was on the Princess Kathleen a beautiful new boat

While on the island we visited Nellie L. McClung at her home Eastern Lane spending one day with her [illegible] and [illegible] who is still quite wonderful even though she has [illegible] some years and [illegible] showed us all around her lovely home and lawns. We ate [illegible] her trees raspberries [illegible] and were given lavender [illegible] to bring home

We visited Brentwood College, had afternoon tea with one of [illegible] and neighbor Mr Young. Also enjoyed an afternoon in the Butchart Gardens where roses and flowers bloomed in profusion

We had the pleasure of going through the Museum in Victoria, visiting one afternoon in the conservatory and green house of the Empress hotel

While visiting Brentwood College we witnessed our first big rain. It was like a cloudburst, came down in torrents but the roads all being paved it did not hinder our return to Victoria. On our way back to Victoria we bought raspberries, strawberries and loganberries from stands by the roadside where small girls were in attendance. They were there [illegible] basket. We feasted on green peas, new potatoes, new carrots and new cabbage

While in Vancouver we met Mrs Hester Neva Newcomb and Beverley one Sunday at the Easton's. We also met our old friend Mrs. [illegible] Kennedy on the street in Victoria looking quite well. We had many lovely rides around the city by kind friends visiting parks, Pauline Johnson['s] grave, [illegible] Rock, Stanley Park Lions Gate [illegible] English Bay, the cenotaph [illegible] boat [illegible] lower [illegible] of the bridge [illegible] States [illegible] miles [illegible] days [illegible] other points

It was wonderful [illegible] glimpse [illegible] of the trees [illegible] and saw that other [illegible]

At Nellie L. McClung's residence we saw a lilac tree with [illegible] of trees [illegible] tree with [illegible] famous [illegible] taken of [illegible] painted by [illegible] Mr. McClung still busy with his garden and both looked so well [illegible]

Our [illegible] lovely [illegible] and at [illegible] enjoyed very much [illegible] with [illegible] and family [illegible] cherry [illegible]

The weather [illegible] morning [illegible] ocean breeze [illegible] heat we were expecting [illegible] prairies. But all good things come to an end [illegible] we wended our way homeward but happy from the [illegible] we had with all [illegible] relatives. Once [illegible] and come and see [illegible]

Funeral of Mrs. Edmund Garnier At Dewberry

Funeral services for the late Mrs Hilda Garnier beloved wife of Edmund Garnier of Dewberry who passed away July 10th at the age of thirty one years, was held at the Dewberry hall on July 14th at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The services were conducted by the Rev. H. R. Brase pastor of the Lloydminster Lutheran church. The Dewberry United choir assisted in the singing of the hymns. Interment was made at the Dewberry cemetery.

Mrs Garnier is survived by her sorrowing husband and two sons Russell and Gary, her mother Mrs. John Klimek of Hazeldine, three brothers William and Rheinald of Hazeldine and Ted of Vancouver, three sisters Mrs. Charles Kinshella of Dewberry, Mrs. A. Conti of Edmonton and Mrs Bruce McKinnigan

The pallbearers were Messrs. Joe Braithwaite, Fred Braithwaite, Neil Jones, Sol Lemp, John Romanchuk and John Anderson

"Oh sleep it is a gentle thing
Beloved from pole to pole
To our Lord above, the praise be given

Reclamation Of Farm Lands

THE QUESTION OF THE INCREASED development of farm lands in Canada came up in the Dominion Parliament recently when it was announced that a plan was under consideration for such development in the next five years. This is a subject which has been widely discussed and which is of concern from a number of points of view. Although Canada has a great area, with much land which is suitable for agriculture, there is a relatively small amount of land actually under cultivation. With our present population there is no lack of farm land, but should an extensive immigration policy be undertaken, much land that is now not used, would be needed for farming.

• • • • •

Need For More Food Supplies

Another aspect of the question is that if the world remains at peace and present plans for the general raising of living standards are carried out, there will be need for increased supplies of food in the years to come. Canadian farmers are inclined to doubt the possibility of the growth of demand on the world market for their products, but a larger population here and a rise in living standards everywhere would provide wide markets for the products of our farms. Canada made very rapid advances in industry during the war and greatly increased her world trade. For some years there have been no surpluses of farm products here and if the world is not shaken by political or economic disaster, Canadians should be able to look forward to continued prosperity.

• • • • •

Work Of P.F.R.A. Is Well Known

The reclamation of waste land would provide farms for many of our citizens and add to the volume of our food production. Much has already been done in the Prairie Provinces through the work carried out under the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act, the value of which is well known to Western farmers. The present proposals are concerned mainly with the reclamation of dykelands in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick and flood control, drainage and irrigation in British Columbia. It would, however, include the clearing and breaking of new farm land all across Canada. Opinions on the question will be widely diversified, but at a time when Canada is growing in many other ways it would seem reasonable that the expansion of facilities for farming should be considered.

CHILD SURVIVES DREAD DISEASE, ONLY ONE LIVES IN A MILLION

GADSDEN, Ala. — Claudia Paulette Starkey three-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Starkey of Gadsden, is one child in a million. Eleven-pound Claudia is one of the few persons to survive Erythroblastosis and the only one of four Starkey children to live through the dread affliction.

The three Starkey children, preceding Claudia died of the almost incurable blood malady on the 10th day after birth. In 1939 the young couple lost Julia Ann. The following year a son, Claude Jr., died. In 1941 Michael Anthony was born, only to die on his 10th day. Physicians were stumped.

But between the time of the death of the first Starkey child and the birth of Claudia last Oct. 21, scientists had discovered the Rh factor. The blood of parents of children born with erythroblastosis, they found, had opposite Rh factors, one negative and the other positive.

If the mother's blood differed from the child's, their blood "fought" throughout pregnancy. [illegible] figured, if the blood of a child threatened with the disease could be classified soon enough and a transfusion of matching blood made, its chances for life could be greatly increased.

Findings showed Mrs. Starkey to have a negative Rh factor, her husband a positive one.

Plans for the battle for Claudia's life were made months ahead.

Minutes after her arrival at a Birmingham hospital, she was found to have a positive Rh factor, matching her father's. Eight hours after birth, the blood was pumped from the child and fresh blood of the proper type injected in her veins.

The first weeks of Claudia's life were suspense-laden, but when she passed the fateful 10th day science relaxed and declared another victory.

Today Claudia is a lively, beautiful, healthy child, destined her mother says to "some day be called, 'Mrs. President'."

TO PREVENT "SHACK TOWNS"

VICTORIA. — To prevent "shack towns" springing up on the fringes of some interior cities, British Columbia has ratified regulations to set up a control area in unorganized territory surrounding Vernon and Kelowna, B.C., in the Okanagan fruit-growing area.

The regulations will not take effect until after public hearings have been held in the two cities. Inspectors in these centres will enforce the regulations, with the right of appeal to boards consisting of a government agent, a city council member and three land-owners.

FOUND NO CHINESE

TORONTO — Morality squad officers frankly confessed they never were so surprised as when in a raid in Toronto's Chinatown they arrested 10 men and there was not a Chinese to be found among them. Three were charged with keeping a common gaming house, 16 with being found in.

Dry content of a kernel of corn is 80 per cent carbohydrate.

KIDNEY ACIDS Rob your Rest..

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They toss and turn—blame it on "nerves"—when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons and excess acids from the blood. If they fail and impurities stay in the system—disturbed rest often follows. If you don't rest well, get and use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's help the kidneys so that you can rest better—and feel better. 136

Russia Needs 10 Years To Arm

OTTAWA. — Members of Canada's Senate and Commons were told behind closed doors that it might take Russia 10 to 20 years to bring her war potential on an equal footing with that of the United States.

Only scant official information was given out on the secret meeting, called to allow L. B. (Mike) Pearson, undersecretary of state for external affairs and former ambassador to Washington, to review world conditions.

[illegible] member said he understood Mr. Pearson to say that war was unlikely for another 10 or 20 years. Another said Mr Pearson had not been so definite but had [illegible] would take Russia between 10 or 20 years to bring her war potential to a par with that of the United States.

It was indicated the possibility of invasion through Canada's northland in the event of another war and the possibility of projectiles being used against North America were mentioned briefly but kept strictly within the class of "possibilities".

GEMS OF THOUGHT

TRUE WEALTH

To have what we want is riches, but to be able to do without is power.—George MacDonald.

My riches consist not in the extent of my possessions, but in the fewness of my wants.—Joseph Brotherton.

Keep down as much as you can the standard of your wants, for in this lies a great secret of contentment, true wealth and happiness.—William E. Gladstone.

Love a little more. Be faithful a little more. Serve a little more. And then watch God reveal himself to you in a larger and lovelier way.—Robert Norwood.

Rest assured that He in whom dwelleth all life, health, and holiness, will supply all your needs according to His riches in glory.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not highminded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy.—I Timothy 6:17.

Canadian Exports At Peacetime Peak

OTTAWA.—Canadian exports are running 18 per cent. higher this year than last and well over three times the 1938 total. Dollar volume of goods shipped up to the end of May was $1,180.8 millions compared with $996.1 millions for the same period in 1946 and $331.1 millions in 1938.

May exports were valued at $267.8 millions, the greatest dollar value since the last month of the war, August, 1945. It is $70.9 millions more than April and over the first five months, represents an average increase of $70.8 millions over last year.

The all-important buying by the United States showed a drop of $79.8 millions from the preceding monthly average. However, this is still $7.5 millions higher than in May, 1946. Thus, for the first time since March, 1945, exports to the United Kingdom exceeded those to the United States.

The greatest single increase in May was registered by the $90.5 millions we shipped to Great Britain. This is more than double the $43.1 exported in April and $35.6 million higher than in May, 1946. The figure for the first five months, 1947 is $276.4 millions ($228.5 millions a year ago.)

This [illegible] of an advance occurred almost [illegible] across the [illegible] within the Commonwealth.

South Africa for example has bought from us 80 per cent. more than last year; Australian and New Zealand purchases are almost double what they were in 1946. Newfoundland is buying one-third more while the British West Indies buying jumped from $19.1 millions up to May last year to $33 millions so far this year. In addition, exports to Europe are at a higher level than at any other month. France is buying at about the same rate; Netherlands purchases up about 30 per cent. Belgium buying dropped to about half the 1946 rate, probably because her Canadian loan is running out.

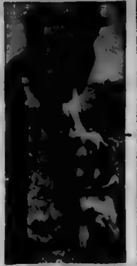
Plans Salt Factory For Northern Alberta

EDMONTON — Plans are under way for a $800,000 salt factory about 100 miles northwest of Edmonton. Three firms associated with the project are Anglo-Canadian Oils, Home Oil Co. and the Calgary and Edmonton Corp.

The development resulted from discovery of salt beds of 1,000-foot thickness in the Elk Point district last year. The group has approximately 300,000 acres under a reservation permit.

WOULD-BE FOOD AD

The Fort William Times-Journal makes this comment: Figure skating experts, including Barbara Ann Scott, will practice for the Olympics during the summer at Schumacher in northern Ontario. We hope the impression does not get abroad that they are practicing on natural ice.



N.Y. CHILD FOUND — Maxine Haren, four, gets piggy-back ride after she was found lying underneath a tree near Parksville, N.Y. The little girl was lost 30 hours and 150 searchers aided by bloodhounds sought her.

WOOL DELIVERIES SLOW

Owing to the exceptionally backward season over Eastern Canada and the Prairie Provinces, wool deliveries to warehouses have been slow, says the Current Review of Agricultural Conditions in Canada. Early deliveries are reported as being in good condition, showing improvement in preparation. Prices paid are in keeping with values of 1946.

HOLLAND MAY USE B.C. WORMS TO RECONDITION SOIL

VANCOUVER.—Earthworms bred in British Columbia may be used in the reclamation of war-ravaged Dutch soil.

Leonard Ward, 47, who has specialized in worm culture since his discharge from the army hopes soon to be shipping worms to Holland.

Worms are valuable agents for the removal of salt from the soil and there's a crying need for them in the Netherlands where in many districts the soil has become salt-impregnated.

Recipe

Dissolve 1 tsp. sugar in ½ c. lukewarm water; add 1 envelope Royal Fast Rising Dry Yeast. Let mixture stand 10 min. Then stir well. Scald ½ c. milk, add 3 tbs. shortening, ¼ c. sugar, ½ tsp. salt; cool to lukewarm. Add 1 c. sifted flour to make a batter. Add yeast mixture and 1 beaten egg; beat well. Add 2½ c. sifted flour, or enough to make a soft dough. Knead lightly, place in greased bowl. Cover; set in warm place, free from draft. Let rise until doubled in bulk, about 2 hours. When light punch dough down, roll out into oblong piece, about ¼" thick. Brush with 3 tbs. melted shortening or butter. Sprinkle with ⅔ c. brown sugar, 1½ tsps. cinnamon, ½ c. raisins. Roll up lengthwise in a tight roll; cut in 1" slices. Place cut-side up, 1" apart in greased shallow baking pan. Cover; let rise in warm place until light, about 1 hour. Bake in 425°F. oven about 20 minutes.

Stop the Bread Subsidy

The Dominion Government is soon to cease subsidizing Canadian bread and flour we are told. Why not also, we ask, stop the present subsidy our farmers have to bear of 95 cents a bushel (the difference between $1.55 and the Wheat Board price of $2.50) now being paid by prairie farmers to all who consume bread and flour in Canada.

FORT WILLIAM, ONT., GIRLS' PIPE BAND — Hailed as "the most beautiful pipers in the land" the Fort William, Ont., girls' pipe band was a big hit when they played at Hamilton, Ont. Laura Crowe, drummer, has a tough job in hot weather. The girls attended mass gathering of Scottish pipe bands at Hamilton, Ont., and later moved off for a spot of sight-seeing at Niagara Falls, where scores of camera fans snapped Shirley Murphy, Mary Armstrong and Mae Roach.

TARGET FOR MYSTERY BULLETS—Mystery shots fired at car driven by Lawrence Paradie, 19, of Toronto are being investigated by police. Paradie and his wife, shown here, were driving through Kintore near London when he heard about eight shots as car passed him. Police check of residents of Kintore had established shots were fired. None hit Paradie car.

WINS DIAMOND SCULLS AT HENLEY — Shown above receiving congratulations, John B. Kelly, Jr., won the Diamond Sculls of the Royal Henley regatta, to climax a 28-year campaign of revenge that started when his father was denied the right to compete in the 1920 event because he once was a bricklayer. The 20-year-old University of Pennsylvania student defeated Carl Fronsdal of Norway by eight lengths in eight minutes and 40 seconds. Kent School, Connecticut, won the Thames Challenge Rowing cup when its eight-man crew defeated Tabor Academy of Marion, Mass., in the all-American final.

PRAIRIE FLOODS STALL TRAINS AT BRANDON, MAN. — Prairie floods turned back this train at Brandon, Man., after the Red river went on a rampage. Mrs. Hazel Detenbeck of Bertie township near Fort Erie, a passenger, was going to visit her parents at Swan Lake, Man. She returned to her home when the trains couldn't get through. She said miles of prairie land are flooded.

FLYING SAUCERS, OR SPOTS BEFORE EYES?— The theory of Prof. F. S. Cotton of Sydney, Australia, that the "flying saucers" which many citizens of Canada and the U.S. claim to have seen, are nothing more or less than a visual phenomenon, has many persons doing some personal experimenting. The idea is to stare at a fixed point in a clear blue sky, and according to the professor, the red corpuscles of the blood, passing in front of the retina of the eye, give the impression of flying kitchenware. So these two young ladies are trying out the theory.

WILL DO EVERYTHING LEGALLY TO KEEP COMMUNISTS OFF LAKE SHIPS — Seamen's union representatives will have to take affidavits stating they're not Communists before boarding his ships states Capt. R. S. Misener, president of steamship line. Shown is freighter [illegible] with escort.

Great Lakes navigation, peaceful since last summer's strike, threatens to become stormy again with barring of some union representatives from ships. Shown is the steamship S.S. Noronic, being pelted by strikers during last year's tie-up.

BOYS—EVEN CLERGYMEN—WILL BE BOYS—Sliding into a base in a camp ball game, Rev. E. M. McLellan of Oshawa, is tagged by Rev. W. A. Filer, Peterboro. Their ball game is being played on a 20-acre property at Big Bay Point, Lake Simcoe, where Anglican clergy have set up a summer camp and provided holidays at about five dollars a week for a family.

ENDS MAN'S MONOPOLY—Bachelor Lake, about 100 miles north of [illegible] in the Chibougamau area of Quebec where the search is on for gold, may have to change its name. It's not for bachelors only any more. Mildred (Kit) Jourdin, former wartime Wren and strictly feminine at 97 pounds, invaded Bachelor Lake when she flew in with her fiance, Duke Orr, veteran bush pilot, and caught a 10-pound pike while Orr unloaded prospector's supplies. Believed the first white woman to enter the Bachelor Lake area, Miss Jourdin lives in Rouyn with her father, one of the pioneers of the Rouyn north country.

"GREEN ACRES"

REMOVAL OF HONEY

Honey will ferment unless at least three parts of the comb is capped. Bee escapes placed in the afternoon at 4 or 5 o'clock should have bees all cleared by morning. The usual way in this district is to brush bees off the comb and take it immediately to the kitchen or honey house for extraction. Summer extraction saves equipment as the frames can be used over again.

MACHINERY SHORT COURSES

Arrangements have been made for Harvesting Machinery Short courses to be held as follows: Kitscoty, Aug. 18th and Mannville Aug. 19th. Mr. J. K. MacKenzie, instructor at Calgary Technical school and F. Parkinson, Mechanics instructor at the Olds school of agriculture will discuss the operation, care and adjustment of threshers, combines and binders. Everyone is welcome.

PURE BRED STOCK SALE

The Vermilion Agricultural Society is arranging for a sale of pure bred stock to be held in Vermilion during the first week of November. As this is the first effort in this district to hold a sale for the convenience of local buyers it is hoped that stock breeders bring out some of their best stock. Cattle, sheep and swine both male and female will be listed for sale. Stock should be stabled early for training and fitting for this show.

THISTLES ARE IN BLOOM

Now is the time to go after the Canada Thistle and Sow Thistle. Patches are in full bloom in the fields and along the roads. Soon the seed will be ripe and blowing around to start new patches in a man's own land or on his neighbor's farm. Merely for a farmer's good name in the community he will not let thistle patches go to seed and pollute clean land round about him.

HARVESTERS AGAIN

This office will again this year handle harvesters coming in from Ontario. It is expected that the going wages will be $1.00 per day for stooking and $6.50 for threshing. Anyone requiring help should list their orders at the D.A. office before Aug. 20th.

HORSE SHORTAGE

The horse population in this district is getting less each year. It is doubtful if we have enough animals left for threshing purposes. It might be worth while breaking some 5 and 6 year old bronchos and getting them lined up for bundle rack service this fall. In any case we may soon be pulling bundle racks with tractors instead of horses.

WHEAT BOARD PAYMENT . . .

Hon. J. A. McKinnon, minister of trade and commerce, announced in the house of commons on Monday that the Canadian wheat board would begin the distribution of payments on 1945 wheat participation certificates almost immediately. Barley participation payments, he said, are already in the mail. The total is $5,200,000 or 10c per bushel.

The smiling young lady above is holding a bottle of whole blood donated by a voluntary blood donor to the Canadian Red Cross. Citizens of this community have been registering as voluntary donors in support of the Canadian Red Cross Society's free peacetime Blood Transfusion Service.

If you have not already registered as a voluntary blood donor there is still time. Do it now! See your local Red Cross Branch.

Well Attended Meeting of Ratepayers Discusses Plant Offer

The chief fact emanating from the ratepayers' meeting last Friday night is that we haven't any hope of getting power from our plant without the expenditure of a minimum of $60,000 and that all the money available for such a purpose is $17,000 in the Utility fund. One boiler has been condemned and the other needs re-tubing at a cost of $2,000. Tubes are not available before December. The new water tube boiler has been shipped from Galt and will be here within a few days. $25,000 is the first payment on arrival, a further sum in 30 days and the balance in 60 days. Contract price of the boiler is $36,312. Cost installed is estimated at $50,000.

W. S. Cash made a very efficient chairman of the meeting, kept the boys in check and matters moving right along.

Mr. Hill of Canadian Utilities outlined their offer briefly, he referred to the by-law wherein everything was fully stated. The company plans to build a large distributing plant here exactly as stated in the Vermilion Standard of last week. He dwelt on the advantages offered the town, the substantially lower rates of 20 to 25 per cent which would mean a little more money in the pockets of the people of Vermilion, the heavy taxes the plant would pay, the increased staff all living in Vermilion meaning more customers for everyone, the larger payroll, the newcomers to the plant staff would also in time become home owners and taxpayers.

Mayor Morrison outlined the town's position and Superintendent Jack Wiebe answered some technical questions brought up about the plant, giving reasons for the boiler failure.

[illegible] could be written on the questions and replies but no one came up with an answer as to how to raise the sizeable amount required to rehabilitate the plant even if it was desirable. Anyway only two of the ratepayers present seemed to be interested in that problem, and one of those two wasn't very convinced about it.

Rev. W. Simons Dies At 86 Years

PIONEER VERMILION MINISTER

A pioneer Presbyterian missionary of Alberta, Rev. William Simons, 86, of 10921 83 ave., died in Edmonton on Tuesday. Mr. Simons had lived in the west since 1887 and had been a resident of Edmonton since 1912.

Born in Lac Beauport, Que., Mr. Simons studied theology at Manitoba college and later was appointed to his first mission field south of Calgary in 1889. Following this he held charges at Slocan, B.C., and Vermilion.

Mr. Simons was superintendent of missions for the Presbyterian church in northern Alberta from 1912 until 1925. He retired for a short time but came out of retirement to serve Killam church and later Rupert Street Presbyterian church in Edmonton until ill health forced him to resign two years ago.

Mr. Simons' wife Edith died 12 years ago. He is survived by one son Lorne, two daughters, Mrs. William Mugaby and Evelyn Simons, all of Edmonton, one sister, Miss Grace Simons of Lac Beauport, and two grand-daughters.

Display of Great Interest To Farmers

BY DOMINION DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE — AT VERMILION FAIR

Miniature models of farm labor-saving devices, illuminated transparencies, photographs and cartoons illustrating the advantages to western farmers of diversified agriculture are features of the Dominion Department of Agriculture's display at the Vermilion Fair this week.

In this 25-foot display three illustrated panels urge the farmer to grow vegetables and increase wool production and remind him that feed grains provide the balance in agriculture.

The labor-saving display includes models of stackers and loaders, live stock feeding and watering equipment, loading chute, weighing crate and the year round hog cabin.

Agricultural publications on subjects of interest to western farmers may be had for the asking at this display, of which the official in charge is J. H. Lorenz, Chief, Exhibits Section, Publicity and Extension Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Webb-McGuffie Nuptials

In an attractive ceremony at Lloydminster on Wednesday July 16 at 3:00 p.m. at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs F. A. Bowyer Miss Dorothy Eleanor McGuffie daughter of Mr and Mrs. J. Guffie, of Lloydminster, Sask., became the bride of Mr Lawrence Russell Webb, son of Mr George Webb of Vermilion. Rev Peckover performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an afternoon dress of white silk jersey with an open-crowned white lace picture hat. Her accessories were in white and her corsage was of pink roses.

Mrs Bowyer attended her sister as matron of honor wearing a daytime frock of smoke-blue, complemented by a corsage of Talisman roses.

Best man was Mr Charles Forbes, of Chauvin. The wedding music was played by Miss Margaret Amos, of Vermilion.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McGuffie wore a coral dress with contrasting white accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Mrs Webb, chose a pearl-gray ensemble with a black model hat trimmed in purple flowers. A gardenia corsage was pinned at her shoulder.

For the reception the bride's table was laid [illegible]-crocheted lace and centred with a four tiered wedding cake flanked by bouquets of red roses.

Mr Peckover proposed the toast to the bride.

Assisting at the reception were Miss Barbara McCormick, of Marsden, Saskatchewan; Mrs. J. A. McGuffie, and Miss Margaret Amos.

The newlyweds left later on a honeymoon trip to Banff, Jasper and points west and on return will reside in Vermilion. For travelling the bride wore a brown gabardine dressmaker suit with accessories to tone.

Mrs M. Mix, of Edmonton, sister of the groom, and Miss Dorothy Cooke of Victoria were out-of-town guests at the wedding.

Former Vermilion Man Decorated for Gallantry

At the recent Investiture held by His Excellency the Governor-General, Viscount Alexander, in Edmonton Major Oliver Mace, son of Mr. and Mrs W. F. Mace of Innisfail, Alberta and formerly of Vermilion, was decorated with the D.S.O. for conspicuous gallantry in Italy. Major Mace carried a seriously wounded comrade on his back to safety, through fire regardless of his personal safety. Miss Roycroft aunt of Major Mace has been staying in the Vermilion district recently she now makes her home with the Maces at Innisfail.

Ontario Man Plans to Retire at Vermilion

Mr and Mrs. Wm Mason of St. Thomas Ontario, were week end visitors at the home of Dr and Mrs Ben King. They were driven over from Camrose by Mr and Mrs R. L. King. Mr Mason was very much taken with this country and says that he plans to live here when he retires—a good boost for Vermilion from Ontario.

Fun and Frolic Club at Riverton Completes Year's Work

The Fun and Frolic Girls club at Riverton has completed their year's work. Barbara Durnin was chosen "efficiency winner" at the Achievement Day. Evelyn Ieert came second and Gwendoline Hyatt was third.

Barbara Durnin attended the Girls' Club week at the Vermilion school of agriculture with her expenses paid by the Department of Agriculture. The club itself sent Evelyn Ieert Gwendoline Hyatt and Freda Hansen. These girls report a very nice time as well as learning quite a lot about cooking, sewing etc.

Mrs Marion Williams Girls' Club leader wishes to thank all those who helped with the club. Many thanks also to the mothers who offered their homes for the meeting and those who drove the girls to the different meetings.

ISLAY

As it was not possible for us to see each one personally before leaving Islay, we wish in this way to contact all our friends in and around Islay to say goodbye and may God bless you all. It has been a real pleasure to us to have had the pleasure of serving you during our brief stay at Islay and we wish to thank you all for your kindness and friendship shown us during that time. We realize we are leaving a great number of friends whom we will not easily forget. Again we say good bye to all.

Blood Transfusion Clinic In Vermilion Aug. 19th

At the High School

Next Tuesday Aug. 19 the Canadian Red Cross Society's Blood Transfusion service will visit Vermilion for the taking of blood from voluntary blood donors. The blood thus collected is supplied to patients in Alberta hospitals requiring transfusions free of charge.

The clinic will be held in the Vermilion high school (west end of town) from 10 a.m. to 12 30 and from 2 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Appointments are now being arranged for those already registered with the Vermilion Branch of the Red Cross. However, to ensure a sufficient supply for the visiting clinic anyone who has not yet registered is asked to contact Mrs E. C. Miller phone 101 or any member of the Vermilion branch.

Through the support of voluntary blood donors the Red Cross will supply all Alberta hospitals with free [illegible] and plasma. The hospitals, to receive this service, must in turn supply it entirely free of charge to any patient in need of a blood transfusion.

The visiting mobile clinic will be staffed by a doctor and several nurses and technicians. Members of the local Red Cross will serve refreshments and be in charge of the rest rooms.

Officials point out that there is no discomfort in giving a donation nor does it affect the health of the donor. Those who have donated blood to the Red Cross before and have signed up again are asked to bring their donor cards. The new transfusion service donations will be credited towards the various buttons awarded the donors.

In British Columbia, the first province to be organized, nearly 6,000 bottles of blood were distributed free of charge to hospitals during the first three months of operation. Any patient in need of a transfusion receives it entirely free of charge.

Copy Held Over

As rather expected by the Editor, news this week over-ran the available space by a considerable margin. Many items, including reports of the fair and prize winners, of the Calf Club show, weddings, several country bulletins, Green Acres, and numerous local items have had to be carried over until next issue. Next week's publication should see everything back on an even keel following the two weeks' lay-off. If you don't see it in this issue, watch for next week's standard.

All Stars Lose First Game of Fastball Finals to Holden

CLOSE GAME ENDS 6 - 4

Vermilion All Stars lost the opening game of the Men's Fastball Intermediate B series finals here on Sunday to Holden in a closely contested game 6 runs to 4. The remainder of the series will be played at Holden this Sunday Aug. 17th. The All Stars smarting under the defeat on their home grounds, figure that with Buster Martin and Johnny Gordie back in the line up they will still take the series.

The All Stars eliminated Vegreville and then Camrose to gain the final bracket.

Batteries were John Butler pitcher and Ken Corson catcher for Vermilion. Harry Osrodnick and Ernie Gaul for Holden. Lloyd Harris umpired.

In the evening's exhibition game the visitors ran away with an 18-6 victory in spite of a mighty home run by Irvin Gordon of the locals.

Mayor Morrison Leaves on Holidays

J. W. G. Morrison K.C. leaves this Saturday on a three weeks' holiday trip to Vancouver and Victoria. During his absence from town hall matters Councillor G. F. Stephens will be acting mayor. On his return Mr Morrison will meet a brother from the east in Calgary whom he has not seen for over 25 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Shand Farewelled

AT CLAYSMORE

(Extract from Claysmore News)

Friends neighbors and acquaintances of the past 16 years gathered at Claysmore school on the evening of July 23rd to bid farewell to Mr and Mrs. Alex Shand who are leaving Claysmore and will make [illegible] in Edmonton.

Mr Shand has been the Searle grain agent at Claysmore for the past 16 years and he and Mrs [illegible] leave a very large number of friends who will sincerely miss them in the community.

The evening was spent with a sing song and much visiting, followed by a very tasty and bounteous lunch served by the ladies. Cliff McCormick as M.C. presented the guests of honor with a handsome coffee table, a gift from the community. Mr Shand in reply thanked all for the very kind wishes and extended a standing invitation to all friends to visit them in their new home in Edmonton.

At the close of the party everyone joined in singing heartily "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows"

Golfers Improve Course

Enthusiastic golfers report that the fairways and greens have been greatly improved and are in good playing shape at the new golf links. Everyone interested in the game is urged to get out and play. Considerable work has been done and there is now no chance of losing a ball on the fairways. The greens too, are in very good condition.

Mrs Victor Duncan of Edmonton is holidaying in Vermilion visiting members of the family in town and district.

L. H. Bussard Goes To Drumheller

WILL SUPERVISE AND DIRECT EDUCATION

L. H. Bussard, principal of the Vermilion high school for 5 years and granted a year's leave of absence in June 1946, will not return to Vermilion. He has been released by the school boards in order to allow him to accept the position of supervisor of education for the city of Drumheller. In his new position Mr. Bussard will not be teaching but will direct and supervise education. He has spent the past year at the University of Minnesota completing work for his degree of Doctor of Philosophy and has specialized in vocational guidance. In this latter field he is regarded as the foremost authority in Alberta.

Mr Gordon Hay now becomes principal at Vermilion high school and efforts are being made to secure a teacher for English and Social Studies.

Crs. Boake and Stack Are Appointed as Waterworks Committee

A regular meeting of the town council was held Tuesday, Aug. 5th with Mayor Morrison, Crs Boake, Pawson, Kehoe, Stephens present.

Delegation, John Tucker and P.J. Richardson re agreement with hospital for water and sewer.

J. Reid and K. Rowe waited on the council re water and sewer extension to west end.

The following motions carried:

That the following building permits be granted:

Thomas Watts, garage $700; Doug Wing, residence addition $350.

E.L. & P. accounts and town accounts were passed and ordered paid.

That Crs. Boake and Stack be a Waterworks committee.

Scout Camp Held At Lake Whitney

40 ACRES DEEDED FOR PERMANENT SCOUT CAMP

A registered scout camp was held at Lake Whitney from July 29 to Aug. 6th inclusive, on a site comprising 40 acres recently deeded by our Provincial Minister of Lands and Mines Hon. N. E. Tanner, to all scouts. Six boys from the local troop attended and report a very enjoyable time. Strict rules of sanitation and discipline were maintained in a camp operated entirely by the boys themselves. [illegible] Scoutmaster Johnston of Lloydminster is to be heartily thanked for accepting the responsibility of looking after our boys since no one from here was able to accompany them. Much thanks too is extended to Mr. F. Leversedge and Mr. W. Pilkie for their kindness in providing transportation to and from the lake.

Scouts attending the camp from Vermilion were Rex Boake, K[illegible] Carter, Jim Adam, Larry Kehoe, [illegible] McCulloch, Tom Acheson.

POWER PLANT SELLS

Vote 327 to 66 — Canadian Utilities Take Over

The plebiscite of Tuesday July 29th resulted in 327 ratepayers voting in favor of selling the power plant while only 66 were in favor of Vermilion continuing to operate this utility. As a result of this decision of the ratepayers Canadian Utilities officially took over the plant and the power franchise on August 1st.

Purchase price was $120,000 cash assuming of $40,000 obligation in connection with the new water tube boiler, a 30 to 35% reduction in light rates, and, the assurance that a 1000 K.W. steam plant would be built here and Vermilion will thus become the electrical distribution centre for this part of Alberta. $200,000 is to be spent on the new plant within two years. A new improved street lighting system will be installed in the business section at no cost to the town.

Following unsuccessful attempts by private interests to supply light to the people by means of manufactured gas the town of Vermilion built its own power plant in 1912. It has continued to operate the plant ever since although various Utility companies commenced purchasing franchises of neighboring towns as long as 20 years ago. The plant has had its ups and downs but through it all has rendered excellent service.

Western Canada Millers Honor W. R. Wiebe

Millers of western Canada gathered in convention at Winnipeg recently and paid high tribute to W. R. Wiebe of Vermilion when they made him honorary president of the association and presented him with an engraved sterling silver cigarette lighter. Mr. Wiebe was in attendance at the convention. In making the presentation the speaker stated that it was in recognition of services on behalf of the millers, rendered by Mr Wiebe for many years past. Mr. Wiebe is a former member of the executive of the organization and is a past president of the Alberta branch.

Farm Safety Week Aug. 18 to 23rd

A.F.U. District Convention Held at Vermilion

The annual district convention of District 7 Alberta Farmers' [illegible] was held in Vermilion on July 29th.

Although it was the first day of the Vermilion Fair delegates from all over the district sat for 12 hours in the hot weather in the Masonic hall. They were welcomed to Vermilion by Mayor J. W. G. Morrison and heard reports and addresses from their district officers, etc., president Carl J. Stimpfle on the year's work and on the policies and activities of the union.

The Convention was also briefly addressed by Mr Andrew Wood Vice-President of the U.F.A. and Mr Dick Brighton, district agriculturist for Crop District 10.

The following officers and district board sub-directors were elected for the coming year. District Director (on central board) Mr G. Tindall of Fabyan. President E. P. Taylor Hope Valley local, Vice-President M. Symings, Myrnam. Sub-Directors S.D. 1, F. Stepanik, S.D. 2, G. Armstrong Allandale, S.D. 3, H. F. Kyhen Wildmere, S.D. 4, W. A. Beatty Kitscoty, S.D. 5, Roth Oldham, Fabyan S.D. 6, R. Belanger Pollven local S.D. 8, Fred Olson. No one being present from S.D. 7, it was left open temporarily.

Resolutions passed by the convention dealt with the following matters: Protested any increase in the freight rates, called for a Federal ruling on Daylight Saving Time (the farmers want Standard [illegible]) [illegible] dominion and [illegible] the [illegible]

[illegible] called for [illegible] the initial payment on wheat to $1.[illegible] per bushel retroactive to cover the 1946-47 crop. Endorsed the action of the Provincial Convention in turning down amalgamation under the proposed draft constitution which would have included the commercial organizations and further endorsed the mandate of the convention to attempt to amalgamate with the bona fide farmers members of the U.F.A. adding a proviso as follows: "Providing we do not have to sacrifice the principles of direct action and the right to co-operate with Labor and similar groups."

The Convention also called for the World price to be paid for all wheat used for milling and distilling in Canada by the millers and brewers or distillers and for the price to be paid for all coarse grains to be brought more into line with the world market price for coarse grains.

This was a very successful gathering and great interest was taken in all questions discussed.

The next district convention will be held in Wainwright in accordance with a resolution to alternate between Vermilion and Wainwright passed in 1946.

Ven. W. Leversedge To Leave Vermilion

TO SEMI-RETIREMENT AT WABAMUN

The Venerable Walter Leversedge D.D., beloved rector of St Saviour's Anglican church for the past twelve years, is being placed on semi-retirement due to the condition of his health and will leave Vermilion. He will go to the village of Wabamun where there is a comfortable rectory situated on the shores of the lake and where the demands on his energy and time will be much less than here.

The Archdeacon suffered a serious breakdown in health at the end of June and was ordered to take a complete rest during the summer. He and Mrs Leversedge are at present at Vallejo, California.

The successor to Dr. Leversedge will shortly be appointed.

Council Banquets Power Plant Employees

The members of the town council tendered the employees of the electric light and power plant a complimentary dinner Friday evening, Aug. [illegible] at the [illegible] cafe as an expression of their appreciation of the long services given by these men over a period of years. The thanks of the council were extended to the employees by Mayor Morrison, who in his remarks felt that the course of time would amply justify the vote given on Tuesday in favor of the franchise agreement. Similar remarks were made by Councillors Stephens, Pawson, Kehoe, Stack and Boake. Councillor Urquhart was unavoidably absent.

Superintendent Jack Wiebe replied for the men, thanking the council for their co-operation and help in the carrying on of the operations of the plant.

Mr A. E. Gudmundson speaking for the Canadian Utilities said they would proceed at once to rehabilitate the plant and get it in good working condition. He felt quite sure that the people of Vermilion would not regret the decision they made on Tuesday, as a fact he saw it as making for a larger and better Vermilion.

Mr. Blythe [illegible], a former superintendent of the local plant, now superintendent of the company's plant at Drumheller, told the gathering of the ambitious plans of Canadian Utilities for Vermilion. Orders had already been placed for rebuilding the boiler and he expected that the plant would shortly be in full operation. The work of installing the new large water tube boiler was going forward at full [illegible] speed.

[illegible] that there was very [illegible] for the men of the [illegible] the company's employees [illegible] would be given [illegible] to qualify as engineers for the big new plant.

Superintendent Jack Wiebe will be taken to Drumheller for a course of instruction and the company will send [illegible] Vermilion. The new plant to be [illegible] here which will [illegible] Alberta [illegible] will be larger than the Canadian Utility plant at Drumheller according to Mr Davidson.

The company took the plant over Friday morning, the town council having given final reading to the by-law on Thursday evening whereby the plant ceased to exist as a municipally owned utility.

Peter Tulodziecki Dies in Edmonton

The remainder of the series is being played at Mannville this Sunday afternoon Aug. 17 at 2 and 4 30 Standard time.

Power Plant Back in Operation in Few Days

BIG EQUIPMENT PURCHASED FOR NEW PLANT

Canadian Utilities are rushing repair operations at the Vermilion plant with all possible speed and it is expected that one boiler will be ready for use and steam up this week end.

In the meantime a big and expert crew are making record time in assembling the new 25,000-lb. water tube boiler which will be completed early in September, giving the town ample boiler capacity.

EQUIPMENT FOR NEW PLANT

Canadian Utilities have already secured a turbine engine for the new plant to be erected in the valley and have ordered an additional 50,000-lb. water tube boiler for that plant.

On August 1st Bob Bell joined the Alberta Wheat Pool car erection crew of which he is now a member. Bob commenced work with the crew at [illegible] and is now at Red Deer.

Albert King New Divisional Trustee

Unofficial returns indicate that Albert King of Kitscoty was elected to the board of the Vermilion school division in the election on Aug. 12th. He will represent sub-division No. 2 and complete the unexpired term of Alexander McFarlane, deceased.

The vote was as follows: King 128; Hale 75, Cuthbert 64, Owen 57.

E. E. Wright Buys the Kitscoty Hotel

E. E. Wright, formerly of Vermilion and Vancouver has purchased the Kitscoty hotel and is now managing the business there himself. He has also undertaken extensive renovations and improvements and these are well underway.

First Local Girl Air Student

Another name has been added to the rapidly growing list of students taking flying lessons at the local air school. Margaret Scott being well on her way toward soloing. Dennis Wiebe, another one of the students soloed two weeks ago and hopes for his pilots' license next week.

West End Children Donate $13.25 To Ambulance Fund

A number of children in the west end planned and presented a miniature fair complete with grandstand performance, midway games, refreshment booth and rides. All equipment was erected and operated by the children even to the "tilt-a-whirl". A charge of 1c was made for the various amusements and proceeds amounted to the tidy sum of $13.25. Rows of benches were provided for spectators and as a Wednesday afternoon was chosen a goodly number of adults and children alike patronized the well managed and rehearsed event.

The $13.25 was donated to the Red Cross Ambulance fund.

Vermilion Air Cadet Now In England

The following despatch appeared in the daily papers on the arrival of the Canadian Air Cadets in London, Eng. Harold Bushell is a member of the party.

"Thirty-six Canadian air cadets arrived Friday night at London airport to take their first look at England. They are here in exchange with a similar group of British air cadets now touring Canada.

Touching down in two special York transports before piling into buses to drive to London airport, the lads were in gay spirits. They'll travel to Halton, Cheshire, where they will split into two parties, one touring southern England and the other northern England, by motor coach.

The highlight of the tour comes when they will fly over German bombed cities to see the damage wrought by their "big brothers".

The visit brought an added thrill to 18-year-old sgt. Harold Bushell of Vermilion, Alberta, who at last will be able to meet his English girl friend, a 'pen pal', whom he has known for 18 months through letters and photographs only. She is 16-year-old Marjory Tyler of Ingatestone, Essex."

Creighton W. I.

The Creighton W. I. met at the home of Mrs G. Clark. After a short business talk everyone including quite a number of children and visitors rode to the coulee where a picnic lunch was served, peanut scrambles were held and all the ice cream one could eat was on hand. Our chief visitor was Mrs N. Rich quite an old timer of the Creighton district who has for a number of years resided in Edmonton.

Clandonald News

Since the last publication of the Standard many things have happened in and around Clandonald.

GRANNY SOUDER 95 YEARS OLD

Two weeks ago a birthday party was held at the home of Granny Souder. Granny passed her 95th birthday and many of her friends assembled at her home to make her birthday a very happy one.

The writer was sorry to learn of the loss Mr. Eddie Shewkell received when he lost his purebred shorthorn bull. Eddie is made of the stuff that can take it and smile.

The Community Girls Club under the leadership of Mrs G. Turner farewelled Miss Margaret McLeod and Miss Myrtle Ramsley at a weiner roast recently. Miss McLeod has been working in the bank here for a long time and we understand that she is to be postmistress at Cold Lake. Good luck Margaret.

Wilfred Roberge has opened an egg grading station. Look out Wilfred if you do not give everyone grade 1.

About 300 people attended the farewell picnic held at the sports grounds to give Mr and Mrs Stonehouse and family a rousing send off to his new managership at Glenavon, Sask.

Mr Langridge and family have arrived in Clandonald. Mr Langridge is the new bank manager succeeding Mr Stonehouse.

Miss Long of the agricultural college staff at Vermilion attended the meeting called by the W. A. of St. Mary's. The lecture she gave in the Grange hall was very well received. The general comment was "we learned a lot". Thank you Miss Long. A word of thanks was given to Miss Long on behalf of the ladies present by Mrs W. Brant.

Mrs Clair White has presented Mr White with another young man so the White family are now equal, neither can gain a majority.

It is pleasing to note that Mrs Ed Barclay is getting along very nicely since returning from the hospital. She still has her arm and shoulder bandaged.

Miss I. Shaw is conducting a Bible school under the auspices of the Gospel Alliance for the young people in the public school. It is pleasing to see that many people are sending their children to the school. Miss Shaw can do a lot of good when she teaches the children the Bible.

AN OPPORTUNITY TO SAVE A LIFE—

It is difficult to read a newspaper without reading of accidents and violent deaths. In many cases the difference between life and death for the victims can be blood transfusion. Every hour of the day there is someone who needs blood—your blood!

The Canadian Red Cross Society, carrying on its great humanitarian work in peacetime, as it did during the war, is setting up a Blood Transfusion Service throughout Canada.

This new and vital service came in to being in Alberta last month. That's where you, as a citizen of this community come in. Next week a mobile clinic of the blood transfusion service will visit your district.

Blood donated to the Canadian Red Cross will be given free to hospitals in Alberta, which in turn will give it free to anyone in need of a blood transfusion. Not one penny will be charged for the blood collected by this service.

The success of the entire scheme depends upon whether you respond to the call for blood donors. Anyone between the ages of 18 and 65 can volunteer. There is no pain or discomfort and you are only asked to donate blood twice a year.

Help make this great life saving endeavor a success in your community.

Go to your local Red Cross branch and volunteer today. Be ready when the clinic arrives next week. Tell them you wish to save a life!

DEALERS URGE FARM SAFETY—

As part of their conception of service to farmer customers, Canadian farm equipment dealers through their federation of provincial dealers' associations, have selected the week of August 16-23 as "Farm Equipment Safety Week".

In proclaiming this period for the sake of emphasizing to farmers the hazards existing because of carelessness in the use of machinery, the dealers stress that every week should be regarded as "Safety Week." It is pointed out that every year scores of farmers are painfully injured and frequently others are killed through neglect to observe ordinary precautions or dispensing with the use of protection such as shields for power take-off and chains.

Dealers are also aware of the loss occasioned farmers each year by fires. They emphasize the wisdom of preventing fires by periodic checking of electrical wiring, heating systems and other likely places where fires could originate. Likewise stressed is the value of cleaning up buildings and grounds, not only from the standpoint of better appearance and more efficient farming but also because untidy premises invite both fires and accidents. The dealers through their publicity in connection with "Safety Week" will point out that "accidents do not happen—they are caused".

Crop Conditions

The following summary of crop conditions for this area is compiled by the Alberta Agricultural Extension service:

"Crop District 10. Moisture conditions range from poor to fair. Recent light rains and cooler weather have arrested deterioration temporarily but previous drought did considerable damage. The crop outlook at present is poor to fair. All the wheat is now headed and it is estimated that cutting will soon commence. Hail did considerable damage in local areas throughout this district. Insect damage has been slight. 70% of the summerfallow has been gone over twice. Pastures are fair and livestock are in good condition."

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

THE KING TROUT

By [illegible] F. CHRISTOPHER

He held the black, simple fishpole in his left hand and the minnow pail in the other, and trailed down the narrow path through the woods with his chest sticking out naturally and his strong, sturdy legs taking long, even steps.

That was much the same. But that was only half. His dad wasn't [illegible] behind like he used to. Kim got thinking about it, but his heart was too small to hold the load he thought and it burst into soft, tender tears that wouldn't get past his throat.

He swallowed a couple of times and tried to face this new situation bravely, challengingly. It was awful [illegible]. Every little noise was a magnified sound to his young, alert ears. The soft rustle of the leaves pushed against each other by the wind; the scratchy note of a squirrel cracking a nut with its sharp teeth; the loud, happy trill of a vireo.

All that he had heard before. But mingling with those familiar sounds had been his dad's soft, memorable whistling, like an accompaniment to those noises that lived in the woods. Now, that was missing, too.

A partridge leaped up with a loud flutter of feathers from a dead, dried-up bush a few feet beside him, frightening him for an instant and he remembered the time he had shot his first grouse. Dad had been with him, then. A cottontail scurried noiselessly across the path in front of him. Then suddenly about loomed the huge, oak-tree trunk, the marker that indicated the creek was near; and presently he could hear it, a soft, broken sound like distant thunder.

He walked past the huge trunk. He used to run at this point, he remembered. He came to the sharp decline which was almost devoid of trees or brush all the way down to the creek some ten feet below. A long, slender log, rotted at one end and with pieces of bark chipped off it, lay nearby, held by stones wedged in underneath.

Kim carried his fishing equipment to the log and sat down. He glanced at the place beside him, the place formerly occupied by his father, and the loneliness hit him.

He opened his minnow pail and pulled out a small wriggling chub. He baited his hook with it, rose and stepped forward upon the bare, white rock, so close water splashed wetly upon his low shoes.

It was the trout he was after. The King, his dad had called it. That huge, green, orange-speckled fellow that was the biggest ever seen in the creek. His dad had caught it when he was on furlough several months ago, just before he was to be shipped overseas. He had held it out of the water for an instant while it thrashed and writhed at the end of the line, then lost it.

It had been his last furlough day, and he had to depart that night for camp. But he'd said: "Don't worry, Kim," with a persevering grin on his lips, "I'll be back one of these days, and I'll get the King. You wait and see."

"You bet, dad," he had answered. "I've got my money on you."

Now, that he wasn't coming back any more, Kim had decided he'd get the trout himself. He'd get it for his dad. Wherever he was, he'd be happy his son had fulfilled the desire he could not fulfill himself.

He swung the feather-weight, steel pole over his shoulder, and whipped it around as his dad had taught him. The reel whirred as the line snaked out over the rushing, silvery water. He wished he had boots so he could wade out into the creek, but his dad had told him, "When you're older, son, and a little bigger, I'll get you boots. But you're rather small, yet. The water's strong and might throw you." So he'd stand on shore, anyway.

The bright, orange sun coming over the tree-tops on the other side touched his eyes and he pulled down on the brim of his straw hat. After awhile he felt a nibble; then another one. Tensed, he jerked on his pole. The line straightened, a fish leaped out of the water. His heart pounded. It was a trout, a nice-sized one, but not the King.

Saddened, he returned it to its creek-home. He had come after the King, that was all he wanted to take back with him.

Time crawled, and the leaf shadows on the shore moved outward into the creek, where it lost its shape in the rippling unstill water. Gradually, the sun moved across the ceiling of blue sky, behind patches of white clouds no two alike in shape. It beat warmly through his straw hat, and he felt a hunger that told him it must be dinner time - time to eat.

He lay his pole on the side and unwrapped the sandwiches his mother had prepared for him.

He remembered the pitiful expression she had on her lonely, oval face, in her big, gold-flecked eyes that burned so much with tears when she had gotten the news...

He ate all but one sandwich. He'd eat that later.

He picked up his pole, baited it with a fresh chub, and tried again. An hour and a half went by, and suddenly he felt a tug at the end of his line. He tensed, every muscle in his young, husky body straining, his fingers individual vises gripped around the cork handle of the pole.

He waited with abated breath, and saw the end of the pole pulled down toward the water. It was the King Trout!

He jerked up on the pole. The middle bent into the shape of a scimitar, and the line tautened and quivered. He pulled harder. The line knifed through the water, then suddenly snapped out—empty!

"Missed him!" Kim exclaimed bitterly. His lips pursed, and he tightened his teeth. "But I'll get 'im! I gotta get 'im!"

The King had taken the minnow. Kim rebaited the hook, cast the line out again. He waited. The shadows grew longer, and a little wind began to stir. He started to feel a lost, sunken feeling in his stomach, an ache in his young, fast-beating heart. He ate the sandwich he had saved. And time went on—and he was getting hungry again.

Then suddenly, he felt that pull! It was strong, very strong. He jerked up on the pole. It curved sharply.

A fish leaped out. A great big, green, speckled fish with a white belly! It thrashed wildly and angrily at the end of the line.

The King Trout!

His heart swelled. A smile beamed on his face. He swung the pole up vertically and caught the flogging trout in his small, strong hand. He carried it back from the water and pulled the hook, with the chub-bait still on it, out of its big, round mouth. Then, hanging on to it with all the strength he could muster he picked up the short cord on which to string the King.

And then, just then, he thought of his dad. Something queer came over him, a strange, peculiar feeling. He stared at the fish and as if from a distance his father's words came to him, "Don't worry, Kim. I'll be back one of these days and I'll get the King. You wait and see."

Wait and see! The words struck him, now, and he began to see things in a different light. He felt ashamed of himself as if he had taken something that did not rightfully belong to him. And suddenly he knew that was it. The King did not belong to him.

Quietly, and unrestrainingly, he lifted the King high, and tossed it back into the creek. It squirmed like a huge, flat worm in the air, landed with a splash, and was gone.

Calmly he picked up his fish pole and minnow pail and started up the bank for home.

SWEETER TASTIER White Bread
RECIPE
Put 1 c. lukewarm water in bread bowl, add 1 envelope Royal Fast Rising Dry Yeast and 1 tsp. sugar, stir; let stand 10 min. Scald 2 c. milk, add 9 tbs. sugar; add 5 tsp. salt; cool to lukewarm. Add to yeast with 1 c. water; add 6 c. sifted flour; beat well. Add 5 tbs. melted shortening and 6 c. more sifted flour, or enough to make easily handled dough. Knead dough quickly and lightly until smooth and elastic. Place dough in greased bowl, cover; set in warm place, free from draft. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Punch dough down in bowl; let rise again until about ½ as high as first rise. When light, divide into 4 equal portions; shape into balls. Cover with cloth; let rest 10 to 15 min. Shape into loaves; place in greased bread pans. Cover; let rise until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake in 425° F. oven for 15 min., then reduce heat to 375° F. Finish baking about 30 min. longer.

Open Super-Railway In London

LONDON — London's new £1,000,000 ($4,000,000) "super railway" a Western extension of the central underground line, was opened to passengers recently.

To eliminate noise the trains run over rails bolted and welded in continuous half-mile lengths instead of the usual 60 feet. At the end of the half-mile lengths there are special silent joints which eliminate jolts even there.

WOMAN COULD NOT LAUGH AT HERSELF

[illegible] tells this story: "Making caricatures of women is particularly dangerous. That's why I will never do it if I can avoid it. Once I drew a frank caricature of quite a famous man, and his wife thought it so very funny that she pealed with laughter until he became really annoyed. He whispered 'Do one of her'—I did, and the lady has never spoken to me since."

Plans To Build Safer Automobile

PHILADELPHIA.- Preston Tucker, president of the nation's newest auto manufacturing firm, said his plan to produce a "better and safer car" than has ever been built will provide jobs for approximately 455,000 throughout the nation.

The youthful president of the Tucker Corp. told a Securities and Exchange Commission hearing his new enterprise eventually will have a pay roll of 35,000 at its plants in the Chicago area and "ultimately we expect to have the largest pay roll in Chicago."

"We'll have 420,000 additional breadwinners throughout the nation as salesmen, dealers and suppliers," he told the Commission, which is investigating whether the corporation should be permitted to go ahead with his proposed $20,000,000 stock sale to the public.

At the conclusion of the two-day hearing, Mr. Tucker told a reporter "if the Commission lets us go ahead, I think the stock will sell."

"There has been enough interest shown already by the public to make me believe that," he added. "We will offer it for sale within seven or 10 days after the effective date."

MANY NEW POST OFFICES TO BE BUILT

OTTAWA. — Postmaster General Bertrand said in the Commons recently his department hoped to build "quite a lot" of post offices across the country next year.

Replying to questioning during study of his departmental estimates, he recalled that no new offices were built during the war years and said a considerable number now were needed. They would be built in centres where revenue totalled $10,000 a year or more.

Food Safe To Leave In Tins

Many doubts and prejudices still exist about food canned in tin cans, but home economists of the Consumer Section of the Department of Agriculture say such food will keep indefinitely just as long as the can doesn't leak. Rust or dents do not necessarily mean spoilage if the can is intact.

In addition, it is just as safe, and perhaps safer to keep canned foods in the can it comes in, provided that the can is kept cool and covered. The inside of a can has been sterilized while the dish into which many housewives prefer turning their food has merely been washed in the dishpan. However whether food is stored in a can or container "always keep it cool and covered."

1129 Entries In Barley Contest

Preliminary lists of provincial committees show a total of 1,129 entries in the Western Division of the $35,000 National Barley Contest for 1947 sponsored by the brewing and malting industries.

The entries are 146 fewer than in 1946. All provinces show a slight drop, the biggest decrease in Saskatchewan. By provinces the number of entries are: Manitoba 406; Saskatchewan 206; Alberta 357. The Alberta entries include the Peace River district of B.C.

Entries from the different provinces last year were Manitoba 467, Saskatchewan 336, Alberta 391.

Chairmen of the provincial committees have expressed the view that the competition this year is likely to be keener than last even with the smaller number of entries. Most of the contestants appear to be experienced growers. Nearly all those who made a good showing in their regions in 1946 have entered again this year. In 1946 there was a considerable number of eliminations because growers had entered varieties not eligible in the contest or else had insufficient acreage. This year there has been less than half a dozen.

ETHELWYN NEWS

Some of this news will be rather old by the time it appears in print but the writer is sure that no one will mind when we know the editor and staff have had a good holiday. They have earned it after so many years of continuous work.

The Junior girls meeting was held at Elsie Podhaniuk's July 10th. The girls are progressing well with their embroidery and will have some very nice articles for the bazaar this fall. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs Podhaniuk, Elsie and Patsy.

Our district was well represented at the boys and girls week in Vermilion: Katie Hosie and Annie Sherenkowich, Patsy McDonald, Annie and Peter Mulgrew, Isabel Waterworth, Donald Arnold, Kevin and Tommy O'Rourke. The young people report a good time and profited greatly.

A group of men under the direction of Mr MacGillivary have lined the St Patrick's hall with plaster board.

The writer and family enjoyed a short camping trip which included the Vermilion Fair and the Sunday following at the town swimming pool.

Some time ago the writer noticed an item in the Standard stating that the road to the swimming pool had been improved. If the present road is an improvement we shudder to think what it must have been like before. In fact we marvelled that anyone ever got out to the pool and away again. The road is very narrow with no vision ahead and there is only one place wide enough to allow cars to pass, as a result cars are constantly having to stop and back up to let others go by. This is the only place that apparently hundreds of people have to go bathing.

After four days camping the rest of the family went home while the writer spent another three very enjoyable days with Mrs Burkhead, had tea with Mrs. Fraser, also Miss Craig and met many new friends. A course of treatment was taken from Dr Lawson and Mrs Lawson, foot specialists who were in Vermilion that week. Dr Lawson has followed his profession for 35 years. He is no longer a young man and has a lovely home in Victoria in which to retire. But he and Mrs Lawson know that many people have foot troubles who are unable to go away for treatment even if they knew of anywhere to go. As long as they have strength they want to bring their services and relief to the people. After taking the treatment it is wonderful to be able to work all day without every step being torture. It is hoped that Dr Lawson and Mrs Lawson will return to Vermilion next year.

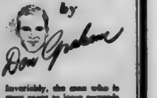
Mrs John McClellan, Margaret, Jenny and Emma of Vancouver are visiting the former's parents Mr and Mrs Morrison.

On August 2nd the J.G.I.T. meeting was held at the home of Isabell Waterworth. The girls started to learn basket making. Patsy McDonald gave a very interesting talk on the work she spent at the V.S.A. Patsy and Isabell are planning to attend again next year. A very dainty lunch was served by Mrs. Waterworth, Joyce and Jenny.

The writer and family enjoyed a visit last Sunday from Mr and Mrs Wm. Neal who recently returned from a trip to Calgary and Banff. Mrs. Neal is so good at describing things and telling stories that we almost felt that we had been on the trip with them.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

by



Don Graham

Invariably, the man who is most eager to learn succeeds most rapidly.

Obviously, then, it is advisable to use all available means of learning more about our jobs.

Experience is the greatest teacher. Books and lectures are a great help. But few realize how much we can learn by observing and talking to people.

The people who can be of most value to us in this way are those who have made, or are making, their mark in this world. From their ideas, experience and methods valuable information can be gleaned. It is usually easy, I find, to get these people to respond wholeheartedly when asked intelligent questions.

Nor should anyone feel that they are humbling themselves by seeking to learn from others. No one can know all the answers.

But those who know most are usually those who are always open-minded and trying to learn more from others.

Interesting Story—

:: COVETER ::

By EDWARD SAM. [illegible]

ALVIN STRINDLE was dusting when a swift movement of Mr. Roberts, at the Teller's desk, attracted his attention. He turned to see what caused that blurred action... and gasped. A man's anger-contorted face was framed outside the cage. His hand shoved a gun barrel through the bars. The weapon belched loudly; spewed its insides in flaming vomit.

The revolver's roar was followed by an alarm which the Teller had set off. Mr. Roberts grasped his side and slithered across the desk, scattering currency. The bandit grabbed at the money, then snatched away his hand. He backed off, threatening the guard and customers, then ran out.

Immediately the bank resembled an eddy in which swirled hysterical employees, ambulance crew, reporters and detectives. It was hours later before order was restored and Strindle could continue his cleaning. That was when he discovered the money. Apparently it had been dislodged when Mr. Roberts sprawled across his desk.

The currency lay in a small space between the desk and wall, too far down to be seen at a casual glance. Had it not been the day he did his weekly dusting behind furniture the money would have gone unnoticed.

Stringle stared at it. He thought of his fifty years, twenty of which had been spent working at this bank. He thought of his frugal existence and how avidly he longed for a few luxuries. He remembered how he window-shopped and read newspaper [illegible]tisements covetously. He remembered his dreams of what he would do [illegible] ever he acquired an abundance [illegible] money. Now, it was practically his.

Strindle knew the bank [illegible] burglarly insurance. When a [illegible]up revealed this money to [illegible] it would be assumed the [illegible] responsible. The insurance company would pay off and that would [illegible] the matter. He glanced cautiously. Nobody noticed him. During twenty years' service he had ceased to be a personality.

The janitor replaced that package of currency and while finishing cleaning made his plans. He would think up a good reason for quitting his job and give two weeks notice. During his last weekly dusting, he would remove the money, secrete it among his dustcloths and transfer it to his street clothes when he left. On his way home, while stopping at Charlie's Grog Shop for his usual bee; while window-shopping and while reading newspaper advertisements his mind planned what he would do with that money.

Next morning, soon as he saw the bank president enter, Strindle left his work and went to the office. A visitor was ahead of him but through the door he could hear the conversation. It made him forget about quitting. That visitor was the insurance company's detective making a report.

The [illegible] had been caught and swore he got no money. He had no time to hide it and the policeman who chased and captured him said the criminal threw nothing away. An accounting had revealed $10,000 missing and the insurance company was making a thorough investigation.

The detective questioned every em[illegible]. Strindle was examined longest because of being in the cage. When finished, the janitor realized he dare not quit. He must do nothing to direct suspicion to him. He followed his routine without deviation. But the following night, while drinking his customary beer, he received disturbing news.

Charlie, the taproom owner, related [illegible] an investigator from a credit company had questioned him about Strindle's character and finances. It was difficult for Strindle to keep from showing the fear he felt. Because, he had ordered no merchandise. He casually questioned Charlie, having him describe the supposed credit investigator. From that description he recognized the insurance detective.

Arriving home, Strindle's landlady added to his anxiety by telling almost the same story. In this instance, the detective had posed as a furniture representative. He explained that Strindle had ordered a suite and had sent him to appraise the old furniture for trade-in value. She had shown him to the janitor's rooms, then continued with her housework. From her description, he again recognized the detective. Going upstairs, he discoverd his apartment had been care[illegible] and thoroughly searched.

Next morning when Strindle [illegible]ed his locker to get cleaning equipment he was shocked to discover that even those things had been searched. The janitor sighed, knowing [illegible] must be done. He forced himself to forget about that money. Forget it until the time arrived for his [illegible] cleaning behind the Teller's desk.

On that day Strindle, as usual, began dusting behind it. Suddenly he uttered a surprised whistle. The employees glanced up from their work at him. He beckoned them over and pointed to the pack of currency for them to move the desk, to retrieve the money, to summon the president.

While explanations were being made the insurance [illegible] to make his daily report to [illegible] president and was informed of the discovery. He made no comment... merely looked intently at the janitor. That scrutiny was sufficient.

Strindle shuddered. He now knew he was cured forever of coveting that which was not earned honestly.

Married School Boy Thrashed

LONDON.—Death of Lady Lytton, widow of Sir Henry Lytton, Gilbert and Sullivan actor, prompted this story from Hannen Swaffer in the People newspaper.

Sir Henry was only 17 when, playing truant from school for the day, he married. The honeymoon was a drive around Hyde Park after which Sir Henry returned to school.

"Where have you been?" asked his schoolmaster.

"Getting married," he explained.

"You're going to get a thrashing."

"You can't flog a married man," he protested.

"Bend over," said the master.

Sir Henry said he did.

MANPOWER SHORTAGE CAUSE

PASSAIC, N.J.—Police Chief Edward Boyko won't let his men take off-duty jobs as bar room bouncers any more.

Too many have been beaten up, he said, causing a manpower shortage on the force.

ESKIMO ORDAINED—First Eskimo to gain this honor in Alaska, Roy Ahmaogak, seen here, was ordained into the ministry of the Presbyterian church at Barrow, Alaska. He returned from a year's special study in the U.S., during which he translated the Gospel of St. Mark and the Epistle to the Romans into the Barrow dialect of Eskimo.

Veteran Carpenter Makes Violins

BADGER, Ia.—Carsten M. Bendix, 80-year-old carpenter, turns his skill to an odd use in his off-hours.

During his free time, this octogenarian, who has built hundreds of homes, barns, corn-cribs and granaries in his neighborhood, turns to his craft hobby—making violins.

In 50 years he has made 50 violins.

Bendix shaped his first violin as a boy of 12 in his native Bodo, Norway, and he probably never would have started if his family was financially able to buy him one.

Later, when he arrived in the United States shortly before the turn of the century, Bendix bought books on violin making, and followed his hobby earnestly to this day.

Stockholm Leads Europe In Boom

STOCKHOLM. — There is nothing like Stockholm anywhere in Europe —this glittering capital where nearly everything is bountiful.

It is a remarkable contrast to come here from Paris, with all its troubles, and from London, with almost as many, to find Swedes living much better than other Europeans—better even than the Swiss and Belgians, who do not complain much.

Downtown Stockholm is aflame with neon. Stores are filled with the finest goods—some rationed, but not rigorously by European standards. There is plenty of unrationed new clothing, and Sweden is the best-dressed nation in Europe.

Hotels give fine service and are packed with European tourists and business men.

But Sweden in its prosperity has run into some grief. She has been importing too many luxury goods and her foreign exchange reserve was dwindling until the Government suddenly clamped down on the import licensing system recently to curb excess imports.

Import controls jolted Sweden, but not so much as another regulation re-imposing coffee rationing. Coffee to the Swedish is what beer is to the Englishman, and one hears more bitter words about coffee rationing than any other subject.

It is relaxing at least to be in a country where the tempest whirls about coffee instead of food, clothing, and dollars.

Sweden's boom may not last. There are rumors—denied by the Bank of Sweden—that the kroner may have to be devaluated. But Stockholm still is the finest journeys-end I have found on this side of the Atlantic.

REMARKABLE MEMORY MASTER IN RUSSIA

The mental feats of a Russian who "probably possesses the strongest memory of all men" were reported from Moscow.

The memory master is Solomon Shereshevsky, reported in a Tass despatch to be able to quote accurately anything he heard 10 to 12 years ago.

"He can easily remember any number of words or digits, equally easy he memorizes whole pages from books on any subject and in any language and for quite a long time at that," the despatch said.

Claysmore Clippings

A. Van Neet is building a new house, the walls being made from squared logs. This makes a very fine looking building and the Van Neet's hope to move into their new home within a short time.

W. Antrim and daughter Jackie accompanied the Mannville Bluebirds softball team to Calgary to play for the Alberta championship. Mr. Antrim is coach of the team and Jackie plays centre field.

Miss Beverly Vane spent several days last week visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Lynch.

Miss Evelyn French of Vancouver, B.C., was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Seymour last week and left for home on Saturday. Miss French is well remembered in this district as she taught the Claysmore school some years ago.

Miss Grace Stewart who has a position in Edmonton spent the holiday week end of Aug. 2-4 visiting at the home of her mother Mrs. G. Stewart north of Claysmore.

W. Antrim has a new Dodge truck which he will use on his school van route of Claysmore and Ramsay.

A. Van Neet and L. McCrae have bought a small combine to help with the harvest work.

The municipality have started work on the road north from Claysmore corner. The road is being widened and made higher through the low spots. This promises a great improvement as this is the main outlet for farmers from the north. It is hoped that it can also be gravelled and thus made into an all weather road. It has been badly needed for years.

R. D. Lynch returned home from a business trip to Wisconsin and has a new Buick car.

Mr. and Mrs. V. Eaton spent a holiday visiting friends and relatives at Edmonton and Calgary.

Bowtell Bulletin

We certainly missed our good old Standard the past two weeks but sincerely hope the Editor and staff enjoyed a nice holiday.

The writer wishes to thank all those who so kindly helped with the barn dance. Everyone there was pleased to see Mr. and Mrs. Young and Barbara from B.C. among those present. They farmed quite a number of years ago south of the Bowtell school.

A group of 26 travelled 52 miles north last Sunday for a fishing trip. The crops north are real ones and the wild raspberries are plentiful but that same night a big hail storm swept through that area and ruined many crops and gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal Coutts of Rolla, B.C. have been visiting here for the past 2 weeks. They farmed here nearly 30 years ago on the land now owned by Albert Van den Dolder. Mr. Coutts' mother has been ill for the past year. Mrs. Coutts' sister, Mrs. Riedale, lives at Borradaile.

The dance at the school Wednesday evening was well attended and Happy Birthday was sung for one present who was celebrating his anniversary that day (do you feel any older Gilbert?). It was nice to have Mr. and Mrs. J. Miller and the Coutts family of B.C. present. Another dance Friday Aug. 22nd at Bowtell and that will probably be the last for awhile as harvest will thereafter be in full swing.

Mr. Robertson of Onion Lake was a visitor at the writer's home recently. He made his first trip from Edmonton to Vermilion with the late Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sherwood in 1904 by wagon. We certainly enjoyed his visit and hearing of old times hereabouts. He visited a number of old timers while here.

Summer Weddings

LINDROTH—LARSEN

Before an altar picturesquely banked with gladioli, snapdragons, ferns and assorted summer flowers at Auburndale United church July 23rd the marriage took place of Cora Mae, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. K. Larsen of Vermilion, to Mr. Sigurd Emanuel Lindroth, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. Lindroth of Banff. Rev. MacLeod of Mannville performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of nylon marquisette, the shirred bodice featuring a sweetheart neckline. Short puff sleeves were complimented by elbow length lace mittens. The flared skirt was gracefully accentuated by rippling ruffles which draped vertically to the hemline. Her sequined full-length veil was caught to a beaded crown and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Mrs. Walter Lindroth attended as matron of honour and Miss Norma Gibbons as bridesmaid. Mrs. Lindroth wore a floor-length nylon marquisette gown of a delicate blue shade and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Miss Gibbons chose coral dawn taffeta. Carnations comprised her bouquet.

Little Louis Lindroth gowned in pale blue net carried a basket of sweet peas.

Groomsmen were Mr. Walter Lindroth, brother of the groom, and Mr. Gordon Larsen, brother of the bride. Mrs. F. W. Tufler of Henley, sister of the bride played the wedding music and during the signing of the register Mr. T. Watt sang "I'll Walk Beside You". Ushers were Mr. Cecil Kennedy and Mr. Everett Carlson.

A reception for the guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Larsen, mother of the bride received in a silver grey crepe dress with toned accessories and American Beauty roses corsage.

Laid in ecru lace the brides' table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake and tall tapers.

Toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Gordon Hume.

The groom served four years' active service with the Royal Canadian Army.

For going away the bride donned a dusky rose dress topped with black coat and black accessories.

The newlyweds will reside at Banff.

MIDGLEY—KING

On Friday July 11th the United church manse Vermilion, was the scene of a quiet wedding when Elsie Mary, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. King, Courtenay, B.C. became the bride of Mr. Colin Midgley. Rev. E.S. Reikie officiated.

For her marriage the bride wore an afternoon dress of pale blue jersey with white accessories. Her corsage was pink roses. Mrs. John Porter, sister of the bride was matron of honour wearing an afternoon dress of printed sheer with matching accessories and corsage of pink roses. Mr. John Porter was best man.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, where relatives and friends gathered. The bride's mother Mrs. Wm. King who attended the wedding from Courtenay, B.C. chose a black crepe [illegible] and corsage of red roses.

The bride's table was laid with white linen and decorated with pink streamers. A three tiered wedding cake centred the table with ivory tapers and bouquets of peonies on each side. Mrs. W. [illegible] served at the table.

A toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. W. [illegible] Porter to which the groom graciously responded.

The following morning the happy young couple left for a honeymoon in Banff. For travelling the bride chose a navy tailored suit, white blouse and hat; her coat was a turquoise blue shortie.

Upon their return they will reside in Hazeldine where Colin will take up duties in the garage. They both wish to express their sincere thanks for all the lovely gifts and congratulations they received.

A philosophy can be drawn up in words but an ideology must be built up with people.

We need to make family life more businesslike and business more like family.

HITTLE—STEWART

The Vermilion Alliance chapel was the scene of a very attractive wedding Tuesday July 22nd when Miss Grace Elizabeth Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Stewart of Vermilion, became the bride of Mr. Lewis Ormal Hittle, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Hittle, of Chinook, Alberta. Rev. E.A. Phillipps officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white silk net over taffeta made with a bouffant skirt. The bodice featured a square neckline and short puffed sleeves, which were complemented by long lace mittens. Her silk-embroidered veil terminated in a slight train and was held in place by a white braided coronet. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, gift of the groom, and she carried a bouquet of pink Tea roses and carnations.

Miss Evelyn Green attended as bridesmaid, wearing a gown of pastel pink sheer embroidered eyelet. She wore long nylon gloves and a picture hat of matching eyelet trimmed with a large satin bow. Her bouquet was of pale pink carnations.

Best man was Mr. Walter Spreeman, of Olds, and the ushers were Mr. Albert Mix and Mr. Keith Hetherington. Mrs. E. Phillipps played the wedding music and during the signing of the register Miss Dorothy Hilgreth, of Red Deer, sang "Together With Him".

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Stewart chose a black afternoon dress with a bodice of embroidered net complemented by a black hat trimmed with white flowers. Red rosebuds completed her ensemble.

After the ceremony a reception was held in George's Lower Deck, where the bride's table was laid in white linen and centred with a tiered wedding cake flanked by carnations and white tapers.

Mr. Phillipps proposed the toast to the bride.

The newlyweds left later on a wedding trip to Jasper, Banff and Calgary, the bride travelling in a fuchsia gabardine suit topped with a black gabardine shortie coat and black and white accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias.

On return Mr. and Mrs. Hittle will be at home in Lacombe.

Franchise Agreement Given Third Reading

A special meeting of the town council was held July 21st with Mayor Morrison and Crs. Boake, Dawson, Kehoe, Stark, Stephens, Urquhart present.

The meeting was called for readings of By-law 6-47 — Canadian Utilities Franchise agreement.

By-law 6-47 was given third reading and finally passed.

Franchise Agreement was duly signed and sealed by the Mayor and Secretary-Treasurer.

Meeting adjourned.

WOODVALE

Going away back to July 1st the [illegible] point was a great [illegible].

Mr. and Mrs. Hattner of [illegible] had a most pleasant visit from their daughter Margaret (Mrs. [illegible]) who with her husband and young [illegible] came all the way from New Brunswick [illegible] truck for the visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kottmeier [illegible] time ago went by car to visit the [illegible] er's sister Mrs. Wolters at [illegible] and friends and relatives at Wetaskiwin, Pigeon Lake and Edmonton.

Chris Thomson, Ruby [illegible] and Hazel took a vacation trip by car to Edmonton then through the Rockies via Jasper and Banff and back through Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. Haan returned from Lacombe were they will move to a farm at the end of August. Their many friends in the Tolland, [illegible]ville, Woodvale districts will be very sorry to see them go but wish them every success in their new place. Mr. Haan will manage a farm for a local merchant about three miles north of Lacombe along the main highway.

Mrs. E. Pettinger sons Bob and [illegible] spent a week at the farm of F. Van Waeningen. Bob also stayed several days with his Woodvale friends, John, Frate and Jimmy Isley.

WEDDING BELLS

FUNNELL—DRIVER

A pretty wedding of local interest was solemnized in the United church manse, Wetaskiwin, on Friday, July 25 when Jacobia Driver, formerly of [illegible] Holland became the bride of Kenneth K. Funnell of Minnedosa, formerly of Vermilion.

The bride was lovely in floor length gown of white triple sheer crepe and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

The matron of honor was the groom's sister, Mrs. Fred Doyle, who wore [illegible] blue with a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Fred Doyle attended the groom.

Those present at the ceremony were Mrs. Russell Powers, sister of the groom, and a group of friends from Minnedosa.

ISLAY

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Young accompanied by Carol Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. W. Purvis returned Aug. 5th from a motor trip to Calgary and Youngstown. Harry's father Mr. George Young was visiting a niece at Youngstown and some time was spent with him and other friends there.

Miss Lang of the Vermilion agricultural school staff is giving a lecture and demonstration in the Islay church Friday afternoon Aug. 15th. Everyone is welcome. A silver tea will be served after the lecture. Miss Lang is to choose her own subject and everyone may rest assured that it will be both interesting and educational.

Mrs. Searle of Saskatoon is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Fyfe.

Mrs. Drury of Minburn spent several days recently with her niece Mrs. Potvin. Mr. and Mrs. French of Vermilion spent Sunday at the Potvin home and Mrs. Drury returned with them.

Mrs. C. C. Mitchell held a silver tea at her home with proceeds in aid of the W.M.S. The tea was well patronized and $10 was realized. A very generous lunch was served.

The regular meeting of the W. A. of the United church was held at the home of Mrs. Victor Torrance on Aug. 6th. It was well attended and much enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Bristow have their daughters Mrs. Chas. Clement of Saskatoon and Mrs. Geo. Schurman formerly of Peace River and their children holidaying at their home. Mrs. Schurman will move to Barrhead this year where her husband has been engaged on the high school teaching staff.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Inman were Edmonton visitors last week.

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Iguslds of the passing away of Mr. Al Lewis in Vancouver. He lived in Islay for many years and his family attended school here. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis moved from here to Flin Flon where two of the children George and Anna still live. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis moved to B.C. last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott and little son have been spending their holidays visiting the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. R. Martin and also with Mr. and Mrs. W. Hancock and the Dave Martins. Mr. Scott returned to Saskatoon last week but Mrs. Scott and son are staying here for a while longer. Miss Margaret Martin of Edmonton arrived on Aug. 2nd and spent a week visiting the same families.

Misses Muriel and Gladys Stone motored to Edmonton Aug. 5th and spent a week there.

Mrs. Hilda Iceland of Toronto who earlier this summer made a trip to Vancouver spent three weeks in Islay and district renewing her many old acquaintances. While here she was a guest at the homes of Mrs. [illegible] Mitchell and Mrs. Thos. Bothwell. She left on her trip home Aug. HUNT—BRAYLEY

Archdeacon G. R. Calvert officiated at a wedding July 15th at St. Matthew's Anglican church when Margaret Isobel Brayley plighted her troth to James Kenneth Hunt.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Brayley, Wainwright, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Hunt, Vermilion, Alberta.

Mrs. G. E. Roberts was matron of honor and Miss J. Pierce, cousin of the bride, was bridal attendant. Clive Hunt was best man.

A reception was held at the St. Regis hotel. Following a wedding trip to Edmonton and Vermilion Mr. and Mrs. Hunt will reside at Clyde River, Baffin Island, North West Territories.

Preparedness For Peace

IT HAS BEEN DISTRESSING to peace-loving people throughout the world to hear discussions in many quarters regarding the possibility of a third world war. Until the latter part of the summer of 1939 there still remained people in the democratic countries who were unable to believe that we were on the verge of war, and it is equally difficult now to accept the fact that another war may already be in the making. Whether this is the case or not, the fact is now almost universally acknowledged that world disarmament is not the key to world peace, and it is not likely that any powerful nation will ever again be unprepared against aggression as were Britain and the United States at the outbreak of the last war.

* * * * *

World Fears Atom Bomb Many thoughtful people are now of the opinion that any nation which is well prepared for war is unlikely to be attacked, and certainly, as more and more is heard of the development of new methods of warfare, it would appear almost incredible that any nation should launch an attack, knowing the type of weapons which might be used in retaliation. Although the whole world fears the terrible results of atomic warfare it may be that the atom bomb will be a means of preserving peace since any country would surely hesitate to use such weapons against an enemy who could retaliate in the same way.

* * * * *

Canada Will Do Her Share In the Canadian House of Commons recently Hon. Brooke Claxton, Minister of National Defense, stated that if an international security force is established "Canada will assume her obligations along with other nations." Mr. Claxton spoke in Winnipeg, in the course of an inspection trip through Western Canada, and he reported that the navy and air force are up to strength and the army is about two-thirds of its full strength. The fact that Canadian armed forces are not being allowed to become disorganized, and that we are keeping abreast of the times in regard to the scientific aspect of war, does not mean that Canadians are preparing for another war. There is no place where war is regarded with more distaste than in this country, but the Canadian people have also realized the fact that being prepared in time of peace might be the means of averting [illegible].

MAN MAY LIVE 150 YEARS PREDICT TWO SCIENTISTS

RENSSELAER, N.Y. — Medical science is faced with the challenge to give man health so he can live to be 125 to 150 years, two scientists in research have concluded.

The combined statement was made by Dr. Theodore L. Klumpp, president of the Winthrop Chemical Co., and Dr. Maurice L. Tainter, director of the Sterling-Winthrop Research Institute.

"The success of our efforts to prolong existence to this supposed natural life span depends upon our ability to maintain the life line of blood supply to the body tissues," Dr. Klumpp said. "Few die from old age; they die prematurely from degenerate diseases.

"With advances already made and without the benefit of spectacular discoveries that might come from research laboratories, it has been optimistically predicted that there will not be less than 21,000,000 people 65 years or older in the United States in 1980."

VERY LARGE ORDER

The Kingston Whig-Standard says engineers are said to be working to eliminate everything which would distract automobile drivers. This strikes us as the largest order the engineers have ever undertaken, and it might eventually lead to built-in blinkers and ear-plugs for drivers, with handcuffs and gags for passengers.

Paris Model Agency Lack Mannequins

PARIS.—France is facing its most critical shortage yet — a dearth of beautiful girls.

That is the opinion of Marcel Renville, president of the largest Paris model agency, who is in a dither wondering where he will find enough beautiful girls to act as mannequins in the fall collections.

"Beautiful women simply don't exist in France any more," Renville sighed. "Out of every hundred I see, only one really qualifies for the job of fashion model."

- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- ½ cup chopped nutmeats
- 3 eggs, separated
- ½ cup sugar
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 cup whipping cream

Melt butter in heavy frying pan. Crush cereal into fine crumbs; stir into melted butter with brown sugar and nutmeats. Cook, stirring constantly until sugar melts and caramelizes slightly. Cool.

Beat egg yolks and sugar in top of double boiler until thick and creamy. Cook over hot water about 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Stir in lemon juice, cool.

Beat egg whites until stiff; fold in the cooled egg yolk mixture and whipped cream. Pour into freezing tray which has been lined with waxed paper. Sprinkle crunch mixture over top. Freeze until firm. Cut in squares. Yield 8 servings.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

CRITICISM

Criticism, as it was first instituted by Aristotle, was meant as a standard of judging well. - Johnson.

Justly to discriminate, firmly to establish, wisely to prescribe, and honestly to award - these are the true aims and duties of criticism. - [illegible]

Criticism is the child and handmaid of reflection. It works by censure, and censure implies a standard. - R. W. [illegible]

You do not get a man's most effective criticism until you provoke him. Severe truth is expressed with some bitterness. - H. D. Thoreau.

What is merciful censure? To make thy faults appear smaller? Maybe to veil them? No, no! O'er them to raise thee on high. - Goethe.

No matter where or how you use this Pinwheel square you'll find it's a compliment catcher. Make luncheon cloths, doilies, scarfs, napkins.

If you want to make the squares sturdily use string; for daintiness use No. 30 cotton. Pattern 7316 has directions for square stitches.

To obtain this pattern send twenty-five cents in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) to Household Arts Department, Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermot Avenue E., Winnipeg, Man. Be sure to write plainly your Name, Address and Pattern Number.

Old Problem Will Never Be Solved

The Niagara Falls Review makes this comment: A writer in a British newspaper suggests that wives of ministers as well as the ministers themselves should be tested before a call is made to any church and it opens up an old and great problem.

We have known girls who have shied away from marrying ministers, though they liked the men themselves. They had seen what sometimes happens to ministers' wives. If they dress too well, it is subject of comment; if they don't they are dowdy. If they take a lead in church affairs, they are trying to run the church; if they don't they are criticized as lazy.

We have never been able to see why a minister's wife should be expected to carry half of her husband's load when in other callings he has to carry it himself. There are arguments on both sides of course, for obviously a vain and shallow woman married to a minister may make his task more difficult, but, on the other hand, a minister's wife is entitled to some privacy and should be able to spend her time, like other women, in the big job of running her home and raising her family. We have known ministers' wives who kept their husbands up to scratch and the latter would have been of little good without them. It is a subject upon which there can and always will be wide discussion.

Children should never be forced to eat fat. With most of them it entirely disagrees and does not digest, so that it is a natural instinct in them to dislike it.

FUNNY And OTHERWISE

The farmer's wife had a very sharp tongue, but one day he got a rest from her nagging. A farm horse kicked her so badly that she had to go to hospital for treatment.

During her absence there was an unusual run of callers at the farm.

"It's very nice of the neighbors, especially the men, to call and ask after the missus," the farmer remarked to the servant-girl.

"Ay, sir," replied the girl; "but most of them want to know if you'd sell the horse."

* * * *

Miss Vane: "Some one told me today that I was the handsomest girl in the street."

Miss Spite: "Oh, that's not incredible!"

Miss Vane: "What do you mean?"

Miss Spite: "Your habit of talking to yourself."

* * * *

"I hear your cook has rather an amorous disposition."

"Yes, if she can't get up a flirtation with the milkman, she starts mashing the potatoes."

* * * *

"I understand she married a struggling young man."

"Yes, he struggled, but he couldn't get away."

* * * *

"Sorry, miss," replied the conductor, "but don't you worry; you can pay me the fourpence another time."

"But you may never see me again."

"Well, what's the odds?" he said, meaning to be gallant. "It won't break my heart if I don't."

* * * *

"That is a nice dog. Is he intelligent?"

"Intelligent is not the word for him. Yesterday, when I went out I stood still and said to him, 'Fido, what have we forgotten?'"

"Did he run back and get it?"

"No, he sat down and scratched behind his ear. He was wondering what it could be."

* * * *

A man was running along the strand shouting at the top of his voice: "No! No! Certainly not!"

A policeman stopped him and said: "Here, you, what's the idea?"

"It's all right, officer," was the reply. "I'm a 'Yes' man on holiday."

* * * *

Little Tommy was invited to have another piece of cake, but said, "No, thank you."

"You must be suffering from loss of appetite," said his aunt, but Tommy replied with a sigh:

"No, it isn't loss of appetite, it's politeness I'm suffering from."

* * * *

The taxi was a very ancient one and had taken a long time to reach its destination.

As the passenger paid his fare he remarked,

"How do you manage when your fare is in a desperate hurry?"

"Ah," said the driver, confidentially. "I keeps on changin' me gears and 'oldin' me 'ooter."

Had To Vote In Western Australia

Years ago, in Western Australia, the biggest, million-square-mile Australian State, ballots were distributed and returned by what was known as the Mulga Mail. It was named after the sturdy but stunted Mulga trees that covered the wide, dry inland and northern areas, and it consisted of the relays of native runners, who tirelessly carried the precious papers across plains and hills to the distant mining camps and sheep and cattle stations. Last year, the Electoral Officer reports, air transport solved most of his difficulties, and most candidates, too, used planes. But in some places in the far Northwest, camels and pack-horses had to be used beyond the end of the motor tracks. In South Australia, also, camels were used. In the bare interior is the little opal-mining town of Coober Pedy, where all the homes and even the bank and the post office, are in underground caverns, hidden from the blazing heat. In good weather, automobiles go out to Coober Pedy, but when there is a drought—and the place is well in the drought country—the camels march again.

TALK ABOUT QUESTIONS

(Compiled by the father of a four-year-old boy, who expected his questions answered.)

Where is far away. Where do flies live? How much is a lot? How do we get mad? What makes the wind? When was last night? Does the rain sleep? What makes talk come out of my mouth? Who took care of me when Mummy was a little girl? What do mosquitoes eat? Do my bones make my eyes wink? Why can't mother rabbits cook? What is behind my eyes? Why do things hurt? How high is up?—Mechanix Digest.

New DDT COATING for Screens, Garbage Cans, etc.

Green Cross* *Reg'd Trade-mark

CERTICIDE

5% DDT Varnish

KILLS THE FLIES — LASTS FOR WEEKS

It's difficult to spray a wire screen with DDT—the deposit is not sufficient to do the job.

Now Green Cross brings you a product specially developed for this purpose—a colourless liquid coating which can be easily applied with a brush. CERTICIDE brushes on easily like a clear varnish and dries quickly. It leaves a 5% DDT deposit on the screen sufficient to kill flies, mosquitoes or other insects lighting on it for months. Also suitable for garbage cans, baseboards, verandah furniture and woodwork, etc.

V.S.A. Alumni Hold Annual Re-union

ATTENDED BY [illegible]

The Vermilion school of agriculture was the scene of one of the most successful annual summer re-unions ever held when staff members, graduates, ex-students, their families and friends gathered for the occasion. The first evening's activity was a theatre party and rousing sing-song. The following day an Alumni meeting was held during the afternoon, with Laur Blades, Chauvin, and Mary Hawreluk formerly of Wasel, now both members of the staff, presiding. Plans were made to have a membership drive throughout the coming year so as to have funds for the annual Memorial Scholarship fund. Next year's re-union will be held at the school again, as this was thought the logical place to hold it.

Election of officers took place and the new executive includes Mr W. J. Elliott, Vancouver, and former principal as Honorary President; Florent Van Wageningen, Vermilion, President, Josephine McLaughlin, Vermilion Vice President, Laurie Blades, Secretary-Treasurer.

At 7 p.m. covers were laid for about 125 at a banquet prepared by Miss Margaret Brown formerly of Minburn, and now also a member of the V.S.A. staff, Mr Percy Cross and their efficient staff. Miss M Hawreluk, retiring vice-president presided in the absence of the retiring president, Stanley Gould of Rosalind. Mr S. H Gandier former principal, and superintendent of agricultural schools, conveyed greetings from the Provincial Dept. of Agriculture. Mr. N. N. Bentley, present principal introduced all those at the head table as well as expressing the wish that all are welcome to visit the school at any time. Dr J. Howe of the Animal Husbandry Dept. of the University of Alberta, was guest speaker, giving a very interesting talk on Jamaica, where he spent a number of years as head of a school there operated on similar lines to our school here.

After the banquet approximately 300 attended the 'Summer Rose Ball' in the exquisitely rose-decorated gym where they danced to the music of Joe Lubue and his popular orchestra of Vegreville. Those in the crowd represented many points including Bon Accord, Edmonton, Provost, Vegreville, Tofield, Kitscoty, Lloydminster, Falgan, Wainwright, Dewberry, St. Paul, Paradise Valley, Camrose, Mannville and Vancouver. The school song and yell were on the agenda during the evening's dancing. Mr Wally Guy of the studio of Photographic Arts, Vermilion, was present taking many photos throughout the entire celebration.

July Bride Honored At Shower

In honor of Mrs. S. Lindroth (nee Cora Larsen) a recent bride, Mrs. Joe Hart, Mrs. H. Haverslew and Miss Norma Gibbons entertained at a kitchen shower July 14th at the home of Mrs Joe Hart.

Entertainment was provided by Miss Gibbons and everyone joined in the fun.

Little Nadine Hart dressed as a flower girl presented the gifts to the bride who graciously thanked all present.

A delicious lunch served by the hostesses concluded a very enjoyable evening.

Roy Newman Is Big Winner At St. Paul Stampede

Roy Newman of Vermilion was the top money rider of the St. Paul 2-day Stampede last week rolling up the tidy sum of $195 in prizes but was forced to give a scintillating exhibition to do it. His prizes included 1st in saddle bronk riding, 2nd in bare back riding, 2nd in wild horse race, 2nd in saddle riding. Other winners from this area were Ernie Rudd Vermilion, Henry Trenzik Clandonald, Glen Elliott Clandonald, E. Newman, Vermilion, Bob Daniels, Dewberry.

Mannville-Vermilion Calf Club Prize Winners Announced

ANNE JAREMCO SELLS HIGH-PRICED CALF

A Shorthorn heifer calf fed and shown by Anne Jaremco of Derwent got the Championship at the Vermilion-Mannville Calf show. This calf was later bought for 37 cents per pound by Gainers Ltd.

The reserve champion calf was shown by Jimmy Armstrong of Vermilion. This Aberdeen Angus steer was bought by W. E. Cross for the same price as the champion.

The sale average was 19¾ cents per pound for 33 calves. The buyers were Gainers Ltd., 4; Swift Canadian Co., 11; Intercontinental Pork Packers, 7, Canada Packers, 10; Craig Bros, 2.

The judge was Jas. Johnson of Edmonton and the auctioneer was Chester Gamble of Mannville. Showmanship awards were placed by D. A. Andrew and S. G. Freeborn.

In the Mannville club Philip Warrilow had the champion and Tommy Gilbert the Reserve.

Special prizes were donated and awarded as follows:

Vermilion club—1st, show halter by Long's Drug store to Jim Armstrong; 2nd, show halter by Messrs. McClellan and Heckbert to Beverly Baldock.

For showmanship, Mannville club —1st, General Electric radio donated — 1st, General Electric radio donated Dannie Swain. This club member also won the W. R. Cornish special show halter for the first year member who obtained the most points for showmanship and fitting and Mannville Motors special prize of a box of S wrenches. The Harold Warrilow special for second prize in Showmanship and fitting went to Bruce McDonald. This boy also won the Bodart and Stuart special.

The Mannville Hotel silver tray for the forlorn hope prize was awarded to Bruce Bennett. This prize indicated that the winner had done everything possible to finish his calf but the calf lacked type and feeding ability.

Herbert Gilbert was awarded the set of S wrenches donated by C. Rose for the smallest calf. James McCauley gave a sack of calf meal to the youngest member. The winner is not ascertained as yet. Eric Thorne contributed a sack of calf meal which was awarded to Cumberland Clark.

Shorthorn specials were awarded as follows: W. L. Robinson, $5 to Annie Jaremco, J. L. Kerns, $3 to Tommy Gilbert W. D. Williams, $2 to Bill Jaremco.

Hereford specials were donated by the Hereford breeders of the district and were awarded to Philip Warrilow $5, Alex Schorkopies $2 and Billy Hart $2.

Aberdeen Angus prizes — Jim Armstrong $5, Bev Baldock $3, Wm. Walker $2. Prizes were donated by W. E. Cross and Geo. Webb and Sons.

In the calf judging competition conducted by J. L. Kerns Philip Warrilow was first for the Mannville club and Wm. Walker for the Vermilion club.

District Agriculturist E. H. Buckingham and his assistant Cameron Hay had charge of arrangements. Club leaders Chester Gamble and W. L. Robinson handled the Mannville and Vermilion clubs respectively.

40 Albertans Killed In Motor Accidents

Alberta had 40 fatalities in motor accidents in 1946, which was less than any other western province, according to figures compiled at Ottawa.

Nevertheless, officials of the Alberta Motor Association are continuing to stress the need for greater safety on the highways in order to reduce the accident total this year.

It is realized that with the motor traffic volume continuing to mount the risk of a greater number of accidents is proportionately increased. But this can be reduced to a minimum by the exercising of still greater driving care.

Safety weeks are being organized or have been carried out in different parts of the province, while police officers are giving their full cooperation. Educational [illegible] contribute in large measure to safety education, but this must be backed up by the wholehearted co-operation of all to ensure the best possible results.

The A.M.A. is conducting its year round safety campaign, paying no small part in aiding to lessen the number of motor accidents in the province.

Supplemental Exams. Now Under Way

Department of Education supplemental examinations commenced at the Vermilion high school on Wednesday Aug. 20th and continue at the rate of 2 per day until the 27th. Principal F. H. Walker of the public school is supervising.

Notables Visit Air Field

Travelling by air Mr. Fred E. Cooper world field representative of the Allis Chalmers Manufacturing Co., Paul S. Hedrick, oil editor of "The World" both of Tulsa, Oklahoma, and H. B. Dlozen, the Allis Chalmers representative in Canada, arrived in Vermilion Thursday evening last by twin-engined Cessna and spent Friday here. On the way they had visited Turner Valley and Leduc oil fields and looked over Lloydminster developments from the air.

Golf Tournament At Vegreville on Labor Day Week-end

The Vegreville Golf club are holding their annual open golf tournament over the Labor Day week end Aug. 31 and Sept. 1st and all Vermilion golfers are invited to attend. All entries should be in the hands of the secretary, Archie Little, not later than Sunday morning at 9.30 Aug. 31.

FLOWERSHOW CANCELLED

On account of the unusually dry weather during the past few weeks it was decided by the Horticultural Society to cancel the Flower and Vegetable show for 1947.

It is hoped that water on the end of a hose in 1948 will ensure a good supply of flowers and vegetables for a bigger and better show than ever before in Vermilion.

Excellent Results in High School Exams.

Excellent results which will probably prove much higher than the average percentage in the province, were secured by Vermilion high students in the June examinations. These departmental exams are written by students of grade 9 and 12.

In grade nine, 25 students wrote with the following results: 2 honor students; 13 with A; 6 with B; 4 with C.

Grade 12 students wrote 109 papers with the following results: Honor marks were secured on 11 of the papers; 19 A; 55 B, 20 C; 4 D.

B or better is matriculation requirement for pass. C or better is credit toward a high school diploma.

H means a mark of 80 to 100; A from 65 to 79; B from 50 to 64; C 40 to 49; D 0 to 39.

Mannville Bluebirds In Fastball Finals

DEFEAT CALGARY TWO GAMES

Mannville Bluebirds advanced to the final of the Alberta intermediate ladies fastball playoff by defeating Calgary Legionettes in both games of a doubleheader played at Mannville Sunday afternoon.

Scores of the games were 7-2 and 6-2. Mannville now plays Lethbridge for the provincial title.

Calgary won the opening game a week previously at Calgary by 9-7 only to see the northern champions stage a comeback to win the series.

The Mannville team had one big inning in each game scoring four runs in the third in the first game and bunching their hits for a five-run rally in the 7th inning of the second game.

Florence Seal pitched both games for Mannville with Mrs Mickey Emmett catching. This battery gave a superlative display. Ramsay did double duty for Calgary Legionettes with Reynolds catching.

The highlights were the base running of Jacale Antrim, the throwing of Catcher Emmett to all the bases, the [illegible] of Stadelm at third and to first and the display of fielding given by Shortstop Dorothy [illegible].

Very large crowds attended both games with cars parked closely together and completely surrounding the diamond.

Wally Antrim coaches the Mannville team.

Score by games was as follows:

1st Game

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	T
Calgary	0	1	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	2
Mannville	1	0	[illegible]	0	1	1	0	0	x	7

2nd Game

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	T
Calgary	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	2
Mannville	0	[illegible]	0	1	0	0	5	[illegible]	x	6

Little Girl Dies In Shooting Accident

Islay and district residents were shocked and saddened by the accidental shooting and death of little Sheilagh Carey, four-year-old daughter of Mr and Mrs. Lawrence J. Carey, on Tuesday.

Apparently Sheilagh and her seven-year-old brother Tommy were playing around the house and got hold of a shotgun. The gun went off, the discharge striking the little girl. She was taken to the hospital but died shortly after. The parents were absent from the home at the time.

Funeral services will be held Saturday morning August 23rd at the Holy Name Catholic church, Vermilion at 11 o'clock.

ALL STARS TRIM HOLDEN 7 TO 2

Vermilion All Stars played brilliant ball at Holden in the first game on Sunday to win handily 7 runs to 2 and thus tie up the series for the Northern Alberta Intermediate B championship. Neil Webb pitched and Bob Dinsmore caught.

Holden won the first game of the series here on the Sunday previous also the exhibition game played the same day. According to the rules if for any reason the third game cannot be played or is a tie, the series is decided by the result of the exhibition game. Apparently feeling that the series was slipping from their grasp, the Holden team took advantage of unsettled weather to stall off the final game. They finally commenced playing but it was further delayed twice by showers and ultimately called at the end of the 7th with the score tied at 5-5. This meant that Holden would win the series and fastball championship.

After serious consideration the local team decided to protest on the grounds that ample time was available to complete the game had not the delaying tactics been adopted by the Holden team. A very strong case has been forwarded to the officials.

TOWN HOUSES CHANGE HANDS

ESTEEMED CITIZENS TO LEAVE

Two real estate transactions completed within the past week which have come to the attention of the Standard are the sale of the residence of [illegible] Bossard in the west end of town to Mr Billie Pilkie and the purchase of the Leo McCulloch residence in the east end by Mr Ted Isley.

Mr and Mrs Leo M[illegible] and Evelyn go to Edmonton this week end. Since the discovery of oil at Leduc and with the present exploration work taking place around the city Mr McCulloch's work is centering largely in Edmonton.

Both families are highly esteemed locally and their departures are generally regretted by a very large circle of friends.

"GREEN ACRES"

HARVEST HELP

Arrangements have been made for 200 Ontario harvesters to come into this district. The first lot should be here by Aug. 25. Anyone requiring help should place an order with your D.A. Wages this year as agreed by farm organizations will be $5.50 for stooking and $6.50 for threshing.

CUTTING BARLEY

It has been my observation that a lot of the barley in this district is cut too green. If left a little longer the kernels fill out better and threshing is easier. There may not be so much advantage in leaving barley this year on account of the drought but should it rain soon barley and other grain also will add a lot of weight if left standing.

THISTLES IN BLOOM

One can scarcely travel a mile of road without seeing Canada or Sow Thistle in bloom either on the road side or out in the fields. The more plants that go to seed the more patches next year. 2-4-D may not kill thistle plants with the first treatment but it is cheaper to go over patches with a sprayer two or three times than to have larger patches next year. Give 2-4-D a trial.

FEED SUPPLIES

There is no doubt of there being a feed shortage this winter. Most people are getting up every ton of hay and green feed available. The farmers who [illegible] their own stock will no short as there will be [illegible] a very [illegible] needed.

Twp 55 Rgs 1 and 2 at an average yield per Twp. of 5 to 8 bushels per acre.

Under this act townships where the average yield is less than 8 bushels to the acre are entitled to assistance.

Yield in the areas mentioned are claimed to vary from 5 to 8 bushels per acre.

Fall School Term To Start Sept. 2nd

Town and rural schools in the Vermilion S.D. will open Tuesday Sept. 2nd for the first day of the 1947-48 school term. With Labor day coming Sept. 1st, school children this year will not get any extra days on their two months' vacation.

COUNCIL HOLDS SPECIAL MEETING

A special meeting of the town council was held Aug. 11 with Mayor Morrison and Crs Boake, Dawson, Kehoe, Stephens, Urquhart present.

Delegation. Mr Sweatman waited on Council re Sello Bros circus and Canadian Legion.

The meeting discussed proposed extensions to sewer and water and distances and figures were also discussed.

The waterworks committee was instructed to continue investigations.

The following motions carried

That Council buy one carload of American cement, the difference in price to be adjusted later with the Dominion Construction Co.

That licence fee from Canadian Legion re Sello Bros circus be waived.

Meeting adjourned.

Miss Dorothy Folk Opens Music Studio

Miss Dorothy M. Folk who for the past two years has studied at the Mount Royal College Conservatory of Music in Calgary, is opening a pianoforte studio in Vermilion. During this period she won the College scholarships for the highest marks in A.T.C.M. pianoforte under Mr L. Leacock and grade 8 singing under Mr [illegible] Mossop. Previously Miss Folk took special teacher training at St. Augustine School of Music in Drumheller, at which time she taught in Drumheller and [illegible]. She was also pipe organist for three years at Knox United church in Drumheller.

Miss Folk has been fortunate in securing a studio accessible to the public school at the home of Mrs Henry Meyers.

Discovery Well Is Big Producer for the Month of June

ON PUMP SINCE MAY, 1940

V.C.O. No. 2, the old discovery well of the Vermilion oil field, was the top producer for the month of June when it pumped 585 barrels of oil. There were 15 wells on production during the month and the field production was 12,518 barrels. The month previous 12,791 barrels were produced and June in 1946 the total was 14,-264 barrels.

The old discovery well has been on production continuously since May 1940, with the exception of brief lay-offs for reconditioning of pumping equipment.

Steam's On — 7 a.m. Whistle Blows

Much to the gratification of people whose residences and business places are heated by steam, the plant was back in operation again Wednesday evening and steam was sent coursing through the lines to bring welcome heat during the chilly damp weather. The whistle blew again at 7 a.m. and due to not being used to it, probably awakened more people than it ever did before.

PENNY SNATCHERS . . .

Such food items as pickles, potato chips, pretzels, popcorn and candy are described by government nutritionists as penny snatchers. While they cost people money, they return little nutritive value. Health authorities suggest that Canadians invest in good food before they spend money on such extras.

This may be the crisis we're not supposed to get over. We may have to change.

V.S.A. Reports Capacity Registration for Agriculture Classes

ADDITIONAL HOME ECONOMICS STUDENTS MAY BE ACCEPTED

Applications for admittance to the regular classes at the schools of agriculture for the term commencing on Oct. 21st, have recently been reviewed by the Selection Committee and as many students as can be accommodated in the Agriculture classes have been notified of their acceptance.

Because the schools at Vermilion and Olds had applications from double the number of students that could be accepted, priority has been given to ex-servicemen and older applicants.

Approximately equal numbers of students will attend each school.

A large percentage of the students who completed the First Year course last year are returning for the Second Year course and a larger number than in former years are entering the "Two-in-One" courses with the result that one of the largest classes in the history of the schools will receive graduation diplomas next spring.

Registrations for the Home Economics courses are not yet complete. A few more applications can still be accepted for the first year of the two year course and for the Two-in-One class open only to those who have at least 70 high school credits.

Correction

The Standard is informed that the statement in the Clandonald news last week to the effect that I. Shaw conducted in Clandonald, a Bible School under the auspices of the Gospel Alliance, was incorrect.

The vacation Bible School was not conducted by I. Shaw neither was it in any way under the auspices of the Alliance Gospel.

Jerry Ambler In Movie Role

Glancing over the Saturday Evening Post of Aug 23rd the writer was interested to see a very life-like picture of smiling Jerry Ambler, bronc riding champion of the world and brother to Leg and Pat Ambler of Vermilion. Jerry is boosting a popular brand of cigarettes. This brings to mind that Jerry undertook a new role at the Calgary Stampede this summer when he doubled for a beautiful female movie star in bronc riding scenes for a movie that was being filmed right at the Stampede by a Hollywood company.

Heavy Rain Breaks Long Dry Spell

1 DEGREE OF FROST TUESDAY

Although its value now is questionable a heavy rain of several hours' duration fell Monday evening and night. This brought to an end a long dry spell that meant very light crops in a large part of this area. The rain fall amounted to .76 inches. Light showers throughout the month have accounted for another third of an inch.

Weather has been cool and unsettled all week with 1 degree of frost registered at the airport Tuesday night.

"WORK SAFELY" —

During the past 20 years, steadily increasing use of mechanized equipment in agriculture has greatly aided the farmer in the numerous tasks he must perform in the working day. It is a grim fact, however, that while the use of this equipment has saved him countless man hours of work, its misuse is responsible for thousands of farm accidents—with resultant loss of time, money and, in far too many cases life.

It would be ridiculous to say that the farmer would be better off without modern mechanized equipment; such a statement would be untrue. It is not the machine that causes the accidents, but the operators. Farm machinery is constantly being improved to make it as nearly fool-proof as possible so that momentary carelessness on the part of an otherwise careful operator will not result in injury. This improvement will continue, but despite the ultimate perfection of the machine, accidents will continue as long as operators continue to disregard SAFETY RULES. Repair, adjust, unclog your equipment—yes—but not while it is running.

Just as a chain is no stronger than its weakest link, so you are no safer than your most thoughtless act. For that reason, don't delay, check your working habits now with accepted safety rules and resolve to observe them every day of the year. Be careful — What you save may be your life.

What, No Ogopogo?

Vermilion's well known pioneer, W. J. Macnab, recently discovered some bones about 5 feet underground while excavating a basement. The bones in their raw state did not look very familiar to W. J. and having considerable curiosity as well as a thirst for knowledge he determined to find out their origin. Gathering up the skull and later on another piece of what he supposed to be the same skeleton, he forwarded them to the Department of Zoology at the University of Alberta. The short item which appeared in the Standard at that time elicited a lot of inquiries and now Mr. Macnab can answer them. The skull is that of a badger and the second bone is the first vertebrae of a domestic cow.

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. STRANGE
Director, Research Department,
Searle Grain Company, Ltd.

HIGHER PRICES FOR WHEAT

The Hon. Mr McKinnon recently announced in the House of Commons that the price to Britain of $1.55 for wheat averaged 77 cents a bushel lower for 1946 than the world price, which means that prairie farmers are short about 122 million dollars cash on the 1946 crop. The Hon. Mr Gardiner however, stated recently that he felt sure Britain would make up this 122 million by paying later such a price over and above the world price, that would repay our farmers for the 122 million dollars, and also for what they may be short on this 1947 crop. Mr Gardiner also said that the Wheat Board has now in hand to the credit of farmers a surplus of about 150 million dollars cash.

In these circumstances, would it not be proper and reasonable for the Government immediately to increase the price of wheat? Why with all this farmers' money in hand and still much more to come, does the Government need to withhold 20 cents a bushel as they are now doing? The Government now holds a large surplus of cash belonging to farmers, the farmers need it. Why not distribute at least 20 cents a bushel on the 1945 and 1946 crops now?

What about that Lobal deal?

LUMBER PEAK REACHED?

There is growing belief in Ottawa that lumber prices have reached their peak and that further changes for most types will be on the downside, reports The Financial Post. Already it is reported that West Coast prices in United States have cracked below the recently-upped Canadian ceiling. A few months ago U.S. prices were far above those prevailing in Canada.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

The Colorful Kid

By HOWARD HECKLER

It is a well known fact, that Marty Burns is the smartest boss in the leather pushing racket, insofar as the managing end of the game is concerned. Everybody is aware of this fact, all the way from the president of the boxing commission down to the man who is hired to tighten up the ropes. Marty himself, in his diffident manner and large checkered vest, would, if pressed, explain the situation briefly, "Well, brother, I ain't exactly no dummy."

He was forever being plagued by slap-happy doddlers, stevedores, and young kids just out of diapers who imagined they were in need of managing. What most of them needed was a keeper or a nurse, but that's where Marty's talents came into play. Out of this mass of assorted cauliflower, he picked his scrappers with the cannyness of a connoisseur.

That's how he happened to get his hooks onto the Walla Walla Kid, and came to make the one and only mistake of his career.

This knuckle duster came bristling into the office one winter day with a crash and a bang. He tossed six newspaper hounds off the much-scarred mahogany of Marty's desk, and then spoke his piece to the great man himself.

"I can lick anybody in the joint," he told Marty. "Including you, Burns. But I ain't gonna." Marty Burns opened his mouth and closed it again. He was mildly shocked. It was a brand new approach.

"Get this Burns. You're looking at the Walla Walla Kid. I'm good. I'm dynamite with both mitts. I can take it all day, and I move around like Abe Attel. And," he hesitated for a moment. It was plain to see that the choicest morsel was yet to come. "I'm colorful."

Marty took a gander at his big mug and had to admit he had color.

"Anything else?"

The Kid considered this. "Yeah. I fight at one fifty-seven, and I got one bad fault."

Marty was really stunned. "No?"

"Yeah. I aint no Einstein, Burns. Not a smart guy. That's why we're going to do each other some good. With your brains and my..."

"O.K. I'll get you Dago Samson at the Armory a week from tonight," that's the way Marty did things. No gymnasium tryouts for his boys. He found out in a hurry whether they had it or they didn't.

Well, this guy had it. He was everything he said and more. He made hamburger steak out of Dago Samson for four rounds, and in the fifth cut loose with a right uppercut that could only be heard. It travelled too fast to be seen with the naked eye. After the referee was through counting, the Kid hung the Dago over his right shoulder and set him down in his own corner, slopped a whole pail of water over him, and then started to make a speech. Colorful? That guy was all the colors of the rainbow with a couple of extra thrown in.

"You're going to be all right, Kid," Marty told him. "And about your brains, I'll take care of that. I've got a set of signals worked out for your next fight. It'll be just as though I'm right in the ring with you. I run my hand through my hair, you cross your right. I pull my left ear, and you hold him off with your left jab. I tweak my nose and you hook him to death with the left."

"It's jake with me, boss," the Kid said.

The Kid looked at him, "Your nose itch, boss," he said. No, the Kid wasn't exactly an Einstein.

After that Marty tried every known method of signaling his fighter, but the Kid kept on winning and doing the opposite to what the signal called for. The Kid just couldn't seem to remember from one minute to the next. He kept on winning, but every fight got tougher.

Marty told him, "You're the luckiest guy I ever saw. But one of these days you're going to meet some boss that knows all the answers, and if I can't tell you what to throw from the corner, you're going to be cold turkey."

"It's jake with me, boss," the Kid said, "about the signals I mean."

The next day they signed with Tiger Jones, who was right next to the champ. The Kid was a magnet at the gate.

Marty Burns wore himself to a shadow worrying about the Jones fight. He didn't sleep nights, trying to figure a way to get his brain into the ring with the Kid. He walked the streets. He smoked fifteen cigars a night. The Kid could never take Tiger Jones without his, Marty's help. He was positive of that. Then two days before the fight, the Kid gave him the answer.

He was reading his press notices in the Morning Gazette "Hey, boss, listen to this THE WALLA WALLA KID IS PERHAPS THE MOST COLORFUL SCRAPPER TO HIT THE COUNTRY IN A DECADE."

"Colorful," Marty mused. "Colorful. That's it! Colorful, colors!" He slammed the Kid on the back. "You like colors don't you, Kid?"

"It's jake with me, boss."

"All right. This is simple, Kid. So simple, I think even you can understand it. Now, listen close," Marty talked slowly to make sure it would penetrate the mystic thickness of the Kid's flaming skull. "I take three cards, of three different colors. I hold up the red card and you cross your right. Green card you jab with the left, and blue card you hook the left. Simple?"

"Simple," the Kid agreed, and this time he actually seemed interested in the idea.

They were hanging from the rafters at the Armory the night of the fight. Tiger Jones didn't waste any time loosening up the Kid's lower lip with a wicked wallop. This satisfied Marty once for all that it was his own brain that would finally win them the fight.

The Kid was eyeing the corner. Marty flashed the green card for a jab, and the Kid tried to cross his right. Jones stepped in and slapped him into the rosin with a murderous uppercut. Marty groaned. How could one guy be so dumb? He got up at five, a little uncertain, and looking for orders.

The Tiger was rushing. Marty flashed the blue card. A steaming left hook would slow the Tiger to a walk. But the Kid was backing away jabbing with his left. The Tiger crashed through and dumped him in the corner for an eight count. That's just about the whole story. Four rounds later, the referee stepped in and pushed a badly beaten Walla Walla Kid to his corner. He had bounced off the boards nine times in four rounds, but he could take a pounding all right. No doubt about that.

Reporters circled Marty and the Kid after he had showered and dressed. "What beat him, Marty?" They shot the question at the little manager.

"His one and only fault beat him," Marty tapped the red head of the Kid. "Nothing between the ears."

The Kid managed a grin through shattered lips. "I've been holding out on you, boss."

"Yeah?"

"Yeah, I've got two faults instead of one."

"No?" Marty's eyebrows raised in disbelief

"Yeah. I forgot to tell you that I'm color blind."

Canada-Argentina Deal Going Well

OTTAWA — Oil and newsprint supplies moving at a nice rate between Canada and Argentina under an exchange agreement reached by the two countries last winter, Trade Department officials said.

The agreement provided for exchange of 9,000 tons of Canadian newsprint for 9,000 tons of badly-needed Argentine oils.

The officials said there had been "no hitches in the agreement beyond normal transportation problems." Supplies of the two commodities were moving regularly to forward positions in both countries and some vessels had already sailed in both directions.

There had been "no complaints" from either country and Canada was getting splendid co-operation from Argentine authorities.

Edmonton Population Seen On Upswing

EDMONTON — The 1947 Henderson's city directory lists the population of greater Edmonton at [illegible] persons. In the 1946 edition the population shown was 120,000. These figures include the immediate suburbs of Edmonton such as Jasper Place and Beverly.

Population of the city proper is in dispute. Last year's census gave it as 113,116 while the Dominion quinquennial census set it at 100,997. The 1947 census now under way is expected to show an increase.

Sleep In Cave With Bear Cubs

KETCHIKAN, Alaska — Two brothers, Harold Lewis, 11, and Fred, 9, slept recently with a family of bear cubs in a cave.

Fred came out with some scratches and a minor bite from one of the cubs.

The father, George Lewis, took his sons fishing. They wandered away and he thought they had gone home, until he returned to town.

The family dog led a search party to the cave.

RECIPES

DRIED FRUIT JAM

Make delicious jams with dried fruit. You'll be amazed at the yield—2 glasses of jam from only ½ cup dried apricots.

Dried Apricot Jam
(Two-Glass Recipe)

1 cup prepared fruit
1½ cups sugar
3 tablespoons Certo

To prepare fruit, add ⅝ cup water to ½ cup dried apricots. Cover and let stand 4 hours or overnight. Drain, chop, and mix with water in which fruit was soaked. Add 2 teaspoons lemon juice. Measure 1 cup prepared fruit into saucepan.

To combine and cook, add sugar to prepared fruit in saucepan; mix well. Place pan over high heat. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add Certo at once. Stir and skim for 5 minutes. Pour into glasses. Paraffin at once.

Note: If Sure Jell is used prepare fruit as directed using [illegible] cup dried apricots and 1 cup water. Omit lemon juice. Measure 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons prepared fruit. Cook as directed in Sure-Jell booklet using 1½ cups sugar and 2½ tablespoons Sure-Jell.

CHEESE WAFERS

½ cup butter
2 cups soft cheese grated
½ teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce
3 drops Tabasco Sauce
3 cups oven-popped rice cereal
¾ cups sifted flour paprika

Cream butter and cheese thoroughly, add Worcestershire and Tabasco Sauce. Roll cereal into fine crumbs; mix with flour and add to cheese mixture. Shape into rolls 1 to 2 inches in diameter. Chill in refrigerator for two hours, or until firm. Slice into wafers ⅛ inch thick. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in a moderate oven (375 deg. F.) for 12 minutes. Sprinkle with paprika. Serve as an appetizer or with salad. Yield, 60 wafers (1½ inches in diameter).

Vegetables, such as peas, broccoli, cauliflower, lettuce, spinach, endive and kale lose vitamin C rapidly at room temperature.

Prairie Town Aptly Named

BIENFAIT, Sask. — On railway sidings near this town in the south-east corner of Saskatchewan, rows of coal cars replace the wheat-laden box-cars normally found on Saskatchewan sidings. And lines of coal tipples replace the grain elevators that are almost inevitable at prairie points.

Early farmers labored unsuccessfully on the thin, unfertile clay. But near the turn of the century, coal was found nearby and since then farmers have turned in slack seasons to the coal mines to augment their incomes.

Early Scottish settlers were driven out by drought in the late 19th century. A wave of French-Canadian settlers followed, but they, too, moved on. It was only when farmers began to burrow for coal in the banks of the Souris River that the town took hold and prospered.

Today approximately 1,000 men earn their living in the deep-seam mines, and civic leaders estimate the town's business is double that of the average farm community in the province. In its early days, it was as "rip-roaring" as any boom mining camp.

But now residents say, "you'd never know it was pay day except to cash the cheques."

Heifer Learns Speed Playing With Deer

NESCOPECK, Pa.—It's a different heifer which returned to Clarence Shaffer's farm after a five-month sojourn with a herd of deer.

The young bovine forgot it was not supposed to run fast and developed amazing speed.

The heifer escaped from Shaffer's farm when it was nine months old. Later, reports from the countryside told of the unique sight of a young cow ranging over fields and through the woods with four or five deer.

Other cattle on Shaffer's farm finally attracted the heifer home.

GANDHI SADDENED BY DISCARDING THE UNION JACK

NEW DELHI.—M. K. Gandhi said here that "the retention of the Union Jack for such period as India was a dominion was a point of honor."

He told his prayer meeting: "I heard with sorrow at the Congress working committee meetings that the Union Jack was not going to occupy a place on India's national flag."

Gandhi asked Indians not to rejoice over the omission.

Brides Better Not Be Late

BRISTOL, England.—It'll cost money in future for a bride to keep "everybody waiting" in St. Agnes' church.

In announcing a drive to get brides to the ceremony at the time set, Rev. W. J. Rogers, the rector, announced that his marriage fees will be increased if the bride is late.

Prairie farmers hope to receive patronage dividends at the end of 5 years on 300 million bushels of wheat sold to Britain at $1.55. Vermilion Stockmen Win at Many Fairs

The Standard lacks complete details on winnings by local stockmen at the various fairs but notices in the newspaper exchanges that W. E. Cruse and his Aberdeen Angus have been big winners at Lloydminster, Lacombe, Vegreville, Red Deer and Camrose, and that W. L. Robinson practically swept the Shorthorn classes at Vegreville.

Familiarity with animals often leads to carelessness. Don't take chances—one out of every five fatal farm accidents happens when handling livestock.

WOODVALE

We hope the Editor and staff have enjoyed their well-earned holiday and have returned full of zest for their work again. We feel sure the readers have missed the Standard very much these last two weeks.

In these parts it has been dry and hot and then suddenly a very cold day with frost in the low spots. All agree that this has been a very odd and trying summer.

Wes Isley met with an accident when he was helping the Gautier brothers round up some cattle. His horse fell with him and the result was a broken heel bone and torn ligaments. These necessitated a stay in the hospital and with a cast on his foot an enforced rest at home.

Bert Portsmith also landed in the hospital in Islay with sunstroke after staying too long nailing rubberoid on a roof in the broiling sun.

Mrs. Harry Portsmith is a patient in the Vermilion hospital and underwent an operation last week. We hope she will soon be well again.

We were also very sorry to hear about the serious accident of Andy Weiss, but are glad to hear he is improving.

A more pleasant event to report was the meeting at Mrs. O. Walters where Miss M. Lang gave an interesting talk on canning and pressure cooking. The next Red Cross meeting will be at Ruby Thompson on Sept. 3rd and another quilt will be made there. There is also a possibility of Miss McIntyre giving a lecture in Ganton school. Watch for further announcement.

A vacation school is being conducted by Miss Rose at Ganton school and the two weeks of pleasant instruction and play will be terminated by a picnic this Friday.

Emily Young is spending a few weeks vacation at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. C. Young in the Hindville district, and visiting her many friends around here. It is hoped that Georgette Young will soon come home for a short visit before leaving for Belgium to take up missionary work there.

FAREWELL PARTY

On Aug. 13th over 70 friends and neighbors young and old gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Ford for a surprise party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hann and Flo who will be leaving the end of August for Lacombe. The evening was spent in playing games and singing and later Mr. D. McGrath on behalf of their many friends presented Mr. and Mrs. Hann with a library table and mirror expressing the regret of everyone at their departure but wishing them the very best of luck and happiness in their new enterprise and home. The girls of the district gave Flo a lovely [illegible]. Mr. Hann replied, visibly moved, and hoped their friends would come and see them sometime in the near future. After singing "For They are Jolly Good Fellows" with much more fervor and harmony than any of the previous songs a dainty and much enjoyed lunch was served and after some more visiting around the very pleasant evening came to an end. There is no doubt that the Hann family, after almost 30 years in the district will not be forgotten. A traffic cop was almost needed to unsnarl the cars in the yard!

The Russell Smith family of Woodvale have left and will live near Cold Lake.

[illegible] day. As a whole it's not a very painful or serious operation, but we guess that it was very quite at the Walters home.

Miss Rose conducted a sing-song Sunday night at the home of Ruby Thompson.

The Red Cross meeting scheduled for Sept. 3 at Ruby's place will probably not take place at that date. We hope to have the new date set available for next week's issue.

A horse ridden by Ray Preston was badly cut in the shoulder when a recalcitrant bull attacked it. Luckily the deep gash is healing well. [illegible]

Dorothy and Joyce Wilson of Chilliwack, B.C. and their friend Betty Brigden of Vancouver visited the writer's home this week. The three girls drove by car from Vancouver via Spokane and are enjoying a stay with their relations and friends in the Vermilion district. They plan to return in another week via Jasper and Banff.

[illegible] had to be moved over as the road will be widened.

Bowtell Bulletin

Mrs. Robinson is at present visiting her brother and family in Edmonton and then expects to get settled at her new school just north of Lea Park.

Misses Gale and Kay Firth of Marshall spent two weeks visiting their aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. F. Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Schaaf and family were recent visitors to Saskatoon.

Congratulations and best wishes to our newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Nyler (nee Marian Morrison). A shower was held in honor of the bride at the home of Mrs. D. Harrison where 21 ladies gathered to fete the bride but the guest of honor was detained in Edmonton and was thus unable to be present.

Everyone is pleased to have in our midst again the former Mrs. Harrison now Mrs. Hardy and Mr. Hardy. Many happy hours were spent in the home of Mrs. Hardy when the writer was a girl attending the Bowtell school back in 1924.

Harry Perkins has a nice new tider mounted on rubber.

The Rochfords' have a new International tractor.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Williams on the birth of a daughter.

Edna and Johnny Morrison of Kimberly, B.C. are visiting their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. D. Jenkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Frances, Isabell, were supper guests Sunday at the Gillies home. Billie and Lou Gillies were also present from Kitscoty. A short visit was enjoyed the same day with Mr. and Mrs. L. Gould and Mr. and Mrs. J. Gould.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood and Mr. and Mrs. Dodelly were Friday night visitors at the Perkins' home, the occasion being Vi's birthday.

Some six carloads of people motored from this district to Sandy Beach Sunday where a very good time was enjoyed. Donald Harrison gave a very good demonstration of running in the water with two ladies hard on his heels.

Twenty-two ladies gathered Monday at the home of Mrs. Repp at a surprise party in honor of Mrs. Hardy. Mrs. Carroll made the presentation on behalf of the gathering of a beautiful blanket. Everyone sincerely hopes that Mr. and Mrs. Hardy decide to make their home here. Mrs. Hardy thanked each and everyone for their kindness and good wishes. It was pleasing to see Mrs. Gillies and Mrs. L. Gould present.

"A Personal Message"

This is a request for greater support for Alberta Pool Elevators in the 1947-48 crop year.

The Alberta Wheat Pool is an Alberta farmers' co-organization. It happens that I am chairman of the board of directors. I am a working farmer like yourself. Having been chosen to head this organization, I am doing my best to make it a success.

Every bushel of grain delivered to an Alberta Pool Elevator makes an important contribution to the farm co-operative movement.

The farm co-operative movement is the greatest and most effective effort in self-help.

If you are not a patron of Alberta Pool Elevators, I ask you to be one. If at all possible, deliver your grain this season to a Pool elevator. Let us make this Alberta grain co-operative an outstanding success and a monument to the enterprise, solidarity and co-operative spirit of Alberta farmers.

UNITED STATES ARMY DEVELOPING HUGE BOMB

—TO WEIGH 42,000 LBS.

WASHINGTON.—The United States army air forces is developing and probably will test in the next few months a 42,000-pound super-size bomb.

So far as is known, this will be the largest standard-explosive, that is, non-atomic, missile ever made.

The weight of the bomb suggests that it is intended for use in such aircraft as the B-36, which is capable of carrying 36 tons of explosives and is equipped with a bomb bay of enormous dimensions.

The A.A.F. had even larger bombs—one 100,000 pounds—under consideration and in the blueprint stage, but designers said privately that a curtailed research program resulted in shelving these projects.

They described the 42,000-pounder as a "general purpose, block-buster" type.

There was a hint over the week-end, meanwhile, that the military may be looking into the future for an even more fearful weapon — an atomic bomb which when dropped from a high altitude might sink deep into the earth and produce a man-made quake.

An A.A.F. announcement of forthcoming tests with deep-penetration bombs on a submarine assembly factory at Farge, Germany, referred specifically only to two standard-explosive bombs developed since war's end. They are the 25,000-pound "Amazon" and "Samson". 3726

TOURIST SAYS CANADIAN GIRLS BETTER GROOMED THAN U.S. LASSIES

OTTAWA.—The essential difference between American and Canadian girls is that Canadian girls have that scrubbed, just-stepped-out-of-a-bath look, according to a University of Chicago student interviewed by the Ottawa Journal.

"They don't seem to know how or care to use cosmetics the way our girls do," said Stanford Whitmore.

His friend, Paul Bindeigian, of New York City, remarked laconically that he really didn't see much difference between Ottawa women and those of New York.

"The thing that gets me", he said, "is the way Canadian men whistle at passing pretties. Their whistle isn't nearly as subtle as our low, quiet one."

Melvin Howard, another pal, didn't have much to say. He said he was too busy looking while he still could before the skirts go down to the ankle.

"They certainly are reserved", said a young, disappointed man from Scranton, Penn. "It seems they don't speak to you without an introduction.

"But I think they are pretty anyhow", he added.

One man from Grand Rapids, Mich., was quite enthusiastic about the pulchritude of Ottawa.

"I never saw so many pretty girls pass by—as when I stood at the corner of Metcalfe and Sparks waiting for my wife to come back from shopping."

"They certainly don't know how to dress", stated a middle-aged Virginian and then proceeded to tell what was wrong.

"Their shoes are run-down at the heels and seldom attractive and they don't pay attention to the correct accessories." The speaker was a buyer in a large department store in Richmond.

One man from Asbury Park, N.J., declined to make any statement. He was with his wife.

Let Wives Judge This Divorce Case

PITTSBURGH. — Testimony from a wife that her husband believed spouses should be beaten three times a day on principle helped win a divorce for Mrs. Agnes Vukson, 27, of nearby McKee's Rocks.

She told the court her husband "would take a poke at me any time he wanted," and added: "He said his father always told him a woman should be beat up three times a day—once for breakfast, once for dinner and once before she went to bed."

Condemns Red Riding Hood Tale

LONDON. — The Nursery Schools Association of Britain condemned the tale of little Red Riding Hood as cruel, deceptive and likely to create fear complexes among children.

Miss Joyce Cornish-Bowden, education secretary of the Association, demanded that the story be kept from British youngsters because of its harmful influence.

A few weeks ago the Middlesex County Council banned Punch and Judy shows on grounds that they teach children to become wife beaters.

Miss Cornish-Bowden, a noted authority on child education, said little Red Riding Hood would be suitable if it were not for the big bad wolf. When the little girl finds her grandmother isn't there "any child will feel quivers of fear," she said.

May Manufacture Cars in India

WINDSOR, Ont.—Possibility that after independence is granted to India, she may eventually manufacture automobiles wholly within her borders was suggested in an interview here by Basil O. Stevenson, managing director of Ford Motor Company of India.

A native of St. Thomas, Mr. Stevenson, who is home on a six-month leave, said that impending changes in the government of India will make it more difficult for companies which now import manufactured products for assembly and sale to Indians.

He felt that India's growing nationalist spirit will lead to demands that automobiles be made in India instead of being imported and assembled as at present.

BEES TRAVEL IN STYLE

Six queen bees, valued at $600, were flown from the University of California at San Francisco to Woollahra, Sydney, New South Wales, for experimental breeding purposes. During the journey of 3¼ days, the bees were kept within a temperature range of 75 to 85 degrees F. Each bee occupied a separate compartment in a large cardboard box.

Health League of Canada presents Topics of Vital Interest

Parent Hint

Pointing out that a sick child is incapable of taking full advantage of educational facilities, National Health authorities remind parents that their co-operation is required to make the most of school services.

"When the children go off to school this Fall, parents will expect teachers to be qualified to instruct them," the health department notes. "At the same time, the teaching staffs will hope that parents have done their part and will send children to school physically, as well as mentally, capable of study." The authorities suggest that the family doctor be asked to give the children a thorough medical check-over before schools reopen.

Safety in Soap

Soap is effective against most disease germs. So, says the health department at Ottawa, even though others have handled it, there is no reason to shun the soap in a public washroom. However, the health authorities advise against using common towels, in washrooms or elsewhere, since they can transmit disease.

Rythm Beneficial

Medical authorities approve the training of children along musical lines. They admit that all children can't be truly musical, but point out that the little ones instinctively love harmonious pulsations and that this taste should be cultivated.

The health authorities believe that if children are taught to appreciate good music, rather than simple jazz, they will get much more out of life later on.

Habit Forming

Since their very futures will depend on wise guidance, children should be given a good set of living habits from earliest years, the authorities at Canada's capital remind parents. Habits which last a lifetime are formed in childhood. It is then that environment, example and training mould personality and create character.

Health experts suggest that parents consult family physicians to ensure that their children are being taught sound health habits.

MUST LIKE STRAWBERRIES

LOS ANGELES. Pel Brown really likes strawberries — to the tune of $95.

He couldn't remember whether his diet allowed him to eat the berries. Since the copy of his diet was in London, he made a transatlantic call to his wife, who told him he could have them.

The cost of his scrumptious breakfast, $1.29 for the strawberries, $94 for the phone call.

If cornered, a badger digs itself underground with lightning-like rapidity.

ON LONG PLANE HOP—Chipper as can be five-year-old Gabrielle Toyne is shown at LaGuardia Field after arrival by plane from London. The young lady is on her way to New Zealand, where her playwright father, Gabriel Toyne, and her actress mother, Diana, plan to launch a theatre movement.

BRITONS CANNOT HAVE ANY FANCY CHINA

Britons will continue to sip their tea and raise their boiled potatoes from plain white cups and plates. Sir Stafford Cripps, Board of Trade President, said decoration on domestic pottery would not be permitted as Britain could not afford the loss in exports of colored pottery which would be caused if workers changed to ornamentation of the home supply.

ALBERTA FARMER COLLECTS ANYTHING

HEATHERDOWN, Alta.—Donald Wilby, 70-year-old farmer of this district, about 40 miles west of Edmonton, may not be a good farmer, but he's collected one of the largest and most valued bird-egg collections in Canada.

It includes 1,200 varieties and about 30,000 eggs. It also includes wild bird eggs from all parts of the world, ranging from the size of a small white bean to a softball.

A native of Weston, Ont., he came to Edmonton in 1904 and worked for about a year as a bookkeeper. In 1905 he moved to the country for health reasons.

"I've never liked farming and have never made a success of it," he says.

Apart from his record egg cache, he has a collection of more than 1,000 butterflies and moths, some 800 "bird skins", a number of stuffed birds and several new species of flowers.

In addition to this hobby, he also is an amateur astronomer, owns his own powerful telescope and has a first-class stamp collection.

His mounted butterflies alone are good for a few hours' scrutiny by any naturalist. They include moths and butterflies the size of a sparrow. More than 200 of them, he says, were taken within a mile of his home.

In his egg collection he has a rare specie of Black Corkatoo he values at more than $100 while another egg taken from the nest of a bird of paradise is worth more than $30.

DEWBERRY NEWS

Heartfelt sympathy is extended to Mr and Mrs Winston Braithwaite on the loss of their infant daughter.

At a recent ball game in Dewberry little Judy Braithwaite was struck in the abdomen by a hard hit foul ball. X-rays have shown that all is well so we hope the little girl will soon be over the pain and alright again.

August 9th saw baseball in this district come to an end with a tournament on the sports grounds. Clandonald emerged the winner. Baseball has enjoyed a very successful season here and next year we shall probably see improved ball.

Miss Florence Beal our local Co-op store clerk has been a stand-out for the Mannville Bluebirds in their bid for provincial softball honors. The play-offs have been keeping Florence busy but we are proud of our home town product and hope that she will go a long way in the game.

Harvest is well underway hereabouts and with favorable weather new grain should be delivered this week. Crops to the north of Dewberry are very good while to the south hail and drought have taken a heavy toll.

The Dewberry pool room and barber shop have changed hands again. Mr C. Mohoban the former owner has now left. Before their departure he and Mrs. Mohoban were presented with a purse of money at a farewell party in the Dewberry hall.

At long last the construction of a new restaurant is under way in Dewberry. Mr [illegible] of Edmonton is the owner. Besides running the restaurant he will operate the motion picture machine in Dewberry.

The Dewberry hall association have purchased a modern motion picture projector. This will be second to none in clarity of pictures and it is hoped that it will tend to draw back some of the town's lost customers who have been going elsewhere. Keep your eyes on Dewberry for shows in the future.

The Dewberry hall is being greatly enlarged in order to accommodate patrons comfortably.

Bowtell Bulletin

Fourteen members and 4 visitors attended the Busy Bee meeting at Mrs Maggs. The visitors were Mrs. Knutson, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Hardy and Mrs. Phillips. The committee which was appointed for the dance this Friday consists of Mrs. Repp, Mrs. Perkins and Mrs. Sherwood. Mrs. De Leeuw and Mrs. Knutson each kindly donated a pound of coffee. It was decided to buy a rubber stamp to be used in place of ribbons for admission at all the dances. The next B.B. meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Gannon with Mrs. DeBelly and Mrs Robinson to serve lunch.

Mrs. Fenton is improving nicely following her recent operation.

TEACH THE CHILDREN THE MEANING OF THE WORD DANGER

Too often a young life is snuffed out by drowning; a child is fatally wounded by firearms; a fire set by little hands playing with matches takes life and property. It is most difficult to remove the causes of accidents, but by intelligent instruction children can be taught that "Danger" is a poor playmate.

Thirty-two Years Ago Today

Interesting Items Gleaned from the Files of the Vermilion Standard

32 YEARS AGO TODAY — 1915

Aug. 18th, 1915

Steve Romanie, wiper at the C.N.R. roundhouse, was instantly killed Wednesday.

The C.N.R. are having a lunch room erected just east of the depot. It will be operated by Mrs. Hinchey.

Harvest is now general and C.N.R. reports estimate the yield for wheat for this district at 30 bushels, barley 35 to 50 and oats 40 to 60 bushels per acre.

Sixteen Years Ago Today

Aug. 20, 1931

Town's population was 1261 a decrease of 11 from 1921.

The Ogopogo of Raft Lake which hereafter became quite famous, was seen for the first time.

Two auto thieves stole Fred Harrington's car and wrecked it on the highway a mile east of town.

ISLAY

Mr. Albert Anderson's brother with his wife from Edmonton, also their daughter-in-law and baby from Winnipeg were guests of the Anderson family last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Axley Jr and two daughters of Calgary were holidaying at the parents' homes, Mr. and Mrs Munroe, Dewberry and Mr. and Mrs. W. Axley, Islay. They also spent Wednesday at Mrs. Ed McFadyen's.

Miss Catherine McEachern of Westlock is holidaying at her parents, Mr and Mrs Neil McEachern.

There was a good attendance on Friday afternoon to hear Miss Lang's talk on shell work and knitting diamond socks. She gave some good ideas for bazaar work and had some samples of the work on exhibition. Mrs. C. C. Mitchell gave a vote of thanks and Mrs. Sweet and Bessie Anderson served lunch.

Mrs. W. Noble, Trail, BC., is visiting her mother Mrs Caldwell and her sister Mrs. Gordon Porter.

Misses Muriel and Gladys Stone arrived home Friday evening after a visit in the city. While there they met many old friends who used to live in Islay. Mr. and Mrs J. E. Miller, Mr and Mrs. Al Beecroft, Mrs. H. Stone, the Misses Gilchrist, Bill and Marge Stone, Mrs. W. E. Webber, Mrs. Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Moore who are back on their own acreage out on 149 St. looking very well indeed and still quite interested in Islay and Islay folks.

ROAD WORK

The large municipal grader is working on a three-mile stretch of the road one mile west of Dewberry road from the river to Harry Gordon's corner. We hope to have a winter road.

NEW TEACHERS

The Islay school staff this term will be Miss Mary Wereszuk, Miss Mary Dwanll and Mr. D. Clarke as principal.

Master Billie Potvin spent a week with Master Darrell Beaton, Islay. Quite a good time was enjoyed.

Mrs. Kennedy of Toronto spent 2 weeks with Mrs Rosie Kennedy. She was on her way home after visiting at Beaverlodge.

Mrs Chas Clement and Mrs [illegible] Schurman are holidaying at their parent's home, Mr and Mrs Jack Bristow.

AN ISLAY NEWSPAPER

Did you know that away back in the beginning of this century Islay had a newspaper? Yes sir. The Islay Wideawake and rightly named. Islay was really wideawake then, it had ambitions for a creamery. Some day we will give you a full picture of this paper. A copy of March 22, 1907, was seen lying in the library at the home of the Misses Gilchrist, Edmonton. And J. McFadyen had an ad in it. Well move over. Has any other old timer a copy?

Muriel and Gladys Stone called to see Rubena Gunn while in the city. Ella had been in the same day. We thought Ruby looking exceptionally well and in the very best of spirits and we really enjoyed our visit with her.

Clandonald Girl Married in Beautiful Wedding

STROME—THRONDSON

Reverend Driver officiated at a very pretty wedding in the Vermilion United church July 22nd when Delsie Angeline Throndson of Clandonald, daughter of Mr and Mrs C. T. Throndson of Clandonald, Alta. became the bride of Ralph Ervin Strome, son of Mr and Mrs A. E. Strome of Englefeld, Sask.

The bride was gowned in white chiffon with a frilled skirt, fitted bodice, net yoke and three quarter length sleeves complimented by white gloves. She wore a three-quarter length veil and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Elaine and Florence Lundblad the bride's nieces were flower girls. They wore dresses of blue nylon and carried bouquets of sweet peas.

Mr Edwin Throndson of Clandonald was best man and Mr Theodore Throndson, of Wagner Alta. ushered.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Green of Vermilion.

A reception was held at the bride's home when over sixty guests extended their congratulations to the newlyweds. The bride's table covered with ecru lace, was centred with a four tiered wedding cake which had been beautifully decorated by the bride's aunt, Mrs Orley Omness.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs Throndson wore a fuschia two-piece daytime ensemble and corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Strome, the groom's mother wore a light colored figured jersey and a corsage of sweet peas.

Mr T. J. Sgoder of Clandonald proposed the toast to which the bride appropriately replied.

A dance was held in the evening at the Columbus hall, Clandonald and a large crowd gathered to honor the young couple.

Out-of-town guests were Mr and Mrs A. E. Strome, Lorne and Ivan Strome and Mr and Mrs Lloyd Rupert, all of Englefeld, Sask.

Mr and Mrs Theodore Throndson and baby daughter Beverley of the Meteorological Station Wagner, Mrs Lucy Lundblad and daughters Elaine and Florence of Valleyview in the Peace River area of Alberta and Mr and Mrs Orley Snider of Edmonton.

WEDDING BELLS

WOODS—BERG

A quiet wedding was solemnized in the parlor of the [illegible] United church on Sunday, July [illegible] when in the presence of immediate relatives Laura Pearl, second daughter of Mr and Mrs [illegible] Berg of Mannville became the bride of Mr Robert John Woods of Camrose. Rev. W. [illegible] Rivers performed the marriage [illegible].

The bride was [illegible] length gown of white sheer cut on princess lines, with a shirred bodice. The full length sleeves tapered [illegible] [illegible] over the hands. Her [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] flower [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] fern. Her only ornament was a gold locket, gift of the groom.

Miss [illegible] Berg [illegible] [illegible] only attendant [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] a blue and [illegible] hat [illegible]. Her flowers were [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]. Mr Howard Berg was best man.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs Berg chose a [illegible] carnations.

Following [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the groom [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] mother.

The happy couple [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] and other Mountain [illegible] points. For travelling the bride [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] blue [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] accessories.

Upon their return they will reside on the groom's farm in the Camrose district.

More than 4,000 farm dwellers may die in farm accidents this year. Be careful not only on the other fellow's account but because the life you save may be your own.

YAWNING LOCKED HER JAWS more than a month ago, and now Wayne Ferguson of Winston, North Carolina, reads letters and clippings advising how she can get her mouth open again. Three methods, which she is trying all at once, are swallowing, pressing her temples, and blowing a balloon. She gave a prodigious yawn, it seems, after which "something snapped". On a liquid diet ever since, she's lost 30 pounds.

GENERAL IKE ALASKA-BOUND — General "Ike" Eisenhower, U.S. army's chief of staff, waves goodby to the crowd who saw him off at Washington. Mrs. Eisenhower, shown with the general, will not accompany her husband on his trip. The general is bound for a four-weeks' air inspection tour of military establishments in Alaska.

A GAS MASK is worn by typist Cecelia Jensen, as she takes an autopsy report from Dr. Frederick Proescher, (left), after he and Joseph Swim, (centre), San Francisco toxicologist, examined the body of Mrs. Helen King, found in a trunk at San Luis Obispo, Cal. It was estimated that the woman had been dead about one week.

VET SOLVES HIS EMPLOYMENT PROBLEM— Wounded by German machine-gun bullets in August, 1944, and unable to work since that time, George Johnston of Owen Sound solved his employment problem by opening a tuck shop in the main rotunda of the General and Marine hospital recently. Here he is telling customer Dolores Marchand "business is fine."

"ARCTIC ICE"—This little girl is Miss Sylvia Mischuk of Gilbert Plains, Man., eight year old daughter of Mrs. Nicholas Mischuk. She is standing by a white gladiola called "Arctic Ice" which grew to a height of 5 feet 9 inches. Her mother cut it as a bouquet for a sick person.

CHAMPIONS—Right. Flash, champion Percheron gelding, Class A championship at Regina for Hardy Salter, Calgary, was shown at the recent Regina Exhibition by C. W. Clark. Both are grand champion mare and grand champion stallion Prince, Sask. Centre: Starlight Koncarnéen took her fifteenth at Regina were grandson and granddaughter of Koncarcalyps. Left, Bob, the champion Clydesdale gelding was shown by Donald Smith, Govan, Sask.

TRADITIONAL BLESSING OF FISHING BOATS PERFORMED AT GASPE — Blessing of fishing boats done in the manner of the age-old tradition of fishing villages in Brittany, France, was an impressive event recently at Fox River, Gaspe, largest cod fishing centre in the peninsula. Shown are fishing boats gathered for ceremony which consisted of recitation of liturgical prayers and a procession at sea, with clergy in first boat.

21 YEARS OLD TODAY

YOU CAN HAVE YOUR CAKE and eat it too, for all Bamboo the gorilla cares. The gorilla, who lives at the Philadelphia Zoo ignores vegetables, cake and half a watermelon lined up in the right corner of his cage as he munches the anniversary card which wishes him a happy 21st birthday. Then he threw the "goodies" at his keepers. Bamboo is said to be the oldest living gorilla in captivity.

FOLLOWING DOCTOR'S ORDERS — Told to get more fresh air and sunshine, Mel Schuster of Goderich bought two horses and rode to [illegible] miles, with his English war bride. The trip lasted four days.

FLOWER BLOOMS SIX HOURS THEN KAPUT— Neighbors and friends watched eagerly from 8 o'clock to midnight as the petals of a night-blooming cereus unfolded here at the home of E. J. Pettit, Mimico, Ont. Petals of the pinkish walnut-sized bud began to curl back to display a pure white bloom which measured nine inches across when fully blown. By early morning the flower had closed, having lived its full life span of one night. Mr. Pettit declared he did not know the age of the plant which was given to him by a friend who had it for many years and despaired of ever seeing a bloom.

SURVIVOR BLAZES ON WATER—A small launch speeds to the blazing mackerel trawler "The Angler", as occupants take another look as it is burning in Long Island Sound, New York. Captain Edward Waldendorf, aboard the trawler when fire broke out, leaped into the water, was picked up by launch and transferred to coastguard boat. He was uninjured.

Farm Incomes

ALTHOUGH AGRICULTURE IS ONE OF Canada's leading industries, in which 17.3 per cent. of the population is engaged, farmers as a class have not accumulated wealth to the same extent as those connected with the nation's other large industries. In fact, farm income in Canada represents only eleven per cent. of the total national income. It is true that some farmers are very prosperous, but there are also many who have never enjoyed financial profit in a fair proportion to the amount of money and labor they have invested in their farms. The farmers of Western Canada have continuously sought to improve their lot and many of their demands have received favorable consideration, for there have always been able men and women, both in agricultural organizations and in political circles, who have supported their interests. However, there have also always been groups who have shown little sympathy with the problems of agriculture.

* * * * *

Net Incomes Are Not Great

The subject of farm incomes came up during the recent sessions of parliament, and the figures given at that time showed that although net farm incomes had more than doubled since 1939, farmers are still not enjoying any great measure of prosperity. Actual figures showed that net farm income had increased from $387,000,000 in 1939, to $1,000,000,000 in 1946. In the same period, however, operating expenses and depreciation had increased from $400,000,000 to $730,000,000. It was also brought to the attention of the people that although farm income had more than doubled in the last seven years, the average cash income realized by farmers prior to 1939 was only $743 per year.

* * * * *

Not Many Pay Income Tax

The low level of farm incomes was further emphasized by the fact that only about 4 per cent. of all farmers paid income tax in 1945-46, and although income tax inspectors were appointed to check into the matter of farm income "not more than 7 per cent. of all the farmers in Canada were making an income which the inspectors thought was sufficiently large to pay income tax on or to be checked further." When the importance of agriculture to every part of our national life is considered, it seems regrettable indeed that even in what must be regarded as a period of great prosperity, the cash earnings of the average farmer should be under $2,000 a year. It is not likely that these conditions will be quickly changed but it is as well that the people should be made familiar with the fact that as things are at present, the average farmer is far from making an income proportionate to his contribution to the national economy.

NO PLACE ON FARM FOR CITY LOAFER

A farmer writing to a contemporary objects to magistrates advising vagrants to 'go out and work on the farms'. When transient loafers and drunks appear in court, the lecture from the bench usually ends up with the advice to go out in the country and get an honest job—probably because they are not wanted in the cities.

But this farmer while admitting that there is work to do on the farms, protests strongly that it is not work which can be done by drunks and loafers. Men in the country have to get up early in the morning and work late at night. It requires brain and brawn. Men who have been riding around the country from one city to another on freight trains, or who have been sitting around for months or years waiting for work to come to them are not physically able to do the work which is required of [illegible] farms.

A man who has had no farming experience is of little use in the country, except possibly during the harvesting season — and the farmer hasn't the time to train him when he knows that he won't stick at it anyway.

Then there is another reason for this farmer's objection. The hired man is usually treated as one of the family. He sleeps in the farmer's house and eats at his table and associates with his family. The respectable farmer is very careful whom he thus takes into his household. Certainly loafers and drunks are not acceptable to him — and no one can blame him for being a little particular about whom he engages. Some people seem to think that men can work on a farm when they cannot do anything else. They've got the wrong idea. Farming is specialized industry in these days and requires the best that all good men [illegible].

This farmer had presented a strong case. Probably magistrates — and others — have never looked at the matter in just that way. — Chatham News.

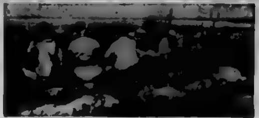
"It takes $75 to $80 a day to live here as a gentleman."

Bey made his observation as he hurried to his plane to fly to Paris.



PLANTING 50,000 TREES—Near the Moose Jaw pumping stations at Caron, a group of men pause for noonday refreshments; they have been planting 50,000 trees under the supervision of W. H. Howes of the Provincial Forestry Branch. Right: A planting team walks along the furrow, planting as they go.

PRAIRIE PROVINCES SHARE IN RECORD VOLUME OF CHEQUES

Continuing high velocity of money circulation, usually an indication of prosperous business conditions, is shown in the great volume of cheques cashed in Canada in the first six months of this year. Greater than in any similar period since the statistics were first collected, the total was $36,409 million compared with $34,484 million in the corresponding period of 1946, according to figures released by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Total for June was $5,975 million compared with $5,609 million in the same month last year, an increase of 6.5 per cent.

Each of the ten centres in the Prairie Provinces recorded advances, the greatest percentage increase shown in Medicine Hat where the total was $42 million, a gain of nearly 26 per cent. An increase of 17.7 per cent was shown in Calgary, where the total cheques cashed [illegible] in Winnipeg exceeded $3 billion, the increase over the first half of 1946 being 6 per cent. The total for the three provinces was $5,544 million compared with $5,080 million.

An increase of 17.8 per cent. was recorded for the three centres of British Columbia. The greatest percentage advance was shown in Vancouver which moved up 19 per cent to $2,571 million against $2,161 million last year. The total for British Columbia was $3,126 million against [illegible].

GEMS OF THOUGHT

SALUTARY EXPERIENCE

Experience is not what happens to a man. It is what a man does with what happens to him. — Aldous Huxley

It is the temper of the highest hearts to strive most upwards when they are most burdened. — Sir Philip [illegible]

There is only one real failure in life that is possible, and that is, not to be true to the best one knows. — [illegible]

Every failure is a step to success; every detection of what is false directs us toward what is true; every trial exhausts some tempting form of error. — William Whewell

When unconscious of a mistake, one thinks he is not mistaken, but this false consciousness does not change the fact, or its results; suffering and mistakes recur until one is awake to their cause and character. — Mary Baker Eddy

Failure indicates that energy has been poured into the wrong channel. — [illegible]

[illegible] ELECTRICITY

[illegible] farmers on tour in Sweden said they were impressed by the wide use of electricity, even in rural areas, and the efficient manner in which water is supplied, both to feed cattle and to irrigate fields.

Mr. Semi-Detach: "For goodness sake, Ethel, stop making that alarm clock go off! What's the idea, anyway?"
Mrs. Semi-Detach: "I only want to make the neighbors think we have a telephone."

Two executives were relaxing in a soft-drink parlor. In the course of their shop talk one asked, "Is your advertising getting any results?"

The other took a long swallow of ginger ale before he answered. "Sure thing! Last week we advertised for a night watchman, and the next night we were robbed."

A little girl was asked to tell who Socrates was.

"Socrates," she said, "was a Greek philosopher. He went about giving people good advice. They poisoned him."

"Does the foreman know that the trench has fallen in," asked the contractor.

"Well sir," replied the workman, "We're digging him out to tell him."

Earl Wilson tells of the New York panhandler who stopped a man and asked for a dollar.

"Why such a large touch?" the panhandler was asked.

"Well," answered the panhandler, "I'm trying to put all my begs in one ask it."

He was about to leave for the office when his wife handed him a small parcel.

"What's this dear?" he asked.

"A bottle of hair tonic."

"That's very nice of you, but—er—"

"Oh, it's not for you," she replied. "It's for your typist. Her hair is coming out badly on your coat."

The yarn has been revived about the New York subway rider who couldn't reach a strap, so he hung on to the long whiskers of the old chap standing next to him. The bearded gent, astonished, yelled: "Let go my beard!"

"Whatsa matter, pal?" asked the little fellow. "You gettin' off here?"

MUST FIND PEACE

The Victorians had a peaceful start behind them and a long peace ahead of them. We hapless "atomic moderns" are being told too often that our days of peace may last only from ten to twenty years. It is difficult to foster hope or plan construc[illegible] such a threat. But a way to an enduring peace must be found or life may become futile and negative.

British Crisis Endangering U.S. Trade Plan

WASHINGTON. — The British financial crisis endangers the entire postwar American plan to create a system of world trade with a minimum of barriers, American officials said.

One of the major objective of the $3,750,000,000 American loan to Britain—of which all but $1,000,000,000 has been used—was "to assist the government of the United Kingdom to assume the obligations of multilateral trade."

The United States and 16 other nations, including Britain, have been negotiating at Geneva for four months to create an international trade organization based on multilateral trade and to agree to reciprocal tariff reductions.

The present British crisis may go far toward upsetting early successful conclusion of the Geneva conference. The emergency conference in Paris of Undersecretary of State William L. Clayton, and U.S. Ambassadors Jefferson Caffery and Lewis W. Douglas will examine all possible repercussions of the British situation.

American officials here do not agree with former British Prime Minister Winston Churchill that the Labor government has "frittered" away the American loan on movies and tobacco. They agree, however, that circumstances have caused the British to spend the money to keep body and soul alive rather than for capital goods for reconstruction which a year ago everyone had hoped would happen.

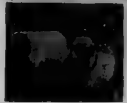
These officials point to the statistics which show that nearly half of Britain's imports from the U.S. have been foodstuffs. Tobacco imports were cut sharply in January and have been running since then to [illegible] about 10 per cent. of Britain's total imports in contrast to nearly 20 per cent earlier.

The bulk of British imports from this country, however, have been raw materials for industry.

British sources here pointed to the British food ration, which may face another cut in the attempt to attain super-austerity.

The Grand Canyon of the Colorado river is 275 miles long. At one point, it is 13 miles wide and 6,000 feet deep.

Orphans Shear 11 Lbs.



Two years ago Mrs. G. Randall, Salt Spring Island, B.C., had two motherless lambs given to her by a neighbor. Although no sheep-raiser herself, Mrs. Randall nursed the lambs, feeding them by bottle.

Recently the grown sheep were clipped, each producing more than 11 pounds of wool, handsomely rewarding Mrs. Randall for her efforts. British Columbia agriculture department officers reported the wool yield well above average, the normal wool clip being about seven and one-half to eight pounds per sheep.

The only two sheep Mrs. Randall owns, they have been pastured in her orchard.

USE FOR OLD BRUSH

An old shaving brush is good for dusting pleated lamp shades. The soft brush can't harm the fabric, and the long bristles remove dust easily from the folds.

We missed our Standard but were pleased to see the Editor and staff enjoy a holiday. The writer and family had a nice ten day vacation during which time they went to see the children's mother at Calgary, who too enjoyed a week away from the San and we are pleased to be able to say that she is a lot better. Mrs. Graham returned with us as far as Ponoka where she visited her mother who lives on a farm and where she enjoyed fresh vegetables direct from the garden for the first time in five years. Her dad works in Calgary now so that the family was together once more.

Like the Woodvale scribe we have to go back to July for some of our news. On Sunday July 27 the writer had a pleasant surprise when her cousin the former Theresa Graham, now Mrs. Frank Kotesky of New Westminster, B.C. visited her. Mrs. Kotesky, her husband and family had been to Rosetown, Sask. to attend the funeral of Mr. Kotesky's sister. Theresa just had to visit her old home as she was raised on the farm now occupied by the Wallington family. It was 20 years since the writer and Theresa last met and the reunion was an enjoyable one.

We agree with Chatsworth that 10c for an ice cream cone as charged at the fair this year is too much to charge and deprives many kiddies of their treats.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith and son Scott visited at the home of Alex' parents Mr. and Mrs. Adam Smith last week.

A lot grumble at Alberta roads but Mr. Fallow surely has a big job on his hands when he tries to meet everyone's wishes as Alberta has a lot of road in it to supervise and keep up. The Calgary highway is now very good but the gravel from Edmonton to Vermilion is rough.

The August meeting of the W.I. held at the home of Mrs. Weisenberger on Aug. 7th was missed by the writer much to her regret. A talk from Miss Lang of the V.S.A. was enjoyed. Mrs. Holte accompanied her from town. Other visitors were Anne Garnett, Dorothy Bathe, Berna Hewlett and Peggy Martin. Ten members were present. Members please take note that the next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Whitlock on Tuesday, Aug. 26th. Miss McIntyre of the Olds agricultural school will be guest speaker. Tuesday Aug. 26th the place—Mrs. Whitlock's.

Telephone line No. 23 has been repaired by putting in new poles all the way to Vermilion. The new line runs right along the fences so will be clear of all road work and Mr. Treeman can grade up our road into town as he promised for this year.

Mrs. John Wilson enjoyed a visit from her sister Della and husband the last week in July. It was this sister's little 6-year-old girl who was so severely burned in August last year and is now at the Jr. Red Cross hospital in Calgary. They visited her before coming here and report that she is confined to her bed and considerable skin grafting is still necessary.

Mrs. Howard and son Victor have been visiting Lloyd these past ten days. Victor returns to his work at Hanna this week but Mrs. Howard will spend the harvesting season with Lloyd.

Little Dianne Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith had the misfortune to swallow a 25c piece on July 26th. Consequences are as yet uncertain.

Mr. George Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Wallington attended the church meeting at Auburndale addressed by Dr. Hart Friday evening. Owing to additional expense this year our part of the church field will have to raise considerably more [illegible]. There are just five more Sundays left for church. Next Sunday a speaker will accompany Mr. Hume. The Sunday following will be Communion Sunday with Rev. E. S. Bishop in charge.

Kenilworth

There will be a dance at Kenilworth school Friday August 29th. Toby Cole orchestra supply music. Admission, gents 50c ladies 25c. Free lunch. [illegible]

Vol. XXXIX. No. 14. Vermilion, Alberta, Thursday, August 28th, 1947. $2.00 A Year

Schools Will Open On Tuesday, September 2nd

ENROLLMENT IN TOWN WILL EXCEED 500

Vermilion schools will re-open at 9 a.m. Tuesday Sept. 2nd when it is expected that over 500 young people will find their way into the 16 classrooms. At a long meeting of the local board Monday evening, attended also by the two principals and school division secretary, all final arrangements for the opening were completed.

HIGH SCHOOL

At the high school enrollment is uncertain until after the opening week. Last June grades 10, 11 and 12 had 86 students.

Mr. W. G. Hay, M.A., is new principal and will teach the sciences; Miss M. Knapp, B.A., B. Ed., mathematics and languages. Mrs. Cloe Hay, a new member of the staff takes English and Social Studies; Mr. J.G. Tarangul is the new commercial teacher.

INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL

The intermediate staff this year sees two changes. Miss Marion Rogers continues with two new members, Mr. Frank Welsh, a local man, and Mr. H. Kossowan, formerly of the St. Paul S.D.

Conditions will again be crowded in this division of the school with an estimated 119 students in 7, 8 and 9. It was hoped that a 4th teacher could be secured but until press time efforts in this respect had been unsuccessful.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Grades 1 to 6 which require 9 rooms will account for 208 children.

Principal F. H. Walker will teach grade 6. Miss P. McCallum moves from grade 4 to grade 5 replacing Miss Doris Lipsey who has resigned. Miss E. Green grade 4. Miss D. Oakley grade 3. Mrs. W. G. Hay will teach grade 2 until Christmas substituting for Miss Leslie Robson who is on leave of absence for four months in order to make a trip overseas; Miss D. Oblenberg, grade 1; Mrs. Ruth Adamson, a new member of the staff and a primary specialist, will teach the second grade 1 room. Miss E. Johnson teaches a combined 4, 5 and 6 room. Miss Ina Shaw a combined 2 and 3 room.

Caretakers Harry Scott and Bill Harris have the schools in spotless condition for the opening, everything being washed and varnished. Two of the high school rooms have been completely redecorated.

TO RECOMMEND INCREASE IN PRICE OF WHEAT

LEGION HIGHLIGHTS

By kind permission of the Vermilion Standard the local branch of the Canadian Legion will bring to you a weekly commentary on its varied activities.

Country Club Dances

Canadian Legion officially wound up their series of Country Club dances Wednesday, Aug. 27. These dances have been highly successful and it is hoped that they will be repeated in the 1948 summer season.

Decoration Day Memorial Service

It is hoped that all Vermilion and district citizens will take in our decoration day memorial service being held at the cemetery Sept. 7th at 3 p.m. A hearty welcome is extended to everyone. A feature that will add color and dignity to the proceedings will be the Band of the 19th Battalion, Loyal Edmonton Regiment, whose services we have been most fortunate in obtaining. Transportation will be arranged and hours of bus departure will be announced in next week's Legion Highlights.

Donations of cut flowers will be received by the Ladies Auxiliary in the local armouries after 2 p.m. Saturday Sept. 6th. The Legion hope that it will receive the wholehearted and enthusiastic support of the public in their request for floral tributes. Gladioli and larger flowers would be preferable. It has been suggested that if there is any danger of frost next week, these cut flowers can be preserved by placing them in water and storing in a basement.

We'll be back again next week with more items of interest. See you then.

James Rogan and Miss Ethel Earnshaw Married at Calgary

On Saturday August 16th at 4:30 p.m. the Chapel of the Pro-Cathedral of the Redeemer, Calgary was the scene of the wedding of Ethel, daughter of Mrs. Annie J. Earnshaw and the late Mr. John W. Earnshaw of 42 Talbot Road, Leeds 8, Yorkshire, England, to James Rogan, elder son of Mrs. Sarah Rogan and the late Mr. Wm. A. Rogan of Vermilion, Alberta.

The bride who was given in marriage by Mr. Harry Scott of Vermilion chose for her wedding ensemble a blue gabardine suit with matching hat and white accessories. The bridal couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Popplit of Calgary.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Palliser hotel. Fl. A. F. Avant, D.S.O., D.F.C., proposed the toast to the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Rogan left later for their honeymoon in Banff after which they will reside in Calgary.

Mrs. Rogan was a member of the W.A.A.F. and was mentioned in dispatches in 1944, while her husband served overseas with the R.C.A.F. and was awarded the D.F.M. in 1946.

SCOUTS and CUBS

The Boy Scouts and Cub groups will hold their fall reorganization meetings the second week in September so watch for further announcement.

The Scouts are planning to hold an "apple day" soon so everyone is asked to be prepared to support this day. Further announcement of the exact date will be made later.

United Church Ladies Honor Departing Members

Mrs. C. M. Stewart's beautiful home was a charming setting for a farewell tea on Tuesday afternoon held by the United Church Women's association in honor of their departing members, Miss Doris Lipsey, a bride-elect of September; Mrs. L. H. Bussard who moves to Drumheller and Mrs. Dan Richardson who goes to Flatbush, Alberta.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with gladioli, sweet peas and snapdragons.

Mrs. Stewart welcomed seventy guests during the afternoon.

Presiding at the tea tables were Mrs. R. Douglas, Mrs. L. Dowdell, Mrs. C. W. Stephens, Mrs. W.E. Cross. Those assisting were Mrs. Glen Good, Mrs. W. G. Hay, Mrs. G. Mead, Mrs. Wm. McWhinney, Mrs. G. Stephens, Mrs. Wm. Bell, Mrs. D. Logan, Mrs. H. Meyers, Mrs. A. Gobeen, Mrs. T. Dick, Mrs. R. J. Roxborough.

The president of the W.A., Mrs. Stewart, presented Miss Lipsey with a beautiful bouquet of flowers, and Mrs. Bussard and Mrs. Richardson with lovely corsages, commenting at the same time on the very valuable services these departing ladies had rendered the church and its organizations.

Following the presentations and well wishes, the members formed a large circle and sang "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" and "Auld Lang Syne".

Mobile Clinic Finds Case of T. B. Here

ALSO ONE AT MANNVILLE

The statistical summary and preliminary report of persons X-rayed by the Mobile Chest X-ray units provided by the Alberta Tuberculosis Association through Christmas Seal funds, and operated by the Tuberculosis Division, Alberta Department of Health indicates that one case of active tuberculosis was found among the people X-rayed in Vermilion, 17 inactive cases and 22 abnormalities were also reported.

At Mannville there was 1 case of active T.B., 3 inactive and 11 abnormalities; at Innisfree no active, 4 inactive and 11 abnormalities, at Minburn no active, 2 inactive, 6 abnormalities; at Vegreville 1 active, 10 inactive and 24 abnormalities.

2251 Vermilion and district people were X-rayed when the Mobile clinic visited here last month.

Golfers in Training for Vegreville Tourney

The golf links were well patronized [illegible] week and some of the boys are getting their scores down [illegible] but still too many are in the [illegible]. The experts are in training for the battles at the forthcoming Vegreville tournament and we understand [illegible] members of the Vermilion club will journey to Vegreville [illegible] week end.

The Committee are rather disturbed to see so many golfers neglecting the fairways which are in good shape. They cannot understand why so [illegible] play in the rough. [illegible] walking in the [illegible] grass. Any other excuses?

It is rumored that one of the more ardent members is putting up a very classy cup for local competition. Pages the lady golfers—where are they all?

"WINGS" DAY AT VERMILION AIR FIELD

TEN STUDENTS PASS FLYING TESTS

Wednesday afternoon Aug. 20 witnessed the first "Wings Day" or graduation of students trained at the Vermilion Flying school. Ten students tried the flying tests and all were successful in that part of the examination. The exams were unique in that it was the first time flying tests of this nature had been tried outside of city airports. This is due to the fact that Vermilion has developed an airfield to the point where it has been licensed by the Dominion Department of Transport. It is possibly the only municipally developed field licensed in the West.

The Flying School was commenced here last fall when instruction was given by Maurice Fallow of Western Airmotive, Edmonton. There was a break during the winter but operations commenced again this spring and training planes have been in the air every day. Instructor of the class this year has been Ken Crowshaw formerly of the Fleet Air arm. Baden Anderson is school manager representing Western Airmotive of Edmonton and Maurice Fallow of that company pays regular visits to the training school.

The students trying the exams were John Mix, Don Wiebe, Al Kosterevic of Lloydminster, Art Wiebe, Allen LaRose, Ted Hawks, Keith Dowdell, Lou McCulloch, Dean Caskey and Bob Watt.

The Standard has a fine photo of the boys taken in a group and this will be reproduced in an early edition of the paper.

155 Blood Donors Here

One hundred and fifty-five donors visited the Red Cross Mobile Blood clinic when it visited Vermilion on Tuesday last week and this in spite of wet weather and bad roads. 97 donations were received the day following at Vegreville.

The Blood Clinic here was held at the high school and all preliminary arrangements carried out by the Vermilion branch of the Red Cross.

Girl Student Solos

Miss Margaret Scott, the lone girl student at the Vermilion Flying school, soloed on Sunday of last week. Margaret has been taking lessons since the middle of July and is working hard towards her private pilot's license.

"GREEN ACRES"

FEEDING NEW GRAIN

Last year several people got into difficulty from feeding newly threshed grain. For some reason the digestive organs of farm animals and poultry are upset by new grain. It often causes loss of the animals. This is especially true of poultry. Wheat grain fed to horses or thrown to the poultry seems to cause the most trouble.

WEEDS DURING HARVEST

When cultivation of the summerfallow is neglected during harvest the thistle and other weeds get a new lease of life. All the work of the summer is lost if perennial weeds are allowed to go without regular cultivations in the fall. To make a good job it is necessary to work the summerfallow every ten days until freeze up.

SEEDING FALL RYE

The price of rye makes this crop very popular now. Plenty of seed should be available this fall. Grain can be taken directly from the combine or thresher and seeded. It is best to seed it by September 10th [illegible]. About one bushel per acre is sufficient.

Vermilion Fair To Hold Fall Sale of Purebred Livestock

S. C. Heckbert, Secretary Manager of Vermilion Exhibition announces that plans are under way for a show and sale of purebred livestock which will be held at the fine livestock pavilion of the Vermilion school of agriculture on Nov. 5th next. Preliminary information has gone out to breeders and already the indications point to the assembly of large numbers of outstanding stock.

The show will be held in the morning on Nov. 5th with the sale in the afternoon, judges will be named by the Provincial Dept. of Agriculture and the sale will be under the competent direction of W. J. Imrie, for many years travelling fieldman for the Shorthorn Association of Canada.

The fact that the Agricultural school [illegible] to guarantee first class accommodation for stock and generous comfort for all who attend.

District breeders are invited to submit listings of their purebred livestock at as early a date as possible.

Monday, Labor Day, A Dominion Holiday

Monday next is Labor Day and the last holiday of the summer. It is a Dominion holiday and all stores, offices, places etc. will be closed.

First Change in Bank Hours in 100 Years

CLOSE AT 11:00 A.M. SATURDAYS

Commencing Saturday Sept. 6th, banks all across Canada will close at 11 o'clock a.m. instead of 12 o'clock noon. This includes the provincial treasury branches in Alberta as well. This move is to enable the staffs to finish their work after closing in time to enjoy a full half holiday on Saturday.

This is the first change in banking hours in over 100 years. Offices of many firms in the cities such as oil companies, public utilities and law offices have been closing all day Saturday for some years now. This practice is being followed in all the large cities in the [illegible].

FS. Harold Bushell Home Sunday

FS Harold Bushell returned home Sunday morning following a month spent in England and Scotland as a member of the Canadian Air Cadets on their exchange visit. Harold was one of 40 outstanding cadets chosen for the trip, 3 being from Alberta. The entire trip going and returning was made by plane. Stopovers were made at Montreal, Gander, Newfoundland and the Azores. Champion Flowers Are Grown by E. H. Buckingham

WINS AT LLOYDMINSTER

At the Lloydminster Flower show held on Saturday District Agriculturist Buckingham won three first prizes for gladioli and champion "Glad" of the show. He also obtained 2 firsts and championship for roses.

In collection of vegetables Mr. Buckingham got first place in a five-entry competition. There were 30 different kinds of vegetables in the Vermilion man's collection.

Hugh Evans got a first for cabbage and Mr. Buckingham first for cauliflower.

In spite of the rainy weather Lloydminster put on a good flower and vegetable show. It is hoped that the Vermilion Horticultural society will hold as good a show next year as was put on in 1946. The continued dry weather this year caused the cancellation of the 1947 show.

Vermilion Lady Dies At Seattle

Mrs. Dorothy May Trotter (nee Coulter) formerly of Vermilion, passed away at Seattle, Wash., on August 10th. She was 30 years of age and death was due to a tumor of the brain. She leaves to mourn her loss her sorrowing husband Mr. Jack Trotter, her father and mother Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Coulter, brothers Charlie and Walter, sisters Ruth, Mabel, Nancy and Betty all of Vermilion.

Funeral services were held at Seattle on Monday August 18th.

The deceased grew up in Vermilion. Following her marriage the young couple went to Seattle and from there to California. They returned to Seattle a month ago where Mrs. Trotter was taken ill and passed away.

RAINS CONTINUE

4 inches in last 10 days

Rainfall which commenced Monday of last week has totalled 3.98 inches and weather is still unsettled. Harvesting operations are at a standstill.

The heavy rains were experienced Monday Aug. 18—.76 in.; Friday Aug. 22—1.06 in.; Saturday Aug. 23—1.30; in. Total rainfall for August is now 3.98 inches. These heavy rains were linked up by lighter showers.

Total rainfall from April 1 to Aug. 27 is now 9.25. At this time last year it was 7.45. The long-time average is 9.60 inches. Practically 4 inches of the 9.25 this year has been received in the last 10 days after the normal growing season is over.

Chatsworth Chatter

Beginning Friday evening 22nd at about 9 p.m. rain certainly made up for shortage during the summer. The downpour lasted steadily until almost noon Saturday. Then to add to the already unwelcome moisture, Monday saw more rain showers with light hail during the afternoon.

Roads, fields and gardens are inundated in some places and harvesting will be seriously delayed though the rain will make quite a difference to late grain filling and to gardens if we don't have frost. Several gardens show slight evidence of frost sometime during the last two weeks. Grain in the swath is already sprouted due to the heavy moisture.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Good, Dennis and Allan motored to Edson during the week end of Aug. 16-18 where they visited the former's sister, Mrs. F. Fowler. Robert and Kathie Fowler returned with them and are now visiting at Good's.

Mrs. Joe Farkash, Sr. spent 5 days in Edmonton recently where she underwent medical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Orland Bidne and family of Westlock were visitors to McKee's last week. Mrs. McKee went back with them for a short holiday.

Mrs. Ida Clark and son Douglas of Mannville, were visitors to Good's and Thompson's on Sunday 17th.

Miss Eleanor Krause spent from Aug. 13th to 17th visiting at the E. Thompson home. June is spending a few days with Eleanor in town this week.

The community extends sincere sympathy to the Tulodziecki family on their recent bereavement.

Miss Marie Tulodziecki is at home at present helping her mother.

Mr. Jack Richardson spent a few days last week visiting homes in the district.

The ladies of the community met at Mrs. O. Burns' on Thursday Aug. 21st. There were 18 present and the name decided upon for the group is "Chatsworth Country Club". After the business part of the meeting was over a social hour of visiting was enjoyed. Mrs. Shrodelius was the holder of the lucky number (prize donated by Marian, a nice glass dish). A delicious lunch and tea was served by the hostess, Mrs. Burns, assisted by Mrs. J. Panter, Mrs. Bob Cameron and Mrs. Jim Thompson. The next meeting is to be held at Mrs. Bob Cameron's on Thursday, Sept. 18th. Those responsible for lunch are Mrs. M. Farkash, Mrs. Joe Farkash, Sr., Mrs. Harry Good and Mrs. Arnold Maggs while Mrs. R. Good and Mrs. E. Thompson are responsible for the social part of the meeting.

Mrs. Lee Kischinsky is the teacher at Ottawa school for the coming term. To date we have no news of a teacher at Chatsworth.

A FUTURE WITH HEREFORDS — A very interesting booklet entitled "A Future with Herefords" has been received at the Standard office and the editor presumes that it was forwarded by Dave Andrew of Calgary. It is an extremely readable and well illustrated publication and will prove of great interest and benefit to all cattlemen, regardless of the breed they favor. No doubt a copy of the book can be obtained by writing to the Canadian Hereford Association at 525-10th avenue N.E., Calgary.

RIVERTON

Mr. and Mrs. R. Sunderland and Eva of Cheney, Wash., former residents of this district, visited relatives and friends here for ten days. They left on their return trip Sunday.

Congratulations to Kurt Enkenhus who is one of six in Alberta to receive 3 years' free tuition fees at the University of Alberta. Kurt's average for his grade 12 exams was 93. Everyone is proud of him hereabouts.

The Ladies Aid entertained Dewberry and North Home ladies at the school Aug 13th. Miss Lang of Vermilion gave a demonstration of leathercraft and shellcraft work. Her talk was greatly enjoyed.

The Riverton ladies were sorry that the rain came and made the roads impassable to attend the Dewberry ladies tea. Not many were able to attend but a great many were disappointed.

Mrs. Spicer hasn't been well and is now in Edmonton receiving medical attention. A speedy recovery is wished her.

The ladies aid meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. Sinclair Sept. 11th.

Wildmere Winks

Adam Smith who is away in the States with Gordon Green's combine, phoned home on Sunday evening from somewhere in the Dakota's. His mother did not catch just where he said he was. The outfit will be home shortly after the first of September.

Another of our Wildmere born boys and later raised in Dinwood is going to join the Benedicts we hear. John (Bud) Duthe and Miss Donalda Geheon of Vermilion have chosen the same date as the writer's wedding day, on which to be married.

Laurence Graham visited at the Smith home on Sunday and Billie accompanied him home and spent the evening. Owing to so much rain not much else can be done but talk these days. It's certainly very poor harvesting weather.

Andy Kiss is feeling better after his accident with his jeep and is able to be out of the hospital.

Fred Haines had the misfortune to cut two fingers badly on his right hand while cutting wood with a buzz saw.

Queen Victoria Wept At Son's Wedding

Last time there was a wedding of the heir to the British throne was when Edward, Prince of Wales married Princess Alexandra of Denmark in 1863. On that occasion [illegible] Victoria ordered that her son should be married "with the utmost magnificence" at St. George's Chapel, Windsor, usually known as the family chapel.

Dickens and Thackeray described the scene in ecstatic terms and Queen Victoria wept in her pew as Jenny Lind, the Swedish nightingale, sang the choral to music by the late Prince Consort. Said a contemporary reporter "the sight of her grief cast a momentary awe over the ceremony, which rendered the emotions of those present almost sublime."

Good Definition Of Fault Finder

A Kansas country editor has discovered that when a man finds fault with his local newspaper, 10 to one he hasn't an advertisement in it, three to one he is a delinquent in his subscription, even money that he never did anything to assist the publisher to make it a good paper, and 40 to one that he is anxious to see it when it comes out. To which might be added a 100 to one that he makes the biggest threats when he demands that his name be kept out of police court proceedings.

HOW THE VICTORIA CROSS WAS WON IN CANADA OVER EIGHTY YEARS AGO

There is in Sydney, Australia, a memorial to Private Timothy O'Hea, a Canadian soldier, who won the Victoria Cross in Canada, and strange to say, there was no war on here at the time. The Victoria Cross was instituted in 1856, and O'Hea's heroic deed was performed 10 years later. It so impressed Queen Victoria, however, that she amended the terms so as to include bravery not in the presence of an enemy.

The story of how Private O'Hea was awarded the Victoria Cross is told by Fred Kaufman in the Montreal Star.

It was on June 19, 1866, during a period of unrest following the Civil War in the South and at the time of the Fenian Raids, that military authorities decided to move a train loaded with ammunition along the Grand Trunk Railway line from Montreal to Quebec City. A small detachment of soldiers from the 1st Battalion of the Rifle Brigade, commanded by a sergeant, was assigned to guard the train.

During a brief stop at the Station in Danville, Que., one of the cars suddenly caught fire and, owing to the highly explosive nature of the cargo, a general alarm was sounded. The car was immediately disconnected and while the sergeant in charge was wondering what to do next, Pte. O'Hea rushed towards him and grabbed a bunch of keys from his hand. Then, amid shouts "to get at least five miles away from here," O'Hea opened the door of the burning car and calling for a ladder and water, started to extinguish the flames. No explosion occurred, and the train proceeded on schedule.

O'Hea's bravery was called to the attention of a Colonel Hannan, and as a result, the circumstances were brought to the notice of Queen Victoria, and announcement of her award was made in the London Gazette of January 1, 1867.

The hero left Canada for India, from whence he moved to Australia and settled there. His exact fate was never known, but it is understood he was lost in a forest a few years later. Friends in Sydney erected a memorial.

It would appear that the Dominion Government, or the people of Danville, should erect one in that town.

LEAGUE of CANADA presents TOPICS of VITAL INTEREST

CERTIFIED MILK NOT ALWAYS SAFE

Opponents of milk pasteurization are still using the argument that certified milk—high grade milk from inspected herds which is produced under sanitary conditions — is as germ-free as pasteurized milk. Animals in certified herds are inspected twice a year for tuberculosis and other diseases.

However, these pasteurization opponents fail to point out that disease can occur in the periods between examinations. They fail to point out that one diseased animal can infect an entire herd certified or otherwise. For instance, it sometimes has been estimated that one in 200 negative tuberculin tests on cows is false. Therefore, if all the approximately 3,900,000 cows in Canada were T.B. tested, this would mean that 19,500 were false negatives—and those 19,500 animals could produce a lot of disease-laden milk, and could pass the infection on to thousands of other animals.

Milk, to be absolutely safe for human consumption, should come from healthy, clean cows, it must be cleanly handled, and it must be pasteurized. Pasteurized milk is the only safe milk.

Summer vacationists who are unable to obtain a regular supply of the commercially pasteurized product, should pasteurize their own milk. Methods of home pasteurization may be obtained by writing to the Health League of Canada, 111 Avenue Road, Toronto 5, Ontario.

Young Drivers Cause Plenty Of Accidents

According to the Michigan Soo Evening News an interview with insurance and safety officials in one of the large cities uncovers the fact that there is one fatal accident for two million miles driven by the 16-year-old driver group. For the ages 20 to 25, the average is one in eight million, while the more cautious 45 to 50 group has one fatality to every 21 million miles driven.

Junior drivers are poison. This is what insurance men say of the youngsters who take off in father's car nearly every evening, scattering destruction in their wake.

We have taught the children to drive, or they have learned by watching and they seem to have an instinctive grasp of the mechanics of the operation. But there is much more than mechanics involved in driving a car. Courtesy, consideration, common sense and good judgment are even more important than driving ability as such. In driving, as in other fields, it is character that counts.

Pasteur's germ theory of disease established in the 1870s led to identification of the causes of many major ills.

Crown Prince Seeks Same Exile As Kaiser Wilhelm

It is remarkable how completely the Hohenzollerns have faded out of European history on the stage of which they made so imposing a figure over centuries.

The Kaiser Wilhelm, last sovereign of the line, spent over 20 years a reticent exile at Doorn, where he took sanctuary under Dutch hospitality after his flight from Spa in November, 1918. He occupied his bearded last years felling timber on the Doorn estate, and, when the Nazi legions overran Holland, they carefully by-passed Doorn to spare him the humiliation of liberation. Hitler was taking no chances with royalty. Now comes the news that Crown Prince Wilhelm popularly known to the contemptible British Army as Little Willie, is seeking the same exile and has petitioned the Dutch Government to certify him as a non-enemy in order that he may take over the Doorn tenancy.

Now his Silesian mines bring no more dividends doubtless Little Willie seeks retirement. Will he be haunted by the shades of those Germans who under his command left their bones in front of Verdun?—London letter, Ottawa Journal.

Early Closing By-Law

(DEWBERRY, ALBERTA)

Notice is hereby given that a petition has been presented to the council of the Municipal District of Vermilion River No. 71 under the provisions of the Early Closing Act praying for the passing of the following closing By-Law: EARLY CLOSING BY-LAW (Dewberry, Alberta)

BY-LAW TO PROVIDE FOR THE EARLY CLOSING OF CERTAIN TRADES OR BUSINESSES IN THE HAMLET OF DEWBERRY, PROVINCE OF ALBERTA.

THE COUNCIL OF THE MUNICIPAL DISTRICT OF VERMILION RIVER No. 71 ENACTS AS FOLLOWS:

1. This by-law shall be cited as the "EARLY CLOSING BY-LAW No. [illegible] (Dewberry, Alberta)".

2. In this By-law unless otherwise stated:

(a) "SHOP" shall mean and include any premises or place whatsoever where retail trade is carried on and shall include the premises or places of business or trade of a beauty parlour, barber, blacksmith, tinsmith, grain buyer, plumber or where any artisan carries on his trade or calling.

(b) "COUNCIL" shall mean the Municipal Council in and for the Municipal District of Vermilion River No. 71, Province of Alberta.

3. Any shop or place of business in the Hamlet of Dewberry where goods, chattels, wares or merchandise of any nature or kind whatsoever are kept exposed or offered for sale by retail or where any artisan carries on his trade or calling except as hereinafter provided, shall excepting the days and times hereafter mentioned be closed at the hour of 6 o'clock in the afternoon of every business day and throughout the year and shall remain closed until the hour of 5 o'clock of the forenoon of the next following day, and it shall be unlawful during such hours to sell, dispose of, or deliver any chattels, goods, wares or merchandise or to carry on any trade or calling in such shop or place of business.

PROVIDED however that barber shops and beauty parlors shall close at the hour of 8 o'clock in the evening instead of 6 o'clock.

AND PROVIDED FURTHER that on each Saturday and the day preceding a public or civic holiday all shops or places of trade or business to which this by-law applies shall close at the hour of 10 o'clock in the evening except barber shops and beauty parlors which shall close at the hour of 12 o'clock midnight.

AND PROVIDED FURTHER that all shops or places of business or trade whatsoever shall remain closed as herein provided on all statutory holidays whether provincial or federal except such businesses, trades or callings as are exempt from the provisions of this By-law.

AND PROVIDED FURTHER that in the case of emergency, repair parts required in connection with farm machinery or the supply of any article required for immediate use by the reason or because of sickness or accident may be sold after the closing hours herein provided for.

[illegible]

of any shop, place of business or trade to which this By-law applies who keeps, or has the same open, or allows the same to be open contrary to any of the provisions herein contained shall be deemed guilty of an offence against this By-law and liable on summary conviction:

(a) For a first offence to a fine of not exceeding five dollars and costs.

(b) For a second offence to a fine not exceeding twenty-five dollars and costs.

(c) For a third and subsequent offence to a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars and costs.

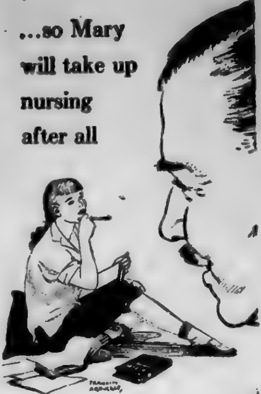
PROVIDED HOWEVER that no person shall be deemed guilty of an offence against this By-law who serves a customer who is in the shop at a closing hour or delivers goods, wares or merchandise purchased before a closing hour.

AND FURTHER PROVIDED that this By-law shall not apply to sales made at any Fair or Sports Day gathering lawfully held or at a bazaar for charitable or Church purposes and subject to Section 4 hereof, shall not apply to any shop or place where the trade, business or calling carried on is exclusively that of:

(a) Post Office business.
(b) Sale of medicines, medical and surgical appliances.
(c) Sale of intoxicating liquors.
(d) Sale of refreshments for consumption on premises.
(e) Sale of tobacco and other smokers' supplies.
(f) Sale of newspapers and magazines.
(g) Business of a railway book stall or railway refreshment room.
(h) Sale of gasoline, automobile accessories or supplies.
(i) Sale of confectionery, ice cream, fruits and soft drinks.
(j) Sale of bread, pastry and bakers' supplies.
(k) Pool room.
(l) Garages and service or filling station.

Early Closing By-law (Dewberry, Alberta) No. 57, July 6th, 1940 is hereby repealed.

Notice is hereby further given that objections to the petition presented to the council praying for the passing of such By-law on the ground that such petition is insufficiently signed or otherwise affecting the validity or sufficiency thereof must be filed with the Secretary-Treasurer of the Municipal District of Vermilion River No. 71 on or before the 20th day of September; and that if no such objections are filed before the said date the council will forthwith proceed to pass the said closing By-law.



It looked for a while as if a temporary financial problem in the family might keep Mary from finishing "High". If she had to quit school to help the family income that would have meant good-bye to her hopes of becoming a nurse.

But here she is, starting her final year. Did her Dad suddenly come into some money?

No . . . and yes. He consulted his bank manager, who told him how the bank, through personal loans, often helped people to meet just such situations. Arrangements were made, and now Mary will take up nursing after all.

In 1946 Canada's banks made half a million personal loans to Canadian men and women.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Saturday Night

By MARION BOUCHER

PATSY was worried. When one is sixteen, pert, blonde and definitely whistle bait and one hasn't a date on Saturday night, it's a serious matter. The worst of it was that she had been so sure Jim Raine meant to take her out. Hadn't he asked her the other day what she was doing on Saturday night? And when Patsy had answered evasively,

"That remains to be seen," he had said gaily, "I'll be seeing you then."

It was as good as a date and Patsy had been secretly triumphant over it. All the girls agreed that Jim was the smoothest boy in collegiate, even though he did seem rather indifferent to their charms.

When her bosom friend, Leila, boasted that she had a date for Saturday night, Patsy said mysteriously that she was going to be "busy" too. Leila had been very curious but Patsy had refused to tell her more.

On Saturday afternoon Patsy retired to the bathroom to shampoo her blonde curls. She then took a leisurely bath and emerged from the tub, scented with bath salts, bath powder and her mother's most exotic cologne. She gave herself a manicure, using the bright nail polish Dad frowned upon.

After a critical survey of her wardrobe, she decided that her new white skirt with the peasant blouse would do for the evening. She would wear her new sandals too, even though they weren't very comfortable.

And now it looked very much as if all Patsy's preparations had been for nought. Here it was seven o'clock and no word from Jim. Of course he worked Saturday afternoons at the corner drug store but he should be finished by now. Patsy hovered uneasily around the telephone.

"Aren't you helping your mother with the dishes tonight?" Dad asked.

"Oh yes, sure", she answered and drifted reluctantly towards the kitchen.

When the phone rang a few minutes after, Patsy almost broke a leg in her haste to answer. But it was only for Bob, her older brother. He talked on and on while Patsy prayed fervently that Jim wouldn't try to call while the line was busy. Finally Bob hung up but the phone did not ring again.

"Would you like to go to the movies with Dad and me?" her mother asked, apparently unaware of Patsy's anxiety.

"I don't think so, Mother, I don't feel like going to a show tonight."

"You're not sick, are you Patsy? I noticed you ate very little supper."

"Oh, no, Mother, I am feeling fine."

"Are you going out?"

"Well ... I might later on."

"Remember to be home by twelve if you do, dear."

"Oh, Mother, that Cinderella stuff is [illegible] day and age! Besides, it's Saturday night."

But her mother was adamant. It was only on special occasions that Patsy was allowed to stay out later than twelve in spite of her vehement protests over this rule.

After her parents had left, Patsy went upstairs and changed into the white skirt and gay blouse. She carefully applied more lipstick and combed her hair again. She could hear Bob splashing and whistling in the bathroom, and soon he went out too. The house was maddeningly quiet—if only the phone would ring!

Patsy wandered aimlessly downstairs and turned on the radio. Dance music filled the room and then a girl's voice mocked her:

"Saturday night is the loneliest night in the week..." Patsy shut the radio off.

She looked anxiously at the clock—it was after eight now. What would she do all evening, if Jim didn't call? She didn't dare phone Leila—it would be too humiliating to confess that she was sitting at home doing nothing. Besides Leila had said she was going roller-skating with Davy Low.

Patsy picked up a magazine but found that she couldn't concentrate on what she was reading. She tossed it aside and went to the window. Couples strolled by, talking and laughing in the June night. It was almost more than she could bear—everyone seemed to be out having a good time, except herself.

It was really a man's world, Patsy thought bitterly. Look at her brother Bob—he didn't have to wait for anyone to ask him out. But she was a girl and had to accept her fate. Oh it wasn't fair!

Patsy was on the verge of tears when the doorbell rang. She leaped up. Could it be ...? Yes, ...it was Jim!

"Hi, Pat!" He was a little out of breath. "I was afraid you wouldn't be home. There was a Two-for-One sale at the store and I had to work late this evening — couldn't get around any sooner. How about going to a show?"

"I really didn't care to go out tonight, Jim." She succeeded in sounding very indifferent. "But ... well... yes, a show would be fine."

"Sorry I didn't phone you, but the boss wouldn't let me, we were so busy."

Patsy hummed a little tune as she went for her coat. All was right with the world once more. It was Saturday night and she had a date!

MAGIC CHEESE BISCUITS

[illegible]
2 tsps. Magic Baking Powder
(When half-baked, place square of cheese on top of biscuits for extra flavor)
Sift dry ingredients together; cut in shortening. Mix in cheese lightly; add milk slowly. Roll out on floured board to ½-inch thick; cut with small biscuit cutter. Bake in hot oven (475°F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 12.

SELECTED

RECIPES

DEVIL'S FOOD CAKE

(2 eggs or 3 egg yolks)

- 2 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
- 1 teaspoon soda
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup butter or other shortening
- 1¼ cups sugar
- 2 eggs or 3 egg yolks, unbeaten
- 2 to 3 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
- 1 cup milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift flour once, measure, add soda and salt, and sift together three times. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each, then add chocolate and blend. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Bake in two greased deep 9-inch layer pans or three greased 8-inch layer pans in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 25 minutes, or until done. Spread Fluffy Seven Minute Frosting or Mint Frosting between layers and on top and sides of cake.

CHOCOLATE CRESTED CUSTARD PIE

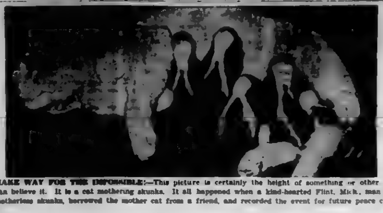
- Pastry
- 4 eggs, slightly beaten
- ½ cup sugar
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 3 cups milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 square unsweetened chocolate, melted
- 2 tablespoons hot water

Line a deep 9-inch pie plate with pastry rolled ⅛ inch thick allowing pastry to extend 1 inch beyond edge. Fold edge back to form standing rim, flute with fingers. Combine eggs, sugar, salt, milk, and vanilla. Pour into pie shell. Bake in hot oven (450 deg. F.) 20 minutes, then decrease heat to moderate (350 deg. F.) and bake 10 to 15 minutes longer, or until knife inserted comes out clean.

Add sugar to chocolate, then add water, one tablespoon at a time, stirring until blended. Pour over pie filling and bake in slow oven (300 deg. F.) 5 to 10 minutes, or until set. Cool.

TAGGED WITH GUN

Whales, like birds, are tagged by scientists for migration study, but in marketing whales, the numbers are placed on stainless steel tubes and fired into the whale's thick blubber from a 12-bore gun.



MAKE WAY FOR THE IMPOSSIBLE:—This picture is certainly the height of something or other. Yes, you can believe it. It is a cat mothering skunks. It all happened when a kind-hearted Flint, Mich., man found the motherless skunks, borrowed the mother cat from a friend, and recorded the event for future peace conferences.

Wood-Carver Has Made Masterpiece

MONTREAL—Take 1,200 separate pieces of wood, carve delicately to fit for size, glue them together carefully and you have an exquisite miniature church, complete with altar, statues, flowers, pews, and electric lights.

Sounds simple, doesn't it?

But it took Philippe Matte, 56, of suburban Outremont, in Quebec, more than three years—1,000 spare-time working hours—to do it. The result is a masterpiece.

An electrical appliance salesman by occupation, Matte first began his wood-carving hobby 10 years ago when he started making toys and other novelties for his children. The church is 30 inches long, 40 inches high and 14 inches wide and weighs 45 pounds.

Modest Project Faces Failure

A project for saving the health and in thousands of instances the lives of 20,000,000 children may have to be abandoned for lack of money. The International Children's Emergency Fund faces an emergency indeed. Yet the nations are spending billions on armaments and in preparations for the next war.

It was a modest project aiming to provide one six-cent meal for each child every day—some soup with meat in it, a slice of bread, a potato, a glass of milk, a dose of cod liver oil—a food value of 700 calories. Now it is estimated that only 7,000,000 children can be given this meal, and that the calories must fall to 500.—Ottawa Citizen.

Millionaire Valued First Dollar Earned

HOUSTON, Texas — A dollar's a dollar even to a millionaire. W. P. Hubbard, Houston, Texas, superintendent of money orders and postal savings for the U.S. government, notified a former Houston man now a New York millionaire, that the $1 he had left in postal savings there more than 20 years ago was now $1.40.

The man said he'd claim the money, as it represented one of the first dollars he ever made.

Will Mean Healthful Exercise For Blind

TORONTO. New fields of healthful exercise and transportation for the blind may be opened by the first three-wheeled, two-seater bicycle designed especially for sightless persons the Canadian National Institute for the Blind said in Toronto. An Institute statement said the bicycle will enable sightless persons to get the full exercise and enjoyment of cycling with a sighted companion to guide the machine.

Public School Has Glass Walls

FERGUS, Ontario. If you live in a glass house don't throw stones. This will probably be the paramount rule for public school students at Fergus, Ontario next fall. A new single-storey glass-walled [illegible]-shaped school holding 400 pupils has replaced the original 76-year-old structure. There is an outside exit for each classroom reducing fire hazards.

Canadian Girl Runs Paper In Yukon

An interesting item which appeared in an English newspaper is entitled "An Alaskan Editress". We quote the item from the Yorkshire Post as follows:

"Miss Georgina Murray, a Canadian girl who as a member of the W.R.N.S. was attached to the Public Relations branch of the Canadian Navy and spent two years in London during the war has become a newspaper owner and editor in one of the most northerly inhabited regions of the world. Her paper is the Alaska Highway News, a flourishing weekly which, printed at Fort St. John near the borders of the Yukon territory, circulated among trappers, prospectors and miners as well as millionaire sportsmen from the United States flying north to Alaska.

Miss Murray's printing machinery had to be flown to Fort St. John where life is still primitive. A recent report in the Alaska Highway News told how a three-year-old child had to crawl through half a mile of snowdrifts [illegible] help [illegible] mother. And a [illegible] recently printed [illegible] in the [illegible] meat [illegible] substitute [illegible]. Conditions [illegible] unlike those [illegible] in Yorkshire. Material Ready For Wedding Dress

It is possible that the material for Princess Elizabeth's wedding gown will be made by Britain's silkworms. At Lullingstone Castle in Kent there is a colony of silkworms who have already provided silks for a previous State occasion. They made the fabric for the robes worn by the Queen and two Princesses at the coronation, each cocoon producing two miles of thread. Enough raw silk is already set aside for Princess Elizabeth's dress.

The original Punch and Judy show was written in 1600. 2720

Women Are Danger On Cargo Vessels

LONDON.—The view that women employed on cargo vessels constitute a "danger to the future well being and employment of men" in the British merchant navy was endorsed by the conference of the National Union of Seamen.

"If we are not careful we will, in years to come, be met by a female sergeant-at-arms of a 'Grable-bodied seaman'," a Glasgow delegate told the conference.

This motion, which was adopted, recorded the "most emphatic protest at the introduction of women into the catering departments in cargo vessels."

Special Buses Are Most Luxurious

The Pathfinder says a chauffeur-driven bus eases the president of a Texas ice company around the 1,000-mile circuit of his plants.

With all the comforts of a Park avenue penthouse, it has two master staterooms, showers, a galley, refrigeration and air-conditioning.

This was only one new luxurious home-on-wheels praised recently by the Automobile Manufacturers Association. Other specially converted standard buses are used by

A Midwest plastic surgeon, who uses his for pleasure travel.

A Detroit auto dealer, whose special bus is a travelling salesroom for motor parts.

Synthetic Rubber Takes Lots Of Soap

AKRON, Ohio.—The soap used in turning out this year's 800,000 tons of synthetic rubber would make a bar of soap 13,000 miles long, says Dr. Waldo Semon of the B. F. Goodrich Company. It would be a bar of normal width and thickness.

The soap is used to make an emulsion in which the joining of molecules of butadiene and styrene or butadiene and other substances can take place without creating an impossibly sticky mixture.

Maid Was Expert And Very Efficient

The New Yorker tells this story: A lady in Greenwich was giving a small dinner party. The maid was new but apparently expert and everything went swimmingly until the dessert was due. There then ensued a long and uncomfortable wait. This was ended by the arrival of the maid with a Western Union envelope, which she handed to her mistress. The lady ripped it open and found inside a square of brown wrapping paper bearing the pencilled message "Can't find fingerbowls."

To Feel Right — Eat Right

More Doctors Are Required In Far North

If they have any desire to hang their shingles on Baffin Island, the door's wide open and there's a large welcome awaiting young physicians at the Health and Welfare Department.

It's all in the department's policy of furthering the health program of its Indian services division. Since March the number of doctors employed by the division has increased by eight to 45, but more — many more — are needed.

"It's part of our over-all plan to improve the health services to Canada's Indians and Eskimos," said one Health official. "With the physicians we have employed it has been our problem to spread them around where they would do the most good."

From Pangnirtung, on Baffin Island, 350 miles northeast of Cape Dorset where the Nascopie was wrecked, to Vanderhoof in the British Columbia interior, the call has gone out for more physicians. And soon the Civil Service Commission will be issuing announcements of examinations to select medical men—with strong constitutions — anxious to play the role of modern frontiersmen.

He may not be able to travel around in a stream-lined automobile, but Canada's doctor of the north soon learns the intricacies of canoes, snowmobiles and dog-teams.

"And I understand he doesn't even have to buy a dog-team—the Eskimos rent them out," said the official.

Other advantages include a large and varied practice and a salary of $4,800 and $5,400 a year, with complete medical supplies. And in the really isolated spots provisions, fuel, and quarters are thrown in.

Nor does the department send its medical officers to northern outposts with an Eskimo dictionary in one hand and a one-way ticket in the other. The tour of duty at an isolated point is never for more than three years and then doctors are transferred to less remote agencies.

Safest Way To Insult Umpires

John J. McGraw was the man who gave the New York Giants their reputation. His roughneck ways gave him the name of "Muggsy". The Tough One hated umpires with a loathing that was lyrical. With consistent regularity they bounced him out of the game.

Once before a game Muggsy asked Umpire Bob Emslie if he could ask a question.

"Certainly," growled Emslie.

"Well, if I should call you a blind old bum and a crook and thief, you would throw me out of the game and fine me, wouldn't you?"

"I certainly would!"

"But if I kept my mouth shut and never said a word, so that you could not tell what I was thinking, you couldn't do a thing, could you, Bob?"

"No, I suppose not."

"Well, I'm keeping my mouth shut."

BUSINESS AS USUAL

Nauru, the island of fertilizer, which lies in the Pacific near the equator, and was captured by the Japanese in 1942, and re-occupied by the Allies in 1945, is now shipping its valuable phosphate rock to Australia and New Zealand once again. Re-equipped by Australian interests, it is expected that annual shipments may reach 500,000 tons this year.

More than half the world's uranium ore from which radium is made, comes from the Belgian Congo.

WEDDING BELLS

GOSSELIN—PHILLIPS

The Sacred Heart church, Edmonton, was the scene of a very lovely wedding on Monday, August 4th.

Before the altar bedecked with beautiful pink and white larkspur and matching vases of sweet peas, Reta Frances, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Phillips of Vermilion, Alberta, was united in holy matrimony to Martin A. Gosselin, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Gosselin of Wainwright, Alberta. Reverend Father Fitzgerald officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked charming in a beautiful gown of white satin, with long sleeves and a lace neckline. Her floor-length veil was held in place by a sweetheart wreath of orange blossoms. Her only jewelry was a wrist watch, a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of colonial red roses, white asters and fern, also a white prayer book.

Attending the bride was her sister Kay, who looked very charming in a baby blue sheer gown, with long full sleeves and a lace yoke. Her chapel veil was held in place by a wreath of blue net set with matching flowers. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations and fern, also a white prayer book.

The groom chose for the momentous occasion a dark brown pin stripe suit. On his lapel he wore a white [illegible] which streamed two white satin ribbons. He was attended by Mr. S. Latch of Wainwright. His suit was of a lighter shade of brown and in his lapel he wore a white carnation from which ribbons streamed.

The bride's mother chose a teale blue pin-striped suit, a white sheer [illegible] with matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The groom's mother chose an afternoon frock in a becoming shade of blue with matching accessories. She also wore a corsage of pink carnations.

A wedding breakfast serving relatives and friends was held in Merrick's Embassy Room, Edmonton. The bride's table was centred with a beautifully decorated three-tiered wedding cake made by the bride's mother, and vases of summer flowers.

Mr. S. Latch, best man, courteously proposed the toast to which the groom ably responded.

Following the reception a sociable afternoon was enjoyed by the happy young couple with many friends and relatives terminating with an evening of dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Gosselin will make their home on the groom's farm at Wainwright.

ANDERSON — FLETCHER

The marriage of Andrew Anderson, son of Mrs. Anderson of Edmonton and the late Mr. Melvin Anderson, and Dora Fletcher, was solemnized at the Baptist church in Edmonton on August 23rd. A wedding reception was held following the ceremony at the King Edward hotel.

ERNIE TURNS UP

CLANDONALD

Mrs. Alfred Ball of Clandonald left Thursday, Aug. 21 for Calgary on receipt of word on Wednesday that her sister Mrs. Nellie Norris was critically ill. Mrs. Norris was seriously injured on the last day of the Calgary Stampede when she fell from a sidewalk, breaking her leg and suffering internal injuries. Her condition had been fair until Wednesday when she took a sudden relapse. Mrs. Norris was well known in the Clandonald district as she lived here for many years with Mrs. Ball and with her daughter Mrs. L. W. Ball, now residing in Calgary.

Mannville Wedding Of Wide Interest

WATLING—McFADDEN

A lovely afternoon wedding took place recently in Mannville United church, when Norma Lucille, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McFadden, became the bride of Mr. George Bernard Watling, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Watling. The Rev. G. Driver of Kitscoty performed the ceremony.

Entering the church on the arm of her father the bride was charming in a floor-length gown of white crepe styled with a sweetheart neckline and bustle effect skirt. Her Queen Anne headdress of handmade lace embroidered with pearls held her matching finger-length veil in place. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried a sheaf of mauve and gold gladioli.

Mrs. Murray Rose as matron of honor wore a floor-length gown of yellow taffeta with long gloves to match. She carried a bouquet of sweet peas.

Miss Rheta McFadden, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, wearing a floor-length gown of rose crepe, gloves to match, also carrying sweet peas.

Carol Lyne McFadden, niece of the bride and Edna Winters, niece of the groom were flower girls, wearing long gowns of blue and yellow crepe respectively, carrying nosegays of blue and yellow flowers. The bride's attendants all wore white handmade [illegible].

Mr. Fred Watling acted as his brother's best man. Ushers were Messrs. Andrew Machin and Albert Emmett.

The wedding music was played by Mr. Robin Stuart, cousin of the bride.

The bride's mother chose a grey crepe afternoon dress with blue accessories and a corsage of rose gladioli.

The groom's mother wore an afternoon frock of flowered crepe, black accessories and a corsage of white gladioli.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served to 110 guests at the home of the bride's parents.

The young couple motored to Banff and Lake Louise and will reside in the Mannville district on their return.

Soil Conservation

THE QUESTION OF SOIL CONSERVATION in Canada has taken on growing importance in recent years. The abundance of good land, and the general high fertility of the soil did not lead those who came to open up the country's great farming areas to think seriously of soil conservation. It is now apparent, however, that to retain the fertility of the soil in many parts of the country is becoming a very grave problem. It is disturbing to contemplate the possibility of many of Canada's rich farming districts some day becoming waste lands, but there is apparently real danger of such a situation occurring if successful methods of soil conservation are not practiced.

* * *

Soils Experts Give Warning

At the annual meeting of the soils group of the Agricultural Institute of Canada, held recently at Lethbridge, this problem was discussed at length by leading soils scientists from various parts of the Dominion. Dr J. L. Doughty of Swift Current, officer in charge of the Dominion Soils Research Laboratory, spoke of the serious situation arising from the reduction of organic matter in the soil, and stated that this condition had been said to be "sounding the death knell of prairie agriculture". He pointed out also that eighteen per cent. of the nitrogen and twenty per cent. of the organic matter has been lost to the brown soils of the prairies since they were first cultivated. Reasons for these losses were said to be such factors as fallow, hail, frost, rust, insects and new varieties of grains. It was impossible, the group was told, to estimate the single effect of any of these causes.

* * *

Is Important To Farmers

Dr. P. O. Ripley of the field husbandry section, Dominion Department of Agriculture, spoke of soil erosion, and said that water erosion was becoming a very serious problem. It was recommended that a thorough investigation of soil erosion under varying climatic conditions should be made in locations where the need was evident. Dr G. N. Ruhnke, of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, discussed the value of fertilizers in soil conservation and said that they should not be regarded as temporary measures, but as a permanent factor in preserving the fertility of the soil. These scientists have added their warnings to those of many other agriculturalists and geologists who are constantly drawing attention to the need for continued action in the matter of soil conservation. Much is now being done through the P.F.R.A., Dominion and Provincial Departments of Agriculture, and agricultural organizations, but it is clear that the problem is one of which each farmer should be thoroughly aware, and in which he should co-operate in every possible way with those who are endeavoring to solve it.

POWDER REDUCES ELECTRICAL SHOCK

Static reducing powder that can be blown into automobile inner tubes, lessens the electrical shocks that sometimes occurs when a car is touched and also the electrical interference with radio reception. The powder clings to the walls of the tube and changes the electrical behaviour of the tires.—Scientific Service.

Calgary's Pet Freak Is Two-Headed Trout

CALGARY.—A two-headed speckled trout raised in the hatcheries of a Calgary brewery continues to baffle his attendants—even if it is living on borrowed time.

Now 15 months old the pet freak is expected to continue to live the normal life span of an ordinary trout.

The fish eats and swims on its side, and though it is not as agile and swift as a normal trout, it is able to get about with fair facility. Although the second head of the trout is not used by the fish for eating it has eyes and breathes normally.

Attendants feed the fish on small crippled fry and because it is taking life so easy—no competition at meal times—it's getting fat.

If the fish were to be placed with other fish the same size or larger than itself they would kill it. On the other hand if it were placed with smaller fish than itself it would kill them.

To avoid such a happening the attendants have exiled the fish to a trough where it lives in solitary grandeur.

This type of "freak fish" while comparatively rare, does appear in the fry stage now and again, but generally never reaches the age or size of the present one.

Woman Tourist Was Very Lucky

A search through her purse for a nickel in a phone booth at a hotel in Fort Erie, Ont., almost cost a visiting American tourist $2,000 in jewelry. A woman who refused to give her name was searching through her purse in a public telephone booth when a diamond bracelet and two diamond rings dropped from her bag.

She got as far as Niagara Falls, Ont., before noticing her loss, and hurriedly made her way back to the hotel. In the meantime a guest, giving his name as Jack Bell of Toronto turned the gems into a room clerk. She left a $10 reward for Bell.

Indians Want More Pay At Stampede

CALGARY.—Many people who still think of Indians as living in teepees and wearing feathered headdresses were considerably jarred at the commercial attitude they adopted toward the Calgary Stampede. They asked for a pay increase.

Representatives of the Blackfoot, Stony and Sarcee tribes in a formal resolution asked that the prize list be doubled for best dressed Indians, parade participants and Indian races. Teepee grants should be raised from $5 to $15, it was added.

The resolution was signed by such colorful figures as Head Chief Duck, Chief Many Bears and John Powderface.

During the recent stampede, Indians received $1 a head for every parade in which they participated while the chiefs received $5. They also were paid for competing in horse races and were given a freight allowance.

Each day they received 1,000 pounds of fresh meat, 300 loaves of bread and tea and sugar as required. Hay was provided for the 180 horses they brought along. In addition they received cash prizes and other gifts from commercial institutions and amateur photographers.

Stampede officials estimate that the total cost of [illegible] the Indian tribes in Calgary for Stampede week was approximately $4,000. However, the tribes feel they have "helped greatly to raise the show to its present high standard" and they should share in increased net profit.

Famous Singer's Father Showed Good Judgment

In the heyday of her fame, Mary Garden, the opera singer, poured out her wealth lavishly. She was particularly generous with her father, but it puzzled her that no matter how much money she sent him, he was always asking for more. Nevertheless she did not question his wants, but gave him all the money he desired. Came the great stock market debacle. Wiped out in the crash, Miss Garden appealed to her father for aid. He strangely enough, refused. The singer was deeply disappointed, but she managed to weather the storm. A few years later her father passed away, and then an astonishing fact was revealed. He had saved every dollar Mary Garden had bestowed upon him, and bequeathed it to her. He had often begged her to save her money in her days of prosperity, but she had disregarded his plea, so he had saved her money for her!

Sentence Was Cut By Weatherman

GREEN BAY, Wisconsin.—Consultation of weather bureau records at Green Bay, Wisconsin, saved a convicted burglar from an additional two years in the state prison.

The man confessed breaking into a house "around eight o'clock," police said.

Burglary of a dwelling at night carries a minimum term of three years. The minimum for daytime burglary is one year.

Police asked the weatherman what time the sun set that day and were told 7:47. Under the law, night starts an hour after sunset, so the charge was daytime burglary.

Nebraska Doctors Have New Theory About Baby's Food

CHICAGO.—Junior at six weeks is old enough to start eating meat, if you are guided by two Nebraska physicians who report successful results.

Dr. Ruth M. Leverton of Lincoln, Neb., and Dr. George Clark, Omaha, authored an article in the Journal of the American Medical Association claiming, "meat presents itself to the pediatrician and parent as a concentrate source of high quality protein for supplemental feeding at an age when protein requirement, expressed on the basis of body weight, is at its highest."

In addition to feeding 18 six-weeks' old infants in Nebraska institutions, the doctors used 15 other babies as control patients, giving the usual baby diet without meat.

"The nurses considered in general the babies who received strained [illegible] routinely were more satisfied and slept better at night than did the control babies," they reported. "The pediatricians in charge of the medical care of all the children considered the babies in better physical condition as a result of receiving the meat supplement."

Each baby consumed an average of an ounce of strained meat daily, increasing the protein content of the infant's formula 25 per cent.

Wild Horses Live On Sable Island

Once more Sable Island has lived up to its sinister reputation. Well it is named the Graveyard of the Atlantic. Any vessel that grounds off Sable Island is as good as doomed. Rarely does a ship so situated escape those shifting clutching sands.

Not many people visit Sable Island unless they must in the course of duty. Those who have done so tell of the wild horses there. These are descended from survivors of one of the more than 300 known wrecks marked up against the island. Horses in a ship that went aground were released and some of the animals reached safety.

They found rough grazing and fresh water and have bred there, so their mysterious progeny inhabit the desolation and afford proof of ability to survive under the most adverse circumstances.

Beacons Will Open Up Arctic For Aircraft

Three long-range electronic "beacons" are being built on the North American rim of the Arctic ocean to open the frozen Arctic to aircraft, it has been disclosed at Washington.

The navigation stations, built jointly by the United States and Canada, probably will be in operation by late October, army air force officials said. The stations are located at Point Barrow in Alaska, at Campbell Lake near the northwestern corner of Canada, and far to the east on Victoria Island off the northern coast of Canada.

Air force experts said the network will enable planes carrying electronic receivers to determine their exact position, and thus remove navigation stumbling blocks to across-the-pole hops to Europe.

Long-range planes flying [illegible] ward out of Canada over the [illegible] could pick up other navigational [illegible] in Finland and continue down [illegible] Europe, A.A.F. officials said. Range of the network was not disclosed, but officials said it eliminated a great "navigation blackout" covering thousands of square miles in northern Canada.

Delicious CRUMB COFFEE CAKE
Recipe
Add 1 envelope Royal Fast Rising Dry Yeast and 1 teaspoon sugar to ½ cup lukewarm water, stir and let stand 10 minutes. Scald ½ cup milk, add 3 tablespoons shortening, ½ cup sugar and ½ teaspoon salt; cool to lukewarm. Add 1 cup [illegible] egg. Beat well. Add 2½ cups sifted flour, or enough to make a soft dough. Knead lightly; place in greased bowl. Cover; set in warm place, free from draft. Let rise until doubled in bulk, about 2 hours. Roll out dough to ¾" thickness and place in greased shallow pan. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until light, about 1½ hours. Prick top with fork and brush with 3 tablespoons melted shortening. Cream 3 tablespoons butter or shortening, add 3 tablespoons sugar gradually, mixing well. Add ½ cup sifted flour, ½ cup dry, fine cake or bread crumbs, and ½ teaspoon cinnamon; mix until well mixed and crumbly. Sprinkle on top of cake. Let rise again in warm place about ½ hour. Bake in moderate oven at 400°F, about 30 minutes.

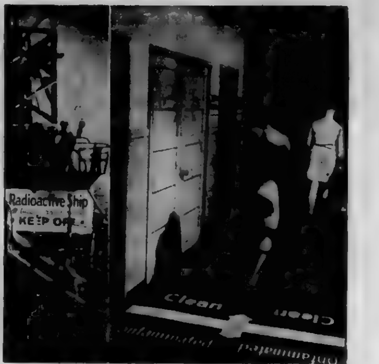
INMATES JOIN FIREMEN FIGHTING REFORMATORY BLAZE — Prisoners risked their lives to rescue 18 horses when fire completely gutted main stables at Ontario reformatory near Guelph. Entire hay crop was lost and Guelph firemen joined inmates battling the blaze, pictured here, for more than three hours.

QUINTS MARK 4TH BIRTHDAY —Nine years younger than Canada's Dionne quintuplets, the Diligenti quints of Buenos Aires, Argentina, celebrated their fourth birthday in their luxurious home. Shown on the front steps, from top to bottom, they are: Franco Jr., Carlos Alberto, Maria Esther, Maria Cristina and Maria Fernanda.



YEAR AFTER, BIKINI SHIPS ARE STILL "HOT"—Year after the atomic bomb was exploded ships have to be checked for radioactivity. Bikini ships are still labelled "hot" by U.S. experts and 13 of them are under observation in navy yards. Here workers cross boundary line after a thorough scrubbing.

WRECKED TRAIN SAWED IN HALF—Work of clearing the wreckage caused at Kingston, Ont., station when the locomotive of the International Limited left the tracks is proceeding smoothly and efficiently. Workmen are shown here measuring off the distance of the engine before cutting [illegible]

"Hairpin turn" elimination has been asked by Kingston citizens following wreck that led to death of engineer and fireman. Autopsy showed men died of suffocation and scalds. Master cranes are shown lifting undamaged pullman car to siding.

YEMEN'S ROYALTY—Son of the King of Yemen, Prince Seif Al Islam Abdullah arrives at LaGuardia Field, N.Y., by plane from Cairo. The royal visitor is in the United States at the invitation of the government and hopes to establish trade relations between Yemen and U.S.

SHOOTING STARS FOR THE NATIONAL GUARD—Speedy new army air forces' Lockheed P-80B jet-propelled "Shooting Stars" like these will be delivered to the Air National Guard next spring for the training of reserve pilots. Eighty-six of these super-fighter planes, shown on the Lockheed test base at Van Nuys, Calif., will be furnished to the A.N.G. The P-80B has the greatest firepower of any jet fighter plane in the world. Six machine-guns in the nose fire 1,200 rounds a minute. A pilot ejector seat, an air-conditioned pressurized cockpit are new features of the ship.

CANDIDATES FOR LIFE-SAVERS—Candidates for lifesaving jobs on Toronto beaches made vacant by strike of lifeguards, showed up on the shores of Lake Ontario. Jill Duff, Mimico, in charge of group of children, is shown demonstrating holds with Bob Grimshaw who hopes for job.

MORRISON NEWS

At last the writer has found her pen and paper after such an enjoyable summer a month at the coast which was certainly grand. Visited Duncan, Sydney, Cowichan Bay and the Solarium for crippled children which is a lovely spot by the sea. [illegible] thought that the name of the new English church we passed sounded very nice too, it is called St. Davids By the Sea. Has anyone else around here ever passed this little church? However we finally returned to the brown dry prairies, no flowers and no gardens. It did look a little discouraging after all the beauty we left behind.

Mrs. Cooper entertained a number of ladies last Tuesday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. T. Gould who are visiting here from the coast.

A tea was held for Mrs. Fred Gould at Mrs. Lawrence Gould's home on Friday. About 25 ladies were present. A delicious lunch was served.

Mrs. F. Gould and the writer visited Mrs. T. Fenton at the hospital on Monday and were pleased to find her looking well.

Sincere sympathy of the Morrison district is extended to the Carey family.

Mrs. Fraser spent a few days at the home of the writer. Mr. and Mrs. T. Gould spent a few days with us as well visiting a number of old friends.

The heavy rains are delaying harvesting and it is hoped that the snow doesn't blow too early.

Next week the children return to school. Some from this district are going to Vermilion high school this year. Here's wishing them the best of success.

We certainly enjoyed your song Mrs. Fraser "Polly Perkins of Paddington Green". Sing it again sometime.

Board of Trade Luncheon Meetings Start Wednesday

EVERY CITIZEN INVITED

The regular weekly luncheon and business sessions of the Vermilion Board of Trade will commence Wednesday next Sept. 10th at George's Lower Deck at 12.10 noon. This is the first meeting following the usual summer recess. Although the help situation is bad in the restaurant world George Capatos feels that the board of trade weekly sessions must continue and will cater to them as usual.

Board President George Maxwell issues a sincere invitation to every [illegible] to attend these luncheon meetings. They serve a many-fold purpose, the luncheon promotes sociability and fosters a good neighbor policy, to really know our fellow business men usually means to like them, parties, cliques and suspicion due to unfamiliarity are detrimental to any community are thus eliminated. No progress can be made in any community divided in itself. The business sessions are round table discussions based on the sole purpose of being of service to the community, of promoting the welfare, development and advancement of our Vermilion and district. Problems are brought up, discussed, and the majority opinion on the matter rules. A continuous promotional campaign is carried on to obtain interest in the town by outside industries and business. It is work in which every man in Vermilion and district could well interest himself in and take part.

Everyone is invited to the meetings which commence Wednesday next Sept. 10th at 12.10 noon in George's cafe.

District Student Wins Scholarship

Three years ago the Standard reported on the fact that the Governor-General's medal for Grade 9 in the Vermilion school division had been won by a boy residing in the Riverton district and attending North Home school. The progress of Kurt Enkenhus, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Enkenhus who still reside in the North Home district, has been followed with considerable interest since that time.

Kurt went to Camrose for the next three years and in the Grade 12 examinations in June this year he achieved the remarkable average of 93% in the seven matriculation subjects.

Last week from radio announcements the Standard learned that he had won a University of Alberta scholarship and only this week he has been offered a 3-year scholarship valued at approximately $1000 at Queen's University, Kingston. Kurt has decided to accept the latter award and will soon proceed to Kingston to begin an engineering course.

The Standard takes pleasure in extending congratulations to this brilliant student and his parents and joins with his numerous friends in wishing him future success in his studies.

Golfers Win Prizes At Vegreville

Vermilion golfers competed in the Labor Day week end tournament at Vegreville and brought home a goodly share of honor and prizes. 11 local men made the trip and of these three, Art Wiebe, Ken Carson and Ted Edey qualified for the championship flight of 8 players. Art finished a good third.

Clyde Sabey qualified for the first flight and was runner-up bringing home second prize. Gerald Stephens was first in the 5th flight, Ed Corley first in the 9th flight and Doug Brimacombe 1st in the consolation of the 9th.

Alex Fallow qualified for the 1st flight, Jim Adam the 6th, Alf Kaiser and Sandy Watt the 9th.

Eighty-one golfers competed in the tournament.

Gun Club Holds Tournament

The local gun club held a tournament at the trap grounds Monday of this week with visitors from Lloydminster and Mannville taking part. The affair was quite interesting to the participants and spectators. Prize winners were as follows:

J. Swift, Lloydminster; Jim Sons, Bill Sutherland, C. Brennan, Reg Spencer, E. Matney, Mannville.

Next shoot Friday Sept. 5th come early.

Stagettes Fly to National Convention

Miss Christie Romanco and Miss Connie Martin of the Vermilion Stagettes and Miss Lorna Simmonds of Lloydminster travelled by plane to Grande Prairie last Saturday to attend the National Stagette convention being held there from Saturday to Monday inclusive. They returned by plane Monday evening.

The girls chartered the plane from Western Airmotive for the trip by air and took off from the Vermilion field. Their pilot was Gus Morrison substituting at the local field during the absence of Ken Crawshaw.

D.D.G.M. Visits Masonic Lodge

Mr. E. J. Paulson D.D.G.M. of Masonic District No. 10 visited Vermilion Lodge A.F. & A.M. on Tuesday evening. He was accompanied by the Past District Deputy Mr. [illegible] Seward of Kitscoty.

Mr. Paulson visited Kitscoty Lodge Wednesday evening and will be at Mannville Friday and at Innisfree on Thursday.

LEGION HIGHLIGHTS

Decoration Day Memorial Service Sunday

With this week's highlights we bring some alterations to our plans of a week back. It was expected to have the services of 49th Battalion, Loyal Edmonton regiment band but find they are unable to attend our parade. As planned the parade will be led by the well known and popular Clandonald pipe band with Pipe Major MacMillan in charge. Legion members will assemble at the armories at 1:45 p.m. where transportation will be provided to take them to the cemetery gate. The parade will form up at around 2:30 in order to march off at 3:15 sharp. We are hoping for a good turn out by the local and district citizens and have arranged for bus transportation to leave from Boake's corner. The first bus leaves at 2.30 o'clock. We might also remind you again of our request for flowers and that they may be left at the armories Saturday afternoon Sept. 6 after 2 o'clock.

The Vermilion branch will hold their first regular fall meeting at the curling rink on Monday, Sept. 8 at 8 p.m. D.S.T. No. 1 item on the agenda will be our building program. Although the new hall will not be completely finished it is expected to be in use and officially opened before the year ends. In this connection the active assistance of every member and ex-serviceman in this community is required.

Dont' forget our big Sadie Hawkins' day dance on Wednesday, Sept. 10. It will provide fun galore for everyone. The ladies will escort the gentlemen so here's your big chance ladies to really go to town. No holds barred and the gun will be fired at 10 p.m. sharp. The music is supplied by "Sandy" Sunderland and his popular 5-piece band. This band which hails from Lloydminster is one of the best and most popular along the line.

SCOUTS and CUBS

The Boy Scouts will meet Tuesday evening Sept. 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the armories. All boys between 12 and 17 are welcome to join.

The Cubs will meet at the armories Friday Sept. 12th at 7 p.m. Boys between the ages of 8 and 12 years are invited to attend.

All boys who have uniforms are requested to wear them.

494 PUPILS Back To School

Four hundred and ninety-four pupils were back in Vermilion schools this week divided as follows:

High school 10, 11, 12 and commercial students 87, Intermediate school 7, 8, 9 122, Elementary school, 1 to 6—241.

Enrollment of the children by rooms will be given in next week's Standard when it is expected that all the high school students will be back several remaining out at present to help with the harvest.

Rare Whooping Crane Seen at Harle Farm

PRACTICALLY EXTINCT SPECIES

That very rare bird the "Whooping Crane" was seen on a small lake south of Vermilion on Saturday morning, August 30th. The species is practically extinct.

Attracted by what appeared to be an abnormally large white bird at the edge of a small lake on his farm, Buster Harle got as close as possible to the bird and realized that he had never seen anything like it before. It stood an estimated four feet tall and when it spread its wings the wing spread was fully nine feet, the wings were tipped with black and there were red markings about the head. The huge bird was all by itself. It took flight and flew over Buster who was all the more impressed by its size but recognized it as a member of the Crane family. Consulting an encyclopedia he had no difficulty in identifying the bird as a Whooping Crane. There is no other bird with which it can be confused. He phoned the description to the Standard and after consulting encyclopedia and bird books confirmed the conclusion that it was one of the Whooping Cranes now very rare and verging on extinction. These were at one time quite numerous on the prairies, being found all the way from the Great Lakes west to the foothills, but it has been practically exterminated during the past 26 years. It is regarded as the most spectacular bird of the prairies.

The lake at which the Whooping Crane was seen is approximately 17 miles south and 2 miles west of Vermilion on section 10-46-7 W4th.

Check that date on your label now!

"GREEN ACRES"

SLEEPING SICKNESS

Some cases of sleeping sickness in horses have occurred in Manitoba and Saskatchewan. Farmers should be on guard for this disease in Vermilion district for the next couple of months. Horses that seem to be affected should be reported as an outbreak may be checked by quick action.

QUALITY PAYS

The poultry and egg reports last week indicated the spreads between A grades and C grades were wider than usual.

Here they are for everyone to see. Grade A eggs 15 cents, Grade C 7[illegible]. Grade A dressed chickens 2[illegible] cents, Grade C 16 cents. People who buy poultry products want quality and are ready to pay for it.

[illegible]

It is doubtful if it pays to keep the bees living after Sept. 1st no matter how much you love them. They eat more honey than they bring in and besides the late honey is not of much account. It seems best to gas the bees early and extract the honey the same day. We have an extractor for loaning out.

FEED SHORTAGE

Just another word of warning that hay and grain for feeding stock may be scarce and high priced before the winter is over. Every ton of hay and green feed will be needed to bring the stock through. In some parts of the world enough feed is stored for two years but in this country stock eat straw or go hungry on [illegible] many farms before spring. [illegible] economy to starve stock at any time.

ICE WELLS ARE USEFUL

Circulars describing the construction of ice wells and ice houses are free for the asking at the D.A. office. For a little work and small expense every farmer can have ice throughout the hot summer months. Now is the time to get ready for [illegible] during the winter. [illegible] keep much longer [illegible] and there is [illegible] potatoes.

LOW GRADE GRAIN

There is no doubt that a lot of low grade grain will be [illegible] this fall. It will pay to better [illegible] feed this grain than to put it on the market. Furthermore, grain that is badly mixed or contains heavy dockage should be fed to get the most out of it. It might be good business for anyone having low grade [illegible] some feeder cattle.

Rev. T. W. Teape Appointed to St. Saviour's Church

The Rev. Thos. W. Teape, B.A., L. Th., has been appointed incumbent of St. Saviour's parish and will take his first services here this Sunday, Sept. 7th. Holy Communion will be held at 8.30 a.m. and evening service at 7.30 p.m. At 11 a.m. Mr. Teape will hold morning service at the Ottawa church.

The Rev. Teape is not a stranger to this part of Alberta. He was born and educated in Edmonton. As an Anglican student he worked in the Kitscoty field. On completion of his Arts and Theological courses he was ordained in Edmonton shortly before the outbreak of war. He served the church in England during the war years returning to Alberta following cessation of hostilities.

For some time past he has been stationed at Cadomin ministering to six points on the Coal branch.

Rev. and Mrs. Teape and two children plan to take up residence in the new rectory by Sept. 15th.

Mr. Teape succeeds Dr. Loveresidge who is retiring from the Parish due to the condition of his health after 12 years of untiring service.

New Wells to Be Drilled in the Vermilion Oil Field

BY SIOUX CO. LTD. AND HUSKY —DEEP TEST PROBABLE

Having completed its first well this season as a commercial producer in the Lloydminster, Sask., area, Sioux Petroleums Ltd. will drill their second well on the N.W. of Sec. 16-50-5 in the immediate Vermilion oil field. This location is 2 miles south of Borradaile siding.

The Sioux Company holds 4160 acres in Vermilion and 1230 acres of oil land in the Lloydminster field. The company's drilling program for this year is 10 wells.

Franco Oils to Test Devonian

The Devonian limestone will shortly be tested when Franco Oils Ltd. deepen their No. 16 well located on the Hamers' lease. Should this well meet the expectations of several geologists who have examined the samples and cores, it should produce in commercial quantity from this zone. This is similar to the Leduc producing hot zone.

COUNCIL HOLDS SPECIAL MEETING

ROADS, CULVERTS DISCUSSED

A special meeting of the town council was held Tuesday Sept. 2nd with Deputy Mayor G. F. Stephens and Crs. Boake, Dawson, Stack, Kehoe, Urquhart present.

Mr. McCrindle, Engineer for the water and sewer attended.

The meeting was called to discuss with Mr. McCrindle repair of culverts and cleaning up and levelling of the streets by the Dominion Construction Co.

Councillor Kehoe, Mr. McCrindle and Mr. Eppler were to make a complete survey of work required to be done.

Mannville Cops Title Against Lethbridge

Mannville won the women's intermediate softball title over the week end by defeating Lethbridge 2 games to 1 on the Lethbridge diamond. The Mannville women copped the first encounter 13-12, dropped the second 14-12 and took the third and final game 15-6.

Lena Miller Is New President Stagettes

South Side Press representative reporting for the first and last time for the 1946-47 Stagette Club term. President Dorothy Oldenberg opened the meeting which took place in the old club room. 12 members were present—plus the old pet band. After the reading of the minutes Christie Romanco gave a report on National Convention which was held at Grande Prairie Labor day week end. Christie and Connie reported a wonderful time this trip was made by plane — an added attraction on this occasion.

September is harvest time and the 23rd is set aside for the annual Stagette Harvest Ball. Keep the date in mind folks and watch for further information.

There was wind of election of new officers for the 47-48 term and nominations ceased, "all in one breath".

Officers are as follows:

President — Lena Miller
Vice-Pres. — Lucy English
Treasurer — Marion Rogers
Secretary — Marion Johansen
Press Rep. — Elaine Kwakmink

Goodbye readers, wish me luck and take it away Elaine.

New Wheat Delivered

The first load of new wheat as far as the Standard knows was delivered to Wiebe's mill on Tuesday Sept. 2 by George Kinshinsky. The grain was from a swathed field and graded No. 2 Northern.

LOCAL NEWS

Dan Taylor left Wednesday night for Ottawa where he will attend a convention of postmasters. Dan, who is president of the Canadian Postmasters Association, will be away for some three weeks on official business. While in the east he will visit his son and daughter-in-law, Mr and Mrs Clayton Taylor at Ajax, Ont.

Norman Taylor, who was an employee of the C.N.R. at Vermilion in the days prior to the first great war and who enlisted from here in 1914 for service in the Canadian army spent from Monday to Wednesday in town renewing old acquaintances.

Miss Jean Corley of the Royal Alexandra hospital school of nursing spent Saturday and Sunday at home with her parents Mr and Mrs. Ed Corley.

Bobby Rowe of the Edmonton Motors staff spent the holiday week end at the family home here.

Mrs. George Webb and son Donnie returned from Calgary Sunday where they spent the previous week.

Miss Kay Martin visited friends in Edmonton over the Labor Day week end.

E. Swaalman is a business visitor in Calgary this week, leaving for the southern Alberta city Tuesday evening.

Daisy Jenny Koch of Elk Point and Angus James Smity of Mannville were awarded teacher training scholarships from the Dept. of Education. The scholarships are valued at $300 each and are to assist students in training for the teaching profession.

Bob Watt created quite a stir at Vegreville late Monday afternoon when he landed a plane on the edge of the golf course, picked up his dad who had competed in the tourney that day, and flew him home.

Wildmere Winks

Here is an item we have unintentionally missed this last couple of weeks. Mr. Tom Best had the pleasure of a visit from his sister Gertrude Best of Sault St. Marie, Ont., during the last week of July. It was the first time the brother and sister had met in 31 years so they had a lot to talk about. Miss Best teaches school at the Sault. This was her first trip west. She visited Banff and the coast cities before coming to visit her brother. Mrs. Riley of Vermilion met the train and then that same day Mr Best and Jimmie Wallington brought her out to Wildmere where she stayed with Mrs. J. Wilson while she visited in our district. At the end of her visit Mr Best, Mr. and Mrs Wallington and family saw her safely to Wainwright where she boarded the train for Wilkie, Sask., to visit another brother Bob Best and family before returning to Ontario. She was greatly impressed by the friendliness of the people and the wide open spaces of the west.

On Tuesday Aug. 26th Wildmere W.I. met at the home of Mrs. Whitlock with 10 members and 2 visitors present. As it is a busy season not much business or work is being done. The W.I. has a number of books and they can be seen and borrowed by anyone for the small sum of 1c per book. They are at Mrs. W. Garnett's (Sr.) in Rosewood. After the business part of the meeting was over Miss McIntyre of the Olds agricultural school gave a very interesting and enjoyable talk on "Happy Family Living". We are sorry more could not have heard this talk as so much could be learned from it. Mr. Burkingham very kindly brought Miss McIntyre out that afternoon. The next meeting will be at Mrs. Eyben's on Oct. 1st providing she is not too busy with threshers. If so, it will be at a later date. Mrs. Whitlock and helpers served a very tasty lunch which was enjoyed by all at the close of the meeting.

Rev. E. S. Rothie held communion service at our school on Sunday but only a few people attended. He gave a very interesting sermon based on "The Life of a Child". Next Sunday Mr. Burkwell of Edmonton, who has been a missionary in China will attend our service. Only a couple of more Sundays left for church this season. Mr. Hume will be leaving us soon.

Schools re-opened on Tuesday. We are very fortunate in having a teacher, Mrs. Wilson being at the helm again. She has two beginners, Mary Gibson from Rosewood and Kenny Graham of Wildmere. Little Doreen Martin is school age too but it being a long way to come her mother is teaching her by correspondence at home. The children had a nice clean school, all freshly painted inside and out. Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Whitlock did the floor and windows etc., carpenters fixed up the barn, woodshed and out buildings as well. Mr. Whitlock cleaned the barn so everything is shipshape once more.

This fine weather is seeing everyone working every hour they can at the harvest. Here's hoping weather holds until the grain is all in the bin. It won't be a very big job but we all want to save every bushel.

An interesting story of his trip overseas with the Air Cadets has been written by Harold Bushell and will appear in the Standard next week.

Sighting of the Whooping Crane by Buster Harle on his farm south of town has aroused considerable interest in Western Canada. The story which appears on the front page of the Standard was deemed unusual enough to be fully broadcast over the nationwide network of the CBC on Thursday morning and occupied a two-column space in Wednesday's Edmonton Journal.

IDEAL WEATHER —

Ideal harvest weather has prevailed for the past week with hot sunny days. Fine progress is being made with grain cutting with 65% of wheat in the stook and 30% of the coarse grains cut, according to Searle estimates. Less than 1% of the wheat has been threshed and this has been done in swathed fields.

WATER AND SEWER PROSPECTS?—

The big question these days is — "Will our water and sewer system be completed this fall?" It now appears certain that all the main water and sewer lines will be laid this fall and ready for use, providing that the supply of water pipe and sewer tile, which has been uncertain, is sufficient. Prospects are that the Dominion Construction will also complete the disposal plant this fall to the point that it can be used as cement difficulties appear to have been overcome and enough of that vital material is in sight to finish the job.

The big trouble now is the water tower. The company agreed to deliver this four months after delivery of the steel from the rolling mills. Due to labor troubles this steel will not be delivered until October and the four months necessary to fabricate the tank put the probable date of delivery beyond all hope this year. Inquiries are now being made as to the possibility of operating the water system by means of pressure by the pumps from the underground water reservoir now completed. If this cannot be done it may be assumed that water will not be available until next spring. The council is continuing to exert all possible pressure for earlier delivery of the water tower. The sewer will most likely be utilized this fall for places with water supplies such as the college, hotels, creamery and apartment blocks.

The name of the eldest daughter Margaret was omitted from the names of the members of the Coulter family in the obituary which appeared in last week's Standard, and the name Mabel should have appeared as Mary. It was incorrectly stated in the Rowtell news that Mrs. Trotter left a child as there were no children in the family.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Little Words Of Love

By OVER WILSON

"DARLING", Lynde begged guiding Anice's steps away from the old truck she was packing, "we're wasting our last evening together."

Large, lovely, clear, gray eyes met his. She'd have a lifetime to waste, packing and unpacking, dancing before strange crowds, searching for merry, brown eyes which would never again smile into hers.

"Did you put the paper to bed?" She asked him as they entered the shadows of night. Lynde and his father owned and edited The Cantonville Times, much the same as Anice and her father owned and operated the Roger's Carnival.

"I wrote your farewell—used the big brush—you liked it here—you're anxious to play our town again!"

Anice sensed his hurt. She couldn't leave Lynde miserable. She moved closer to him and felt his arms close around her. He lifted her chin until their lips met, sweet, warm, achingly dear kisses, they shared.

"Darling girl," his voice shook, "I didn't think I'd find love like this—ever."

This is my life, Anice told herself, all I will have to take with me down the endless road of three day stops. Whatever happiness there is must be squeezed into these few minutes.

"I thought Dad would understand," he went on—holding her closer to his heart. "He laughed at me, Anice. I love you so."

"Lynde, dear Lynde, I love you, too." She let him wipe away her tears. She hadn't planned on loving a small town boy. Hadn't planned on loving anyone. She'd planned on dancing and singing and [illegible] free from ties.

Now it was different. Now, with Lynde's arms around her she was reckoning with love. She'd stay in this town and fight down the feeling the towns folks had for entertainers. And she'd be happy doing it with Lynde beside her.

"I don't know how I can let you go," he was saying into her little ear. "I never knew love could be like this."

"Oh, Lynde," she cried. His lips were so contrary to his words.

"I'll let you go tonight," he said, "but I'll come for you. I'll find you again. Later—when things are different."

He was saying he didn't want her to stay. Fine talk about searching her out. All this means nothing to him. Less than nothing.

Anice felt faint and weary. All she could think of was escape. She put her two hands before her and pushed him away from her. "I have to finish packing my trunk," she said.

"Anice," Lynde caught her hand as she hurried away, "tell me—what did I say?"

She ignored his question. "There's work to do getting a show moving," she told him. "I must say goodby and get back to the grounds."

Her words had the same effect as a sharp slap on a little boy's face. Surprise. Hurt. Baffled shock.

She didn't see him again. Nor did she spend time moping. She got busy helping her old Dad build his Carnival to big time. In fact, it was Anice who persuaded her father to hire Ed McIves and his animal act.

Ed was young and soft spoken and easy to be with. He hadn't been with the show two days when he was acting like the son Dad had always wanted. Making suggestions. Building new units. Drawing huge, colorful posters to advertise the show and attract customers. Greeting patrons with his gentle, pleasant smile and a cordial word or two.

Anice was grateful to him. She began to await eagerly his after-the-show visits. To listen to his hopes and dreams and plans for a future of entertainment. She told herself she was happy.

When she accepted his diamond and promised to marry him she pretended that she had forgotten Lynde Wade and his merry brown eyes—his tender kisses—his little words of love.

Then one night in the [illegible] she looked up to meet those merry eyes. After the show he phoned from his hotel as she was reading a note he had sent to her backstage, "I came to get you, Anice, I can't live without you." In 20 minutes he was in her dressing room.

Anice held up the diamond for him to see. "Your father doesn't want you to marry a show girl," she reminded him.

But she knew that wasn't the real reason she wasn't going with Lynde Wade. The real reason was the man who was coming toward them across the carnival grounds. Ed McIves. The man who talked of their future together and was proud to marry a dancer. It was then Anice knew she was really happy.

"This is Ed McIves," she told Lynde. "I'm going to marry him."

Her eyes met Ed's and the gentle smile she met meant more to her than words of love. There was sincerity in the smile and a promise of love. There was understanding and pleasure and happiness in the smile. And there was kindness in the way he talked to Lynde and made the parting easy by telling him, "we'll be along to play your town next spring. Cantonville will be a regular stop."

After Lynde was gone Anice said, "we belong together." And Ed answered, "I know." Then he kissed her and his kiss was as gentle as his words. As satisfying as their future together would be.

Chinese Diplomat Had Ready Answer

When he was in America a number of years ago, states the Wall Street Journal, Wu Ting Fang, the great Chinese diplomat, met an American woman at a reception. She did not know who he was, and she asked him sweetly, "What 'nese' are you, Japanese, Javanese or Chinese?"

"I'm Chinese", replied Dr. Wu, and then he continued, "What 'kee' are you—monkey, donkey or Yankee?"

RECIPES

COLLEGE FUDGE SQUARES

½ cup sifted flour
¼ teaspoon baking powder
⅛ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup shortening
2 squares Baker's Unsweetened Chocolate, melted
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
¼ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup broken walnut meats

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again.

Add shortening to melted chocolate and mix well.

Add sugar gradually to eggs, beating thoroughly; then add chocolate mixture and blend. Fold in flour mixture. Add milk, vanilla, and nuts, and mix well.

Bake in greased pan, 9x9x2 inches, in slow oven (325 deg. F.) 25 minutes, or until done. Remove from pan and cool. Cut in squares. Makes 16 squares.

MEAT LOAF—HOT OR COLD!

Meat loaf the modern way doesn't mean just a few pounds of any kind of meat. Instead, it's a careful blend of the best flavors you can get plus an excellent "stretcher" like corn flakes. For instance, the spiciness of one pound of smoked ham mixed with pork and veal results in an especially tasty loaf. Have some for dinner and save the rest to make wholesome sandwiches for tomorrow's lunch.

Ham Loaf

4 cups corn flakes
1 pound ground smoked ham
½ pound ground lean pork
½ pound ground veal
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup milk
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper

Crush corn flakes into coarse crumbs. Combine meats with eggs, milk, salt and green pepper, mix well. Add crushed corn flakes and mix thoroughly. Fill a long narrow cloth bag with mixture, packing so that loaf will hold together; tie with string. Place on a rack in boiling water to cover and cook about 1½ hours or press into loaf pan and bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) about 1½ hours. Yield, 8 servings.
